Let not this booke of the Law depart out of thy mouth, but meditate therein day and night, that thou mayest obserue and doe according to all that is written therein:
for then shalt thou make thy way prosperous, and then shalt thou haue good successe.

TO THE MOST VERTVOVS AND NOBLE LADIE ELIZABETH,

Queene of England, France, and Ireland, &c. Grace and peace from God the Father through Christ Iesus our Lorde.

HOwe hard a thing it is, and what great impediments let, to enterprise any worthy acte, not onely dayly experience sufficiently sheweth (most noble and vertuous QVEENE) but also that notable prouerbe doeth confirme the same, which admonisheth vs, that All things are hard which are faire and excellent. And what enterprise can there be of greater importance, and more acceptable vnto God, or more worthie of singular commendation, then the building of the Lords * Temple, the * house of God, the * Church of Christ, whereof the * Sonne of God is the head and perfection? 1.Cor.3.17. 1.Tim.3.14. Ephes 1.22. Hebre.3.6.

When Zerubbabel went about to build the materiall Temple, according to the commandement of the Lord, what difficulties and stayes * dayly arose to hinder his worthie indeuours, the bookes of Ezra and Esdras plainely witnesse: howe that not onely hee and the people of God were sore molested with * foreine aduersaries, (whereof some maliciously * warred against them, and corrupted the Kings officers: and others craftily practised vnder * pretence of religion) but also at home with domesticall enemies, as * false prophets, * craftie worldlings, faint hearted souldiers, and * oppressors of their brethren, who aswell by false doctrine and lyes, as by subtill counsell, cowardies, and extortion, discouraged the hearts almost of all: so that the Lords worke was not onely interrupted and left off for * a long time, but scarcely at the length with great labour and danger after * a sort brought to passe. Ezra.4. 1.Esdr.2.16. Ezra.4.7. Ezra.4.2. Nehem.6.10. Nehem.6.18. Nehem.5.1. Iohn 2.20. Ezra.3.12.

Which thing when we weigh aright, and consider earnestly howe much greater charge God hath laide vpon you in making you a builder of his spirituall Temple, we cannot but partly feare, * knowing the craft and force of Satan our spirituall enemie, and the weakenes and vnabilitie of this our nature: and partly be feruent in our prayers towarde God that he would bring to perfection this noble worke which he hath begun by you: and therefore we indeuour our selues by all meanes to ayde, and to bestowe our whole force vnder your graces standard, whom God hath made as our Zerubbabel for the erecting of this most excellent Temple, and to plant & maintaine his holy word to the aduancement of his glory, for your owne honour and saluation of your soule, and for the singular comfort of that great flocke which Christ Iesus the * great shepheard hath bought with his * precious blood, and committed vnto your charge to be fed both in body and soule. 2.Cor.2.11. Hebre.13.20. 1.Pet.1.19.

Considering therefore how many enemies there are, which by one meanes or other, as the * aduersaries of Iudah and Beniamin went about to stay the building of that Temple, so labour to hinder the course of this building (whereof some are Papists, who vnder pretence of fauouring Gods word, traiterously seeke to erect idolatrie and to destroy your Maie-stie: some are worldlings, who as * Demas haue forsaken Christ for the loue of this worlde: others are ambitious Prelates, who as * Amasiah and * Diotrephes can abide none but themselues: and as * Demetrius many practise sedition to maintaine their errours) we perswaded our selues that there was no way so expedient and necessarie for the preseruation of the one, and destruction of the other, as to present vnto your Maiestie the holy Scriptures faithfully and plainely translated according to the languages wherein they were first written by the holy Ghost. For the word of God is an euident token of Gods * loue and our assurance of his defence, whersoeuer it is obediently receiued: it is the tryall of the * spirites: and as the Prophet saith, * It is a fire and hammer to breake the stonie heartes of them that resist Gods mercies offred by the preaching of the same. Yea it is * sharper then any two edged sword to examine the very thoughts and to iudge the affections of the heart, and to discouer whatsoeuer lyeth hid vnder hypocrisie and would be secret from the face of God and his Church. So that this must be the first fundation and groundworke, according whereunto the good stones of this building must be framed, and the euill tryed out and reiected. The enemies which labour to stay religion. Ezra 4.1. 2.Tim.4.10. Amos 7.12. 3.Iohn 9. Actes 19.24. The necessitie of Gods word for the reforming of religion. Iohn.14.23. 1.Iohn 4.1. Iere.23.29. Hebre.4.12. The grounde of true religion.

Now as he that goeth about to lay a fundation surely, first taketh away such impediments, as might iustly either hurt, let, or deforme the worke: so is it necessarie that your Graces zeale appeare herein, that neither the craftie perswasion of man, neither worldly policie, or naturall feare disswade you to roote out, cut downe and destroy these weedes and impediments which do not onely deface your building, but vtterly indeuour, yea and threaten the ruine thereof. For when the noble * Iosias enterprised the like kinde of worke, among other notable and many things he destroyed, not only with vtter confusion the idoles with their appertinances, but also burnt (in signe of detestation) the idolatrous Priests bones vpon their altars, and put to * death the false prophets and sorcerers, to performe * the wordes of the Law of God: and therefore the Lord gaue him good successe and blessed him wonderfully, so long as he made * Gods worde his line and rule to folowe, and enterprised nothing before he had inquired at the mouth of the Lord. All impediments must be taken away. 2.King 23.16. 2.chro 34.5. Iosias zeale and true obedience to God. Deut.13.5. Leuit.20.6. deut.18.11. 2.Chro.35.12.

And if these zealous beginnings seeme dangerous and to breede disquietnes in your dominions, yet by the storie of King * Asa it is manifest, that the quietnes and * peace of kingdomes standeth in the vtter abolishing of idolatrie, and in aduancing of true religion: for in his dayes Iudah liued in rest and quietnes for the space of fiue and thirtie yeere, till at length he began to be colde in the zeale of the Lord, feared the power of man, imprisoned the Prophet of God, and oppressed the people: then the Lord sent him warres, and at length tooke him away by death. 2.Chro.14.5. and 15.15. Wherein standeth the quietnesse of kingdomes. 2.Chro 15.8.

Wherefore great wisdome, not worldly, but heauenly is here required, which your Grace must earnestly craue of the Lord, as did * Salomon, to whom God gaue an vnderstanding heart to iudge his people aright, & to discerne betweene good and bad. For if God for the furnishing of the olde Temple gaue the Spirit of wisedome and vnderstanding to them that shoulde be the workemen thereof, as to * Bezaleel, Aholiab, and * Hiram: howe much more will he indue your Grace and other godly Princes and chiefe Gouernours with a principall Spirit, that you may procure and commande things necessarie for this most holy Temple, foresee and take heede of things that might hinder it, and abolish and destroy whatsoeuer might impaire and ouerthrowe the same? What wisedome is requisite for the establishing of Diligence and zeale are necessarie to builde it speedily.

2.Chro.34.31.

Moreouer, the marueilous diligence and zeale of Iehoshaphat, Iosiah, and Hezekiah are by the singular prouidence of God left as an example to all godly rulers to reforme their countreis and to establish the word of God with all speede, lest the * wrath of the Lord fall vpon them for the neglecting thereof. For these excellent Kings did not onely imbrace the worde promptly and ioyfully, but also procured earnestly and commanded the same to be taught, preached and mainteined through all their countreis and dominions, * binding them and all their subiectes both great and small with solemne protestations and couenants before God, to obey the worde, and to walke after the wayes of the Lord. Yea and in the dayes of King * Asa it was enacted that whosoeuer would not seeke the Lord God of Israel, should be slaine, whether he were small or great, man or woman. And for the establishing hereof and performance of this solemne othe, aswell * Priestes as Iudges were appointed and placed through all the Cities of Iudah to instruct the people in the true knowledge and feare of God, and to minister iustice according to the worde, knowing that, except God by his worde did reigne in * the heartes and soules, all mans diligence and indeuours were of none effect: for without this worde we can not discerne betweene iustice, and iniurie, protection and oppression, wisedome and foolishnesse, knowledge and ignorance, good and euill. Therefore the Lorde, who is the chiefe gouernour of his Church, willeth that nothing be attempted before wee haue inquired thereof at his mouth. For seeing he is our God, of duetie wee must giue him this preeminence, that of our selues we enterprise nothing, but that which he hath appointed, who only knoweth all things, and gouerneth them as may best serue to his glorie and our saluation. We ought not therefore to preuent him, or doe any thing without his worde, * but assoone as he hath reueiled his will, immediatly to put it in execution.

What policie must be vsed for the planting of religion.
Deut.6.6. and 11.18.
Gods worde must goe before, or els we build in vaine.

Nowe as concerning the maner of this building, it is not according to man, nor after the wisedome of the flesh, but of the Spirit, and according to the worde of God, whose * wayes are diuers from mans wayes. For if it was not lawfull for Moses to builde the materiall Tabernacle after any other sort then God had shewed him by a * paterne, neither to prescribe any other * ceremonies and lawes then such as the Lord had expressely commanded: how can it be lawfull to proceede in this spirituall building any other wayes, then Iesus Christ the Sonne of God, who is both the fundation, head, and chiefe corner stone thereof, hath commanded by his worde? And forasmuch as he hath established and left an order in his Church for the building vp of his body, * appointing some to be Apostles, some Prophets, others Euangelists, some Pastors, and Teachers, hee signifieth that euery one according as he is placed in this bodie which is the Church, ought to inquire of his ministers concerning the will of the Lord, which is reueiled in his worde. For they are, sayth * Ieremiah, as the mouth of the Lorde: yea hee * promiseth to be with their mouth, and that their * lippes shall keepe knowledge, and that the trueth and the Lawe shall be in their mouth. For it is their office chiefely to vnderstande the Scriptures, and teache them. For this cause the people of Israel in matters of difficultie vsed to * aske the Lord eyther by the * Prophets, or by the meanes of the hie * Priest, who bare Vrim and Thummim, which were tokens of light and knowledge, of holines and perfection which shoulde be in the hie Priest. Therefore when Iehoshaphat tooke this order in the Church of Israel, he appointed Amariah to be the chiefe concerning the worde of God, because he was most expert in the Lawe of the Lorde, and coulde giue counsell and gouerne according vnto the same. Els there is no degree or office which may haue that authoritie and priuiledge to decise concerning Gods worde, except withall hee hath the Spirit of God, and sufficient knowledge and iudgement to define according thereunto. And as euery one is indued of God with greater giftes, so ought he to be herein chiefely heard, or at least that without the expresse worde none be heard: for hee that hath not the worde, * speaketh not by the mouth of the Lorde. Againe, what danger it is to do any thing, seeme it neuer so godly or necessarie, without consulting with Gods mouth, the examples of the Israelites, * deceiued hereby through the Gibeonites: and of * Saul, whose intention seemed good and necessarie: and of * Iosiah also, who for great considerations was moued for the defence of true religion and his people, to fight against Pharaoh Necho King of Egypt, may sufficiently admonish vs.

We must first consult with God.

Last of all (most gracious Queene) for the aduancement of this building and rearing vp of the worke, two things are necessarie, First, that we haue a liuely and stedfast faith in Christ Iesus, who must * dwell in our heartes, as the onely meanes and assurance of our saluation: for he is the * ladder that reacheth from the earth to heauen: he lifteth vp his Church and setteth it in the heauenly places: he maketh vs * liuely stones and buildeth vs vpon himselfe: hee ioyneth vs to himselfe as the members and bodie to the head: yea he maketh himselfe and his Church one * Christ. The next is, that our faith bring foorth good fruites, so that our godly conuersation may serue vs as a witnes to * confirme our election, and be an example to all others to * walke as apperteineth to the vocation whereunto they are called: least the worde of God be * euill spoken of, and this building be stayed to grow vp to a iust height, which cannot be without the great prouocation of Gods iust vengeance and discouraging of many thousands through all the world, if they should see that our life were not holy and agreeable to our profession. For the eyes of all that feare God in all places behold your Countries as an example to all that beleeue, and the * prayers of all the godly at all times are directed to God for the preseruation of your Maiestie. For considering Gods wonderfull mercies toward you at all seasons, who hath pulled you out of the mouth of the lyons, and howe that from your * youth you haue bene brought vp in the holy Scriptures, the hope of all men is so increased, that they cannot but looke that God shoulde bring to passe some wonderfull worke by your Grace to the vniuersall comfort of his Church. Therefore euen aboue strength you must shewe your selfe strong and bolde in Gods matters: and though Satan lay all his power and craft together to hurt and hinder the Lords building: yet be you assured that God will fight from heauen against this great * dragon, the ancient serpent, which is called the deuill and Satan, till he haue accomplished the whole worke and made his Church * glorious to himselfe, without spot or wrinckle. For albeit all other Kingdomes and Monarchies, as the Babylonians, Persians, Grecians and Romanes haue fallen and taken ende: yet the Church of Christ euen vnder the Crosse hath from the beginning of the world bene victorious, and shalbe euerlastingly. Trueth it is, that sometime it seemeth to be shadowed with a cloude, or driuen with a stormie persecution, yet suddenly the beames of Christ the sunne of Iustice shine and bring it to light and liber-

If for a time it lye couered with ashes, yet it is quickly kindled againe by the winde of Gods Spirit: though it seeme drowned in the Sea, or parched and pined in the wildernesse, yet God giueth euer good successe. For he punisheth the enemies, and deliuereth his, nourisheth them, and still preserueth them vnder his wings. This Lorde of lordes, and King of kings who hath euer defended his, strengthen, comfort, and preserue your Maiestie, that you may be able to build vp the ruines of Gods house to his glorie, the discharge of your conscience, and to the comfort of all them that loue the comming of Christ Iesus our Lorde.

¶ To

To the diligent and Christian Reader,

Grace, mercie and peace, through Christ Iesus.

BEsides the manifold and continuall benefits which almightie God bestoweth vpon vs, both corporall and spirituall, we are especially bound (deare brethren) to giue him thankes without ceasing for his great grace and vnspeakable mercies, in that it hath pleased him to call vs vnto this marueilous light of his Gospell, and mercifully to regarde vs after so horrible backesliding and falling away from Christ to Antichrist, from light to darkenesse, from the liuing God to dumme and dead idoles, and that after so cruell murther of Gods Saints, as alas, hath bene among vs, wee are not altogether cast off, as were the Israelites, and many others for the like, or not so manifest wickednesse, but receiued againe to grace with most euident signes and tokens of Gods especiall loue and fauour. To the intent therefore that wee may not be vnmindfull of these great mercies, but seeke by all meanes (according to our duetie) to bee thankefull for the same, it behoueth vs so to walke in his feare and loue, that all the dayes of our life we may procure the glorie of his holy name. Nowe forasmuch as this thing chiefely is atteined by the knowledge and practising of the worde of God, (which is the light to our paths, the keye of the kingdome of heauen, our comfort in affliction, our shielde and sworde against Satan, the schoole of all wisedome, the glasse wherein we beholde Gods face, the testimonie of his fauour, and the onely foode and nourishment of our soules) wee thought that wee coulde bestowe our labours and studie in nothing which coulde be more acceptable to God and comfortable to his Church, then in the translating of the holy Scriptures into our natiue tongue: the which thing, albeit that diuers heretofore haue indeuoured to atchieue: yet considering the infancie of those times and imperfect knowledge of the tongues, in respect of this ripe age and cleere light which God hath now reueiled, ẏ translations required greatly to be perused and reformed. Not that we vendicate any thing to our selues aboue the least of our brethren (for God knoweth with what feare and trembling we haue bene, for the space of two yeeres and more day and night occupied herein) but being earnestly desired, and by diuers, whose learning and godlinesse we reuerence, exhorted, and also incouraged by the ready willes of such, whose hearts God likewise touched, not to spare any charges for the furtherance of such a benefite and fauour of God towarde his Church (though the time then was most dangerous, and the persecution sharpe and furious) we submitted our selues at length to their godly iudgements, and seeing the great opportunitie and occasions, which God presented vnto vs in his Church, by reason of so many godly and learned men: and such diuersities of translations in diuers tongues, we vndertooke this great and wonderfull worke (with all reuerence, as in the presence of God, as intreating the word of God, whereunto we thinke our selues vnsufficient) which now God according to his diuine prouidence and mercie hath directed to a most prosperous ende. And this we may with good conscience protest, that we haue in euery point and worde, according to the measure of that knowledge which it pleased Almighty God to giue vs, faithfully rendred the text, and in all hard places most sincerely expounded the same. For God is our witnesse that we haue by all meanes indeuoured to set foorth the puritie of the word and right sence of the holy Ghost for the edifying of the brethren in faith and charitie.

Nowe as we haue chiefely obserued the sence, and laboured alwayes to restore it to all integritie: so haue we most reuerently kept the proprietie of the wordes, considering that the Apostles who spake and wrote to the Gentiles in the Greeke tongue, rather constrained them to the liuely phrase of the Ebrew, then enterprised farre by mollifying their language to speake as the Gentiles did. And for this and other causes wee haue in many places reserued the Ebrew phrases, notwithstanding that they may seeme somewhat hard in their eares that are not well practised and also delite in the sweete sounding phrases of the holy Scriptures. Yet least eyther the simple should be discouraged, or the malicious haue any occasion of iust cauilation, seeing some translations reade after one sort, and some after another, whereas all may serue to good purpose and edification, we haue in the margent noted that diuersitie of speach or reading which may also seeme agreeable to the minde of the holy Ghost and proper for our language with this marke ‖.

Againe, whereas the Ebrewe speache seemed hardly to agree with ours, we haue noted it in the margent after this sort ǂ, vsing that which was more intelligible. And albeit that many of the Ebrewe names be altered from the olde text, and restored to the true writing and first originall, whereof they haue their signification, yet in the vsuall names litle is changed for feare of troubling the simple readers. Moreouer, whereas the necessitie of the sentence required any thing to be added (for such is the grace and proprietie of the Ebrew and Greeke tongues, that it cannot but either by circumlocution, or by adding the verbe or some word be vnderstand of them that are not well practised therein) wee haue put in the text betweene these two markes [ ] such worde or verbe as doth more properlie explane or manifest the text in our tongue. As touching the diuision of the verses, wee haue followed the Ebrewe examples, which haue so euen from the beginning distinguished them. Which thing as it is most profitable for memorie, so doeth it agree with the best translations, and is most easie to finde out both by the best Concordances, and also by the quotations which we haue diligently herein perused and set foorth by this *. Besides this the principall matters are noted and distinguished by this marke ¶. Yea and the arguments both for the booke and for the chapters with the number of the verse are added, that by all meanes the reader might be holpen. For the which cause also we haue set ouer the head of euery page some notable worde or sentence which may greatly further aswell for memorie, as for the chiefe point of the page. And considering howe hard a thing it is to vnderstand the holy Scriptures, and what errors, sectes and heresies growe dayly for lacke of the true knowledge thereof, and howe many are discouraged (as they pretend) because they cannot atteine to the true and simple meaning of the same, we haue also indeuoured both by the diligent reading of the best commentaries, and also by the conference with the godly and learned brethren, to gather briefe annotations vpon all the hard places, aswell for the vnderstanding of such wordes as are obscure, and for the declaration of the text, as for the application of the same, as may most appertaine to Gods glory and the edification of his Church. Furthermore whereas certaine places in the bookes of Moses, of the Kings, and Ezekiel, seemed so darke that by no description they coulde be made easie to the simple reader, wee haue so set them foorth with figures and notes for the full declaration thereof, that they which cannot by iudgement, being holpen by the annotations noted by the letters a b c. &c. atteine thereunto, yet by the perspectiue, and as it were by the eye, may sufficiently knowe the true meaning of all such places. Whereunto also wee haue added certaine maps of Cosmographie which necessarily serue for the perfect vnderstanding and memorie of diuers places and countries, partly described, and partly by occasion touched, both in the olde and newe Testament. Finally that nothing might lacke which might be bought by labours, for the increase of knowledge and furtherance of Gods glorie, we haue adioyned two most profitable Tables, the one seruing for the interpretation of the Ebrew names: and the other conteining all the chiefe and principall matters of the whole Bible: so that nothing (as wee trust) that any coulde iustly desire, is omitted. Therefore, as brethren that are partakers of the same hope and saluation with vs, wee beseeche you, that this rich pearle and inestimable treasure may not be offred in vaine, but as sent from God to the people of God, for the increase of his kingdome, the comfort of his Church, and discharge of our conscience, whom it hath pleased him to raise vp for this purpose, so you woulde willingly receiue the worde of God, earnestly studie it, and in all your life practise it, that you may nowe appeare in deede to bee the people of God, not walking any more according to this worlde, but in the fruites of the Spirit, that God in vs may bee fully glorified through Christ Iesus our Lorde, who liueth and reigneth for euer. Amen.

A Prologue or Preface made by Thomas Cranmer, sometime Archbishop of Canterburie.

Concerning two sundrie sortes of people, it seemeth much necessarie that something be saide in the entrie of this booke by the way of a Preface or Prologue, whereby hereafter it may be both the better accepted of them which hitherto coulde not well beare it, and also the better vsed of them which heretofore haue misused it. For truely some there are that be too slowe, and neede the spurre, some other seeme too quicke, and neede more of the bridle: some loose their game by short shooting, some by ouer shooting, some walke too much on the left hande, some too much on the right. In the former sort be all they that refuse to reade, or to heare read the Scripture in the vulgare tongue, much worse they that let also or discourage the other from the reading or hearing thereof. In the latter sort be they which by their inordinate reading, vndiscrete speaking, contentious disputing, or otherwise by their licentious liuing, slander and hinder the worde of God most of all other, whereof they would seeme to be greatest furtherers. These two sortes, albeit they be most farre vnlike the one to the other, yet they both deserue in effect like reproche: neither can I well tell whether of them I may iudge the more offender, him that doth obstinately refuse so godly and goodly knowledge: or him that so vngodly and so vngoodly doth abuse the same. And as touching the former, I would marueile much that any man should be so mad, as to refuse in darkenesse, light: in hunger, foode: in colde, fire: for the worde of God is light: Lucerna pedibus meis verbum tuum. Thy worde is a lanterne vnto my feete. It is foode: Non in solo pane viuit homo, sed in omni verbo Dei. Man shall not liue by bread onely, but by euery worde of God. It is fire: Ignem veni mittere in terram, & quid volo, nisi vt ardeat? I am come to sende fire on the earth, and what is my desire, but that it be kindled? I would marueile (I say at this) saue that I consider howe much custome and vsage may do. So that if there were a people as some write, de Cymeriis, which neuer sawe the Sunne, by reason that they be situated farre toward the North pole, and be inclosed and ouershadowed with high mountaines: it is credible and like ynough, that if by the power and will of God, the mountaines should sinke downe, and giue place, that the light of the sunne might haue entrance to them, at the first some of them would be offended therewith. And the olde prouerbe affirmeth, that after tillage of corne was first found, many delighted more to feede of maste and acornes, wherewith they had bene accustomed, then to eate bread made of good corne. Such is the nature of custome, that it causeth vs to beare all things well and easily wherewith we haue bene accustomed, and to be offended with all things thereunto contrary. And therefore I can wel thinke them worthie pardon, which at the comming abroade of Scripture doubted and drewe backe. But such as will persist still in their wilfulnesse, I must needes iudge not onely foolish, frowarde, and obstinate: but also peeuish, peruerse, & indurate. And yet, if the matter should be tried by custome, we might also alledge custome for the reading of the scripture in the vulgare tongue, and prescribe the more ancient custome. For it is not much aboue one hundreth yeere ago, since Scripture hath not bene accustomed to be read in the vulgare tongue within this Realme, and many hundreth yeres before that, it was translated and read in the Saxons tongue, which at that time was our mother tongue, whereof there remaine yet diuers copies found lately in olde Abbeys, of such antique maner of writing and speaking, that fewe men now be able to reade and vnderstand them. And when this language waxed olde and out of common vsage, because folke should not lacke the fruit of reading, it was againe translated into the newer language, whereof yet also many copies remaine, and be dayly found. But now to let passe custome, and to wey, as wise men euer should, the thing in his owne nature: let vs here discusse what it auayleth Scripture to be had and read of the lay and vulgare people. And to this question I intend here to say nothing, but that was spoken and written by the noble doctour and most morall diuine, S. John Chrysostome, in his third sermon de Lazaro, albeit I will be some thing shorter, and gather the matter into fewer wordes and lesse roome then he doth there, because I would not be tedious. He exhorteth there his audience, that euery man should reade by himselfe at home in the meane dayes & time, betweene sermon and sermon, to the intent they might both more profoundly fire in their mindes and memories that he had said before vpon such tertes, whereupon he had alreadie preached: and also that they might haue their mindes the more readie and better prepared to receiue and perceiue that which he should say from thencefoorth in his Sermons, vpon such tertes as he had not yet declared and preached vpon: therefore saith he there, My common vsage is to giue you warning before, what matter I intend after to intreate vpon, that you your selues in the meane dayes, may take the booke in hande, reade, wey, and perceiue the summe and effect of the matter, and marke what hath bene declared, and what remaineth yet to be declared, so that thereby your minde may be the more furnished to heare the rest that shalbe said. And that I exhort you (saith he) and euer haue and will exhort you, that you (not onely here in the Church) giue eare to that that is saide by the Preacher: but that also when you be at home in your houses, ye applie your selues from time to time to the reading of holy Scriptures: which thing also I neuer lin to beat into the eares of them that be my familiars, and with whome I haue priuate acquaintance and conuersation. Let no man make excuse and say (saith he) I am busied about matters of the common wealth, I beare this office, or that, I am a craftes man, I must applie mine occupation, I haue a wife, my children must be fed, my household must I prouide for, briefly I am a man of the world, it is not for me to reade the Scriptures, that belongeth to them that haue bidden the world farewell, which liue in solitarines, and contemplation, and haue bene brought vp and continually nouselled in learning and religion. To this answering, what sayest thou man (saith he?) Is it not for thee to studie and to reade the Scripture, because thou art encumbred and distract with cares and busines? So much the more it is behouefull for thee to haue defence of Scriptures, how much thou art the more distressed in worldly dangers. They that be free and farre from trouble and intermedling of worldly things, liue in safegard, and tranquillitie, and in the calme, or within a sure hauen. Thou art in the middest of the sea of worldly wickednesse, and therefore thou needest the more of ghostly succour and comfort. They sit farre from the strokes of battell, and farre out of gunne shotte, and therefore they be but seldome wounded. Thou that standest in the forefront of the hoste, and nighest to thine enemies, must needes take nowe and then many strokes, and be grieuously wounded, and therefore thou hast most neede to haue thy remedies and medicines at hande. Thy wife prouoketh thee to anger, thy childe giueth thee occasion to take sorowe and pensiuenesse, thine enemies lie in waite for thee, thy friend (as thou takest him) sometime enuieth thee, thy neighbour misreporteth thee, or pyketh quarels against thee, thy mate or partner vndermineth thee, thy Lord, Iudge, or Iustice threatneth thee, pouertie is painefull vnto thee, the losse of thy deare and welbeloued causeth thee to mourne, prosperitie exalteth thee, aduersitie bringeth thee lowe: briefly, so diuerse and so manifolde occasions of cares, tribulations, and temptations beset thee, and beliege thee rounde about. Where canst thou haue armour or fortresse against thine assaults? Where canst thou haue salues for thy sores, but of holy Scripture? Thy flesh must needes be prone and subiect to fleshly lustes, which dayly walkest and art conuersant among women, seest their beautie set forth to the eye, hearest their nice and wanton words, smellest their balme, ciuet, and muske, with many other like prouocations and stirrings: except thou hast in a readinesse where with to suppresse and auoyde them, which cannot elsewhere be had, but onely out of the holy Scriptures. Let vs reade and seeke all remedies that we can, and all shall be litle ynough. How shall we then do, if we suffer and take dayly woundes, and when we haue done, will sit still and search for no medicines? Doest thou not marke and consider howe the Smith, Mason, or Carpenter, or any other handicraftes man, what neede soeuer he be in, what other shift soeuer he make, he will not sell nor lay to pledge the tooles of his occupation: for then howe should he worke his feate, or get his liuing thereby? Of like minde and affection ought we to be towardes holy Scripture. For as mallets, hammers, sawes, chesils, ares, and hatchets be the tooles of their occupation: so be the bookes of the Prophets, and Apostles, and all holy writers inspired by the holy Ghost, the instruments of our saluation. Wherefore let vs not sticke to buy and prouide vs the Bible, that is to say, the bookes of holy Scripture, and let vs thinke that to be a better iewell in our house, then either golde or siluer. For like as theeues be loth to assault an house where they know to be good armour and artillerie: so wheresoeuer these holy and ghostly bookes be occupied, there neither the deuill nor none of his angels dare come neere. And they that occupie them be in much safegarde, and haue a great consolation, and be the readier vnto all goodnesse, the slower vnto all euill: and if they haue done any thing amisse, anon euen by the sight of the bookes their consciences be admonished, and they ware sorie and ashamed of the fact. Peraduenture they will say vnto me, Howe and if we vnderstand not that we reade, that is conteined in the bookes? What then? Suppose thou vnderstand not the deepe and profound mysteries of Scriptures, yet can it not be but that much fruit and holinesse must come and grow vnto thee by the reading: for it cannot be that thou shouldest be ignorant in all things alike. For the holy Ghost hath so ordered and attempered the Scriptures, that in them aswell publicans, fishers, and shepheards may finde their edification, as great doctours their erudition. For those bookes were not made to vaineglorie, like as were the writings of the gentile Philosophers and Rhethoricians, to the intent the makers should be had in admiration for their hie stiles and obscure maner and writing, whereof nothing can be vnderstanded without a master or an expositour: But the Apostles and Prophets wrote their bookes so, that their speciall intent and purpose might be vnderstanded and perceiued of euery reader, which was nothing but the edification of amendment of the life of them that reade or heare it. Who is it that reading or hearing read in the Gospel, Blessed are they that be meeke, Blessed are they that be mercifull, Blessed are they that be of cleane heart, and such other like places, can perceiue nothing except he haue a master to teach him what it meaneth? Likewise the signes and miracles, with all other histories of the doings of Christ or his Apostles, who is there of so simple wit and capacitie, but he may be able to perceiue and vnderstand them? These be but excuses and clokes for the raine, and couerings of their owne slouthfulnesse. But still ye will say, I cannot vnderstand it. What marueile? Howe shouldest thou vnderstand, if thou wilt not reade nor looke vpon it? Take the bookes into thine handes, reade the whole storie, & that thou vnderstandest keepe it well in memorie: that thou vnderstandest not reade it againe, and againe: if thou can neither so come by it, counsell with some other that is better learned. Go to thy Curate and Preacher, shewe thy selfe to be desirous to knowe and learne: and I doubt not but God seeing thy diligence and readinesse (if no man else teach thee) will himselfe vouchsafe with his holy Spirit to illuminate thee, and to open vnto thee that which was locked from thee. Remember the Eunuch of Candace Queene of Ethiopia, which albeit he was a man of a wilde & barbarous countrey, and one occupied with worldly cares and businesse, yet ryding in his charet, he was reading the Scripture. Nowe consider, if this man passing in his iourney was so diligent as to reade the Scripture: what thinkest thou of like was he wont to do sitting at home? Againe, he that letted not to reade, albeit he did not vnderstand: what did he then troweste thou, after that when he had learned and gotten vnderstanding? For that thou mayest well knowe that he vnderstoode not what he read, hearken what Philip saith there vnto him, Vnderstandest thou what thou readest? And he nothing ashamed to confesse his ignorance, answered, Howe should I vnderstand hauing no body to shewe me the way? Lo when hee lacked one to shewe him the way, and to expounde to him the Scriptures, yet did hee reade: and therefore God the rather prouided for him a guide of the way, that taught him to vnderstand it. God perceiued his willing and toward minde, and therefore he sent him a teacher by and by. Therefore let no man be negligent about his owne health and saluation. Though thou haue not Philip alwayes when thou wouldest, the holy Ghost which then mooued and stirred vp Philip, will be readie and not faile thee, if thou do thy diligence accordingly. All these things be written vnto vs for our edification and amendment, which be borne towards the latter ende of the worlde. The reading of the Scriptures is a great and strong bulwarke or fortresse against sinne: the ignorance of the same is a greater ruine and destruction of them that will not know it. That is the thing that bringeth in heresie, that is it that causeth all corrupt and peruerse liuing, that is it that bringeth all things out of good order. Hitherto all that I haue said, I haue taken and gathered out of the foresaide sermon of this holy doctour S. Iohn Chrysostome. Nowe if I should in like maner bring forth what the selfe same doctour speaketh in other places, and what other doctours and writers say concerning the same purpose, I might seeme to you to write an other Bible, rather then to make a Preface to the Bible.

Wherefore

Wherefore in few words to comprehend the largenesse & vtilitie of the Scriptures, how it conteineth fruitfull instruction and erudition for euery man, if any thing be necessary to be learned, of the holy Scripture we may learne it. If falshood shalbe reproued, therof we may gather wherewithall. If any thing be to be corrected and amended, if there need any exhortation or consolation, of the Scripture we may well learne. In ỹ Scriptures be the fat pastures of the soule, therein is no venemous meat, no vnwholesome thing, they be the very daintie and pure feeding. He that is ignorant shall finde there what he should learne. He that is a peruerse sinner, shall there finde his damnation, to make him to tremble for feare. He that laboureth to serue God, shall finde there his glory, & the promissions of eternal life, exhorting him more diligently to labour. Herein may princes learne how to gouerne their subiects: subiects obedience, loue, and dread to their princes: husbands how they should behaue them vnto their wiues, how to educate their children & seruants: And contrary, the wiues, children, and seruants, may know their duetie to their husbands, parents, & masters. Here all maner of persons, men, women, yong, olde, learned, vnlearned, rich, poore, priests, lay men, lords, ladies, officers, tenants, and meane men, virgins, wiues, widowes, lawyers, marchants, artificers, husbandmen, & all maner of persons, of what estate or condition soeuer they be, may in this booke learne all things what they ought to beleeue, what they ought to do, and what they should not do, as well concerning Almightie God, as also concerning themselues and all other. Briefly, to the reading of the Scripture none can be enemie, but that either be so sicke that they loue not to heare of any medicine, or else that be so ignorant that they know not Scripture to be ỹ most healthfull medicine. Therefore as touching this former part, I will here conclude, and take it for a conclusion, sufficiently determined and appointed, that it is conuenient & good, the Scriptures to be read of all sortes & kindes of people, and in the vulgare tongue, without further allegations or probations for the same, which shall not neede, since that this one place of Iohn Chrysostome is ynough, and sufficient to perswade all them that be not frowardly & peruersly set in their owne wilful opinion, specially now that the Kings highnesse being supreme head next vnder Christ of this Church of England, hath approued with his royall assent ỹ setting forth hereof, which onely to all true & obedient subiects ought to be a sufficient reason for the allowance of the same, without further delay, reclamation, or resistance, although there were no Preface, or other reason herein expressed.

The Conclusion.

The Kings highnesse hath allowed the Scripture as necessarie for vs.

There is nothing but it may be abused. Rom. 8.

Therefore now to come to the second or latter part of my purpose: here is nothing so good in this world, but it may be abused, and turned from vnhurtfull and wholesome, to hurtfull & noysome. What is there aboue better then the Sunne, the Moone, and the starres? Yet was there that tooke occasion by the great beautie and vertue of them, to dishonour God, and to defile themselues with idolatry, giuing the honour of the liuing God and creator of all things, to such things as he had created. What is there here beneath better then fire, water, meates, drinkes, mettals of gold, siluer, yron, and steele? Yet we see dayly great harme & much mischiefe done by euery one of these, as well for lacke of wisedome and prouidence of them that suffer euill, as by the malice of them that worke the euill. Thus to them that be euill of themselues, euery thing setteth forward and increaseth their euill, be it of his owne nature a thing neuer so good: like as contrarily, to them that studie and indeuour themselues to goodnesse, euery thing preuayleth them, and profiteth vnto good, be it of his owne nature a thing neuer so bad, as S. Paul saith, His qui diligunt Deum, omnia cooperantur in bonum. All things do bring good successe, to such as do loue God, euen as out of most venemous wormes is made triacle, ỹ most soueraigne medicine for the preseruation of mans health in time of danger. Wherefore I would aduise you all that come to the reading or hearing of this booke, which is the word of God, the most precious iewell, and most holy relique that remayneth vpon earth, that ye bring with you the feare of God, and that ye do it with all due reuerence, and vse your knowledge thereof, not to vainglorie of friuolous disputation: but to the honour of God, encrease of vertue, and edification both of your selues and others. And to the intent that my words may be the more regarded, I will vse in this part the authoritie of S. Gregory Nazianzene, like as in the other I did of S. Iohn Chrysostome. It appeareth that in his time there were some (as I feare me there be also now at these dayes a great nomber) which were idle brablers, and talkers of the Scripture out of season and all good order, & without any increase of vertue, or example of good liuing: to them he writeth al his first booke, de Theologia. Wherefore I shall briefly gather the whole effect, and recite it here vnto you. There be some (saith he) whose not onely eares and tongues, but also their fistes be whetted and ready bent all to contention and vnprofitable disputation, whom I would wish as they be vehement and earnest to reason the matter with tongue, so they were all ready and practiue to do good deedes. But for as much as they subuerting the order of all godlinesse, haue respect only to this thing, how they may binde and loose subtil questions, so that now euery market place, euery alehouse and tauerne, euery feasthouse, briefly euery company of men, euery assembly of women, is filled with such talke: Since the matter is so (saith he) and that our faith and holy religion of Christ beginneth to ware nothing else but as it were a sophistrie or a talking craft, I can no lesse do but say something thereunto. It is not fit (saith he) for euery man to dispute the high questions of diuinitie, neither is it to be done at all times, neither in euery audience must we discusse euery doubt: but we must know when, to whom, and how farre we ought to enter into such matters. First, it is not for euery man, but it is for such as be of exact, & exquisite iudgements, and such as haue spent their time before in studie and contemplation, and such as before haue cleansed themselues aswel in soule as body, or at the least endeuoured themselues to be made cleane. For it is dangerous (saith he) for the vncleane to touch that thing which is most cleane, like as the sore eye taketh harme by looking vpon the Sunne. Secondarily, not at all times, but when we be reposed, and at rest from all outward dregs and trouble, and when that our heads be not encombred with other worldly & wandring imaginations: as if a man should mingle balme and dirt together. For he that shall iudge & determine such matters and doubts of Scriptures, must take his time when he may apply his wits thereunto, that he may thereby the better see and discerne what is trueth. Thirdly, where, and in what audience. There and among those that haue bene studious to learne: And not among such as haue pleasure to trifle with such matters, as with other things of pastime, which repute for their chiefe delicates, the disputation of high questions, to shew their wittes, learning, and eloquence in reasoning of high matters. Fourthly, it is to be considered how farre to wade in such matters of difficultie. No further (saith he) but as euery mans owne capacitie will serue him, & againe no further then the weakenesse or intelligence of the other audience may beare. For like as too great noyse hurteth the eare, too much meate hurteth ỹ mans body, heauie burdens hurt the bearers of them, too much raine doth more hurt then good to the ground: briefly in all things too much is noyous: euen so weake wittes, & weake consciences, may soone be oppressed with ouer hard questions. I say not this to dissuade men from the knowledge of God, and reading or studying of the Scripture: For I say that it is as necessary for the life of mans soule, as for the body to breathe. And if it were possible so to liue, I would thinke it good for a man to spende all his life in that, and to do none other thing. I commend the Lawe which biddeth to meditate & study the Scriptures alwayes both night and day, and Sermons and preachings to be made both morning, noone, and euentide, and God to be lauded and blessed in all times, to bedward, from bed, in our iourneys, and in all other workes. I forbid not to reade, but I forbid to reason. Neither forbid I to reason so farre as is good and godly: but I allow not that is done out of season, and out of measure and good order. A man may eate too much of honie be it neuer so sweete, and there is time for euery thing, & that thing that is good is not good if it be vngodly done. Euen as a flower in winter is out of season, and as a womans apparell becommeth not a man, neither cõtrarily, the mans the woman, neither is weeping conuenient at a brideale, neither laughing at a buriall. Now if we can obserue and keepe that is comely & timely in all other things: shall not we then the rather do the same in holy Scriptures? Let vs not runne foorth as it were wilde horses, that can suffer neither bridle in their mouthes, nor sitter on their backes. Let vs keepe vs in our bounds, and neither let vs go too farre on the one side, least we returne into Egypt, neither too farre ouer the other, least we be caried away to Babylon. Let vs not sing the song of our Lord in a strange land, that is to say, let vs not dispute the worde of God at all aduentures, as well where it is not to be reasoned as where it is, and as well in the eares of them that be not fit therefore, as of them that be. If we can in no wise forbeare, but that we must needes dispute, let vs forbeare thus much at the least, to do it out of time & place conuenient: and let vs entreat of those things which be holy, holily: and vpon those things that be mysticall, mystically: and not to vtter the diuine mysteries in the eares vnworthy to heare them, but let vs knowe what is comely, as well in our silence & talking, as in our garments wearing, in our feeding, in our gesture, in our goings, in all our other behauing. This contention and debates about Scriptures and doubtes thereof (specially when such as do pretend to be the fauourers and students therof, cannot agree within themselues) doth most hurt to our selues, and to the furthering of the cause & quarels that we should haue furthered aboue all other things. And we in this (saith he) be not vnlike to them that being mad, set their owne houses on fire, and that slay their owne children, or beate their owne parents. I marueile much (saith he) to recount whereof commeth all this desire of vaineglorie, whereof commeth all this tongue itch, that we haue so much delight to talke and clatter: And wherein is our communication? Not in the commendation of vertuous and good deeds, of hospitalitie, of loue betweene christian brother & brother, of loue betweene man and wife, of virginitie and chastitie, and of almes toward the poore: not in Psalmes and godly songs, not in lamenting for our sinnes, not in repressing the affections of the body, not in prayers to God. We talke of Scripture, but in the meane time we subdue not our flesh by fasting, watching and weeping, we make not this life a meditation of death, we do not striue to be lords ouer our appetites and affections, we go not about to pull downe our proude and high mindes, to abate our sumish and rancorous stomackes, to restraine our lust and bodily delectations, our vndiscret sorowes, our lasciuious mirth, our inordinate looking, our insatiable hearing of vanities, our speaking without measure, our inconuenient thoughts, and briefly, to reforme our life & maners: but all our holinesse consisteth in talking. And we pardon eche other from all good liuing, so that we may sticke fast together in argumentation, as though there were no mo wayes to heauen but this alone, the way of speculation and knowledge (as they take it) but in very deed it is rather the way of superfluous contention & sophistication. Hitherto haue I recited the minde of Gregorie Nazianzene in that booke which I spake of before. The same author saith also in another place, that the learning of a Christian man ought to begin of the feare of God, to end in matters of high speculation: and not contrarily to begin with speculation, and to end in feare. For speculation (saith he) either high cunning or knowledge, if it be not stayed with the bridle of feare to offend God, is dangerous, and ynough to tumble a man headlong downe the hill. Therefore, saith he, the feare of God must be the first beginning, and as it were an A.B.C. or an introduction to all them that shall enter into the very true and most fruitfull knowledge of holy Scriptures. Where as is the feare of God, there is (saith he) the keeping of the commandements: and where as is the keeping of the cõmandements, there is the cleansing of the flesh: which flesh is a cloude before the soules eye, & suffreth it not purely to see the beame of the heauenly light. Where as is the cleansing of the flesh, there is the illumination of the holy Ghost, the end of all our desires, and the very light whereby the veritie of Scriptures is seene and perceiued. This is the minde, & almost the words of Gregorie Nazianzene, doctor of the Greeke Church, of whom S. Jerome saith, that vnto his time the latine Church had no writer able to be compared, and to make an euen match with him. Therefore to conclude this latter part, euery man that commeth to the reading of this holy booke, ought to bring with him first and formost this feare of almightie God, and then next, a firme and stable purpose to reforme his owne selfe according thereunto, and so to continue, proceede, and prosper from time to time, shewing himselfe to be a sober and fruitfull hearer and learner: which if he do, he shall proue at length well able to teach, though not with his mouth, yet with his liuing and good example, which is sure the most liuely and effectuous forme and maner of teaching. He that otherwise intermedleth with this booke, let him be assured that once he shall make account therefore, when he shall haue said to him as it is written in the Prophet Dauid, Peccatori dicit Deus, &c. Vnto the vngodly saide God, Why doest thou preach my lawes, and takest my testament in thy mouth? Whereas thou hatest to be reformed, and hast bene partaker with adulterers. Thou hast let thy mouth speake wickednesse, and with thy tongue thou hast set forth deceit. Thou satest and spakest against thy brother, and hast slandered thine owne mothers sonne. These things hast thou done, and I held my tongue, and thou thoughtest wickedly, that I am euen such a one as thy selfe: But I will reproue thee, and set before thee the things that thou hast done. O consider this, ye that forget God, least I plucke you away, and there be none to deliuer you. Who so offereth me thankes and praise, he honoureth me: and to him that ordereth his conuersation right, wil I shewe the saluation of God.

Praise be to God.

¶ I haue here (gentle Reader) before this Translation of the Bible, at the request of diuers learned, set downe this notable Preface, (conteyning both the necessarie, and also the profitable vse of the Scriptures) as well for the godly exhortations, and louing admonitions therein giuen, as also for reteyning amongst vs the memorie of that excellent and worthy Martyr, T. The Prologue.

This Table fetteth out to the eye the genealogie of Adam, so passing by the Patriarches, Iudges, Kings, Prophets, and Priestes, and the fathers of their time, continuing in lineall dissent to Christ our Sauiour.

A,

ADam, the first man, was fourmed by God of the dust of the ground, and placed in paradise, out of the which doe spring the foure notable floudes. And Adam gaue name to the woman, which was made of his ribbe (while he was a sleepe) and called her Eua, as he gaue name to all other creatures. And after he had consented unto her for eating of þ apple which was forbidden them, their eyes were opened, and they knewe they were naked, and therefore they made themselues aprons of figge leaues. And God dryue them out of Paradise, and set Cherubins and a fierie two edged swoorde to keepe the way of the tree of life: And after he had rebuked him, his wife and the serpent, hee curied the earth with thorne and thistle, and he was enioyned to get his bread in the sweate of his face. Who begate thirtie sonnes and thirtie daughters, besides Cain and Abel, as followeth. He liued yeres 930. Genesis 5.5.

B Kain was a husbandeman, and being displeased that his offrings were reiected, and not his brother Abels (although he was rebuked of God for his enuie) slue his brother, and offended seuen folde thereby. After that, hee was made a fugitiue and a vagabonde vpon the earth: for he was accursed of God, and was seuen folde punished vnto the seuenth generation. His sinne was seuen folde. For first he did not rightly deuide, 2 he enuied his brother, 3 hee dealt subtilly, 4 hee killed him, 5 hee stubbernely denied it, 6 hee dispaired, 7 being condemned, hee repented not. Gen. 4.13. This Kain was the first builder of the earthly Citie, in the which hee beskowed his children for feare, because he vsed violence, rauine, and spoyle. Gen. 4.17.

C Iabal did first deuise þ shepheards cabones to be redily caried about. Hee was the first which made distinction betwixt the flockes of sheepe, & the flocks of kyds, according to their age and qualitie, and did deuide them asunder. Gen. 4.20.

D Iubal was the father of them which sang in Harpe and Organes, not finder of the instruments, but inuenter of the Art of musicke, to the intent that the shepheards labours might be somewhat recreated: and lest that the Arte of musicke shoulde decay, hee graued the whole science in two pillars, the one of marble against the floodes, the other of bricke against the fire. Genesis 4.21.

E Tubalkain was the first inuenter of Smithes arte, and of grauing worke in metall: by whose doing, Iubal his brother hauing delectation in the sounde of his hambers, was the first that deuised proportions, and harmonies springing out of them. Genesis 4.22.

F Of Eber came the name of the Hebrewes, because in his familie the auncient tongue of the Iewes was kept, notwithstanding the diuision of tongues. Gen. 11.17.

G Peleg liued when the diuision of the tongues was made, at the building of the towre of Babel in the lande Sennaar, in whose familie the most auncient tongue of the Hebrewes did remaine. He was called Peleg, that is, diuided from other: For God diuided all the children of men into 72. tongues, of the which onely 18. hath their letters. In his time idoles were worshipped in Babylon. Gen. 11.18, 19.

H Nahor after he was come out of Chaldea, he tooke to wife Milcah the daughter of his brother Haran, hee dwelt in Haran of Mesopotamia, hee had three sonnes, Hus, Buz, and Bethuel, with other fiue. Of Buz sprang Balaam, who is called in Iob Elihu Buzites. Gen. 11.29.

I Terah maketh the ende of the seconde generation, hauing 1222. yeeres according to the Hebrewes, but according to the Septuaginta 1072. This Terah the father of Abraham, not able to beare the iniuries that were done vnto him of worshipping the fire in Chaldea, where the Chaldeans destroyed his first begotten sonne Haran, he sojourned as pilgrim with Abraham and Nahor, and the familie of Haran, in Haran Mesopotamia, where after two hundred and fiue yeeres of his age hee dyed. Genesis 11.32.

Lamech first brought in Bigamie, after he had slaine a man to the woūding of him self, and a pongman to his owne punishment. Hee shewed his wiues that for this deede there was seuen folde punishment due for him.

K Sheth was begotten by Adam in the 130. yeere of his life, where Moses hath omitted one hundred yeres, wherein Adam & Eua did bewaile Abel their sonne so slaine. Gen. 5.3.

L Henoch pleasing God, was translated into Paradise, and liueth with Elias. Which Henoch by inuenting certaine letters, wrote a booke as is to be gathered out of þ Epistle of Iude, in whose time it is thought that Adam dyed. Gen. 5.24. and 22.

M Abel was the first martyr, who began and builded the Church, which is the Citie of God, whereof hee was the first citizen, and because he was righteous, God accepted his oblation. Gen. 4.4.

N Noah in the six hundred yere of his life, vpon the rage of the waters, made his Arke by Gods monition twentie yeres before, and the waters encreasing vpon the earth, by the vehemencie of the raine, which continued fourtie dayes and xl. nightes, he entred his ship with seuen soules, and after a hundred and fiftie dayes the waters began to decrease, and the Arke did rest vpon the mountaines of Armenia. And after fourtie dayes he sent out a Rauen, and after that a Done, returning with a bowe of Olyue in her mouth. And in the 27. day of the second moneth, he came out of the Arke, the selfe same day after the reuolution of the yere that hee entred, and had granted him to eate flesh, excepting the blood therein, and builded an altar, and sacrificed to God, and God blessed him that he should grow and multiplie, and had the signe of the rainebowe giuen him, as a token that the worlde should be no more ouerflowen with flood. He first planted vines, and was drunken with the wine thereof, and was scorned of his sonne Ham, who cursed him, and blessed his other sonnes, and so dyed. Gen. 9.29.

Here at Noah doeth ende the first age, hauing yeres according to the Hebrewes 1656. and according to the Septuaginta 2242.

The eight ages of the worlde.

THE first age was from Adam to Noah: the second, from Noah to Abraham: the thirde, from Abraham to Dauid: the fourth, from Dauid to the translnugration of Babylon: the fifth from thence to Christ: the sixth, from Christ to the ende of the worlde: the seuenth, may be added as of them which be in rest, which may be accompted from Christes passion to the day of iudgement: the eight age, as of them which shall rise againe from the day of iudgement for euer.

And these ages be not so called for the distinct number of certaine thousande yeres, but for certaine notable actes which were wrought in the beginning of euery one of them. For in the beginning of the first age the worlde was created: In the beginning of the seconde the worlde was purged by the flood: In the beginning of the thirde circumcision was giuen against originall sinne: In the beginning of the fourth was the anoynting of the kings of Israel: In the beginning of the fifth was the translmigration of Gods people into Babylon: In the beginning of the sixth was the incarnation of the sonne of God: In the beginning of the seuenth were the gates of heauen opened, In the beginning of the eight shalbe the resurrection of the bodies, the reward of good and euill. Aulten. Hierom. Orosius.

After the flood, sprang vp foure principall Kingdomes.

Assyrians of the East, where Belus was the first king.
Sycionians of the West, where Egialeus was the first king.
Scithians of the North, where Ninus was the first king.
Egyptians of the South, where Mineus was the first king.

To this Belus succeeded Semiramis his wife, who did constitute Babylon the chiefe of his kingdome, to whome Ninus succeeded, who was the deuiser of idoles, making an image to his father Belus after his departure, and caused it to be honoured of all men. Hee obteined all Asia, and called the head citie Niniueh, hee raigned in Thracia, hee was the inuenter of the arte Magicke, and graued the seuen liberall Arts in two pillars, one of braste, and another of bricke, he destroyed all maner of bookes. After him succeeded Sardanapalus, and after him Arbaces, who translated that kingdome to the Medes, ouer whome raigned Astyages, whose daughter was wife to the Prince of Persia, of whome sprang Cyrus, who conquered Astyages: after his death, Darius Astyages sonne raigned with the said Cyrus his nephewe.

From these children of Noah doe spring 72. generations: of Japheth 15. of Ham 30. of Shem 27. which was spread ouer all the whole worlde. Shem obtained Asia, Ham Africa, Japheth Europa, that is, the North part. The generation of Shem shalbe followed in this genealogie, for of the other two sprang the Gentiles.

Judg. 13. 24.

I. Samuel was called thy le of the Lord, for hee had three dignities, being Priest, Iudge, and Prophet: hee at the petition of the people of Israel anoynted Saul of the tribe of Beniamin for the King, giuing him charge to kill the Amalekites, and Agag their King: which precept because he did not fulfill, he was reprooued of the Lorde, and Samuel did anoint Dauid the sonne of Ishai in Bethlehem to be King. This Samuel was raysed vp after his death by a Pythonesse a witch. In his time began the people of Israel to haue Kings. 1. Sam. 10. 1.

K Elimelech husband to Naomi, in the time of famine in the land of Iuda vnder Eli the Priest, iourneyed with his wife and his two sonnes, from Bethlehem into the lande of Moab, where his two sonnes tooke to wiues Ruth and Orpah: where her husband and her two sonnes dying and leaning Orpah, Naomi returned with her daughter Ruth a Moabitesse. This Saul did deliuer the men of Jabesh Gilead from Nahash King of the Moabites, and againe was confirmed of Samuel in Gilgal to be King, who fighting against the Philistims, and not tarying for Samuel by seuen dayes, and doing sacrifice against the precepte of God and Samuel, was reproued of him. Where Jonathã because hee had eaten of the hony combe against the prohibition, though hee did it ignorantly, was hardly saued from death, notwithstanding the entreatie of the people: and Saul because hee spared Agag the King of Amalek against the precept of God and Samuel, (though that Samuel mourned for him before God) the Lord elected Dauid for King, and reprooued Saul, for which cause Saul did persecute Dauid continually: but finally Saul with his three sonnes, Jonathan, Abinadab, and Malchishua was slaine of the Philistims in the mountaines of Gilboa. 1. A. Antipater borne in Idumea, a gentile, was consecrated first with Hircanus, who went at his counsell to the king of Arabie, hee ioyned with Pompeius, and after his death with Iulius Cesar, whom Cesar sent with 3000. men against Pellucium, in which battell doing valiantly, yet hee had many woundes, hee was accused of Antigonus for the death of his father and brother, and for betraying of the Empire, before Cesar. Wherupon hee put off his clothes, and shewed the scarres of his woundes which he receiued for Cesars sake, saying, Though my tongue speake not, let these woundes declare whether I haue bene a traytour.
At the last hee was poysoned: hee had Crispis to wife, neece to the king of the Arabians, of whom he had foure sonnes and one daughter, as appeareth here.

F. Componius and his followers in this line, were Procurators of Jurie, this Cõponius was made Procurator of Jurie by Augustus Cesar after ỳ Archelaus was exiled, who because the Samaritanes entred in the night into Jerusalem, and did cast the bones of the dead men about the Temple, hee commanded the gates of the Temple to be shut vntill the day, who after his returne to Rome, Marcus was sent, after his returne was sent Annius Rufus, in whose dayes Cesar was slaine:
after whom Valerius was sent to be Procurator of Jurie.

G. Valerius a Greeke borne, hee was made Procurator of Jurie by Tiberius Cesar, he deposed Annas, and substituted Ismael, whom within a while hee deposed and set vp Eleazar the sonne of Annas, and after a yeere deposed him, and appointed Simeon, whom hee also deprined after a yeere, and constituted Iosippus which was also called Caiaphas, vnder whom Christ suffred, hee after 11.
yeeres forsooke Jurie and returned to Rome, after him Tiberius sent Pontius Pilate, vnder whom Herode Agrippa to the honour of Tiberius Cesar builded the Citie of Tiberias. After the death of Herode Ascolonita, the Monarchie of the kingdome of the Jewes was deuided into two partes by the Senate of Rome, and one part was giuen to Archelaus vnder the name of the Tetrarch, that is, of Jurie and Idumea, and it was promised him that if he did worthily he should be made king. An other part was deuided into two Tetrarches, and one part thereof was giuen to Herode Antipas ouer the riuer, and Gali-Annas. Caiaphas.

lee: and to his brother Philippus was giuen the Tetrar-chie of Ituria, or Traconitis: and to Lysanias, was giuen the Tetrarchie of Abilene, Luke 3.1, &c.

M. Paul in the seconde yeere from Christes death, was by miracle conuerted to the faith: in the 13. yeere Paul and Barnabas were deuided in Antioche, and went vp to Peter and Iames in Jerusalem, and in the 14. yeere they went to preache, and Paul after long preaching in Jurie & Greece came to Rome.

CHRIST IESVS our Lord was borne the 42. yeere of the Empire of Augustus, in the 30. yeere of Herode the king, on the Sunday at night, and in the 15. yeere of Tiberius, Christ was 30. yeres of age.

Christes birth.

1. Octauianus or Augustus. 57.

Christes childhood.

Christes suffering.

Christes rising.

K. Tiberius Cæsar. 23.

Here at the Natiuitie of Christ endeth the fift age, in the xlii. yeere of Octauian the Emperour, and it conteyneth yeeres fiue hundreth foure score & sixe, whereunto if you ioyne the yeeres from Adam to Christes birth, they amount to v. thousand one hundred ninetie and nine yeeres, & so beginneth the sixt age, which shall continue to the day of iudgement.

H. Pontius Pilate was made Procurator of Jurie by Tiberius Cesar, who comming to Jerusalem would haue the image of Iulius Cesar to be set in the Temple: in the 17. yeere of his rule he pronounced false sentence against Christ, he would haue brought into the Temple the images of the Gentiles, contrary to the lawe of the Jewes, and the money receiued into Corbonam, that is, of the Arke wherein was put the offrings of the Priestes to the repairing of the Temple, and also of the Treasure house, wherein was put the oblations of all passengers: he turned to his owne vse, and therefore Tiberius exiled him to Lions his owne countrey, where he dyed to his shame. Iohn 19.

I. Octauianus or Augustus Cesar after hee came to the Empire, founde pacified the whole worlde, and therefore hee desired to knowe what regions, what cities, what castles, what villages, what men were vnder his Empire, for hee had the rule of the whole worlde, and this description was first made of Cirinus the lieutenant of Syria, and then was Christ borne. And hauing desire to builde a notable pallace, he would knowe howe long it should continue, and had answere from Sybilla that it shoulde endure so long till a virgine shoulde bring forth a childe, whereupon he called it eternum, that is, euerlasting: But Christ being borne of a virgine, the pallace fell downe, whereupon he builded an altar to God borne of the virgine, and called it the altar of heauen, hee reigned 13. yeeres after Christes birth, and in the 41. yeere of his rule, he numbred the people in Rome, and there were found nynetie times three hundred thousand, and 80. thousand, and fiue hundreth men. Luke 2.1.

K. Tiberius was the sonne of Augustus and of Iulia his wife, he had two Nephues, one of his sonne called Tibur, and another of his brother called Gaius, hee would haue substituted after him the sonne of his sonne whom hee loued better, but Herode Agrippa loued better Gaius, and wished him to be Emperour, for which wishe hee put Herode in prison. In the 15. yeere of his reigne Iohn Baptist began for to preache and to baptise, and in his 23. yeere Christ was crucified, and Tiberius dyed.

Of the Golden number.

The Golden number is so called, because it was written in the Kalender with letters of gold, right at that day whereon the Moone changed: and it is the space of 19. yeeres, in the which the Moone returneth to the selfe same day of the yeere of the Sunne: and therefore it is also called the Cycle of the Moone, in the which the Solstices and Equinoctials, do returne to all one point in the Zodiaque.

To finde it euery yeere, you must adde one yeere to the yeere of Christ (for Christ was borne one yeere of the 19. already past) then diuide the whole by 19. and that which resteth, is the Golden number for that yeere, if there be no surplusage, it is then 19.

The Epact.

Epactæ hemeræ in Greeke, doeth signifie in English dayes set betweene, and therefore the 11. dayes and 3. houres that are added to the yeere of the Moone, are called Epactæ, and are added to make the yeere of the Moone, which is but 354. dayes, iust with the yeere of the Sunne, which hath 365. dayes and a quarter.

To finde out the Epact of eche yeere, do thus. To the Epact of the yeere that last went before that yere for which you would finde the Epact, adde 11. and the summe of these two make the Epact. If it surmount 30. then take 30. out, and that which resteth aboue 30. is the Epact you desire.

The vse of the Epact.

To knowe howe olde the Moone is at any time for euer by the Epact, do thus: Adde vnto the dayes of your moneth wherein you would knowe this, the Epact, and as many dayes moe, as are moneths from March to that moneth, including both moneths, out of the which substract 30. as often as you may, the age remaineth: if nothing remaine, the Moone changeth that day.

For the more ease of the Reader, we haue placed here ouer an Almanacke, inclusiuely comprehending, not onely howe to finde the Epact for the space of 32. yeeres to come, but also the Golden number afore specified, together with the Dominicall letter, Leape yeere, and 7. other moueable feastes, or dayes in the yeere, during the same time, as may appeare.

Note that the Golden number and Dominicall letter doeth change euery yeere the first day of March for euer: Note also, that the yeere of our Lorde begynneth the xxv. day of March, the same day supposed to be the first day vpon which the worlde was created, and the day when Christ was conceaued in the wombe of the virgine Marie.

Ianuarie hath xxxj. dayes.

The

THE SVMME OF THE whole Scripture of the bookes of the olde and newe Testament.

God,

THe bookes of the olde Testament, do teach vs that the same God, whom Adam, Noe, Abraham, Isahac, Iacob, Dauid, and the other fathers did worship, is * the only true God, and that he the same is almightie and [a] euerlasting: Who of his meere goodnesse hath created by his word [b] heauen and earth, and all that is in them: From whom all things doe come: without whom there is nothing at all: And that he is [c] iust and mercifull: Who also [d] worketh all in al, * after his owne will: [e] To whom it is not lawfull to say, wherefore he doeth thus or thus.

Creation of man.

MOreouer, these bookes teach vs, that this very God almightie, after he created all things, shope also Adam the first man, [f] to the image and spirituall similitude of himselfe, and that he did constitute him lord ouer all things that he had created in earth. Which Adam, by the enuie and fraude of the deuill, transgressing the precept of his creator, [h] by this his sinne brought in such and so great sinne into the worlde, that we which be sprong from him by the flesh, [i] be in nature the children of wrath, and thereupon we be made subiect and thrall to death, to damnation, to the yoke, and tyrannie of the deuill.

Christ promised.

FVrthermore, we are taught by these excellent bookes, that God promised to [k] Adam, [l] Abraham, [m] Isahac, [n] Iacob, [o] Dauid, and to other fathers of the old time, that he would send that blessed seede, his sonne Iesus Christ our sauiour, which should deliuer all those from sinne, and from the [p] tyrannie of the deuil, which by a liuely and working faith should beleeue this promise, and put their trust in Iesus Christ, hoping that of him and by him, they should obteine this deliuerance.

The Lawe.

ALso they giue vs to vnderstande, that in the meane season, while those fathers the Israelites looked for the saluation and deliuerance promised (for that the nature of man is such, so proude and so corrupt, that those would not willingly acknowledge themselues to be sinners, which had neede of the Sauiour promised) God the creator gaue by Moses his [q] lawe written in two tables of stone: that by it, sinne and the malice of mans heart being [r] knowen, men mought more vehemently thirst for the [s] comming of Iesus Christ, who should redeeme and deliuer them from sinne: Which thing, neither the lawe, nor yet the sacrifices and oblations of the lawe did [t] perfourme. For they were shadowes and figures of the true oblation of the bodie of Christ: by which oblation all [u] sinne should be blotted out, and quite put away.

Christ God our Sauiour came,

BY the bookes of the newe Testament we be taught, that Christ so afore promised (* which is God aboue all things most blessed for euer) euen he, I say, was shadowed in the bookes of the olde Testament, and in sacrifices figured, that hee was [a] sent at the last from the father, the selfe same time which the father dyd constitute within himselfe: I say, [b] at that time, when all wickednesse abounded in the worlde, then hee was sent: And this Iesus our Sauiour, being borne in the flesh, [c] suffered death, and rose againe from the dead. Which acts of his were not done by him in respect of the [d] good workes of any man (for we were all sinners) but that this God our father should [e] appeare true, in exhibiting the abundant [f] riches of his grace which he promised, and that [g] through his mercie he mought bring vs to saluation.

A lambe. A sacrifice, Peace, Adoption,

Whereupon it is euidently shewed in the [h] newe Testament, that Iesus Christ, being the true [i] lambe, the true [k] sacrifice of the worlde, [l] putting away the sinnes of men, came into this worlde to purchase grace and [m] peace for vs with the father, [n] washing vs from our sinnes in his owne blood, and [o] shoulde deliuer vs from the bondage of the deuill, whom by sinne we dyd serue: And so wee shoulde be [p] adopted by him to bee the sonnes of God, made [q] heires with him of that most excellent and euerlasting kingdome.

The holie Ghost. Faith.

Nowe, that we shoulde acknowledge this singular and excellent benefite of God towards vs, almightie God [r] giueth vs his holy spirite: the [s] fruite and effect of the which is fayth in God, and in his Christ. For, without the holy ghost, by which we are instructed and [t] sealed, neither can we beleeue that God the father sent Messias, nor yet that Iesus is Christ: For [u] no man (sayeth Paul) can say that Iesus is the Lorde, but by the holy ghost. The [x] same spirit witnesseth to our spirit, that we are the children of God, [y] and poureth into our bowels that charitie which Paul describeth to the Corinthians. Furthermore, that holy spirit doth giue vs hope, which is a sure looking for eternall life, whereof he him selfe is the certaine [z] token and pledge. Also he giueth vs other * spirituall giftes, of the which Paul writeth to the Galatians. Therefore the benefite of faith is not yet to be despised, or litle to be set by. For by the meanes of this trust and [a] fayth in Christ, which [b] worketh by charitie, and sheweth it selfe forth by the workes of charitie, mouing man thereto, we are [c] iustified and sanctified: that is to say, God and the father of our Lord Iesus Christ (which is made our [d] father also by him, being our [e] bother) doth account vs to be iust and holy through his grace, and through the merite of his sonne Iesus Christ, not [f] imputing our sinnes to vs, so farre forth, that we should suffer the paynes of hell for them.

Iustification and sanctification,

Good workes,

Finally, Christ him selfe [g] came into the worlde, to the intent that wee through him being sanctified and clensed from our sinnes, following his will in good workes, shoulde deny the things perteining to the flesh, and freely [h] serue him in righteousnesse and holinesse all the dayes of our life: and that [i] by good woorkes (which God hath prepared for vs to walke in) we shoulde [k] shewe our selues to be called to his grace and gift of faith: which good workes who so hath not, [l] doeth shewe himselfe not to haue such a faith in Christ as is required in vs.

The first booke of Moses, called *Genesis.

* This worde signifieth the beginning and generation of the creatures,

The Argvment.

Moses in effect declareth three things, which are in this booke chiefely to be considered: First, that the world and all things therein were created by God, and that man being placed in this great tabernacle of the world to beholde Gods wonderful workes, & to prayse his Name for the infinite graces, wherewith he had indued him, fell willingly from God through disobedience: who yet for his owne mercies sake restored him to life, and confirmed him in the same by his promise of Christ to come, by whome he should ouercome Satan, death and hell. Secondly, that the wicked, vnmindefull of Gods most excellent benefites, remained still in their wickednes, and so falling most horribly from sinne to sinne, prouoked God (who by his preachers called them continually to repentance) at length to destroy the whole world. Thirdly, he assureth vs by the examples of Abraham, Izhak, Iaakob, and the rest of the Patriarches, that his mercies neuer fayle them, whome he chuseth to be his Church, & to professe his Name in earth, but in all their afflictions and persecutions he euer assisteth them, sendeth comfort, and deliuereth them. And because the beginning, increase, preseruation and successe thereof might be only attributed to God, Moses sheweth by the examples of Kain, Ishmael, Esau and others, which were noble in mans iudgement, that this Church dependeth not on the estimation and nobilitie of the world: and also by the fewnes of them, which haue at all times worshipped him purely according to his worde, that it standeth not in the multitude, but in the poore and despised, in the small flocke and litle number, that man in his wisdome might be confounded, and the Name of God euermore praysed.

CHAP. I.

1 God created the heauen and the earth, 3 The light and the darkenesse, 8 The firmament. 9 He separateth the water from the earth. 16 He createth the sunne, the moone, and the starres. 21 He createth the fish, birds, beastes. 26 He createth man and giueth him rule ouer all creatures, 29 And prouideth nourriture for man and beast.

IN the [a]beginning* God created the heauen and the earth.

2 And the earth was [b]‖without forme and voyde, and [c]darkenesse was vpon the ‡deepe, and the Spirit of God [d]moued vpon the ‡waters.

3 Then God sayde, *Let there be light: And there was light.

4 And God sawe the light that it was good, and God separated ‡the light from the darkenes.

5 And God called the light, Day, and the darknes, he called Night. ‡ So the euening & the morning were þ first day.

6 ¶ Againe God sayde, *Let there be a ‖firmament in the middes of the waters: and let it separate the waters from the waters.

7 Then God made the firmament, and separated the waters, which were [f]vnder the firmament, from the waters which were *aboue the firmament. and it was so.

8 And God called the firmament, [g]Heauen. ‡ So the euening and the morning were the second day.

9 ¶ God sayde againe, *Let the waters vnder the heauen be gathered into one place, and let the drie land appeare. and it was so.

10 And God called þ drie land, Earth, and he called the gathering together of the waters, Seas: and God sawe that it was good.

11 Then God said, [h]Let the earth bud forth the bud of the herbe, that seedeth seede, the fruitfull tree, which beareth fruite according to his kind, which hath his seede in it selfe vpon the earth. and it was so.

12 And the earth brought forth the bud of the herbe, that seedeth seede according to his kinde, also þ tree that beareth fruit, which hath his seede in it selfe according to his kinde: and God [i]sawe that it was good.

13 ‡ So the euening and the morning were the third day.

14 ¶ And God saide, *Let there be [k]lights in the firmament of the heauen, to ‡separate the day from the night, and let them be for [m]signes, and for seasons, and for dayes and yeeres.

15 And let them be for lightes in the firmament of the heauen to giue light vpon the earth. and it was so.

16 God then made two [n]great lights: the greater light ° to rule the day, and the lesse light to rule þ night: he [made] also the starres.

17 And God set them in þ firmament of the heauen, to shine vpon the earth,

18 And to *rule in the day, and in the night, and to separate the light from the ¶ Because mention is made in the tenth verse of this Chapter, of the riuer that watered the Garden, we muſt note that Euphrates and Tygris, called in Hebrew, Perath & Hiddekel, were ſpringes and two where they fell into the Perſian ſea. In this countrey and moſt plentifull land Adam dwelt, and this was call. Paradiſe: that is, a Garden of pleaſure, becauſe of the fruitfulnes and abundance thereof. And whereas it is ſaid that Pithon compaſſeth the land of Havilah, it is ment of Tygris, which in ſome countreis, as it paſſed by diuers places, was called by ſundry names, as ſometime Diglitto, in other places Pottygris, and of ſome Phaſin or Pathon. Likewyſe Euphrates toward the countrey of Cuſh or Ethiopia, or Arabia was called Gihon. So that Tygris and Euphrates (which were but two riuers) and ſometime when they ioyned together, were called after one name, were according to diuers places called by theſe foure names, ſo that they might ſeeme to haue bene foure diuers riuers.

5 So all the dayes that Adam liued, were nine hundreth and thirtie yeeres: and he died.

6 And d Sheth liued an hundreth and fiue yeres, and begate Enoſh.

7 And Sheth liued, after hee begate Enoſh, eight hundreth and ſeuen yeres, and begate ſonnes and daughters.

8 So all þ daies of Sheth were nine hundreth & twelue yeres: and he died.

9 ¶ Alſo Enoſh liued ninetie yeeres and begate Kenan.

10 And Enoſh liued, after he begate Kenan, eight hundreth & fifteene yeres, and begate ſonnes and daughters.

11 So all þ dayes of Enoſh were nine hundreth and fiue yeres: and he died.

12 ¶ Likewiſe Kenan liued ſeuentie yeres, and begate Mahalaleel.

13 And Kenan liued, after he begate Mahalaleel, eight hundreth and fourtie yeres, and begate ſonnes & daughters.

14 So all the dayes of Kenan were nine hundreth & ten yeres: and he died.

15 ¶ Mahalaleel alſo liued ſixtie and fiue yeres, and begate Jered.

16 Alſo Mahalaleel liued, after he begate Jered, eight hundreth and thirtie yeres, & begate ſonnes and daughters.

17 So all the dayes of Mahalaleel were eight hundreth ninetie and fiue yeres: and he died.

18 ¶ And Jered liued an hundreth ſixtie and two yeres, & begate Henoch.

19 Then Jered liued, after he begate Henoch, eight hundreth yeres, and begate ſonnes and daughters.

20 So all þ dayes of Jered were nine hundreth ſixtie and two yeres: & he died.

21 ¶ Alſo Henoch liued ſixtie and fiue yeres, and begate Methuſhelah. Eccleus.44.16. hebre.11.5.

22 And Henoch f walked with God, after hee begate Methuſhelah, three hundreth yeres, and begate ſonnes and daughters.

23 So all the dayes of Henoch were three hundreth ſixtie and fiue yeres.

24 And Henoch walked with God, and hee was no more [ſeene:] for g God tooke him away.

25 Methuſhelah alſo liued an hundreth eightie & ſeuen yeres, & begate Lamech.

f That is, he led an vpright and godly life.
g To ſhewe that there was a better life prepared, and to be a reſtitution of the immortalitie of ſoules and bodies. As to inquire where he became, is curioſitie.

27 So all the dayes of Methuselah were nine hundreth sixtie & nine yeres: and he died.

28 ¶ Then Lamech lived an hundreth eightie and two yeres, and begate a sonne, 29 And called his name Noah, saying, This same shal [h] comfort vs concerning our worke & sorow of our handes, as touching the earth, which the Lord hath cursed.

30 And Lamech lived, after he begate Noah, five hundreth ninetie & five yeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

31 So all the dayes of Lamech were seven hundreth seventie & seven yeres: and he died.

32 And Noah was five hundreth yere olde. And Noah begate Shem, Ham and Japheth.

6 Then it [g] repented the Lord, that he had made man in the earth, and he was sorie in his heart.

17 And I, beholde, I will bring a flood of waters vpon the earth to destroy all flesh, wherein is the breath of life vnder the heauen: all that is in the earth shall perish.

18 But with thee will I [m] establish my couenant, and thou shalt go into the Arke, thou, and thy sonnes, & thy wife, and thy sonnes wiues with thee.

19 And of euery liuing thing, of all flesh two of euery sort shalt thou cause to come into the Arke, to keepe [them] alive with thee: they shall be male and female.

CHAP. X.

1 The increase of mankinde by Noah and his sonnes. 10 The beginning of cities, countreys and nations.

a These generations are here recited, partly to declare the marueilous increase in so small a time, and also to set forth their great forgetfulnes of Gods graces toward their fathers.

NOwe these are the a generations of the sonnes of Noah, Shem, Ham and Japheth: vnto whome sonnes were borne after the flood.

2 The sonnes of Japheth [were] Gomer and Magog, and b Madai, and Iauan, and Tubal, & Meshech, & Tiras.

b Of Madai, and Iauan came the Medes & Grecians.

3 And the sonnes of Gomer, Ashkenaz, and Riphath, and Togarmah.

4 Also the sonnes of Iauan, Elishah and Tarshish, Kittim, and Dodanim.

c The Iewes so call all countreys which are separated from them by sea, as Grecia, Italie, &c. which were giuen to the children of Japheth of whom came the Gentiles.

5 Of these were the c yles of the Gentiles deuided in their lands, euery man after his tongue, [and] after their families in their nations.

6 ¶ Moreouer the sonnes of Ham [were] d Cush, and Mizraim, and Put, and Canaan.

d Of Cush & Mizraim came the Ethiopians and Egyptians.

7 And the sonnes of Cush, Seba and Hauilah, and Sabtah, & Raamah, and Sabtecha: also the sonnes of Raamah [were] Sheba and Dedan.

8 And Cush begate Nimrod, who began to be e mightie in the earth.

e Meaning a cruell oppressor and tyrant.

9 He was a mightie hunter before the Lorde. Wherefore it is sayd, f As Nimrod the mightie hunter before the Lord.

f His tyrannie came into a prouerbe as hated both of God and man: so he passed not to commit cruelties euen in Gods presence.

10 And ᵖ beginning of his kingdome was Babel, and Erech, and Accad, and Calneh, in the land g of Shinar.

g For there was another citie in Egypt called also Babel.

11 Out of that land came Asshur, and builded Nineueh, and the ‖ citie Rehoboth, and Calah:

12 Resen also betweene Nineueh and Calah: this is a great citie.

13 And Mizraim begat h Ludim, and Anamim, & Lehabim, & Naphtuhim.

h Of Lud came the Lydians.

14 Pathrusim also, and Casluhim (out of whom came the Philistims) and ‖ Caphtorims.

‖ Or, the Cappadocians.

15 ¶ Also Canaan begate Zidon his first borne, and Heth,

16 And Iebusi, & Emori, & Girgashi,

17 And Hiui, and Arki, and Sini,

18 And Aruadi, and Zemari, & Hamathi: and afterwarde were the families of the Canaanites spred abroad.

19 Then the border of ᵖ Canaanites was from Zidon, as thou commest to Gerar vntil Azzah, & as thou goest vnto Sodom, and Gomorah, & Admah, and Zeboiim, euen vnto Lasha.

20 These are the sonnes of Ham according to their families, according to their tongues in their countreys [and] in their nations.

21 ¶ Unto i Shem also the father of all the sonnes of k Eber, & elder brother of Japheth were children borne.

22 *The sonnes of Shem [were] Elam and Asshur, and Arpachshad, and Lud, and Aram.

23 And the sonnes of Aram, Uz and Hul, and Gether, and Mash.

24 Also Arpachshad begate Shelah, and Shelah begate Eber.

25 Unto Eber also were borne two sonnes: the name of ỹ one [was] Peleg: for in his dayes was the earth l divided: and his brothers name [was] Joktan.

26 Then Joktan begat Almodad and Sheleph, and Hazarmaueth, & Jerah, 27 And Hadoram, & Uzal, & Dicklah,

28 And Obal, & Abimael, & Sheba,

29 And Ophir, & Haulah, & Jobab: all these [were] the sonnes of Joktan.

30 And their dwelling was from Mesha, as thou goest vnto Sephar a mount of the East.

NOw the whole earth was of one *language & one speache.

3 And they said one to another, Come let vs make bricke, and burne it in the fire. So they had bricke for stone, and slyme had they in steade of mortar.

4 Also they said, Go to, let vs e builde vs a citie and a tower, whose top [may reache] vnto the heauen, that we may get vs a name, lest we be scattered vpon the whole earth.

5 But the Lorde f came downe, to see the citie and tower, which the sonnes of men builded.

6 And the Lord said, g Beholde, the people [is] one, & they all haue one language, and this they begin to do, neither can they now be stopped from whatsoeuer they haue imagined to do.

7 Come on, h let vs goe downe, and i there confounde their language, that euery one perceiue not anothers speach.

8 So the Lord scattered them from thence vpon all the earth, and they left of to build the citie.

9 Therefore the name of it was called ‖ Babel, because the Lorde did there confound the language of all the earth: from thence then did the Lorde scatter them vpon all the earth.

10 ¶ *These are the generations k of Shem: Shem [was] an hundreth yere olde, and begate Arpachshad two yere after the flood.

11 And Shem liued, after he begate Arpachshad, fiue hundreth yeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

12 Also Arpachshad liued fiue & thirtie yeres, and begate Shelah.

13 And Arpachshad liued, after he begate Shelah, foure hundreth and three yeres, and begate sonnes & daughters.

14 And Shelah liued thirtie yeeres, and begate Eber.

15 So Shelah liued, after hee begate Eber, foure hundreth and three yeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

16 Likewyse Eber liued foure & thirtie yeres, and begate Peleg.

17 So Eber liued, after he begat Peleg, foure hundreth & thirtie yeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

18 And Peleg liued thirtie yeres, and begate Reu.

19 *And Peleg liued, after he begate Reu, two hundreth and nine yeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

20 Also Reu liued two and thirtie yeres, and begate Serug.

21 So Reu liued, after he begat Serug, two hundreth and seuen yeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

22 Moreouer Serug liued thirtie yeres, and begate Nahor.

23 And Serug liued, after he begate Nahor, two hundreth yeres, & begate sonnes and daughters.

24 And Nahor liued nine and twentie yeres, and begate Terah.

25 So Nahor liued, after he begate Terah, an hundreth & nineteene yeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

26 *So Terah liued seuentie yeres, and begate Abram, Nahor, and Haran.

27 ¶ Now

He maketh mention first of Abram, not because he was first borne, but for the dignitie, which properly appertained unto him. 28 Then Haran died before Terah his father in the land of his nativitie, in Ur of the Caldees.

29 So Abram & Nahor tooke them wives, the name of Abrams wife [was] Sarai, and the name of Nahors wife Milcah, the daughter of Haran, the father of Milcah, & the father of m Jscah.

30 But Sarai was barren, [and] had no childe.

31 Then n Terah tooke Abram his sonne, and Lot the sonne of Haran, his sonnes sonne, & Sarai his daughter in law, his sonne Abrams wife: & they departed together from Ur of the Caldees, to go into the land of Canaan, and they came to o Haran, and dwelt there.

g It was not ynough for him to worship God in his heart, but it was expedient to declare by outward profession his fayth before men, wherof this altar was a signe.

NOw the Lord had sayde vnto Abram, a Get thee out of thy countrey, & from thy kindred, and from thy fathers house vnto b the land that I will shewe thee.

2 And I will make of thee a great nation, and will blesse thee, & make thy name great, & thou shalt be c a blessing.

3 I wil also blesse them that blesse thee, and curse them that curse thee, & in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed.

4 So Abram departed, euen as the Lord spake vnto him, & Lot went with him. (And Abram was seuentie and fiue yere old, whē he departed out of Haran)

5 Then Abram tooke Sarai his wife, and Lot his brothers sonne, and al their substance that they possessed, and the d soules that they had gotten in Haran, and they departed, to go to the land of Canaan: & to the land of Canaan they came.

6 ¶ So Abram e passed through the land vnto the place of Shechem, & vnto the ‖ plaine of Moreh (and the f Canaanite [was] then in the land)

7 And the Lord appeared vnto Abram, and said, Vnto thy seede will I giue this land. And there builded he an g altar vnto the Lord, which appeared vnto him.

8 Afterward remouing h thence vnto a mountaine eastwarde from Beth-el, he pitched his tent hauing Beth-el on the Westside, and Haai on the East: & there he built an i altar vnto the Lord, & called on the Name of the Lord.

9 k Againe Abram went forth going and iourneying toward the South.

10 ¶ Then there came a l famine in the land: therefore Abram went downe into Egypt, to soiourne there: for there was a great famine in the land.

11 And when he drewe neere to enter into Egypt, he sayde to Sarai his wife, Beholde nowe, I know that thou art a faire woman to looke vpon:

12 Therefore it will come to passe, that when the Egyptians see thee, they will say, She is his wife: to will they kil me, but they will keepe thee alue.

13 Say, I pray thee, that thou art my m sister, that I may fare wel for thy sake, & that my life may be preserued by thee.

14 ¶ Nowe when Abram was come into Egypt, the Egyptians beheld the woman: for she was very faire.

15 And the Princes of Pharaoh sawe her, & commended her vnto Pharaoh: so the woman was n taken into Pharaohs house:

16 Who intreated Abram well for her sake, and he had sheepe, and beeues, and asses, and men seruants and mayde seruants, and chee asses, and camelles.

17 But the Lord o plagued Pharaoh and his house with great plagues, because of Sarai Abrams wife.

18 Then Pharaoh called Abram, and saide, Why hast thou done this vnto me? wherefore diddest thou not tell me, that she was thy wife?

19 Why saidest thou, She is my sister, that I shoulde take her to be my wife? Nowe therefore beholde thy wife, take [her] and goe thy way.

20 And Pharaoh gaue men p commandement concerning him: and they conueyed him forth, and his wife, and all that he had.

h Because of the troubles that he had among that wicked people.

k Thus the children of God may looke for no rest in this worlde, but must waite for the heauenly rest and quietnes.

m By this we may learne not to vse vnlawfull meanes, nor to put others in daunger to saue our selues, reade verse twentie: albeit it may appeare that Abram feared not so much death, as that, if he should die without yssue, Gods promise should not haue taken place: wherin appeered a weake faith.

7 Also there was debate betweene the heardmen of Abrams cattell, and the heardmen of Lots cattell. (and the [d] Canaanites and the Perizzites dwelled at that time in the land.)

9 Is not the whole land before thee? depart I pray thee from me: if thou wilt [f] take the left hand, then I will go to the right: or if thou goe to the right hand, then I will take the left.

16 And I will make thy seede as the dust of ỹ earth: so that if a man can number the dust of the earth, then shall thy seede be numbred.

17 Arise, walke throughout the land, in the length thereof, and breadth thereof: for I will giue it vnto thee.

18 Then Abram remoued his tent, and came and dwelled in the plaine of Mamre, which is in Hebron, and builded there an altar vnto the Lord.

27 Then Abraham answered ‡ said, Beholde nowe, I haue begun to speake vnto my Lorde, and I am n but dust and ashes.

n Hereby we learne, that the nearer we approche vnto God, the more doth our miserable estate appeare, and the more are we humbled.

28 If there shall lacke fiue of fiftie righteous, wilt thou destroy all the citie for fiue? And he sayde, If I finde there fiue and fourtie, I will not destroy it.

29 And he yet spake to him againe, and sayde, What if there shall be found fourtie there? Then he answered, I will not doe it for fourties sake.

30 Againe he sayd, Let not my Lord nowe be angrie that I speake, what if thirtie be found there? Then he sayd, I will not doe it, if I finde thirtie there.

31 Moreouer he said, Behold, now I haue begunne to speake vnto my Lord, what if twentie be found there? And he answered, I will not destroy it for twenties sake.

o If God refused not the prayer for the wicked Sodomites, euen to the first request, howe much more will he grant the prayers of the godly for the afflicted Church.

32 Then he sayd, Let not my Lorde be nowe angrie, and I will speake but this o once, What if ten be found there? And he answered, I will not destroy it for tennes sake.

33 ¶ And the Lorde went his way when he had left communing with Abraham, and Abraham returned vnto his place.

CHAP. XIX.

3 Lot receiueth two Angels into his house. 4 The filthie lustes of the Sodomites. 16 Lot is deliuered. 24 Sodom is destroyed. 26 Lots wife is made a pillar of salte. 33 Lots daughters lie with their father, of whome come Moab and Ammon.

AND in ‡ euening there came two p Angels to Sodom: and Lot sate at the gate of Sodom, ‡ Lot sawe them, [and] rose vp to meete them, ‡ he bowed himselfe with his face to the ground.

p Wherin we see Gods prouident care in preserving his: albeit he reueileth not him selfe to all alike: for Lot had but two Angels & Abrahã three. Chap.18.4.

2 And he sayd, See my lords, I pray you turne in nowe into your seruants house, and tarie all night, ‡ * wash your feete, and ye shall rise vp early and goe your wayes. Who said, Nay, but we will abide in the streete all night.

3 Then q he prealled vpon them earnestly, and they turned in to him, ‡ came to his house, and he made them a feast, and did bake vnleauened bread, ‡ they did eate.

q That is, he prayed them so instantly.

4 But before they went to bed, the men of the citie, [euen] the men of Sodom compassed the house round about from the yong euen to the olde, r all the people from [all] quarters.

r Nothing is more dangerous, then to dwell where sinne reigneth: for it corrupteth all.

this night: bring them out vnto vs that we may know them.

6 Then Lot went out at the doore vnto them, and shut the doore after him,

7 And said, I pray you, my brethren, do not [so] wickedly.

c Hee deserueth praise in defending his ghestes, but he is to be blamed in seeking vnlawful meanes.

8 Behold now, I haue two c daughters, which haue not knowē man: them will I bring out now vnto you, and do to them as seemeth you good: onely vnto these men do nothing: for therefore are they come vnder ỹ shadow of my roofe.

d That I should preserue them from all iniurie.

9 Then they said, Away hence. and they said, He is come alone as a stranger, and shall he iudge and rule? We will now deale worse with thee then with them. So they preassed sore vpon Lot* himselfe, and came to breake the doore.

f This pyaueth that the Angels are ministers, as well to execute Gods wrath, as to declare his fauour. Chap.18.20.

13 For we f will destroy this place, because the * cry of them is great before the Lorde, and the Lorde hath sent vs to destroye it.

14 Then Lot went out and spake vnto his sonnes in law, which ‖maried his daughters, and saide, Arise, get you out of this place: for the Lord will destroy the citie: but hee seemed to his sonnes in lawe as though he had mocked.

17 ¶ And when they had brought them out, [the Angel] saide: Escape for thy life: i looke not behinde thee, neither tarie thou in all the plaine: escape into the mountaine, least thou be destroyed.

i He willed him to flee frō Gods iudgements, and not to be lothe to depart from that rich countrey and full of daine pleasures, 18 And Lot saide vnto them, Not so, I pray thee, my Lord.

19 Behold nowe, thy seruant hath founde grace in thy sight, and thou hast magnified thy mercie, which thou hast shewed vnto me in sauing my life: and I can not escape in ỹ mountaine, lest [some] euil take me, and I dye.

20 See nowe this citie hereby to flye vnto, which is a little one: oh let me escape thither: is it not a k litle one, and my soule shall liue?

k Though it be little, yet it is great ynough to saue my life: wherein he offendeth in choosing another place then the Angel had appointed him.

m Because Gods commandement was to destroy the citie and to saue Lot.

24 Then the Lord* rained vpon Sodom and vpon Gomorah brimstone, and fire from the Lord out of heauen, 25 And ouerthrew those cities and all the plaine, and all the inhabitants of the cities, & that that grewe vpon the earth.

26 ¶ Now his wife behinde him looked back, and she became a n pillar of salt.

27 ¶ And Abraham rising vp early in the morning [went] to ỹ place, where he had stand before the Lord, 28 And looking toward Sodom and Gomorah and toward all the land of the plaine, beholde, he sawe the smoke of the lande mounting vp as the smoke of a fornace.

o As touching the body onely: and this was a notable monument of Gods vengeance to all them that passed that way.

29 ¶ But yet when God destroyed the cities of the plaine, God thought vpon Abraham, and sent Lot out from the mids of the destruction, when hee ouerthrew the cities, wherein Lot dwelled.

30 ¶ Then Lot went vp from Zoar, and dwelt in the mountaine with his two daughters: for he o feared to tarie in Zoar, but dwelt in a caue, her, and his two daughters.

o Hauing before felt Gods mercy, he durst not prouoke him againe by continuing among the wicked.

31 And the elder saide vnto the ponger, Our father is olde, and there is not a man in the p earth to come in vnto vs after the maner of all the earth.

32 Come, we will make our father q drinke wine, and lye with him, that we may preserue seede of our father.

q For except he had bene ouercome with wine he would neuer haue done that abominable act.

33 So they made their father drinke wine that night, and the elder went and laye with her father: but hee perceiued not, neither when she lay downe, neyther when she rose vp.

CHAP. XX.

1 Abraham dwelleth as a ſtranger in the land of Gerar. 2 Abimelech taketh away his wife. 3 God reproueth the King. 9 And the King, Abraham. 11 Sarah is reſtored with great gifts. 17 Abraham prayeth, and the King & his are healed.

AFterward Abraham departed thēce toward the South country & dwelled betweene Cadesh and a Shur, and ſoiourned in Gerar.

2 And Abraham ſaide of Sarah his wife, b She is my ſiſter. Then Abimelech king of Gerar ſent & tooke Sarah.

3 But God came to Abimelech in a dreame by night, and ſaide to him, Behold, c thou art but dead, becauſe of the woman, which thou haſt taken: for ſhe is a mans wife.

4 (Notwithſtanding Abimelech had not yet come neere her) And hee ſayde, Lord, Wilt thou ſlaye euen d the righteous nation?

5 Saide not hee vnto me, She is my ſiſter? yea and the her ſelfe ſaid, He is my brother: With an vpright e minde, and f innocent handes haue I done this.

6 And God ſaid vnto him by a dreame, I knowe that thou diddeſt this euen With an vpright minde, and I g kept thee alſo that thou ſhouldeſt not ſinne againſt me: therefore ſuffered I thee not to touche her.

7 Nowe then deliuer h man his wife againe: for he is a h Prophet, and he ſhal pray for thee that thou mayeſt liue: but if thou deliuer her not againe, be ſure that thou ſhalt die the death, thou, and all that thou haſt.

8 Then Abimelech riſing vp early in the morning called all his ſeruants, and tolde all theſe things † vnto them, and the men were ſore afraide.

9 Afterward Abimelech called Abraham, and ſaid vnto him, What haſt thou done vnto vs? and What haue I offended thee, that thou haſt brought on me and on my k kingdom [this] great ſinne? thou haſt done thinges vnto mee that ought not to be done.

10 So Abimelech ſayde vnto Abraham, what ſawest thou that thou haſt done this thing?

11 Then Abrahā anſwered, Becauſe I thought [thus,] Surely the l feare of God [is] not in this place, and they will ſlay me for my Wiues ſake.

12 Yet in very deede ſhe is my m ſiſter: for ſhe is the daughter of my father, but not the daughter of my mother, and ſhe is my wife.

13 Now Whē God cauſed me to wander out of my fathers houſe, I ſaid then to her, This is the kindneſſe that ỹ ſhalt ſhewe vnto me in all places where We come, * Say ỹ of me, He is my brother.

14 Then tooke Abimelech sheep and beeues, and men ſeruants, and women ſeruants, & gaue them vnto Abraham, and reſtored him Sarah his wife.

15 And Abimelech ſaid, Beholde, my lande [is] ‖ before thee: dwell Where it pleaſeth thee.

16 Likewiſe to Sarah he ſaide, Behold, I haue giuē thy brother a thouſād pieces of ſiluer: beholde, he is the n vaile of thine eyes to al ỹ are With thee, and to all [others:] & ſhe was o thus reproued.

17 ¶ Then Abraham prayed vnto God, and God healed Abimelech, & his wife, and his women ſeruants: and they bare children.

18 For the Lorde p had ſhut vp euery wombe of the houſe of Abimelech, becauſe of Sarah Abrahams wife.

5 So Abraham was an hundreth yeere olde, when his sonne Izhak was borne vnto him.

6 Then Sarah sayde, God hath made me to reioyce: all that heare will reioyce with me.

b She acknowledgeth her selfe of ingratitude that she did not beleeue the Angel.

7 Againe she said, b who would haue saide to Abraham, that Sarah should haue giuen children sucke? for I haue borne him a sonne in his olde age.

8 Then the childe grew & was weaned: and Abraham made a great feast the same day that Izhak was weaned.

c Her derided Gods promes made vnto Izhak which the Apostle calleth persecution, Gal.4.29. Gal.4.30.

9 And Sarah saw the sonne of Hagar the Egyptian (which she had borne vnto Abraham) c mocking.

10 Wherefore she said vnto Abraham, * Cast out this bonde woman and her sonne: for the sonne of this bond woman shal not be heire with my sonne Izhak.

11 And this thing was very grieuous in Abrahams sight, because of his sonne.

12 But God said vnto Abrahã, Let it not be grieuous in thy sight for ỹ childe, and for thy bond woman: in all that Sarah shall say vnto thee, heare her voyce: for in Izhak shall thy seede be d called.

d The promised seede shalbe counted from Izhak, and not from Ishmael, Rom.9.7. Heb.11.18.

13 As for the sonne of the bond woman, I will make him e a nation also, because he is thy seede.

e The Ishmaelites shall come of him.

14 So Abraham arose vp early in the morning, and tooke bread, & a bottell of water, and gaue it vnto Hagar, putting it on her shoulder & the childe [also,] and f sent her away: Who departing wandred in the wildernes of Beer-sheba.

f True faith renounceth all naturall affections to obey Gods commandement.

15 And when the water of the bottell was spent, she cast the childe vnder a certaine tree.

16 Then she went and sate her ouer against [him] a farre of about a bowe shoote: for she said, I will not see ỹ death of the childe. and she sate downe ouer against [him,] & lift vp her voyce & wept.

g For his promes sake made to Abraham, & not because the childe had discretion and iudgement to pray.

17 Then God g heard the voyce of the childe, & the Angel of God called to Hagar frõ heauē, & said vnto her, What ayleth thee, Hagar: feare not, for God hath heard the voyce of the child where he is.

h Except God open our eyes, we can neither see, nay vse the meanes which are before vs.

18 Arise, take vp the childe, and holde him in thine hande: for I will make of him a great people.

i As touching outwarde thinges God caused him to prosper.

19 And God h opened her eyes, and she saw a well of water. so she went and filled the bottell with water, and gaue the boy drinke.

20 So God was i with the childe and he greewe and dwelt in the wildernes, and was an ‖ archer.

21 And hee dwelt in the wildernes of Paran, & his mother tooke him a wife out of the land of Egypt.

22 And at that same time Abimelech & Phichol his chiefe captaine spake vnto Abraham, saying, God [is] with thee in all that thou doest.

23 Nowe therefore sweare vnto mee here by God, that thou wilt not ‡ hurt me, nor my children, nor my childens children: thou shalt deale with me, and with the countrey, where thou hast bene a stranger, according vnto the kindnes that I haue shewed thee.

‡ Ebr. deale falsely with me, or lie.

24 Then Abraha said, I wil k sweare.

k So the oth is a lawfull thing to take an othe in matters of importance, for to iustifie the truth and to assure others of our synceritie.

25 And Abraham rebuked Abimelech for a well of water, which Abimelechs seruãts had violently taken away.

l Wicked seruants doe many cuills vnknowen to their masters.

26 And Abimelech said, l I know not who hath done this thing: also thou tooldest me not, neither heard I [of it] but this day.

27 Then Abraham tooke sheepe, and beeues, and gaue them vnto Abimelech: and they two made a couenant.

28 And Abraham set seuen lambes of the flocke by themselues.

29 Then Abimelech sayd vnto Abraham, what meane these seuen lambes, which thou hast set by themselues?

30 And hee answered, Because thou shalt receiue of mine hand [these] seuen lambs, that it may be a witnes vnto me, that I haue digged this well.

[Or, well of the othe, or, of seuen, meaning lambes.

31 Wherefore the place is called ‖ Beersheba, because there they both sware.

m Thus we see that the godly, as touching outward things, may make peace with the wicked that know not the true God.

32 Thus made they a m couenãt at Beer-sheba: afterward Abimelech & Phichol his chiefe captaine rose vp, & turned againe vnto the land of the Philistims.

n That is, he worshipped God in all points of true religion.

33 And Abraham planted a groue in Beer-sheba, and n called there on the Name of ỹ Lord, the euerlasting God.

a Which signifieth ỹ feare of God, in the which place he was honoured, and Salomon afterward built the Temple.

b Herein stood the chiefest point of his temtation, seeing he was commanded to offer vp him in whom God had promised to bleste all the nations of the worlde.

3 Then Abraham rose vp early in the morning, and sadled his asse, and tooke two of his seruants with him, and Izhak his sonne, and cloue wood for the burnt offring, and rose vp and went to the place, which God had tolde him.

4 ¶ Then the third day Abraham lift vp his eyes, and saw the place afarre of,

5 And saide vnto his seruants, Abide you here with the asse: for I & the childe will go yonder and worship, and [c] come againe vnto you.

6 Then Abraham tooke the wood of the burnt offring, and layed it vpon Izhak his sonne, and hee tooke the fire in his hande, and the knife: and they went both together.

7 Then spake Izhak vnto Abraham his father, & said, My father. And he answered, Here am I, my sonne. And he said, Beholde the fire and the wood, but where is the lambe for the burnt offring?

8 Then Abraham answered, My sonne, God will [d] prouide him a lamb for a burnt offring: so they went both together.

9 And when they came to the place which God had shewed him, Abraham builded an altar there, and couched the wood, and [c] bound Izhak his sonne * and laid him on the altar vpon the wood.

10 And Abraham stretching forth his hand, tooke the knife to kill his sonne.

11 But the Angel of the Lorde called vnto him from heauē, saying, Abraham, Abrahā. And he answered, Here am I.

12 Then he said, Lay not thine hand vpon the childe, neither doe any thing vnto him: for now I [f] knowe that thou fearest God, seeing for my sake ‖ thou hast not spared thine [‡] onely sonne.

13 And Abraham lifting vp his eyes, looked: and behold, there was a ramme behinde [him] caught by the hornes in a bush. Then Abraham went and tooke the ram, and offered him vp for a burnt offring in the steade of his sonne.

14 And Abraham called the name of that place, ‖ Jehouah-ireh, as it is saide this day, In the mount will the Lorde [g] be seene.

16 And saide, * By [h] my selfe haue I swome (saith the Lorde) because thou hast done this thing, and hast not spared thine onely sonne, 17 Therefore will I surely blesse thee, & will greatly multiply thy seede, as the starres of the heauen, & as the sande which is vpon the sea shore, and thy seed shall possesse the ‖ gate of his enemies.

18 * And in thy seede shall all the nations of the earth be blessed, because thou hast obeyed my voyce.

19 Then turned Abraham againe vnto his seruants, and they rose vp & went together to Beer-sheba: and Abraham dwelt at Beer-sheba.

20 ¶ And after these things one tolde Abraham, saying, Beholde Milcah, she hath also borne children vnto thy brother Nahor:

15 My lord, hearken vnto me: the land [is worth] foure hundreth e shekels of siluer: what [is] that betweene me and thee? burie therefore thy dead.

16 So Abraham hearkened vnto Ephron, and Abraham weyed to Ephron the siluer, which he had named in the audience of the Hittites, [euen] foure hundreth siluer shekels of currant money among marchants.

17 ¶ So the fielde of Ephron [which was] in Machpelah, and ouer against Mamre, [euen] the fielde and the caue that was therein, and all the trees that were in the fielde, which were in all the borders round about, was made sure 19 And after this, Abraham buryed Sarah his wife in the caue of the field of Machpelah ouer against Mamre: the same is Hebron in the land of Canaan.

CHAP. XXIIII.

2 Abraham causeth his seruant to sweare to take a wife for Izhak in his owne kinred. 12 The seruant prayeth to God. 33 His diligence toward his master. 50 The friendes of Rebekah commit the matter to God. 58 They aske her consent and she agreeth. 67 And is maried to Izhak.

NOw Abrahā was old, [and] ‡ striken in yeeres, and the Lorde had blessed Abraham in all things.

‡ Ebr. come into dayes.

2 Therefore Abraham said vnto his eldest seruant of his house, which had the rule ouer all that he had, *a Put now thine hand vnder my thigh,

3 And I will make thee b sweare by the Lorde God of the heauen, and God of the earth, that thou shalt not take a wife vnto my sonne of the daughters of the Canaanites among whom I dwell.

4 But thou shalt go vnto my c countrey, and to my kinred, and take a wife vnto my sonne Izhak.

5 And the seruant saide to him, What if the woman will not come with me to this land: shal I bring thy sonne againe vnto ỹ land from whence thou camest?

6 To whom Abraham answered, Beware that thou bring not my sonne d thither againe.

7 ¶ The Lord God of heauen, who tooke me from my fathers house, and from the land where I was borne, and that spake vnto me, and that sware vnto me, saying, * Vnto thy seede will I giue this land, he shal send his Angel before thee, ỹ thou shalt take a wife vnto my sonne from thence.

8 Neuertheles if the woman wil not folowe thee, then shalt thou be ‡ discharged of this mine othe: only bring not my sonne thither againe.

9 Then the seruant put his hand vnder the thigh of Abraham his master, and sware to him for this matter.

10 ¶ So the seruant tooke ten camels of the camels of his master, ỹ departed: (for he [had] all his masters goods in his hand:) [and] so he arose, and went to Aram Naharaim, vnto ỹ e citie of Nahor.

11 And hee made his camels to ‡ lye downe without the citie by a wel of water, at euentide about the time that [the women] come out to draw [water.]

12 And he sayd, O f Lorde God of my master Abraham, I beseeche thee, [send] me good speede this day, and shew mercie vnto my master Abraham.

13 Lo, I stand by the well of water, whiles the mens daughters of this citie come out to draw water.

14 g Graunt therefore that the maide, to whom I say, Bow downe thy pitcher, I pray thee, that I may drinke: if she say drinke, and I will giue thy camels drinke also: may be she that thou hast ordeyned for thy seruant Izhak: and thereby shall I knowe that thou hast shewed mercy on my master.

46 And she made haste, and tooke downe dowme her pitcher from her [shoulder,] and said, Drinke, and I will giue thy camels drinke also. So I dranke, and she gaue the camels drinke also.

47 Then I asked her, & said, Whose daughter art thou? And she answered, The daughter of Bethuel Nahors sonne, whome Milcah bare vnto him. Then I put the abillement vpon her face, and the bracelets vpon her hands:

48 y And I bowed downe & worshipped the Lord, & blessed the Lord God of my master Abrahã, which had brought me the ‡ right way to take my masters brothers daughter vnto his sonne.

49 Nowe therefore, if ye will deale mercifully and truely with my master, tell me: and if not, tell me that I may turne me to þ ² right hand or to the left.

54 Afterward they did eate & drinke, [both] he, and the men that were with him, and taried al night. and when they rose vp in the morning, he said, * Let me depart vnto my master.

57 Then they saide, We will call the maide, and aske ‡ her ‡ consent.

58 And they called Rebekah, and said vnto her, Wilt thou go with this man? And she answered, I will go.

59 So they let Rebekah their sister go, and her nourse, with Abrahams seruant and his men.

61 ¶ Then Rebekah arose, & her maids, & rode vpon þ camels, & folowed þ man. & the seruãt tooke Rebekah, & departed.

8 So after he had bene there long time, Abimelech king of the Philistims looked out at a windowe, & lo, he sawe Izhak [c] sporting with Rebekah his wife.

9 Then Abimelech called Izhak, and sayd, Lo, she is of a suretie thy wife, and why saydest thou, She is my sister? To whome Izhak answered, Because I thought [this,] It may be that I shall die for her.

10 Then Abimelech sayd, Why hast thou done this vnto vs? one of the people had almost lien by thy wife, so shouldest thou haue brought [f] sinne vpon vs.

11 Then Abimelech charged all his people, saying, Hee that toucheth this man, or his wife, shall die the death.

12 Afterward Izhak sowed in that land, and founde in the same yeere an ‖hundreth folde by estimation: and so the Lorde blessed him.

13 And the man waxed mightie, and [‡] still increased, till hee was exceeding great,

14 For he had flockes of sheepe, and heards of cattell, and a mightie householde: therefore the Philistims had [g] enuie at him, 15 In so much that the Philistims stopped and filled vp with earth all the welles, which his fathers seruants digged in his father Abrahams time.

16 Then Abimelech sayde vnto Izhak, Get thee from vs, for thou art mightier then we a great deale.

17 ¶ Therefore Izhak departed thence and pitched his tent in the [h] valley of Gerar, and dwelt there.

18 And Izhak returning, digged the welles of water, which they had digged in the dayes of Abraham his father: for the Philistims had stopped them after the death of Abraham, & he gaue them the same names, which his father gaue them.

19 Izhaks seruants then digged in the valley, and found there a well of ‖liuing water.

20 But the heardmen of Gerar did striue with Izhaks heardmen, saying, The water is ours: therefore called he the name of the well ‖Esek, because they were at strife with him.

21 Afterwarde they digged another well, and stroue for that also, and he called the name of it ‖Sitnah.

22 Then he remoued thence, and digged an other well, for the which they stroue not: therefore called he the name of it ‖Rehoboth, and sayd, Because the Lorde hath nowe made vs roume, We shall increase vpon the earth.

23 So hee went vp thence to Beersheba.

24 And the Lorde appeared vnto him the same night, and sayd, I am the God [i] of Abraham thy father: feare not, for I am with thee, and will blesse thee, and multiplie thy seede for my seruant Abrahams sake.

25 Then he built an [k] altar there, and called vpon the name of the Lorde, and there spred his tent: where also Izhaks seruants digged a well.

26 ¶ Then came Abimelech to him from Gerar, and Ahuzzath [one] of his friends, and Phichol the captaine of his armie.

27 To whome Izhak sayd, Wherefore come ye to me, seeing ye hate me and haue put me away from you?

28 Who answered, We sawe certainly that the Lorde was with thee, and we thought [thus,] Let there be nowe an othe betweene vs, [euen] betweene vs and thee, and let vs make a couenant with thee,

29 [l] If thou shalt doe vs no hurt, as we haue not touched thee, & as we haue done vnto thee nothing but good, and sent thee away in peace: thou nowe, the blessed of the Lord, [doe this.]

30 Then he made them a feast, & they did eate and drinke.

31 And they rose vp betimes in the morning, & sware one to another: then Izhak let them goe, and they departed from him in peace.

32 And that same day Izhaks seruants came & tolde him of a well, which they had digged, and sayd vnto him, We haue found water.

33 So he called it ‖Shibah: therefore the name of the citie is called ‖Beer-sheba vnto this day.

3 Wherefore nowe, I pray thee take thine inſtruments, thy quiuer and thy bowe, and get thee to the field, that thou mayeſt †take me ſome venilon.

4 Then make me ſauorie meat, ſuch as I loue, and bring it me that I may eate, [and] that my [a] ſoule may bleſſe thee, before I die.

5 (Now Rebekah heard, when Izhak ſpake to Esau his ſonne) and Esau went into the fielde to hunt for venilon, and to bring it.

6 ¶Then Rebekah ſpake vnto Iaakob her ſonne, ſaying, Behold, I haue heard thy father talking with Esau thy brother, ſaying, 7 Bring me venilon, and make me ſauorie meate, that I may eate & bleſſe thee before the Lord, afore my death.

8 Nowe therefore, my ſonne, heare my voyce in that which I cõmand thee.

9 [b] Get thee nowe to the flocke, and bring me thence two good kiddes of the goates, that I may make pleaſant meate of them for thy father, ſuch as he loueth.

10 Then thou ſhalt bring it to thy father, and he ſhall eate, to the intent that he may bleſſe thee before his death.

11 But Iaakob ſayd to Rebekah his mother, Behold, Esau my brother [is] rough, and I am ſmoothe.

12 My father may poſſibly feele me, and I ſhall ſeeme † to him to be a ‖ mocker: ſo ſhall I bring a curſe vpon me, and not a bleſſing.

13 But his mother ſayde vnto him, ‖ [c] Vpon mee [be] thy curſe, my ſonne: onely heare my voyce, and go and bring me [them.]

14 So he went and fet [them,] and brought [them] to his mother: and his mother made pleaſant meate, ſuch as his father loued.

15 And Rebekah tooke faire clothes of her elder ſonne Esau, which were in her houſe, and clothed Iaakob her yonger ſonne:

16 And ſhe couered his hands & the ſmoothe of his necke with the ſkinnes of the kiddes of the goates.

17 Afterwarde ſhe put the pleaſant meate and bread, which ſhe had prepared, in the hand of her ſonne Iaakob.

18 ¶And when he came to his father, he ſayd, My father. Who anſwered, I am here: who art thou, my ſonne?

19 And Iaakob ſayde to his father, [d] I am Esau thy firſt borne, I haue done as thou badeſt me, ariſe, I pray thee: ſit vp and eat of my venilon, that thy ſoule may bleſſe me.

20 Then Izhak ſaid vnto his ſonne, Howe haſt thou found it ſo quickely my ſonne? Who ſayd, Becauſe the Lord thy God brought it to mine hand.

21 Againe ſaid Izhak vnto Iaakob, Come nere nowe, that I may feele thee, my ſonne, whether thou be that my ſonne Esau or not.

22 Then Iaakob came neere to Izhak his father, and he felt him and ſayd, The [e] voyce [is] Iaakobs voyce, but the hands [are] the hands of Esau.

23 (For he knew him not, becauſe his hands were rough as his brothers Esaus hands: Wherefore he bleſſed him)

24 Againe he ſayd, Art thou that my ſonne Esau? who anſwered, † I.

25 Then ſayd he, Bring it me hither, and I will eate of my ſonnes venilon, that my ſoule may bleſſe thee. And he brought it to him, and he ate: alſo he brought him wine, and he dranke.

26 Afterward his father Izhak ſaid vnto him, Come nere nowe, and kiſſe me, my ſonne.

27 And he came nere and kiſſed him. Then he ſmelled the ſauour of his garments, and bleſſed him, & ſaid, Behold, the ſmell of my ſonne [is] as the ſmell of a fielde, which the Lord hath bleſſed.

30 ¶And when Izhak had made an end of bleſſing Iaakob, & Iaakob was ſcarce gone out from the preſence of Izhak his father, then came Esau his brother from his hunting, 31 And he alſo prepared ſauoury meat and brought it to his father, and ſaid vnto his father, Let my father ariſe, & eate of his ſonnes venilon, that thy ſoule may bleſſe me.

34 When Esau heard the wordes of his father, he cried out with a great crie and bitter, out of measure, and said vnto his father, Blesse me, [euen] me also, my father.

35 Who answered, thy brother came with subtiltie, and hath taken away thy blessing.

36 Then he sayde, Was he not iustly called [g] Iaakob? for he hath deceiued me these two times: he tooke my birthright, and loe, nowe hath he taken my blessing. Also he sayd, Hast thou not reserued a blessing for me?

37 Then Izhak answered, and sayd vnto Esau, Beholde, I haue made him [h] thy lorde, and all his brethren haue I made his seruants: also with wheate and wine haue I furnished him, & vnto thee nowe what shal I doe, my sonne?

38 Then Esau sayde vnto his father, Hast thou but one blessing my father? blesse me ‖ [euen] me also, my father: and Esau lifted vp his voyce, and * wept.

40 And [i] by the sworde shalt thou liue, and shalt be thy brothers [k] seruant. But it shall come to passe, when thou shalt get the masterie, that thou shalt breake his yoke from thy necke.

41 ¶ Therefore Esau hated Iaakob, because of the blessing, wherewith his father blessed him. And Esau thought in his minde, * The dayes of mourning for my father wil come shortly, [l] then I will slay my brother Iaakob.

42 And it was tolde to Rebekah of the wordes of Esau her elder sonne, and she sent and called Iaakob her yonger sonne, and sayd vnto him, Beholde, thy brother Esau [m] is cōforted against thee, [meaning] to kill thee:

46 Also Rebekah sayd to Izhak, * I am wearie of my life, for the [o] daughters of Heth. If Iaakob take a wife of the daughters of Heth like these of [p] the daughters of the land, what auaileth it me to liue?

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 Izhak forbiddeth Iaakob to take a wife of the Canaanites. 6 Esau taketh a wife of the daughters of Ishmael against his fathers will. 12 Iaakob in the way to Haran seeth a ladder reaching to heauen. 14 Christ is promised. 20 Iaakob asketh of God onely meate and clothing.

THen Izhak called Iaakob and [a] blessed him, and charged him, and sayde vnto him, Take not a wife of [b] daughters of Canaan.

2 Arise, get thee to Padan Aram to the house of Bethuel thy mothers father, and thence take thee a wife of the daughters of Laban thy mothers brother.

3 And God ‖ all sufficient blesse thee, and make thee to increase, and multiplie thee, that thou mayest be a multitude of people,

4 And giue thee the blessing of Abraham, [euen] to thee & to thy seede with thee, that thou mayest inherite the land (wherein thou art a [b] stranger,) which God gaue vnto Abraham.

5 Thus Izhak sent forth Iaakob, and he went to Padan Aram vnto Laban sonne of Bethuel the Aramite, brother to Rebekah, Iaakobs and Esaus mother.

6 ¶ When Esau saw that Izhak had blessed Iaakob, and sent him to Padan Aram, to fet him a wife thence, & giuen him a charge when he blessed him, saying, Thou shalt not take a wife of the daughters of Canaan, 11 And he came vnto a certaine place, and taried there all night, because the sunne was downe, & tooke of the stones of the place, and laid vnder his head and slept in the same place.

12 Then he dreamed, and beholde, there stoode a [d]ladder vpon the earth and the top of it reached vp to heauen: and lo, the Angels of God went vp and downe by it.

13 *And beholde, the Lord stoode aboue it, and said, I am the Lord God of Abraham thy father, & the God of Isahak: the land, vpon the which thou sleepest, [e]will I giue thee and thy seede.

14 And thy seede shalbe as the dust of the earth, and thou shalt spread abroade *to the West, and to the East, and to the North, and to the South, & in thee and in thy seede shall all the *families of the earth be blessed.

15 And lo, I am with thee, and will keepe thee whithersoeuer thou goest, and will bring thee againe into this land: for I will not forsake thee vntil I haue performed that, that I haue promised thee.

16 ¶ Then Iaakob awoke out of his sleepe, and sayd, Surely the Lorde is in this place, and I was not aware.

17 And he was [f]afraide, and sayde, How fearefull is this place! this is none other but the house of God, and this is the gate of heauen.

18 Then Iaakob rose vp early in the morning, and tooke the stone that he had laide vnder his head, and [g]set it vp [as] *a pillar, and powred oyle vpon the top of it.

19 And he called ‖ name of that place Beth-el: notwithstanding the name of the citie was at the first called Luz.

20 Then Iaakob vowed a vowe, saying, If [h] God will be with me, and will keepe me in this iourney which I goe, and will giue me bread to eate, & clothes to put on:

21 So that I come againe vnto my fathers house in safetie, then shall the Lord be my God.

22 And this stone, which I haue set vp [as] a pillar, shalbe Gods house: and of all that thou shalt giue me, will I giue the tenth vnto thee.

CHAP. XXIX.

13 Iaakob commeth to Laban and serueth seuen yeere for Rahel. 23 Leah brought to his bed in stead of Rahel. 27 He serueth seuen yere more for Rahel. 32 Leah conceiueth and beareth foure sonnes.

Then Iaakob [a]lift vp his feete & came into the [b]East countrey.

2 And as he looked about, beholde there was a well in the fielde, [b] and lo, three flockes of sheepe lay thereby (for at that well were the flockes watered) and there was a great stone vpon the welles mouth.

3 And thither were all the flockes gathered, & they rolled the stone from the welles mouth, and watered the sheepe, and put the stone againe vpon ‖ welles mouth in his place.

4 And Iaakob sayd vnto them, My [c]brethren, whence be ye? And they answered, We are of Haran.

5 Then he said vnto them, Know ye Laban the sonne of Nahor? Who sayd, We know him.

6 Againe he sayd vnto them, [d]Is he in good health? And they answered, He is [in good health], & beholde, his daughter Rahel commeth with the sheepe.

7 Then he said, Lo, [it is] yet hie day, neither [is it] time that the cattell should be gathered together: water ye ‖ sheepe and goe feede [them.]

8 But they sayde, we may not vntill all the flockes be brought together, and [til men] rolle the stone from the welles mouth, that we may water the sheepe.

9 ¶ While he talked with them, Rahel also came with her fathers sheepe, for she kept them.

10 And assoone as Iaakob saw Rahel the daughter of Laban his mothers brother, and the sheepe of Laban his mothers brother, then came Iaakob neere, & rolled the stone from the welles mouth, and watered the flocke of Laban his mothers brother.

11 And Iaakob kissed Rahel, and lift vp his voyce and wept.

12 (For Iaakob tolde Rahel, that he was her fathers ‖ brother, and that he was Rebekahs sonne) then she ran and tolde her father.

13 And when Laban heard tell of Iaakob his sisters sonne, he ranne to meete him, and embraced him & kissed him, and brought him to his house: and he tolde Laban [e] all these things.

14 To whom Laban sayd, Wel, thou art my [f]bone and my flesh. and he abode with him the space of a moneth.

19 Then Laban answered, It is better that I giue her thee, then that I should giue her to another man: abide with me.

21 Then Iaakob saide to Laban, Giue [me] my wife that I may go in to her: for my ‡ terme is ended.

h The cause why Iaakob was deceiued was, that in olde time the wife was couered with a vayle, when she was brought to her husband in signe of chastitie & shamefastnes.

23 But h when euening was come, hee tooke Leah his daughter & brought her to him, and he went in vnto her.

24 And Laba gaue his mayd Zilpah to his daughter Leah, [to be] her seruat.

25 But when the morning was come, beholde, it was Leah. Then saide he to Laban, Wherefore hast thou done thus to me: did not I serue thee for Rahel: Wherefore then hast thou beguiled me?

i Hee esteemed more the profite that he had of Iaakobs seruice then either his promes or the maner of the countrey, though he alleaged custome for his excuse.

26 And Laban answered, It is not the i maner of this place, to giue the yonger before the elder.

27 Fulfil seuen yeres for her, & we wil also giue thee this for the seruice, which thou shalt serue me yet seuē yeres more.

28 Then Iaakob did so, and fulfilled her seuen yeeres, so he gaue him Rahel his daughter to [be] his wife.

29 Laban also gaue to Rahel his daughter Bilhah his maide [to be] her seruant.

30 So entred he in to Rahel also, and loued also Rahel more then Leah, and serued him yet seuen yeres mo.

m For children are a great cause of mutuall loue betweene man and wife.

33 And she conceiued againe, and bare a sonne, and said, because the Lord heard that I was hated, hee hath therefore giuen me this [sonne] also, and she called his name Simeon.

34 And she conceiued againe and bare a sonne, and said, Now at this time will my husband keepe me companie, because I haue borne him three sonnes: therefore was his name called Leui.

CHAP. XXX.

4. 9 Rahel and Leah being both barren giue their maides vnto their husband, and they beare him children. 15 Leah giueth mādrakes to Rahel that Iaakob might lie with her. 27 Laban is enriched for Iaakobs sake. 43 Iaakob is made very riche.

AND when Rahel sawe that she bare Iaakob no children, Rahel enuied her sister, and saide vnto Iaakob, Giue me children, or els I die.

a It is onely God that maketh barren & fruitfull, and therefore I am not in faule.

2 Then Iaakobs anger was kindled against Rahel, and he said, Am I in a Gods steade, which hath withholden from thee the fruite of the wombe?

b I will receiue her children on my lappe, as though they were mine owne.

‡ Ebr. I shalbe builded.

3 And she saide, Beholde my mayde Bilhah, goe in to her, and she shall beare vpon my b knees, and ‡ I shall haue children also by her.

4 Then she gaue him Bilhah her maide to wife, & Iaakob went in to her.

5 So Bilhah conceiued & bare Iaakob a sonne.

6 Then said Rahel, God hath giuen sentence on my side, and hath also heard my voice, and hath giuen mee a sonne: therefore called she his name, Dan.

7 And Bilhah Rahels mayde conceiued againe, and bare Iaakob the second sonne.

‡ Ebr. wrestlings of God.

c The arrogancie of mās nature appeareth in that she contemneth her sister, after she hath receiued this benefite of God to beare children.

8 Then Rahel said, With ‡ c excellent wrestlings haue I wrestled with my sister, and haue gotten the vpper hande: and she called his name, Naphtali.

9 And when Leah sawe that she had left bearing, she tooke Zilpah her maid, and gaue her Iaakob to wife.

10 And Zilpah Leahs maide bare Iaakob a sonne.

d That is, God doeth increase me with a multitude of children: for so Iaakob doeth expound this name Gad, chap. 49. 19.

11 Then said Leah, d A company commeth: and she called his name, Gad.

15 But she answered her, Is it a small matter for thee to take mine husband, except thou take my sonnes mandrakes also: Then saide Rahel, Therefore he shall sleepe with thee this night for thy sonnes mandrakes.

16 And Iaakob came from the fielde in the euening, and Leah went out to meete him, and saide, Come in to me, for I haue [e]bought and payed for thee with my sonnes mandrakes: and he slept with her that night.

17 And God heard Leah, & she conceiued, & bare vnto Iaakob the fift sonne.

18 Then said Leah, God hath giuen [mee] my reward, because I gaue my [f] maide to my husband, and she called his name Iissachar.

19 After, Leah conceiued againe, and bare Iaakob the sixt sonne.

20 Then Leah saide, God hath endued me with a good dowrie: now will mine husband dwel with me, because I haue borne him sixe sonnes: and she called his name Zebulun.

21 After that, she bare a daughter, and she called her name Dinah.

22 [g] And God remembred Rahel, & God heard her, [h] & opened her wombe.

23 So she conceiued & bare a sonne, and said, God hath taken away my [i] rebuke.

24 And she called his name Ioseph, saying, The Lord will giue mee yet an other sonne.

25 [k] And assone as Rahel had borne Ioseph, Iaakob said to Laban, Sende me away that I may go vnto my place and to my countrey.

26 Giue [me] my wiues and my children, for whom I haue serued thee, and let me goe: for thou knowest what seruice I haue done thee.

27 To whome Laban answered, If I haue now founde fauour in thy sight, [tarie: I haue] perceiued that the Lord hath blessed me for thy sake.

28 Also he said, Appoint vnto me thy wages, and I will giue it [thee.]

29 But hee saide vnto him, Thou knowest, what seruice I haue done thee, and in what taking thy cattel hath bene [l] vnder me.

30 For the litle, that thou haddest before I came, is increased into a multitude: and the Lord hath blessed thee [m] by my comming: but now when shall [n] I trauel for mine owne house also?

31 Then hee saide, What shall I giue thee? And Iaakob answered, Thou shalt giue me nothing at all: if thou wilt do this thing for me, I wil returne, feed, [and] keepe thy sheepe.

32 I wil passe through all thy flocks this day, [and] [o] separate from them all the sheepe with litle spottes and great spottes, and all [p] blacke lambes among the sheepe, and the great spotted, and litle spotted among goates: [q] and it shalbe my wages.

33 So shal my [r] righteousnes answere for me hereafter, when it shall come for my reward before thy face, [and] euery one that hath not litle or great spottes among the goates, and blacke among the sheepe, the same shalbe [s] theft with me.

34 Then Laban said, Goe to, Would God it might be according to thy saying.

35 Therefore [t] he tooke out the same day the hee goates that were partie coloured and with great spottes, and all the shee goats with litle & great spottes, [and] all that had white in them, and all the [u] blacke among the sheepe, and put them in the keeping of his sonnes.

36 And he set three dayes iourney betweene himselfe and Iaakob. And Iaakob kept the rest of Labans sheepe.

37 [x] Then Iaakob [y] tooke roddes of greene popular, and of hasel, and of the chesnut tree, and pilled white strakes in them, and made the white appeare in the roddes.

38 Then he put the roddes, which he had pilled, in the gutters [and] watering troughes, when the sheep came to drinke, before the sheepe: (for they were in heat, when they came to drinke)

39 And the sheepe [z] were in heate before the roddes, & [aa] afterward brought foorth yong of partie colour, and with small and great spots.

40 And Iaakob parted these lambs, and turned the faces of the flocke towards [these lambes] partie coloured and all maner of blacke, among the sheepe of Laban: so hee put his owne flockes by themselues, and put them not with Labans flocke.

41 And in euery ramming time of the [bb] stronger sheepe, Iaakob laid the rods before the eyes of the sheepe in the gutters, that they might conceiue before the rods.

42 But when the sheepe were feeble, hee put them not in: and so the feebler were Labans, & the stronger Iaakobs.

43 So the man encreased exceedingly, and had many flockes, and maide seruants, and men seruants, and camels and asses.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 Labans children murmure against Iaakob. 3 God commandeth him to returne to his countrey. 13. 24 The care of God for Iaakob. 19 Rahel stealeth her fathers idoles. 23 Laban followeth Iaakob. 44 The covenant betweene Laban and Iaakob.

NOw he heard the [a] wordes of Labans sonnes, saying, Iaakob hath taken away all that was our fathers, and of our fathers goods hath hee gotten all this honour.

a The children wrested in wordes that which the father dissembled in heart. for the couetous think that whatsoeuer they can not snatch, is plucked from them.

2 Also Iaakob beheelde the countenance of Laban, ‡ that it was not towardes him as in times past.

‡ Ebr. and lo, not hee with him, as yesterday, and yer yesterday.

3 And the Lord had saide vnto Iaakob, Turne againe vnto the land of thy fathers, and to thy kinred, and I will be with thee.

4 Therefore Iaakob sent and called Rahel ‡ Leah to ‖ fielde vnto his flock.

5 Then said he vnto them, I see your fathers countenance, that it is not towardes me ‡ as it was wont, ‡ the [b] God of my father hath bene with me.

‡ Eb. as yesterday and before yesterday.

b The God whom my father worshipped.

6 And ye knowe that I haue serued your father with all my might.

7 But your father hath deceiued me, and changed my wages ‖ ten times: but God suffred him not to hurt me.

‖ Or, many times.

8 If he thus said, The spotted shalbe thy wages, then all the sheepe bare spotted: and if he said thus, the partie coloured shalbe thy reward, then bare all the sheepe particoloured.

9 Thus hath [c] God taken away your fathers ‖ substance, and giuen it me.

c This declareth that the thing, which Iaakob did before, was by Gods commandement, & not though deceit.

10 ¶ For in ramming time I lifted vp mine eyes and sawe in a dreame, and beholde, the hee goates leaped vpon the shee goates, that were partie coloured with litle and great spottes spotted.

11 And the Angel of God said to me in a dreame, Iaakob. And I answered, Lo, I am here.

12 And hee saide, Lift vp now thine eyes, & see all the hee goats leaping vpon the shee goates that are partie coloured, spotted with litle & great spottes: for I haue seene all that Laba doth vnto thee.

d This Angel was Christ which appeared to Iaakob in Beth-el: and hereby appeareth hee had taught his wiues the feare of God: for he talketh as though they knewe this thing. Chap. 28. 18.

13 [d] I am the God of Beth-el, where thou * anointedst the pillar, where thou vowedst a vow vnto me. Now arise, get thee out of this countrey and returne vnto the land where thou wast borne.

14 Then answered Rahel & Leah, and saide vnto him, Haue we any more portion & inheritance in our fathers house?

15 Doeth not hee count vs as strangers? for hee hath [e] solde vs, and hath eaten vp and consumed our money.

e Or, sold vs.

16 Therefore all the riches, which God hath taken frō our father, is ours and our childrens: now then whatsoeuer God hath said vnto thee, do it.

17 ¶ Then Iaakob rose vp, and set his sonnes and his wiues vpon camels.

18 And he caried away all his flocks, and all his substance which hee had gotten, [to wit,] his riches, which hee had gotten in Padan Aram, to go to Izhak his father vnto the land of Canaan.

19 When Laban was gone to sheare his sheepe, Then Rahel stole her fathers [f] idoles.

f For so the word here signifieth, because Laban called them gods, verse 30.

20 Thus Iaakob ‖ stole away the heart of Laban the Aramite: for he told him not that he fled.

‖ Or, went away priuily from Laban.

21 So fled hee with all that hee had, and he rose vp, and passed the ‖ riuer, and set his face toward mount Gilead.

‖ Or, Euphrates.

22 And the thirde day after was it told Laban, that Iaakob fled.

23 Then he tooke his ‖ brethren wh him, and followed after him seuen dayes iourney, & ‖ ouertooke him at mount Gilead.

‖ Or, kinsfolkes and friends.

‖ Or, ioyned with him.

24 And God came to Laban the Aramite in a dreame by night, and saide vnto him, Take heede that thou speake not to Iaakob ‡ ought sane good.

‡ Ebr. from good to euill.

25 ¶ Then Laban ouertooke Iaakob, and Iaakob had pitched his tent in the mount: and Laban [also] with his brethren pitched vpon mount Gilead.

26 Then Laban saide to Iaakob, what hast thou done? ‖ thou hast euen stollen away mine heart and caried away my daughters as though they had bene taken captiues with the sword.

‖ Or, conueyed thy selfe away priuily.

27 Wherefore didest thou flee so secretly and steale away from me, & didest not tell me, that I might haue sent thee forth with mirth and with songs, with timbrel and with harpe?

28 But thou hast not suffered me to kisse my sonnes & my daughters: now thou hast done foolishly in doing [so.]

29 I am ‡ able to do you euil: but the [g] God of your father spake vnto me yester night, saying, Take heede that thou speake not to Iaakob ought sane good.

‡ Ebr. power is in mine hand.

g He was an idolater, and therfore would not acknowledge the God of Iaakob for his God.

30 Nowe though thou wentest thy way, because thou greatly longedst after thy fathers house, [yet] wherefore hast thou stolen my gods?

31 Then Iaakob answered, and said to Laban, Because I was afraide, and thought that thou wouldest haue taken thy daughters from me.

32 [But] with whom thou findest thy gods, ‖ let him not liue. Search thou before our brethrē what I haue [of thine,] and take it to thee, (but Iaakob wist not that Rahel had stolen them)

‖ Or, let him die.

33 Then came Laban into Iaakobs tent, and into Leahs tent, and into the two maides tentes, but founde [them] not. So he went out of Leahs tent, and entred into Rahels tent.

34 (Now Rahel had taken the idoles and put them in the camels ‖ litter, & sate downe vpon them) and Laban searched all the tent, but found [them] not.

‖ Or, strawe, or, saddle.

35 Then saide she to her father, ‡ My lord, be not angrie that I can not rise vp before thee: for the custome of women [is] vpon me: so he searched, but founde not the idoles.

‡ Ebr. let not anger be in the eyes of my lord.

36 ¶ Then Iaakob was wroth, and chode with Laban: Iaakob also answered and saide to Laban, What haue I trespassed? what haue I offended, that thou hast pursued after me?

37 Seeing thou hast searched all my stuffe, what hast thou found of all thine houshold stuffe? put it here before my brethren & thy brethren, that they may iudge betweene vs both.

38 This twentie yeere I haue bene with thee: thine ewes and thy goates haue not ‖ cast their yong, & the rammes of thy flocke haue I not eaten.

39 ‡ Whatsoeuer was torne [of beasts,] I brought it not vnto thee, [but] made it good my selfe: * of mine hand didest thou require it, [were it] stollen by daye or stollen by night.

‡ Eb. the torne, or taken by pray. Exod. 22. 12.

40 I was in the day consumed with heat, and with frost in the night, and my ‖ sleepe departed from mine eyes.

‖ Or, I slept not.

41 Thus haue I bene twentie yeere in thine house, and serued thee fourteene yeeres for thy two daughters, and sixe yeeres for thy sheepe, and thou hast changed my wages ten times.

42 Except the God of my father, the God of Abraham, & the h feare of Izhak had bene with me, surely ỹ hadest sent me away now emptie: [but] God beheld my tribulation, and the labour of mine hands, and rebuked [thee] yester night.

h That is, the God whome Izhak did feare and reuerence.

43 Then Laban answered, and said vnto Iaakob, These daughters are my daughters, & these sonnes are my sonnes, and these sheepe are my sheepe, and all that thou seest, is mine, and what can I do this day vnto these my daughters, or to their sonnes which they haue borne?

44 Now therefore i come and let vs make a couenant, I and thou, which may be a witnes betweene me and thee.

i His conscience reproued him of his misbehauiour toward Iaakob, and therefore moued him to seeke peace.

45 Then tooke Iaakob a stone, and set it vp [as] a pillar:

46 And Iaakob sayde vnto his brethren, Gather stones: who brought stones, and made an heape, and they did eate there vpon the heape.

47 And Laban called it ‖ Iegar-sahadutha, and Iaakob called it k Galeed.

‖ Or, the heape of witnes.

k The one nameth the place in the Syrian tongue, & the other in the Ebrew tongue.

48 For Laban saide, This heape is witnes betweene me and thee this day: therefore he called the name of it Galeed.

49 Also [hee called it] ‖ Mizpah, because he said, The Lord l looke betweene me and thee, when we shalbe ‖ departed one from another,

‖ Or, hid.

50 If thou shalt vexe my daughters, or shalt take m wiues beside my daughters: [there is] no man with vs, behold, God [is] witnes betweene me and thee.

m Nature compelleth him to condemne that vice, whereunto though couetousnes hee forced Iaakob.

51 Moreouer Laban said to Iaakob Behold the this heape, & behold the pillar, which I haue set betweene me and thee.

52 This heape [shalbe] witnes, and the pillar [shalbe] witnes, that I will not come ouer this heape to thee, & that thou shalt not passe ouer this heape and this pillar vnto me for euill.

n Behold, how the Idolaters mingle the true God with their fayned gods.

53 The God of Abraham, & the God of n Nahor, [and] the God of their father be iudge betweene vs: But Iaakob sware by the o feare of his father Izhak.

o Meaning, by the true God whome Izhak worshipped.

54 Then Iaakob did offer a sacrifice vpon the mount, and called his brethren to eate ‖ bread, and they did eate bread, and taried all night in the mount.

‖ Or, meate.

55 And early in the morning Laban rose vp and kissed his sonnes and his daughters, and p blessed them, & Laban departing, went vnto his place againe.

p We see that there is euer some seede of the knowledge of God in the hearts of the wicked.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 God comforteth Iaakob by his Angels. 9, 10 Hee prayeth vnto God confessing his vnworthines. 13 Hee sendeth presents vnto Esau. 24. 28 Hee wrestled with the Angel who named him Israel.

NOwe Iaakob went forth on his iourney and * the Angels of God met him.

Chap. 48. 16.

2 And when Iaakob saw them, he said, a This is Gods hoste, and called the name of the same place ‖ Mahanaim.

a He acknowledgeth Gods benefites: who for the preseruation of his, sendeth hostes of Angels.

‖ Or, tents.

3 Then Iaakob sent messengers before him to Esau his brother, vnto the land of Seir into the countrey of Edom:

4 To whome he gaue commaundement, saying, Thus shall ye speake to my b lord Esau: Thy seruant Iaakob saith b He reuerenced his brother in worldly things, because he chiefly looked to be preferred to the spirituall promes.

saith thus, I haue bene a stranger with Laban, and taried vnto this time.

5 I haue beeues also & asses, sheepe, and men seruants, & women seruants, and haue sent to shewe my lord, that I may finde grace in thy sight.

6 ¶ So the messengers came againe to Iaakob, saying, We came vnto thy brother Esau, and he also commeth against thee and foure hundreth men with him.

c Albeit he was comforted by the Angels, yet the infirmitie of the flesh both appeare.

7 Then Iaakob was c greatly afraide, and was sore troubled, and deuided the people that was with him, and the sheepe, and the beeues, and the camels into two companies.

8 For he said, If Esau come to the one company and smite it, the other company shall escape.

9 ¶ Moreouer Iaakob saide, O God of my father Abraham, and God of my father Izhak: Lord, which *saidest vnto me, Returne vnto thy countrey and to thy kinred, and I will doe thee good,

Chap.31.13.

10 I am not ‡ worthy of the least of all the mercies and all the trueth, which thou hast shewed vnto thy seruant: for with my d staffe came I ouer this Iorden, & now haue I gotten two bandes.

‡ Ebr. I am lesse then all thy mercies.

d That is, poore and with one all prouision.

11 I pray thee, deliuer me from the hand of my brother, from the hand of Esau: for I feare him, lest he will come and smite me, [and] the e mother vpon the children.

e Meaning, he will put al to death: this manner be cōmeth of them which kill the dirt together with the yong ones.

12 For thou saidst, I will surely do thee good, and make thy seede as the sand of the sea, which can not be nombred for multitude.

13 ¶ And he taried there ‡ same night, and tooke of that which came to hand, a f present for Esau his brother:

f Not distrusting Gods assistance, but vsing such meanes as God had giuen him.

14 Two hundreth shee goates, and twentie hee goates, two hundreth ewes and twentie rammes:

15 Thirtie milche camels with their coltes, fourtie kine, and ten bullockes, twentie shee asses and ten foles.

16 So he deliuered thē into ‡ hand of his seruāts, euery droue by them selues, & said vnto his seruāts, Passe before me, and put a spare betweene droue & droue.

17 And he commanded the formost, saying, If Esau my brother meete thee, and aske thee, saying, Whose [seruant] art thou? And whither goest thou? And whose are these before thee?

18 Then thou shalt say, They be [thy] seruant Iaakobs: it is a present sent vnto my lord Esau: and behold, he him self also is behinde vs.

19 So like wise commanded he the second & the third, and al that followed the droues, saying, After this maner, ye shal speake vnto Esau, when ye finde him,

20 And ye shal say moreouer, Behold, thy seruant Iaakob [cōmeth] after vs (for hee thought, I g will appease his wrath with the present that goeth before me, and afterwarde I will see his face: it may be that he will ‡ accept me.)

g He thought it no losse to depart with these goodes, to the intent he might folow the vocation whereunto God called him.

‡ Ebr. receiue my face.

21 So went the present before him: but he taried ‡ night with the company.

22 And he rose vp the same night, and tooke his two wiues, & his two maides, and his eleuen children, and went ouer the forde Jabbok.

23 And he tooke them, and sent them ouer the riuer, & sent ouer that he had.

24 ¶ Nowe when Iaakob was left himselfe alone, there wrestled a h man with him vnto the breaking of the day.

h That is, god in forme of man.

25 And he saw that he couldne not i preuaile against him: therefore he touched the hollow of his thigh, and the hollow of Iaakobs thigh was loosed, as hee wrestled with him.

i For God assailed his with the one hand, and vpholdeth them with the other.

26 And he saide, Let me goe, for the morning appeareth. Who answered, *I will not let thee go, except thou blesse me.

Hose.12.4.

27 Then saide he vnto him, what is thy name? And he said, Iaakob.

28 Then said he, * Thy name shalbe called Iaakob no more, but Israel: because thou hast had k power with God, thou shalt also preuaile with men.

Chap.35.10.

k God gaue Iaakob both power to ouercome, and also the victorie of the victorie.

29 Then Iaakob demanded, saying, Tell me, I pray thee, thy name. And he said, Wherefore now doest thou aske my name? And he blessed him there.

30 And Iaakob called the name of the place Peniel: for, [said he,] I haue seene God face to face, & ‖ my life is preserued.

‖ Or, my soule is deliuered.

31 And the sunne rose to him as he passed Peniel, & he l halted vpon his thigh.

l The faithful so ouercome their temptations, that they feele the smart thereof, to the intent that they should not glorie, but in their infirmities.

32 Therefore the children of Israel eate not of the sinew that shranke in the hollow of the thigh, vnto this day: because he touched the sinew that shranke in the hollow of Iaakobs thigh.

CHAP. XXXIII.

4 Esau & Iaakob meete & are agreed. 11 Esau refuseth his gifts. 19 Iaakob byeth a possession. 20 And buildeth an altar.

AND as Iaakob lift vp his eyes, and looked, behold, Esau came, & with him foure hundred men: and he a deuided the children to Leah, and to Rahel, and to the two maides.

a That if the one part were assailed, the other might escape.

2 And hee put the maides, and their children childzen formost, and Leah ‡ her childze after, and Rahel, ‡ Joseph hindermost.

3 So he went before them and bowed him selfe to the ground seuen times, vntill he came neere to his brother.

4 Then Esau ranne to meete him, and embraced him, and fell on his necke, and kissed him, and they wept.

5 And he lift vp his eyes, and saw the women, and the childzen, and said, who are these with thee? And he answered, [They are] the childzen whom God of his grace hath giuen thy seruant.

6 Then came the maides neere, they, and their childzen, ‡ bowed themselues.

7 Leah also with her childzen came neere ‡ made obeysance: and after Joseph and Rahel dzewe neere and did reuerence.

8 Then he saide, what meanest thou by al this dzoue, which I met? who answered, [I haue sent it,] that I may finde fauour in the sight of my lozd.

9 And Esau said, I haue ynough, my brother: keepe that thou hast to thy selfe.

10 But Iaakob answered, Nay, I pzay thee: if I haue found grace now in thy sight, then receiue my pzesent at mine hand: for ‖ I haue seene thy face, as though I had seene the face of God, because thou hast accepted me.

11 I pzay thee take my ‖ blessing, that is brought thee: for God hath had mercie on me, ‡ therefore I haue all things: so he ‡ compelled him, and he tooke it.

12 And he said, Let vs take our iourney and go, and I will go before thee.

13 Then he answered him, My lozde knoweth, that the childzen [are] tender, and the ewes and kine with yong vnder mine hand: and if they should ouerdzine them one day, all the flocke would die.

14 Let now my lozd go before his seruant, and I wil dzine softly, according to the pace of the cattel, which is before me, and as the childzen be able to endure, vntill ‡ I come to my lozd vnto Seir.

15 Then Esau said, I will leaue then some of my folke with thee. And he answered, what [needeth] this? let me finde grace in the sight of my lozd.

16 ¶ So Esau returned, [and went] his way that same day vnto Seir.

17 And Iaakob went forwarde toward Succoth, and built him an house, and made booths for his cattel: therfore he called the name of ‡ place ‖ Succoth.

18 ¶ Afterward Iaakob came safe to Shechem a citie, which is in the land of Canaan, when he came from ‖ Padan Aram, and pitched before the citie.

19 And there he bought a partell of ground, where he pitched his tent, at the hande of the sonnes of Hamor Shechems father, for an hundzeth ‖ pieces of money.

20 And he set vp there an altar, and called § it, The mightie God of Israel.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

2 Dinah is rauished. 8 Hamor asketh her in marriage for his sonne. 22 The Shechemites are circumcised at the request of Iaakobs sonnes, and the persuasion of Hamor. 25 The whozedome is reuenged. 28 Iaakob reproueth his sonnes.

Then Dinah the daughter of Leah, which she bare vnto Iaakob, ᵃ went out to see the daughters of that countrey.

2 Whom when Shechem the sonne of Hamor the Hiuite lozde of that countrey sawe, he tooke her, and lay with her, and ‡ defiled her.

3 So his heart claue vnto Dinah the daughter of Iaakob: and he loued the maide, and ‡ spake kindly vnto the maid.

4 Then saide Shechem to his father Hamor, saying, ᵇ Get me this maide to wife.

5 (Nowe Iaakob heard that he had defiled Dinah his daughter, and his sonnes were with his cattell in the field: therefore Iaakob held his peace, vntill they were come.

6 ¶ Then Hamor the father of Shechem went out vnto Iaakob to cõmune with him.

7 And when the sonnes of Iaakob were come out of the fielde and heard it, it grieued the men, and they were very angrie, because he had wzought ‖ villanie in Israel, in that he had lien with Iaakobs daughter: ‡ which thing ought not to be done.

8 And Hamor cõmuned with them, saying, The soule of my sonne Shechem longeth for your daughter: giue her him to wife, I pzay you.

9 So make ‖ affinitie with vs: giue your daughters vnto vs, and take our daughters vnto you.

10 And ye shall dwell with vs, and the land shall be before you: dwell, and doe your bulines in it, and haue your possessions therein.

11 Shechem also said vnto her father and vnto her brethren, ‖ Let me finde fauour in your eyes, and I wil giue whatsoeuer ye shall appoint me.

12 ‡ Aske of me abundantly both dowzy and giftes, and I wil giue as ye appoint me, b By this gesture he partly did reuerence to his brother, & partly prayed to God to mitigate Esaus wrath.

c Iaakob and his familie are the image of the Church vnder the yoke of tyrants, which for feare are brought to subiection.

d In that that his brother imbraced him so louingly, contrary to his expectation, he accepted it as a plaine signe of Gods presence.

‖ Or, gift.

e By earnest intreatie.

f He promised that which (as seemeth) his mind was not to performe.

* ‖ Or, tents.

‖ Or, Mesopotamia.

‖ Or, lambes, or money so marked.

g He calleth the signe the thing, which it signifieth, in token þ God had mightily deliuered him.

a This example teacheth that too much libertie is not to be giuen to youth.

‡ Ebr. humbled her.

‡ Ebr. spake to the heart of the maide.

b This sheweth that the consent of parents is requisite in marriage, seeing the very infidels did also obserue it as a thing necessarie.

‖ Or, follie.

‡ Ebr. and it shall not be so done.

‖ Or, marriages.

‖ Or, grant my request.

‡ Ebr. multiplie greatly the dowrie.

me, so that ye giue me the maide to wife.
13 Then ye sonnes of Iaakob answered Shechem & Hamor his father, talking deceitfully, because hee had defiled Dinah their sister, 14 And they said vnto them, c We can not doe this thing, to giue our sister to an vncircumcised man: for that were a d reproofe vnto vs.
15 But in this will We consent vnto you, if ye will be as We [are,] that euery man child among you be e circumcised:
16 Then will We giue our daughters to you, and We will take your daughters to vs, and will dwell with you, and be one people.
17 But if ye will not hearken vnto vs to be circumcised, then will We take our daughter and depart.
18 Now their words pleased Hamor, and Shechem Hamors sonne.
19 And the yong man deferd not to do the thing because hee loued Iaakobs daughter: he was also the ‖ most set by of all his fathers house.
20 ¶ Then Hamor and Shechem his sonne went vnto the f gate of their citie, and communed with ye men of their citie, saying,
21 These men are g peaceable with vs: and that they may dwell in the land, and do their affaires therein (for behold, the land hath rowme ynough for them) let vs take their daughters to wiues, and giue them our daughters.
22 Only herein will the men consent vnto vs for to dwell with vs, & to be one people, if all the men children among vs be circumcised as they are circumcised.
23 Shall not h their flockes and their substance and all their cattell be ours: onely let vs consent [herein] vnto them, and they will dwell with vs.
24 And vnto Hamor, and Shechem his sonne hearkened all that went out of the gate of his citie: and all the men children were circumcised, [euen] all that went out of the gate of his citie.
25 And on the third day (When they were sore) two of the sonnes of Iaakob, i Simeon and Leui, Dinahs brethren tooke either of them his sworde & went into the citie boldly, and slew euery male.
26 They slew also Hamor and Shechem his sonne with the ‡ edge of the sworde, and tooke Dinah out of Shechems house, and went their way.
27 [Againe] ye [other] sonnes of Iaakob came vpon the dead, and spoyled the citie, because they had defiled their sister.
28 They tooke their sheepe, & their beeues, and their asses, and whatsoeuer was in the citie, and in the fieldes.
29 Also they caried away captiue and spoyled all their goods, and al their children and their wiues, and all that was in the houses.
30 Then Iaakob said to Simeon and Leui, Ye haue troubled me, and made me ‖ stinke among the inhabitants of the land, [al] the Canaanites, as the Perizzites, & I being fewe in nomber, they shall gather them selues together against me, and slay me, [and] so shall I, and my house be destroyed.
31 And they answered, Should he abuse our sister as a whore?

CHAP. XXXV.

1 Iaakob at Gods commaundement goeth vp to Beth-el to builde an altar. 2 He reformeth his houshold. 5 God marketh the enemies of Iaakob afraide. 8 Deborah dyeth. 12 The land of Canaan is promised him. 18 Rahel dyeth in labour. 22 Reuben lyeth with his fathers concubine. 23 The sonnes of Iaakob. 29 The death of Izhak.

THen a God said to Iaakob, Arise, go vp to Beth-el & dwell there, and make there an altar vnto God, that appeared vnto thee, *when thou fleddest from Esau thy brother.
2 Then said Iaakob vnto his household and to al that were with him, Put away the strange gods that are among you, and b clense your selues, and change your garments:
3 For We will rise and go to Beth-el, and I will make an altar there vnto God, which heard me in the day of my tribulation, and was with me in ye way which I went.
4 And they gaue vnto Iaakob al the strange gods, which [were] in their hands, and all their c earings which were in their eares, and Iaakob hid them vnder an oke, which was by Shechem.
5 Then they went on their iourney, and the d feare of God was vpon the cities that were rounde about them: so that they did not follow after the sonnes of Iaakob.
6 ¶ So came Iaakob to Luz, which is in the lande of Canaan: (the same is Beth-el) he and all the people that was with him.
7 And he built there an altar, & * had called the place, The God of Beth-el, because that God appeared vnto him there, when he fled from his brother.
8 Then Deborah Rebekahs nourse died, and was buried beneath Beth-el vnder

10 Moreouer God said vnto him, Thy name is Iaakob: thy name shalbe no more called Iaakob, but *Israel shalbe thy name: & he called his name Israel.

Chap.32.28.

11 Againe God sayde vnto him, I am ‖God all sufficient, grow, and multiplie, a nation and a multitude of nations shal spring of thee, and Kings shall come out of thy loynes.

‖Or, almightie.

12 Also I will giue the land, which I gaue to Abrahã and Izhak, vnto thee: and vnto thy seede after thee wil I giue that land.

13 So God [c] ascended from him in the place where he had talked with him.

c As God is said to descend, when he sheweth some signe of his presence: so he is saide to ascend, whē the vision is ended.

14 And Iaakob set vp a pillar in the place where he talked with him, a pillar of stone, and powred drinke offering thereon: also he powred oyle thereon.

15 And Iaakob called the name of the place, where God spake with him, Beth-el.

16 ¶ Then they departed from Beth-el, and when there was [f] about halfe a dayes iourney of ground to come to Ephath, Rahel trauailed, and in trauailing she was in perill.

f The Ebrew word signifieth as much ground as one may go from baite to baite, which is taken for halfe a dayes iourney.

17 And whē she was in paines of her labour, ỹ mid wife saide vnto her, Feare not: for thou shalt haue this sonne also.

18 Then as she was about to yeeld vp the ghost (for shee died) shee called his name Ben-oni, but his father called him Beniamin.

19 Thus *died Rahel, and was buried in the way to Ephath, which is Beth-lehem.

Chap.48.7.

20 And Iaakob set a [g] pillar vpon her graue: This is the pillar of Rahels graue vnto this day.

g The ancient fathers vsed this ceremonie to testifie their hope of the resurrection to come, which was not generally reuealed. h This teacheth that the fathers were not chosen for their merites, but by Gods onely mercies, whose election by their faules was not changed. Chap.49.4.

21 ¶ Then Israel went forward, and pitched his tent beyond Migdal-eder.

22 Now, when Israel dwelt in that land, Reuben went, and [h] lay *with Bilhah his fathers concubine, and it came to Israels care. And Iaakob had twelue sonnes.

23 The sõnes of Leah: Reuben Iaakobs eldest sonne, & Simeon and Leui, and Iudah, and Issachar, & Zebulun.

24 The sonnes of Rahel: Ioseph and Beniamin.

25 And the sonnes of Bilhah Rahels maide: Dan and Naphtali.

26 And the sonnes of Zilpah Leahs maide: Gad and Asher. These are the sonnes of Iaakob, which were borne him in Padan Aram.

27 ¶ Then Iaakob came vnto Izhak his father to Mamre a citie of Arbah: this is Hebron, where Abraham and Izhak were strangers.

28 And the dayes of Izhak were an hundreth and fourescore yeeres.

29 And Izhak gaue vp the ghost and died, and was *gathered vnto his people, being olde and full of dayes: and his sonnes Esau and Iaakob buried him.

Chap.25.8.

CHAP. XXXVI.

2 The wiues of Esau. 7 Iaakob and Esau are riche. 9 The genealogie of Esau. 24 The finding of mules.

NOw these are the [a] generations of Esau, which is Edom.

a This genealogie declareth that Esau was blessed temporally, and that his fathers blessing tooke place in worldly things.

2 Esau tooke his wiues of the [b] daughters of Canaan: Adah the daughter of Elon an Hittite, and Aholibamah ỹ daughter of Anah, the daughter of Zibeon an Hiuite, b Besides those wiues whereof is spoken, chap.26. 34.

3 And [tooke] Basemath Ishmaels daughter, sister of Nebaioth.

4 And *Adah bare vnto Esau, Eliphaz: and Basemath bare Reuel.

1.Chro.1.35.

5 Also Aholibamah bare Ieush, and Iaalam, and Korah: these are ỹ sonnes of Esau which were borne to him in the land of Canaan.

6 So Esau tooke his wiues and his sonnes, and his daughters, and all the soules of his house, and his flockes, and all his cattell, & all his substance, which he had gotten in ỹ land of Canaan, and went into [an other] countrey from his brother Iaakob.

c Herein appeareth Gods prouidence, which causeth the wicked to giue place to the godly that Iaakob might enioy Canaan according to Gods promes. Ioth.24.4.

7 For their riches were so great that they could not dwell together, and the land, wherein they were stragers, could not receiue them because of their flocks.

8 *Therefore dwelt Esau in mount Seir: this Esau is Edom.

9 ¶ So these are the generations of Esau father of ‖Edom in mount Seir.

‖Or, the Edomites.

10 These are the names of Esaus sonnes: *Eliphaz, the sonne of Adah, the wife of Esau, [and] Reuel the sonne of Basemath, the wife of Esau.

1.Chro.1.35.

11 And the sonnes of Eliphaz were Teman, Omar, Zepho, and Gatam, and Kenaz.

12 And Timna was concubine to Eliphaz Esaus sonne, and bare vnto Eliphaz, Amalek: these be the sonnes of Adah Esaus wife.

13 ¶ And these are ỹ ‖sonnes of Reuel: Nahath,

Nahath, and Zerah, Shammah, and Mizzah: these were the sonnes of Bashemath Esaus wife.

14 ¶ And these were the sonnes of Aholibamah the daughter of Anah, ‖daughter of Zibeon Esaus wife: for she bare vnto Esau, Jeush, and Jaalam, and Korah.

‖Or, neece.

15 ¶ These were ‖ the Dukes of the sonnes of Esau: the sonnes of Eliphaz, the first borne of Esau: Duke Teman, Duke Omar, Duke Zepho, Duke Kenaz, ‖Or, chiefe men.

16 Duke Korah, Duke Gatam, Duke Amalek: these are the Dukes [that came] of Eliphaz in the land of Edom: these were the ‖ sonnes of Adah.

‖Or, nephews.

17 ¶ And these are the sonnes of Reuel Esaus sonne: Duke Nahath, Duke Zerah, Duke Shammah, Duke Mizzah: these are the Dukes [that came] of Reuel in the land of Edom: these are the ‖ sonnes of Bashemath Esaus wife.

‖Or, nephews.

18 ¶ Likewise these were the sonnes of Aholibamah Esaus wife: Duke Jeush, Duke Jaalam, Duke Korah: these Dukes [came] of Aholibamah the daughter of Anah Esaus wife.

19 These are the children of Esau, and these are the Dukes of them: This [Esau] is Edom.

1.Chro. 1. 38.

20 ¶ * These are the sonnes of Seir the Horite, which [c] inhabited the lande c Before that Esau did there inhabite.

[before, Lotan, and Shobal, and Zibeon, and Anah.

21 And Dishon, and Ezer, and Dishan: these are the Dukes of the Horites, the sonnes of Seir in the land of Edom.

22 And the sonnes of Lotan were, Hori and Hemam, and Lotans sister [was] Timna.

23 And the sonnes of Shobal were these: Aluan, and Manahath, and Ebal, Shepho, and Onam.

24 And these are the sonnes of Zibeon: both Aiah, and Anah: this was Anah that found [f] mules in the wildernes, as he fed his father Zibeons asses.

f Who not contented with those kindes of beastes, which God had created, found out the monstruous generation of mules betweene the Asse and the Mare.

25 And the children of Anah were these: Dishon, and Aholibamah the daughter of Anah.

26 Also these are the sonnes of Dishan: Hemdan, and Eshban, and Ithran, and Cheran.

27 The sonnes of Ezer are these: Bilhan, and Zaauan, and Akan.

28 The sonnes of Dishan are these: Uz, and Aran.

29 These are the Dukes of the Horites: Duke Lotan, Duke Shobal, Duke Zibeon, Duke Anah, 30 Duke Dishon, Duke Ezer, Duke Dishan: these be the Dukes of the Horites, after their Dukedomes in the land of Seir.

31 ¶ And these are the [g] kings that reigned in the lande of Edom, before there reigned [any] King ouer the children of Israel.

g The wicked rise vp sodenly to honour, and perish as quickly: but the inheritance of the children of God continueth euer, Psal. 102, 28.

32 Then Bela the sonne of Beor reigned in Edom, and the name of his citie [was] Dinhabah.

33 And when Bela died, Jobab the sonne of Zerah of Bozra reigned in his steade.

34 When Jobab also was dead, Husham of the land of Temani reigned in his steade.

35 And after the death of Husham, Hadad the sonne of Bedad, which slewe Midian in the field of Moab, reigned in his stead, and the name of his citie [was] Auith.

36 When Hadad was dead, the Samlah of Masrekah reigned in his steade.

37 When Samlah was dead, Shaul of [h] Rehoboth by the riuer, reigned in his steade.

h Which citie is by the riuer Euphrates.

38 When Shaul died, Baal-hanan the sonne of Achbor reigned in his steade.

39 And after the death of Baal-hanan the sonne of Achbor, Hadad reigned in his stead, and the name of his citie [was] Pau: and his wiues name Mehetabel the daughter of Matred, the ‖ daughter of Mezahab.

‖Or, neece.

40 Then these are the names of the Dukes of Esau according to their families, their places [and] by their names: Duke Timna, Duke Aluah, Duke Jetheth,

41 Duke Aholibamah, Duke Elah, Duke Pinon,

42 Duke Kenaz, Duke Teman, Duke Mibzar,

43 Duke Magdiel, Duke Iram: these be the Dukes of Edom, according to their habitations, in the land of their inheritance. This Esau is the father of [i] Edom.

i Of Edom came the Idumeans.

CHAP. XXXVII.

2 Joseph accuseth his brethren. 5 He dreameth and is hated of his brethren. 28 They sell him to the Ishmelites. 34 Jaakob bewayleth Joseph.

JAakob nowe dwelt in the land, wherin his father was a stranger, in the land of Canaan.

2 These are the [a] generations of Jaakob. When Joseph was seuentene yere olde: he kept cheepe with his brethren, a That is, the storie of such things as came to him and his familie, as Chap. 5, 1.

and

and the childe was with the sonnes of Bilhah, and with the sonnes of Zilpah, his fathers wiues. And Ioseph brought vnto their father their euill ‖ [b] saying.

b He complained of the euill woordes and iniuries, which they spake and did against him.

3 Nowe Israel loued Ioseph more then al his sonnes, because he begat him in his old age, and he made him a coat of many ‖ colours.

‖ Or, pieces.

4 So when his brethren sawe that their father loued him more then all his brethren, then they hated him, and could not speake peaceably vnto him.

5 ¶ And Ioseph [c] dreamed a dreame, and told his brethren, Who hated him so much the more.

c God reueiled to him by a dreame, what should come to passe.

6 For he sayd vnto them, Heare, I pray you, this dreame which I haue dreamed.

7 Behold nowe, wee were binding sheaues in the middes of the field: and lo, my sheafe arose and also stoode vpright, and beholde, your sheaues compassed round about, and did reuerence to my sheafe.

8 Then his brethren sayde to him, What, shalt thou reigne ouer vs, and rule vs? or shalt thou haue altogether dominion ouer vs? And they [d] hated him so much the more, for his dreames, and for his woordes.

d The more ỳ God sheweth himselfe fauourable to his, the more doeth the malice of the wicked rage against them.

9 ¶ Againe hee dreamed an other dreame, and tolde it his brethren, & said, Beholde, I haue had one dreame more, and behold, the Sunne and the Moone and eleuen starres did reuerence to me.

10 Then he told it vnto his father and to his brethren, and his father [e] rebuked him, and said vnto him, What is this dreame, which thou hast dreamed? shall I, and thy mother, and thy brethren come in deede and fall on the ground before thee?

e Not despising the vision, but seeking to appease his brethren.

11 And his brethren enuied him, but his father ‖ [f] noted the saying.

‖ Or, kept diligently.
f He knewe that God was author of the dreame, but he vnderstood not the meaning.

12 ¶ Then his brethren went to keepe their fathers sheepe in Shechem.

13 And Israel said vnto Ioseph, Do not thy brethren keepe in Shechem? come and I will send thee to them.

14 And he answered him, I am here. Then hee sayd vnto him, Go nowe, see whether it be well with thy brethren, and how the flocks prosper, and bring me worde againe. so hee sent him from the dale of Hebron, and he came to Shechem.

15 ¶ Then a man found him: for lo, he was wandring in the field, and the man asked him, saying, What seekest thou?

16 And he answered, I seeke my brethren: tell me, I pray thee, where they keepe [sheepe.]

17 And the man saide, They are departed hence: for I heard them say, Let vs go vnto Dothan. Then went Ioseph after his brethren, and found them in Dothan.

18 And when they saw him a farre off, euen before he came at them, they [g] conspired against him for to slay him.

g The holie Ghost coureth not mens faults, as doe latine writers which make bice bertue.

19 For they said one to another, Behold, this ‖ dreamer commeth.

‖ Or, master of dreames.

20 Come nowe therfore, and let vs slay him, and cast him into some pit, and wee will say, A wicked beast hath deuoured him: then we shall see, what will come of his dreames.

21 *But when Reuben heard [that,] he deliuered him out of their handes, and said, †Let vs not kill him.

* Chap. 42. 22.

† Ebr. let vs not smite his life.

22 Also Reuben said vnto thē, Shead not blood, [but] cast him into this pit that is in the wildernes, and lay no hand vpon him. [Thus he saide,] that he might deliuer him out of their hand, & restore him to his father againe.

23 ¶ Now when Ioseph was come vnto his brethren, they stript Ioseph out of his coat, his particoloured coat that was vpon him.

24 And they tooke him, and cast [h] him into a pit, and the pit [was] empty, without water in it.

h Their hypocrisie appeareth in this, ỳ they feared not moze thē God: and thought it was not murther, if they shed not his blood: or els had an excuse to couer their fault.

25 Then they sate them downe to eat bread: and they lift vp their eies and looked, and behold, there came a companie of Ishmeelites from Gilead, and their camels laden with spicerie, and ‖ balme, and myrrhe, and were going to carie it downe into Egypt.

‖ Or, rosen, turpentine, or triacle.

26 Then Iudah said vnto his brethrē, What auaileth it, if we slay our brother, though we keepe his blood secret?

27 Come & let vs sell him to the Ishmeelites, and let not our hands be vpon him: for he is our brother [and] our flesh: and his brethren obeyed.

Wisd. 10. 13. psal. 105. 17.

28 Then the *Midianites marchant men passed by, and they drew forth, and lift Ioseph out of the pit, and solde Ioseph vnto the [i] Ishmeelites for twentie [pieces] of siluer: who brought Ioseph into Egypt.

i Spoles writing according to the opinion of them, which tooke the Midianites and Ishmeelites to be both one, both here confounde their names: as also appeareth, verse 36. and chap. 39. 1. or els he was first offred to the Midianites, but solde to the Ishmeelites.

29 ¶ Afterward Reuben returned to the pit, and behold, Ioseph [was] not in the pit: then he rent his clothes,

30 And returned to his brethrē, & said, The child is not [yonder,] and I, whither ther shall I go.

31 And they tooke Iosephs coate, and killed a kid of the goates, and dipped the coate in the blood.

32 So they sent that particoloured coate, [k] and they brought it vnto their father, and saide, This haue wee founde: see now, whether it be thy sonnes coate, or no.

[k] To wit, the messengers which were sent.

33 Then he knewe it and sayde, [It is] my sonnes coate: a wicked beast hath *deuoured him: Ioseph is surely torne in pieces.

Chap.44.28.

34 And Iaakob rent his clothes, and put sackecloth about his loynes, and lamented for his sonne a long season.

35 Then all his sonnes and all his daughters rose vp to comfort him, but he would not be comforted, but sayde, ‖Surely I will goe downe into the graue vnto my sonne mourning: so his father wept for him.

‖Or, I will mourne for him so long as I liue.

36 And the Midianites sold him into Egypt vnto Potiphar [l] an Eunuche of Pharaohs, [and] his ‖ chiefe steward.

‖Or, captaine of the gard.

[l] Which word doth not alway signifie him that is gelded, but also him that is in some high dignitie.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

2 The marriage of Iudah, 7. 9 The trespasse of Er & Onan, and the vengeance of God vpon the same. 18 Iudah lieth with his daughter in lawe Tamar, 29. 30 The birth of Pharez & Zarah. 24 Tamar is iudged to be burnt for whoredome.

AND at that time * Iudah went downe from his brethren, and turned in to a man called Hirah an Adullamite.

* Or, he scribe, or, genealogie of Iudah: because the Messias should come of him. 1. Chro. 2. 3.

2 And Iudah sawe there the daughter of a man called * Shuah a [b] Canaanite: and he tooke her [to wife,] & went in vnto her.

[b] Which affinitie notwithstanding was condemned of God.

3 So she conceiued and bare a sonne, and he called his name Er.

4 *And she conceiued againe, & bare a sonne, and she called his name Onan.

Nom.26.19.

5 Moreouer she bare yet a sonne, whom she called Shelah: and [Iudah] was at Chezib when she bare him.

6 Then Iudah tooke a wife to Er his first borne [sonne] whose name [was] Tamar.

7 *Now Er the first borne of Iudah was wicked in the sight of the Lord: therefore the Lord slewe him.

Nom.26.19.

8 Then Iudah said to Onan, Go in vnto thy brothers wife, and do the office of a kinseman vnto her, and raise [c] vp seede vnto thy brother.

[c] This order was for ye preseruation of the stocke, that the childe begotten by the second brother should haue the name and inheritance of the first: which is in the newe Testament abolished.

9 And Onan knewe that the seede should not be his: therefore when he went in vnto his brothers wife, he spilled it on the ground, lest he should giue seede vnto his brother.

10 And it was wicked in the eyes of the Lord, which he did: wherefore he slewe him also.

11 Then saide Iudah to Tamar his daughter in Law, [d] Remaine a widow in thy fathers house, till Shelah my sonne growe vp (for he thought [thus,] Least hee die as well as his brethren.) So Tamar went and dwelt in her fathers house.

[d] For she could not marry in any other family so long as Iudah would retaine her in his.

12 ¶ And in processe of time also the daughter of Shuah Iudahs wife died. Then Iudah, when he [e] had left mourning, went vp to his sheepe sherers to Timnah, he, and his neighbour Hirah the Adullamite.

[e] Ebr. was comforted.

13 And it was tolde Tamar, saying, Behold, thy father in lawe goeth vp to Timnah, to shere his sheepe.

14 Then she put her widowes garments off from her, and couered [her] with a vaile, and wrapped her selfe, and sate downe in ‖ Pethah-enaim, which is by the way to Timnah, because she saw that Shelah was growen, and she was not giuen vnto him to wife.

‖Or, in the doore of the fountaines: or, where were two wayes.

15 When Iudah saw her, he iudged her an whore: for she had couered her face.

16 And he turned to [f] her by the way to her, and saide, Come, I pray thee, let me lie with thee, (for he [g] knewe not that she was his daughter in lawe) And she answered, What wilt thou giue me for to lie with me?

[f] God had wonderfully blinded him that he could not know her by her talke.

17 Then said he, I will send thee a kid of the goates from the flocke. and she sayde, [Well,] if thou wilt giue mee a pledge, till thou sende it.

18 Then he saide, What is the pledge that I shall giue thee? And she answered, Thy signet, and thy ‖ cloke, and thy staffe that is in thine hande. So he gaue it her, and lay by her, and she was with childe by him.

‖Or, tyre of thine head.

19 Then she rose, and went & put her vaile from her and put on her widowes rayment.

20 Afterward Iudah sent a kid of the goates by [h] his friend the Adullamite, for to receiue his pledge from the womans hand: but he found her not.

[f] That his wickednesse might not be knowen to others.

21 Then asked he [i] men of that place, saying, Where is the whore, [that sate] in Enaim by the way side? And they answered, There was no whore here.

22 Hee came therefore to Iudah againe, and saide, I can not finde her, and also the men of the place saide, There was no whore there.

23 Then Judah sayde, Let her take it to her, lest we be ‡g shamed: beholde, I sent this kid, and thou hast not found her.

‡Ebr. in contempt.
g He feareth man more then God.

24 ¶ Now after three moneths, one told Judah, saying, Tamar thy daughter in lawe hath plaied the whore, and lo, with playing the whore, she is great with childe. Then Judah saide, Bring ye her forth and let her be h burnt.

h We see that the Lawe, which was written in mans heart, taught that the whore-dome should be punished with death: albeit no lawe as yet was given.

25 When she was brought forth, she sent to her father in law, saying, By the man, vnto whome these thinges pertaine, am I with childe: and saide also, Looke, I pray thee, whose these are, the seale, and the cloke, and the staffe.

26 Then Judah knewe them, and sayde, She is i more righteous then I: for she hath done it, because I gaue her not to Shelah my sone. So he lay with her k no more.

i That is, she ought rather to accuse me then I her.
k For the honour of the sinne condemned him.

27 ¶ Now, when the time was come that she should bee deliuered, beholde, there were twinnes in her wombe.

28 And when she was in trauel, the one put out his hande: and the midwife tooke and bounde a redde threede about his hande, saying, This is come out first.

29 But when he l plucked his hande backe againe, loe, his brother came out, and the midwife sayde, Howe hast m thou broken the breach vpon thee: and his name was called *Pharez.

l Their haynous sinne was signified by this monstruous birth.
m Or, the separation betweene thee and thy brother. 1. Chron. 2. 4. matth. 1. 3.

30 And after warde came out his brother that had the redde threede about his hand, and his name was called Zarah.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 Joseph is solde to Potiphar. 2 God prospereth him. 7 Potiphars wife tempteth him. 13. 20 He is accused and cast in prison. 21 God sheweth him fauour.

NOwe Joseph was brought a downe into Egypt: and Potiphar an Eunuch of Pharaohs (and his chiefe steward an Egyptian) bought him at the hande of the Ishmeelites, which had brought him thither.

a Read Chap. 37. 36.

2 And the b Lord was with Joseph, and hee was a man that prospered and was in the house of his master the Egyptian.

b The fauour of God is the fountaine of all prosperitie.

3 And his master sawe that the Lord was with him, and that the Lord made all that he did to prosper in his hand.

4 So Joseph founde fauour in his sight, and serued him: and he made him c ruler of his house, and put all that hee had in his hand.

c Because God prospered him: and so he made religion to serue his profite.

5 And from that time d he had made him ruler ouer his house and ouer all that he had, the Lorde e blessed the Egyptians house for Josephs sake: and the blessing of the Lorde was vpon all that he had in the house, and in the field.

d The wicked are blessed by the companie of the godly.
e For he was assured that all things should prosper well: therefore he ate and dranke, and tooke no care.

6 Therefore he left all that he had in Josephs hand, f and tooke accompt of nothing, that was with him, saue onely of the bread, which hee dyd eate. And Joseph was a fayre person, and well fauoured.

f For he was assured that all things should prosper well: therefore he ate and dranke, and tooke no care.

7 ¶ Now therfore after these things, his masters wife cast her eyes vpon Joseph, and sayde, g Lye with me.

8 But he refused and saide to his masters wife, Behold, my master knoweth not what hee hath in the house with me, but hath committed all that he hath to mine hande.

g In this worde he declareth the summe whereunto all her flatteries did tende.

9 There is no man greater in this house then I: neither hath hee kept any thing from mee, but onely thee, because thou art his wife: howe then can I doe this great wickednesse and so sinne against h God?

h The feare of God preserued him against her continuall tentations.

10 And albeit she spake to Joseph day by day, yet he hearkened not vnto her, to lye with her, or to be in her company.

11 Then on a certaine day Joseph entred into the house, to doe his busines: and there was no man of the houshold in the house:

12 Therefore shee caught him by his garment, saying, Sleepe with me: but he left his garment in her hand and fled, and got him out.

13 Now whē she saw that he had left his garment in her hand, i was fled out, 14 Shee called vnto the men of her house, and tolde them, saying, Beholde, hee hath brought in an Ebrewe vnto vs to mocke vs: who came in to me for to haue slept with me: but I cryed with a loude voyce.

i Or, to doe vs villanie and shame.
k This declareth y where incontinencie is, thereunto is ioyned extreme impudencie & craft.

15 And when he heard that I lift vp my voyce and cryed, he left his garment with me, and fled away, & got him out.

16 So shee layed vp his garment by her, vntil her lord came home.

17 Then shee tolde him according to these wordes, saying, The Ebrewe seruant, which thou hast brought vnto vs, came in to me to mocke me.

l Or, after this maner.

18 But as soone as I lift vp my voyce and cryed, he left his garment with me, and fled out.

19 Then when his master heard the wordes of his wife, which she tolde him, saying saying, After this maner did thy seruant to me, his anger was kindled.

20 And Ioseph's master tooke him, & put him in [f] prison, in the place, where the kings prisoners lay bound: & there he was in prison.

21 But the Lord was with Ioseph, and [g] shewed him mercy, & got him fauor in the sight of the ‖ master of the prison.

22 And the keeper of the prison committed to Ioseph's hand all the prisoners that were in the prison, and [h] whatsoeuer they did there, that did he.

23 And the keeper of the prison looked vnto nothing that was vnder his hand, seeing that the Lord [was] with him: for whatsoeuer he did, the Lord made it to prosper.

[f] Heb. in the prison house.
[g] His cunning treatment in the prison may be gathered of the Psal. 105. 18.
[g] Ebr. inclined mercie vnto him.
‖ Or, Lord.
[h] That is, nothing was done without his commandement.

CHAP. XL.

8 The interpretation of dreames is of God. 12, 19 Ioseph expoundeth the dreames of the two prisoners. 23 The ingratitude of the butler.

AND after these things, the butler of the King of Egypt and his baker offended their lord the King of Egypt.

2 And Pharaoh was angrie against his two ‖ officers, against the chiefe butler, and against the chiefe baker.

‖ Or, eunuches, the word signifieth them that were in high estate, or them that were gelded.

3 Therefore he put them in ward in his chief stewards house, in the prison [and] place where [a] Ioseph was bound.

[a] God worketh many wonderfull meanes to deliuer his.

4 And the chief steward gaue Ioseph charge ouer them, & he serued them: and they continued a season in warde:

5 And they both dreamed a dreame, either of them his dreame in one night, [b] eche one according to the interpretation of his dreame, [both] the butler and the baker of the king of Egypt, which were bound in the prison.

[b] That is, euery dreame had his interpretation, as the thing afterward declared.

6 And when Ioseph came in vnto them in the morning, and looked vpon them, behold, they were sad.

7 And he asked Pharaohs officers, that were with him in his masters warde, saying, [‡] wherefore looke ye so sadly to day?

‡ Ebr. why are your faces euill?

8 Who answered him, We haue dreamed, [eche one] a dreame, and there is none to interpret the same. Then Ioseph said vnto them, [c] Are not interpretations of God? tell them me now.

[c] Can not God raise vp such as shall interpete such things?

9 So the chief butler told his dreame to Ioseph, and said vnto him, In my dreame, behold, a vine [was] before me,

10 And in the vine [were] three branches, and as it budded, her floure came forth: and the clusters of grapes wared ripe.

11 And I had Pharaohs cup in mine hand, & I tooke the grapes, and wrung them into Pharaohs cup, and I gaue the cup into Pharaohs hand.

12 Then Ioseph said vnto him, This [d] is the interpretation of it: The three braunches are three dayes.

[d] He was assured by the spirit of God that his interpretation was true.

13 Within three dayes shall Pharaoh lift vp thine head, and restore thee vnto thine [‡] office, and thou shalt giue Pharaohs cup into his hand after the olde maner, when thou wast his butler.

[‡] Ebr. place.

14 But haue me in remembrance with thee, when thou art in good case, & shew mercie, I pray thee, vnto me, and [e] make mention of me to Pharaoh, that thou mayest bring me out of this house.

[e] He refused not the meanes to be deliuered, which hee thought God had appointed.

15 For I was stolen away by theft out of the land of the Ebrewes, and here also haue I done nothing, wherefore they should put me ‖ in the dungeon.

‖ Or, in the pit.

16 And when the chiefe baker sawe that the interpretation was good, hee said vnto Ioseph, Also me thought in my dreame that I had three [f] white baskets on mine head.

[f] That is, made of white twigs, or, as some read, baskets full of holes.

17 And in the vppermost basket there [was] of all maner baken meates for Pharaoh: and the birdes did eate them out of the basket vpon mine head.

18 Then Ioseph answered, and said, [g] This is the interpretation thereof: The three baskets are three dayes:

[g] He sheweth that the ministers of God ought not to conceale that, which God reuealeth vnto them.

19 Within three dayes shal Pharaoh take thine head from thee, & shall hang thee on a tree, and the birdes shall eate thy flesh from of thee.

20 And so the third day, [which was] Pharaohs [h] birthday, he made a feast vnto all his seruants: and he lifted vp the head of the chiefe butler, and the head of the chiefe baker among his seruants.

[h] Which was an occasion to appoint his officers and to examine them that were in prison.

21 And he restored the chiefe butler vnto his butlership, who gaue the cup into Pharaohs hande, 22 But he hanged the chiefe baker, as Ioseph had interpreted vnto them.

23 Yet the chiefe butler did not remember Ioseph, but forgate him.

CHAP. XLI.

26 Pharaohs dreames are expounded by Ioseph. 40 Hee is made ruler ouer all Egypt. 43 Ioseph's name is changed. 50 He hath two sonnes: Manasseh and Ephraim. 54 The famine beginneth throughout the world.

AND [a] two yeres after, Pharaoh also [a] dreamed, & behold, he stoode by a riuer,

[a] Ebr. at the ende of two yeres of daies.
[a] This dreame was not so much for Pharaoh, as to be a meane to deliuer Ioseph, & to prouide for Gods Church.

2 And lo, there came out of the riuer seuē goodly kine & fatfleshed, and they fed in a ‖ medowe:

‖ Or, faire to beholde.

3 And loe, seuen other kyne came vp after them out of the riuer, euilfauoured and leane fleshed, and stoode by the [o-ther] kine vpon the bancke of the riuer.

4 And the euilfauoured and leane fleshed kine did eate vp the seuen welfauoured & fat kine: so Pharaoh awoke.

5 Againe hee slept, and dreamed the [b] second time: and beholde, seuen eares of corne grewe vpon one stalke, ranke and goodly.

6 And lo, seuen thinne eares, & blasted with ỹ East Wind, sprang vp after them:

7 And the thinne eares deuoured the seuen ranke and full eares. Then Pharaoh awaked, and lo, [it was] a dreame.

8 Now when the morning came, his spirit was [c] troubled: therefore he sent & called all the soothsayers of Egypt, and all the wise men thereof, and Pharaoh told them his dreames: but [d] none could interpret them to Pharaoh.

9 Then spake the chiefe butler vnto Pharaoh, saying, I [e] call to minde my faultes this day.

10 Pharaoh being angrie with his seruantes, put me in ward in the chiefe stewards house, [both] me and the chiefe baker.

11 Then we dreamed a dreame in one night, [both] I, and he: we dreamed ech man according to the interpretation of his dreame.

12 And there [was] with vs a yong man, an Ebrew, seruant vnto the chiefe steward, whom when we told, he declared our dreames to *vs, to euery one he declared according to his dreame.

13 And as hee declared vnto vs, so it came to passe: [for] hee restored mee to mine office, and hanged him.

14 *Then sent Pharaoh, and [f] called Ioseph, and they brought him hastily out of prison, and he shaued him, & changed his rayment, and came to Pharaoh.

15 Then Pharaoh said to Ioseph, I haue dreamed a dreame, & no man can interprete it, and I haue heard say of thee, [that when] thou hearest a dreame, thou canst interprete it.

16 And Ioseph answered Pharaoh, saying, [g] Without me God shall [‡] answer for the wealth of Pharaoh.

17 And Pharaoh sayd vnto Ioseph, In my dreame, behold, I stoode by the bancke of the riuer:

18 And lo, there came vp out of ỹ riuer seuen fat fleshed, and welfauoured kine, and they fed in the medowe.

19 Also lo, seuen other kine came vp after them, poore and very [‡] euilfauoured, and leane fleshed: I neuer sawe the like in all the land of Egypt, for euilfauoured.

20 And the leane and euilfauoured kine did eate vp the first seuen fat kine.

21 And when they [‡] had eaten them vp, it could not be knowen that they had eaten them, but they were still as euilfauoured, as they were at the beginning: so did I awake.

22 Moreouer I saw in my dreame, & beholde, seuen eares sprang out of one stalke, full and faire.

23 And loe, seuen eares, withered, thinne, [and] blasted with ỹ East winde, sprang vp after them.

24 And the thinne eares deuoured the seuen good eares. Now I haue told the soothsayers, and none can declare it vnto me.

25 ¶ Then Ioseph answered Pharaoh, [h] [both] Pharaohs dreames are one. God hath shewed Pharaoh, what he is about to do.

26 The seuen good kine are seuen yeeres, and the seuen good eares are seuen yeeres: this is one dreame.

27 Likewise the seuen thinne and euilfauoured kine, that came out after them, are seuen yeeres: and the seuen emptie eares blasted with ỹ East Wind, are seuen yeres of famine.

28 This is the thing which I haue said vnto Pharaoh, ỹ God hath shewed vnto Pharaoh, what he is about to do.

29 Behold, there come seuen yeres of great ‖ plentie in all the land of Egypt.

30 Againe, there shall arise after thē seuen yeres of famine, so that all ỹ plentie shalbe forgotte in the land of Egypt, and the famine shall consume the land:

31 Neither shal the plentie be knowē in the land, by reason of this famine that [shall come] after: for it shalbe exceeding great.

32 And therfore the dreame was doubled vnto Pharaoh the second time, because the thing is established by God, & God hasteth to performe it.

33 Now therefore let Pharaoh [i] prouide for a man of vnderstanding & wisedome, and set him ouer ỹ land of Egypt.

34 Let Pharaoh make and appoint officers ouer the land, & take vp the fifth part of the land of Egypt in the seuen plenteous yeres.

35 Also let them gather all the foode of these good yeeres that come, & lay vp corne vnder the hande of Pharaoh for foode, b All these meanes God vsed to deliuer his seruant, & to bring him into fauour & autozitie.

c This feare was inough to teach him, that this vision was sent of God.

d The wise of the world vnderstand not Gods secrets, but to his seruants his will is reuealed.

e He confesseth his fault against ỹ king, before he speak of Ioseph.

36 So the foode shall be for the prouision of the lande, against the seuen yeeres of famine, which shall bee in the lande of Egypt, that the lande perish not by famine.
37 ¶ And the saying pleased Pharaoh and all his seruants.
38 Then saide Pharaoh vnto his seruants, Can we find [such] a man as this, in whom [is] the [k] Spirit of God?
39 Then Pharaoh saide to Ioseph, Forasmuch as God hath shewed thee all this, there is no man of vnderstanding, or of wisedome like vnto thee.
40 *Thou shalt be ouer mine house, and at thy ‡ worde shall all my people be armed, onely in the kings throne will I be aboue thee.
41 Moreouer Pharaoh saide to Ioseph, Beholde, I haue set thee ouer all the lande of Egypt.
42 And Pharaoh tooke off his ‖ ring from his hand, and put it vpon Iosephs hande, and arayed him in garmentes of fine linen, and put a golden chaine about his necke.
43 So he set him vpon the ‡ best charet that he had, saue one: and they cried before him, [m] Abrech, and placed him ouer all the land of Egypt.
44 Againe Pharaoh saide vnto Ioseph, I am Pharaoh, and without thee shall no man lift vp his hand or his foote in all the lande of Egypt.
45 And Pharaoh called Iosephs name ‖ Zaphnath-paaneah: and hee gaue him to wife Aseneth the daughter of Poti-pherah ‖ Prince of On. then went Ioseph abrode in the lande of Egypt.
46 ¶ And Ioseph [was] [n] thirtie yere old when he stood before Pharaoh king of Egypt: and Ioseph departing from the presence of Pharaoh, went throughout all the land of Egypt.
47 And in the seuen plenteous yeres the earth ‡ brought forth store.
48 And he gathered vp al the food of the seuen plenteous yeeres, which were in the land of Egypt, and layed vp foode in the cities: the foode of the fielde, that was rounde about [euery] citie, laide he vp in the same.
49 So Ioseph gathered wheat, like vnto the sand of the sea in multitude out of measure, vntill he left numbring: for [it was] without number.
50 Nowe vnto Ioseph were borne * two sonnes (before the yeeres of famine came) which Aseneth the daughter of Poti-pherah prince of On bare vnto him.
51 And Ioseph called the name of the first borne Manasseh: for God, [said he,] hath made me forget all my labour, and all my ° fathers housholde.
52 Also he called the name of the seconde, Ephraim: for God, [said he,] hath made me fruitfull in the land of mine affliction.
53 ¶ So the seuen yeeres of the plentie that was in the lande of Egypt were ended.
54 *Then beganne the seuen yeeres of famine to come, according as Ioseph had sayde: and the famine was in all landes, but in all the land of Egypt was ‖ bread.
55 At the length all the land of Egypt was affamished, and the people cried to Pharaoh for bread. And Pharaoh sayd vnto all the Egyptians, Goe to Ioseph: what he saith to you, do ye.
56 When the famine was vpon al the lande, Ioseph opened al [places, wherin the store was] and solde vnto the Egyptians: for the famine waxed sore in the land of Egypt.
57 And all countries ‖ came to Egypt to bye corne of Ioseph, because the famine was sore in all lands.

17 So her put them in warde three dayes.

21 And they saide one to another, [f] We haue verily sinned against our brother, in that we sawe the anguish of his soule, when he besought vs, & we would not heare [him:] therefore is this trouble come vpon vs.

22 And Reuben answered them, saying, Warned I not you, saying, [*] Sinne not agaynst the childe, and yee would not heare: and loe, his [§] blood is now required.

25 So Ioseph commaunded that they should fil their sackes with wheat, and put euery mans money againe in his sacke, and giue them vitaile for the iourney: and thus did he vnto them.

26 And they layed their vitaile vpon their asses, and departed thence.

27 And as one of them opened his sacke for to giue his asse prouender in the ynne, he espyed his money: for loe, it was in his sackes mouth.

3 And in the [‡] morning the men were sent away, they, and their asses.

4 And when they went out of the citie not farre of, Ioseph said to his stewarde, Vp, followe after the men: and when thou doest ouertake them, say vnto them, wherefore haue ye rewarded euill for good?

b Because the people thought he coulde deuine, he attributeth to himselfe that knowledge: or else he faineth that he consulted with soothsayers for it: which simulation is worthie to be reproued.

5 Is that not [the cup,] wherein my Lorde drinketh? [b] and in the which he doeth deuine & prophecie? ye haue done euill in so doing.

6 ¶ And when he ouertooke them, he saide those wordes vnto them.

7 And they answered him, wherefore saith my lorde such words? God forbid that thy seruãts should do such a thing.

8 Beholde, the money which wee fonnd in our sacks mouthes, we brought againe to thee out of the lande of Canaan: howe then shoulde we steale out of thy lordes house siluer, or gold?

9 With whomsoeuer of thy seruants it be founde, let him die, and we also will be my lordes bondmen.

10 And he said, Now then let it be according vnto your words: he with whõ it is found, shalbe my seruant, & ye shall be [‡] blameles.

11 Then at once euery man tooke downe his sacke to the ground, and euery one opened his sacke.

12 And he searched, and beganne at the eldest and left at the yongest: and the cuppe was found in Beniamins sacke.

c To signifie how greatly the thing displeased them, and how sory they were for it.

13 Then they [c] rent their clothes, and laded euery man his asse, & went againe vnto the citie.

14 ¶ So Iudah and his brethren came to Iosephs house (for he [was] yet there) and they fell before him on the grounde.

15 Then Ioseph said vnto thẽ, what acte is this, which ye haue done? knowe ye not that such a man as I, can deuine and prophecie?

d If we see no euident cause of our afflictiõ, let vs looke to the secret counsel of god, who punisheth vs iustly for our sinnes.

16 Then said Iudah, what shall we say vnto my lorde? what shall we speake? & howe can we iustifie our selues? [d] God hath founde out the wickednesse of thy seruants: beholde, we [are] seruants to my lorde, both we, and he, with whome the cup is found.

17 But he answered, God forbid, that I shoulde doe so, [but] the man, with whome the cuppe is founde, he shall be my seruant, & goe ye in peace vnto your father.

e He was not ashamed of his father and kinred, though they were of base condition.

32 And the men [are] e shepheards, & because they are shepheards, they haue brought their sheepe & their cattel, and all that they haue.

33 And if Pharaoh shall call you, and alke you, what is your trade?

34 Then ye shall say, Thy seruants are men occupied about cattell, from our childhoode euen vnto this time, both we and our fathers: that yee may dwell in the lande of Goshen: for euerie sheepe keeper is an f abhomination vnto the Egyptians.

f God suffereth the worlde to hate his, that they may forsake the filth of the worlde, and cleaue to him.

THen came Ioseph and tolde Pharaoh, and saide, My father, and my brethren, & their sheepe, and their cattel, and all that they haue, are come out of the land of Canaan, and beholde, they are in the land of Goshen.

2 And Ioseph tooke part of his brethren, [euen] a fiue men, and presented them vnto Pharaoh.

a That the king might be assured they were come, and see what maner of people they were.

3 Then Pharaoh saide vnto his brethren, What is your trade? And they answered Pharaoh, Thy seruants [are] shepherdes, both we and our fathers.

4 They saide moreouer vnto Pharaoh, For to sojourne in the land are we come: for thy seruants haue no pasture for [their] sheepe, so sore is the famine in the land of Canaan. Now therefore, we pray thee, let thy seruants dwell in the land of Goshen.

5 Then spake Pharaoh to Ioseph, saying, Thy father and thy brethren are come vnto thee.

6 The b land of Egypt is before thee: in the best place of the land make thy father and thy brethren dwell: let them dwel in the land of Goshen: and if thou knowest that there bee men of actiuitie among them, make them rulers ouer my cattell.

b Ioseph's great modestie appeareth in that he would enterprise nothing without the kings commandement.

7 Ioseph also brought Iaakob his father, & set him before Pharaoh. And Iaakob ‡ saluted Pharaoh.

‡ Ebr. blessed.

8 Then Pharaoh said vnto Iaakob, * Howe olde art thou?

10 And Iaakob ‡ tooke leaue of Pharaoh, and departed from the presence of Pharaoh.

11 ¶ And Ioseph placed his father, & his brethren, and gaue them possession in the lande of Egypt, in the best of the land [euen] in the land of c Rameses, as Pharaoh had commanded.

12 And Ioseph nourished his father, & his brethren, & all his fathers houshold with bread, d euen to the yong children.

13 ¶ Nowe there was no bread in all the land: for the famine [was] exceeding sore: so that the land of Egypt, and the land of Canaan were ‡ famished by reason of the famine.

14 And Ioseph gathered all the money, that was found in ỹ land of Egypt, and in the land of Canaan, for the corne which they bought, and e Ioseph layde vp the money in Pharaohs house.

15 So when money failed in the land of Egypt, & in the land of Canaan, then all the Egyptians came vnto Ioseph, & said, Giue vs bread: for why should we die before thee? for our money is spent.

16 Then said Ioseph, Bring your cattell, and I will giue you for your cattell, if [your] money be spent.

17 So they brought their cattell vnto Ioseph, and Ioseph gaue them bread for the horses, & for the flockes of sheepe, and for the heards of cattell, and for the asses: so he fed them with bread for all their cattell that yere.

18 But whē the yere was ended, they came vnto him the next yere, and saide vnto him, We will not hide frō my lord, that since our money is spent, and my lord hath the heardes of the cattell, there is nothing left in the sight of my lord, but our bodies and our ground.

19 Why shall wee perish in thy sight, both we, and our f land? bye vs and our land for bread, and we and our land will be bond to Pharaoh: therefore giue vs seede, that we may liue and not die, and that the land go not to waste.

20 So Ioseph bought all the land of Egypt for Pharaoh: for the Egyptians sold euery man his ground because the famine was sore vpon them: so the land became Pharaohs.

21 And he g remoued the people vnto the cities, ‡ from one side of Egypt euen to the other.

22 Onely the land of ỹ Priests bought he not: for the Priests had an ordinarie of Pharaoh, and they did eate their ordinarie, which Pharaoh gaue them: wherefore they sold not their ground.

23 Then Ioseph said vnto the people, Behold, I haue bought you this day, & your land for Pharaoh: lo, [here is] seed for you: sowe therefore the ground.

24 And of the encrease ye shal giue the fift part vnto Pharaoh, and foure parts shalbe yours for the seed of the field, and for your meate, & for them of your housholdes, and for your children to eate.

25 Then they answered, Thou hast saued our liues: let vs finde grace in the sight of my lord, & we will be Pharaohs seruants.

26 Then Ioseph made it a law ouer the lande of Egypt vnto this day, that Pharaoh should haue the fift [part] h except the land of the priests onely, which was not Pharaohs.

27 ¶ And Israel i dwelt in the land of Egypt, in the countrey of Goshen: and they had their possessions therein, and grew and multiplied exceedingly.

28 Moreouer, Iaakob liued in the land of Egypt seuenteene yeeres, so that the whole age of Iaakob [was] an hundreth fourtie and seuen yeere.

29 Now when the time drewe neere that Israel must die, he called his sonne Ioseph, and saide vnto him, If I haue now found grace in thy sight, * put thine hand now vnder my thigh, & deale mercifully and truely with me: bury me not, I pray thee, in Egypt, 30 But when I shall k sleepe with my fathers, thou shalt carie mee out of Egypt, and burie me in their buriall. And he answered, I wil do as thou hast said.

31 Then he saide, Sweare vnto mee. And hee sware vnto him. And Israel k worshipped towarde the beds head.

CHAP. XLIX.

1 Iaakob blesseth all his sonnes by name, and sheweth thē what is to come. 10 He telleth them that Christ shal come out of Iudah. 29 He will be buryed with his fathers. 33 He dieth.

THEN Iaakob called his sonnes, & saide, Gather your selues together, that I may tell you what shall come to you in the a last dayes.

a When God shall bring you out of Egypt: And because þ he speaketh of the Messias, he nameth it the last dayes.

2 Gather your selues together, and heare, ye sonnes of Iaakob, and hearkē vnto Israel your father.

b Begotten in my youth.

‖Or, it ceassed.

5 ¶ Simeon and Leui, brethren [in euill,] the ‖ instruments of crueltie [are] in their habitations.

‖Or, their swordes were instruments of violence.

6 Vnto their secrete let not my soule come: my c glorie, bee not thou ioyned with their assemblie: for in their wrath they slewe a c man, and in their selfe will they digged downe a wall.

d Or, tongue: meaning, þ he neither consented to them in woorde nor thought.

7 Cursed bee their wrath, for it was fierce, and their rage, for it was cruel: I will f deuide them in Iaakob, and scatter them in Israel.

g As was verified in Dauid and Christ.

9 Iudah, [as] a Lions whelpe shalt thou come vp from the spoile, my sonne.

E.ii. He

He shall lye downe [and] couch as a Lion, and as a Lioneſſe. h who shall stirre him vp?

10 The ‖ scepter shall not depart from Iudah, nor a lawegiuer from betweene his feete, vntill i Shiloh come, and the people [shall be] gathered vnto him.

11 He shall bind his asse foale vnto the k vine, & his asses colt vnto the best vine. he shall wash his garment in wine, and his cloke in the blood of grapes.

12 His eies [shalbe] red with wine, and his teeth white with milke.

13 ¶ Zebulun shall dwell by the sea side, & he [shall be] an hauen for shippes: and his border [shalbe] vnto Zidon.

14 ¶ Iſſachar [shalbe] ‡ a strong asse, couching downe betweene two burdens:

15 And he shall see that rest is good, & that the lande is pleasant, and hee shall bowe his shoulder to beare, and shall be subiect vnto tribute.

16 ¶ Dan m shall iudge his people as one of the tribes of Israel.

17 Dan shalbe a serpent by ṗ way, an adder by ṗ path, biting the horse heeles, so that his rider shall fall backe warde.

18 ° O Lorde, I haue waited for thy saluation.

19 ¶ Gad, an host of men shall ouercome him, but he shal ouercome at ṗ last.

20 ¶ Concerning Asher, his p bread [shall be] fat, and he shall giue pleasures for a king.

21 ¶ Naphtali [shall be] a hinde let goe, giuing q goodly words.

22 ¶ Ioseph [shall be] ‡ a fruitfull bough, [euen] a fruitfull bough by the well side: the ‡ inal boughs shal run vp on the wall.

23 ‡ And the archers grieued him, and shot [against him,] and hated him.

24 But his bowe abode strong, & the hands of his armes were strengthened, by the handes of the mightie [God] of Iaakob, of whom [was] the feeder [appointed by] the f stone of Israel,

25 [Euen] by the God of thy father, who shall helpe thee, & by the almightie, who shal blesse thee with heauenly blessings from aboue, with blessings of the deepe, that lieth beneath, with blessings of the breastes, and of the wombe.

26 The blessings of thy father shalbe t stronger then the blessings of mine elders: vnto the ende of the hilles of the world: they shalbe on ṗ head of Ioseph, and on the toppe of the head of him that was u separate from his brethren.

27 ¶ Beniamin shall rauine [as] a Wolfe: in ṗ morning he shall deuoure the pray, & at night he shal deuide the spoyle.

28 ¶ All these are the twelue tribes of Israel, and thus their father spake vnto them, and blessed them: euery one of the blessed he with a seuerall blessing.

29 And he charged them & saide vnto them, I am readie to be gathered vnto my people: * burie mee with my fathers in the caue that is in the fielde of Ephron the Hittite, 30 In the caue that is in the fielde of Machpelah besides Mamre in the lande of Canaan: which [caue] Abraham bought with the fielde of Ephron the Hittite for a possession to burie in.

31 There they buried Abraham and Sarah his wife: there they buried Iszhak and Rebekah his wife: and there I buried Leah.

32 The purchase of the fielde and the caue that is therein, [was bought] of the children of Heth.

33 Thus Iaakob made an ende of giuing charge to his sonnes, and * plucked vp his feete into the bed and gaue vp the ghost, and was gathered to his people.

12 Iaakob is buried. 19 Ioseph forgiueth his brethren. 23 He seeth his childrens children. 25 He dyeth.

THen Ioseph fell vpon his fathers face & wept vpon him, and kissed him.

2 And Ioseph commanded his seruantes the a physitions, to embaume his father, and the physitions embaumed Israel.

a He meaneth them that embaumed the dead and buried them.

3 So fourtie dayes were accomplished (for so long did ṗ dayes of them that were embaumed last) & the Egyptians bewayled him b seuentie dayes.

b They were more excellue in lamenting the the faithfull.

4 And when ṗ daies of his mourning were past, Ioseph spake to the house of Pharaoh, saying, If I haue now found fauour in your eyes, speake, I pray you, in the eares of Pharaoh, and say,

5 My father made me * to sweare, saying, Loe, I die, bury me in my graue, which I haue made mee in the lande of Canaan: now therfore let me go, I pray thee, and bury my father, and I will come againe.

Chap. 47. 29.

6 Then Pharaoh said, Go by & bury thy father, c as he made thee to sweare.

c The very idolels would haue othes performed.

CHAP. I.

2 The children of Iaakob that came into Egypt. 8 The newe Pharaoh oppresseth them. 12 The prouidence of God toward them. 15 The Kings commandement to the midwiues. 22 The sonnes of the Ebrewes are commanded to be cast into the riuer.

Gen.46.8.

a Moses describeth the wonderfull order that God obserueth in performing his promes to Abraham, Gen.15.14.

NOwe * [a] these are the names of the children of Israel, which came into Egypt (euery man & his houshold came [thither] with Iaakob)

2 Reuben, Simeon, Leui, & Iudah,
3 Issachar, Zebulun, and Beniamin, 4 Dan, and Naphtali, Gad, & Asher.
5 So all the ‖ soules, that came out of the loynes of Iaakob, were * seuentie soules: Ioseph was in Egypt alreadie.

‖ Or, persons. Gen.46.27. deut.10.22.

6 Now Ioseph died and all his brethren, and that whole generation.

Acts.7.17. ‖ Or, did grow.

7 ¶ And the * children of Israel ‖ brought forth fruit and encreased in abundance, and were multiplied, & were exceeding mightie, so that the [b] land was full of them.

b He meaneth the countrey of Gothen.

8 Then there rose vp a new King in Egypt, who [c] knew not Ioseph.

c He considered not how God had preserued Egypt for Iosephs sake.

9 And he said vnto his people, Behold, the people of the children of Israel [are] greater and mightier then we.
10 Come, let vs worke wisely with them, lest they multiplie, and it come to passe, that if there be warre, they ioyne themselues also vnto our enemies, and fight against vs, and [d] ‖ get them out of the land.

d Into Canaan, and so we shall lose our commoditie. ‖ Or, go vp out of the land.

11 Therefore did they set taskmasters ouer them, to keepe them vnder with burdens: and they built the cities Pithom and Raamses for the ‖ treasures of Pharaoh.

‖ Or, corne and prouision.

12 But the more they vexed them, the more they multiplied and grew: therefore they were more grieued against the children of Israel.

e The more that God bleseth his, the more doeth the wicked enuy them.

13 Wherefore the Egyptians by crueltie caused the children of Israel to serue.
14 Thus they made them wearie of their liues by sore labour in clay and in bricke, and in all worke in the field, with all maner of bondage, ‡ which they layd vpon them most cruelly.

‡ Heb. wherwith they serued themselues of them by crueltie.

15 ¶ Moreouer the king of Egypt commaded [f] the midwiues of the Ebrewe women, (of which the ones name was [f] Shiphrah, & the name of the other Puah)
16 And said, * when ye do the office of a midwife to the wome of the Ebrewes and see them on their ‖ stooles, if it be a sonne, then ye shall kill him: but if it be a daughter, then let her liue.

Wisd.18.5.

‖ Or, seates whereupon they sate in trauel.

17 Notwithstanding the midwiues feared God, and did not as the king of Egypt commanded them, but preserued alue the men children.
18 Then the king of Egypt called for the midwiues, & said vnto them, why haue ye done thus, and haue preserued alue the men children?
19 And the midwiues answered Pharaoh, Because the Ebrews wome [are] not as the women of Egypt: for they are liuely, & are deliuered yer the midwife come at them.

g Their disobedience here in was lawfull, but their dissembling euil.

20 God therefore prospered the midwiues, and the people multiplied & were very mightie.

h That is, God increased the families of the Israelites by their meanes.

21 And because the midwiues feared God, therefore he [h] made them houses.
22 Then Pharaoh charged all his people, saying, Euery man childe that is borne, [i] cast ye into the riuer, but reserue euery maide childe alue.

i When tyrants can not preuail by craft they haste forth into open rage.

CHAP. II.

2 Moses is borne and cast into the flagges. 5 Hee is taken vp of Pharaohs daughter and kept. 12 He killeth the Egyptian. 15 He fleeth and marrieth a wife. 23 The Israelites erie vnto the Lord.

THen there went a [a] man of the house of Leui, and tooke [to] wife a daughter of Leui, 2 And the woman conceiued and bare a sonne: and when shee sawe that hee was faire, * shee hid him three moneths.

a This Leuite was called Amram, who married Iochabed, Chap. 6.20.

Nom.26.59. 1.chro.23.13. act.7.20.hebr. 11.23.

3 But when she could no longer hide him, she tooke for him an arke [made] of reede, & daubed it w slime & with pitche, & [b] laid the childe therin, & put [it] among the bulrushes by the riuers brinke.

b Committing him to the prouidence of God, whome thee could not keepe from the rage of the tyrant.

4 Now his sister stood a farre off, to wit what would come of him.
5 ¶ Then the daughter of Pharaoh came downe to wash her in the riuer, and her maidens walked by the riuers side: and when she sawe the arke among the bulrushes, she sent her maid to fet it.
6 Then she opened it, and sawe it was a childe: & beholde, the babe wept: so she had compassion on it, and said, This is one one of the Ebrewes children.

7 Then said his sister vnto Pharaohs daughter, Shall I go and cal vnto thee a nurce of the Ebrewe women to nurce the childe?

8 And Pharaohs daughter saide to her, Goe. So the maide went and called the [c] childes mother.

[a] Mans counsel cannot hinder that, which God hath determined shall come to passe.

9 To whome Pharaohs daughter saide, take this childe away, and nurce it for me, and I will reward thee. Thē the woman tooke the child and nurced him.

10 Nowe the childe grewe, and shee brought him vnto Pharaohs daughter, and he was as her sonne, and she called his name Moses, because, saide shee, I drewe him out of the water.

11 ¶ And in those dayes, when Moses was [d] growen, he went foorth vnto his brethren, and looked on their burdens: also he sawe an Egyptian smiting an Ebrewe one of his brethren.

[d] That is, was fourtie yeere olde, Act.7.23.

12 And he looked [‡] rounde about, and when he sawe no man, he [e] slewe ỹ Egyptian, and hid him in the sande.

[‡] Ebr. thus and thus.

[e] Being assured that God had appointed him to deliuer the Israelites, Act.7.25.

13 Againe he came forth ỹ second day, and behold, two Ebrewes stroue: and he said vnto him that did ỹ wrong, Wherefore smitest thou thy fellowe?

14 And he answered, Who made thee a man of authoritie and a iudge ouer vs? Thinkest thou to kil me, as thou killedst the Egyptian? Then Moses [f] feared and sayde, Certainely this thing is knowen.

[f] Though by his feare hee shewed his infirmitie, yet faith couered it, Heb.11.27.

15 Nowe Pharaoh heard this matter, and sought to slay Moses: therefore Moses fled from Pharaoh, and dwelt in the lande of Midian, & he sate downe by a well.

16 And the ‖ Priest of Midian had seuen daughters, which came and drewe [water,] and filled the troughs, for to water their fathers sheepe.

‖ Or, prince.

17 Then the shepheardes came and droue them away: but Moses rose vp and [‡] defended them, and watered their sheepe.

‡ Ebr. saued them.

18 And whē they came to Reuel their ‖ father, hee sayde, Howe are yee come so soone to day?

‖ Or, grandfather.

19 And they said, A man of Egypt deliuered vs from the hande of the shepheards, & also drewe vs water ynough, and watered the sheepe.

[g] Wherein he declared a thankful minde, which woulde reccōpence the benefite done vnto his.

20 Then hee sayde vnto his daughters, And where is he? Why haue ye so left the man? call him that he may eat bread.

21 And Moses agreed to dwell with the man: who gaue vnto Moses Zipporah his daughter:

22 And she bare a sōne, *whose name he called Gershom: for he saide, I haue bene a stranger in a strange land. Chap.18.3.

23 ¶ Then in processe of time, the king of Egypt dyed, and the children of Israel sighed for the bondage and cryed: and their crie for the bondage came vp vnto God.

[h] God humbleth his by afflictions, that they should cry vnto him, and receiue the fruite of his promes.

24 Then God heard their mone, & God remēbred his couenant with Abraham, Izhak, and Iaakob.

25 So God looked vpon the children of Israel, and God [i] had respect vnto them.

[i] He iudged their cause: or, acknowledged them to be his.

2 Then the Angell of the Lorde appeared vnto him in * a flame of fire, out of the middes of a [c] bush: and he looked, and beholde, the bush burned with fire, and the bush was not consumed.

[c] This signifieth that the Church is not consumed by the fire of afflictions, because God is in the middes thereof.

3 Therefore Moses sayde, I will turne aside nowe, & see this great sight, why the bush burneth not.

4 And when the [d] Lorde sawe that he turned aside to see, God called vnto him out of the middes of the bush, and saide, Moses, Moses. And he answered, I am here.

[e] Resigne thy selfe vp to me, Ruth.4.7. Iosu.5.15.

[f] Because of my presence, Mat.22.32. Act.7.33.

6 Moreouer he sayd, *I am the God of thy father, the God of Abraham, the God of Izhak, & the God of Iaakob. Then Moses hid his face: for he was [g] afraid to looke vpon God.

[g] For sinne causeth man to feare Gods iustice.

7 ¶ Then the Lorde saide, I haue surely seene the trouble of my people, which are in Egypt, & haue heard their crie, because of their [h] taskemasters: for I knowe their sorowes.

[h] Whose crueltie was intolerable.

8 Therefore I am come downe to deliuer them out of the hande of the Egyptians, and to bring them out of that lande into a good lande and a large, into a land that [i] floweth with milke and hony, [euen] into ỹ place of ỹ Canaanites,

[i] Most plentifull of all things.

and

and the Hittites, and the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Hiuites, and the Iebusites.

k He heard before, but nowe he would reuenge it.

9 k And nowe loe, the crie of the children of Israel is come vnto me, and I haue also seene the oppression, wherewith the Egyptians oppresse them.

10 Come nowe therefore, and I will send thee vnto Pharaoh, that thou mayest bring my people ỹ children of Israel out of Egypt.

l He doeth not fully disobey God, but acknowledgeth his own weakenesse.

m Neyther feare thine owne weakenes, nor Pharaohs tyrannie.

11 ¶ But Moses said vnto God, Who am l I, that I should go vnto Pharaoh, and that I should bring the children of Israel out of Egypt?

12 And he answered, m Certainely I will be with thee: and this shall be a token vnto thee, that I haue sent thee, After that thou hast brought the people out of Egypt, yee shall serue God vpon this Mountaine.

13 Then Moses sayde vnto God, Behold, [when] I shall come vnto the children of Israel, and shall say vnto them, The God of your fathers hath sent me vnto you: if they say vnto mee, what is his Name? what shall I saye vnto them?

n The God which haue euer bene, am, & shalbe: the God almightie, by whō all things haue their being, & the God of mercy mind full of my promises, Reuel. 1.4.

14 And God answered Moses, n I AM THAT I AM. Also he said, Thus shalt thou say vnto ỹ children of Israel, I AM hath sent me vnto you.

15 And God spake further vnto Moses, Thus shalt thou say vnto the children of Israel, The Lorde God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Izhak, and the God of Iaakob hath sent mee vnto you: this is my Name for euer, and this is my memorial vnto all ages.

16 Goe and gather the Elders of Israel together, and thou shalt say vnto them, The Lorde God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, Izhak, and Iaakob appeared vnto me, & sayde, ‡ I haue surely remembred you, and that which is done to you in Egypt.

‡ Ebr. in visiting haue visited.

17 Therefore I dyd say, I will bring you out of the affliction of Egypt vnto the land of the Canaanites, and the Hittites, and the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Hiuites, and the Iebusites, vnto a lande that floweth with milke and honie.

18 Then shall they obey thy voyce, & thou and the Elders of Israel shall goe vnto the King of Egypt, and say vnto him, The Lord God of ỹ Ebrewes hath ‖ met with vs: We pray thee nowe therefore, let vs go three dayes iourney in the wildernes, that we may o sacrifice vnto the Lord our God.

o Because Egypt was full of Idolatrie, God would appoint them a place where they should serue him purely.

19 ¶ But I knowe, that the King of Egypt will not let you goe, but by strong hand.

20 Therefore wil I stretch out mine hande and smite Egypt with all my wonders, which I will doe in the middes thereof: and after that shall he let you goe.

21 And I will make this people to be fauoured of the Egyptians: so that whē ye go, ye shall not goe emptie.

p This example may not be followed generally: though at Gods commandement they do it iustly, receiuing some recompence of their labours. Chap. 11. 2. and 12. 35.

CHAP. IIII.

3 Moses rodde is turned into a serpent. 6 His hande is leprous. 9 The water of the riuer is turned into blood. 14 Aaron is giuen to helpe Moses. 21 God hardeneth Pharaoh. 25 Moses wife circumciseth her sonne. 27 Aaron meeteth with Moses, & they come to the Israelites, and are beleeued.

a God beareth with Moses bouting, because he was not altogether without faith.

THen Moses answered, and sayde, a But loe, they will not beleeue me, nor hearken vnto my voyce: for they will say, The Lord hath not appeared vnto thee.

2 And the Lord said vnto him, what is that in thine hand? And he answered, A rodde.

3 Then said he, Cast it on the ground. So he cast it on the grounde, and it was [turned] into a serpent: and Moses fled from it.

4 Againe the Lorde sayd vnto Moses, Put forth thine hand, and take it by the taile. Then he put forth his hande and caught it, and it was [turned] into a rodde in his hand.

b This power to worke miracles was to confirme his doctrine, and to assure him of his vocation.

5 [Do this] b that they may beleeue, that the Lord God of their fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Izhak, and the God of Iaakob hath appeared vnto thee.

6 ¶ And the Lord sayd furthermore vnto him, Thrust nowe thine hande into thy bosome. And he thrust his hande into his bosome, & when he tooke it out [againe,] beholde, his hande was ‖ leprous as snowe.

‖ Or, white as snowe.

7 Moreouer he sayd, Put thine hand into thy bosome againe. So he put his hande into his bosome againe, & pluckt it out of his bosome, and beholde, it was turned turned againe as his [other] flesh.

8 So shall it be, if they will not beleeue thee, neither obey ‖ the voyce of the first signe, yet shall they beleeue for the voyce of the second signe.

‖Or, the words confirmed by the first signe.

9 But if they will not yet beleeue these two signes, neither obey vnto thy voice, then shalt thou take of the c water of the riuer, and powre it vpon the drie land: so the water which thou shalt take out of the riuer, shalbe [turned] to blood vpon the drie land.

c Because these three signes should be sufficient witnesses to proue that Moses should deliuer Gods people.

10 ¶ But Moses said vnto the Lord, Oh my Lorde, I am not eloquent, ‡neither at any time [haue bene,] nor yet since thou hast spoken vnto thy seruant: but I am ‡ slowe of speach and slowe of tongue.

Mat. 10. 19. and 12. 22.

12 Therefore go nowe, and * I will be with thy mouth, and will teach thee what thou shalt say.

13 But he sayd, Oh my Lorde, sende, I pray thee by the ‖ hand [of him,] who thou d shouldest send.

d That is, of the Pellias: or some other, that is more meete then I. e Though we prouoke God iustly to anger, yet he will neuer reiect vs.

14 Then the Lord was e very angry with Moses, and sayd, Do not I know Aaron thy brother the Leuite, that hee himselfe shall speake? for lo, he commeth also forth to meete thee, and when he seeth thee, he will be glad in his heart.

15 Therefore thou shalt speake vnto him, and f put the wordes in his mouth, and I will be with thy mouth, and with his mouth, and will teach you what ye ought to do.

f Thou shalt instruct him what to say.

16 And he shalbe thy spokesman vnto the people: and he shall be, [euen] he shall be as thy mouth, and thou shalt be to him as * g God.

Chap. 7. 1.
g Meaning, as a wise counseller and full of Gods spirit.

17 Moreouer thou shalt take this rod in thine hand, wherewith thou shalt do miracles.

18 ¶ Therefore Moses went and returned to Jethro his father in law, and sayde vnto him, I pray thee, let me goe, and returne to ‖ my brethren, which are in Egypt, and see whether they be yet aliue. Then Jethro sayde to Moses, Goe in peace.

‖Or, kinsfolke, and linage.

19 (For the Lord had sayd vnto Moses in Midian, Goe, returne to Egypt: for they are all dead which ‡ went about to kill thee)

‡Ebr. sought thy soule,

20 Then Moses tooke his wife, and his sonnes, and ‡ put them on an asse, and returned toward the land of Egypt, and Moses tooke the h rodde of God in his hande.

‡Ebr. caused them to ride.
h Whereby he wrought the miracles.

21 And the Lord sayde vnto Moses, when thou art entred and come into Egypt againe, see that thou doe all the wonders before Pharaoh, which I haue put in thine hande: but I will i harden his heart, and he shall not let the people goe.

i By retaining my spirit and deliuering him vnto Satan to increase his malice.

22 Then thou shalt say to Pharaoh, Thus sayeth the Lorde, Israel [is] my sonne, [euen] my k first borne.

k Meaning, most deare vnto him.

23 Wherefore I say to thee, Let my sonne go, that he may serue me: if thou refuse to let him goe, behold, I will slay thy sonne, [euen] thy first borne.

24 ¶ And as he was by the way in the ynne, the Lord met him, and l would haue killed him.

l God punished him with sickenes for neglecting his sacrament.

25 Then Zipporah tooke a sharpe knife, ‡ m cut away the foreskinne of her sonne, ‡ cast it at his feete, ‡ saide, Thou [art] in deed a bloody husband vnto me.

m This act was extraordinarie: for Moses was ofte sicke, and God euen then required it.

26 So ‖ he departed from him. Then he said, O bloodie husbande (because of the circumcision.)

‖Or, the Angel.

27 ¶ Then the Lorde sayd vnto Aaron, Goe meete Moses in the wildernesse. And he went and met him in the ‖ Mount of God, and kissed him.

‖Or, Horeb.

28 Then Moses tolde Aaron all the wordes of the Lord, who had sent him, and all the signes wherewith hee had charged him.

29 ¶ So went Moses and Aaron, and gathered all the Elders of the children of Israel.

30 And Aaron tolde all the wordes, which the Lorde had spoken vnto Moses, and he did the miracles in the sight of the people, 31 And the n people beleeued. ‡ When they heard that the Lorde had visited the children of Israel, ‡ had looked vpon their tribulation, they bowed down, and worshipped.

n So that Moses had now experience of Gods promes that he should haue good successe.

CHAP. V.

1 Moses and Aaron doe their message to Pharaoh, who letteth not the people of Israel depart, but oppresseth the more and more. 20 They cry out vpon Moses and Aaron therefore, and Moses complaineth to God.

AFter afterwarde Moses and Aaron went ‡ sayd to a Pharaoh, Thus sayeth the Lorde God of Israel, Let my people goe, that they may b celebrate a feast vnto me in the wildernesse.

a Faith ouercommeth feare and maketh men bolde in their vocation.
b And offer sacrifice.

2 And Pharaoh sayde, Who is the Lord,

Lord, that I should heare his voyce, & let Israel go? I knowe not the Lord, neither will I let Israel go.

‖Or, God hath met vs.

3 And they saide, ‖We worshippe the God of the Ebrewes: wee pray thee, let vs goe three dayes iourney in the desert, and sacrifice vnto the Lorde our God, least ‡ he bring vpon vs the pestilence or swoorde.

‡Ebr. lest he meete vs with pestilence.

4 Then said the King of Egypt vnto them, Moses and Aaron, why cause ye the people to cease from their workes? get you to your burdens.

5 Pharaoh said furthermore, Behold, much people [is] now in the land, and ye c make them leaue their burdens.

c As though ye would rebell,

6 Therefore Pharaoh gaue commandement the same day vnto the taskemasters of the people, and to their d officers, saying, d Which were of the Israelites and had charge to see them do their worke.

7 Ye shall giue the people no more strawe, to make bricke (‡ as in time past) [but] let them goe & gather them strawe themselues.

‡Eb. yesterday and yer yesterday.

8 Notwithstanding lay vpon them the nomber of bricke, which they made in time past, diminish nothing thereof: for they be idle, therefore they crye, saying, Let vs go to offer sacrifice vnto our God.

9 e Lay more worke vpon the men, & cause them to doe it, and let them not regard f vaine wordes.

e The more cruelly that tyrants rage, the neerer is Gods helpe.

f Of Moses and Aaron.

10 ¶ Then went the taskemasters of the people and their officers out, and told ỹ people, saying, Thus saith Pharaoh, I will giue you no more strawe.

11 Goe your selues, get you strawe where ye can finde it, yet shal nothing of your labour be diminished.

12 Then were the people scattered abroad throughout all the land of Egypt, for to gather stubble in steade of strawe.

13 And the taskemasters hasted them, saying, Finish your dayes worke ‡ euery dayes taske, as [ỹe did] when yee had strawe.

‡Ebr. the work of a day in his day.

14 And the officers of the children of Israel, which Pharaohs taskemasters had set ouer them, were beaten, and demaunded, wherefore haue ye not fulfilled your taske in making bricke yesterday and to day, as in times past?

15 ¶ Then the officers of the children of Israel came, and cryed vnto Pharaoh, saying, wherefore dealest thou thus with thy seruants?

16 There is no strawe giuen to thy seruants, and they say vnto vs, Make bricke: and loe, thy seruants are beaten, and ‖ thy people is blamed.

‖Or, thy people the Egyptians are in the fault.

17 But he said, ‡ Ye are too much idle: therefore ye say, Let vs goe to offer sacrifice to the Lorde.

‡Ebr. Idle, ye are idle.

18 Go therefore now [and] worke: for there shall no strawe be giuen you, yet shall ye deliuer the whole tale of bricke.

19 Then the officers of the children of Israel ‖ saw them selues in an euill case, because it was sayde, Ye shall diminish nothing of your bricke, [not] of euery dayes taske.

‖Or, looked sad on them, which said,

20 ¶ And they met Moses and Aaron, which stoode in their way as they came out from Pharaoh, 21 To whome they sayd, The Lord looke vpon you and iudge: for ye haue made our sauour to * stinke before Pharaoh and before his seruants, in that ye haue g put a swoorde in their hande to slay vs.

* Read Gen. 34.30.

g It is a grieuous thing to the seruants of God, to be accused of euill, specially of their brethren, when they doe as their duetie requireth.

22 Wherefore Moses returned to the Lord, and sayde, Lorde, why hast thou afflicted this people? wherefore hast thou thus sent me?

23 For since I came to Pharaoh to speake in thy Name, he hath dealt with this people, and yet thou hast not deliuered thy people.

CHAP. VI.

3 God renueth his promise of the deliuerance of the Israelites. 9 Moses speaketh to the Israelites, but they beleeue him not. 10 Moses and Aaron are sent againe to Pharaoh. 14 The genealogie of Reuben, Simeon, and Leui, of whome came Moses and Aaron.

THen the Lord said vnto Moses, Nowe shalt thou see, what I will doe vnto Pharaoh: for by a strong hande shall he let them go, & euen ‡ be constrained to driue them out of his land.

‡Ebr. in a strong hand.

2 Moreouer God spake vnto Moses, and said vnto him, I am the Lord,

3 And I appeared vnto Abraham, to Izhak, & to Iaakob by [the Name] of ‖ Almightie God: but by my name ª Iehouah was I not knowen vnto them.

‖Or, all sufficient.

ª Whereby he signifieth that he will performe in deede that, which he promised to their fathers: for this Name declareth that he is constant, and will performe his promes.

4 Furthermore as I made my couenant with them to giue them the land of Canaan, the lande of their pilgrimage, wherein they were strangers:

5 So I haue also heard the groning of the children of Israel, whome the Egyptians keepe in bondage, and haue remembred my couenant.

6 Wherefore say thou vnto the children of Israel, I am the Lorde, and I will bring you out from the burdens of the Egyptians, & will deliuer you out of their their bodage, & wil redeem you in a stretched out arme, & in great ‖ iudgments.

7 Also I will [b] take you for my people, and will be your God: then ye shall know that I the Lord your God bring you out frō the burdens of ỹ Egyptiās.

8 And I will bring you into the land which I [f] sware that I would giue to Abraham, to Izhak and to Iaakob, and I will giue it vnto you for a possession: I am the Lord.

9 ¶ So Moses tolde the children of Israel thus: but they hearkened [c] not vnto Moses, for anguish of spirit and for cruel bondage.

10 Then the Lorde spake vnto Moses, saying,

11 Goe speake to Pharaoh King of Egypt, that he let the children of Israel go out of his land.

12 But Moses spake before the Lord, saying, Behold, the children of Israel hearken not vnto me, howe then shall Pharaoh heare mee, which am of [d] vncircumcised lippes?

13 Then the Lord spake vnto Moses and vnto Aaron, & charged them [to go] to the children of Israel & to Pharaoh King of Egypt, to bring the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt.

14 ¶ These be the [e] heads of their fathers houses: the ſonnes of Reuben the firſt borne of Israel [are] Hanoch and Pallu, Hezron and Carmi: these are ỹ families of Reuben.

16 ¶ *These also are the names of the ſonnes of Leui in their generatiōs: Gerlhon and Kohath and Merari (and the yeeres of the life of Leui [were] an hundreth [f] thirtie and ſeuen yeere)

17 The ſonnes of Gerlhon [were] Libni and Shimi by their families.

18 *And the ſonnes of Kohath, Amram and Izhar, and Hebron & Vzziel. (and Kohath lived an hundreth thirtie and three yeere)

19 Also the ſonnes of Merari [were] Mahali and Mulhi: these are the families of Leui by their kinreds.

20 *And Amram tooke Iochebed his [g] fathers ſiſter to his wife, and shee bare him Aaron & Moses (and Amram lived an hundreth thirtie & ſeuen yeere)

21 ¶ Also the ſonnes of Izhar: [h] Korah, and Nepheg, and Zichri.

22 And the ſonnes of Vzziel: Mishael, and Elzaphan, and Sithri.

23 And Aarō tooke Elisheba daughter of [i] Amminadab, ſiſter of Nahashon to his wife, which bare him Nadab, & Abihu, Eleazar and Ithamar.

24 Also the ſonnes of Korah: Assir, & Elkanah, and Abiasaph: these are the families of the Korhites.

25 And Eleazar Aarons ſonne tooke him [one] of the daughters of Putiel to his wife, which bare him *Phinehas: these are ỹ principall fathers of the Lewites throughout their families.

26 These are Aaron and Moses to whom the Lord ſaid, Bring the childē of Israel out of the land of Egypt, according to their [k] armies.

27 These are that Moses & Aaron, which ſpake to Pharaoh king of Egypt, that they might bring the children of Israel out of Egypt.

28 ¶ And at that time when ỹ Lord ſpake vnto Moses in the land of Egypt, 29 when ỹ Lord, [I ſay,] ſpake vnto Moses, ſaying, I am the Lord, ſpeake thou vnto Pharaoh the King of Egypt all that I ſay vnto thee.

30 Then Moses ſaid before ỹ Lord, Behold, I am of [l] vncircumciſed lippes, and how ſhall Pharaoh heare me?

CHAP. VII.

3 God hardeneth Pharaohs heart. 10 Moſes and Aaron do the miracles of the ſerpent, and the blood: and Pharaohs ſorcerers do the like.

Then the Lord ſaid to Moses, Behold, I haue made thee ‖ Pharaohs [a] God, and Aarō thy brother ſhall ‖ bee thy Prophet.

2 Thou ſhalt ſpeake all ỹ I cōmanded thee: and Aaron thy brother ſhall ſpeake vnto Pharaoh, ỹ he ſuffer ỹ children of Israel to go out of his lande.

3 But I will hardē Pharaohs heart, and multiplie my miracles & my Wonders in the land of Egypt.

4 And Pharaoh ſhal not hearkē vnto you, that I may lay mine hand vpon Egypt, & bring out mine armies, [euen] my people, ỹ childre of Israel out of the land of Egypt, by great [b] iudgements.

5 Then ỹ Egyptiās ſhall know that I am the Lord, when I ſtretch forth mine hand vpon Egypt, and bring out the children of Israel from among thē.

17 Thus ſaieth the Lorde, In this thou ſhalt know that I am the Lorde: behold, I will ſmite with the rod that is in mine hand vpon the water that is in ỹ riuer, and it ſhall be turned to blood.

18 And the fiſh that is in the riuer ſhall die, and the riuer ſhal ſtinke, and it ſhall ‖ grieue the Egyptians to drinke of the water of the riuer.

AFterward the Lord ſaid vnto Moſes, Goe vnto Pharaoh, and tell him, Thus ſaith the Lord, Let my people go, that they may ſerue me:

c Not loue, but feare causeth him very intentlie to seeke vnto God.
Lord that he may take away the frogs from me, and from my people, & I will let the people goe, that they may doe sacrifice vnto the Lord.

9 And Moses sayde vnto Pharaoh, ‡Concerning me, [euen] ‖commaunde when I shall pray for thee, & for thy seruants, and for thy people, to destroy the frogs from thee and from thine houses, that they may remaine in the riuer onely.

‡Ebr. haue this honour ouer me.
‖Or, speake plaine vnto me.

10 Then he sayde, To morowe. And he answered, Be it ‡as thou hast sayde, that thou mayest knowe, that there is none like vnto the Lord our God.

‡Ebr. according to thy worde.

11 So the frogges shall depart from thee, and from thine houses, & from thy seruants, and from thy people: onely they shall remaine in the riuer.

12 Then Moses and Aaron went out from Pharaoh: and Moses cried vnto the Lorde concerning the frogs, which he had ‖sent vnto Pharaoh.

‖Or, laid vpon.

13 And the Lord did according to the saying of Moses: so the frogs d died in the houses, in the townes, and in the fieldes.

d In things of this life God oft times heareth the prayers of the vnfit for the vngodly.

14 And they gathered them together by heapes, & the land stanke [of them.]

15 But when Pharaoh sawe that he had rest [giuen him,] he ‖hardened his heart, and hearkened not vnto them, as the Lord had sayd.

‖Or, made his heart heauie.

16 ¶ Againe the Lord said vnto Moses, Say vnto Aaron, Stretch out thy rod, and smite the dust of the earth, that it may be [turned] to lyce throughout all the land of Egypt.

† The third plague.

17 And they did so: for Aaron stretched out his hand with his rod, & smote the dust of the earth: and lyce came vpon man and vpon beast: all the dust of the earth was lyce throughout all the land of Egypt.

18 Now the enchanters assayed likewise with their enchantments to bring foorth lyce, but they e could not. So the lyce were vpon man and vpon beast.

e God confounded their wisedome and authoritie in a thing most vile.

19 Then sayde the enchanters vnto Pharaoh, This is f the finger of God. But Pharaohs heart remained obstinate, and he hearkened not vnto them, as the Lord had sayd.

f They acknowledged that this was done by Gods power and not by sorcerie, Luke 11, 20.

20 ¶ Moreouer the Lorde sayde to Moses, Rise by early in the morning, and stand before Pharaoh (loe, he will come forth vnto the water) and say vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Let my people goe, that they may serue me.

21 Els, if thou wilt not let my people goe, beholde, I will send ‖swarmes of flies both vpon thee, and vpon thy seruants, and vpon thy people, & into thine houses: and the houses of the Egyptians shalbe full of swarmes of flies, and the ground also whereon they are.

‖Or, a multitude of venimous beasts, as serpents, &c.

22 But the land of Goshen, where my people are, will I cause to be ‖wonderfull in that day, so that no swarmes of flies shall be there, that thou mayest know that I am the Lord in the mids of the ‖earth.

‖Or, I wil separate.
‖Or, land of Egypt.

23 And I will make a deliuerance of my people from thy people: to morowe shall this miracle be.

24 And the Lorde did so: * for there came g great swarmes of flies into the house of Pharaoh, & [into] his seruants houses, so that through all the land of Egypt the earth was corrupt by the swarmes of flies.

Wisd. 16.9.
† The fourth plague.

25 Then Pharaoh called for Moses and Aaron, and sayd, Goe, doe sacrifice vnto your God in this land.

26 But Moses answered, It is not meete to doe so: for [then] we should offer vnto the Lord our God [that, which is] an h abomination vnto the Egyptians. Lo, can we sacrifice the abomination of the Egyptians before their eyes, and they not stone vs?

g For the Egyptians worshipped diuers beasts, as the oxe, the sheepe and such like, which the Israelites offered in sacrifice: which thing the Egyptians abhorred to see. Chap. 3. 18.
h So the wicked prescribe vnto Gods messengers howe farre they shal go.

27 Let vs go three dayes iourney in the desert, and sacrifice vnto the Lorde our God, * as he hath commanded vs.

28 And Pharaoh sayd, I will let you goe, that ye may sacrifice vnto the Lord your God in the wildernes: but i go not farre away, pray for me.

i He could not iudge his heart but yet he charged him to doe this vnfainedly.

29 And Moses sayd, Beholde, I will go out from thee, & pray vnto the Lord, that the swarmes of flies may depart from Pharaoh, from his seruants, and from his people to morow: but let Pharaoh from henceforth k deceiue no more, in not suffring the people to sacrifice vnto the Lorde.

k Where God giueth not faith, no miracles can preuaile.

30 So Moses went out from Pharaoh and prayed vnto the Lord.

31 And the Lord did according to the saying of Moses, & the swarmes of flies departed from Pharaoh, from his seruants, and from his people, [and] there remained not one.

32 Yet Pharaoh l hardned his heart at this time also, & did not let the people go.

l The plagues of botches and sores, 23 The horrible haile, thunder, & the lightning. 26 The land of Goshen euer is excepted. 27 Pharaoh confesseth his wickednes. 33 Moses prayeth for him. 35 Yet is he obstinate.

CHAP. IX.

Then the Lord said vnto Moses, Go to Pharaoh, and tell him, Thus saith the Lorde God of the Ebrewes, Let my people go, that they may serue me.

2 But if thou refuse to let [them] go, and wilt yet holde them still,

3 Behold, the hand of the Lord is vpon thy flocke which is in the fielde: [for] vpon the horses, vpon the asses, vpon the camels, vpon the cattell, and vpon the sheepe [shalbe] a † mighty great murain.

4 And the Lorde shall doe wonderfully betweene the beasts of Israel, and the beasts of Egypt: so that there shall nothing die of all, that [pertaineth] to the children of Israel.

5 And the Lorde appointed a time, saying, To morow the Lord shall finish this thing in this land.

6 So the Lord did this thing on the morow, and all the cattel of Egypt died: but of the cattel of the children of Israel died not one.

7 Then Pharaoh b sent, and behold, there was not one of the cattell of the Israelites dead: and the heart of Pharaoh was obstinate, and he did not let the people go.

8 And the Lorde sayde to Moses and to Aaron, Take your handfull of ‖asshes of the fornace, and Moses shall sprinkle them toward the heauen in the sight of Pharaoh, 9 And they shalbe [turned] to dust in all the land of Egypt: and it shalbe as a scab breaking out into blisters vpon mã, and vpon beast, throughout all the land of Egypt.

10 Then they tooke asshes of the fornace, & stoode before Pharaoh: and Moses sprinkled them towarde the heauen, and there came † a scab breaking out into blisters vpon man, and vpon beast.

11 And the sorcerers could not stand before Moses, because of the scab: for the scab was vpon the enchanters, and vpon all the Egyptians.

12 And the Lord hardened the heart of Pharaoh, and he hearkened not vnto them, * as the Lord had said vnto Moses.

13 Also the Lord said vnto Moses, Rise vp early in the morning, & stand before Pharaoh, and tell him, Thus saith the Lord God of the Ebrewes, Let my people goe, that they may serue me.

14 For I will at this time send all my plagues vpon c thine heart, and vpon thy seruants, and vpon thy people, that thou mayest knowe that there is none like me in all the earth.

15 For nowe I will stretch out mine hand, that I may smite thee and thy people with the pestilence: and thou shalt perish from the earth.

16 And in deede, for this cause haue ‖ I appointed thee, to ‖ shewe my power in thee, & to declare my d Name throughout all the world.

17 Yet thou exaltest thy selfe against my people, and lettest them not goe.

18 Behold, to morow this time I will cause to raine a mightie great haile, such as was not in Egypt since the foundation thereof was layd vnto this time.

19 Send therefore now, [and] e gather thy cattel, and all that thou hast in the field: for vpon all the men, & the beasts, which are found in the fielde, and not brought home, the haile shall fall vpon them and they shal die.

20 Such then as feared the word of the Lorde among the seruants of Pharaoh, made his seruants and his cattell flee into the houses:

21 But such as † regarded not the f worde of the Lorde, left his seruants, and his cattel in the fielde.

22 And the Lord sayd to Moses, Stretch forth thine hand toward heauen, that there may be haile in all the land of Egypt, vpon man, & vpon beast, and vpon all the herbes of the fielde in the land of Egypt.

23 Then Moses stretched out his rod toward heauen, and the Lord sent thunder and † haile, and † lightning vpon the ground: and the Lorde caused haile to raine vpon the land of Egypt.

24 So there was haile, & fire mingled with the haile, so grieuous, as there was none throughout all the land of Egypt, since ‖ it was a nation.

25 And the haile smote throughout all the land of Egypt all that was in the fielde, both man and beast: also the haile smote all the herbes of the fielde, & brake to pieces all the trees of the fielde.

26 Only in the land of Goshen (where the children of Israel were) was no haile.

27 Then Pharaoh sent and called for Moses & Aaron, and sayd vnto them, I haue nowe sinned: the Lord is righteous, but I and my people are wicked.

28 Pray ye vnto the Lorde (for it is ynough) that there be no more † mightie thunders and haile, and I will let you go, 29 Then Moses sayde vnto him, Assoone as I am out of the citie, I will spread mine hands vnto the Lord, [and] the thunder shal ceale, neither shal there bee any more haile, that thou mayest knowe that * the earth is the Lords.

Psal.24.1.

30 As for thee and thy seruants, I know b afore [I pray] ye wil feare before the face of the Lord God.

b Meaning, that when they haue their request, they are neuer the better, though they make many faire promises, whereby we see the practises of the wicked.

33 Then Moses went out of the citie from Pharaoh, & spred his hands to the Lorde, and the thunder & the haile ceased, neither rained it vpon the earth.

34 And when Pharaoh saw that the raine and the haile & the thunder were ceased, he sinned againe, and hardened his heart, [both] he, and his seruants.

35 So the heart of Pharaoh was hardened: neither would he let the children of Israel go, as the Lord had sayd ‡ by Moses.

a The miracles should be so great, that they should be spoken of for euer, where also we see the ductie of parents toward their children.

3 Then came Moses and Aaron vnto Pharaoh, and they sayde vnto him, Thus saieth the Lorde God of the Ebrewes, Howe long wilt thou refuse b to humble thy selfe before me? Let my people go, that they may serue me.

b The ende of afflictions is, to humble our selues with true repentance vnder the hand of God, 4 But if thou refuse to let my people goe, beholde, to morowe will I bring ‖ * grashoppers into thy coastes.

‖ Or, locustes. Wisd.16.9.

5 And they shall couer the face of the earth, that a man can not see the earth: and they shal eate the residue which remaineth vnto you, & hath escaped from the haile: and they shall eate all your trees that bud in the fielde.

6 And they shal fill thine houses, and all thy seruants houses, and the houses of all the Egyptians, as neither thy fathers, nor thy fathers fathers haue seene, since the time they were vpon the earth vnto this day. So he returned, and went out from Pharaoh.

7 Then Pharaohs seruants sayde vnto him, How long shall he be ‖ an offence vnto vs? let the men goe, that they may serue þ Lord their God: wilt thou first know that Egypt is destroyed?

‖ Or, snare.

8 So Moses & Aaron were brought againe vnto Pharaoh, and he sayde to them, Go, serue the Lord your God, but who are they that shal goe?

9 And Moses answered, We will goe with our yong and with our olde, with our sonnes & with our daughters, with our sheepe and with our cattell will we goe: for we [must celebrate] a feast vnto the Lorde.

10 And he sayd vnto them, Let d the Lord so be with you, as I will let you go and your children: beholde, for euill is before your face.

d That is, I would þ Lord were no more affectioned toward you, then I am minded to let you go.

11 [It shall not be so: nowe goe ye [that are] men, & serue the Lord: for that was your desire. Then they were thrust out from Pharaohs presence.

e Punishment is prepared for you, some reade. He intend some mischiefe.

12 ¶ After, the Lord sayd vnto Moses, Stretch out thine hand vpon the land of Egypt for the grashoppers, that they may come vpon the land of Egypt, and eat all the herbes of the land, [euen] all that the haile hath left.

13 Then Moses stretched foorth his rod vpon the land of Egypt: and þ Lord brought an East winde vpon the land all that day, and al that night: and in the morning, the East winde brought the † grashoppers.

† The eight plague.

14 So the grashoppers went vp vpon all the land of Egypt, and ‖ remained in all quarters of Egypt: so grieuous grashoppers, like to these were neuer before, neither after them shalbe such.

‖ Or, he caused them to remaine.

15 For they couered all the face of the earth, so that the land was darke: and they did eate all the herbes of the land, and all the fruites of the trees, which the haile had left, so that there was no greene thing left vpon the trees, nor among the herbes of the fielde throughout all the land of Egypt.

16 Therfore Pharaoh called for f Moses and Aaron in haste, and said, I haue sinned against the Lord your God, and against you.

f The wicked in their miserie seeke to Gods ministers for helpe, albeit they hate and detest them.

17 And now forgiue me my sinne onely this once, and pray vnto the Lorde your God, that he may take away from me this death onely.

18 [Moses] then went out from Pharaoh, and prayed vnto the Lord.

19 And the Lorde turned a mightie strong West winde, and tooke away the grashoppers, and violently cast them vnto the [g] red Sea, [so that] there remained not one grashopper in all the coast of Egypt.

20 But the Lorde hardened Pharaohs heart, and he did not let the children of Israel goe.

21 ¶ Againe the Lord said vnto Moses, Stretch out thine hand towarde heauen, that there may be vpon ỹ land of Egypt darknesse, euen darknesse that may be [h] felt.

22 Then Moses stretched forth his hand toward heauen, and there was a [i] blacke* darknesse in all the land of Egypt three dayes.

23 No man saw another, neither rose vp from the place where he was [for] three dayes: * but all the children of Israel had light where they dwelt.

24 Then Pharaoh called for Moses and said, Go, serue the Lord: onely your sheepe and your cattel shal abide, & your children shal go with you.

25 And Moses said, Thou must giue vs also sacrifices, and burnt offerings that we may doe [sacrifice] vnto ỹ Lord our God.

26 Therefore our cattel also shall go with vs: there shal not an [l] hoofe be left, for thereof must we take to serue the Lord our God: neither doe we knowe [k] how we shall serue the Lord, vntill we come thither.

27 (But ỹ Lord hardened Pharaohs heart, and he would not let them go)

28 And Pharaoh said vnto him, Get thee from me: looke thou see my face no more: for whensoeuer thou commest in my sight, thou shalt [l] die.

f That is, all that may be eaten.

10 And ye shall reserue nothing of it vnto the morning: but that, which remaineth of it vnto the morowe, shall ye burne with fire.

g The lambe was not the Passeouer, but signified it: as sacraments are not the thing it selfe, which they doe represent, but signifie it.

33 And the Egyptians did force the people, because they would sende them out of the lande in haste: for they sayde, We die all.

‖ From Abrahams departing from Ur in Chaldea vnto the departing of the children of Israel from Egypt are 430. yeres.

42 It [is] a night to be kept [holy] to the Lord, because hee brought them out of the lande of Egypt: this is that night of the Lorde, which all the children of Israel must keepe throughout their generations.

43 Also the Lorde saide vnto Moses and Aaron, This is the Lawe of the Passeouer: ‡no stranger shal eat therof.

‡ Except he be circumcised and onely professe your religion.

44 But euery seruant that is bought for money, when thou hast circumcised him, then shall he eate therof.

45 A ‡strãger or an hyred seruant shall not eate thereof.

46 *In one house shall it be eaten: thou shalt carie none of the flesh out of the house, *neither shall ye breake a bone thereof.

Nomb.9.12. Iohn 19.36.

47 All the Congregation of Israel shall obserue it.

48 But if a stranger dwel with thee, and will obserue the Passeouer of the Lorde, let him circumcise all the males, that belong vnto him, and then let him come and obserue it, & hee shalbe as one that is borne in the land: for none vncircumcised person shall eate thereof.

49 One ‖ lawe shalbe to him that is borne in the lande, and to the stranger that dwelleth among you.

‖ They that are of the housholde of God, must be all ioyned in one faith and religion.

50 Then all the children of Israel did as the Lorde commaunded Moses and Aaron: so did they.

51 And ℘ selfe same day did the Lord bring the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt by their armies.

2 *Sanctifie vnto mee all the first borne: [that is,] euery one that [first] openeth ℘ wombe among the children of Israel, as well of man as of beast: [for] it is mine.

3 ¶ Then Moses saide vnto the people, *Remember this day in the which ye came out of Egypt, out of the ‡ house of ª bondage: for by a mightie hande the Lord brought you out frõ thence: therefore no leauened bread shalbe ᵇ eaten.

4 This day come ye out in the moneth of ᶜ Abib.

ᶜ Conteyning part of March and part of April, when corne began to ripe in that countrey.

5 ¶ Nowe when the Lorde hath brought thee into the land of the Canaanites, and Hittites, and Amorites, and Hiuites, and Iebusites (which he sware vnto thy fathers, that hee would giue thee, a land flowing with milke & honie)

then

then thou shalt keepe this seruice in this moneth.

6 Seuen dayes shalt thou eate vnleauened bread, & the [d] seuenth day [shalbe] the feast of the Lord.

7 Vnleauened bread shalbe eaten seuen dayes, and there shall no leauened bread be seene with thee, nor yet leauen be seene with thee in all thy quarters.

8 ¶ And thou shalt shewe thy sonne [e] in that day, saying, [This is done,] because of that which the Lorde did vnto me, when I came out of Egypt.

9 And it shalbe a signe vnto thee [f] vpon thine hande, and for a remembrance betweene thine eyes, that the Lawe of the Lord may be in thy mouth: for by a strong hand the Lorde brought thee out of Egypt.

10 Keepe therefore this ordinance in his season appointed from yere to yere.

11 ¶ And when the Lorde shall bring thee into the lande of the Canaanites, as hee sware vnto thee and to thy fathers, and shall giue it thee, 12 * Then thou shalt set apart vnto the Lorde all that [first] openeth the wombe: also euery thing that [first] doth open [the wombe, and] commeth forth of thy beast: the males [shalbe] the Lords.

13 But euery [g] first foale of an [s] asse, thou shalt redeeme with a lambe: and if thou redeeme him not, then thou shalt breake his necke: likewyse all the first borne of man among thy sonnes shalt thou [h] bye out.

14 ¶ And when thy sonne shall aske thee ‖ to morowe, saying, What is this? thou shalt then saye vnto him, With a mightie hand the Lorde brought vs out of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

15 For when Pharaoh was harde hearted against our departing, the Lord then slew all the first borne in the land of Egypt: from the first borne of man euen to the first borne of beast: therefore I sacrifice vnto the Lorde all the males that [first] open the wombe, but all the first borne of my sonnes I redeeme.

16 And it shalbe as a token vpon thine hande, and as ‖ frontlets betweene thine eyes, that the Lord brought vs out of Egypt by a mightie hand.

17 ¶ Nowe when Pharaoh had let the people goe, God caryed them not by the way of the Philistims countrey, ‖ though it [were] neerer: (for God said, Lest the people repent when they see warre, and turne againe to Egypt)

18 But God made the people to go about by the way of the wildernes of the red sea: and the children of Israel went vp [k] armed out of the land of Egypt.

19 (And Moses tooke [l] the bones of Ioseph with him: for he had made the children of Israel sweare, saying, *God will surely visite you, and ye shall take my bones away hence with you)

20 ¶ * So they tooke their iourney from Succoth, and camped in Etham in the edge of the wildernes.

21 * And the Lorde went before them by day in a pillar of a [m] cloud to lead them the way, and by night in a pillar of fire to giue them light, that they might goe both by day and by night.

22 * Hee tooke not away the pillar of the cloude by day, nor the pillar of fire by night from before the people.

CHAP. XIIII.

4. 8 Pharaoh's heart is hardened, and pursueth the Israelites. 11 The Israelites striken with feare murmure against Moses. 13 Moses doeth encourage them. 21 Hee deuideth the Sea. 23. 27 The Egyptians follow and are drowned.

THen the Lorde spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Speake to the children of Israel, that they [a] returne and campe before [b] Pi-hahiroth, betweene Migdol and the Sea, ouer against * Baal-zephon: about it shall ye campe by the Sea.

3 For Pharaoh will say of the children of Israel, They are tangled in the land: the wildernes hath shut them in.

4 And I will harde Pharaohs heart that hee shall folow after you: so I will [c] get mee honour vpon Pharaoh, and vpon all his hoste: the Egyptians also shall knowe that I am the Lorde: and they did so.

5 ¶ Then it was tolde the King of Egypt, that [p] people fled: and the heart of Pharaoh and of his seruantes was turned against the people, and they said, Why haue we this done, and haue let Israel go out of our seruice?

6 And hee made readie his charets, and tooke his people with him,

7 And tooke sixe hundreth chosen charets, and [d] all the charets of Egypt, and captaines ouer euery one of them.

f They, which a litle before in their deliuerance reioyced being now in danger are afraide, & murmure.

10 And when Pharaoh drew nie, the children of Israel lift vp their eyes, f beholde, þ Egyptians marched after them, and they were sore afraid: wherefore the children of Israel cryed vnto the Lord.

In this figure foure chiefe points are to be considered. First, that the Church of God is euer subiect in this world to the Crosse, and to be afflicted after one sort or other. The second, that the ministers of God following their vocation shall be euill spoken of, and murmured against, euen of them that pretende the same cause and religion that they doe. The thirde, that God deliuereth not his Church incontinently out of dangers, but to exercise their faith and patience continueth their troubles, yea and oftentimes augmenteth them: as the Israelites were nowe in lesse hope of their liues, then when they were in Egypt. The fourth point is, that when the dangers are most great, then Gods helpe is most readie to succour. for the Israelites had on either side them, huge rocks and mountaines, before them the Sea, behinde them most cruel enemies, so that there was no way left to escape to mans iudgement.

11 And they sayde vnto Moses, Hast thou brought vs to die in the wildernes, because there were no graues in Egypt: Wherefore hast thou serued vs thus, to carie vs out of Egypt?

12 Did not we tell thee this thing in Egypt, saying, Let vs be in rest, that we may serue the Egyptians? for it had bene better for vs to serue the Egyptiãs, then that we should die in the wildernes.

g Such is the impatiencie of the flesh, that it cannot abide Gods appointed time.

13 Then Moses sayde to the people, Feare ye not, stand still, and behold ‖ the saluation of the Lorde which hee will shew to you this day. For the Egyptiãs, whome ye haue seene this day, ye shall neuer see them againe.

‖ Or, deliuerance.

14 The Lorde shall fight for you: therefore h holde you your peace.

h Onely put your trust in God without grudging or doubting.

15 ¶ And the Lord said vnto Moses, Wherefore i cryest thou vnto me? speake vnto the children of Israel that they goe forwarde:

i Thus in tentations faith fighteth against the flesh, and cryeth with inwarde groanings to the Lord.

16 And lift thou vp thy rod, & stretche out thine hande vpon the Sea and deuide it, and let the children of Israel goe on drie ground thorowe the middes of the Sea.

17 And I, beholde I will harden the heart of the Egyptians, that they may follow them, and I will get me honour vpon Pharaoh, and vpon all his hoste, vpon his charets, & vpon his horsemen.

18 Then the Egyptians shall knowe that I am the Lord, when I haue gotten me honour vpon Pharaoh, vpon his charets, and vpon his horsemen.

19 (And the Angel of God, which went before the hoste of Israel, remoued and went behinde them: also the pillar of the cloude went from before them, and stoode behinde them, 20 And came betweene the campe of the Egyptians and the campe of Israel: it was both a cloude and darkenes, yet gaue it k light by night, so that all þ night long the one came not at the other) k The cloude hewerth light to the Israelites, but to the Egyptians it was darkenes, so that their two hostes could not ioyne together. Iosh. 4.23. Psal. 114.3. Psal. 78.13. 1. cor. 10.1. hebr. 11.29.

21 And Moses stretched foorth his hand vpon the Sea, and the Lord caused the sea to run backe by a strong East winde all the night, & made the Sea drie land: for the waters were * deuided.

22 Then the * children of Israel went thorough the mids of the Sea vpon the drie ground, and the waters [were] a wall vnto them on their right hand, and on their left hand.

23 And the Egyptians pursued and went after them to the mids of the Sea, [euen] al Pharaohs horses, his charets, and his horsemen.

24 Nowe in the morning l watche, when the Lord looked vnto the hoste of the Egyptians, out of the fiery and cloudie pillar, hee strooke the hoste of the Egyptians with feare.

l Which was about the three last houres of the night.

25 For hee tooke off their charet wheeles, & they draue them with ‖ much a doe: so that the Egyptians [euery] one saide, I will flee from the face of Israel: for the Lorde fighteth for them against the Egyptians.

‖ Or, heauily.

26 ¶ Then the Lord said to Moses, Stretch thine hand vpon the Sea, that the waters may returne vpon the Egyptians, vpon their charets and vpon their horsemen.

27 Then Moses stretched forth his hand vpon the Sea, and the Sea returned to his force earely in the morning, and the Egyptians fled against it: but the Lord m ouerthrew the Egyptians in the middes of the Sea.

m So the Lorde by the water saued his, and by the water ouerwhelmed his enemies.

28 So the water returned and couered the charets & the horsemen, [euen] all the hoste of Pharaoh that came into the Sea after them: there remained not one of them.

29 But the children of Israel walked vpon drie lande thorowe the middes of the Sea, and the waters [were] a wall vnto them on their right hande, and on their left.

30 Thus the Lorde saued Israel the same day out of the hand of the Egyptians, and Israel sawe the Egyptians dead vpon the Sea banke.

1 The Israelites come to the desert of Sin, and murmure against Moses and Aaron. 13 The Lorde sendeth quailes and Manna. 23 The Sabbath is sanctified vnto the Lorde. 27 The seuenth day Manna could not be founde. 32 It is kept for a remembrance to the posteritie.

AFterward all the Congregation of the children of Israel departed from Elim, & came to the wilderneſſe of [a] Sin, (which is betweene Elim and Sinai) the fiftenth day of ỹ ſecond moneth after their departing out of ỹ land of Egypt.

2 And the whole Congregation of the children of Israel murmured against Moses and against Aaron in the wildernes.

3 For the children of Israel saide to them, Oh that we had died by the hand of the Lord in the land of Egypt, when we sate by the fleſh [b] pots, when we ate bread [our] bellies full: for ye haue brought vs out into this wildernes to kill this whole companie with famine.

b So hard a thing it is to the fleſh not to murmure against God, when the belie is pinched.

4 Then saide the Lorde vnto Moses, Beholde, I will cause bread to rame from heauen to you, and the people shal go out, and gather [‡] that that is ſufficient for euery [c] day, that I may proue them, whether they will walke in my Law or no.

1 The Israelites come into Rephidim and grudge for water. 6 Water is giuen them out of the rocke. 11 Moses holdeth vp his hands, and they ouercome the Amalekites. 15 Moses buildeth an altar to the Lord.

AND all the Congregation of the children of Israel departed from ỹ wildernes of Sin, by their iourneyes at ỹ ‡ commandement of the Lord, and camped in a Rephidim, where was no water for the people to drinke.
2 *Wherefore the people contended with Moses, and saide, Giue vs water that we may drinke. And Moses saide vnto them, Why contende ye with me: Wherefore doe ye b tempt the Lord?
3 So the people thirsted there for water, and the people murmured against Moses, and saide, Wherefore hast thou thus brought vs out of Egypt to kill vs and our children ✠ our cattel with thirst?
4 And Moses cryed to the Lord, saying, What shall I doe to this people? for they be almost ready to c stone me.
5 And the Lord answered to Moses, Go before the people, and take with thee of the Elders of Israel: and thy rod, wherewith thou smotest the riuer, take in thine hand, and go:
6 *Behold, I will stand there before thee vpon the rocke in Horeb, and thou shalt smite on the rocke, and water shall come out of it, that ỹ people may drinke. And Moses did so in the sight of the Elders of Israel.

11 And when Moses held vp his hand, Israel preuailed: but when hee let his hands g downe, Amalek preuailed.
12 Now Moses hands were heauie: therefore they tooke a stone and put it vnder him, and he sate vpon it: and Aaron and Hur stayed vp his hands, ỹ one on the one side, and ỹ other on the other side: so his handes were steady vntil the going downe of the sunne.
13 And Iosh. discomfited Amalek ✠ his people with the edge of the sword.

Chap.2.16.

When Jethro ỹ * Priest of Midian Moses father in lawe heard all that God had done for Moses, and for Israel his people, [and] howe the Lorde had brought Israel out of Egypt,

2 Then Jethro the father in lawe of Moses tooke Zipporah Moses wife, (after he had [a] sent her away)

3 And her two sonnes, (whereof the one was called * Gershom: for he saide, I haue bene an aliant in a strange land:

4 And the name of the other [was] Eliezer: for the God of my father, [saide he, was] mine helpe, and deliuered me from the [sword of Pharaoh)

5 And Jethro Moses father in lawe came with his two sonnes, and his wife vnto Moses into the wildernes, where he camped by the [b] mount of God.

6 And he [said to Moses, I thy father in lawe Jethro am come to thee, and thy wife and her two sonnes with her.

7 ¶ And Moses went out to meete his father in lawe, and did obeisaunce and kissed him, and eche asked other of his [‡] welfare: [‡] they came into the tent.

8 Then Moses told his father in law all that the Lorde had done vnto Pharaoh, and to the Egyptians for Israels sake, [and] al the trauaile that had come vnto them by the way, and [howe] the Lord deliuered them.

9 And Jethro reioyced at all ỹ goodnesse, which the Lorde had shewed to Israel, [and] because he had deliuered them out of the hand of the Egyptians.

10 Therefore Jethro saide, [d] Blessed [be] the Lorde who hath deliuered you out of the hand of the Egyptians, [‡] out of ỹ hand of Pharaoh: who hath [also] deliuered the people from vnder ỹ hand of the Egyptians.

11 Nowe I knowe that the Lorde is greater then all the gods: * for as they haue delt proudly with them, [so are they [c] recompensed.]

12 Then Jethro Moses father in law tooke burnt offerings and sacrifices [to offer] vnto God. And Aaron and all the Elders of Israel came to eate bread with Moses father in law [e] before God.

13 ¶ Now on ỹ morow, when Moses sate to iudge the people, the people stood about Moses from morning vnto euen.

14 And when Moses father in lawe sawe al that he did to the people, he said, what is this that thou doest to the people? why sittest thou thy selfe alone, and all the people stand about thee from morning vnto euen?

15 And Moses saide vnto his father in lawe, Because the people come vnto me to seeke [g] God.

16 When they haue a matter, they come vnto me, and I iudge betweene one [‡] another, and declare the ordinances of God, and his lawes.

17 But Moses father in lawe said vnto him, The thing which thou doest, is not well.

18 Thou both [‡] weariest thy selfe greatly, and this people that is with thee: for the thing [is] to heauy for thee: * thou art not able to do it thy selfe alone.

19 Heare now my [‖] voyce, (I will giue thee counsel, and God shalbe with thee) be thou for the people to [h] God warde, and repoze thou the causes vnto God, 20 And admonish them of ỹ ordinances, and of the lawes, [‡] shewe them the way, wherein they must walke, and the worke that they must do.

21 Moreouer, prouide thou among all ỹ people [i] men of courage, fearing God, men dealing truely, hating couetousnes: and appoint [such] ouer them [to be] rulers ouer thousands, rulers ouer hundreths, rulers ouer fifties, and rulers ouer tens.

22 And let them iudge the people at al seasons: but euery great matter let them bring vnto thee, and let them iudge all small causes: so shall it be easier for thee, when they shal beare [the burden] with thee.

23 If thou do this thing, ([‡] God [so] commande thee) both thou shalt be able to endure, and all this people shall also go quietly to their place.

24 So Moses [k] obeyed ỹ voyce of his father in law, [‡] did all that he had saide:

25 And Moses chose men of courage out of all Israel, and made them heades ouer the people, rulers ouer thousands, rulers ouer hundreths, rulers ouer fifties, and rulers ouer tens.

26 And they iudged the people at all seasons, [but] they brought ỹ hard causes vnto Moses: for they iudged al small matters them selues.

27 Afterward Moses [l] let his father in lawe depart, and hee went into his countrey.

9 And the Lord said vnto Moses, Lo, I come vnto thee in a thicke cloud, that the people may heare, whiles I talke with thee, [z] that they may also beleeue thee for euer. (for Moses had tolde the wordes of the people vnto the Lord)

10 Moreouer, the Lord said vnto Moses, Go to the people, and [c] sanctifie them to day and to morowe, [z] let them wash their clothes.

c Teach them to be pure in heart, as they beeue themselues outwardly cleane by washing.

11 And let them be ready on the third day: for the third day the Lorde will come downe in the sight of all the people vpon mount Sinai:

12 And thou shalt set markes vnto the people round about, saying, Take heede to your selues that ye goe not vp to the mount, nor touche the border of it: whosoeuer toucheth the *mount, shal surely dye.

Heb.12.20.

14 ¶ Then Moses went downe from the mount vnto the people, and sanctified the people, and they washed their clothes.

f But giue your selues to prayer and abstinence, that you may at this time attend onely vpon the Lorde. 1.Cor.7.5.

16 And [y] third day, when it was morning, there was thunders & lightnings, and a thicke cloude vpon the mount, and the sound of the trumpet exceeding loud, so that all the people, that was in the campe, was afrayde.

17 Then Moses brought the people out of the tents to meete with God, and they stoode in the nether part of the mount.

18 *And mount Sinai [was] all on smoke, because the Lorde came downe vpon it in fire, and the smoke thereof ascended, as the smoke of a fornace, and all the mount [g] trembled exceedingly.

Deut.4.11.

g God vsed these fearefull signes that his Law should be had in greater reuerence, and his maiestie the more feared.

19 And when the sound of the trumpet blewe long, and waxed louder and louder, Moses spake, and God answered him by [h] voyce.

h He gaue authoritie to Moses by plaine wordes, that the people might vnderstand him.

20 (For the Lorde came downe vpon mount Sinai on the top of the mount) and when the Lord called Moses vp into the top of the mount, Moses went vp.

21 Then the Lorde sayde vnto Moses, Goe downe, charge the people, that they breake not [their boundes], to goe vp [to] the Lorde to gaze, least many of them perish.

22 And let the ‖ Priestes also which come to the Lord be sanctified, least the Lorde ‖ destroy them.

‖ Or, rulers. ‖ Or, breake out vpon the.

23 And Moses sayd vnto the Lorde, The people can not come vp into the mount Sinai: for thou hast charged vs, saying, Set markes on the mountaine, and sanctifie it.

24 And the Lorde sayde vnto him, Goe, get thee downe, and come vp, thou, and Aaron with thee: but let not the [i] Priestes and the people breake [their boundes] to come vp vnto the Lord, least he destroy them.

i Neither dignitie nor multitude haue authoritie to passe the boundes, that Gods word preserueth.

3 The people promes to obey God. 4 Moses writeth the ciuill lawes. 9. 13 Moses returneth into the mountaine. 14 Aaron and Hur haue the charge of the people. 18 Moses was fourtie dayes and fourtie nights in the mountaine.

Chap. 20. 24. ‖ Or, at the foote of the mountaine.

5 And he sent yong [c] men of the children of Israel, which offered burnt offerings of bieues, and sacrificed peace offerings vnto the Lord.

d Which blood signifieth that the couenant broken cannot be satisfied without blood shedding.

9 ¶ Then went vp Moses and Aaron, Nadab, and Abihu, and seuentie of the Elders of Israel.

15 Then Moses went vp to [l] mount, and the cloude couered the mountaine, 16 And the glorie of the Lorde abode vpon mount Sinai, and the cloude couered it six dayes: and the seuenth day he called vnto Moses out of the middes of the cloude.

1 The foyme of the Tabernacle and the appertinances. 33 The place of the Arke, of the Mercieate, of the Table, and of the Candlesticke.

a That is, of most cunning or fine worke.

AFterwarde thou shalt make the Tabernacle with ten curtaines of fine twined linen, and blew silke, & purple, and skarlet: and in them thou shalt make Cherubims of [a] broyded worke.

The first couering of the Tabernacle.

A B C D The ten curtaines, which were eight & twentie cubites long of Cherubim worke.

A B The breadth of a curtaine was foure cubites, and so the ten were fourtie cubites broad.

F G Two curtaines and an halfe: so that the whole layde together declareth that the Tabernacle was thirtie cubites long and twelue broad.

F H Taches or hookes to tye the curtaines together.

2 The length of one curtaine [shalbe] eight and twentie cubites, and the breadth of one curtaine, foure cubites: euery one of the curtaines shall haue one measure.

3 Fiue curtaines shall be coupled one to an other: & the [other] fiue curtaines shalbe coupled one to another.

4 And thou shalt make strings of blewe silke vpon the edge of the one curtaine, [which is] in the seluedge [b] of the coupling: and likewise shalt thou make in the edge of the [other] curtaine in the selvedge, in the second coupling.

These eleuen curtaines of goates heare were put aboue the other ten, A And the eleuenth hanged before the entry of the Tabernacle, looke B. These also were 30. cubites long, & the other but eight and twentie, and therefore on the South side they were a cubite longer then the other, looke C. And also an other on the North side, that the boardes might be couered, F.

7 ¶ Also thou shalt make curtaines of goates [heare, to be a [d] couering vpon the Tabernacle: thou shalt make them [to the number] of eleuen curtaines.

d Lest raine & wether should marre it.

8 The length of a curtaine [shall be] thirtie cubites, and the breadth of a curtaine foure cubites: the eleuen curtaines [shall be] of one measure.

9 And thou shalt couple fiue curtaines by themselues, and the sixe curtaines by themselues: but thou shalt double the [e] sixt curtaine vpon the forefront of the couering.

e That is, fiue on the one side, and fiue on the other, and the sixt shoulde hang ouer the doore of the Tabernacle.

10 And thou shalt make fiftie strings in the edge of one curtaine in þ selvedge of the coupling, and fiftie stringes in the edge of the [other] curtaine in the second coupling.

11 Likewise thou shalt make fiftie ‖ taches of brasse, and fasten them on the strings, and shalt couple the couering together, that it may be one.

‖ Or, hookes.

12 And the [f] remnant that resteth in the curtaines of the couering, [euen] the halfe curtaine that resteth, shal be left at the backe side of the Tabernacle.

f For these curtaine were two cubites longer then the curtaines of the Tabernacle: so that they were sider by a cubite on both sides.

13 That the cubite on the one side, and the cubite on the other side of that which is left in the length of the curtaines of the couering, may remaine on either side of the Tabernacle to couer it.

14 Moreouer, for that couering thou shalt make a [g] couering of rams skinnes dyed red, and a couering [h] of badgers skinnes aboue.

g To be put vpon the couering that was made of goates heare.

h This was the third couering for the Tabernacle.

15 ¶ Also thou shalt make boardes for the Tabernacle of Shittim Wood to stand vp.

16 Ten cubites [shalbe] the length of a board, and a cubite and an halfe cubite the the breadth of one board.

17 Two tenons [shalbe] in one board set in order as the feete of a ladder, one against another: thus shalt thou make for all the boardes of the Tabernacle.

The Tabernacle.

A Twentie boardes on the Southside, and as many on the Northside, which were of 10 cubites in length, that is, from E. to E. The breadth of eche was a cubite and a halfe, by reason whereof, all ioyned together, made 30 cubites, which was the length of the Tabernacle. Iosephus writeth that eche boarde was an handfull thicke.

B The nether part of the boards which was cut into two tenons.

C The two mortaises, for eche tenon one, wrought in two pieces apart, whereinto when the boardes were put, they receiued the tenons, and held the boardes vp.

D D D D D Signifie fiue barres to holde the boardes in order: foure passed without the boardes, through rings: the middlemost went through the thicknes of the boardes, wherein holes were made therefore.

E E Two rings, one at the vpper part, and another at the nether part of the boardes, which ioyned the sides of the Tabernacle, and the boardes of the West ende together.

F F Rings wherethrough the barres passed.

G H A vaile hanging on foure pillars, and wrought of Cherubims, which did separate the holy place, from the most holy.

I The most holy place.

L Eight boardes that close vp the Tabernacle on the West end, which was the vppermost ende of the place.

M A hanging or vaile, which was at the entrie of the Tabernacle, being at the East ende which was fastened to hang at fiue pillars.

18 And thou shalt make boardes for the Tabernacle, [euen] twenty boardes on the South side, euen full South.

19 And thou shalt make fourtie ‖ sockets of siluer vnder the twentie boards, two sockets vnder one boarde for his two tenons, and two sockets vnder an other boarde for his two tenons.

‖ Or, base pieces, wherein were the mortaises for the tenons.

20 In like maner on the other side of the Tabernacle toward the North side [shall be] twentie boardes, 21 And their fourtie sockets of siluer, two sockets vnder one boarde, and two sockets vnder another board.

22 And on the side of the Tabernacle, towarde the West, shalt thou make sixe boardes.

23 Also two boardes shalt thou make in the corners of the Tabernacle in the two sides.

i The Ebrew woorde signifieth twinnes: declaring that they shoulde be so perfect and well ioyned as were possible.

24 Also they shalbe i ioyned beneath, and likewise they shall be ioyned aboue to a ring: thus shall it be for them two: they shalbe for the two corners.

25 So they shalbe eight boardes hauing sockets of siluer, [euen] sixteene sockets, [that is,] two sockets vnder one boarde, and two sockets vnder another board.

26 ¶ Then thou shalt make fiue barres of Shittim wood for the boards of one side of the Tabernacle, 27 And fiue barres for the boardes of the other side of the Tabernacle: also fiue barres for the boards of the side of the Tabernacle towarde the West side.

28 And the middle barre shall goe through the middes of the boards, from ende to ende.

29 And thou shalt couer the boardes with gold, and make their rings of gold, for places for the barres, and thou shalt couer the barres with gold.

30 So thou shalt reare vp the Tabernacle * according to the fashion thereof, which was shewed thee in the mount. Chap.25.9, 40.hebr.8.5. act.7.44.

31 ¶ Moreouer, thou shalt make a bayle of blew silke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linen: thou shalt make it of broydred worke with Cherubims.

32 And thou shalt hang it vpon foure pillars of Shittim wood couered with gold, (whose k hookes shalbe of golde) [standing] vpon foure sockets of siluer.

k Some read, heads of the pillars.

33 ¶ Afterwarde thou shalt hang the baile ‡ on the hookes, that thou mayest bring in thither, [that is] (within the baile) the Arke of the Testimonie: and the baile shall make you a separation betweene the holy place and the l most holy place.

7 And the barres thereof shall be put in the rings, the which barres shall be vpon the two sides of the altar to beare it.

8 Thou shalt make the [altar] hollowe [betweene] the boardes: as [God] shewed thee in the mount, so shall they make it.

9 ¶ Also thou shalt make the c court of the Tabernacle in ỹ Southside, euen full South: the court shall haue curtaines of fine twined linen, of an hundreth cubites long, for one side, c This was the first entrie into the Tabernacle, where the people abode.

10 And it shall haue twentie pillars, with their twentie sockets of brasse: the heades of the pillars, and their d filets [shalbe] siluer.

d They were certaine hoopes or circles for to beautifie the pillar.

11 Likewise on ỹ Northside in length [there shalbe] hangings of an hundreth [cubites] long, and the twentie pillars thereof with their twentie sockets of brasse: the heades of the pillars and the filets [shalbe] siluer.

12 ¶ And the breadth of the court on the west side [shal haue] curtaines of fiftie cubites, [with] their ten pillars and their ten sockets.

13 And the breadth of the court, Eastward ful East [shal haue] e fiftie cubites.

e Meaning curtaines of fiftie cubites.

14 Also hangings of fiftene cubites [shalbe] on the [one] f side [with] their three pillars and their three sockets.

f Of the doore of the court.

15 Likewise on the other side [shalbe] hangings of fiftene cubites, [with] their three pillars and their three sockets.

16 ¶ And in the gate of the court [shalbe] a paile of twentie cubites, of blewe silke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linen wrought wt̃ needle, [with] the foure pillars thereof and their foure sockets.

17 All the pillars of the court shall haue filets of siluer round about, [with] their heades of siluer, and their sockets of brasse.

18 ¶ The length of the court [shal be] an hundreth cubites, and the breadth fiftie ‡ at either end, and the height fiue cubites, [and the hangings] of fine twined linen, and their sockets of brasse.

‡ Ebr. fiftie in fiftie.

19 All the vessels of the Tabernacle for all maner seruice thereof, and all the ‖ pinnes thereof, and all the pinnes of the court [shall be] brasse.

‖ Or, stakes, wherewith the curtains were fastened to the ground.

20 ¶ And thou shalt commande the children of Israel, that they bring vnto thee pure oyle olive h beaten for the light, that the lampes may allway ‖ burne.

h Such as commeth from the olive, when it is first pressed or beaten.

‖ Or, ascend vp.

21 In the Tabernacle of the Congregation without the paile, which is before the Testimonie, shall Aaron and his sonnes dresse them from euenyng to mornyng before the Lorde, for a statute for euer vnto their generations, [to be obserued] by the children of Israel.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 The Lorde calleth Aaron and his sonnes to the Priesthoode. 4 Their garments, 12, 29 Aaron entreth into the Sanctuarie in the name of the children of Israel. 30 Vrim and Thummim. 38 Aaron beareth the iniquitie of the Israelites offrings.

AND cause thou thy brother Aaron to come vnto thee and his sonnes with him, from among the children of Israel, that hee may serue me in the Priestes office: [I meane] Aaron, Nadab, and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar Aarons sonnes.

2 Also thou shalt make holy garments for Aaron thy brother, a glorious and beautifull.

a Whereby his office may be knowen to be glorious and excellent, ‡ Ebr. wise in heart.

3 Therefore thou shalt speake vnto all ‡ cunning men, whom I haue filled with the spirite of wisedome, that they make Aarons garments to b consecrate him, that he may serue me in the Priests office.

b Which is, to separate him from the rest.

The

The garments of the high Priest.

A The Ephod, or vpmost coate, which was like cloth of golde and was girded vnto him, wherein was the brest plate with the twelue stones, which was tyed aboue with two chaines to two onix stones, and beneath with two laces.

B The robe which was next vnder the Ephod, whereunto were ioyned the pomegranates and belles of golde.

C The vnicle or broydred coate, which was vnder the robe & longer then it, and was also without sleeues.

4 Now these shalbe the garmentes, which they shall make, a brest plate, and an [c]Ephod, and a robe, and a broydred coate, a miter, & a girdle. so [these] holy garments shall they make for Aaron thy brother, and for his sonnes, that he may serue me in the Priestes office.

5 Therfore they shal take gold, & blew silke, & purple, and skarlet, and fine linen,

6 ¶ And they shall make the Ephod of golde, blewe silke, and purple, skarlet, and fine twined linen of broydred worke.

7 The two shoulders thereof shall be ioyned together by their two edges: so shall it be closed.

8 And the [d] embroydred garde of the same Ephod, which shalbe vpon him, shalbe of the selfe same worke & stuffe, [euen] of golde, blewe silke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linen.

9 And thou shalt take two Onix stones, and graue vpon them the names of the children of Israel:

10 Sixe names of them vpon the one stone, and the sixe names that remaine, vpon the second stone, according to their generations.

11 Thou shalt cause to graue the two stones according to the names of the children of Israel by a grauer of signets, that worketh & graueth in stone, & shalt make them to be set & embossed in golde.

12 And thou shalt put the two stones vpon the shoulders of the Ephod, [as] stones of [f] remembrance of the children of Israel: for Aaron shall beare their names before the Lorde vpon his two shoulders for a remembrance.

13 So thou shalt make bosses of gold,

14 ¶ And two cheynes of fine gold [g] at the ende, of wrethed worke shalt thou make them, and shalt fasten the wrethed cheynes vpon the bosses.

15 ¶ Also thou shalt make the brest plate of [h] iudgement w broydred worke: like the worke of the Ephod shalt thou make it: of golde, blewe silke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linen shalt thou make it.

16 [i] Foure square it shalbe [and] double, an hand breadth long and an hand breadth broade.

17 Then thou shalt set it full of places for stones, [euen] foure rowes of stones: the order [shalbe this,] a ‖ Rubie, a Topaze, and a ‖ Carbuncle in the first rowe.

18 And in the second rowe [thou shalt set] an ‖ Emeraude, a Saphir, and a ‖ Diamond, 19 And in the third rowe a Turkeis, an Achate, and an Hematite.

20 And in the fourth rowe a [‡] Chrysolite, an Onix, and a Jasper: and they shall be set in gold in their embossements.

21 And the stones shall be according to the names of the children of Israel, twelue, according to their names, graue as signets, euery one after his name, [and] they shalbe for the twelue tribes.

22 ¶ Then thou shalt make vpon the brest plate two cheines at the endes of wrethen worke of pure golde.

23 Thou shalt make also vpon [p] brest plate two rings of golde, & put the two rings on [k] the two endes of the brest plate.

24 And thou shalt put the two wrethen cheines of golde in the two rings in the endes of the brest plate.

25 And the [other] two endes of the two wrethen [cheines,] thou shalt fasten in the two embossments, and shalt put [them] vpon the shoulders of the Ephod on the fore side of it.

26 ¶ Also thou shalt make two rings of gold, which thou shalt put in the [l] two [other] endes of [p] brest plate, vpon [p] border thereof, toward [p] inside of [p] Ephod.

27 And two [other] rings of golde thou shalt make, and put them on [p] two sides of the Ephod, beneath in [p] fore part of it ouer against the coupling of it vpon the broydred garde of the Ephod.

28 Thus they shall bind [p] brest plate by his rings vnto [p] rings of the Ephod, with a lace of blew silke, that it may be [fast] vpon the broydred garde of the Ephod, and that the brest plate be not loosed from the Ephod.

29 So Aaron shal [m] beare the names of the children of Israel in the brest plate of iudgement vpon his heart, when hee goeth into the holy place, for a remembrance continually before the Lord.

30 ¶ Also thou shalt put in the brest plate of iudgement the [n] Urim and the Thummim, which shalbe vpō Aarons heart, when he goeth in before [p] Lorde: and c A short and streight coate without sleeues put vpmost vpon his garments to keepe them cleale vnto him.

d Which went about his vpmost coate.

e As they were in age, so should they be grauen in order.

m Aaron shall not enter into the holy place in his owne name, but in the name of all the children of Israel.

n Urim signifieth light, and Thummim perfection: declaring that the stones of the brestplate were most cleare, and of perfect beautie: By Urim also is ment knowledge, & Thummim holines, shewing what vertues are required in the Priestes.

and Aaron shall beare the iudgement of the children of Israel vpon his heart before the Lord continually.

31 And thou shalt make the robe of the Ephod altogether of blewe silke.

32 And the hole for his head shalbe in the midst of it, hauing an edge of wouen worke round about the coller of it: so it shalbe as the coller of an habergeon that it rent not.

33 And beneath vpon the skirtes thereof thou shalt make pomegranates of blewe silke, and purple, and skarlet, round about the skirtes thereof, & belles of gold betweene them round about:

Ecclus.45.9.

34 [That is,] *a golden bel & a pomegranate, a golden bell & a pomegranate round about vpon ẏ skirtes of the robe.

35 So it shalbe vpon Aaron, when he ministreth, and his sound shalbe heard, when he goeth into the holy place before the Lorde, and when he commeth out, and he shall not die.

36 Also thou shalt make a plate of pure gold, and graue thereon, as signets are grauen, ° HOLINES TO THE LORD, ° Holines apperteineth to the Lord: for he is most holy, & nothing vnholy may appeare before him.

37 And thou shalt put it on a blew silke lace, and it shalbe vpon the miter: [euen] vpon the fore front of ẏ miter shall it be.

38 So it shalbe vpō Aarons forehead, that Aaron may ᵖ beare the iniquitie of the offrings, which the children of Israel shall offer in all their holy offrings: and it shalbe alwayes vpō his forehead, to make them acceptable before ẏ Lord.

ᵖ Their offrings could not be so perfect, but some fault would be therein: which sinne the high Priest bare & pacified God.

39 Likewise thou shalt embroyder the fine linen coate, and thou shalt make a miter of fine linen, but thou shalt make a girdel of needle worke.

40 Also thou shalt make for Aarons sonnes coates, & thou shalt make them girdels, & bonets shalt thou make them for glory and comelines.

41 And thou shalt put them vpon Aaron thy brother, and on his sonnes with him, and shalt anoint them, and ° fil their hands, & sanctifie them, that they may minister vnto me in the Priests office.

° That is, consecrate them, by giuing the things to offer, and thereby admit them to their office.

42 Thou shalt also make them linen breeches to couer their priuities: frō the loynes vnto the thighs shal they reache.

43 And they shalbe for Aaron and his sonnes when they come into the tabernacle ‖ of the Congregation, or when they come vnto the altar to minister in the holy place, that they ʳ commit not iniquitie, & so die. [This shalbe] a lawe for euer vnto him & to his seede after him.

‖ Or, of witnes.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 The maner of consecrating the Priests. 38 The continuall sacrifice. 45 The Lord promiseth to dwell among the children of Israel.

AND this thing also shalt thou doe vnto them when thou consecratest thē to be my Priestes, * Take a yong calfe, and two rams without blemish, Leuit.9.2.

2 And vnleauened bread and cakes vnleauened tempered with oyle, & wafers vnleauened anointed with oyle: (of fine wheat flowre shalt thou make thē)

3 Then thou shalt put them in one basket, and ª present them in the basket with the calfe and the two rams, ª To offer them in sacrifice.

4 And shalt bring Aaron & his sonnes vnto the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and wash them with water.

5 Also thou shalt take the garments, and put vpon Aaron the tunicle, and the robe of the ᵇ Ephod, and the Ephod, and the brest plate, and shalt cloke [them] to him with the broydred gard of ẏ Ephod.

ᵇ Which was next vnder the Ephod.

6 Then thou shalt put the miter vpon his head, & shalt put the holy *crowne vpon the miter. Chap.28.36.

7 And thou shalt take the anointing *oyle, and shalt powre vpon his head, and anoint him. Chap.30.25.

8 And thou shalt bring his sonnes, and put coates vpon them,

9 And shalt gird them with girdels, [both] Aaron and his sonnes: and shalt put the bonets on them, and the Priests office shalbe theirs for a perpetual law: thou * shalt also ‖ fil the hands of Aaron, and the hands of his sonnes. Chap.28.41. ‖ Or, consecrate them.

10 After, thou shalt present the calfe before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, * and Aaron and his sonnes shall ᶜ put their handes vpon the head of the calfe. Leuit.1.4. ᶜ Signifying that the sacrifice was also offred for them and that they did appoue it.

11 So thou shalt kill the calfe before the Lorde, at the dooze of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

12 Then thou shalt take of the blood of the calfe, and put it vpon the hornes of the altar with thy finger, & shalt powre all [the rest] of the blood at the foote of the altar.

13 *Also thou shalt take al the fat that couereth the inwards, and the kal, [that is] on the liuer, and the two kidneis, and the fat that is vpon them, & shalt burne them vpon the altar. Leuit.3.3.

14 But ẏ flesh of the calfe, & his skinne, & his doung shalt thou burne with fire without the hoste: it is a ‡ sinne offring. ‡Ebr. sinne.

15 Thou 2.Cor.5.21.

15 ¶ Thou shalt also take one ram, & Aaron and his sonnes shall put their hands vpon the head of the ram.

16 Then thou shalt kill the ram, and take his blood, and sprinkle it round about vpon the altar.

17 And thou shalt cut ỹ ram in pieces, and wash the inwardes of him and his legges, & shalt put them vpon the pieces thereof, and vpon his head.

18 So thou shalt burne the whole ram vpon the altar: [for] it is a burnt offring vnto ỹ Lord[d] for a sweete sauour: it is an offring made by fire vnto ỹ Lorde.

d Of a sauour of rest, which causeth the wrath of God to cease.

19 ¶ And thou shalt take the other ram, and Aaron & his sonnes shall put their hands vpon the head of the ram.

20 Then shalt thou kill the ram, and take of his blood & put it [e] vpon the lap of Aarons eare, and vpon the lap of the right eare of his sonnes, and vpon the thumbe of their right hande, and vpon the great toe of their right foote, & shalt sprinkle the blood vpon the altar round about.

e Meaning, the soft and nether part of the eare.

21 And thou shalt take of the blood that is [f] vpon the altar, and of the anointing oyle, and shalt sprinkle it vpon Aaron, and vpon his garments, & vpon his sonnes, and vpon the garments of his sonnes with him: so he shalbe halowed, and his clothes, & his sonnes, and the garments of his sonnes with him.

f Wherewith the altar must be sprinkled.

22 Also thou shalt take of ỹ rams the fat and the rumpe, euen the fat that couereth the inwards, and the kall of the liuer, and the two kidneis, & the fat that is vpon them, and the right shoulder, (for it is the [g] ram of consecration)

g Which is offred for the consecration of the hie Priest.

23 And one loafe of bread, & one cake of bread [tempered] with oyle, and one wafer, out of the basket of the vnleauened [bread] that is before the Lord.

24 And thou shalt put all this in the handes of Aaron, and in the handes of his sonnes, and shalt shake them to and fro before the Lord.

25 Againe, thou shalt receiue them of their handes, and burne them vpon the altar besides ỹ burnt offring for a sweete sauour before the Lord: [for] this is an offring made by fire vnto the Lord.

h This sacrifice the Priest did moue toward the East, West, North and South.

i So called, because it was not onely shaken to and fro, but also lifted vp.

26 Likewise thou shalt take the brest of the ram of the consecration, which is for Aaron, & shalt shake it to [h] and fro before the Lord, and it shall be thy part.

27 And thou shalt sanctifie the brest of the shaken offring, and the shoulder of the heaue offring, which was shaken to and fro, & which was heaued vp of the ram of the consecration, which [was] for Aaron, and which [was] for his sonnes.

28 And Aaron & his sonnes shal haue it by a statute for euer, of the children of Israel: for it is an heaue offring, and it shalbe an heaue offring of the children of Israel, of their [k] peace offrings, [euen] their heaue offring to the Lord.

k Which were offrings of thanksgiuing to God for his benefites.

29 ¶ And the holy garments, which [appertein] to Aaron, shalbe his sonnes after him, to be anointed therein, and to be consecrate therein.

30 That sonne that shalbe Priest in his stead, shall put them on seuen dayes, when he commeth into the Tabernacle of the Congregation to minister in the holy place.

31 ¶ So thou shalt take the ram of the consecration, and seethe his flesh in the holy place.

32 *And Aaron and his sonnes shall eate the flesh of the ram, and the bread that is in the basket, at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

Leuit.8.31. and 24.9. mat.12.4.

33 So they shall eate these things, [l] wherewith their attonement was made, to consecrate them, [and] to sanctifie them: but a stranger shal not eate [thereof,] because they are holy things.

l That is, by the sacrifices.

34 Nowe if ought of the flesh of the consecration, or of the bread remaine vnto the morning, then thou shalt burne the rest with fire: it shal not be eaten, because it is an holy thing.

35 Therefore shalt thou do thus vnto Aaron & vnto his sonnes, according to al things, which I haue commanded thee: seuen daies shalt thou [t] consecrate them, t Ebr. fill their hands.

36 And thalt offer euery day a calfe for a sinne offring, for [m] reconciliation: and thou shalt cleuse the altar, when thou hast offred vpon it for reconciliation, and thalt anoint it, to sanctifie it.

m To appease Gods wrath that sinne may be pardoned.

37 Seuen dayes shalt thou cleuse the altar, and sanctifie it, so the altar shall be most holy: [and] whatsoeuer toucheth the altar, shalbe holy.

38 ¶* Nowe this is that which thou shalt present vpon the altar: [euen] two lambes of one yere olde, day by day continually.

Nom.28.3.

39 The one lambe thou shalt present in the morning, & the other lambe thou shalt present at euen.

40 And with the one lambe, a [n] tenth part of fine floure mingled with the fourth part of an [o] Hin of beaten oile, and the fourth part of an Hin of wine, for a drinke offring.

41 And the other lambe thou shalt present at euen: thou shalt do thereto according to the offring of the morning, and according to the drinke offring thereof, [to be] a burnt offring for a sweete sauour vnto the Lord.

42 [This shalbe] a continuall burnt offring in your generations at the doore of the Tabernacle of the congregation before the Lorde, where I will ‖ make appoyntment with you, to speake there vnto thee.

‖ Or, declare my self to you.

43 There I will appoynt with the children of Israel, and [the place] shalbe sanctified by my p glorie.

p Because of my glorious presence.

44 And I will sanctifie the Tabernacle of the Congregation & the altar: I will sanctifie also Aaron and his sonnes to be my Priests, 45 And I wil * dwell among the children of Israel, and will be their God.

Leuit. 26. 12. 2. cor. 6. 16.

46 Then shall they know that I am the Lord their God, q brought them out of the land of Egypt, that I might dwel among them: q I am p Lord their God.

q It is I the Lord, that am their God.

CHAP. XXX.

1 The altar of incense. 13 The summe that the Israelites should pay to the Tabernacle. 18 The hasen lauer. 23 The anointing oile. 34 The making of the perfume.

a Vpon the which p sweete perfume was burnt, verse. 34

THurthermore p shalt make an altar for sweete perfume, of Shittim wood thou shalt make it.

2 The length thereof a cubite and the bredth thereof a cubite (it shall be foure square) & the height therof two cubites: the hornes thereof [shalbe] of the same,

b Of the same wood and matter.

3 And thou shalt ouerlay it with fine gold, [both] the top thereof and the sides thereof round about, and his hornes: also thou shalt make vnto it ‖ a crowne of gold round about.

‖ Or, a circle & border.

4 Besides this thou shalt make vnder this crowne two golden rings on either side: [euen] on euery side shalt thou make [the,] that they may be as places for the barres to beare it withall.

The Altar of sweete perfume.

This altar was one cubite long, and one cubite broade, and in height was two cubites: the rest may be vnderstand by the former figures.

5 The which barres thou shalt make of Shittim wood, and shalt couer them with golde.

6 After thou shalt set it c before p vaile, that is nere the Arke of Testimonie, before the Mercyseate that is vpo the Testimonie, where I will appoint w thee.

c That is, in the Sanctuarie, & not in the Holiest of all.

7 And Aaron shal burne theron sweet incense euery morning: when he d dreſſeth the lampes therof, shall he burne it.

d Meaning, when he trimmeth them, & refresheth the oyle.

8 Likewise at euen, when Aaron setteth vp the lamps thereof, he shal burne incense: [this] perfume [shalbe] perpetually before the Lorde, throughout your generations.

9 Ye shall offer no e strãge incense thereon, nor burnt sacrifice, nor offring, neither powre any drinke offring f thereon.

e Otherwise made then this, which is described.

f But it must onely serue to burn perfume.

10 And Aaron shall make reconciliation vpon the hornes of it once in a yere with the blood of the sinne offring [in the day] of reconciliation: once in the yeere shall hee make reconciliation vpon it throughout your generations: this is most holy vnto the Lord.

11 ¶ Afterward the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

12 * When thou takest the summe of the children of Israel after their nomber, then they shal giue euery man g a redemption of his life vnto the Lord, when thou tellest them, that there be no plague among them when thou countest them.

Nom. 1. 2, 5.

g Whereby he is stiled that he redeemed his life which he had forfait, as is declared by Dauid, 2. Sam. 24. 1.

13 This shall euery man giue, that goeth into the nomber, halfe a shekel, after the h shekel of the Sanctuarie: (* a shekel [is] twentie gerahs) the halfe shekel [shalbe] an offring to the Lord.

h This shekel valued two common shekels: and the gerah valued about 12 pence after fiue shillings sterling the once of siluer.

14 All that are nombred from twenty yere old and aboue, shall giue an offring to the Lord.

15 The rich shal not passe, & the poore shall not diminish from halfe a shekel, when yee shall giue an offring vnto the Lord, i for the redemption of your liues.

Leuit. 27. 25. nom. 3. 47. ezek. 45. 12.

i That God should be merciful vnto you.

16 So thou shalt take the money of p redemption of the children of Israel, and shalt put it vnto the vse of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, that it may be a memorial vnto p children of Israel before the Lord for the redemption of your liues.

The Lauer of brasse.

Because the maner of this figure is not particularly described, we haue put it in this forme: as well for p it agreeth with the text, as also it is after this fashion in other copies of sundrie languages.

17 ¶ Also the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

18 Thou shalt also make a lauer of brasse, and his foote of brasse to wash, and shalt put it betweene the Tabernacle of the Congregation and the altar, and shalt put water therein.

k Signifying that he that commeth to God, must be washed from all sinne and corruption.

19 For Aaron & his sonnes shall k wash their hands and their feete thereat.

20 When they go into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, or when they go vnto the altar to minister [and] to make the perfume of the burnt offring to the Lord, they shall wash themselues with water, lest they die.

21 So they shall wash their handes and their feete that they die not: & [this] shall be to them an ordinance l for euer, [both] vnto him & to his seede throughout their generations.

l So long as the Priesthood shall last.

22 ¶ Also the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

23 Take thou also vnto thee, principall spices of the most pure myrrhe fiue hundreth [m shekels,] of sweete cinamon halfe so much, [that is,] two hundreth and fifte, and of sweete n calamus, two hundreth, and fifte:

m Waying so much.

n It is a kinde of reed of a verie sweete sauour within, and is vsed in powders and odours. Chap.29.40.

24 Also of Cassia fiue hundreth, after the shekel of the Sanctuarie, and of oyle oliue an * Hin.

25 So thou shalt make of it the oyle of holy ointment, [euen] a most precious ointment after the arte of the apothecarie: this shalbe the oyle of holy oyntment.

26 And thou shalt anoint the o Tabernacle of the Congregation therewith, and the Arke of the Testimonie:

o All things which appertein to the Tabernacle.

27 Also the Table, and all the instruments therof, and the Candlestick, with all the instruments therof, and the altar of incense:

28 Also the altar of burnt offring with all his instruments, and the lauer and his foote.

29 So thou shalt sanctifie them, and they shall bee most holy: all that shall touch them, shalbe holy.

30 Thou shalt also anoint Aaron and his sonnes, and shalt consecrate them, that they may minister vnto me in the Priestes office.

31 Moreouer thou shalt speake vnto the children of Israel, saying, This shal be an holy oinfing oile vnto me, throughout your generations.

p Neither at their burials, nor otherwise.

32 None shall anoint p mans flesh therewith, neither shal ye make any composition like vnto it: [for] it is holy, [and] shalbe holy vnto you.

33 Whosoeuer shal make the like ointment, or whosoeuer shall put any of it vpon q a stranger, euen he shalbe cut off from his people.

q Either a stranger, or an Israelite, saue only the Priests.

34 And the Lorde saide vnto Moses, Take vnto thee [these] spices, pure myrrhe and r cleare gumme and galbanum, [these] odours with pure frankincense, of eche like weight:

r In Hebrew, Sheheleth: which is a sweete kinde of gumme and shineth as the naile.

35 Then thou shalt make of them perfume composed after the arte of the apothecarie, mingled together, pure & holy.

36 And thou shalt beate it to powder, & shalt put of it before [the Arke] of the Testimonie in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, where I will make appoyntment with thee: it shalbe vnto you most holy.

37 And ye shal not make vnto you any composition like this perfume, which thou shalt make: it shalbe vnto thee holy for the s Lord.

s Onely dedicate to the vse of the Tabernacle.

38 Whosoeuer shall make like vnto that to smell thereto, euen he shalbe cut off from his people.

CHAP. XXXI.

2 God maketh Bezaleel & Aholiab meete for his worke, 13 The Sabbath day is the signe of our sanctification. 18 The tables written by the finger of God.

AND the Lorde spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Behold, I haue called by a name, Bezaleel, the sonne of Uri, the sonne of Hur of the tribe of Iudah, a I haue chosen and made meete, Chap. 35.30.

3 whom I haue filled with the Spirit of God, in wisdome, & in vnderstanding and in knowledge and in all b worke manship:

b This sheweth that handie crafts are the giftes of God & spirit, & therefore ought to be esteemed.

4 To find out curious workes to worke in golde, and in siluer, and in brasse,

6 And beholde, I haue ioyned with him Aholiab the sonne of Ahisamach of the tribe of Dan, and in the hearts of all that are c wise hearted, haue I put wisdome to make all that I haue commanded thee:

c I haue instructed them, and increased their knowledge.

7 [That is,] the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and the Arke of the Testimonie, and the Mercie seate that shalbe thereupon, with all instruments of the Tabernacle:

8 Also the Table and the instruments thereof, and the d pure Candlestick with all his instruments, and the Altar of perfume:

10 Also the garments of the ministration, and the holy garments for Aaron the Priest, & the garments of his sonnes, to minister in the Priests office, 11 And the [e] anointing oyle, & sweete perfume for the Sanctuarie: according to al that I haue commanded thee, shal they do.

12 ¶ Afterward the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

13 Speake thou also vnto the children of Israel, and say, [f] Notwithstanding keepe ye my Sabbaths: for it is a signe betweene me and you in your generations, that ye may know that I the Lord do sanctifie you.

14 *Ye shal therefore keepe the Sabbath: for it is holie vnto you: he that defileth it, shall die the death: therefore whosoeuer worketh therein, the same person shalbe euen cut off from among his people.

15 Six daies shal mē worke, but in the seuenth day is the Sabbath of the holy rest to the Lord: whosoeuer doeth any worke in the Sabbath day, shal die the death.

16 Wherefore the children of Israel shall keepe the Sabbath, that they may obserue the ‖ rest throughout their generations for an euerlasting couenant.

17 It is a signe betweene me and the children of Israel for euer: *for in sixe dayes the Lorde made the heauen and the earth, and in the seuenth day [h] he ceased, and rested.

18 Thus (whē the Lord had made an ende of communing with Moses vpon mount Sinai) * he gaue him two Tables [i] of the Testimonie, euē tables of stone, written with the finger of God.

CHAP. XXXII.

4 The Israelites impute their deliuerance to the calfe. 14 God is appeased by Moses prayer. 19 Moses breaketh the Tables. 27 He slayeth the idolaters. 32 Moses zeale for the people.

BVt when the people sawe, that Moses taried long or he came downe from the mountaine, the people gathered thē selues together against Aaron, and said vnto him, Vp, [a] make vs gods to go before vs: for of this Moses (the man that brought vs out of the land of Egypt) We knowe not what is become of him.

2 And Aaron sayde vnto thē, [b] Plucke off the golden earings, which are in the eares of your wiues, of your sonnes, and of your daughters, and bring them vnto me.

3 Then all the people pluckt from them selues the golden earings, which were in their eares, and they brought [them] vnto Aaron.

4 *Who receiued them at their hands, and fashioned it with the grauing toole, & made of it a [c] molten calfe: then they said, *These be thy gods, O Israel, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

5 When Aaron sawe [that,] he made an altar before it: and Aaron proclaimed, saying, To morow [shalbe] the holy day of the Lord.

6 So they rose vp the next day in the morning, and offred burnt offrings, and brought peace offrings: also *the people sate them downe to eate and drinke, and rose vp to play.

7 ¶ Then the Lord said vnto Moses, *Go, get thee downe: for the people which thou hast brought out of the land of Egypt, hath corrupted [their wayes.]

8 They [d] are soone turned out of the way, which I commanded them: [for] they haue made them a molten calf, and haue worshipped it, and haue offred thereto, saying, *These be thy gods, O Israel, which haue brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

9 Againe the Lord said vnto Moses, *I haue seene this people, and behold, it is a stiffe necked people.

10 Now [e] therefore let me alone, that my wrath may wax hote against them, for I will consume them: but I will make of thee a mightie people.

11 *But Moses prayed vnto the Lord his God, and said, O Lord, why doeth thy wrath wax hote against thy people, which thou hast brought out of the land of Egypt, with great power and with a mightie hand?

12 *Wherefore shall the Egyptians ‖ speake, and say, He hath brought them out maliciously for to slay them in the mountaines, and to consume them from the earth? turne from thy fearce wrath, and ‖ change thy minde from this euill toward thy people.

13 Remember [g] Abraham, Isaak, and Israel thy seruants, to whom thou swarest by thine owne seife, and saidest vnto them, *I will multiplie your seed, as the starres of the heauen, and al this lande, that I haue spoken of, will I giue vnto your seede, and they shal inherite it for euer.

15 So Moses returned and went downe frō the mountaine With the two Tables of the Testimonie in his hand: the Tables [were] written on both their sides, euen on the one side and on the other were they written.

16 And these Tables were the worke of God, and [h] this writing was the writing of God grauen in the Tables.

17 And when Iosh̄ua heard the noise of the people, as they showted, he sayde vnto Moses, [There is] a noise of warre in the hoste.

18 Who answered, It is not the noyse of them that haue the victorie, nor the noyse of them that are ouercome: [but] I do heare the noyse of singing.

19 Now, assoone as he came neere vnto the hoste, hee sawe the calfe and the dancing: so Moses wrath waxed hote, and he cast the Tables out of his hands, and brake them in peeces beneath the mountaine.

Deut.9.21.

20 *After, he tooke the calfe, which they had made, and burned it in the fire, and grounde it vnto powder, & strowed it vpon the water, and made the children of Israel [i] drinke of it.

21 Also Moses said vnto Aaron, What did this people vnto thee, that thou hast brought so great a sinne vpon them?

22 Then Aaron answered, Let not the wrath of my lord ware fierce: thou knowest this people, that they are [euen let] on mischiefe.

23 And they said vnto me, Make vs gods to go before vs: for we knowe not what is become of this Moses (the man that brought vs out of ꝑ land of Egypt.)

24 Then I said to them, Ye that haue gold, plucke it off: and they brought it me, and I did cast it into the fire, and [thereof] came this calfe.

25 Moses therefore sawe that the people were [k] naked (for Aaron had made them naked vnto [their] shame among their enemies)

26 And Moses stood in the gate of the campe, and said, Who [perteineth] to the Lord? [let him come] to me. And all the sonnes of Leui gathered them selues vnto him.

27 Then he saide vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Put euery man his sword by his side: go to and fro, from gate to gate, through the hoste, and [l] slay euerie man his brother, and euerie man his companion, and euerie man his neighbour.

28 So the children of Leui did as Moses had commanded: and there fell of the peole the same day about three thousand men.

29 (For Moses had said, Consecrate your hands vnto the Lord this day, euē euery man vpon his [m] sonne, and vpon his brother, that there may be giuē you a blessing this day)

30 And whē the morning came, Moses said vnto the people, Ye haue committed a grieuous crime: but now I will go vp to ꝑ Lorde, if I may pacifie [him] for your sinne.

31 Moses therefore went againe vnto the Lorde, & said, Oh, this people haue sinned a great sinne, and haue made thē gods of golde.

32 Therefore nowe if thou pardon their sinne, [thy mercy shall appeare:] but if thou wilt not, I pray thee, raise me [n] out of thy booke, which thou hast written.

33 Then the Lorde saide to Moses, Whosoeuer hath sinned against mee, I will put him out of my [o] booke.

34 Go nowe therefore, bring the people vnto the place which I commanded thee: beholde, mine Angel shall goe before thee, but yet in the day of my visitation I will [p] visite their sinne vpō them.

35 So the Lord plagued the people, because they caused Aaron [to make] the calfe which he made.

AFterward the Lord said vnto Moses, Depart, [a] go vp frō hence, thou, and the people (which thou hast brought vp out of the land of Egypt) vnto the lande which I ware vnto Abraham, to Isahak and to Iaakob, saying, *Vnto thy seede will I giue it.

2 And *I will send an Angel before thee and will cast out the Canaanites, the Amorites, and the Hittites, and the Perizzites, the Hiuites, and the Iebusites:

3 To a lande, [I say,] that floweth with milke & honie: for I will not go vp with thee, *because thou art a stiffe necked people, least I cōsume thee in ꝑ way.

4 And when the people heard this euill tydings, they sorowed, and no man put on his best raiment.

30 ¶ Then Moses said vnto the children of Israel, Behold, * the Lord hath called by name Bezaleel the sonne of Uri, the sonne of Hur of ꝑ tribe of Iudah,
Chap.31.2.

‖Or, with the spirit of God. 31 And hath filled him ‖with an excellent spirit of wisdome, of vnderstãding, and of knowledge, & in al maner worke,

32 To finde out curious workes, to worke in golde, and in siluer, & in brasse, 33 And in grauing stones to set them, and in karuing of wood, [euen] to make any maner of fine worke.

34 And he hath put in his heart ꝑ he may teach [other: both he, and Aholiab ꝑ sonne of Ahisamach of ꝑ tribe of Dan:

35 The hath he filled with wisedome of heart to worke all maner h of cunning * and broydred, & needle worke: in blew silke, and in purple, in skarlet, and in fine linen & weauing, [euen] to doe all maner of worke and subtill inuentions.

CHAP. XXXVI.

5 The great readines of the people, in so much that he commanded them to cease. 8 The curtaines made. 19 The couerings. 20 The boards. 31 The barres, 35 And the vaile.

THen wrought Bezaleel, & Aholiab, and al ‡ cunning men, to whome the Lorde gaue wisdom, and vnderstãding, to knowe howe to worke all maner a By ꝑ Sanctuarie he meaneth here all ꝑ Tabernacle. worke for the seruice of the a Sãctuarie, according to all that the Lord had commanded.

2 For Moses had called Bezaleel, and Aholiab, & all the wise hearted men, in whose hearts the Lord had giuen wisdome, [euen] as many as their hearts encouraged to come vnto that worke to worke it.

3 And they receiued of Moses all ꝑ offring which the children of Israel had brought for ꝑ worke of the seruice of the Sãctuarie, to make it: also b they brought still vnto him free gifts euery morning.

b Meaning ꝑ Israelites.

4 So all the wise men, that wrought all the holy worke, came euery man frõ his worke which they wrought,

5 And spake to Moses, saying, The people bring to c much, [and] more then ynough for the vse of the worke, which the Lord hath commanded to be made.

c A rare example and notable to see the people so ready to serue God with their goods.

6 Then Moses gaue a commandemẽt, and they caused it to be proclaimed throughout the hoste, saying, Let neither man nor woman prepare any more worke for the oblation of the Sanctuarie. So the people were stayed from offring.

7 For ꝑ stuffe they had, was sufficiẽt for al the worke to make it, & too much.

8 * All the cunning men therefore among the Workmen, made [for] the Tabernacle ten curtaines of fine twined linen, and of blewe silke, and purple, and skarlet: d Cherubims of broydred worke made they [vpon] them.
Chap. 26.3.4.

d Which were little pictures with wings in the fourme of children.

9 The length of one curtaine [was] twentie and eight cubites, & the breadth of one curtaine foure cubites: [and] the curtaines were all of one sise.

10 And he coupled fiue curtaines together, & other fiue coupled he together.

11 And he made strings of blewe silke by the edge of one curtaine, in ꝑ seluedge of the coupling: likewise he made on the side of the [other] curtaine in ꝑ seluedge in the second coupling.

12 * Fiftie strings made he in the one curtaine, & fiftie strings made hee in the edge of the [other] curtaine, which was in the second coupling: the strings were set one against another.
Chap.26.10.

13 After, he made fifty ‖taches of gold, & coupled ꝑ curtaines one to another vͤ the taches: [so] was it one Tabernacle.
‖Or, hookes.

14 ¶ Also he made curtaines of goats [heare] for the [couering vpon the Tabernacle: he made them [to the nomber] of eleuen curtaines.
‖Or, paullion.

15 The length of one curtaine [had] thirtie cubites, and the breadth of one curtaine foure cubites: the eleuen curtaines [were] of one sise.

16 And he coupled fiue curtains by thẽ selues, and sixe curtains by them selues:

17 Also he made fiftie strings vpõ the edge of [one] curtaine in the seluedge in the coupling, and fiftie strings made hee vpon the edge of the [other] curtaine in the second coupling.

18 He made also fiftie taches of brasse to couple ꝑ couering that it might be one.

19 And he made a e couering vpon the paullion of rams skins died red, and a couering of badgers skins aboue.
e These two were aboue the couering of goates heare.

20 ¶ Likewise he made the boardes for the Tabernacle of Shittim wood to f stand vp.
f And to beare vp the curtains of the Tabernacle.

21 The length of a board [was] ten cubites, and the breadth of one boarde [was] a cubite, and an halfe.

22 One board had two tenons, set in order as the feet of a ladder, one against another: thus made he for al the boards of the Tabernacle.

23 So hee made twentie boards for the South side of the Tabernacle, euen full South.

24 And fourtie sockets of siluer made he vnder the twentie boards, two sockets vnder one board for his two tenōs, and two sockets vnder another board for his two tenons.

25 Also for the other side of the Tabernacle toward the North, hee made twentie boardes, 26 And their fourtie sockets of siluer, two sockets vnder one board, and two sockets vnder another board.

g Or towarde the sea, which was the Sea called Mediterraneum Westward frō Jerusalem. Chap.26.24.

27 Likewise towarde g the west side of the Tabernacle he made six boards.

28 And two boards made he in the corners of the Tabernacle, for either side, 29 And they were *ioyned beneath, & likewise were made sure aboue with a ring: thus he did to both in both corners.

30 So there were eight boards and their sixteene sockets of siluer, vnder euery board two sockets.

Chap.25.28. and 30.45.

31 ¶ After, he made *barres of Shittim Wood, fiue for the boards in the one side of the Tabernacle, 32 And fiue barres for the boards in the other side of the Tabernacle, and fiue barres for the boards of the Tabernacle on the side toward the west.

33 And he made the middest barre to shoote through the boards, from the one end to the other.

34 He ouerlaid also the boards with golde, and made their rings of golde for places for the barres, and couered the barres with golde.

h Which was betweene the Sanctuarie & the Holiest of all.

35 ¶ Moreouer hee made a h vaile of blew silke, and purple, and of skarlet, & of fine twined linen: with cherubims of broydred worke made he it:

36 And made thereunto foure pillars of Shittim, & ouerlaid them with gold: whose ‖ hookes were also of golde, and he cast for them foure sockets of siluer.

‖ Or, heads.

37 And he made an i hanging for the Tabernacle doore, of blewe silke, & purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linen, [and] needle worke, i Which was betweene the court and the Sanctuarie.

38 And the fiue pillars of it with their hookes, and ouerlaid their chapiters & their ‖ filets with golde, but their fiue sockets [were] of brasse.

‖ Or, grauen borders.

1 The Arke. 6 The Mercyseat. 10 The Table. 17 The Candlesticke. 25 The Altar of incense.

Chap.25.10.

AFter this, Bezaleel made the *Arke of Shittim wood, two cubites and an halfe long, and a cubite and an halfe broad, and a cubite and an halfe hie:

2 And ouerlaid it with fine gold within and without, and made a a crowne of golde to it round about.

a Like battlements.

3 And cast for it foure rings of golde for the foure corners of it: that is, two rings for the one side of it, and two rings for the other side thereof.

4 Also hee made barres of Shittim wood, and couered them with golde,

5 And put the barres in the rings by the sides of the Arke, to beare the Arke.

Chap.25.17.

6 ¶ And he made the *Mercyseat of pure golde: two cubites and an halfe [was] the length thereof, and one cubite and an halfe the breadth thereof.

7 And he made two Cherubims of gold, vpon the two endes of the Mercyseate: [euen] of worke beaten with the hammer made he them.

b Of the selfe same matter that the Mercyseat was.

8 One Cherub on the one ende, and an other Cherub on the other ende: b of the Mercyseat made he the Cherubims, at the two endes thereof.

9 And the Cherubims spread out their wings on hie, & couered the Mercyseat wt their wings, & their faces [were] one towards another: toward the Mercyseat were the faces of the Cherubims.

10 ¶ Also he made the Table of Shittim wood: two cubites [was] the length thereof, and a cubite the breadth therof, and a cubite and an halfe the height of it.

11 And he ouerlaide it with fine gold, and made thereto a crowne of gold round about.

12 Also hee made thereto a border of an ‖ hand breadth round about, and made vpon the border a crowne of gold round about.

‖ Or foure fingers.

13 And he cast for it foure rings of gold, and put the rings in the foure corners that [were] in the foure feete thereof.

14 Against the border were the rings, as places for the barres to beare the Table.

15 And he made the barres of Shittim wood, and couered them with gold to beare the Table.

Chap.25.29.

16 *Also hee made the instruments for the Table of pure golde: dishes for it, and [incense] cups for it, and goblets for it, and couerings for it, wherewith it should be couered.

17 ¶ Likewise he made the Candlesticke of pure golde: of worke beaten out with the hammer made he the Candlesticke: [and] his shaft, and his branche, his bolles, his knops, and his floures were of one piece.

18 And sixe branches came out of the sides thereof: three branches of the Candlestick out of the one side of it, & three branches of the Candlestick out of the other side of it.

19 In one branche three bolles made like almondes, a knop & a floure: and in another branche three bolles made like almondes, a knop and a floure: [and] so throughout the six branches that proceded out of the Candlestick.

20 And vpon the Candlestick [were] foure bolles after the facio of almonds, the knops thereof & the floures thereof:

21 That is, vnder euey two branches a knop [made] therof, and a knop vnder the second branche thereof, and a knop vnder the thirde branche thereof, according to the sixe branches comming out of it.

22 Their knops and their branches Chap.25.31. were of the same: it was all one *beaten worke of pure golde.

23 And he made for it seuen lampes with the snuffers, and snuffdishes thereof of pure golde.

c Reade chap. 25.39. 24 Of a ᶜtalent of pure golde made he it with all the instruments thereof.

Chap.30.1, 2,34. 25 Furthermore he made the *perfume altar of Shittim wood: the length of it [was] a cubite, and the breadth of it a cubite (it was square) and two cubites hie, [and] the hornes thereof was of the same.

26 And hee couered it with pure golde, both the top and the sides thereof round about, and the hornes of it, and made vnto it a crowne of golde round about.

27 And he made two rings of golde for it, vnder the crowne thereof in the two corners of the two sides thereof, to put barres in for to beare it therewith.

28 Also he made the barres of Shittim wood, & ouerlaide them with golde.

Chap.30.23, 35. 29 And he made the holy *anointing oyle, and the sweete pure incense after the apoticaries arte.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 The Altar of burnt offrings. 8 The brasen Lauer. 9 The Court. 24 The summe of that the people offred.

Chap.27.1. ALso he made the altar of the burnt offring * of Shittim wood: fiue cubites [was] the length thereof, and fiue cubites the breadth therof: [it was] square and three cubites hie.

2 And he made vnto it hornes in the foure corners thereof: the hornes thereof were of the same, and he ouerlaide it with brasse.

3 Also he made all the instruments of the altar: the *ashpans, & the besomes, Chap.27.3. and the basins, the fleshhookes, and the ‖censers: all the instruments thereof ‖Or, fire pānes made he of brasse.

4 Moreouer he made a brasen grate wrought like a net to the Altar, vnder ẏ compasse of it beneath in the [a] mids of it.

5 And cast foure rings of brasse for ẏ foure ends of the grate to put barres in.

6 And he made ẏ barres of Shittim wood, and couered them with brasse.

7 The which barres he put into the rings on ẏ sides of the altar to beare it wᵗ al, & made it holow [with in] ẏ boardes. Chap.27.8.

8 Also he made ẏ Lauer of brasse, and the foote of it of brasse of the [b] glasses of the women that did assemble & came together at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

9 Finally he made the court on the South side full South: the hangings of the court [were] of fine twined linen, hauing an hundreth cubites.

10 Their pillars [were] twentie, and their brasen sockets twentie: the hookes of ẏ pillars, & their filets [were] of siluer.

11 And on the Northside [the hagings were] an hundreth cubites: their pillars twentie, and their sockets of brasse twentie, the hookes of the pillars and their filets of siluer.

12 On the westside also [were] hangings of fiftie cubites, their ten pillars with their ten sockets: the hookes of the pillars and their filets of siluer.

13 And toward the Eastside, ful East, [were hangings] of fiftie cubites.

14 The hagings of ẏ one side [were] fiftene cubites, their three pillars, and their three sockets:

16 All the hangings of the court rouid about [were] of fine twined linen:

17 But the sockets of the pillars [were] of brasse: the hookes of the pillars and their filets of siluer, and the couering of their chapiters of siluer: and al the pillars of the court were hooped about with siluer.

18 [He made] also the hanging of the gate of the court of needle worke, blewe silke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine

19 And their pillars [were] foure with their foure sockets of brasse: their hooks of siluer, and the couering of their chapiters, and their filets of siluer.

Chap. 27. 19.

20 But al the * pins of ṗ Tabernacle & of ṗ court rouñ about [were] of brasse.

21 ¶ These are the partes of the Tabernacle, [I meane,] of the Tabernacle of the Testimonie, which was appointed by the commandement of Moses for the office of the [c] Leuites by the hand of Ithamar sonne to Aaron the Priest.

c That the Leuites might haue ṗ charge thereof, and minister in the same, as did Eleazar and Ithamar, Nom. 3. 4.

22 So Bezaleel the sonne of Uri the sonne of Hur of ṗ tribe of Judah, made all that the Lord commanded Moses.

23 And wt̄ him Aholiab sonne of Ahisamach of the tribe of Dan, a [d] cunning workeman & an embroyderer & a worker of needle worke in blew silke, and in purple, and in skarlet, and in fine linen.

d As a grauer, or carpenter, chap. 31. 4.

24 All the golde that was occupied in al the worke wrought for the holy place (which was ṗ golde of the offring) was nine and twentie talets, and seuen hundreth & thirtie shekels, according to the shekell of the Sanctuarie.

25 But the siluer of them that were nombred in the Congregation, [was] an hundreth talents, and a thousand seuen hūdreth seuentie and fiue shekels, after the shekell of the Sanctuarie.

26 A ‖ portion for a mā, [that is,] half a shekel after the shekel of the Sanctuarie, for all them that were nombred frō twenty yeere olde and aboue, among six hūdreth thousand, and three thousand, and fiue hundreth and fiftie men.

27 Moreouer there were an hūdreth talents of siluer, to cast the sockets of the Sāctuarie, and the sockets of the valle: an hundreth sockets of an hundreth talents, a talent for a socket.

28 But he made the hookes for the pillars of a thousand seuen hundreth & seuētie and fiue [shekels,] and ouerlaied their chapiters, & made filets about thē.

29 Also the brasse of ṗ offring [was] seuentie [e] talents, and two thousand, & foure hundreth shekels.

e Reade the weight of a talent, Chap. 25. 39.

30 Wherewt̄ he made the sockets to ṗ doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and the brasen altar, and the brasen grate which was for it, with all the instruments of the Altar, 31 And the sockets of the court round about, and the sockets for the court gate, and all the * pinnes of the Tabernacle, and all the pinnes of the court round about. Chap. 27. 19.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 The apparel of Aaron and his sonnes. 32 All that the Lord commanded, was made, and finished. 43 Moses blesseth the people.

MOreouer they made [a] garments of ministration to minister in the Sanctuarie of blew silke, & purple, & skarlet: they * made also ṗ holy garmēts for Aaron, as the Lord had cōmanded Moses.

a As couerings for the Arke, the Candlesticke, the Altars, and such like. Chap. 31. 10. and 35. 19.

2 So hee made the Ephod of golde, blewe silke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linen.

3 And they did beate the golde into thinne plates, and cut it into wyers, to worke it in the blew silke and in the purple, and in the skarlet, and in the fine linen, with broyded worke.

4 For ṗ which they made shoulders to couple together: [for] it was cloſed by the two edges thereof.

5 And the broyded garde of his Ephod that was vpon him, was of the same stuffe, and of like worke: [euen] of golde, of blewe silke, and purple, & skarlet, and fine twined linen, as the Lorde had commanded Moses.

6 ¶ And they wrought * [two] Onix stones cloſed in ouches of gold, and graued, as [b] signets are grauen, with the names of the children of Israel,

Chap. 28. 9.

b That is, of verie fine and curious worke manship.

7 And put them on the shoulders of the Ephod, [as] stones for a * remēbrance of the children of Israel, as the Lorde had commanded Moses.

Chap. 28. 12.

8 ¶ Also hee made the brest plate of broyded worke like the woorke of the Ephod: [to wit,] of golde, blewe silke, & purple, and skarlet, & fine twined linen.

9 They made the brest plate double, and it was square, an hād breadth long, and an hands breadth broade: [it was also] double.

10 And they filled it with foure rowes of stones. The order [was thus,] a Rubie, a Topaze, and a Carbuncle in the first rowe:

11 And in the second rowe, an Emerande, a Saphir, and a Diamond:

12 Also in the third row, [c] a Turkeis, an Achate, and an Hematite:

c Or, a figure, which stone auctours write ṗ it commeth of the wine of the beast called lynx.

13 Likewise in the fourth rowe, a Chrysolite, an Onix, and a Jasper: cloſed and set in ouches of golde.

14 So the stones [were] according to the names of the children of Israel [euen] twelue [d] after their names, grauen like signets d That is, euery tribe had his name written in a stone.

signets euery one after his name accor-ding to the twelue tribes.

15 After, they made vpon the brest plate cheines at the endes, of wrethen worke [and] pure golde.

16 They made also two bosses of gold, and two golde rings, and put the two rings in ỹ two corners of the brest plate.

17 And they put ỹ two wrethē cheines of golde in the two rings, in the corners of the brest plate.

18 Also the two [other] endes of ỹ two wrethē cheines they fastened in the two bosses, and put them on the shoulders of the Ephod vpon the forefront of it.

19 Likewise they made two rings of golde, & put them in the two [other] corners of the brest plate vpon the edge of it, which was on ỹ inside of the Ephod.

20 They made also two [other] goldē rings, and put them on the two sides of the Ephod, beneath on the forside of it, and ouer against his coupling aboue the broydered garde of the Ephod.

21 Then they fastened the brest plate by his rings vnto ỹ rings of the Ephod, with a lace of blew silke, that it might be [fast] vpon the broydered gard of the Ephod, and that the brest plate should not be loosed from the Ephod, as the Lorde had commanded Moses.

22 ¶ Moreouer, he made the robe of the [e] Ephod of wouen worke, altogether of blewe silke.

[e] Which was next vnder the Ephod.

23 And [f] the hole of the robe [was] in the middes of it, as the coller of the habergeon, with an edge about the coller, that it should not rent.

[f] Where hee would put vthough his head.

24 And they made vpon ỹ skirts of the robe pomegranates, of blewe silke, and purple, and skarlet, & fine linen twined.

Chap.28.33. 25 They made also * belles of pure gold, & put the belles betwene the pomegranates vpon the skirtes of the robe round about betwene ỹ pomegranates.

26 A bell and a pomegranate, a bell & a pomegranate rounde about the skirts of the robe to minister in, as the Lorde had commanded Moses.

27 ¶ After, they made coates of fine linen, of wouen worke for Aaron and for his sonnes.

28 And the miter of fine linen, & goodly bonnets of fine linen, and linen *breeches of fine twined linen,

Chap.28.42.

29 ¶ And the girdle of fine twined linen, and of blewe silke, and purple, and skarlet, [euen] of needle woorke, as the Lorde had commanded Moses.

30 ¶ Finally they made ỹ plate for the holy crowne of fine gold, & wrote vpō it a superscription [like] to ỹ grauing of a signet, *HOLINES TO THE LORD.

Chap.28.36.

31 And they tied vnto it a lace of blew silke to fasten it on hie vpon the miter, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

32 ¶ Thus was al ỹ worke of ỹ Tabernacle, [euen] of ỹ *Tabernacle of the Congregation finished: and the children of Israel dyd according to all that the Lorde had commanded Moses: so dyd they.

Chap.27.21.

33 ¶ Afterwarde they brought the Tabernacle vnto Moses, the Tabernacle and all his instrumentes, his taches, his boardes, his barres, and his pillars, and his sockets, 34 And the couering of rams skinnes died redde, and the couering of badgers skinnes, and the [g] couering vaile.

g So called, because it hanged before the mercieseate and couered it from sight. Chap. 35.12.

35 The Arke of the Testimonie, & the barres thereof, and the Mercieseat, 36 The Table, with al ỹ instruments thereof, and the shewbread,

37 The pure Candlesticke, ỹ lampes thereof, [euen] the lampes [h] set in order, and all the instruments thereof, and the oyle for light:

h Dayly, which Aaron dressed and refreshed with oyle euery morning. chap. 30.7.

38 Also the golden Altar & the anointing oyle, and ỹ sweete incense, and the hanging of the Tabernacle doore, 39 The brasen Altar with his grate of brasse, his barres and all his instruments, the Lauer and his foote.

40 The curtaynes of the court with his pillars, and his sockets, and the hanging to the court gate, [and] his cordes, and his pinnes, and all the instruments of the seruice of the Tabernacle, [called] the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

41 [Finally,] ỹ ministring garments to serue in ỹ Sanctuarie, [& the holy garments for Aaron the Priest, & his sonnes garments to minister in ỹ Priests office.

42 Accordīg to euery poynt that the Lorde had [i] commanded Moses, so the children of Israel made all the worke.

i Signifying ỹ in Gods matters man may neither adde, nor diminishe.

43 And Moses beheld all the worke, and behold, they had done it as the Lord had commanded: so had they done: and Moses [k] blessed them.

k Thanked God for the peoples diligence and prayed for them.

CHAP. XL.

1 The Tabernacle with ỹ appertinances is reared vp. 34 The glorie of ỹ Lord appeareth in ỹ cloud couering the Tabernacle.

1 THen the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 In the [a] first day of the first a After that Moses had byn 40. dayes and fourtie nightes in the mount, that is, from the beginning of August to the tenth of September, he came downe, and caused this worke to be done: which being finished, was set vp in Abib, which moneth conteineth halfe March and halfe Aprill.

moneth in the [very] first [of the same] moneth shalt thou set vp the Tabernacle, [called] the Tabernacle of the Congregation:

3 And thou shalt put therein the Arke of the Testimonie, and couer the Arke with the vaile.

4 Also thou shalt bring in the *Table, and set it in order as it doth require: thou shalt also bring in the Candlesticke, and light his lampes,

*Reade chap. 26,35.

5 And thou shalt set the incense Altar of golde before the Arke of the Testimonie, & put the hanging at the doore of the Tabernacle.

b That is, the altar of perfume, or to burne incense on.

6 Moreouer, thou shalt set the burnt offring Altar before ye doore of the Tabernacle, [called] the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

c This hanging or vaile was betweene the Sanctuarie and the court.

7 And thou shalt set the Lauer betweene the Tabernacle of the Cõgregation and the Altar, & put water therein.

8 Then thou shalt appoynt the court rounde about, and hang vp the hanging at the court gate.

9 After, thou shalt take the anointing oyle, and anoynt the Tabernacle, and al that is therein, and halow it with all the instruments therof, that it may be holy.

10 And thou shalt anoynt the Altar of the burnt offring, & all his instruments, and shalt sanctifie the Altar, that it may be an altar most holy.

11 Also thou shalt anoynt the Lauer and his foote, and shalt sanctifie it.

12 Then thou shalt bring Aaron and his sonnes vnto the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & wash them with water.

13 And thou shalt put vpon Aaron the holy garmentes, and shalt anoynt him, and sanctifie him that hee may minister vnto me in the Priests office.

14 Thou shalt also bring his sonnes, and clothe them with garments, 15 And shalt anoint them as thou didest anoint their father, that they may minister vnto mee in the Priestes office: for their anointing shalbe [a signe,] that the priesthoode [d] shalbe euerlasting vnto them throughout their generations.

d Til both the priesthood and ye ceremonies should ende, which was at Christs comming. Nom. 7.1.

16 So Moses did according to all that the Lord had commaded him: so did he.

17 ¶ * Thus was the Tabernacle reared vp ye first day of the first moneth in [e] the second yeere.

e After they came out of Egypt, Nom. 7.1.

18 Then Moses reared vp the Tabernacle and fastened his sockets, and set vp the boards therof, and put in the barres of it, and reared vp his pillars.

19 And he spred the couering ouer the Tabernacle, & put the couering of that couering on hie aboue it, as the Lorde had commanded Moses.

20 ¶ And he tooke and put the [f] Testimonie in the Arke, and put the barres in [the rings] of the Arke, & set the Mercieate on hie vpon the Arke.

f That is, the Tables of the law, Chap. 31, 18, & 34.29.

21 He brought also the Arke into the Tabernacle, and hanged vp the *couering vayle, and couered the Arke of the Testimonie, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The offring for sinnes done of ignorance, 3 For the Priest, 13 The Congregation, 22 The ruler, 27 And the priuate man.

MOreouer the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying, a That is, of negligence or ignorance, specially of the ceremoniall lawe: for otherwise the punishments for crimes are appointed according to the transgression, Nom.15.22.

3 If the [b] Priest that is anoynted doe sinne (according to the sinne of the people) then shall hee offer, for his sinne which he hath sinned, a yong bullocke without blemish vnto the Lorde for a sinne offring, b Meaning the hie priest.

4 And he shall bring the bullocke vnto the doore of the Tabernacle of þ Congregation before the Lord, and shal put his hand vpon the bullockes head, and [c] kill the bullocke before the Lord.

c Hereby confessing that he deserued the same punishment, which the beast suffered.

5 And the Priest that is anoynted shall take of the bullockes blood, and bring it into the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

6 Then the Priest shal dip his finger in the blood, and sprinkle of the blood seuen times before the Lorde, before the vayle of the [d] Sanctuarie.

d Which was betweene the holiest of all, & the Sactuarie.

7 The Priest also shall put [some] of the blood before the Lorde, vpon the hornes of the altar of sweete incense, which is in the [e] Tabernacle of the Congregation, then shall he powre * all [the rest] of the blood of the bullock at the foote of the altar of burnt offring, which is at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

e Which was in the court: meaning by þ Tabernacle the Sactuarie: & in the end of this verse it is taken for the court. Chap.5.9.

8 And he shall take away all the fat of the bullock for the sinne offring: [to wit,] the fat that coureth the inwards, and all the fat that is about the inwards.

9 He shal take away also the two kidneyes, and the fat that is vpō them, and vpon the flankes, and the kall vpon the liuer with the kidneis,

10 As it was taken away from the bullock of the peace offrings, and the Priest shall burne them vpon the altar of burnt offring.

11 *But the skinne of the bullocke, and all his flesh, with his head, and his legs, and his inwards, & his dung [shall he beare out.]

Exod.29.14. nom.19.5.

12 So he shal carie the whole bullock out of þ hoste vnto a cleane place, where the ashes are powred, and shall burne him on the wood in the fire: where the ashes are cast out, shall he be burnt.

Heb.13.11.

13 ¶ And if the [f] whole Congregation of Israel shall sinne through ignorance, and the thing bee * hid from the eyes of the multitude, and haue done [against] any of the commandements of the Lord which should not bee done, & haue offended:

f The multitude executeth not the sinne, but if all haue sinned, they must all be punished. Chap.5.2,3,4.

14 When the sinne which they haue committed shalbe knowen, then the Cõgregation shall offer a yong bullocke for the sinne, and bring him before the Tabernacle of the congregation, 15 And the g Elders of the Congregation shall put their hands vpon the head of the bullocke before the Lord, & he shal kill the bullocke before the Lord.

16 Then the Priest that is anointed, shall bring of the bullocks blood into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, 17 And the Priest shall dip his finger in the blood, and sprinkle it seuen times before the Lord, [euen] before the vaile.

18 Also he shal put [some] of the blood vpon the hornes of the altar, which is before the Lord, that is in the Tabernacle of the Congregation: then shall hee powre all the [rest] of the blood at the foote of the altar of burnt offring, which is at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, 19 And he shall take all his fatte from him, and ‖ burne it vpon the altar.

20 And [the Priest] shall do with this bullocke, as he did with the bullocke for [his] sinne: so shal he do with this: so the Priest shal make an atonemẽt for them, and it shalbe forgiuen them.

21 For he shal cary the bullocke without the hoste, and burne him as he burned the first bullocke: [for] it is an offring for the sinne of the Congregation.

22 ¶ When a ruler shall sinne, and do through ignorãce [against] any of the cõmandements of the Lord his God, which should not be done, and shal offend,

23 If one thewe vnto him his sinne which he hath committed, then shall he bring for his offring an ‖ hee goate without blemish,

24 And shall lay his hande vpon the head of the hee goat, and kill it in h the place where he shoulde kill the burnt offring before the Lorde: [for] it is a sinne offring.

26 And shal burne al his fat vpon the altar, as the fat of the peace offring: so the Priest shall make an i atonement for him, concerning his sinne, and it shalbe forgiuen him.

27 ¶ Likewise if any of the ‖ people of the land shal sinne through ignorance in doing [against] any of the commandements of the Lord, which should not be done, and shall offend,

32 And if hee bring a lambe for his sinne offring, hee shall bring a female without blemish, 33 And shall lay his l hand vpon the head of the sinne offring, & he shal slay it for a sinne offring in the place where he should kill the burnt offring.

34 Then the Priest shall take of the blood of the sinne offring with his finger, and put it vpon the hornes of the burnt offring altar, and shall powre all [the rest] of the blood therof at the foote of the altar.

35 And he shall take away all the fat thereof, as the fat of the lambe of ẏ peace offrings is taken away: then the Priest shall burne it vpon the altar m with the oblations of the Lord made by fire, and the Priest shall make an atonement for him concerning his sinne that hee hath committed, & it shalbe forgiuen him.

7 But * if hee bee not able to bring a sheepe, hee shall bring for his trespasse which hee hath committed, two turtle doues, or two yong pigeons vnto the LORDE, one for a sinne offring, and the other for a burnt offring.

13 So the Priest shal make an atonement for him, as touching his sinne that he hath cõmitted in one of these [poynts,] and it shall bee forgiuen him: and [the remnant] shall bee the Priestes, as the meate offring.

14 And the LORD spake vnto Moses, saying,

15 If any person transgresse & sinne through ignorance [g] [by taking away] things consecrated vnto the LORDE, hee shall then bring for his trespasse offring vnto the LORDE a ram without blemish out of the flocke, [worth] two shekels of siluer [h] by thy estimation after the shekel of the Sanctuarie, for a trespasse offring.

16 So hee shall restore that wherein he hath offended, [in taking away] of the holy thing, and shall put the fift part more thereto, & giue it vnto the Priest: so the Priest shall make an atonement for him with the ramme of the trespasse offring, and it shalbe forgiuen him.

17 Also if any sinne & do against [any] of the commandements of the LORD, which ought not to be done, and knowe not and [i] sinne and beare his iniquitie, Exod. 29. 1. chap. 9. 2.

15 And Moses slewe him, and tooke the blood, which he put vpon þ hornes of the [c] Altar rounde about with his finger, and purified the Altar, and powred [the rest] of the blood at the foote of the Altar: so he sanctified [d] it, to make reconciliation vpon it.

e In other burnt offrings which are not of cõsecration, nor offring for himselfe, the priest hath the skinne, Chap. 7. 8.

18 ¶ Also he brought the ramme for the burnt offring, and Aaron and his sonnes put their handes vpon the head of the ramme.

19 So Moses killed it, & sprinkled the blood vpon the Altar round about,

20 And Moses cut þ ram in pieces, & burnt the head with the pieces, & the fat,

21 And washed the inwards and the legges in water: so Moses burnt the ram euery whit vpon the Altar: [for] it was a burnt offring for a sweet sauour, which was made by fire vnto the Lord, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

f Moses did this because that the priests were not yet established in their office.

24 Then Moses brought Aarons sonnes, & put of the blood on the lappe of their right eares, & vpon the thumbes of of their right handes, & vpon the great toes of their right feete, & Moses sprinkled [the rest] of the blood vpon the altar round about.

25 And he tooke the fat & the rumpe, and all the fatte that was vpon the inwardes, and the kal of the liuer, and the two kidneis with their fatte, & the right shoulder.

26 Also he tooke of the basket of the vnleauened bread that was before the Lorde, one vnleauened cake and a cake of oyled bread, and one wafer, and put them on the fatte, and vpon the ryght shoulder.

Exod.29.24. 27 So he put* all in Aarons hands, and in his sonnes handes, and shooke it to and fro before the Lord.

28 After, Moses tooke them out of their handes, and burnt them vpon the altar for a burnt offring: [for] these were consecrations for a sweete sauour which were made by fire vnto the Lord.

29 Likewise Moses tooke the breast of the ramme of consecrations, & shooke it to and fro before the Lorde: [for] it 30 Also Moses tooke of the anoynting oyle, and of the blood which was vpon the Altar, and sprinkled it vpon Aaron, vpon his garments, & vpon his sonnes, and on his sonnes garments with him: so hee sanctified Aaron, his garments, and his sonnes, & his sonnes garments with him.

14 Like-

14 Likewise he did wash ꝑ inwards and the legges, and [a] burnt [them] vpon the burnt offring on the Altar.

15 ¶ Then he offred the peoples offring, and tooke a goate, which was the sinne offring for the people, and slewe it, and offred it for sinne, as the first:

16 So he offred the burnt offring, and prepared it, according to the maner.

17 He presented also the meat offring, and filled his hand thereof, and *beside the burnt sacrifice of the morning hee burnt [this] vpon the Altar.

Exod.29.38.

18 He slewe also the bullocke, and the ram for the peace offrings, that was for the people, and Aarons sonnes brought vnto him the blood, which he sprinkeled vpon the Altar round about,

19 With the fatte of the bullocke, and of the ram, the rumpe, and that which coureth the inwardes and the kidneis, and the tall of the liuer.

2 Nadab ꝑ Abihu are burnt. 6 Israel mourneth for thẽ, but the Priestes might not. 9 The Priests are forbidden wine.

Nomb.3.4. and 26.61. 1.chron. 24.2.

[a] Not taken of the altar which was sent from heauen, and endured till the captiuitie of Babylon.

[b] I will punish them ꝑ serue me other wise then I haue cõmanded, not sparing the chiefe, that the people may feare & praise my iudgemẽts.

Vt * Nadab and Abihu, the sones of Aaron, tooke either of them his censor, & put fire therein, & put incense thereupon, and offred [a] strange fire before the Lord, which he had not cõmanded thẽ.

2 Therefore a fire went out from the Lord, and deuoured them: so they dyed before the Lorde.

3 Then Moses sayde vnto Aaron, This is it that the Lorde spake, saying, I will be [b] sanctified in them that come neere me, and before al the people I wil be glorified: but Aaron held his peace.

4 And Moses called Mishael & Elzaphan the sonnes of Vzziel, the vncle of Aaron, and sayde vnto them, Come neere, cary your ‖ brethren from before the Sanctuarie out of the hoste.

‖ Or, cosins.

5 Then they went, and caryed them in their coats out of the hoste, as Moses had commanded.

6 After, Moses sayde vnto Aaron and vnto Eleazar and Ithamar his sonnes, [c] Vncouer not your heades, neither rent your clothes, least ye dye, and least wrath come vpon all the people: but let your brethren, al the house of Israel bewayle the burning which the Lord hath [d] kindled.

c As though ye lamẽted for them, preferring your carnall affection to Gods iust iudgement, Chap. 19.28. deut. 14.1.

d In destroying Nadab and Abihu ꝑ chiefe, and menacing the rest, except they repent.

7 And goe not ye out from the doore of the Tabernacle of the Cõgregation, least ye dye: for the anoynting oyle of the Lorde [is] vpon you: and they did according to Moses commandement.

8 ¶ And ꝑ Lorde spake vnto Aaron, saying,

9 Thou shalt not drinke wine nor ‖ strong drinke, thou, nor thy sones with thee, whẽ ye come into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, least ye dye: [this is] an ordinance for euer throughout your generations,

‖ Or, drinke that maketh drunke.

10 That yee may put difference betweene the holy and the vnholy, and betweene the cleane and the vncleane, 11 And that ye may teach the children of Israel all ꝑ statutes which the Lorde hath commaunded them by the ‖ hande of Moses.

‖ Or, commission.

12 ¶ Then Moses saide vnto Aaron and vnto Eleazar and to Ithamar his sonnes that were left, Take ꝑ meate offring that remaineth of the offrings of ꝑ Lord, made by fire, & eat it without leauen beside the altar: for it is most holy:

13 And ye shal eat it in the holy place, because it is thy duetie and thy sonnes duetie of the offrings of the Lord made by fire: for so I am commanded.

Exod.29.24. ‖ Or, where is no vncleannesse.

14 Also the * shaken breast and the heaue shoulder shall ye eate in ‖ a cleane place: thou, & thy sonnes, & thy [c] daughters with thee: for they are giuen as thy ‖ duetie and thy sonnes duetie, of ꝑ peace offrings of the children of Israel.

c For ꝑ breast & shoulders of the peace offrings might be bought to their families to that their daughters might eate of them, as also of the offrings of first fruits, the first borne, and the Easter lambe, Reade Chap. 22, 12, 13.

15 The heaue shoulder, & the shaken breast shall they bring with the offrings made by fire of the fatte, to shake [it] to & fro before the Lorde, and it shalbe thine and thy sonnes with thee by a lawe for euer, as the Lorde hath commanded.

16 ¶ *And Moses sought the goate that was offred for sinne, and lo, it was burnt: therefore he was angrie with Eleazar and Ithamar the sonnes of Aaron, which were f left [aliue,] saying, f And not esteemed as Nadab & Abihu.

17 Wherefore haue ye not eaten the sinne offring in the holy place, seeing it is most holy: and [God] hath giuen it you, to beare the iniquitie of the Congregation, to make an atonement for them before the Lord.

18 Beholde, the blood of it was not brought within the holy place: ye should haue eaten [it] in the holy place, *as I commaunded.

h Moses bare with his infirmitie, considering his great sorowe, but doth not leaue an example to forgiue them y maliciously transgresse the commandement of God.

19 And Aaron sayd vnto Moses, Beholde, this day g haue they offered their sinne offring and their burnt offring before the Lord, and such things [as thou knowest] are come vnto me: If I had eaten the sinne offering to day, should it haue bin accepted in ỹ sight of the Lord?

20 So when Moses heard [it,] hee was h content.

CHAP. XI.

1 Of beastes, fishes and birdes, which be cleane, and which be vncleane.

AFter, the Lorde spake vnto Moses and to Aaron, saying vnto them,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israel, & say, *These are the beasts which ye a shall eate, among all the beasts that are on the earth.

Gen.7.2.deut.14.4.act.10.14.

a Or, whereof ye may eate.

3 Whatsoeuer parteth the b hoofe, and is clouen footed, and cheweth the cud among the beasts, that shal ye eate:

b He noteth foure sortes of beastes: some chew the cud onely, & some haue onely the foote cleft: others neither chewe the cud nor haue the hoofe cleft: the fourth both chew the cud & haue the hoofe deuided which may be eaten.

4 But of them that chewe the cud, or deuide the hoofe onely, of them ye shall not eate: as the camel, because he cheweth the cud, and deuideth not the hoofe, he shalbe vncleane vnto you.

5 Likewise the conie, because he cheweth the cud and deuideth not the hoofe, he shalbe vncleane to you.

6 Also the hare, because he cheweth the cud, and deuideth not the hoofe, he shalbe vncleane to you.

2.Mac.6.18.

7 *And the swine, because he parteth the hoofe & is clouen footed, but cheweth not the cud, he shalbe vncleane to you.

c God would that hereby for a time they should be discerned as his people from the Gentiles.

8 Of their c flesh shall ye not eate, and their carkeise shall ye not touche: [for] they shalbe vncleane to you.

9 ¶ These shal ye eate, of all that are in the waters: whatsoeuer hath finnes and shales in the waters, in the seas, or in the riuers, them shal ye eate.

10 But all that haue not finnes nor shales in the seas, or in the riuers, of all that d moueth in the waters, & of all e liuing things that are in the waters, they shalbe an abomination vnto you.

d As litle fish ingendred of the slime.

e As they which come of generation.

11 They, I say, shalbe an abomination to you: ye shal not eate of their flesh, but shal abhorre their carkeis.

12 Whatsoeuer hath not finnes nor shales in the waters, that shalbe abomination vnto you.

13 ¶ These shall ye haue also in abomination among the foules, they shall not be eaten: [for] they are an abomination, the egle, and the ‖gorshauke, and the osprey:

‖Or, gryphin, as is in the greeke.

14 Also the vultur, and the kite after his kinde,

15 And all rauens after their kinde:

16 The ostrich also, and the night crowe, and the ‖seameaw, & the hauke after his kinde:

‖Or, cuckowe.

17 The litle owle also, and the cormorant, and the great owle.

18 Also the ‖redshanke and the pelitane, and the swanne:

‖Or, porphiric.

19 The storke also, the heron after his kinde, and the lapwing, and the backe.

20 Also euery foule that creepeth [&] goeth vpon all foure, such shalbe an abomination vnto you.

21 Yet these shal ye eate: of euery foule that creepeth, [and] goeth vpon all foure which ‖haue their feete and legs all of one to leape withall vpon the earth,

‖Or, haue no bowings on their feete.

22 Of them ye shall eate these, the grashopper after his kind, & the f solean after his kind, the hargol after his kind, and the hagab after his kinde.

f These were certeine kinds of grashoppers, which are not nowe properly knowen.

23 But all [other] foules that creepe [and] haue foure feete, they [shalbe] abomination vnto you.

24 For by such ye shall be polluted: whosoeuer toucheth their carkeis, shall be vncleane vnto the euening.

25 Whosoeuer also g beareth of their carkeis, shall wash his clothes, and be vncleane vntil euen.

g Out of the campe.

26 Euery beast that hath clawes deuided, & is ‖not clouen footed, nor cheweth the cud, such shalbe vncleane vnto you: euery one that toucheth them, shall be vncleane.

‖Or, hath not his foote clouen in two.

27 And whatsoeuer goeth vpon his pawes among all maner beasts that goeth on all foure, such shalbe vncleane vnto you: who so doeth touch their carkeis shalbe vncleane vntil the euen.

28 And he that beareth their carkeis, shal wash his clothes, and be vncleane vntill the euen: [for] such shall be vncleane vnto you.

29 Also these shalbe vncleane to you among the things that creepe and moue vpon the earth, the weasel, & the mouse, and the h ‖ frog, after his kinde:

30 Also the rat, and the lizard, and the chameleon, and the stellio, & the molle.

31 These shall be vncleane to you among all that creepe: whosoeuer doeth touch them when they be dead, shalbe vncleane vntil the euen.

32 Also whatsoeuer any of the dead carkeises of them doeth fal vpon, shalbe vncleane, whether it be vessel of wood, or raiment, or i ‖ skinne, or sacke: whatsoeuer vessel it be that is occupied, it shalbe put in the water as vncleane vntill the euen, and [so] be purified.

33 But euery earthen vessell, whereinto any of them falleth, whatsoeuer is within it shalbe vncleane, and *ye shall breake it.

34 All meate also that shalbe eaten, if any [such] water come vpon it, shall be vncleane: & all drinke that shalbe drunke in all [such] vessels shalbe vncleane.

35 And euery thing that their carkeis fall vpon, shalbe vncleane: the fornais or the pot shalbe broken: [for] they are vncleane, and shalbe vncleane vnto you.

36 Yet the fountaines & welles where there is plentie of water shalbe cleane: but that which k toucheth their carkeises shalbe vncleane.

37 And if there fall of their dead carkeis vpon any seede, which vseth to be sowen, it shalbe cleane.

38 But if any l water be powred vpon the seede, and there fall of their dead carkeis thereon, it shalbe vnclean vnto you.

39 If also any beast, whereof ye may eate, dye, he that toucheth the carkeis thereof shalbe vncleane vntil the euen.

40 And he that eateth of the carkeis of it, shal wash his clothes & be vncleane vntil the euen: he also that beareth the carkeis of it, shal wash his clothes, and be vncleane vntil the euen.

41 Euery creeping thing therefore that creepeth vpon the earth shalbe an abomination, [and] not be eaten.

42 Whatsoeuer goeth vpon m breast, and whatsoeuer goeth vpon all foure, or that hath many feete among all creeping things that creepe vpon the earth, ye shall not eate of them, for they shalbe abomination.

43 Ye shall not pollute your selues with any thing that creepeth, neither make your selues vncleane with them, neither defile your selues thereby: ye shal not, I say, be defiled by them, 44 For I am the Lorde your God: be sanctified therefore, and be n holy, for I am holy, and defile not your selues with any creeping thing, that creepeth vpon the earth.

45 For I am the Lord that brought you out of the land of Egypt, to be your God, and that you should be holy, for I am holy.

46 This is the lawe of beastes, and of foules, and of euery liuing thing that moueth in the waters, & of euery thing that creepeth vpon the earth:

47 That there may be a difference betweene the vncleane & cleane, and betweene the beast that may be eaten, and the beast that ought not to be eaten.

CHAP. XII.

2 A law how women should be purged after their deliuerance.

AND the Lorde spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say, When a woman hath brought forth seede, & borne a man child, she shalbe vnclean o seuen dayes, like as she is vncleane when she is put apart for her ‖ * disease.

3 (*And in the eight day, the foreskin of the [childes] flesh shalbe circumcised)

4 And she shal continue in the blood of her purifying three p and thirty dayes: she shall touch no q halowed thing, nor come into the r Sanctuarie, vntill the time of her purifying be out.

5 But if she beare a mayd childe, then she shalbe vncleane two s weekes, as when she hath her disease: and she shall continue in the blood of her purifying three score and sixe dayes.

6 Now when the dayes of her purifying are out (whether it be for a sonne or for a daughter) she shal bring to the Priest a lambe of one yeere olde for a burnt offring, and a young pigeon or a turtle doue for a sinne offering, vnto the doore of the t Tabernacle of the Congregation,

7 Who shal offer it before the Lord, and make an atonement for her: so she shalbe purged of the issue of her blood. this is the lawe for her that hath borne a male or female.

8 But if she ‡ be not able to bring a lambe, she shall bring two * turtles, or two yong pigeons: the one for a burnt offering,

CHAP. XIII.

2 What considerations the Priest ought to obserue in iudging the leprosie, 29 The blacke spot or skab, 47 and the leprie of the garment.

MOreouer the Lord spake vnto Moses, & to Aaron, saying,

2 The man that shal haue in the skin of his flesh a swelling or a skab, or a white spot, so that in the skin of his flesh [a] it be like the plague of leprosie, then he shall be brought vnto Aaron the Priest, or vnto one of his sonnes the Priests,

3 And the Priest shal looke on the sore in the skin of his [flesh]: if the heare in the sore be turned into white, & the sore seeme to be [b] lower then the skin of his flesh, it is a plague of leprosie: therefore the Priest shall looke on him, and [‡] pronounce him vncleane.

4 But if the white spot be in the skin of his flesh, and seeme not to be lower then the skin, nor the heare thereof be turned vnto white, then the Priest shall shut vp [him that hath] the plague, seuen dayes.

5 After, the Priest shall looke vpon him the seuenth day: and if the plague seeme ‡ to him to abide still, & the plague grow not in the skin, the Priest shal shut him vp yet seuen dayes more.

6 Then the Priest shall looke on him againe the seuenth day, and if the plague [c] be darke, and the sore growe not in the skin, then the Priest shal [‡] pronounce him cleane, [for] it is a skab: therefore he shal wash his clothes and be cleane.

7 But if the skab growe more in the skin, after that he is seene of the Priest, for to be purged, he shalbe seene of the Priest yet againe.

8 Then the Priest shall consider, and if the skab ‖ growe in the skin, then the Priest shall pronounce him [d] vncleane: [for] it is leprosie.

9 ¶ When the plague of leprosie is in a man, he shalbe brought vnto the Priest,

10 And the Priest shall see [him:] and if the swelling be white in the skin, and haue made the heare white, and there be raw flesh in the swelling,

11 It is an olde leprosie in the skin of his flesh: and the Priest shall pronounce him vncleane, and shal not shut him vp, for he is vncleane.

12 Also if the leprosie ‖ breake out in the skin, & the leprosie couer all the skin of the plague, from his head euen to his feete, whereseoeuer the Priest looketh, 13 Then the Priest shal consider: and if the leprosie couer all his flesh, he shall pronounce the plague to be [e] cleane, because it is all turned into whitenes: [so] he shalbe cleane.

14 But if there be [raw] flesh on him when he is seene, he shalbe vncleane.

15 For the Priest shal see the raw flesh, and declare him to be vncleane: [for] the raw flesh is [f] vncleane, [therefore] it is the leprosie.

16 Or if the raw flesh change and be turned into white, then he shall come to the Priest, 17 And the Priest shall beholde him: and if the sore be changed into white, then the Priest shal pronounce the plague cleane, [for] it is cleane.

18 ¶ The flesh also in whose skinne there is ‖ a bile and is healed, 19 And in the place of the bile there be a white swelling, or a white spot somewhat reddish, it shalbe seene of the Priest.

20 And when the Priest seeth it, if it appeare lower then the skinne, and the heare thereof be changed into white, the Priest then shall pronounce him [g] vncleane: [for] it is a plague of leprosie, broken out in the bile.

21 But if the Priest looke on it, and there be no white heares therein, and if it be not lower then the skin, but be darker, then the Priest shall shut him vp seuen dayes.

22 And if it be spread abroade in the flesh, the Priest shall pronounce him vncleane, [for] it is a sore.

23 But if the spot continue in his place, and grow not, it is a burning bile: therefore the Priest shall declare him to be cleane.

24 ¶ If there be any flesh, in whose skinne there is an hot burning, and the quick flesh of the burning haue a [h] white spot, somewhat reddish or pale,

25 Then the Priest shall looke vpon it: and if the heare in that spot be changed into white, & it appeare lower then the skinne, it is a leprosie broken out in the burning: therefore the Priest shall pronounce him vncleane: [for] it is the plague of leprosie.

26 But if the Priest looke on it, and there be no white heare in the spot, and be no lower then the [other] skin, but be darker, then the Priest shal shut him vp seuen dayes.

a That it may be suspected to be the leprie.

b That is, shrunke in, and be lower then the rest of the skinne.

‡ Ebr. shal pollute him.

‡ Ebr. in his eyes.

c As hauing the skinne drawen together, or blackish.

‡ Ebr. shall cleanse him.

[Or, be spred abroad.

d As touching his bodily disease: for his disease was not imputed to him for sinne before God, though it were the punishmẽt of sinne.

‖ Or, bud.

e For it is not that cotagious lepsie that infecteth, but a kinde of skirfe, which hath not the flesh rawe as the leprosie.

f That is, declareth that the flesh is not sound, but is in danger to be leprous.

g None were exempted, but if the Priest pronounced him vncleane, he was put out from among the people: as appeareth by Marie the prophetesse, Nũb. 12.14. and by king Vzziah, 2. Chro. 26. 20.

h If he haue a white spot in the place, where the burning was, and was after healed.

27 After, the Priest shal looke on him the seuenth day: if it be growen abroade in the skinne, then the Priest shall pronounce him vnclean: [for] it is the plague of leprosie.

28 And if the spot abide in his place, not growing in the skin, but is darke, it is a [Or, swelling.] rising of the burning: the Priest shal therefore declare him cleane, for it is the drying vp of the burning.

29 ¶ If also a man or woman hath a sore on the head or in the beard, 30 Then the Priest shall see the sore: and if it appeare lower then the skinne, and there be in it a small yelow [i] heare, then the Priest shall pronounce him vncleane: [for] it is a blacke spot, and leprosie of the head or of the beard.

[i] Which was not wont to be there, or els smaler then in any other part of the body.

31 And if the Priest looke on the sore of the blacke spot, & if it seeme not lower then the skin, nor haue any blacke heare in it, then the Priest shall shut vp [him, that hath] the sore of the blacke spotte, seuen dayes.

32 After, in the seuenth day the Priest shal looke on the sore: and if the blacke spot growe not, & there be in it no yelow heare, & the blacke spot seeme not lower then the skin, 33 Then he shall be shauen, but [the place of the] blacke spot shal he not shaue: but the Priest shall shut vp [him, that hath] the blacke spot, seuen dayes more.

34 And the seuenth day the Priest shall looke on the blacke spot: and if the blacke spot growe not in the skinne, nor seeme lower then the [other] skinne, then the Priest shal clense him, and he shall wash his clothes, and be cleane.

35 But if the blacke spot grow abroad in the flesh after his clensing, 36 Then the Priest shal looke on it: and if the blacke spot growe in the skin, the Priest shal not [k] seeke for the yelowe heare: [for] he is vncleane.

[k] He shal not care whither the yelowe heare be there or no.

37 But if the blacke spot seeme to him to abide, and that blacke heare growe therein, the blacke spot is healed, he [is] cleane, and the Priest shal declare him to be cleane.

38 ¶ Furthermore if there be many white spottes in the skin of the flesh of man or woman, 39 Then the Priest shal consider: and if the spots in the skinne of their flesh be somewhat darke and white withall, it is but a white spotte broken out in the skin: [therefore] he is cleane.

40 And the man whose heare is fallen off his head, [and] is balde, is cleane.

41 And if his head lose the [l] heare on the forepart, [and] be balde before, he is cleane.

[l] By sickness, or any other inconuenience.

42 But if there be in the balde head, or in the balde forehead a white reddish sore, it is a leprosie springing in his balde head, or in his balde forehead.

43 Therefore the Priest shall looke vpon it, & if the rising of the sore be white reddish in his balde head, or in his balde forehead, appearing like leprosie in the skin of the flesh, 44 He is a leper and vncleane: [therefore] the Priest shall pronounce him altogether vncleane: [for] the sore [is] in his head.

45 The leper also in whom the plague is, shall haue his clothes [m] rent, and his head bare, and shall put a couering vpon his [n] lips, and shal crie, [I am] vncleane, [I am] vncleane.

[m] In signe of sorowe and lamentation.

[n] Either in token of mourning, or for feare of infecting others. Nomb. 5. 2. 2. king. 15. 5.

46 As long as the disease [shalbe] vpon him, he shalbe polluted, [for] he is vncleane: he shal dwel alone, * without the campe [shall] his habitation [be.]

47 ¶ Also the garment that the plague of leprosie is in, whether it be a Woollen garment or a linen garment,

48 Whether it be in the warpe or in the woofe of linen or of Woollen, either in a skin, or in any thing made of skin, 49 And if the sore be greene or somewhat reddish in the garment or in the skin, or in the warpe, or in the woofe, or in any thing that is made of [o] skin, it is a plague of leprosie and shalbe shewed vnto the Priest.

[o] Whether it be garment, vessel, or instrument.

50 Then the Priest shal see the plague, and shut vp [it that hath] the plague, seuen dayes, 51 And shal looke on the plague the seuenth day: if the plague growe in the garment or in the warpe, or in the woof, or in the skinne, or in any thing that is made of skin, that plague [is] a freating leprosie and vncleane.

52 And he shal burne the garment, or the warpe, or the woofe, whether it be Wollē or linen, or any thing that is made of skin, wherein the plague is: for it is a freating leprosie, [therefore] it shall be burnt in the fire.

53 If the Priest yet see that the plague [p] growe not in the garment, or in the woofe, or in whatsoeuer thing of skin it be,

[p] But abide still in one place, as vers. 37.

54 Then the Priest shal commaund them to wash the thing wherein the plague plague is, and hee shall shut it vp seuen dayes more.

55 Againe the Priest shall looke on the plague, after it is washed: & if the plague haue not changed his [g] colour, though the plague spread no further, it is vncleane: thou shalt burne it in the fire, [for] it is a freat inward, [h] whether [the spot] be in the bare place of the whole, or in part thereof.

g Or, it neither is it did before.

h Or, whether it be in any bare place before, or behinde.

56 And if the Priest see that the plague be darker, after that it is washed, he shal cut it out of ꝑ garment, or out of the skin, or out of the warpe, or out of the woofe.

57 And if it appeare still in the garment or in the warpe, or in the woofe, or in any thing made of skinne, it is a spreading [leprie:] thou shalt burne the thing wherein the plague is, in the fire.

58 If thou hast washed the garment or the warpe, or the woofe, or whatsoeuer thing of skinne it be, if the plague be departed therefrom, then shall it bee washed [i] the second time, and be cleane.

i To the intent he might be sure that the leprosie was departed, and that all occasion of infection might be taken away, 59 This is ꝑ lawe of the plague of leprosie in a garment of woollen or linen, or in the warp, or in ꝑ woofe, or in any thing of skinne, to make it cleane or vncleane.

a Or, the ceremonie which shalbe vsed in his purgation.

3 And the Priest shall goe out of the campe, & the Priest shall consider [him:] and if the plague of leprosie be healed in the leper,

4 Then shall the Priest commaunde to take for [him] that is clensed, two ‖sparowes aliue and [b] cleane, and cedar wood and a skarlet [lace,] and hyssop.

‖ Or, litle birds.

b Of birdes which were permitted to be eaten.

5 And the Priest shall commaunde to kill one of the birdes ouer [c] pure water in an earthen vessel.

c Running water, or of the fountaine,

6 After, he shall take the liue sparow with the cedar wood, & the skarlet [lace,] and the hyssop, and shall dip them and the liuing sparow in the blood of the sparow slaine ouer the pure water,

7 And he shal sprinkle vpon him, that must bee clensed of his leprosie, seuen times, and clense him, and shall [d] let goe the liue sparow into the broad field.

d Signifying that hee that was made cleane, was set at libertie, and restored to the company of others.

8 Then hee that shalbe clensed, shall wash his clothes, and shaue off all his heare, and wash himselfe in water, so he shalbe cleane: after that shall hee come into the hoste, but shall tary without his tent seuen dayes.

9 So in the seuenth day he shall shaue off all his heare, [both] his head, and his beard, and his eye browes: euen all his heare shall he shaue, and shall wash his clothes and shall wash his flesh in water: so he shalbe cleane.

10 Then in the eight day hee shall take two hee lambes without [e] blemish, and an ewe lambe of a yeere olde without blemish, & three tenth deales of fine flower for a meat offring, mingled with oyle, [f] and a pinte of oyle.

e Which hath no imperfection in any member.

f This measure in Ebrew is called, log, and conteineth fiue egges in measure.

11 And the Priest that maketh him cleane shall bring the man which is to be made cleane, and those things, before the Lord, at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

12 Then ꝑ Priest shal take one lambe, and offer him for a trespas offring, and the pinte of oyle, and * shake them to and fro before the Lord.

* Exod.29.24.

13 And hee shall kill the lambe in the place where the sinne offring & the burnt offring are slaine, [euē] in the holy place: for as the * sinne offring is ꝑ Priests, [so] is ꝑ trespas offring: [for] it is most holy.

* Chap.7.7.

14 So the Priest shall take of ꝑ blood of the trespasse offering, and put it vpon the lap of the right eare of him that shalbe clensed, and vpon the thumbe of his right hande, and vpon the great toe of his right foote.

15 The Priest shall also take of the pinte of oyle, and powre it into the palme of his left hand, g Ebr. the finger of his right hand.

17 And of the rest of the oyle that is in his hande, shall the Priest put vpon the lap of the right eare of him that is to be clensed, & vpon the thumbe of his right hand, and vpon the great toe of his right foote, [h] where the blood of the trespasse offring [was put.]

h Ebr. vpon the blood of the trespasse offring.

18 But the remnant of the oyle that is in the Priestes hand, hee shall powre vpon the head of him that is to be clensed: so ꝑ Priest shall make an atonement for him before the Lord.

19 And the Priest shall offer the sinne offring and make an atonement for him that is to be clensed of his vncleannes: then after shall he kill the burnt offring.

20 So the Priest shal offer the burnt offring and the meate offring vpon the altar: and the Prieſt ſhal make an atonement for him: ſo he ſhalbe cleane.

21 But if hee be poore, and ‡ not able, then hee ſhall bring one lambe for a treſpaſſe offring to be ſhaken, for his reconciliation, and a tenth deale of fine flower mingled with oyle, for a meate offring, with a pinte of oyle.

22 Alſo two turtle doues, or two yong pigeons, as hee is able, whereof the one ſhalbe a ſinne offring, & the other a burnt offring, 23 And hee ſhall bring them the eight day for his clenſing vnto the Prieſt at the dooze of the Tabernacle of the Congregation before the Lord.

24 Then the Prieſt ſhal take ꝑ lambe of the treſpas offring, and the pinte of oyle, and the Prieſt ſhall h ſhake them to and fro before the Lord.

26 Alſo ꝑ Prieſt ſhal powre of the oyle into the palme of his owne ‡ left hand.

27 So the Prieſt ſhall with his right finger ſprinkle of the oyle that is in his left hand, ſeuen times before the Lord.

28 Then the Prieſt ſhall put of the oyle that is in his hande, vpon the lap of the right eare of him that is to be clenſed, and vpon the thumbe of his right hand, and vpon the great toe of his right foote: vpon the plate ‖ of the blood of the treſpaſſe offring.

29 But the reſt of the oyle that is in the Prieſtes hand, he ſhall put vpon the head of him that is to be clenſed, to make an atonement for him before the Lord.

30 Alſo he ſhall preſent one of the turtle doues, or of the yong pigeons, ⁱ as he is able:

31 Such, I ſay, as he is able, the one for a ſin offring, and the other for a burnt offring ‖ with the meate offring: ſo the Prieſt ſhall make an atonement for him that is to be clenſed before the Lord.

32 This is the ᵏ lawe of him which hath the plague of leproſie, who is not able in his clenſing [to offer the whole.]

33 ¶ The Lord alſo ſpake vnto Moſes and to Aaron, ſaying,

34 When ye be come vnto the land of Canaan which I giue you in poſſeſſion, if I ˡ ſende the plague of leproſie in an houſe of the land of your poſſeſſion, 35 Then hee that oweth the houſe, ſhall come and tell the Prieſt, ſaying, Me thinke there is like a plague [of leproſie] in the houſe.

36 Then the Prieſt ſhall commaund them to emptie the houſe before ꝑ Prieſt goe into it to ſee the plague, that all that is in the houſe be not made vncleane, and then ſhall the Prieſt goe in to ſee ꝑ houſe,

37 And hee ſhall marke the plague: and if the plague [be] in the walles of the houſe, and that there be ‖ deepe ſpots, greenith or reddith, which ſeeme to be lower then the wall,

38 Then the Prieſt ſhall go out of the houſe to the dooze of the houſe, and ſhall cauſe to ſhut vp the houſe ſeuen dayes.

39 So ꝑ Prieſt ſhall come againe the ſeuenth day: and if he ſee that the plague be increaſed in the walles of the houſe, 40 Then the Prieſt ſhall commaund them to take awaye the ſtones wherein the plague [is,] and they ſhall caſt them into a ‖ foule place without the citie.

41 Alſo hee ſhall cauſe to ſcrape the houſe within rounde about, and powre the duſt, that they haue pared off, without the citie in ᵐ an vncleane place.

42 And they ſhall take other ſtones, and put them in ꝑ places of thoſe ſtones, and ſhall take other mortar, to plaiſter the houſe with.

43 But if the plague come againe and breake out in ꝑ houſe, after that hee hath taken awaye the ſtones, and after that he hath ſcraped and plaiſtred the houſe,

44 Then the Prieſt ſhall come and ſee: and if the plague grow in the houſe, it is a freating leproſie in the houſe: it is [therefore] vncleane.

45 And hee ſhall ⁿ breake downe the houſe, with the ſtones of it, and the timber thereof, and all the ‖ mortar of the houſe, and he ſhall carie them out of the citie vnto an vncleane place.

46 Moreouer he that goeth into the houſe all the while that it is ſhut vp, hee ſhalbe vncleane vntil the euen.

47 Hee alſo that ſleepeth in the houſe ſhall waſh his clothes: hee like wiſe that eateth in ꝑ houſe, ſhall waſh his clothes.

48 But if the Prieſt ſhall come and ſee, that the plague hath ſpread no further in the houſe, after the houſe be plaiſtred, ꝑ Prieſt ſhall pronounce that houſe cleane, for the plague is healed.

49 Then ſhall hee take to purifie the houſe, two ſparowes, and cedar wood, and

2, 19 The maner of purging the vncleane issues both of men and women. 31 The children of Israel must bee separate from all vncleanes.

MOreouer the LORD spake vnto Moses, & to Aaron, saying,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say vnto them, Whosoeuer hath an issue from his * flesh, is vncleane, [because] of his issue.

3 And this shalbe his vncleannes in his issue: [when] his flesh auoydeth his issue, or if his flesh be stopped from his issue, this is his b vncleannes.

4 Euery bed whereon he lyeth ‡ hath the issue, shalbe vncleane, & euery thing whereon he sitteth, shalbe vncleane.

5 Whosoeuer also toucheth his bed, shall wash his clothes, & wash himselfe in water, & shalbe vncleane vntill the euen.

6 And hee that sitteth on any thing, whereon he sate that hath the issue, shall wash his clothes, and wash himselfe in water, & shalbe vncleane vntill the euen.

7 Also hee that toucheth the flesh of him that hath the issue, shall wash his clothes, & wash himselfe in water, and shalbe vncleane vntill the euen.

8 If he also, that hath the issue, spit vpon him that is cleane, c he shall wash his clothes, and wash himselfe in water, and shalbe vncleane vntil the euen.

9 And what d saddle soeuer he rideth

10 And whosoeuer toucheth any thing that was vnder him, shalbe vncleane vnto the euen: and he that beareth those [things,] shall wash his clothes, & wash himselfe in water, and shalbe vncleane vntill the euen.

11 Likewise whomsoeuer he toucheth that hath the issue (and hath not washed his handes in water) shall wash his clothes and wash himselfe in water, and shalbe vncleane vntill the euen.

12 * And the vessell of earth that hee toucheth, which hath the issue, shalbe broken: and euery vessel of wood shalbe rinsed in water.

Chap.6.28.

13 But if he that hath an issue, be c clensed of his issue, then shall hee count him seuen dayes for his clensing, and wash his clothes, and wash his flesh in pure water: so shall he be cleane.

c That is, be restored to his olde state, and be healed thereof.

14 Then the eight day hee shall take vnto him two turtle doues or two yong pigeons, & come before the LORD at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & shal giue them vnto the Priest.

15 And the Priest shall make of the one of them a sinne offring, and of the other a burnt offring: so the Priest shall make an atonement for him before the LORD, for his issue.

16 Also if any mans issue of seede depart frō him, he shall wash all his † flesh in water, and be vncleane vntil the euen.

† Meaning all his bodie.

17 And euery garment, & euery skinne whereupon shalbe issue of seede, shalbe euen washed with water, and be vncleane vnto the euen.

18 If he that hath an issue of seede, do lie with a woman, they shall both wash themselues with water, and be vncleane vntil the euen.

19 ¶ Also when a woman shall haue an issue, [and] her issue in her ‖ flesh shall be blood, shee shalbe put apart seuen dayes: and whosoeuer toucheth her, shalbe vncleane vnto the euen.

20 And whatsoeuer she lieth vpon in her separation, shalbe vncleane, & euery thing ‡ she sitteth vpon, shalbe vncleane.

g That is, when the hath her flowers, whereby she is separate from her husband, from the Tabernacle and from touching of any holy thing.

21 Whosoeuer also toucheth her bed, shall wash his clothes, and wash himselfe with water, and shalbe vncleane vnto the euen.

22 And whosoeuer toucheth any thing that she sate vpon, shall wash his clothes, and wash himselfe in water, and shalbe vncleane vnto the euen:

23 So that whether he touch her bed, or any thing whereon he hath sit, hee shalbe vncleane vnto the euen.

24 And if a man lie with her, and [the flowers] of her separation [h] touche him, hee shalbe vncleane seuen dayes, and all the whole bed whereon he lyeth, shalbe vncleane.

h If any of her vncleannes did onely touch him in the bed: for els the man that companied with such a woman should die, chap. 20. 18.

25 Also when a womās issue of bloud runeth long time besides the time of her ‡ floures, or when she hath an issue, longer then her floures, all the dayes of the issue of her vncleannes she shalbe vncleane, as in the time of her floures.

‡ Ebr. separation.

26 Euery bed whereon she lieth (as long as her issue lasteth) shalbe to her as her bed of her separation: and whatsoeuer she sitteth vpon, shalbe vncleane, as her vncleannes when she is put apart.

i Shalbe vncleane as the bed whereon she lay when she had her naturall disease.

27 And whosoeuer toucheth these [things], shalbe vncleane, and shal wash his clothes, and wash himselfe in water, and shalbe vncleane vnto the euen.

28 But if she be cleansed of her issue, then she shall [k] count her seuen dayes, and after, she shalbe cleane.

k After ỹ time that she is recouered.

29 And in the eight day she shall take vnto her two turtles or two yong pigeons, and bring them vnto the Priest at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

30 And the Priest shall make of ỹ one a sinne offring, and of the other a burnt offering, and the Priest shall make an atonement for her before the Lord, for the issue of her vncleannes.

l Seeing that God requireth of his, puritie and cleannes: we can not be his, except our filely & sinnes be purged with the blood of Jesus Christ, and so we learne to detest all sinne.

31 Thus shal ye [l] separate the children of Israel frō their vncleannes, that they die not in their vncleannes, if they defile my Tabernacle that is among them.

32 This is the lawe of him that hath an issue, and of him from whome goeth an issue of seede whereby he is defiled:

33 Also of her ỹ is sicke of her floures, and of him that hath a running issue, whether it be man or woman, & of him that lieth with her which is vncleane.

Chap. 10. 1, 2.

Exod. 30. 10. hebr. 9. 7.

AFurthermore the Lord spake vnto Moses, *after the death of the two sonnes of Aaron, when they came [to offer] before the Lord, and died:

a The like Priest entred into the Holiest of all but once a yere, euen in the moneth of September.

2 And the Lorde sayde vnto Moses, Speake vnto Aaron thy brother, *that hee come not at [a] all times into the holy place within the vaile, before the Mercieseat, which is vpon the Arke, that he die not: for I will appeare in the cloud vpon the Mercieseat.

3 After this [sort] shall Aaron come into the holy place: [euen] with a yong bullocke for a sinne offring, and a ram for a burnt offring.

4 He shall put on the holy linen coate, and shall haue linen breeches vpon his ‖flesh, & shalbe girded with a linen girdle, and shall couer his head with a linen miter: these are ỹ holy garments: therefore shall hee wash his flesh in water, when he doth put them on.

‖ Or, priuities.

5 And he shall take of the Congregation of the children of Israel, two hee goates for a sinne offring, and a ramme for a burnt offring.

6 Then Aaron shall offer ỹ bullocke for his sinne offring, * & make an atonement for himselfe, and for his house. Hebr. 9. 7.

7 And he shall take ỹ two hee goates, and present them before the Lorde at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

8 Then Aaron shal cast lots ouer the two hee goates: one lot for the Lord, and the other for the [b] Scape goate.

b In Ebrewe it is called Azazel, which some say is a mountaine nere Shinai whither this goate was sent: but rather it is called the Scape goate, because he was not offred, but sent into the desert, as verse 21.

9 And Aaron shall offer the goate, vpon which the Lords lot shall fall, and make him a sinne offring.

10 But the goat, on which the lot shall fall to be the Scape goate, shalbe presented alive before the Lord, to make reconciliation by him, [and] to let him go (as a Scape goate) into the Wildernes.

11 Thus Aaron shall offer ỹ bullocke for his sinne offring, and make a reconciliation for himselfe, and for his house, and shall kill the bullocke for his sin offring.

12 And hee shall take a censer full of burning coles from off ỹ altar before the Lord, and his handfull of sweete incense beate small, & bring [it] within the vaile, c The holiest of all.

13 And shall put the incense vpon the fire before ỹ Lord, that the ‖cloude of the incense may couer the Mercieseate that is vpon ‖the Testimonie: so he shal not die.

‖ Or, the smoke.

‖ Or, Arke. Hebr. 9. 13. and 10. 4. Chap. 4. 6.

14 And hee shall * take of the blood of the bullock, * and sprinkle it with his finger vpon the Mercieseat [d] Eastward: and before the Mercieseat shall he sprinkle of the blood with his finger seuen times.

d That is, on the side which was toward the people: for the face of the Sanctuarie stoode Westward.

15 ¶ Then shall hee kill the goat that is the peoples sinne offering, and bring his blood within the vaile, and doe with that blood, as hee did with the blood of the bullocke, & sprinkle it vpon the Mercieseate, and before the Mercieseate.

16 So he shall purge the holy place from the vncleannes of the children of Israel, and from their trespasses of all their sinnes: so shall he do also for ỹ Tabernacle of ỹ Congregation e placed with them, in the mids of their vncleannes.

e Placed among them which are vncleane, Luke 1.10.

17 *And there shalbe no man in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, when he goeth in to make an atonement in the holy place, vntill he come out, and haue made an atonement for him selfe, and for his houshold, and for all the Congregation of Israel.

18 After, he shall go out vnto the f altar that is before the Lorde, and make a reconciliation vpon it, and shall take of the blood of ỹ bullocke, and of the blood of the goate, and put it vpon the hornes of the Altar round about:

f Whereupon the sweete incense and perfume was offred.

19 So shall he sprinkle of ỹ blood vpon it with his finger seuen times, & cleanse it, and hallowe it from the vncleannes of the children of Israel.

20 ¶ When he hath made an ende of purging the holy place, and the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & the Altar, then he shall bring the liue goate:

21 And Aaron shal put both his hands vpon the head of the liue goat, and confesse ouer him al the iniquities of the children of Israel, and all their trespasses, in all their sinnes, putting them g vpon the head of the goate, and shall send [him] away (by the hand of a man appointed) into the wildernes.

g Herein this goate is a true figure of Iesus Christ, who beareth the sinnes of the people, Isa. 53.4.

22 So the goate shal beare vpon him all their iniquities into * the land that is not inhabited, and he shal let the goat go into the wildernes.

* Ebr. the land of separation.

23 After, Aaron shal come into ỹ Tabernacle of the Congregation, & put off the linnen clothes, which he put on when he went into the holy place, and leaue them there.

24 He shall wash also his flesh with water in h the holy place, and put on his owne rayment, and come out, and make his burnt offring, and the burnt offring of the people, and make an atonement for him selfe, and for the people.

h In the court where was the Lauer, Exod. 30.18.

25 Also the fat of ỹ sinne offring shall he burne vpon the altar.

26 And he that caried forth the goate, [called] the Scape goate, shall wash his clothes, and wash his flesh in water, and after that shall come into the hoste.

27 Also the bullocke for the sinne offring, and the goate for the sinne offring (whose blood was brought to make a reconciliation in the holy place) shall one *carie out without the hoste to be burnt in the fire, with their skinnes, and with their flesh, and with their doung.

Chap.6.30. hebr.13.11.

28 And he that burneth them shall wash his clothes, and wash his flesh in water, and afterward come into ỹ hoste.

29 ¶ So this shalbe an ordinance for euer vnto you: the tenth [day] of the i seuenth moneth, ye shall k humble your soules, and do no worke at all, whether it be one of the same countrey or a stranger that soiourneth among you.

i Which was Tisri, and answereth to part of September and part of October.

k Meaning by abstinence and fasting, Nom. 29.7. Chap. 23.7.

30 For that *day shal the Priest make an atonement for you to cleanse you: ye shalbe cleane from all your sinnes before the Lord.

l Of a rest which ye shal keepe most diligently.

31 This shalbe a l Sabbath of rest vnto you, and ye shall humble your soules, by an ordinance for euer.

32 And the Priest m whom he shall anoint, and whom he shall consecrate (to minister in his fathers stede) shal make the atonement, and shall put on the linnen clothes and holy vestments, m Whom the Priest shall anoint by Gods commandement to succeede in his fathers roume.

33 And shall purge the holy Sanctuarie and the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and shall cleanse the altar, & make an atonement for the Priestes and for all the people of the Congregation.

34 And this shalbe an euerlasting ordinance vnto you, to make an atonement for ỹ children of Israel for all their sinnes * once a yeere: and as the Lord commanded Moses, he did.

CHAP. XVII.

4 All sacrifices must be brought to the doore of the Tabernacle. 7 To deuils may they not offer. 10 They may not eate blood.

AND ỹ Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Speake vnto Aaron, and vnto his sonnes, and to all the children of Israel, and say vnto them, This is the thing which the Lord hath a commanded, saying, a Lest they should practise that idolatrie, which they had learned amõg the Egyptians.

b To make a sacrifice or offring thereof.

4 And bringeth it not vnto the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation to offer an offring vnto the Lord, before the Tabernacle of the Lorde, c blood shalbe imputed vnto that man: he hath shed blood, wherefore that man shalbe cut off from among his people.

c I do as much abhorre it as though he had killed a man, as Isa. 66.3.

5 Therefore the children of Israel shall bring their offrings, which they would offer d abroad in the field, & present them d Wherefore euer they were moued with foolish deuotion to offer it.

them vnto the Lorde at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation by the Priest, and offer them for peace offrings vnto the Lorde.

6 Then the Priest shall sprinkle the blood vpon the altar of the Lorde before the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and burne the fat for a*sweete sauour vnto the Lord.

Exod.29.18. chap.4.31.

7 And they shall no more offer their offrings vnto c deuils, after whom they haue gone a f whoring: this shalbe an ordinance for euer vnto them in their generations.

c Meaning, whatsoeuer is not the true God, 1.cor.10. 20.psal.95.5. f For idolatrie is spirituall whoredome, because faith toward God is broken.

8 ¶ Also thou shalt say vnto them, Whosoeuer [he be] of the house of Israel, or of the strangers which sojourne among them, that offreth a burnt offring or sacrifice,

9 And bringeth it not vnto the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation to offer it vnto the Lord, euen that man shalbe cut off from his people.

10 ¶ Likewise Whosoeuer [he be] of the house of Israel, or of the strangers that sojourne among them, that eateth any blood, I will euē set g my face against that person that eateth blood, and will cut him off from among his people:

g I will declare my wrath by taking vengeance on him, as chap.20.3.

11 For the life of the flesh is in ꝑ blood, and I haue giuen it vnto you [to offer] vpon the altar, to make an atonement for your soules: for it is the blood that maketh an atonement for the soule.

12 Therefore I said vnto the children of Israel, None of you shall eate blood: neither the stranger that sojourneth among you, shall eate blood.

13 Moreouer whosoeuer [he be] of the children of Israel, or of the strangers that sojourne among them, which by hunting taketh any beast or foule that may be h eaten, he shall powre out the blood thereof, and couer it with dust:

h Which the lawe permitteth to be eaten, because it is cleane. Gene.9.4.

14 For the life of all flesh is his blood, it is [ioyned] with his life: therefore I said vnto the children of Israel, *Ye shal eate the blood of no ‖ flesh: for the life of all flesh is the blood thereof: Whosoeuer eateth it, shalbe cut off.

‖Or, liuing creature.

15 And euery person that eateth it which dieth [alone,] or that which is torne [with beasts,] whether it be one of the same countrey or a stranger, he shall both wash his clothes, and wash himselfe in water, and be vncleane vnto the euen: after he shalbe ‖ cleane.

‖Or, counted cleane.

16 But if he wash [them] not, nor wash his ‖ flesh, then he shalbeare ‖ his iniquitie.

‖Or, himselfe. ‖Or, the punishment of his sinne.

Deut.15.21. eccius.35.12. 21 *And whosoeuer bringeth a peace offring vnto the Lord to accomplish his vowe, or for a free offring, of the beeues, or of the sheepe, his free offring shall be perfect, no blemish shalbe in it.

‖Or, wart. 22 Blinde, or broken, or maimed, or hauing a ‖wenne, or skirute, or scabbed: these shal ye not offer vnto the Lord nor make an offering by fire of these vpon the altar of the Lord.

Chap.21.18. 23 Yet a bullocke, or a sheepe that hath [any *member] superfluous, or lacking, such maist thou present for a free offring, but for a vow it shal not be accepted.

i Ye shal not receiue any imperfect thing of a stranger, to make it the Lords offring: which he calleth the bread of the Lord.

24 Ye shal not offer vnto the Lorde that which is bruised or crushed, or broken, or cut away, neither shall ye make [an offring thereof] in your land,

25 Neither [i] of the hand of a stranger shall ye offer the bread of your God of any of these, because their corruption [is] in thē, there is a blemish in them: [therefore] shall they not be accepted for you.

26 ¶ And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

27 When a bullocke, or a sheepe, or a goat shalbe brought forth, it shalbe euen seuen daies vnder his damme: and from the eight day forth, it shalbe accepted for a sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord.

Deut.22.6. 28 As for the cowe or the ewe, ye shal not *kil her, & her yong [both] in one day.

29 So when ye will offer a thanke offring vnto the Lorde, ye shall offer willingly.

Chap.7.15. 30 The same day it shalbe eaten, ye shall leaue *none of it vntill the morow: I am the Lord.

31 Therefore shall ye keepe my commandements and doe them: [for] I am the Lord.

k For whosoeuer doeth otherwise then God commaundeth, polluteth his name.

32 Neither shall ye [k] pollute mine holy Name, but I will be halowed among the children of Israel. I the Lord sanctifie you, 33 Which haue brought you out of the land of Egypt, to be your God: I am the Lorde.

CHAP. XXIII.

2 The feastes of the Lorde. 3 The Sabbath. 5 The Passeouer. 6 The feast of vnleauened bread. 10 The feast of first fruites. 16 Whitsonnide. 24 The feast of blowing trumpets. 34 The feast of Tabernacles.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say vnto them, The feasts of the Lord which ye shall call the holy ‖assemblies, euen these are my feasts.

‖Or, conuocations.

3 *Sixe dayes ‖shall worke be done, but in the seuenth day [shalbe] the Sabbath of rest, an holy ‖conuocation: ye shal doe no worke therein, it is the Sabbath of the Lord, in all your dwellings.

Exo.20.9,10.
‖Or, ye may worke.
‖Or, assemblie.

4 ¶These are the feasts of the Lord, [and] holy conuocations, which ye shall proclaime in their [a] seasons.

a For the Sabbath was kept euery weeke, & these other were kept but once euery yeere. Exod.12.15. nomb.28.17.

5 In the first moneth, [and] in the fourteenth [day] of the moneth at euening [shalbe] the Passeouer of the Lord.

6 And on the fifteenth day of this moneth [shalbe] the feast * of vnleauened bread vnto the Lord: seuen daies ye shal eate vnleauened bread.

7 In the first day ye shal haue an holy conuocation: ye shall doe no [b] seruile worke therein.

b Or, bodily labour, saue about that which one must eate, exod.12.16.

8 Also ye shall offer sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord seuen dayes. [&] in the [c] seuenth day [shalbe] an holy conuocation: ye shal do no seruile worke therein.

c The first day of the feast and the seuenth were kept holy: in the rest they might worke, except any feast were intermedled, as the feast of vnleauened bread the fifteenth day, and the feast of sheaues the sixteenth day.

9 ¶And the Lorde spake vnto Moses, saying,

10 Speake vnto the children of Israel, & say vnto them, When ye be come into the lande which I giue vnto you, and reape the haruest thereof, then ye shall bring ‖a sheafe of the first fruites of your haruest vnto the Priest,

‖Or, an omer: reade Deut. 24.19. ruth 2. 15. psal.129.7.

11 And he shal shake the sheafe before the Lorde, that it may be acceptable for you: the morow after the [d] Sabbath, the Priest shall shake it.

d That is, the second Sabbath of the Passeouer.

12 And that day when ye shake the sheafe, shall ye prepare a lambe without blemish of a yere old, for a burnt offring vnto the Lord:

13 And the meat offring thereof shall be [two] tenth deales of fine floure mingled with oyle, for a sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord of sweete sauour: and the drinke offering thereof the fourth part [e] of an Hin of wine.

e Which is the fifth part of an Ephah, or two omers: Reade Exod.16.16.

14 And ye shal eate neither bread nor parched corne, nor ‖greene eares vntill the selfe same day that ye haue brought an offring vnto your God: [this shalbe] a lawe for euer in your generations and in all your dwellings.

‖Or, full eares.

15 ¶Ye shall count also to you from the morow after the [g] Sabbath, [euen] from the day that ye shal bring the sheaf of the shake offring, seuen ‖Sabbaths, they shalbe complete.

g That is, the seuenth day after the first Sabbath of the Passeouer, ‖Or, weekes.

16 Unto the morow after the seuenth Sabbath shall ye number fiftie dayes: then ye shall bring a newe meate offring vnto the Lord.

17 Ye shal bring out of your habitations bread for the shake offering: they shalbe two [loaues] of two tenth deales of fine floure, [which] shalbe baken with [h] leauen for first fruites vnto the Lord.

h Because the Priest should eate them, as chap.7.13, and they should not be offred to the Lord vpon the altar.

18 Also you shall offer with the bread seuen lambes without blemish of one yeere olde, and a yong bullocke and two rammes: they shalbe for a burnt offring vnto the Lorde, with their meate offerings and their drinke offrings, for a sacrifice made by fire of a sweet sauour vnto the Lord.

19 Then ye shall prepare an hee goat for a sinne offring, and two lambs of one yere olde for peace offrings.

20 And the Priest shal shake them to and fro with the bread of the first fruits before the Lorde, [and] with the two lambs: they shalbe holy to the Lord, for the [i] Priest.

i That is, offred to the Lord, and the rest should be for the Priests.

21 So ye shal proclaime the same day, [that] it may be an holy conuocation vnto you: ye shall doe no seruile worke therein: it shalbe an ordinance for euer in all your dwellings, throughout your generations.

22 ¶* And when you reape the haruest of your land, thou shalt not ridde cleane the corners of thy field when thou reapest, neither shalt thou make any after gathering of thy haruest, [but] shalt leaue them vnto the poore & to the stranger: I am the Lord your God.

Chap.19.9. deut.24.19.

23 ¶And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

24 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say, In the [k] seuenth moneth, [and] in the first [day] of the moneth shal ye [l] haue a Sabbath, for the remembrance of [m] blowing the trumpets, an holy conuocation.

k That is, about the ende of September.

l Or, an holy day to the Lord.

m Which blowing was to put them in remembrance of the manifolde feasts that were in that moneth, and of the Iubile, 25 Ye shal do no seruile worke [therein], but offer sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord.

26 ¶And

26 ¶And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

Chap.16.29, 30.nom.29.7.

27 The tenth also of this seuenth moneth shalbe a day of reconciliation: it shalbe an holy conuocation vnto you, and ye shall [n] humble your soules, and offer sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord.

n By fasting, and prayer.

28 And ye shall doe no worke that same day: for it is a day of reconciliation, to make an atonement for you before the Lord your God.

29 For euery person that humbleth not himselfe that same day, shall euen be cut off from his people.

30 And euery person that shal do any worke that same day, ỹ same person also will I destroy from among his people.

31 Ye shal do no maner worke [therefore: this shalbe] a lawe for euer in your generations, [throughout] all your dwellings.

32 This shalbe vnto you a Sabbath of rest, and ye shall humble your soules: in the ninth [day] of the moneth at euen, from [o] euen to euen shall ye [‡] celebrate your Sabbath.

o Which containeth a night and a day: yet they tooke it but for their naturall day.

‡ Ebr. rest your Sabbath.

33 ¶And the Lorde spake vnto Moses, saying,

34 Speake vnto ỹ children of Israel, and say, *In the fifteenth day of this seuenth moneth [shalbe] for seuen dayes the feast of Tabernacles vnto the Lord.

Nomb.29.12. Iohn 7.2,37.

35 In the first day [shalbe] an holy conuocation: ye shall do no seruile worke [therein.]

36 Seuen dayes ye shall offer *sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord, [and] in the eight day shalbe an holy conuocation vnto you, and ye shall offer sacrifices made by fire vnto the Lord: it is the [p] solemne assemblie, ye shall doe no seruile Worke [therein.]

Exod.29.18.

p Or a day wherein the people are stayed from all worke.

37 These are the feastes of the Lorde (which ye shall call holy conuocations) to offer sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lorde, [as] burnt offring, and meate offring, [q] sacrifice, and drinke offrings, euery one vpon his day, q Or peace offring.

38 Beside the Sabbaths of the Lord, and beside your gifts, and beside all your vowes, and beside all your free offrings, which ye shall giue vnto the Lord.

39 But in ỹ fiftenth day of the seuenth moneth, when ye haue gathered in the fruite of the land, ye shall keepe an holy feast vnto the Lord seuen dayes: in the first day [shalbe] a [r] Sabbath: likewise in the eight day [shalbe] a Sabbath.

r Or a solemne feast.

40 And ye shall take you in the first day the fruite of goodly trees, branches of palme trees, & the boughes of [|] thicke trees, and willowes of the brooke, and shall reioyce before the Lorde your God seuen dayes.

|| Or, of boughs thicke with leaues.

41 So ye shall keepe this feast vnto the Lorde seuen dayes in the yeere, by a perpetuall ordinance throughout your generations: in the seuenth moneth shall you keepe it.

42 Ye shall dwell in boothes seuen dayes: all that are Israelites borne, shal dwell in boothes, 43 That your posteritie may knowe that I haue made the children of Israel to dwell in [s] boothes, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt: I am the Lord your God.

s In the wilderness, for as much as they would not credit Iosua and Caleb, when they returned from spying the land of Canaan.

44 So Moses declared vnto the children of Israel the feastes of the Lord.

CHAP. XXIIII.

2 The oyle for the lampes. 5 The shewbread. 14 The blasphemer shalbe stoned. 17 He that killeth shalbe killed.

AND the Lorde spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 [a] Commaunde the children of Israel that they bring vnto thee pure oyle olive beaten, for the light, to cause the lampes to burne continually.

a Reade exod. 27.20.

3 Without the vaile [b] of the Testimonie, in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, shall Aaron dresse them, both euen and morning before the Lord allwayes: [this shalbe] a lawe for euer through your generations.

b Which vaile separated the holiest of all, where was the Arke of the Testimonie, from ỹ Sanctuarie.

4 He shall dresse the lampes vpon the *pure Candlesticke before the Lord perpetually.

Exod.31.8.

5 ¶Also thou shalt take fine floure, and bake twelue * cakes thereof: two [c] tenth deales shalbe in one cake.

Exod.25.30.

c That is, two Omers: reade Exod.16,16.

6 And thou shalt set them in two rowes, fiue in a row vpon the pure table before the Lord.

7 Thou shalt also put pure incense vpon the rowes, that [d] in stead of the bread it may be for a remembrãce, [and] an offring made by fire to the Lord.

d For it was burnt euery Sabbath when the hyred was taken away.

8 Euery Sabbath he shall put them in rowes before the Lord euermore, [receiuing them] of the children of Israel for an euerlasting couenant.

9 *And the [bread] shalbe Aarons and his sonnes, and they shall eate it in the holy place: for it is most holy vnto him of the offrings of the Lord made by fire by a perpetuall ordinance.

Exod.29.33. chap.8.31. marth. 12.1,5.

49 Or his vncle, or his vncles sonne may bye him out, or [any] of the kindred of his flesh among his familie, may redeeme him: eyther if hee can [u] get [so much,] he may bye himselfe out.

u If he be able.

50 Then he shal recken with his byer from the yeere that he was solde to him, vnto the yere of Jubile: and the money of his sale shalbe according to the number of [x] yeres: according to the time of an hyred seruant shall he be with him.

x Which remaine yet to the Jubile.

51 If there be many yeeres behinde, according to them hee shall giue againe for his deliuerance, of the money that he was bought for.

52 If there remaine but fewe yeeres vnto the yere of Jubile, then hee shall count with him, ‡ according to his yeres giue againe for his redemption.

53 Hee shalbe with him yere by yere as an hyred seruant: hee shall not rule cruelly ouer him in thy [y] sight.

y Thou shalt not suffer him to intreate him rigorously, if thou know it.

54 And if he be not redeemed thus, he shall go out in the yere of Jubile, he, and his children with him.

55 For vnto me the children of Israel [are] seruants: they are my seruants, whome I haue brought out of the land of Egypt: I am the Lord your God.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 Idolatrie forbidden. 3 A blessing to them that keepe the commaundements. 14 The curse to those that breake them. 42 God promiseth to remember his couenant.

YE shall make you none idoles nor grauen image, neyther reare you vp any *pillar, neither shall ye set ‖ any image of stone in your lande to bowe downe to it: for I am the Lord your God.

a By vsuall speaking abundace of earthly things he stirreth vp mindes to consider the riche treasures of the spirituall blessings.

5 And your threshing shall reach vnto the vintage, ‡ the vintage shall reache vnto sowing time, and you shall eate your bread in plenteousnes, and dwell in your land safely.

6 And I will sende peace in the land, and ye shall sleepe and *none shall make you afrayd: also I ‡ will rid euil beastes out of the land, and the [b] sword shall not goe through your land.

Iob.11.19.

‡ Ebr. I will cause the euill beast to cease.

11 *And I will set my [d] Tabernacle among you, ‡ my soule shal not lothe you.

Ezek.37.26. 2.cor.6.16.

d I will be dayly present with you.

12 Also I will walke among you, ‡ I will be your God, ‡ ye shalbe my people.

13 I am the Lorde your God which haue brought you out of the lande of Egypt, that ye shoulde not be their bondmen, and I haue broken the [e] bondes of your yoke, and made you go vpright.

e I haue set you at full libertie, where as before ye were as beasts tied in bandes. Deut.28.15. lament.2.17. malac.2.2.

14 ¶ *But if ye will not obey me, nor doe all these commandements,

15 And if ye shall despise mine ordinances, either if your soule abhorre my lawes, so that ye will not do all my commandements, but breake my [f] couenant, f Which I made with you in chusing you to be my people.

16 Then will I also do this vnto you: I will appoint ouer you ‖ fearefulnes, a consumption, and the burning ague to consume the eyes, and make the heart heauie, and you shall sowe your seede in vaine: for your enemies shall eate it:

‖ Or, an hastie plague.

17 And I will set my face against you, and ye shal fall before your enemies, and they that hate you, shal raigne ouer you, *and ye shal flee whe none pursueth you.

g Reade chap. 17.10.

Prou.28.1.

18 And if ye will not for these [things] obey me, then will I punish you [h] seuen times more, according to your sinnes, h That is, more extremely.

19 And I will breake the pride of your power, and I will make your heauen as yron, and your earth as brasse:

i Ye shall haue brought and bareines, Agg.1.10.

21 ¶ And if ye walke [k] stubburnly against me, and will not obey me, I will then bring seuen times more plagues vpon you, according to your sinnes.

k Or, as some reade, by fortune, imputing my plagues to chance and fortune.

22 I will also send wilde beasts vpon you, which shall [l] spoile you, and destroy your cattell, and make you fewe in number: so your hie [m] wayes shalbe desolate.

l Of your children, 2.king. 17.25.

m Because none dare passe thereby for feare of beasts.

23 Yet if by these ye will not be reformed by me, but walke stubburnly against me,

2.Sam.22.27. psal.18.26. 24 Then will I also walke * stubburnly against you, and I wil smite you yet seuen times for your sinnes:

25 And I will send a sword vpon you, that shall auenge the quarell of my couenant: and when ye are gathered in your cities, I will sende the pestilence among you, and ye shall be deliuered into the hand of the enemie.

n That is, the stay wherby the life is sustained, Ezec. 4.16. & 5.16. 26 When I shall breake the n staffe of your bread, then ten women shall bake your bread in one o ouen, and they shall deliuer your bread againe by weight, and ye shall eate, but not be satisfied.

o One ouen shall be sufficient for ten families, 27 Yet if ye will not for this obey me, but walke against me stubburnly, Deut.28.53. 29 *And ye shall eate the flesh of your sonnes, and the flesh of your daughters shall ye deuoure.

2.Chro.34.7. ‖Or, carions. 30 I will also destroy your hie places, and * cut away your images, and cast your carkeises vpon the ‖bodies of your idoles, and my soule shall abhorre you.

p I will not accept your sacrifices, 31 And I will make your cities desolate, and bring your Sanctuarie vnto nought, and p will not smell the sauour of your sweete odours.

32 I will also bring the land vnto a wildernes, & your enemies which dwell therein, shall be astonished thereat.

q Signifying that no enemie can come without Gods sending. Chap.25.2. 33 Also I will scatter you among the heathen, and q will drawe out a sworde after you, and your land shalbe waste, and your cities shalbe desolate.

34 Then shall the lande enioy her *Sabbaths, as long as it lieth boyd, and ye shalbe in your enemies land: then shal the land rest, and enioy her Sabbaths.

35 All the dayes that it lieth boyde, it shall rest, because it did not rest in your r Sabbaths, when ye dwelt vpon it.

r Which I commanded you to keepe. ‖Or, cowardnes. 36 And vpon them that are left of you, I will send euen a ‖faintnes into their hearts in the land of their enemies, and the sounde of a leafe shaken shall chase them, and they shall flee as fleeing from a sword, and they shall fall, no man pursuing them.

s As if their enemies did chase them. 37 They shall fall also one vpon another, as before a sworde, though none pursue them, and ye shall not be able to stand before your enemies:

38 And ye shal perish among the heathen, and the land of your enemies shall eate you vp.

39 And they that are left of you, shall pine away for their iniquitie, in your enemies lands, and for the iniquities of their fathers shal they pine away with t them also.

t For asmuch as they are culpable of their fathers faults, they shalbe punished as well as their fathers.

40 Then they shall confesse their iniquitie, and ṗ wickednes of their fathers for their trespasse, which they haue trespassed against me, and also because they haue walked stubburnly against me.

Or, pray for their sinne. 41 Therefore I wil walke stubburnly against them, and bring them into the land of their enemies: so then their vncircumcised hearts shalbe humbled, and then they shall ‖willingly beare [the punishment of] their iniquitie.

42 Then I will remember my couenant with Jaakob, and my couenant also with Jshak, & also my couenant with Abraham will I remember, and wil remember the land.

u Whiles they are captiues, and without repentance. 43 u The land also [in the meane season] shalbe left of them, and shall enioye her Sabbaths while shee lyeth waste without them, but they shall willingly suffer [the punishment of their iniquitie, because they despised my lawes, and because their soule abhorred mine ordinances.

Deut.4.31. rom.11.26. 44 Yet notwithstanding this, when they shalbe in the land of their enemies, *I will not cast them away, neither will I abhorre them, to destroy them vtterly, [nor] to breake my couenant with them: for I am the Lord their God:

x Made to their forefathers. 45 But I wil remember for them the x couenant of old when I brought them out of the land of Egypt in the sight of the heathen that I might be their God: I am the Lord.

46 These are the ordinances, and the iudgements, and the lawes, which the Lorde made betweene him, and the children of Jsrael in mount y Sinai, by the hand of Moses.

y Fiftie dayes after they came out of Egypt.

CHAP. XXVII.

2 Of diuers vowes, and the redemption of the same. 28 A thing separate from the vse of man cannot be solde, nor redeemed, but remaineth to the Lord.

MOreouer the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Speake vnto the children of Jsrael, and say vnto them, If any man shall make a a vowe of a person vnto the Lorde, by b thy estimation, a As of his sonne or his daughter. b Which art the Priest.

3 Then

3 Then thy estimation shal be [thus:] a male from twentie yeere olde vnto sixtie yeere olde shalbe thy estimation euen fiftie [c] shekels of siluer, after the shekel of the Sanctuarie.

c Read the value of the shekel, Exo. 30, 13.

4 But if it be a female, then thy valuation shalbe thirtie shekels.

5 And from fiue yeere old to twentie yeere olde thy valuation shall be for the male twentie shekels, and for the female ten shekels.

6 But from a [d] moneth olde vnto fiue yere old, thy price of the male shalbe fiue shekels of siluer, and thy price of the female, three shekels of siluer.

d He speaketh of those vowes where by the fathers dedicated their children to God, which were not of such force, but they might be redeemed frō them.

7 And from sixtie yeere old and aboue, if [he be] a male, then thy price shalbe fiftene shekels, & for the female ten shekels.

8 But if he be poorer [e] then thou hast esteemed [him,] then shal he present him selfe before the Priest, and the Priest shal value him, according to [f] abilitie of him that vowed, [so] shall the Priest value him.

e If he be not able to pay after thy valuation.

9 And if [it be] a [g] beast, whereof men bring an offring vnto the Lorde, all that one giueth of such vnto the Lord, shalbe holy.

f Which is cleane, Chap. 11, 2.

10 He shall not alter it nor change it, a good for a bad, nor a bad for a good: and if he change beast for beast, then [both] this and that, which was changed for it, shalbe [g] holy.

g That is, consecrate to the Lorde.

11 And if [it be] any vncleane beast, of which men doe not offer a sacrifice vnto the Lorde, he shall then present the beast before the Priest.

12 And the Priest shall value it, whether it be good or bad: [and] as thou valuest it, [which art] [h] Priest, so shall it be.

13 But if he will bye it againe, then he shall giue the fift part of it more, aboue thy valuation.

14 ¶ Also when a man shall dedicate his house to be holy vnto the Lord, then the Priest shall value it, whether it be good or bad, [and] as the Priest shal prize it, [i] so shall the value be.

i Ebr. so shall it stand.

h Valuing the price thereof, according to the seede that is sowen, or by the seede that it doth yeelde.

15 But if he that sanctified it, will redeeme his house, then he shal giue thereto the fift part of money more then thy estimation, and it shalbe his.

16 If also a man dedicate to the Lorde any ground of his inheritance, then shalt thou esteeme it according to the [k] seede thereof: an [l] Homer of barlie seede [shall be] at fiftie shekels of siluer.

i Homer is a measure containing tenne Ephahs: read of Ephah, Exo. 16, 16, 36.

17 If he dedicate his fielde [immediatly] from the yeere of Jubile, it shalbe worth as thou doest esteeme it.

18 But if he dedicate his field after the Jubile, then the Priest shall reckon him the money according to the yeeres that remaine vnto the yeere of Jubile, and it shalbe abated by thy estimation.

19 And if he that dedicateth it, will redeeme the fielde, then he shall put the fift part of the price, that thou esteemedst it at, thereunto, and it shall remaine his.

20 And if he wil not redeeme the field, but [the Priest] [k] sell the fielde to another man, it shalbe redeemed no more.

k For their owne necessity or godly vses.

21 But the field shalbe holy to [p] Lord, when it goeth out into the Jubile, as a fielde [l] separate from common vses: the possession thereof shalbe the Priests.

l That is, which is dedicate to [p] Lord with a curse to him that doth turne it to his priuate vse, Nom. 21, 2. deut. 13, 15. Ioth. 6, 17. Vers. 12.

22 If a man also dedicate vnto [p] Lord a field which he hath bought, which is not of the ground of his inheritance, 23 Then the Priest shall set the price to him, as [*] thou esteemest it, vnto the yeere of Jubile, and he shal giue [m] thy price the same day, [as a thing holy vnto [p] Lord.

m The Priests valuation.

24 [But] in the yeere of Jubile, the fielde shall returne vnto him, of whom it was bought: to him, [I say,] whose inheritance the land was.

FOrasmuch as God hath appointed that his Church in this world shall be vnder the crosse, both because they should learne not to put their trust in worldly things, and also feele his comfort, when all other helpe fayleth: he did not straight way bring his people, after their departure out of Egypt, into the land which he promised them: but led them to and fro for the space of fourtie yeeres, and kept them in continuall exercises before they enioyed it, to trie their faith, and to teache them to forget the worlde and to depende on him. Which tryall did greatly profite to discerne the wicked and the hypocrites from the faithfull and true seruants of God, who serued him with pure heart, whereas the other preferring their carnall affections to Gods glory, and making religion to serue their purpose, murmured when they lacked to content their lustes, and despised them whom God had appointed rulers ouer them. By reason whereof they prouoked Gods terrible iudgements against them, and are set foorth as a most notable example for all ages to beware howe they abuse Gods worde, preferre their owne lustes to his will, or despise his ministers. Notwithstanding God is euer true in his promise, and gouerneth his by his holy Spirite, that eyther they fall not to such inconueniences, or else returne to him quickly by true repentance: and therefore he continueth his graces towarde them, he giueth them ordinances and instructions, as well for religion as outwarde policie: he preserueth them against all craft and conspiracie, and giueth them manifold victories against their enemies. And to auoyde all controuersies that might arise, hee taketh away the occasions, by deuiding among all the tribes, both the lande, which they had wonne, and that also which hee had promised, as seemed best to his godly wisedome.

CHAP. IIII.

5 The offices of the Leuites, when the host remoued. 46 The nomber of the three families of Kohath, Gershon, & Merari.

AND the Lorde spake vnto Moses, & to Aaron, saying,

2 Take the summe of the sonnes of Kohath from among þ sonnes of Leui, after their families, & houses of their fathers, a The Leuites were nombred after three sorts: first at a moneth olde whẽ they were consecrate to þ Lord, next at 25. yere olde whẽ they were appointed to serue in þ Tabernacle, & at 30. yere old to beare the burthens of the Tabernacle.

3 From a thirtie yere olde and aboue, euen vntill fiftie yere olde, all that enter into the assemblie to do the worke in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

4 This shalbe the office of the sonnes of Kohath in the Tabernacle of the Cõgregation about the holiest of all.

5 ¶ When the host remoueth, thẽ Aaron and his sonnes shall come and take downe b the couering baile, & shall couer the Arke of the Testimonie therewith.

b Which beuteden þ Sanctuarie from the Holiest of all.

6 And they shall put thereon a couering of badgers skins, & shall spred vpon it a cloth altogether of blewe silke, & put c the barres thereof.

c That is, put them vpõ their shoulders to cary it: for the barres of the Arke could neuer be remoued, Exod. 25. 15.

7 And vpon the * table of shew [bread] they shal spread a cloth of blew silke, and put thereon the dishes, and the [incense] cups, and goblets, and couerings to couer it d with, and the bread shalbe thereon continually:

Exod.25.30.

d Meaning to couer þ bread.

8 And they shall spread vpon them a couering of skarlet, and couer the same with a couer of badgers skins, and put to the barres thereof.

9 Then they shall take a cloth of blew silke, and couer the * Candlesticke of light with his lampes and his snuffers, * & his snuffe dishes, and all the oyle vessels thereof, which they occupie about it.

Exod.25.31. Exod.25.38.

10 So they shall put it, and all the instruments thereof in a couering of badgers skins, and put it vpon the e barres.

e The Ebrewe word signifieth an instrument made of two staues or bars, & which was to burne incense. Read Exod.30.1.

11 Also vpon the golden f altar they shall spread a cloth of blew silke, & couer it with a couering of badgers skins, and put to the barres thereof.

12 And they shall take all the instruments of the ministerie wherewith they minister in the Sanctuarie, & put [them] in a cloth of blewe silke, and couer them with a couering of badgers skins, and put them on the barres.

13 Also they shal take away the ashes from the g altar, and spread a purple cloth vpon it, g Of the burnt offring.

14 And shall put vpon it al the instruments therof, which they occupie about it: the censers, the flesh hookes and the besoms, and the basens, [euen] all the instruments struments of the altar: and they shall spread vpon it a couering of badgers skins, and put to the barres of it.

15 And when Aaron and his sonnes haue made an end of couering ᵖ h Sanctuarie, and all the instruments of the Sanctuary, at the remouing of the host, afterwarde the sonnes of Kohath shall come to beare it, but they shal not ⁱ touch [any] holy thing, least they die. This is the charge of the sonnes of Kohath in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

16 And to the office of Eleazar the sone of Aaron the Priest [perteineth] the oyle for the light, and the *sweete incense and the ᵏ dayly meate offring, and the *anoynting oyle, [with] the ouerlight of all the Tabernacle, and of all that therein is, [both] in the Sanctuarie and in all the instruments thereof.

17 And the Lord spake vnto Moses and to Aaron, saying,

18 Ye shall not ˡ cut off the tribe of the families of the Kohathites from amõg the Leuites:

19 But thus do vnto them, that they may liue & not die, when they come nere to the most holy things: let Aaron and his sonnes come and appoint ᵐ them, euery one to his office, and to his charge.

20 But let them not go in, to see when the Sãctuarie is folden vp, lest they die.

21 And the Lorde spake vnto Moses, saying,

22 Take also the summe of the sõnes of Gershon, euery one by the houses of their fathers throughout their families:

23 From thirtie yere olde and aboue, vntill fiftie yeere olde shalt thou number them, all that ⁿ enter into the assemblie for to do seruice in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

24 This shalbe the seruice of the families of ᵖ Gershonites, to serue & to beare.

25 They shall beare the curtaines of the Tabernacle, and the Tabernacle of the Congregation, his couering, and the couering of badgers skins, that is on hie vpon it, and the valle of the ᵒ doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation:

26 The curtaines also of the court, and the valle of the entring in of the gate of the court, ᵖ which is neere the Tabernacle and neere the altar round about, with their cords, and all the instrumẽts for their seruice, and all that is made for them: so shall they serue.

27 At the commandement of Aaron and his sonnes shall all the seruice of the sonnes of the Gershonites be done, in all their charges and in al their seruice, and ye shall appoint them to keepe all their charges.

28 This is the seruice of the families of the sonnes of the Gershonites in the Tabernacle of the Cõgregation, & their watche [shalbe] vnder the ᵍ hande of Ithamiar the sonne of Aaron the Priest.

29 Thou shalt nomber the sonnes of Merari by their families, [and] by the houses of their fathers:

30 From thirtie yere olde and aboue, euen vnto fiftie yere old shalt thou nomber them, all that enter into the assemblie, to doe the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

31 And this is their office [and] charge accõding to all their seruice in the Tabernacle of ᵖ Congregation: the ʳ boards of the Tabernacle with ᵖ barres therof, and his pillars, and his sockets, 32 And the pillars round about the court, with their sockets and their pins, and their cordes, with all their instruments, euen for all their seruice: and by ˢ name ye shall recken the instruments of their office [and] charge.

33 This is the seruice of the families of the sonnes of Merari, accõding to all their seruice in the Tabernacle of the Congregation vnder the hand of Ithamar the sonne of Aaron the Priest.

34 Then Moses and Aaron & the princes of the Congregation nombred the sonnes of the Kohathithes, by their families & by ᵖ houses of their fathers, 35 From thirtie yeere old and aboue, euen vnto fiftie yeere olde, all that enter into the assemblie for the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

36 So the ᵗ nombers of thẽ throughout their families were two thousande, seuen hundreth and fiftie.

2 The order of the lampes. 6 The purifying and offring of the Leuites. 24 The age of the Leuites, when they are receiued to seruice, and when they are dimissed.

And

AND the Lorde spake vnto Moses, saying,
2 Speake vnto Aaron, & say vnto him, When thou lightest the lamps, the seuen lamps shall giue light toward the [a] forefront of the Candlesticke.
a To that part which is ouer against the Candlesticke, Exod.25.37.
3 And Aaron did so, lighting the lampes thereof toward the forefront of the Candlesticke, as the Lorde had commanded Moses.
4 And this was the worke of the Candlesticke, [euen] of golde beaten out with the hammer, both the shafte, & the floures thereof *was beaten out with the hammer: [b] according to the paterne, which the Lord had shewed Moses, so made he the Candlesticke.
Exod.25.18. b And not set together of diuers pieces.
5 ¶ And the Lorde spake vnto Moses, saying,
6 Take the Leuites from among the children of Israel, and purifie them.
7 And thus shalt thou doe vnto thē, When thou purifiest them, Sprinkle [c] water of purification vpon them, & let them shaue all their flesh, & wash their clothes: so they shalbe cleane.
c In Ebrewe it is called the water of sinne, because it is made to purge sinne, as chap. 19.9.
8 Then they shall take a yong bullocke with his meate offering of fine floure, mingled with oyle, and another yong bullocke shalt thou take for a sinne offring.
9 Then thou shalt bring the Leuites before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and assemble [d] all the Congregatiō of the children of Israel.
d That thou mayest do this in presence of them all.
10 Thou shalt bring the Leuites also before the Lord, and the [e] children of Israel shal put their handes vpon the Leuites.
e Meaning, certaine of the in the name of the whole.
11 And Aaron shal offer the Leuites before the Lorde, as a shake offring of þ children of Israel, that they may execute the seruice of the Lord.
12 And the Leuites shall put their hands vpon the heads of the bullockes, and make thou the one a sinne offring, and the other a burnt offring vnto the Lord, that thou maiest make an atonement for the Leuites.
13 And thou shalt set the Leuites before Aaron and before his sonnes, & offer them as a shake offring to the Lord.
14 Thus thou shalt separate the Leuites from among þ children of Israel, and the Leuites shalbe *mine.
Chap.3.45.
15 And afterward shall the Leuites go in, to serue in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & thou shalt purifie them and offer them, as a shake offring.
16 For they are freely giuen *vnto me from among the children of Israel, for [f] such as open any Wombe: for al the first borne of the children of Israel haue I taken them vnto me.
Chap.3.9.
f That is, they that are the first borne.
17 *For all the first borne of the children of Israel are mine, both of man & of beast: since þ day that I smote euery first borne in the land of Egypt, I sanctified them for my selfe.
Exod.13.2. luke.2.23.
18 And I haue taken the Leuites for all the first borne of þ children of Israel, 19 And haue giuen the Leuites as a gift vnto Aaron, and to his sonnes from among the children of Israel, to doe the seruice of the [g] children of Israel in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and to make an atonement for the children of Israel, that there be no plague amōg the children of Israel, when þ children of Israel come neere vnto [h] þ Sanctuarie.
g Which seruice the Israelites should else do.
h Because the Leuites go in to the Sanctuarie in their name.
20 ¶ Then Moses and Aaron & all the Congregation of the children of Israel did with the Leuites, according vnto all that the Lord had cōmanded Moses concerning the Leuites: so did the children of Israel vnto them.
21 So the Leuites were purified, & washed their clothes, and Aaron offred them as a shake offring before þ Lorde, and Aaron made an atonement for thē, to purifie them.
22 And after that, went the Leuites in to do their seruice in the Tabernacle of the congregation, [i] before Aaron and before his sonnes: as the Lord had commanded Moses cōcerning the Leuites, so they did vnto them.
i In their presence, to serue them.
23 ¶ And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,
24 This also [belongeth] to the Leuites: from fiue and twentie yeere olde and vpward, they shall go in, to execute [their] office in the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.
25 And after the age of fiftie yeere, they shall cease from executing the [k] office, and shall serue no more:
k Such office as was painful, as to beare burthens and such like.
26 But they shall minister [l] with their brethren in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, to keepe things committed to their charge, but they shall do no seruice: thus shalt thou do vnto the Leuites touching their charges.

CHAP. IX.

2 The Passeouer is commanded againe. 13 The punishment of him that keepeth not the Passeouer. 15 The cloude conducteth the Israelites though the wilderne.

And

AND ỹ Lorde spake vnto Moses in the wildernes of Sinai, in the first moneth of the second yeere, after they were come out of the lande of Egypt, saying,

2 The childzen of Israel shall also celebzate the *Passeouer at the time appointed thereunto.

3 In the fourtẽth day of this moneth at *euen, ye shall keepe it in his due season: accozding to [a] all the ozdinances of it, and accozding to all the ceremonies thereof shall ye keepe it.

4 Then Moses spake vnto the childzen of Israel, to celebzate ỹ Passeouer.

5 And they kept the Passeouer in the fourteenth day of the first moneth at euẽ in the wildernes of Sinai: accozding to all that the Lord had commanded Moses, so did the childzen of Israel.

6 ¶ And certaine men were defiled [b] by a dead man, that they might not keepe the Passeouer the same day: and they came before Moses and before Aaron the same day.

7 And those men said vnto him, Wee are defiled by a dead man: wherfore are we kept backe that we may not [c] offer an offring vnto the Lorde in the time thereunto appointed among the childrẽ of Israel?

8 Then Moses said vnto thẽ, Stand still, and I will heare what the Lorde will commande concerning you.

9 ¶ And the Lorde spake vnto Moses, saying,

10 Speake vnto the childzen of Israel, and say, If any among you, oz of your posteritie shalbe vncleane by the reason of a corps, oz bee in a long iourney, [d] he shall keepe the Passeouer vnto the Lord.

11 In the fourteenth day of the [e] second moneth at euen they shall keepe it: with vnleauened bread and soure herbes shal they eate it.

12 They shall leaue none of it vnto the morning, * noz breake any bone of it: accozding to all the ozdinãce of the Passeouer shall they keepe it.

13 But the man that is cleane and is not in a [f] iourney, & is negligent to keepe the Passeouer, the same person shalbe cut off frõ his people: because he brought not the offring of the Lorde in his due season, that man shall beare his ‖ sinne.

14 And if a stranger dwel amõg you, & will keepe the Passeouer vnto the Lord, as the ozdinance of the Passeouer, and as the maner thereof is, so shall he do: *ye shall haue one lawe both foz the stranger, and foz him that was bozne in the same land.

15 ¶ * And whẽ the Tabernacle was was reared vp, a cloude couered ỹ Tabernacle, [namely] the Tabernacle of ỹ Testimonie: and at euen there was vpõ the Tabernacle, as the [g] appearance of fire vntill morning.

16 So it was all way: the cloude couered it [by daie,] and the appearance of fire by night.

17 And when the cloude was taken vp from the Tabernacle, then afterward the childzen of Israel iourneyed: and in the place where the cloude abode, there the childrẽ of Israel pitched their tents.

18 At the [h] cõmandement of the Lord the childzen of Israel iourneyed, and at the commandement of the Lorde they pitched: as long as ỹ cloude abode vpon the Tabernacle, * they lay still.

19 And when the cloude taried still vpon ỹ Tabernacle a long time, the childzen of Israel kept the [i] watch of the Lord, and iourneyed not.

20 So when the cloude abode [k] a few daies vpon the Tabernacle, they abode in their tents accozding to ỹ commandement of the Lord: foz they iourneyed at the commandement of the Lord.

21 And though the cloude abode vpon the Tabernacle from euẽ vnto the morning, yet [if] the cloude was taken vp in the morning, then they iourneyed: whether by day oz by night the cloude was taken vp, then they iourneyed.

22 Oz if the cloude taried two daies oz a moneth, oz a yeere vpon the Tabernacle, abiding thereon, the childrẽ of Israel * abode stil, & iourneyed not: but whẽ it was taken vp, they iourneyed.

23 At the commandement of the Lord they pitched, and at the commandement of the Lorde they iourneyed, keeping the watche of the Lorde at the commandement of the Lorde by the [k] hand of Moses.

WHen the people became ‡ murmurers, ‡ it displeased the Lord: and the Lorde heard it, therefore his wrath was kindled, and the fire of the Lorde burnt among them, and *consumed the vtmost part of the hoste.

2 Then the people cried vnto Moses: and when Moses prayed vnto the Lord, the fire was quenched.

3 And he called the name of that place ‖ Taberah, because the fire of the Lorde burnt among them.

a Which were of those strangers that came out of Egypt with them, Exo. 12.38.

4 ¶ And a number of a people that was among them, fell a lusting, and b turned awey, and the children of Israel also wept, and sayde, Who shall giue vs flesh to eate?

b From God.

5 We remember þ fish which wee did eate in Egypt for c nought, the cucumbers, and the pepons, & the leekes, and the onions, and the garlicke.

c For a small price, or good cheape.

6 But now our soule is d dried away, We can see nothing but this MAN.

d For þ greedy lust of the flesh.

Exod.16.31. wisd.16.20. psal.78.24. john.6.31.

7 (The MAN also was as * coriander seede, and his colour like the colour of e bdellium.

e Which is, a white pearle or precious stone.

8 The people went about and gathered it, and grounde it in milles, or beat it in mortars, & baked it in a cauldron, and made cakes of it, and the taste of it was like vnto the taste of fresh oyle.

9 And when the dewe fell downe vpon the hoste in the night, the MAN fell with it)

10 ¶ Then Moses heard the people weepe throughout their families, euery man in the doore of his tent, & the wrath of the Lorde was grieuously kindled: also Moses was grieued.

11 And Moses sayde vnto the Lorde, Wherefore hast thou ‖ vexed thy seruant: and why haue I not founde f fauour in thy sight, seeing thou hast put the charge of all this people vpon me?

‖Or, euill intreated. f Or, wherein haue I displeased thee?

12 Haue I g conceiued all this people? or haue I begotten thẽ, that thou shouldest say vnto me, Carry thẽ in thy bosome (as a nurse beareth the sucking childe) vnto the h lande for the which thou swarest vnto their fathers?

g Am I their father, that none may heue the charge of them but I?

h Of Canaan promised by an othe to our fathers.

13 Where should I haue flesh to giue vnto all this people? for they weepe vnto mee, saying, Giue vs flesh that wee may eate.

14 I am not able to beare al this people alone, for it is to heauie for me.

15 Therefore if thou deale thus with me, I pray thee, if I haue found fauour in thy i sight, kill me, that I behold not my miserie.

i I had rather die, then to see my griefe and miserie thus dayly increase by their rebellion.

16 ¶ Then the Lord saide vnto Moses, Gather vnto me seuentie men of the Elders of Israel, whom thou knowest, that they are the Elders of the people, & gouernours ouer them, and bring them vnto the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and let them stand there with thee, 17 And I will come downe, and talke with thee there, k and take of the Spirit, which is vpon thee, and put vpon them, and they shall beare the burthen of the people with thee: to thou shalt not beare it alone.

k I will distribute my Spirit among thẽ, as I haue done to thee.

18 Furthermore thou shalt saye vnto the people, l Be sanctified against to morowe, and ye shall eat flesh: for you haue wept in the eares of the Lorde, saying, Who shall giue vs flesh to eate? for wee were better in Egypt: therefore þ Lorde will giue you flesh, and ye shall eate.

l Prepare your selues that ye be not vncleane.

19 Yee shall not eate one day nor two dayes, nor fiue dayes, neither ten dayes, nor twentie dayes, 20 But a whole moneth, vntil it come out at your nostrels, and bee lothsome vnto you, because yee haue m contemned the Lord, which is n among you, & haue wept before him, saying, Why came wee hither out of Egypt?

m Or, cast him off, because ye refused Manna which he appointed as most meete for you.

n Who leadeth & gouerneth you.

21 And Moses sayde, Sixe hundreth thousande footemen [are there] of the people, o among whom I am: and thou sayest, I will giue them flesh, that they may eate a moneth long.

o Of whome I haue the charge.

22 Shal the sheepe and the beeues be slaine for them, to find them? either shal al the fish of the sea be gathered together for for them to suffice them?

23 And the Lorde saide vnto Moses, Is * the Lordes hand shortened? thou shalt see nowe whether my worde shall come to passe vnto thee, or no.

Isa. 50.2. and 59.1.

24 ¶ So Moses went out, & told the people the words of the Lorde, & gathered seuentie men of ỹ Elders of ỹ people, and set thẽ round about ỹ Tabernacle.

25 Then the Lorde came downe in a cloude, and spake vnto him, and ‖ tooke of the Spirit that was vpon him, & put it vpõ the seuentie Ancient men: & when the Spirit rested vpon them, then they prophecied, and did not p ceale.

‖ Or, separated, as verse. 17.

p From that day the Spirit of prophecie did not faile them.

26 But there remained two of ỹ men in the hoste: the name of the one [was] Eldad, & the name of the other Medad, and the Spirite rested vpon them, (for they were of thẽ that were written, and went not out vnto the Tabernacle) and they prophesied in the hoste.

27 Then there ran a yong man, and tolde Moses, and sayde, Eldad & Medad doe prophesie in the hoste.

28 And Iosh ua the sonne of Nun the seruant of Moses one of his q yong men, answered and sayde, My lorde Moses, forbid them.

q Or, a yong man whom he had chosen frõ his youth.

29 But Moses sayd vnto him, Enuiest thou for my sake? yea, wouldе God that all the Lordes people [were] Prophets, [and] that the Lorde would put his Spirit vpon them.

r Such blinde zeale was in ỹ Apostles, Marke 9.38. Luke. 9.49.

30 And Moses returned into ỹ hoste, he and the Elders of Israel.

31 Then there went foorth a winde from the Lorde, and * brought quailes from the Sea, and let them fal vpon the campe, a dayes iourney on this side, and a dayes iourney on the other side, round about the hoste, and [they were] about two cubites aboue the earth.

Exod. 16.13. psal. 78.26, 27.

32 Then the people arose, al that day, and all the night, and all the next day, and gathered the quailes: he that gathered the least, gathered ten f Homers ful, and they spread them abroade for their vse round about the hoste.

f Of Homer, reade Leuit. 27.16. also it signifieth an heape, as Ezec. 8.14. iudg. 15.16.

34 So the name of the place was called, ‖ Kibroth-hattaauah: for there they buried the people that fell a lusting.

35 From Kibroth-hattaauah ỹ people tooke their iourney to Hazeroth, and abode at Hazeroth.

CHAP. XII.

1 Aaron and Miriam grudge against Moses. 10 Miriam is striken with leprosie, and healed at the prayer of Moses.

AFterwarde Miriam & Aaron ‖ spake against Moses, becaule of the woman of Ethiopia whom he had married, (for hee had married a a woman of Ethiopia)

2 And they said, What? hath ỹ Lord spoken but onely by Moses? hath he not spoken also by vs? and the Lorde heard [this.]

3 (But Moses [was] a very *b meeke man, aboue all the men that were vpon the earth)

b And so bare with their grudgings, although hee knewe them.

4 And by and by the Lord sayde vnto Moses, and vnto Aaron, and vnto Miriam, Come out yee three vnto the Tabernacle of the Congregation: and they three came forth.

5 Then the Lord came downe in the pillar of the cloud, and stood in the doore of the Tabernacle, & called Aaron and Miriam, and they both came forth.

6 And he said, Heare nowe my words, If there be a Prophet of ỹ Lord among you, I will be knowen to him by a c vision, [&] will speake vnto him by a dreame.

c These were the two ordinarie meanes.

7 My seruant Moses [is] not so, who is faithfull in d all mine house.

d In al Israel which was his Church. Exod. 33.11.

8 Vnto him will I speake *mouth to mouth, and by vision, and not in darke words, but he e shall see the similitude of the Lorde. Wherefore then were ye not afraide to speake against my seruant, [euen] against Moses?

e So farre as any man was able to comprehend, which he calleth his backe parts, Exod. 33.23.

9 Thus the Lorde was very angrie with them, and departed.

10 Also the cloude departed from the f Tabernacle: & behold, Miriam [was] leprous like snow: & Aaron looked vpon Miriam, and behold, she was leprous.

f From the doore of the Tabernacle,

11 Then Aaron saide vnto Moses, Alas, my lorde, I beseech thee, lay not the sinne vpon vs, which we haue foolishly committed & wherein we haue sinned.

12 Let her not, I pray thee, be as one g dead, of whom the flesh is halfe consumed, when hee commeth out of his mothers wombe.

15 So Miriam was ſhut out of ꝑ hoſte ſeuen dayes, & the people remoued not, till Miriam was brought in againe.

CHAP. XIII.

4 Certaine men are ſent to ſearch ꝑ land of Canaan. 24 They bring of the fruite of the land. 31 Caleb comforteth the people againſt the diſcouraging of the other ſpies.

THen afterward the people remoued from Hazeroth, and pitched in the wildernes of [a] Paran.

a That is, in Rithma, which was in Paran, Chap. 33. 18.

2 And the Lorde ſpake vnto Moſes, ſaying,

3 [b] Sende thou men out to ſearch the lande of Canaan which I giue vnto the children of Iſrael: of euery tribe of their fathers ſhall ye ſende a man, [ſuch as are] all rulers among them.

b After the people had required it of Moſes, as it is in Deut. 1, 22, the Lord ſhake to Moſes ſo to doe.

4 Then Moſes ſent them out of the wildernes of Paran at the commandement of the Lorde: all thoſe men were ‖heads of the children of Iſrael.

‖Or, rulers.

5 Alſo their names are theſe: of ꝑ tribe of Reubē, Shammua ꝑ ſone of Zaccur:

6 Of the tribe of Simeon, Shaphat the ſonne of Hori:

7 Of the tribe of Iudah, Caleb the ſonne of Jephunneh:

8 Of the tribe of Iſſachar, Igal the ſonne of Joſeph:

9 Of the tribe of Ephraim, ‖Oſhea the ſonne of Nun:

‖Or, Ioſhua.

10 Of the tribe of Beniamin, Palti the ſonne of Raphu:

11 Of the tribe of Zebulun, Gaddiel the ſonne of Sodi:

12 Of the tribe of Joſeph, [to wit,] of the tribe of Manaſſeh, Gaddi the ſonne of Suſi:

13 Of the tribe of Dan, Ammiel the ſonne of Gemalli:

14 Of the tribe of Aſher, Sethur the ſonne of Michael:

15 Of the tribe of Naphtali, Nahbi the ſonne of Uophſi:

16 Of the tribe of Gad, Geuel ꝑ ſonne of Machi.

17 Theſe are the names of the [c] men, which Moſes ſent to ſpie out the lande: and Moſes called the name of Oſhea the ſonne of Nun Iehoſhua.

c Which in nomber were twelue, according to the twelue tribes.

18 So Moſes ſent thē to ſpie out the land of Canaan, and ſaid vnto them, Go vp this way toward the South, and go vp into ‖the mountaines,

‖Or, high countrey.

19 And conſider ꝑ land what it is, & the people that dwell therein, whether they be ſtrong or weake, either few or many,

20 Alſo what the lande [is] that they dwell in, whether it bee [d] good or bad: and what cities [they be,] ꝑ they dwel in, whether they dwell in tents, or in walled townes:

d Plentiful or barren.

21 And what the land [is:] whether it be fat or leane, whether there be trees therein, or not. And be of good courage, and bring of the fruite of the land (for thē [was] the time of the firſt ripe grapes)

22 So they went vp, and ſearched out the land, frō the wildernes of [e] Zin vnto Rehob, to go to Hamath, e Which was in the wilderneſs of Paran.

23 And they aſcended towarde the South, and came vnto Hebron, where were Ahiman, Shethai & Talmai, the ſonnes of [f] Anak. And Hebrō was built ſeuen yere before Zoan in Egypt.

f Which were a kinde of giants.

24 *Then they came to the riuer of Eſhcol, & cut downe thēce a branch with one cluſter of grapes, & they bare it vpō a barre betweene two, and [brought] of the pomegranates and of the figges.

g Declaring ꝑ antiquitie therof: alſo Abraham, Sara, Iſhak & Iaakob were buried there. Deut. 1. 24.

25 That place was called ꝑ ‖riuer Eſhcol, because of ꝑ cluſter of grapes, which the children of Iſrael cut downe thence.

‖Or, the valley of Eſhcol, that is, of grapes.

26 Then after fourtie daies, they turned againe from ſearching of the land.

27 And they went & came to Moſes & to Aaron and vnto al the Congregation of the children of Iſrael, in the wildernes of [h] Paran, to Kadeſh, and brought to them, & to all the Congregation tidings, and ſhewed them the fruite of the land.

h Called alſo Kadeſh-barnea.

28 And they tolde [i] him, and ſaid, We came vnto the lande whither thou haſt ſent vs, & ſurely it floweth with *milke and honie: and here is of the fruite of it.

i That is, Moſes. Exod. 33. 3.

29 Neuertheleſſe ꝑ people bee ſtrong that dwel in the land, and the cities [are] walled and exceeding great: and moreouer, we ſaw the [k] ſonnes of Anak there.

k Ahiman, Shethai, and Talmai, whom Caleb ſlew afterward, Ioſh. 11, 21, 22.

30 The Amalekites dwel in ꝑ South-countrey, and the Hittites, and the Jebuſites, and the Amorites dwell in the mountaines, and the Canaanites dwell by the Sea, and by the coaſt of Jorden.

31 Then Caleb ſtilled the people ‖ before Moſes, and ſayde, Let vs goe vp at once, and poſſeſſe it: for vndoubtedly we ſhall ouercome it.

‖Or, murmuring againſt Moſes.

32 But the men, that went vp wō him, ſaid, We be not able to go vp againſt the people: for they are ſtronger then we.

33 So they brought vp an euill report of the land which they had ſearched for the children of Iſrael, ſaying, The land which wee haue gone through to ſearch it out, is a land that [l] eateth vp the inhabitants thereof: for all the people that we ſawe sawe in it, are men of great stature.

34 For there we sawe giants, ꝑ sonnes of Anak, [which come] of the gyants, so that wee seemed in our sight like grashoppers: and so we were in their sight.

CHAP. XIIII.

2 The people murmure against Moses. 10 They would have stoned Caleb and Ioshua. 13 Moses pacifieth God by his prayer. 45 The people that would enter into the land, contrarie to Gods will, are slaine.

THen all the Congregation lifted vp their voyce, and cryed: and *the people wept that night, a Such as were afraid at the report of the ten spies.

2 And all the children of Israel murmured against Moses and Aaron: and the whole assembly said vnto them, Would God we had died in the land of Egypt, or in this wildernesse: would God we were dead.

3 Wherefore nowe hath the Lorde brought vs into this land to fal vpon the sword: our wiues, and our children shal be a pray: were it not better for vs to returne into Egypt?

b To our enemies the Canaanites.

4 And they said one to another, Let vs make a captaine & returne into Egypt.

5 Then Moses & Aaron c fell on their faces before all the assemblie of the Congregation of the children of Israel.

c Lamenting the people and praying for them.

6 *And Ioshua the sonne of Nun, and Caleb the sone of Iephunneh [two] of them that searched the lande, d rent their clothes,

7 And spake vnto all the assemblie of the children of Israel, saying, The land which we walked through to search it, is a verie good land.

8 If the Lord loue vs, he will bring vs into this land, & giue it vs, which is a land that floweth with milke and hony.

9 But rebell not ye against the Lord, neither feare ye the people of ꝑ land: for they are [but] e bread for vs: their shield is departed from them, and the Lord is with vs, feare them not.

e We shall easily ouercome them.

10 And all the multitude said, f Stone them with stones: but the glory of the Lorde appeared in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, before all the children of Israel.

f This is the condition of them that would persuade in Gods cause, to bee persecuted of the multitude.

11 And the Lorde saide vnto Moses, How long will this people prouoke me, and how long will it be, ver they beleeue me, for all the signes which I haue shewed among them?

12 I will smite them with the pestilence & destroy them, and will make thee a greater nation & mightier then they.

13 But Moses saide vnto the Lorde, *when the Egyptians shall heare it, (for thou broughtest this people by thy power from among them)

14 Then they shall say to the inhabitants of this land, ([for] they haue heard that thou, Lorde, art among this people, [and] that thou, Lord, art seene ꝑface to face, and that thy cloud standeth ouer them, and that thou *goest before them by day time in a pillar of a cloude, and in a pillar of fire by night)

Deut. 9.28.

17 And nowe, I beseech thee, let the power of my Lorde be great, according as thou hast spoken, saying,

19 Be mercifull, I beseech thee, vnto the iniquitie of this people, according to thy great mercy, and as thou hast forgiuen this people, from Egypt, euen vntill nowe.

20 And the Lord said, I haue forgiuen h it, according to thy request.

h In that he destroyed not them vtterly, but left their posteritie and certaine to enter.

21 Notwithstanding, as I liue, all the earth shalbe filled with the glorie of the Lord.

22 For all those mē which haue seene my glory, and my miracles which I did in Egypt, and in the wildernes, & haue tempted me this i ten times, & haue not obeyed my voyce, i That is, sundrie times and often.

23 Certainly they shal not see ꝑ land, whereof I sware vnto their fathers: neither shal any that prouoke me, see it.

NOwe * Korah the sonne of Izhar, þ sonne of Kohath, the sonne of Leui ‖ wēt apart with Dathan, and Abiram the sonnes of Eliab, and On the sonne of Peleth, the sonnes of Reuben:

2 And they rose vp ‖ against Moses, with certaine of the children of Israel, two hundreth and fiftie captaines of the assemblie, * famous in the Congregation, and men of renoume,

3 Who gathered themselues together against Moses, and against Aaron, and saide vnto them, [a] [Ye take] to much vpon you, seeing al the Congregation is holy, [b] euery one of them, and the Lord [is] among thē: wherefore then lift ye your selues aboue þ Congregation of þ Lord?

4 But when Moses heard it, he fell vpon his face,

5 And spake to Korah and vnto al his companie, saying, To morow the Lord will shewe who is his, and who is holy, and who ought to approche neere vnto him: and whom hee hath [c] chosen, he will cause to come neere to him.

6 This do [therefore,] Take you censers, [both] Korah, & all his companie,

7 And put fire therein, & put incense in them before the Lorde to morowe: and the man whom the Lorde doeth chuse, the same shalbe holy: [d] [ye take] to much vpon you, ye sonnes of Leui.

8 Againe Moses saide vnto Korah, Heare, I pray you, ye sonnes of Leui.

9 Seemeth it a small thing vnto you that the God of Israel hath separated you frō the multitude of Israel, to take you neere to him selfe, to do the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Lord, & to stande before the Congregatiō and to minister vnto them?

10 Hee hath also taken thee to [e] him, and all thy brethren the sonnes of Leui with thee, and seeke ye the office of the Priest also?

11 For which cause, thou, and all thy company are gathered together against the Lorde: and what is Aaron, that ye murmure against him?

12 ¶ And Moses sent to cal Dathan, and Abiram the sonnes of Eliab: who answered, We will not come vp.

13 Is it a small thing that thou hast brought vs out [f] of a lande that floweth with milke & honie, to kill vs in the wildernesse, except thou make thy selfe lord and ruler ouer vs also?

14 Also thou hast not brought vs vnto a land that floweth with milke & honie, neither giuē vs inheritance of fields & vineyards: wilt thou put out the eyes of these men? We will not come vp.

15 Then Moses waxed very angrie, and said vnto the Lord, *Looke not vnto their offering: I haue not taken so much as an asse frō them, neither haue I hurt any of them.

16 And Moses saide vnto Korah, Be thou & all thy companie [h] before þ Lord: [both] thou, they, and Aaron to morow:

17 And take euery man his censer, and put incense in them, and bring yee euery man his censer before the Lorde, two hundreth and fiftie censers: thou also and Aaron, euery one his censer.

18 So they tooke euery man his censer, and put fire in them, and laid incense thereon, and stoode in the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation with Moses and Aaron.

19 And Korah gathered all the [i] multitude against them vnto þ doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation: then the glorie of the Lord appeared vnto all the Congregation.

20 And the Lord spake vnto Moses and to Aaron, saying,

21 Separate your selues from amōg this Congregatiō, that I may consume them at once.

22 And they fell vpon their faces and sayde, O God, þ God of þ spirits, ‖ [k] of all flesh, hath not one man [onely] sinned, & wilt thou be wroth with all the Congregation?

23 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

24 Speake vnto the Congregation & say, Get you away from about the Tabernacle of Korah, Dathan & Abiram.

25 Then Moses rose vp, and went vnto Dathan and Abiram, and the Elders of Israel followed him.

26 And he spake vnto the Congregation, saying, Depart, I pray you, from the tents of these wicked men, and touch nothing of theirs, least yee perish [l] in all their sinnes.

27 So they gate them away from the Tabernacle of Korah, Dathan & Abiram on euery side: and Dathan, & Abiram came out and stoode in the doore of their tentes with their wiues, and their sonnes, and their litle children.

24 For the tithes of the children of Israel, which they shall offer as an offring vnto the Lord, I haue giuen the Leuites for an inheritance: therefore I haue said vnto them, Among the children of Israel ye shall possesse none inheritance.

CHAP. XX.

1 Miriam dyeth. 2 The people murmure. 8 They haue water out of the rocke. 14 Edom denyeth the Israelites passage. 25. 28 The death of Aaron, in whose roume Eleazar succeedeth.

IN the children of Israel came with the whole Congregation to ℣ desert of Zin in the first moneth, and the people abode at Kadesh: where b Miriam dyed, and was buryed there.

a This was fourtie yeeres after their departure from Egypt.

b Moses and Aarons sister.

2 But there was no water for the Congregation, and they assembled thē selues against Moses and against Aaron.

c Another rebellion was in Rephidim, Exo. 17. and this was in Kadesh. Chap. 11, 33. Exod. 17, 2.

3 And the people chode with Moses, and spake, saying, Woulde God we had perished, * when our brethren dyed before the Lorde.

4 *Why haue ye thus brought the Congregation of the Lorde vnto this wildernesse, that [both] we, and our cattell should dye there?

5 Wherefore nowe haue ye made vs to come vp from Egypt, to bring vs into this miserable place, [which is] no place of seede, nor figges, nor vines, nor pomegranates: neither is there any water to drinke.

6 Then Moses and Aaron went frō the assemblie vnto the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and fell vpon their faces: and the glorie of the Lord appeared vnto them.

7 ¶ And ℣ Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

8 Take the d rod, and gather thou e thy brother Aaron the Congregatiō together, and speake ye vnto the rocke before their eyes, and it shall giue forth his water, and thou shalt bring them water out of the rocke: so thou shalt giue the Congregation, and their beasts drinke.

d Wherewith thou diddest miracles in Egypt, and diddest deuide the Sea.

9 Then Moses tooke the rod frō before the Lord, as he had cōmanded him.

10 And Moses and Aaron gathered the Congregation together before the rocke, and [Moses] said vnto them, Heare now, ye rebels: c shall we bring you water out of this rocke?

e The punishment which followed hereof, declared ℣ Moses and Aaron beleeued not the Lords promises, as appeareth verse 12.

11 Then Moses lift vp his hand, and with his rod he smote the rocke twise, and the water came out aboundantly: so the Congregation, and their beasts dranke.

12 ¶ Againe ℣ Lord spake vnto Moses, ses, and to Aaron, Because ye beleeued me not, to [f] sanctifie me in the presence of the children of Israel, therefore ye shall not bring this Congregation into ỹ land which I haue giuen them.

f That the children of Israel should beleeue and acknowledge my power, and so honour me.

13 This is the water of [g] Meribah, because the children of Israel stroue with the Lord, & he [h] was sanctified in them.

g Or, strife, & contention, Chap. 27.14.

h By shewing him selfe almightie and maintaining his glorie.

14 ¶ Then Moses sent messengers from Kadesh vnto the king of [i] Edom, [saying,] Thus saith thy brother Israel, Thou knowest all the trauaile that we haue had, i Because Esaakob of Israel was Esaus brother, who was called Edom, 15 How our fathers went downe into Egypt, and we dwelt in Egypt a long time, where the Egyptians handled vs euill and our fathers.

16 But when we cried vnto the Lord, he heard our voyce, and sent an Angel, and hath brought vs out of Egypt, and behold, we are in the citie Kadesh, in thine vtmost border.

17 I pray thee that we may passe through thy countrey: we will not goe through the fields nor ỹ vineyards, neither will we drinke of the water of the wells: we will go by ỹ ‖ kings way, and neither turne vnto the right hand nor to the left, vntil we be past thy borders.

‖ Or, hie way:

18 And Edom answered him, ‖ Thou shalt not passe by me, least I come out against thee with the sword.

‖ Or, come not.

19 Then ỹ children of Israel said vnto him, We will go by the hie way: and if I and my cattell drinke of thy water, I will then pay for it: I will only (without any harme) go through on my feete.

20 He answered againe, Thou shalt not go through. Then ‖ Edom came out against him with much people, & with a mightie power.

‖ Or, the Edomites.

21 Thus Edom denied to giue Israel passage through his countrey: wherefore Israel [k] turned away from him.

k To passe by another way.

22 ¶ And when the children of Israel with all the Congregation departed frõ *Kadesh, they came vnto ỹ mount Hor.

Chap. 33.37.

23 And the Lorde spake vnto Moses and to Aaron in the mount Hor neere the coast of the land of Edom, saying, 24 Aaron shalbe [l] gathered vnto his people: for he shall not enter into ỹ land, which I haue giuen vnto the children of Israel, because ye ‖ disobeyed my commandement at the water of ‖ Meribah.

l Reade Gen. 25.8.

‖ Or, rebelled.

‖ Or, strife.

25 Take *Aaron & Eleazar his sonne, and bring them vp into the mount Hor, Chap. 33.38. deut. 32.50.

26 And cause Aaron to put off his garments and put them vpon Eleazar his sonne: for Aaron shalbe gathered [to his fathers,] and shall die there.

27 And Moses did as the Lord had commanded: and they went vp into the mount Hor, in the sight of all the Congregation.

28 And Moses put off Aarons clothes, and put them vpon Eleazar his sonne: *so Aaron died there in the toppe of the mount: and Moses and Eleazar came downe from off the mount.

Deut. 10.6. and 32.50.

29 When all the Congregation sawe that Aaron was dead, all the house of Israel wept ‖ for Aaron thirtie dayes.

‖ Or, mourned.

CHAP. XXI.

3 Israel vanquisheth king Arad. 6 The fierie serpents are sent for the rebellion of the people, 24. 33 Sihon and Og are ouercome in battell.

Chap. 33.40

When *king Arad the Canaanite, which dwelt towarde the South, heard tel that Israel came by the [a] way of the spies, then fought he against Israel, and tooke of them prisoners.

a By that way which their spies, that searched the dangers, found to be most safe.

2 So Israel vowed a vowe vnto the Lord, & sayd, If thou wilt deliuer [and] giue this people into mine hand, then I will vtterly destroy their cities.

3 And the Lorde heard the voyce of Israel, and deliuered [them] the Canaanites: and they vtterly destroyed them and their cities, and called the name of the place ‖ *Hormah.

‖ Or, destruction. Iudg. 1.17.

4 ¶ After, they departed from the mount Hor by the way of the red Sea, to [b] compasse the land of Edom: and the people were sore grieued because of the way.

b For they were forbidden to destroy it, Deut. 2.5.

5 And the people spake against God and against Moses, [saying,] Wherefore haue ye brought vs out of Egypt, to die in the wildernesse? for [here is] neither bread nor water, and our soule *lotheth this light [c] bread.

Chap. 11.6.

c Meaning Manna, which they thought did not nourish. Wis. 16.1.5. 1. cor. 10.9.

6 *Wherefore the Lorde sent [d] fierie serpents among the people which stung the people: so that many of the people of Israel dyed.

d For they that were stung therewith, were so inflamed with the heate thereof, that they died.

7 Therefore the people came to Moses & sayd, We haue sinned: for we haue spoken against the Lorde, and against thee: pray to the Lorde, that he take away the serpents from vs: and Moses prayed for the people.

8 And the Lorde sayd vnto Moses, Make thee a fierie serpent, and set it vp ‖ for a signe, that as many as are bitten, may looke vpon it, and liue.

‖ Or, vpon a pole.

9 *So Moses made a serpent of brasse, and set it vp for a signe: and when a serpent had bitten a man, then he looked to the serpent of brasse, and ‖liued.

‖Or, recouered.

10 *And the children of Israel departed thence, and pitched in Oboth.

Chap. 33. 43.

11 ¶And they departed from Oboth, & pitched ‖in Ije-abarim, in the wildernes, which is before Moab on ỳ Eastside.

‖Or, in the heaps of Abarim, or, hilles.

12 ¶They remoued thence, and pitched vpon the riuer of Zared.

13 ¶Thence they departed, and pitched on the other side of Arnon, which is in the wildernes, and commeth out of the coastes of the Amorites: (for Arnon [is] the border of Moab, betweene the Moabites and the Amorites)

14 Wherefore it shalbe spoken in the booke of e the battels of the Lord, ‖what thing he did in the red Sea, and in the riuers of Arnon, e Which seemeth to be the booke of the Iudges, or as some thinke, a booke which is lost.

15 And [at] the streame of the riuers that goeth down to the dwelling of Ar, and lyeth vpon the border of Moab.

‖Or, God destroyed) Vaheb (the citie) with a whirle winde, and the valleis of Arnon.

16 ¶And from thence [they turned] to Beer: the same is the well where the Lord sayd vnto Moses, Assemble the people, and I will giue them water.

17 ¶Then Israel sang this song, ‖Rise vp well, f sing ye vnto it.

‖Or, Spring.

f Ye that receiue the commoditie thereof, giue prayse for it.

18 The princes digged this well, ỳ captaines of the people digged it, euen the g lawe giuer, with their staues. And from the wildernes [they came] to Mattanah, g Moses and Aaron heads of the people onely smote the rocke with ỳ rod or staffe, which gaue water as a well that were deep digged.

19 ¶And from Mattanah to Nahaliel, and from Nahaliel to Bamoth, 20 ¶And from Bamoth in the valley, that is in the plaine of Moab, to ỳ top of Pisgah that looketh toward Jeshimõ.

21 ¶Then Israel sent messengers vnto Sihon, king of the Amorites, saying, 22 *Let me go through thy land: We wil not turne aside into ỳ fieldes, nor into the vineyards, neither drinke of the waters of the welles: we wil go by ỳ kings way, vntill we be past thy countrey.

Deut. 2. 26. iudg. 11. 19.

23 *But Sihon gaue Israel no licence to passe through his countrey, but Sihon assembled all his people, and went out against Israel into the wildernesse: and he came to Jahos, and fought against Israel.

Deut. 29. 7.

24 *But Israel smote him with the edge of the sword, & conquered his land, from Arnon vnto h Jabok, [euen] vnto the children of Ammon: for the border of the children of Ammon [was] strong.

Iosh. 12. 2. psal. 135. 11. amos 2. 9.

h The riuer.

25 And Israel tooke all these cities, & dwelt in all the cities of the Amorites in Heshbon and in all the ‡ villages thereof.

i For the people were talle and strong like gyants, Deut. 2. 20.

‡ Ebr. daughters.

26 For k Heshbon was the citie of Sihon the king of the Amorites, which had fought before time against the king of the Moabites, and had taken all his land out of his hand, [euen] vnto Arnon.

k For it if had bene the Moabites, ỳ Israelites might not haue possessed it, Deut. 2. 9.

27 Wherefore they that speake in prouerbes, say, Come to Heshbon, let the citie of Sihon be built and repaired:

28 For l a fire is gone out of Heshbon, [and] a flame from the citie of Sihon, and hath consumed Ar of the Moabites, [and] the lords of Bamoth in Arnon.

l Meaning, warre.

29 Woe be to thee, Moab: O people of m Chemosh, thou art vndone: he hath suffred his sonnes to be pursued, and his daughters [to be] in captiuitie to Sihon the king of the Amorites.

m Chemoth was ỳ idole of the Moabites, 1. King. 11. 33. who was not able to defend his worshippers, which tooke the idole for their father.

30 Their ‡ empire also is lost from Heshbon vnto Dibon, and we haue destroied them vnto Nophah, which [reacheth] vnto Medeba.

‡ Ebr. light.

31 ¶Thus Israel dwelt in the land of the Amorites.

32 And Moses sent to search out Jaazer, & they tooke the townes belonging thereto, and rooted out the Amorites that were there.

33 ¶*And they turned and went vp towarde Bashan: and Og the king of Bashan came out against them, he, and all his people, to fight at Edrei.

Deut. 3. 1. & 29. 7.

34 Then the Lord said vnto Moses, Feare him not: for I haue deliuered him into thine hand & all his people, and his land: *and thou shalt doe to him as thou diddest vnto Sihon the king of the Amorites, which dwelt at Heshbon.

Psal. 135. 11.

35 They smote him therefore, & his sonnes, & all his people, vntill there was none left him: so they conquered his land.

CHAP. XXII.

5 King Balak sendeth for Balaam to curse the Israelites. 12 The Lord forbiddeth him to go. 22 The Angel of the Lord meeteth him, and his asse speaketh. 38 Balaam protesteth that he will speake nothing, but that which the Lorde putteth in his mouth.

AFter, the children of Israel departed and pitched in the plaine of Moab on the a other side of Jorden from Jericho.

a Being at Jericho, it was beyõd Jorden: but where the Israelites were, it was on this side.

2 ¶Now Balak the sonne of Zippor sawe all that Israel had done to the Amorites.

3 And the Moabites were sore afrayd of the people, because they were many, and Moab ‖fretted against the children of Israel.

‖Or, was vexed

4 Therefore Moab sayde vnto the b elders of Midian, Now shal this multitude licke vp all that are round about vs, as an oxe licketh vp the grasse of the fielde:

b Which were the heads and gouernours.

fielde: and Balak the sonne of Zippor [was] king of þ Moabites at that time.

Iosh.24.9. 5 *He sent messengers therefore vnto Balaam the sonne of Beor to Pethor (which is by the c riuer of the land of the children of his folke) to call him, saying, Behold, there is a people come out of Egypt, which couer the face of the earth, and lie ouer against me.

c To wit, Euphrates, vpon the which stood this citie Pethor.

6 Come nowe therefore, I pray thee, [and] curse me this people (for they are stronger then I) so it may be that I shal be able to smite them and to driue them out of the land: for I knowe that he, whome thou blessest, is blessed, and he whome thou curlest, shalbe cursed.

7 And the Elders of Moab, & the Elders of Midian departed, hauing d [the reward] of þ soothsaying in their hand, and they came vnto Balaam, and tolde him the wordes of Balak.

d Thinking to bribe him to giftes to curse the Israelites.

8 Who answered them, Tarie here this night, & I wil giue you an answere, as the Lord shall say vnto me. So e the princes of Moab abode with Balaam.

e Whom before he called Elders: meaning the gouernours, and after calleth them seruants: that is, subiectes to their king.

9 Then God came vnto Balaam, and sayd, What men are these with thee?

10 And Balaam sayd vnto God, Balak the sonne of Zippor, king of Moab hath sent vnto me, [saying,]

11 Beholde, [there is] a people come out of Egypt and couereth the face of the earth: come nowe, curse them for my sake: so it may be that I shall be able to ouercome them in battell, and to driue them out.

f He warned him by a dreame, that he should not consent to the kings wicked request.

12 And God f sayd vnto Balaam, Go not thou with them, neither curse the people, for they are blessed.

13 And Balaam rose vp in þ morning, and sayd vnto the princes of Balak, Returne vnto your land: for the Lord hath g Els he thewed him selfe willing, couetousnes had so blinded his heart.

refused to giue me leaue to go with you.

14 So the princes of Moab rose vp, and went vnto Balak, and sayde, Balaam hath refused to come with vs.

15 ¶ Balak yet sent againe moe princes, and more honourable then they.

16 Who came to Balaam, and sayd to him, Thus saith Balak þ sonne of Zippor, h Be not thou stayed, I pray thee, from comming vnto me.

h The wicked seeke by all meanes to further their naughtie enterprises, though they knowe that God is against them. Chap.24.13.

17 For I wil promote thee vnto great honour, and will doe whatsoeuer thou sayest vnto me: come therefore, I pray thee, curse me this people.

18 And Balaam answered, and sayd vnto the seruants of Balak, * If Balak would giue me his house ful of siluer and golde, I can not go beyond the worde of the Lorde my God, to doe lesse or more.

19 But nowe I pray you, tarie here this night, that I may wit, what the Lord wil say vnto me more.

i Because he tempted God to require him contrary to his commaundement, his petition was granted, but it turned to his own condemnation.

20 And God came vnto Balaam by night, and sayde vnto him, If the men come to call thee, rise vp, [and] goe with them: but onely what thing I say vnto thee, that thalt thou doe.

21 So Balaam rose vp early, and sadled his asse, and went with the princes of Moab.

22 And the wrath of God was kindled, because he k went: and the Angel of the Lord stoode in the way to be against him, as he rode vpon his asse, & his two seruants [were] with him.

k Moued rather with couetousnes, then to obey God.

23 And * when the asse sawe the Angel of the Lord stand in the way, and his swoord drawen in his hand, the asse turned out of the way & went into the field, but Balaam smote the asse, to turne her into the way.

2.Per.2.16. iude 11.

24 l Againe the Angel of the Lorde stoode in a path of the vineyardes, [hauing] a wall on the one side, and a wall on the other.

l The second time.

25 And when the asse sawe the Angel of the Lord, she thrust her selfe vnto the wall, & dasht Balaams foot against the wall: wherefore he smote her again.

26 Then the Angel of the Lord went further, & stood in a narow place, where was no way to turne, [either] to þ right hand, or to the left.

27 And when the asse saw the Angel of the Lorde, she ‖ lay downe vnder Balaam: therefore Balaam was verie wroth, and smote the asse with a staffe.

‖ Or, fell.

28 Then the Lord m opened þ mouth of the asse, and she sayd vnto Balaam, What haue I done vnto thee, that thou hast smitten me now three times?

m Gaue her power to speake.

29 And Balaam sayd vnto the asse, Because thou hast mocked me: I would there were a swoorde in mine hand, for nowe would I kill thee.

30 And the asse sayde vnto Balaam, Am not I thine asse, which thou hast ridden vpon n since thy first time vnto this day? haue I vsed at any time to doe thus vnto thee? who sayd, Nay.

n Since thou hast bene my master.

31 And the Lord o opened the eyes of Balaam, and he sawe the Angel of the Lord standing in þ way with his swoord drawen in his hand: then he bowed himselfe, and fell flat on his face.

o For whose eyes the Lorde doth not open, they can neither see his anger, nor his loue.

32 And the Angel of the Lord said vnto him, wherefore haſt thou nowe ſmitten thine aſſe three times? beholde, I came out to withſtande thee, becauſe [thy] p way is not ſtraight before me.

p Both thy heart is corrupt and thine enterpryſe wicked.

33 But the aſſe ſawe me, and turned fro me nowe three times: for els, if she had not turned fro me, ſurely I had euē nowe ſlaine thee, and ſaued her alyue.

34 Then Balaam ſayd vnto the Angel of the Lorde, I haue ſinned: for I wiſt not that thou ſtoodeſt in the way ‖againſt me: nowe therefore if it diſpleaſe thee, I will turne q home againe.

‖Or, before me, or to meet me.

‡Ebr. I will returne to me.

q Becauſe his heart was euill his charge was renewed, that he ſhould not pretend ignorance.

35 But the Angel ſaid vnto Balaam, Go with the men: but what I ſay vnto thee, that ſhalt thou ſpeake. So Balaam went with the princes of Balak.

36 And when Balak heard that Balaam came, he went out to meet him vnto a citie of Moab, which is in the r border of Arnon, euen in the vtmoſt coaſt.

r Where the place where the Iſraelites camped.

37 Then Balak ſayd vnto Balaam, Did I not ſende for thee to call thee: wherefore cameſt thou not vnto me: am I not able in deede to promote thee vnto honour?

38 And Balaam made anſwere vnto Balak, Lo, I am come vnto thee, and can I nowe ſay s any thing at all? the worde that God putteth in my mouth, that ſhall I ſpeake.

s Of my ſelfe I can ſpeake nothing: onely what God reuealeth, that will I utter ſeeme it good or bad.

39 So Balaam went with Balak, and they came into the citie of ‖Huzoth.

‖Or, of threes: or a populous citie.

40 Then Balak offred bullocks, and ſheepe, and ſent [thereof] to Balaam, and to the princes that were with him.

41 And on the morow Balak tooke Balaam, & brought him vp into the hie places of t Baal, that thence he might ſee the vtmoſt part of the people.

t Where the idol Baal was worſhipped.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Balaam cauſeth ſeuen Altars to be built. 5 God teacheth him what to anſwere. 8 Inſtead of curſing he bleſſeth Iſrael. 19 God is not like man.

AND Balaam ſayde vnto Balak, Build me here ſeuen altars, and prepare me here ſeuen bullocks, & ſeuen rams.

2 And Balak did as Balaam ſayde, and u Balak & Balaam offred on [euery] altar a bullocke and a ramme.

u For among the Gentiles the kinges oft times vſed to ſacrifice, as did the Prieſts.

3 Then Balaam ſayde vnto Balak, Stand by the burnt offring, & I will go, if ſo be that the Lord will come [&] meete me: and whatſoeuer he ſheweth me, I will tell thee: ſo he ‖went forth alone.

‖Or, went vp hier.

4 And God x met Balaam, and [Balaam] ſayd vnto him, I haue prepared ſeuen altars, & haue offred vpon [euery] altar a bullocke and a ramme.

x Appeared vnto him.

5 And the Lorde y put an anſwere in Balaams mouth, and ſayd, Goe againe to Balak, and ſay on this wiſe.

y Taught him what to ſay.

6 So when he returned vnto him, lo, he ſtood by his burnt offring, he, and all the princes of Moab.

7 Then he vttered his [parable, & ſaid, Balak the king of Moab hath brought me from ‖Aram out of the mountaines of the eaſt, [ſaying,] Come, curſe Jaakob for my ſake: come, & z detеſt Iſrael.

‖Or, Syria.

z Cauſe that all men may hate and deteſt them.

8 Howe ſhall I curſe, where God hath not curſed? or howe ſhall I deteſt, [where] the Lord hath not deteſted?

9 For from the top of the rocks I did ſee him, & from the hilles I did beholde him: loe, the people ſhall dwell by them ſelues, and ſhall not be reckened among the a nations.

a But ſhall haue religion and lawes apart.

10 Who can tell the b duſt of Jaakob, and the nomber of the fourth part of Iſrael? Let me c dye the death of the righteous, & let my laſt end be like his.

b The infinite multitude as the duſt of the earth.

c The feare of Gods iudgements cauſed him to wiſh to be ioyned to ſ houſhold of Abrahame: thus ſ wicked haue their conſciences wounded when they conſider Gods iudgements.

11 Then Balak ſayd vnto Balaam, What haſt thou done vnto me? I tooke thee to curſe mine enemies, and behold, thou haſt bleſſed them altogether.

12 And he anſwered, and ſayd, Muſt I not take heede to ſpeake that, which the Lord hath put in my mouth?

13 And Balak ſaid vnto him, Come, I pray thee, with me vnto another place, whence thou mayeſt ſee them, and thou ſhalt ſee but the vtmoſt part of them, and ſhalt not ſee them all: therefore curſe them out of that place for my ſake.

14 ¶ And he brought him into ‖ Sede-ſophim to the top of Piſgah and built ſeuen altars, and offred a bullocke, and a ramme on [euery] altar.

‖Or, into the fielde of them that ſpied: to wit, leaſt the enemie ſhould approche.

15 After, he ſayd vnto Balak, Stand here by thy burnt offering, and I will meete [the Lord] yonder.

16 And the Lorde met Balaam, and *put an anſwere in his mouth, and ſayd, Go againe vnto Balak, and ſay thus.

* Chap. 22. 35.

17 And when he came to him, behold, he ſtood by his burnt offring, & the princes of Moab with him: ſo Balak ſayde vnto him, what hath the Lord ſayd?

18 And he vttered his parable, & ſaid, Riſe vp, Balak, and heare: hearken vnto me, thou ſonne of Zippor.

19 d God [is] not [as] man, that hee ſhould lye, neither [as] the ſonne of man that he ſhould repent: hath he ſayd, and ſhall he not doe it? and hath he ſpoken, and ſhall he not accompliſh it?

d Gods enemies are compelled to confeſſe that his gouernment is iuſt, conſtant, & without chāge or repentance.

20 Beholde, I haue receiued cōman-dement

dement to bleſſe: for he hath bleſſed, and I can not alter it.

21 He ſeeth none iniquitie in Jaakob, nor ſeeth no tranſgreſſion in Iſrael: the Lorde his God is with him, and the ioyfull ſhout of a king is among them.

22 God brought them out of Egypt: their ſtrength is as an vnicorne.

23 For there is no ſoothſaying in Jaakob, nor ſoothſaying in Iſrael: according to this time it ſhalbe ſaid of Jaakob and of Iſrael, what hath God wrought!

24 Beholde, the people ſhall riſe vp as a lyon, and lift vp himſelfe as a yong lyon: hee ſhall not lye downe, till he eate of the praye, and till hee drinke the blood of the ſlaine.

25 ¶ Then Balak ſaid vnto Balaam, Neither curſe, nor bleſſe them at all.

26 But Balaam anſwered, & ſaid vnto Balak, Tolde not I thee, ſaying, All that the Lord ſpeaketh, that muſt I do?

27 ¶ Againe Balak ſayde vnto Balaam, Come, I pray thee, I will bring thee vnto an other place, if ſo be it will pleaſe God, that thou mayeſt thence curſe them for my ſake.

28 So Balak brought Balaam vnto the top of Peor, that looketh towarde Jeſhimon.

29 Then Balaam ſayde vnto Balak, Make me here ſeuen altars, and prepare me here ſeuen bullocks, and ſeuen rams.

30 And Balak did as Balaam had ſaid, and offred a bullocke and a ram on euery altar.

CHAP. XXIIII.

5 Balaam prophecieth of the great proſperitie that ſhould come vnto Iſrael: 17 Alſo of the comming of Chriſt. 20 Of the deſtruction of the Amalekites, and of the Kenites.

Then Balaam ſaw that it pleaſed the Lorde to bleſſe Iſrael, then he went not, as certaine times before, to ſet diuinations, but ſet his face towarde the wildernes.

2 And Balaam lift vp his eyes, and looked vpon Iſrael, which dwelt according to their tribes, & the Spirit of God came vpon him.

3 And hee vttered his parable, and ſayde, Balaam the ſonne of Beor hath ſayde, and the man, whoſe eyes were ſhut vp, hath ſaid,

4 Hee hath ſayde, which heard the wordes of God, and ſawe the viſion of the Almightie, and falling in a traunce had his eyes opened:

5 How goodly are thy tentes, O Jaakob, & thine habitatiõs, O Iſrael:

6 As the valleis are they ſtretched foorth, as gardens by the riuers ſide, as the aloe trees, which the Lord hath planted, as the cedars, beſide the waters.

7 The water droppeth out of his bucket, & his ſeede ſhalbe in many waters, and his king ſhalbe hier then Agag, and his kingdome ſhalbe exalted.

8 God brought him out of Egypt: his ſtrength ſhalbe as an vnicorne: he ſhall eate the nations his enemies, and bruiſe their bones, and ſhoote them through with his arrowes.

9 He coucheth and lyeth downe as a yong lyon, & as a lyon: Who ſhall ſtirre him vp? bleſſed is hee that bleſſeth thee, and curſed is he that curſeth thee.

10 Then Balak was very angry with Balaam, and ſmote his hãds together: ſo Balak ſayde vnto Balaam, I ſent for thee to curſe mine enemies, and beholde, thou haſt bleſſed them now three times.

11 Therefore now flee vnto thy place: I thought ſurely to promote thee vnto honour, but loe, the Lorde hath kept thee backe from honour.

12 Then Balaam anſwered Balak, Told I not alſo thy meſſengers, which thou ſenteſt vnto me, ſaying,

WHen Balaam ſaw it pleaſed the Lorde to bleſſe Iſrael, then he went not, as certaine times before, to ſet diuinations, but ſet his face towarde the wildernes.

2 And Balaam lift vp his eyes, and looked vpon Iſrael, which dwelt according to their tribes, & the Spirit of God came vpon him.

4 And the Lord saide vnto Moses, *Take all the heades of the people, and hang them vp ‖ before the Lord c against the sunne, p the indignation of the Lords wrath may be turned from Israel.

5 Then Moses said vnto the Iudges of Israel, Euery one slay his d men that were ioyned with Baal Peor.

1 When Moses spake vnto the children of Israel according to all that the Lorde had commanded ‡him,

2 Moses also spake vnto the heades of the tribes [a] concerning the children of Israel, saying, This is the thing which the Lord hath commanded,

3 Whosoeuer voweth a vow vnto the Lorde, or sweareth an othe to binde him ‡selfe by a bonde, he shall not ‡breake his promes, [but] shall doe according to all that proceedeth out of his mouth.

4 If a woman also vow a vow vnto the Lord, & bind her selfe by a bond, [being] in her fathers house, in the time of her youth,

6 But if her [c] father disalow her the same day that he heareth all her vowes and bondes, wherewith she hath bound her selfe, they shall not be of value, and the Lord wil forgiue her, because her father disalowed her.

7 And if she haue an husband when she voweth or [d] pronounceth [ought] with her lippes, wherewith she bindeth her selfe,

8 If her husband heard it, & holdeth his peace concerning her, the same day he heareth it, then her vowe shal stand, and her bonds wherewith shee bindeth her selfe shall stand in effect.

9 But if her husband disalow her the same day that he heareth it, then shall he make her vowe which she hath made, and that that she hath pronounced with her lippes, wherewith she bound her [e] selfe, of none effect: and the Lord will forgiue her.

10 But euery vowe of a widowe, and of her that is diuorced (wherewith she hath bounde her selfe) shall stand in [f] effect with her.

11 And if she vowed in her husbandes [g] house, or bound her self streightly with an othe, 12 And her husband hath heard it, and held his peace at her, not disalowing her, then all her vowes shall stand, and euery bond, wherewith shee bound her selfe, shall stand in effect.

13 But if her husband disanulled the, the same day that he heard them, nothing that proceeded out of her lips concerning her vowes or concerning [h] her bonds, shall stand in effect: [for] her husband hath disanulled them: and the Lord will forgiue her.

17 But we our selues will be ready armed [to goe] before the children of Israel, until we haue brought them vnto their [c] place: but our children shal dwell in the defenced cities, because of the inhabitants of the land.

c In the land of Canaan.

18 We wil not returne vnto our houses, vntill the children of Israel haue inherited, euery man his inheritance.

19 Neither will we inherit with them beyond Iordan and on that side, because our inheritance is fallen to vs on this side Iordan Eastward.

Iosh.1.13.

20 ¶ *And Moses sayd vnto them, If ye will doe this thing, and go armed [f] before the Lord to warre:

f Before the Arke of the Lord.

21 And will goe euery one of you in harnesse ouer Iordan before the Lorde, vntil he hath cast out his [g] enemies from his sight:

g That is, the inhabitants of the land.

22 And vntill the land be subdued before the Lord, then ye shall returne and be innocent toward the Lord, & toward Israel: and this land shall be your possession [h] before the Lord.

h The Lorde will grant you this land which ye require, Iosh.1.15.

23 But if ye will not doe so, behold, ye haue sinned against the Lord, & be sure, that your sinne [i] will finde you out.

i Ye shal assuredly be punished for your sinne.

24 Builde you [then] cities for your children, and foldes for your sheepe, and doe that ye haue spoken.

25 Then the children of Gad, and the children of Reuben spake vnto Moses, saying, Thy seruants will doe as my lorde commandeth:

26 Our children, our wiues, our sheepe, and all our cattell shall remaine there in the cities of Gilead, 27 But *thy seruants will goe euery one armed to warre before the Lord for to fight, as my lord saith.

Iosh.4.12.

28 So concerning them, Moses [k] commanded Eleazar the Priest, & Ioshua the sonne of Nun, and the chiefe fathers of the tribes of the children of Israel:

k Moses gaue charge that his promise made to the Reubenites & others should be performed after his death, so that they shake not theirs.

29 And Moses said vnto them, If the children of Gad, & the children of Reuben, wil go with you ouer Iordan, al armed to fight before the Lord, then when [l] land is subdued before you, ye shal giue them the land of Gilead for a possession:

30 But if they wil not go ouer [w] you armed, then they shall haue their possessions among you in the land of Canaan.

31 And the children of Gad, & the children of Reuben answered, saying, As the [l] Lord hath sayd vnto thy seruants, so will we doe.

l That is attributed to the Lorde which his messenger speaketh.

32 We wil go armed before the Lord into the land of Canaan: that the possession of our inheritance [may be] to vs on this side Iordan.

33 *So Moses gaue vnto them, [euen] to the children of Gad, and to the children of Reuben, and to halfe the tribe of Manasseh the sonne of Ioseph, the kingdome of Sihon king of the [m] Amorites, and the kingdome of Og king of Bashan, the land with the cities thereof and coastes, euen the cities of the countrey round about.

Deut.3.12. Iosh.13.8. and 22.4.

m The Amorites dwelled on both sides of Iordan: but here he maketh mention of them that dwele on this side: & Iosh. 10.12. he speaketh of them that inhabited beyõd Iordan.

34 ¶ Then the children of Gad built Dibon, and Ataroth, and Aroer, 35 And Atroth, Shophan, & Iazer, and Iogbehah,

36 And Beth-nimrah, and Beth-haran, defenced cities: also sheepe foldes.

37 And the children of Reuben built Heshbon, and Elealeh, & Kiriathaim, 38 And Nebo, and Baal-meon, and turned their names, and Shibmah: and gaue other names vnto the cities which they built.

39 And the children *of Machir the sonne of Manasseh went to Gilead, and tooke it, and put out the Amorites that dwelt therein.

Gen.50.23.

40 Then Moses gaue Gilead vnto Machir the sonne of Manasseh, and he dwelt therein.

41 *And Iair the sonne of Manasseh, went and tooke the small townes thereof, and called them [n] Hauoth Iair.

Deut.3.14.

n That is, the villages of Iair.

42 Also Nobah went and tooke Kenath, with the villages thereof and called it Nobah, after his owne name.

3 The coastes and borders of the land of Canaan. 17 Certaine men are assigned to deuide the land.

AND the Lorde spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Commande the children of Israel, and say vnto them, When ye come into the land of Canaan, this is the a land that shall fall vnto your inheritance: [that is,] the land of Canaan with the coastes thereof. a Meaning the description of the land.

3 *And your Southquarter shalbe from the wildernes of Zin to þ borders of Edom: so that your Southquarter shalbe frõ the salt Sea coast Eastward: Iosh.15.1.

4 And the border shall compasse you from the South to ‖ Maaleh-akrabbim, and reache to Zin, and goe out from the South to Kadesh-barnea: there it shall stretche to Hazar-addar, and goe along to Azmon. ‖ Or, ascending vp of scorpions.

5 And the border shall compasse from Azmon vnto the b riuer of Egypt, and shall goe out to the Sea. b Which was Nilus, or, as some thinke, Rhinocorura.

6 And your Westquarter shalbe the great c sea: euen that border shalbe your Westcoast. c Which is called Mediterraneum.

7 And this shalbe your Northquarter: ye shal marke out your border from the great sea [vnto] mount d Hor.

8 From mount Hor ye shall point out till it come vnto Hamath, and the ende of the coast shalbe at Zedad. d Which is a mountaine neere Tyre & Sidon, and not that Hor in the wildernes, where Aaron dyed.

9 And the coast shall reach out to Zephron, and goe out at Hazar-enan. this shalbe your Northquarter.

10 And ye shall marke out your Eastquarter from Hazar-enã to Shepham.

11 And the coast shall go downe from Shepham to Riblah, e from the Eastside of Ain: and the same border shal descend and goe out at the side of the sea of e Chinnereth Eastward.

12 Also that border shall go downe to Jorden, and leaue at the salt Sea. this shalbe your land with the coastes thereof round about. e Which in the Gospel is called the lake of Gennezareth.

13 ¶ Then Moses commaunded the children of Israel, saying, This is the land which ye shall inherit by lot, which the Lord commanded to giue vnto nine tribes and halfe the tribe.

14 *For the tribe of the children of Reuben, according to the housholdes of their fathers, and the tribe of the children of Gad, according to their fathers houshoulds, and halfe the tribe of Manasseh, haue receiued their inheritance.

15 Two tribes & an halfe tribe haue receiued their inheritance on this side of Iorden [toward] Iericho full East.

16 ¶ Againe the Lord spake to Moses, saying,

17 These are the names of the men which shall deuide the lande vnto you: Iosh.19.51. *Eleazar the Priest, & Iosua the sonne of Nun.

f One of the heads or chiefe men of euery tribe.

18 And ye shall take also a f prince of euery tribe to deuide the land.

19 The names also of the men are these: Of the tribe of Iudah, Caleb the sonne of Iephunneh.

20 And of the tribe of the sonnes of Simeon, Shemuel the sonne of Ammihud.

21 Of the tribe of Beniamin, Elidad the sonne of Chislon.

22 Also of the tribe of the sonnes of Dan, the prince of Bukki, the sonne of Iogli.

23 Of the sonnes of Ioseph: of the tribe of the sonnes of Manasseh, ỹ prince Hanniel the sonne of Ephod.

24 And of the tribe of the sonnes of Ephraim, the prince Kemuel, the sonne of Shiphtan.

25 Of the tribe also of the sonnes of Zebulun, the prince Elizaphan, ỹ sonne of Parnach.

26 So of the tribe of ỹ sonnes of Issachar, ỹ prince Paltiel the sonne of Azzan.

27 Of the tribe also of the sonnes of Asher, the prince Ahihud, the sonne of Shelomi.

28 And of the tribe of the sonnes of Naphtali, the prince Pedahel, the sonne of Ammihud.

29 These are they, whome the Lord commaunded to & deuide the inheritance vnto the children of Israel, in the land of Canaan.

CHAP. XXXV.

2 Vnto the Leuites are giuen cities and suburbes. 11 The cities of refuge. 16 The lawe of murther. 30 For one mans witnes shall no man be condemned.

AND ỹ Lorde spake vnto Moses in the plaine of Moab by Iorden, [toward] Iericho, saying,

2 *Commaunde the children of Israel, that they giue vnto the a Leuites of the inheritance of their possession, b cities to dwell in: ye shall giue also vnto the Leuites the suburbes of the cities round about them.

b God would haue them scattered through all the land, because the people might be preserued by them in the obedience of God and his lawe.

3 So they shall haue the cities to dwell in, and their suburbes shalbe for their cattell, and for their substance, and for all their beastes.

4 And the suburbs of the cities, which ye shall giue vnto the Leuites, from the wall of the citie outwarde, [shalbe] a thousand cubites round about.

5 And ye shall measure without the citie of the Eastside, c two thousand cubites: and of the Southside, two thousand cubites: & of the Westside, two thousand cubites: and of the Northside, two thousand cubites: and the citie [shalbe] in the middes. this shalbe [the measure] of the suburbes of their cities.

c So that in all were three thousand: and in the compasse of these two thousand they might plant and sowe.

6 And of the cities which ye shall giue vnto the Leuites, * there shalbe [six cities for refuge, which ye shall appoint, that hee which killeth, may flee thither: and to them ye shall adde two and fourtie cities mo.

Deut.4.41. iosh.20.2. and 21.3.

7 All the cities which ye shall giue to the Leuites, [shalbe] eight and fourtie cities: them [shall ye giue] with their suburbes.

8 And concerning the cities which ye shal giue, of the possession of the children of Israel: of many ye shall take mo, and of few ye shall take lesse: euery one shall giue of his cities vnto the Leuites, according to his inheritance, which hee inheriteth.

9 ¶ And the Lorde spake vnto Moses, saying,

10 Speake vnto the children of Israel, & say vnto them, * when ye be come ouer Iorden into the land of Canaan, Exod.21.13. deut.19.2. iosh.20.2.

11 Ye shall appoint you cities, to be cities of refuge for you, that the slayer, which slayeth any person vnwares, may flee thither.

g And he iudges ouer euery piece of ground that should fall to any by lot, to the intent that all things might be done orderly and without contention.

12 And these cities shalbe for you a refuge from the d auenger, that hee which killeth, die not, vntill he stand before the Congregation in iudgement.

d Meaning, from the next of the kindred, who ought to pursue the cause.

13 And [of] the cities which ye shall giue, six cities shall ye haue for refuge.

14 Ye shall appoint three e on this side Iorden, and ye shall appoint three cities in the land of * Canaan which shalbe cities of refuge.

e Among the Reubenites, Gadites, and halfe the tribe of Manasseh, Deut.4.41. iosh.20.7.

15 These six cities shalbe a refuge for the children of Israel, and for the stranger, and for him that dwelleth † among you, † Ebr. among them.

Iosh.21.2. a Because they had no inheritance assigned them in ỹ land of Canaan.

you, that euery one which killeth any person vnwares, may flee thither.

Exod. 21.14. e Wittingly, and willingly.

16 *And if one e smite another with an instrument of yron that hee die, he [is] a murtherer, [and] the murtherer shal die the death.

17 Also if hee smite him by casting a g stone, wherewith he may be slaine, and he die, he is a murtherer, [and] the mur-therer shall die the death.

g That is, with a big and dangerous stone: in Ebr. with a stone of his hand.

18 Or if hee smite him with an hand weapon of wood, wherewith he may be slaine, if he die, he is a murtherer, [and] the murtherer shall die the death.

19 The reuenger of the blood himselfe shall slay the murtherer: when he meeteth him, he shall slay him.

Deut. 19.11. 20 But if hee thrust him *of hate, or hurle at him by laying of waite, ‖ he die,

21 Or smite him through enimitie with his hand, that he die, he that smote him shall die the death: [for] he is a mur-therer: the reuēger of the blood shal slay the murtherer when he meeteth him.

‖ Or, sodenly.

Exod. 21.13. ‡ Ebr. instrument.

22 But if he pusshed him ‖ vnaduised-ly, and *not of hatred, or cast vpon him any ‡ thing, without laying of waite,

23 Or any stone (wherewith he might be slaine) and saw him not, or caused it to fall vpon him, and he die, ‖ was not his enemie, neither sought him any harme,

24 Then ‖ Congregation shall iudge betweene the slayer and the h auenger of blood according to these lawes.

h That is, his next kinsman.

25 And the Cōgregation shall deliuer the slayer out of the hand of the auenger of blood, and the Congregation shall restore him vnto the citie of his refuge, whither he was fled: and he shall abide there vnto the death of the i hie Priest, which is anointed with the holy oyle.

i Under this figure is declared, that our sinnes could not be remitted, but by the death of the hie Priest Iesus Christ.

26 But if the slayer come without the borders of the citie of his refuge, whither he was fled,

27 And the reuenger of blood finde him without the borders of the citie of his refuge, and the reuenger of blood slay the k murtherer, he shalbe giltles,

28 Because he should haue remained in the citie of his refuge, vntill the death of the hie Priest: and after the death of the hie Priest, the slayer shall returne vnto the land of his possession.

k By the sentence of the Iudge.

29 So these things shalbe a l lawe of iudgement vnto you, throughout your generations in all your dwellings.

l A lawe to iudge murthers done, either of purpose or vnaduisedly. Deut. 17.6. and 19.15. Matth. 18.16. 2.cor. 13.1.

30 Whosoeuer killeth any person, the [Iudge] shall slay ‖ murtherer, through *Witnesses: but one witnes shall not testifie against a person to cause him to die.

31 Moreouer ye shall take no recompense for the life of the murtherer, which is m worthie to die: but hee shalbe put to death.

m Which purposely hath cōmitted iniurie.

32 Also ye shal take no recompense for him that is fled to the citie of his refuge, that he should come againe, and dwel in the land, before ‖ death of the hie Priest.

‖ Or, murther.

33 So ye shall not pollute the lande wherein ye shall dwell: for ‖ blood defi-leth the lande: and the lande can not be n cleansed of the blood that is shed therein, but by the blood of him that shed it.

n So God is mindfull of the blood wrongfully shed, that he maketh his dumme creatures to demande vengeance thereof

34 Defile not therfore the land which ye shall inhabite, for I dwell in ‖ middes thereof: For I the Lord dwell among the children of Israel.

CHAP. XXXVI.

6 An order for the mariage of the daughters of Zelophehad. 7 The inheritāce could not be giuen from one tribe to another.

THen a the chiefe fathers of the family of the sones of Gilead, the sonne of Machir the sonne of Manasseh, of the families of the sonnes of Ioseph, came, and spake before Moses, and before the princes, the chiefe fathers of the children of Israel, a It seemeth that the tribes concerned who might marrie these daughters to haue their inheritance: and therefore the sonnes of Ioseph proposed the matter to Moses. Chap. 27.1. Iosh. 17.3.

2 And said, *The Lord commanded b my lord to giue the lande to inherite by lot to the children of Israel: and my lord was commaunded by the Lord, to giue the inheritance of Zelophehad our brother vnto his daughters.

b Meaning, Moses.

3 If they be married to any of the sonnes of the [other] tribes of the children of Israel, then shal their inheritance be taken away from the inheritance of our fathers, and shall be put vnto the inheritance of the tribe whereof they shal-be: so shall it be taken away from the lot of our inheritance.

4 Also when the c Iubile of the children of Israel commeth, then shall their inheritance be put vnto the inheritance of the tribe whereof they shalbe: so shall their inheritāce be taken away from the inheritance of the tribe of our fathers.

c Signifying that at no time it could returne, for in the Iubile all things returned to their owne tribes.

5 Then Moses commanded the children of Israel, according to the word of the Lord, saying, The tribe of the sones of Ioseph haue said d well.

d For the tribe could not haue continued if the inheritance which was the maintenance there of should haue bene alienated to others.

6 This is the thing that the Lord hath commanded, concerning the daughters of Zelophehad, saying, They shall be wiues, to whome they thinke best, only to the familie of the tribe of their father shall they marrie:

7 So shall not the inheritance of the childzen of Israel remoue from tribe to tribe, for euery one of the childzen of Israel shall ioyne him selfe to the inheritance of the tribe of his fathers.

8 And euery daughter that possesseth any [c] inheritance of the tribes of the childzen of Israel, shalbe wife vnto one of the familie of the tribe of her father: that the childzen of Israel may enioy euery man the inheritance of their fathers.

c When there is no male to inherite.

9 Neither shall the inheritance go about from tribe to tribe: but euery one of the tribes of the childzen of Israel shall sticke to his owne inheritance.

10 As the Lord commanded Moses, so did the daughters of Zelophehad.

11 For * Mahlah, Tirzah, and Hoglah, and Milcah, and Noah the daughters of Zelophehad were married vnto their fathers brothers sonnes, Chap.27.1.

12 They were wiues [to certaine] of the families of the sonnes of Manasseh the sonne of Ioseph: so their inheritance remayned in the tribe of the familie of their father.

13 These are the [f] commandements and lawes which the Lord commanded by the hand of Moses, vnto the childzen of Israel in the plaine of Moab, by Jorden [toward] Jericho.

f Touching the ceremoniall and iudiciall lawes.

The fifth booke of Moses,

called *Deuteronomie.

* That is, a second lawe: so called, because the Law which God gaue in mount Sinai, is here repeated, as though it were a newe Lawe: and this booke is a commentarie or exposition of the ten commandements.

The Argvment.

THE wonderfull loue of God toward his Church is liuely set foorth in this booke. For albeit through their ingratitude and sundrie rebellions against God, for the space of fourtie yeres, Deut.9.7. they had deserued to haue bene cut off from the nomber of his people, and for euer to haue bene depriued of the vse of his holy word, and sacraments: yet hee did euer preserue his Church euen for his owne mercies sake, and woulde still haue his Name called vpon among them. Wherefore hee bringeth them into the land of Canaan, destroyeth their enemies, giueth them their countrey, townes and goods, and exhorteth them by the example of their fathers (whose infidelitie, idolatrie, adulteries, murmurings and rebellion, he had most sharpely punished) to feare and obey the Lord, to embrace and keepe his Lawe without adding thereunto or diminishing therefrom. For by his word he would be knowen to be their God, & they his people: by his word he would gouerne his Church, and by the same they should learne to obey him: by his word he would discerne the false Prophet from the true, light from darknes, ignorance from knowledge, & his owne people from all other nations and infidels: teaching them thereby to refuse and detest, destroy and abolish whatsoeuer is not agreeable to his holy will, seeme it otherwise neuer so good or precious in the eyes of man. And for this cause God promised to raise vp Kings and gouernours, for the setting foorth of this word and preseruation of his Church: giuing vnto them an especiall charge for the executing thereof: whom therefore he willeth to exercise themselues diligently in the continuall studie and meditation of the same: that they might learne to feare the Lorde, loue their subiects, abhorre couetousnes and vice, and whatsoeuer offendeth the maiestie of God. And as he had tofore instructed their fathers in all things appertaining, both to his spirituall seruice, and also for the maintenance of that societie which is betweene men: so he prescribeth here anewe, all such lawes and ordinances, which either concerne his diuine seruice, or else are necessarie for a common weale: appointing vnto euery estate and degree their charge and duetie: aswell, how to rule and liue in the feare of God, as to nourish friendship towarde their neighbours, and to preserue that order which God hath established among men: threatning withall, most horrible plagues to them that transgresse his commaundements, and promising all blessings and felicitie to such as obserue and obey them.

CHAP. I.

1 A briefe rehearsall of things done before, from Horeb vnto Kadesh-barnea. 32 Moses reproueth the people for their incredulitie. 44 The Israelites are ouercome by the Amorites because they fought against the commandement of the Lord.

THese be [a] the wordes which Moses spake vnto all Israel, on [b] this side Jorden in the wildernes, in the plaine, [c] ouer against the red Sea, betweene Paran & Tophel, and Laban, and Hazeroth, and Di-zahab.

a In the countrey of Moab.
b So that the wildernes was betweene the Sea and this plaine of Moab.
c In Horeb, or Sinai, fourtie yeeres before this the lawe was giuen: but because all that were then of age and iudgement were nowe dead, Moses repeateth the same to the youth which either then were not borne, or had not iudgement.

2 [There are] eleuen dayes iourney from [c] Horeb vnto Kadesh-barnea, by the way of mount Seir.

3 And it came to passe in the first day of the eleuenth moneth, in the fourtieth yeere, that Moses spake vnto the childzen of Israel according vnto all that the Lorde had giuen him in commandement vnto them,

4 After that hee had slaine [d] * Sihon the king of the Amorites which dwelt in Heshbon, and Og king of Bashan, which dwelt at Ashtaroth in Edrei.

d By these examples of Gods fauour their mindes are prepared to receiue the Lawe. Nomb.21.24.

5 On this side Jorden in the land of Moab [e] began Moses to declare this lawe, saying,

e The second time.

6 The Lord our God spake vnto vs in [f] Horeb, saying, Ye haue dwelt long ynough in this mount,

f In the second yere and second moneth, Nomb. 10.11.

7 Turne you and depart, and go vnto the

childzen of Israel remoue from tribe to tribe, for euery one of the childzen of Israel shall ioyne him selfe to the inheritance of the tribe of his fathers.

8 And euery daughter that possesseth any [c] inheritance of the tribes of the childzen of Israel, shalbe wife vnto one of the familie of the tribe of her father: that the childzen of Israel may enioy euery man the inheritance of their fathers.

c When there is no male to inherite.

9 Neither shall the inheritance go about from tribe to tribe: but euery one of the tribes of the childzen of Israel shall sticke to his owne inheritance.

10 As the Lord commanded Moses, so did the daughters of Zelophehad.

11 For * Mahlah, Tirzah, and Hoglah, and Milcah, and Noah the daughters of Zelophehad were married vnto their fathers brothers sonnes, Chap.27.1.

12 They were wiues [to certaine] of the families of the sonnes of Manasseh the sonne of Ioseph: so their inheritance remayned in the tribe of the familie of their father.

13 These are the [f] commandements and lawes which the Lord commanded by the hand of Moses, vnto the childzen of Israel in the plaine of Moab, by Jorden [toward] Jericho.

f Touching the ceremoniall and iudiciall lawes.

The fifth booke of Moses,

called *Deuteronomie.

* That is, a second lawe: so called, because the Law which God gaue in mount Sinai, is here repeated, as though it were a newe Lawe: and this booke is a commentarie or exposition of the ten commandements.

The Argvment.

THE wonderfull loue of God toward his Church is liuely set foorth in this booke. For albeit through their ingratitude and sundrie rebellions against God, for the space of fourtie yeres, Deut.9.7. they had deserued to haue bene cut off from the nomber of his people, and for euer to haue bene depriued of the vse of his holy word, and sacraments: yet hee did euer preserue his Church euen for his owne mercies sake, and woulde still haue his Name called vpon among them. Wherefore hee bringeth them into the land of Canaan, destroyeth their enemies, giueth them their countrey, townes and goods, and exhorteth them by the example of their fathers (whose infidelitie, idolatrie, adulteries, murmurings and rebellion, he had most sharpely punished) to feare and obey the Lord, to embrace and keepe his Lawe without adding thereunto or diminishing therefrom. For by his word he would be knowen to be their God, & they his people: by his word he would gouerne his Church, and by the same they should learne to obey him: by his word he would discerne the false Prophet from the true, light from darknes, ignorance from knowledge, & his owne people from all other nations and infidels: teaching them thereby to refuse and detest, destroy and abolish whatsoeuer is not agreeable to his holy will, seeme it otherwise neuer so good or precious in the eyes of man. And for this cause God promised to raise vp Kings and gouernours, for the setting foorth of this word and preseruation of his Church: giuing vnto them an especiall charge for the executing thereof: whom therefore he willeth to exercise themselues diligently in the continuall studie and meditation of the same: that they might learne to feare the Lorde, loue their subiects, abhorre couetousnes and vice, and whatsoeuer offendeth the maiestie of God. And as he had tofore instructed their fathers in all things appertaining, both to his spirituall seruice, and also for the maintenance of that societie which is betweene men: so he prescribeth here anewe, all such lawes and ordinances, which either concerne his diuine seruice, or else are necessarie for a common weale: appointing vnto euery estate and degree their charge and duetie: aswell, how to rule and liue in the feare of God, as to nourish friendship towarde their neighbours, and to preserue that order which God hath established among men: threatning withall, most horrible plagues to them that transgresse his commaundements, and promising all blessings and felicitie to such as obserue and obey them.

5 On this side Jorden in the land of Moab [e] began Moses to declare this lawe, saying,

e The second time.

6 The Lord our God spake vnto vs in [f] Horeb, saying, Ye haue dwelt long ynough in this mount,

f In the second yere and second moneth, Nomb. 10.11.

7 Turne you and depart, and go vnto the the mountaine of the Amorites, and vnto all the places neere thereunto: in the plaine, in the mountaine, or in the valley: both Southward, and to the Sea side, to the land of the Canaanites, and vnto Lebanon: [euen] vnto the great riuer, the riuer ‖Perath.

8 Behold, I haue set the land before you: go in and * possesse that land which the Lorde sware vnto your fathers, Abraham, Izhak, and Iaakob, to giue vnto them and to their seede after them.

9 ¶ And I spake [g] vnto you the same time, saying, I am not able to beare you my selfe alone:

10 The Lord your God hath [h] multiplied you: and beholde, ye are this day as the starres of heauen in number:

11 (The Lorde God of your fathers make you a thousand times so many mo as ye are, and blesse you, as he hath promised you)

12 Howe can I alone [i] beare your cumbrance and your charge, and your strife?

13 Bring you men of wisdome and of vnderstanding, and [k] knowen among your tribes, and I will make them rulers ouer you:

14 Then ye answered me and saide, The thing is good that thou hast commanded [vs] to doe.

15 So I tooke the chiefe of your tribes [l] wise and knowen men, and made them rulers ouer you, captaines ouer thousands, and captaines ouer hundreds, and captaines ouer fifties, and captaines ouer ten, and officers among your tribes.

16 And I charged your iudges that same time, saying, Heare the [controuersies] betweene your brethren, and * iudge righteously betweene euery man and his brother, and the stranger that is with him.

17 Ye shall haue no respect of person in iudgement, * but shall heare the small aswell as the great: ye shall not feare the face of man: for [m] iudgement is Gods: and the cause that is hard for you, bring vnto me, and I will heare it.

18 Also I commanded you the same time all the things which ye should do.

19 ¶ Then we departed from Horeb, and went through all that great and terrible Wildernes (as ye haue seene) by the Way of the mountaine of the Amorites, as the Lorde our God commanded vs: and we came to Kadesh-barnea.

20 And [n] I said vnto you, Ye are come vnto the mountaine of the Amorites, which the Lorde our God doeth giue vnto vs.

21 Beholde, the Lorde thy God hath layed the land before thee: go vp [and] possesse it, as the Lorde the God of thy fathers hath saide vnto thee: feare not, neither be discouraged.

22 ¶ [o] Then ye came vnto me euery one, and said, We will send men before vs, to search vs out the land and to bring vs Worde againe, what way we must go vp by, and vnto what cities we shall come.

23 So the saying pleased me well, and I tooke twelue men of you, of euery tribe one.

24 * Who departed, and went vp into the mountaine, and came vnto the ‖riuer Eshcol, and searched out the [land.]

25 And tooke of the fruite of the land in their handes, and brought it vnto vs, and brought vs Word againe, and [p] said, It is a good land, which the Lorde our God doeth giue vs.

26 Notwithstanding, ye Would not go vp, but were disobedient vnto [q] commandement of the Lord your God, 27 And murmured in your tents, and said, Because the Lord [r] hated vs, therefore hath he brought vs out of the lande of Egypt, to deliuer vs into the hand of the Amorites, and to destroy vs.

28 Whither shall we go vp: our [s] brethren haue discouraged our hearts, saying, The people [is] greater, and taller then we: the cities [are] great and walled vp to heauen: and moreouer we haue seene the sonnes of the * Anakims there.

29 But I saide vnto you, Dread not, nor be afraid of them.

30 The Lord your God, [t] who goeth before you, he shall fight for you, according to all that he did vnto you in Egypt before your eyes, 31 And in the Wildernes, where thou hast seene howe the Lord thy God bare thee, as a man doeth beare his sonne, in all the way which ye haue gone, vntill ye came vnto this place.

32 Yet for al this ye did not beleeue the Lord your God, 33 * Who went in the way before you, to search you out a place to pitch your tents in, in fire by night, that ye might see what way to goe, and in a cloude by day.

1 Israel is forbidden to fight with the Edomites, 9 Moabites, 19 And Ammonites, 33 Sihon King of Heshbon is discomfited.

2 And ỹ Lord spake vnto me, saying,

3 Ye haue compassed this mountaine long enough: turne you Northward.

4 And warne thou the people, saying, Ye shall goe through the c coast of your brethren ỹ children of Esau, which dwell in Seir, and they shall be afraide of you: take ye good heede therefore.

26 But the Lorde was angrie with me for your sakes, and would not heare me: and the Lorde said vnto me, Let it suffice thee, speake no more vnto me of this matter.

k He meaneth Zion, where the temple should be built, and God honoured.

27 Get thee vp into the top of Pisgah, and lift vp thine eyes westward, and Northward, and Southward, & Eastward, and behold it with thine eyes, for thou shalt not go ouer this Iorden:

l As before he saw by the spirit of prophesie the good mountaine which was Zion: so here his eyes were lifted vp aboue the order of nature to behold all the plentifull land of Canaan.

28 But charge Ioshua, and incourage him, and bolden him: for he shall go before this people, and he shall deuide for inheritance vnto them, the land which thou shalt see.

29 So we abode in the valley ouer against Beth-peor.

CHAP. IIII.

1 An exhortation to obserue the lawe without adding thereto or diminishing. 6 Therein standeth our wisdome. 9 We must teache it to our children. 15 No image ought to be made to worship. 26 Threatnings against them that forsake the lawe of God. 37 God chose the seede because he loued their fathers. 43 The three cities of refuge.

NOwe therefore hearken, O Israel, vnto the ordinances and to the lawes which I teach you to [a] do, that ye may liue & goe in, and possesse the land, a For this doctrine standeth not in bare knowledge, but in practise of life.

land which the Lorde God of your fathers giueth you.

Chap. 12. 32.

2 *Ye shal put nothing vnto the word which I command you, neither shall ye take ought therefrom, that yee may keepe the commandements of the Lord your God which I command you.

b Thinke not to be more wise then I am.

3 Your [d] eyes haue seene what the Lord did because of Baal-peor, for all the men that followed Baal-peor, the Lord thy God hath destroyed euery one from among you.

c God will not be serued by fables but will haue full obedience.

d Gods iudgements executed vpon other idolaters ought to serue for our instruction: Reade Num. 25. 3. 4.

4 But yee that did [e] cleaue vnto the Lord your God, are aliue euerie one of you this day.

e And were not idolaters.

5 Beholde, I haue taught you ordinances, & lawes, as the Lorde my God cõmanded me, that ye should do euen so within ỹ lãd whither ye go to possesse it.

6 Keepe them therefore, and do them: for that is your [f] wisdome, & your vnderstanding in the sight of the people, which shall heare all these ordinances, and shal say, ‖ Onely this people [is] wise, and of vnderstanding [and] a great nation.

f Because all men naturally desire wisdome, he sheweth how to attaine vnto it.

‖ Or, surely.

7 For what nation [is so] great, vnto whom the gods come so neere vnto thẽ, as the Lorde our God is [g] neere vnto vs, [in all that We call vnto him for]?

g Helping vs, and deliuering vs out of all dangers, as 2. Sam. 7. 23.

8 And what nation [is so] great, that hath ordinances and lawes so righteous, as all this Law, which I set before you this day?

h He adveth al these words to shew that we can neuer be careful enough to keepe the law of God: & to teach it to our posterite.

9 But take heede to thy selfe, & [h] keepe thy soule diligently, that thou forget not the things which thine eyes haue seene, & that they depart not out of thine heart, all the dayes of thy life: but teach them thy sonnes, and thy sonnes sonnes:

10 [Forget not] ỹ day that thou stoodest before the Lord thy God in Horeb, whẽ the Lorde sayde vnto me, Gather mee the people together, & I will cause them heare my wordes, that they may learne to feare me all the dayes that they shall liue vpon the earth, and that they may teach their children:

Exod. 19. 18.

i The Lawe was giuẽ with fearefull miracles, to declare both that God was the author thereof, & also that no flesh was able to abide the rigour of the same.

11 Then came you neere and *stoode vnder the mountaine, and the mountaine [i] burnt with fire vnto the middes of heauen, [and there was] darkenesse, cloudes and mist.

12 And the Lorde spake vnto you out of the middes of the fire, [and] ye heard the voyce of the wordes, but saw no similitude, saue a voyce.

13 Then he declared vnto you his couenant which he cõmanded you to [k] do, [euẽ] the ten [commandements, & wrote them vpon two tables of stone.

k God inioyneth this condition to his couenãt.

‖ Or, words.

14 ¶ And ỹ Lord cõmanded me that same time, that I should teach you ordinãces & lawes, which ye should obserue in the land, whither ye go, to possesse it.

15 Take therefore good heede vnto your [l] selues: for ye saw no [m] image in the day that the Lord spake vnto you in Horeb out of the middes of the fire:

l Ebr. soules.

m Signifying that destruction is prepared for all them that make any image to represent God.

16 That ye corrupt not your selues, & make you a grauen image [or] representation of any figure: [whether it be] the likenes of male or female,

17 The likenes of any beast that is on earth, [or] the likenes of any fethered foule that flieth in the aire:

18 [Or] the likenes of any thing that creepeth on the earth, [or] the likenes of any fish that is in the waters beneath the earth, 19 And least thou lift vp thine eyes vnto heauen, and when thou seest the sunne and the moone and the starres with all the host of heauen, thou dost be driuen to worship them and serue them, which the Lord thy God hath [n] distributed to all people vnder the whole heauen.

n He hath appointed them for to serue man.

20 But the Lord hath taken you and brought you out of the [o] yron fornace: out of Egypt to be vnto him a people [and] inheritance, as [appeareth] this day.

o He hath deliuered you out of most miserable slauery, and freely chosen you for his children.

21 And the Lord was angrie with me for your wordes, and sware that I should not go ouer Iorden, and that I should not go in vnto that good lande, which the Lord thy God giueth thee for an inheritance.

22 For I must die in this land, & shall not go ouer Iorden: but [p] ye shall go ouer, and possesse that good land.

p Moses good affection appeareth, in that that he, being depriued of such an excellent treasure, doeth not enuie them that must enioy it.

23 Take heede vnto your selues, lest ye forget the couenant of the Lord your God which he made with you, and [lest] ye make you any grauē image, [or] likenes of any thing, as the Lord thy God hath charged thee.

24 For the Lord thy God is a [p] consuming fire, [and] a iealous God.

p To those that come not vnto him with loue and reuerence, but rebell against him, Heb. 12. 29.

25 ¶ When thou shalt beget children and childrens children, and shalt haue remained long in the land, if ye [q] corrupt your selues, & make any grauen image, [or] likenes of any thing, and worke euill in the sight of the Lord thy God, to prouoke him to anger, q Meaning hereby all superstition and corruption of the true seruice of God.

26 I [r] call heauen and earth to record against you this day, that ye shal shortly perish from the land, whereunto ye go ouer Iorden to possesse it: ye shall not r Though men would absolue you, yet the insensible creatures shalbe witnesses of your disobedience.

prolong your dayes therein, but shal vterly be destroyed.

f So that his curse shall make his former blessings of none effect.

27 And the Lord shall [f] scatter you among the people, and ye shall be left few in nomber among the nations, whither the Lord shall bring you:

28 And there ye shall serue gods, [euen] the worke of mans hande, wood, and stone, which neither see, nor heare, nor eate, nor smell.

29 But if from thence thou shalt seeke the Lord thy God, thou shalt find him, if thou seeke him with all thine heart, and with all thy soule.

t Not with outward shew or ceremonie, but with a true confession of thy faults. ‡Ebr. in the latter dayes.

30 When thou art in tribulation, & all these things are come vpon thee, ‡ at the length, if thou returne to the Lorde thy God, and be obedient vnto his voice, 31 (For the Lord thy God is a merciful God) he wil not forsake thee, neither destroy thee, nor forget [p] couenant of thy fathers, which he [u] sware vnto them.

u To certifie them the more of the assurãce of their saluation.

32 For inquire now of the dayes that are past, which were before thee, since the day that God created man vpon the earth, and [aske] frõ the one end of heauen vnto the other, if there came to passe such a great thing as this, or whether any such like thing hath bene heard.

x Mans negligence is partly cause that he knoweth not God.

33 Did euer people heare the voice of God speaking out of the mids of a fire, as thou hast heard, and liued?

34 Or hath God assayed to go and take him a nation from among nations, by [y] tentations, by signes, and by wonders, and by warre, and by a mightie hande, and by a stretched out arme, and by great feare, according vnto all that the Lorde your God did vnto you in Egypt before your eyes?

y By so manifest proofes that none could doubt thereof.

35 Vnto thee it was shewed, that thou mightest [z] knowe, that the Lorde hee is God, [&] that there is none but he alone.

z He sheweth the cause, why God wrought these miracles.

36 Out of heauen he made thee heare his voyce to instruct thee, and vpon earth he shewed thee his great fire, and thou heardest his voyce out of the mids of the fire.

a Freely, and not of their deserts.

37 And because [a] he loued thy fathers, therefore he chose their seed after them, & hath brought thee out of Egypt in his sight by his mightie power, 38 To thrust out nations greater and mightier then thou, before thee, to bring thee in, [and] to giue thee their lande for inheritance: as [appeareth] this day.

39 Understand therfore this day, and consider in thine heart, that the Lord, he is God in heauen aboue, and vpon the earth beneath: there [is] none other.

40 Thou shalt keepe therefore his ordinances, & his commandements which I command thee this day, that it may [b] go well with thee, and with thy children after thee, and that thou mayest prolong thy dates vpon the earth, which the Lord thy God giueth thee for euer.

b God promiseth reward not for our merits, but to incourage vs, & to assure vs that our labor shal not be lost.

41 Then Moses separated three cities on this side of Iordan towarde the sunne rising:

42 That the slaier should flee thither, which had killed his neighbour at vnwares, and hated him not in time past, might flee, & say, vnto one of those cities, and liue:

43 [That is] *Bezer in the Wildernes, in the plaine countrey of [p] Reubenites: and Ramoth in Gilead among the Gadites: and Golan in Bashan among the of Manasseh.

Iosh.20.8.

44 ¶ So this is the law which Moses set before the children of Israel.

45 These are the [c] Witnesses, and the ordinances, and the lawes which Moses declared to the children of Israel after they came out of Egypt.

c The articles and points of the couenant,

46 On this side Iordan, in the valley ouer against Beth-peor, in the lande of Sihon King of the Amorites, which dwelt at Heshbon, whome Moses and the children of Israel *smote, after they were come out of Egypt:

Nom.21.24. chap.1.4.

47 And they possessed his lande, and the land of *Og King of Bashan, two Kings of the Amorites, which were on this side Iordan towarde the sunne rising:

Nom.21.33. chap.3.3.

48 From Aroer, which is by the bank of the riuer Arnon, euen vnto mount Sion, which is Hermon, 49 And al the plaine by Iordan Eastward, euen vnto [d] the Sea of the plaine, vnder the *springs of Pisgah.

d That is, the salt sea, Chap.3.17.

CHAP. V.

1 Moses is the meane betwene God and the people. 6 The Law is repeated. 23 The people are afraide at Gods voice. 29 The Lorde wisheth that the people would feare him. 32 They must neither decline to the right hand nor left.

Then Moses called al Israel, and layd vnto them, Heare O Israel the ordinances & the lawes which ‡ I pronounce to you this day, that ye may learne them, and take heede to obserue them.

‡Ebr. I speake in your eares.

2 *The Lord our God made a couenant with vs in Horeb.

Exod.19.5,6.

3 The Lord made not this couenant with our fathers, [onely,] but with vs, [euen]

a Some read, God made not this couenant, that is, in such ample sort and with such signes and wonders.

[euen] with vs all here alme this day.

4 The Lord talked with you [b] face to face in the Mount, out of the middes of the fire.

5 (At that time I stood betweene the Lorde and you, to declare vnto you the word of the Lord: for ye were afrayd at the light of the fire, and went not vp into the mount) and he sayd,

6 ¶ *I am the Lord thy God, which haue brought thee out of the lande of Egypt, from the house of ‖ bondage.

7 Thou shalt haue none [c] other gods before my face.

8 Thou shalt make thee no grauen image, [or] any likenesse [of that] that is in heauen aboue, or which is in the earth beneath, or that is in the waters vnder the earth.

9 Thou shalt neither bowe thy selfe vnto them, nor serue them: for *I the Lorde thy God am a [d] ielous God, visiting the iniquitie of the fathers vpon the children, euen vnto the third and fourth [generation] of them that hate me:

10 And shewing mercy vnto thousands of them that [e] loue mee, and keepe my commandements.

11 Thou shalt not take the Name of the Lord thy God in vaine: for the Lord will not hold him guiltelesse, that taketh his Name in vaine.

12 Keepe the Sabbath day, to sanctifie it, as the Lorde thy God hath commaunded thee.

13 Sixe dayes [f] thou shalt labour, and shalt do all thy worke:

14 But the seuenth day [is] the Sabbath of the Lorde thy God: thou shalt not do any worke [therin], thou, nor thy sonne, nor thy daughter, nor thy man seruant, nor thy maide, nor thine oxe, nor thine asse, neither any of thy catteli, nor the stranger that is within thy gates: that thy man seruant and thy maid may rest al well as thou.

15 For, remember that thou wast a seruant in the lande of Egypt, and [that] the Lorde thy God brought thee out thence by a mighty hande and a stretched out arme: therefore the Lorde thy God commaunded thee to obserue the Sabbath day.

16 ¶ [g] Honour thy father and thy mother, as the Lorde thy God hath commanded thee, that thy daies may be prolonged, and that it may go well with thee vpon the land, which the Lord thy God giueth thee.

17 *Thou shalt not kill. Matth.5.21.

18 *Neither shalt thou commit adulterie. Luke.18,20.

19 *Neither shalt thou steale. Rom.13.9.

20 Neither shalt thou beare false witnes against thy neighbour.

21 *Neither shalt [h] thou couet thy neighbours wife, neither shalt thou desire thy neighbours house, his fielde, nor his man seruant, nor his mayd, his oxe, nor his asse, nor ought that thy neighbour hath. Rom.7.7.

22 ¶ These wordes the Lorde spake vnto all your multitude in the mount out of the middes of the fire, the cloude and the darkenes, with a great voyce, and added no more thereto: and wrote them vpon two tables of stone, and deliuered them vnto me.

23 And when ye heard the voyce out of the middes of the darkenes, (for the mountaine did burne with fire) then yee came to me, all the chiefe of your tribes, and your Elders:

24 And ye said, Behold, the Lord our God hath shewed vs his glorie and his greatnes, and *we haue heard his voyce out of the middes of the fire: wee haue seene this day that God doth talke with man, and he liueth. Exod.19.19. Chap.4.33.

25 Now therfore, why should we die? for this great fire will consume vs: if we heare the voice of the Lorde our God any more, we shall die.

26 For what ‖ flesh [was] there euer, that heard the voice of the liuing God speaking out of the middes of the fire as we [haue], and liued? ‖Or, man.

27 Go thou neere and heare all that the Lord our God sayth: & declare thou vnto vs all that the Lord our God saith vnto thee: & we will heare it, and do it. Exod.20.19.

28 Then the Lord heard the voice of your words, when ye spake vnto me: & the Lorde saide vnto me, I haue heard the voyce of the wordes of this people, which they haue spoken vnto thee: they haue wel said, all that they haue spoken.

29 Oh [k] that there were such an heart in them to feare me, and to keepe all my commandements alway: that it might go well with them, and with their children for euer.

30 Go, say vnto them, Returne you vnto your tents.

31 But stand thou heere with me, and I will tel thee all the commandements, and the ordinances, & the lawes, which thou shalt teach them: that they may b So plainely that you neede not to doubt thereof.

Exod.20.2. Ieuit.26.1. pſal.97.7.9. Or, seruants.

c God bindeth vs to serue him onely, without superstition & idolatrie.

Exod.34.7. Iere.32.18.

d That is, of his honour, not permitting it to be giuen to other.

e The first degree to keepe the commandements is, to loue God.

f Meaning, since God permitteth fiue dayes to our labours, that we ought willingly to dedicate ye seuenth to serue him wholy.

g Not for a shew, but with true obedience and due reuerence.

h He speaketh not onely of that resolute will, but that there be no motion or affection.

i Teaching vs by his example to be content with his word, & adde nothing thereto.

k He requireth of vs nothing but obedience, shewing also that of our selues we are vnwilling thereunto.

do them in the land which I giue them to possesse it.

32 Take heede therefore, that yee do as the Lord your God hath commaunded you: [l] turne not aside to the right hand nor to the left, l Ye shall neither adde nor diminish, Chap.4.2.

33 [But] walke in al the wayes which the Lorde your God hath commanded you, that ye may [m] liue, and that it may go well with you: and that ye may prolong [your] dayes in the lande which ye shall possesse.

m As by obedience, God giueth vs all felicitie: so of disobeying God, proceede all our miseries.

CHAP. VI.

1 An exhortation to feare God, & keepe his commandements, 5 Which is, to loue him with all thine heart. 7 The same must be taught to the posteritie. 16 Not to tempt God. 25 Righteousnes is contepned in the Law.

THese now are the commandements, ordinances, and ‖lawes, which the Lorde your God commanded [me] to teach [you,] that ye might do them in the lande whither yee goe to possesse it:

‖Or, iudgements.

2 That thou mightest [a] feare the Lord thy God, and keepe all his ordinances, & his commandements which I [c]omand thee, thou, and thy sonne, and thy sonnes sonne all the dayes of thy life, euen that thy dayes may be prolonged.

a A reuerent feare and loue of God, is the first beginning to keepe Gods commandements.

3 Heare therefore, O Israel, and take heede to do it, that it may go well with thee, and that ye may increase mightily [b] in the lande that floweth with milke & honie, as the Lorde God of thy fathers hath promised thee.

b Which hath abundance of all things appertepning to mans life.

4 Heare, O Israel, The Lorde our God is Lord onely,

5 And *thou shalt loue the Lord thy God with al thine heart, and with al thy soule, and with all thy might.

Matth.22.37. mar.12.29,30 luke,10.27.

Chap.11.18.

6 *And these wordes which I commãd thee this day, shalbe in thine heart.

7 And thou shalt [c] rehearse them continually vnto thy children, and shalt talke of them when thou tariest in thine house, and as thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest downe, and when thou risest vp:

c Some read, thou shalt whet them vpon thy children: to wit, that they may print the more deeply in memorie.

8 And thou shalt binde them for a signe vpon thine hande, and they shalbe ‖as frontlets betweene thine eyes.

‖Or, signes of remembrance.

9 Also thou shalt write them vpon the [d] postes of thine house, & vpon thy gates.

d That when thou entrest in, thou mayest remember them.

10 And when the Lord thy God hath brought thee into the lande, which hee sware vnto thy fathers, Abraham, Izhak, and Iaakob, to giue to thee, with great and goodly cities which thou buildedst not,

11 And houses full of all maner of goods which thou filledst not, and wels digged which thou diggedst not, vineyardes and olive trees which thou plantedst not, and [when] thou hast eaten and art full,

12 [e] Beware least thou forget ỹ Lord, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage.

e Let not welth and ease cause thee forget gods mercies, whereby thou wast deliuered out of misserie.

13 Thou shalt feare the Lorde thy God, and serue him, and shalt [f] sweare by his Name.

f We must feare God, serue him onely, and confesse his Name, which is done by swearing lawfully.

14 Ye shal not walke after other gods, [after any] of the gods of ỹ people which are round about you, 15 (For the Lorde thy God is a ielous God among you:) least the wrath of the Lorde thy God bee kindled against thee, and destroy thee from the face of the earth.

16 [g] Ye shal not tempt ỹ Lord your God, as ye did tempt him in Massah:

g By doubting of his power, refusing lawfull meanes, and abusing his graces.

17 [But] ye shall keepe diligently the cõmandements of the Lord your God, and his testimonies, and his ordinances which he hath commanded thee.

18 And thou shalt doe that which is right and good in the [h] sight of the Lorde: that thou mayest prosper, and that thou mayest go in, and possesse that good lande which the Lorde sware vnto thy fathers, h Here he condemneth all mans good intentions.

19 To cast out al thine enemies before thee, as the Lord hath said.

20 When [i] thy sonne shall aske thee in time to come, saying, what meane these testimonies, and ordinances, and lawes, which the Lorde our God hath commanded you?

i God requireth not onely that we serue him all our life, but also that we take paine that our posteritie may see forth his glorie.

21 Then thou shalt say vnto thy sõne, We were Pharaohs bõdmen in Egypt: but the Lorde brought vs out of Egypt with a mightie hand.

22 And the Lord shewed signes and wonders great and euill vpon Egypt, vpon Pharaoh, and vpon all his household, before our eyes.

23 And [k] brought vs out from thence, to bring vs in, and to giue vs the lande which he sware vnto our fathers.

k Nothing ought to moue vs more to true obedience then the great benefites which we haue receiued of God.

24 Therfore the Lord hath commanded vs, to do al these ordinances, [and] to feare the Lord our God, that it may go euer wel with vs, [and] that he may preserue vs alive as at this present.

l But because none could fully obey the law, we must haue our recourse to Christ to be iustified by fayth.

25 Moreouer, this shalbe our [l] righteousnes before the Lorde our God, if we take heede to keepe all these commandements, as he hath commanded vs.

CHAP.

CHAP. VII.

1 The Israelites may make no couenant with the Gentiles. 5 They must destroy the idoles. 8 The election dependeth on the free loue of God. 19 The experience of the power of God ought to confirme vs. 25 To auoide all occasion of idolatrie.

Chap.31,8.

WHen the Lord thy God shall bring thee into the land whither thou goest to possesse it, *and shal roote out many nations before thee: the Hittites, & the Girgashites, and the Amorites, and the Canaanites, and the Perizzites, and the Hiuites, and the Iebusites, seuen nations greater and mightier then thou, a Into thy power.

2 And the Lorde thy God shall giue them a before thee, then thou shalt smite them: thou shalt vtterly destroy them: thou shalt make no* couenāt with them, nor haue compassion on them,

Exod.23.32. and 34.12.

3 Neither shalt thou make mariages with them, neither giue thy daughter vnto his sonne, nor take his daughter vnto thy sonne.

‖Or, any of the.

4 For ‖ they will cause thy sonne to turne away from me, and to serue other gods: then will the wrath of the Lorde ware hote agaynst you and destroy thee suddenly.

b God would haue his seruice pure without all idolatrous ceremonies and superstitions.

5 But thus ye shall deale with them, b Ye shall ouerthrowe their altars, and breake downe their pillars, and ye shall cut downe their groues, and burne their grauen images with fire.

Chap.12,3. Chap.14.2. and 26,18,19. Exod.19.5. 1.per.2.9.

6 *For thou art an holy people vnto the Lord thy God, *the Lorde thy God hath chosen thee, to be a precious people vnto himselfe, aboue all people that are vpon the earth.

c Freely, finding no cause in you more then in others to do.

7 The Lord did not set his loue vpon you, nor chuse you, because yee were mo in nomber then any people: for yee were the fewest of all people:

8 But because the Lord c loued you, & becaule he would keepe the othe which he had sworne vnto your fathers, the Lord hath brought you out by a mighty hand, and deliuered you out of the house of bondage from the hand of Pharaoh King of Egypt, d And so put difference betwene him and idoles.

9 That thou mayst knowe, d that the Lorde thy God, he is God, the faithfull God which keepeth couenant and mercie vnto them that loue him and keepe his commandements, [euen] to a thousand generations, e Meaning, manifestly, or in this life.

10 And rewardeth e them to their face that hate him, to bring them to destruction: he will not deferre to reward him that hateth him, to his face.

11 Keepe thou therfore the commandements, and the ordinances, and the lawes, which I cōmande thee this day to do them.

12 ¶ For if yee hearken vnto these lawes, and obserue and doe them, then the Lord thy God shall keepe with thee the couenant, and the f mercie which he sware vnto thy fathers.

f This couenant is grounded vpon his free grace: & therefore in recompensing their obedience he hath respect to his mercie & not to their merites.

13 And hee will loue thee, and blesse thee, and multiplie thee: hee will also blesse the fruite of thy wombe, and the fruit of thy land, thy corne & thy wine, & thine oyle, [and] þ increase of thy kine, & the flocks of thy sheepe in þ land, which he sware vnto thy fathers to giue thee.

14 Thou shalt bee blessed aboue all people: *there shalbe neither male nor female baren among you, nor among your cattel.

Exod.23.26.

15 Moreouer, the Lorde will take away from thee all infirmities, and will put none of the euill diseases of *Egypt (which thou knowest) vpō thee, but will send them vpon all that hate thee.

Exod.9.14. and 15.26.

16 Thou shalt therefore consume all people which the Lorde thy God shall giue thee: g thine eye shall not spare thē, neither shalt thou serue their gods, for that shall be thy* destruction.

g We ought not to be merciful where God commandeth seueritie. Exod.23.33.

17 If thou say in thine heart, These nations are mo then I, howe can I cast them out?

18 Thou shalt not feare them, [but] remember what the Lord thy God did vnto Pharaoh, and vnto all Egypt:

19 The great ‖ tentatiōs which thine eyes sawe, and the signes and wonders, and the mightie hand and stretched out arme, wherewith the Lorde thy God brought thee out: so shall the Lorde thy God doe vnto all the people, whose face thou fearest.

‖Or, plagues, or trials, as Chap.29.3. exod.15.25. and 16.4.

20 *Moreouer, the Lord thy God wil sende h hornets among them vntill they that are left, and hide themselues from thee, be destroyed.

Exod.23.28. iosh.24.12.

h There is not so small a creature, which I will not arme to fight on thy side against them.

21 Thou shalt not feare them: for the Lord thy God [is] among you, a God mightie and dreadfull.

22 And the Lord thy God will roote out these nations before thee by litle and litle: thou mayest not consume them at once, least the i beastes of the fielde increase vpon thee.

i So that it is your commoditie that God accomplish not his promes so soone as you would wish.

23 But the Lord thy God shall giue them before thee, and shall destroy them with a mightie destruction, vntill they be brought to nought.

24 And he shall deliuer their Kings into thine hande, and thou shalt destroy their name from vnder heauen: there shall no man be able to stand before thee, vntill thou hast destroyed them.

25 The grauen images of their gods shall ye *burne with fire, [and] couet not the siluer and golde, [that is] on them, nor take it vnto thee, least thou k be snared therewith: for it is an abomination [before] the Lord thy God.

Chap. 12.3. exod. 23.24. Iosh. 7.1, 21. 2. mac. 12.40.

k And be intised to idolatry,

26 Bring not therefore abomination into thine house, lest thou bee accursed like it, [but] vtterly abhorre it, and count it most abominable: for it is *accursed.

Chap. 13.17.

CHAP. VIII.

2 God humbleth the Israelites to trie what they haue in their heart. 5 God chastiseth them as his children. 14 The heart ought not to be proud for Gods benefites. 19 The forgetfulnesse of Gods benefites causeth destruction.

a Shewing that it is not enough to heare the word, except we expresse it by example of life.

YE shal keepe al the commandements which I command thee this day, for to do them: that ye may liue, and be multiplyed, and go in, and possesse the land which the Lorde sware vnto your fathers.

2 And thou shalt remember al the way which the Lorde thy God led thee this fourtie yere in the wildernes, for to humble thee, & to b proue thee, to know what was in thine heart, whether thou wouldest keepe his commandements or no.

b Which is declared in afflictions, either by patience, or by grudging against Gods visitation.

3 Therefore he humbled thee, & made thee hungry, and fedde thee with MAN, which thou knewest not, neither did thy fathers knowe it, that hee might teach thee that man liueth not by bread onely, but by euery [word] that proceedeth out of the mouth of the Lord, doth a man liue.

c Man liueth not by meate onely, but by the power of God, which giueth it strength to nourish vs.

4 Thy raiment ware d not olde vpon thee, neither did thy foote d swell those fourtie yeeres.

d As they that go bare footed.

5 Know therefore in thine heart, that as a man nourtereth his sonne, so the Lord thy God e nourtereth thee.

e So that his afflictions are figures of his fatherly loue towards vs.

6 Therefore shalt thou keepe the commandements of the Lord thy God, that thou mayest walke in his wayes, and feare him.

7 For the Lorde thy God bringeth thee into a good land, a land in the which are riuers of water and fountaines, and ‖depths that spring out of valleis and mountaines:

‖Or, meres.

8 A land of wheate and barley, and of vineyards, and figtrees, and pomegranates: a land of oile olive and honie:

9 A land wherein thou shalt eat bread without scarcitie, neither shalt thou lacke any thing therein: a land f whose stones [are] yron, & out of whose mountaines thou shalt digge brasse.

f Where there are mines of metal.

10 And when thou hast eaten and filled thy selfe, thou shalt s blesse the Lord thy God for the good lande, which hee hath giuen thee.

g For to receiue Gods benefites, and not to be thankefull, is to contemne God in them.

11 Beware that thou forget not the Lord thy God, not keeping his commãdements, and his lawes, and his ordinãces, which I command thee this day:

12 Lest [when] thou hast eaten and filled thy self, and hast built goodly houses and dwelt therein,

13 And thy beasts, and thy sheepe are increased, and thy siluer and gold is multiplied, & all that thou hast is increased,

14 Then thine heart h be lifted vp & thou forget thee the Lorde thy God, which brought thee out of the lande of Egypt, from the house of bondage, h By attributing Gods benefits to thine owne wisdome and labour, or to good fortune.

15 Who was thy guide in the great & terrible Wildernes ([wherin were] fiery serpents, & scorpions, & drought, where [was] no water, *who brought forth water for thee out of the rocke of flinte:

Nomb. 20, 11.

16 Who fed thee in the wildernes with *MAN, which thy fathers knew not) to humble thee, and to proue thee, that he might do thee good at thy latter ende.

Exod, 16.15.

17 [Beware] least thou say in thine heart, My power, and the strength of mine owne hand hath prepared me this abundance.

18 But remember the Lord thy God: for it is he which i giueth thee power to get substance to establish his couenant which he sware vnto thy fathers as [appeareth] this day.

i All things concerning this life proceede onely of Gods mercie: much more spirituall gifts and life euerlasting.

19 And if thou forget the Lorde thy God, & walke after other gods, & serue them, and worship them, I k testifie vnto you this day ye shal surely perish.

k Or, take to witnes the heauen and the earth, as chap. 4.26.

20 As the nations which the Lorde destroyeth before you, so ye shall perish, because ye would not be obedient vnto the voyce of the Lord your God.

CHAP. IX.

4 God doeth them not good for their owne righteousnes, but for his owne sake. 7 Moses putteth them in remembrance of their sinnes. 17 The two tables are broken. 26 Moses prayeth for the people.

HEare O Israel, Thou shalt passe ouer Iorden l this day, to go in [and] to possesse nations greater and mightier then thy selfe, [and] cities great & walled vp to heauen, l Meaning, shortly.

2 A people great and tall, [euen] the children of the Anakims, whome thou knowest, knowest, & [of whom] thou hast [b] heard [say,] who can stand before the children of Anak?

b By the report of ỹ spies, Nom.13.29.

3 Understand therefore that this day the Lord thy God is he which [c] goeth ouer before thee [as] a consuming fire: he shall destroy them, and he shal bring thē downe before thy face: so thou shalt cast them out and destroy them suddenly, as the Lord hath said vnto thee.

c To guide thee and gouerne thee.

4 Speake not thou in thine heart (after that the Lord thy God hath cast thē out before thee) saying, For my [d] righteousnesse the Lorde hath brought me in, to possesse this land: but for the Wickednesse of these nations the Lord hath cast them out before thee.

d Man of him self can deserue nothing but Gods anger, and if God spare any, it commeth of his great mercie.

5 [For] thou entrest not to inherite their lande for thy righteousnesse, or for thy vpright heart: but for the Wickednes of those nations, ỹ Lord thy God doeth cast them out before thee, and that hee might performe the worde which the Lord thy God sware vnto thy fathers, Abraham, Izhak, and Iaakob.

6 Understand therefore, that ỹ Lord thy God giueth thee not this good lande to possesse it for thy righteousnesse: for thou art a [e] stifnecked people.

e Like stubburne oxen which will not endure their masters yoke.

7 ¶ Remēber, [and] forget not, how thou prouokedst the Lorde thy God to anger in the Wildernesse: [f] since the day that thou didest depart out of the land of Egypt, vntill ye came vnto this place ye haue rebelled against the Lord.

f Ye prouoked by the length of time, that their rebellion was most great, and intolerable.

8 Also in Horeb ye prouoked the Lord to anger so that the Lorde was wroth with you, [euen] to destroy you.

9 Whē I was gone vp into ỹ mount, to receiue the tables of stone, the tables, [I say,] of the couenant, which ỹ Lord made w̄ you: & * I abode in the mount fourtie daies & fourtie nights, [and] I neither ate bread nor yet dranke water:

Exod.24.18. and 34.28.

10 *Then ỹ Lorde deliuered me two tables of stone, written with the [g] finger of God, & in thē was cōteined according to all the words which ỹ Lord had said vnto you in the mount out of the middes of the fire, in the day of the assemblie.

Exod.31.18.

g That is miraculously, and not by the hand of men.

11 And when the fourtie dayes and fourtie nyghtes were ended, the Lorde gaue mee the two tables of stone, the tables, [I say,] of the couenant.

12 And the Lord saide vnto me, * Arise, get thee downe quickly from hence: for thy people which thou hast brought out of Egypt, haue [h] corrupt [their wayes:] they are soone turned out of the way, which I commanded them: they haue made them a molten image.

Exod.32.7.

h So soone as man declineth frō the obedience of God, his waies are corrupt.

13 Furthermore, the Lord spake vnto me, saying, I haue seene this people, and beholde, it is a stifnecked people.

14 Let me alone, that I may destroy them, and put out their name from vnder heauen, and I will make of thee a mightie nation, & greater then they be.

i Signifying that the prayers of ỹ faithfull are a barre to stay Gods anger, that he cōsume not al.

15 So I returned, and came downe from the Mount (and the Mount burnt with fire, and the two Tables of the couenant [were] in my two handes)

16 Then I looked, & beholde, ye had sinned against the Lord your God: [for] yee had made you a molten calfe, [and] had turned quickly out of the [k] way which the Lorde had commanded you.

k That is, frō ỹ Law: wherin he declareth what is the cause of our perdition.

17 Therefore I tooke the two Tables, and cast them out of my two hāds, and brake them before your eyes.

18 And I fel downe before the Lord, fourtie dayes, and fourtie nights, as before: I neither ate bread nor dranke water, because of all your sinnes, which ye had committed, in doing wickedly in the sight of the Lorde, in that ye prouoked him vnto wrath.

19 (For I was afraid of the wrath & indignation, wherewith the Lord was moued against you, [euē] to destroy you) yet the Lord heard me at that time also.

20 Likewise the Lord was very angrie with Aaron, [euen] to destroy him: but at that time I prayed also for Aarō.

l Whereby he sheweth what daūger they are in, that haue autoritie, and resist not wickednesse.

21 And I took your sinne, [I meane] the calfe which ye had made, and burnt him w̄ fire, and stamped him & grounde him small, euen vnto very dust: & I cast the dust thereof into the riuer, that descended out of the [m] Mount.

m Horeb, or Sinai. Nom.11.1,3. Exod,17.7. Nom.11.34.

22 Also * in Taberah, and in * Massah * and in Kibroth-hattaauah ye prouoked the Lord to anger.

23 Likewise when the Lord sent you from Kadesh-barnea, saying, Goe vp, & possesse ỹ lande which I haue giuē you, then ye [n] rebelled against the cōmandement of the Lorde your God, & beleeued him not, nor hearkened vnto his voyce.

n At ỹ returne of the spyes.

24 Ye haue bene rebellious vnto the Lorde, since the day that I knewe you.

25 Then I fell downe before ỹ Lord [o] fourtie dayes & fourtie nights, as I fel downe [before,] because the Lorde had sayde, that he would destroy you.

o Whereby is signified that God requireth earnest continuance in prayer.

26 And I prayed vnto the Lord, and sayd, O Lord God, destroy not thy people & thine inheritance, which thou hast redeemed through thy greatnes, whom thou hast brought out of Egypt by a mightie hande.

p The godly in their prayers grosse on gods promes, and confesse their sinnes.

27 pRemember thy seruants Abraham, Isshak, and Iaakob: looke not to the stubburnnesse of this people, nor to their wickednesse, nor to their sinne, 28 Lest the countrey, whence thou broughtest the, say, *Because the Lorde was not able to bring them into the land which he promised them, or because hee hated them, hee caried them out, to slaye them in the wildernesse.

Nom. 14.16.

29 Yet they are thy people, and thine inheritance, which thou broughtest out by thy mightie power, and by thy stretched out arme.

CHAP. X.

5 The second Tables put in the Arke. 8 The tribe of Leui is dedicate to the seruice of the Tabernacle. 12 What the Lord requireth of his. 16 The circumcision of the heart. 17 God regarderh not ꝑ person. 21 The Lord is the praise of Israel.

Exod. 34.1.

IN the same time ꝑ Lord saide vnto me, *Hew thee two Tables of stone like vnto the first, and come vp vnto me into the mount, and make thee an Arke of wood,

2 And I will write vpon the Tables, the words that were vpon the first Tables, which thou brakest, and thou shalt put them in the Arke.

a Which wood is of long continuance.

3 And I made an Arke of a Shittim wood, and hewed two Tables of stone like vnto ꝑ first, & went vp into ꝑ Mountaine, & the two Tables in mine hande.

4 Then hee wrote vpon the Tables according to ꝑ first writing (the ten commandements, which ꝑ Lord spake vnto you in the Mount out of the middes of the fire, in the day of the b assemblie) and the Lord gaue them vnto me.

b When you were assembled to receiue the lawe.

5 And I departed, and came downe from the Mount, and put the Tables in the Arke which I had made: and there they be, as the Lord commanded me.

6 ¶ And the children of Israel tooke their iourney from Beeroth of the children of Iaakan to c Mosera, where Aaron dyed, and was buried, and Eleazar his sonne became Priest in his steade.

c This mountaine was also called Hor, Nom. 20.28.

7 ¶ From thence they departed vnto Gudgodah, and from Gudgodah to Iotbath a land of running waters.

8 ¶ The same time the Lord separated the tribe of Leui to beare the Arke of the couenant of the Lord, [and] to stand before the Lord, to d minister vnto him, and to blesse in his Name vnto this day.

d That is, to offer sacrifices and to declare the Law to the people.

9 Wherefore Leui hath no part nor inheritance with his brethren: [for] the Lorde is his e inheritance, as the Lorde thy God hath promised him.

e So God turned the curse of Iaakob, Gen. 49.7. vnto blessing.

10 And I taryed in the mount, as at the first time, fourtie dayes and fourtie nightes, & the Lorde heard me at ꝑ time also, [&] ꝑ Lord would not destroy thee.

11 But the Lord saide vnto me, Arise, goe forth in the iourney before the people, that they may go in and possesse the land, which I sware vnto their fathers to giue vnto them.

12 ¶ And nowe, Israel, what doeth the Lorde thy God f require of thee, but to feare the Lorde thy God, to walke in all his wayes, and to loue him, and to serue the Lorde thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soule:

f For all our sinnes & transgressions God requireth nothing but to turne to him & obey him.

13 That ꝑ keepe the comandements of the Lord, and his ordinãces, which I command thee this day, for thy wealth:

14 Beholde, heauen, and the heauen of heauens [is] the Lords thy God, and the *earth, with all that therein is.

Psal. 24.1.

15 g Notwithstanding, the Lorde set his delite in thy fathers to loue them, & did choose their seede after thẽ, euẽ [you] aboue al people, as [appeareth] this day.

g Although he was Lord of heauen and earth, yet would he choose none but you.

16 h Circumcise therefore the foreskin of your heart, and harden your neckes no more.

h Cut off all your euill affections, Ier. 4.4.

17 For the Lorde your God is God of gods, & Lorde of lordes, a great God, mighty, & terrible, which accepteth no *persons nor taketh reward:

2. Chron. 19.7. Iob. 34.19. rom. 2.11.

18 Who doeth right vnto the fatherlesse and widowe, and loueth the stranger, giuing him foode and rayment.

19 Loue ye therefore the stranger: for ye were strangers in the land of Egypt.

20 *Thou shalt feare the Lorde thy God: ꝑ shalt serue him, and ꝑ shalt cleaue vnto him, & i shalt sweare by his Name.

Chap. 6.13. mat. 4.10.

i Reade Chap. 6.13.

21 He is thy praise, & he is thy God, ꝑ hath done for thee these great & terrible things, which thine eyes haue seene.

22 Thy fathers went downe into Egypt * with seuentie persons, & now the Lorde thy God hath made thee, as the *starres of the heauen in multitude.

Gen. 46.27. exod. 1.5. Gen. 15.5.

CHAP. XI.

1 An exhortation to loue God, & keepe his law. 10 The praises of Canaan. 18 To meditate continually the word of God. 19 To teach it vnto the children. 26 Blessing, and cursing.

THerefore thou shalt loue the Lorde thy God, & shalt keepe that, which he commandeth to be kept: that is, his ordinãces, and his lawes, and his commandements allway.

a Ye, which haue seene Gods graces with your eies, ought rather to be moued, thẽ your children, which haue onely heard of them.

2 And * cõsider this day ([for] I speake not] not] to your childrē, which haue neither knowen nor seene) the chastisement of ꝑ Lord your God, his greatnes, his mightie hand, and his stretched out arme,

3 And his signes, & his actes, which he did in ꝑ middes of Egypt vnto Pharaoh the King of Egypt and vnto al his land:

4 And what he did vnto the hoste of the Egyptians, vnto their horses and to their charets, when hee caused the waters of the red Sea to ouerflowe them, as they pursued after you, & the Lorde destroyed them vnto this day:

b Alwel cōcerning his benefites, as his correctiones.

5 And b what he did vnto you in ꝑ wildernes, vntil ye came vnto this place:

6 And what he did vnto Dathan and Abiram the sonnes of Eliab the sonne of Reuben, when the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed thē with their houlholdes and their tents, and al their substance that † they had in the middes of all Israel.

† Ebr. was at their feete.

7 For your eyes haue seene all the great actes of the Lord which he did.

c Because ye haue felt both his chastisements and his benefites.

8 Therefore shall yee keepe all the commandements, which I commande you this day, that ye may be strong, and goe in and possesse the land whither yee go to possesse it:

9 Also that yee may prolong [your] dayes in ꝑ land, which the Lord sware vnto your fathers, to giue vnto them & to their seede, [euen] a land that floweth with milke and honie.

10 For the lande whither thou goest to possesse it, is not as the lande of Egypt, from whence ye came, where thou sowedst thy seede, and wateredst it with thy ‖ d feete as a garden of herbes:

‖ Or, labour.

d As by making gutters for the water to come out of the riuer Nilus to water the land.

11 But ꝑ lād whither ye go to possesse it, [is] a lād of mountains & valleis, [and] drinketh water of the raine of heauen.

12 This land doth the Lord thy God care for: the eyes of the Lorde thy God [are] alwayes vpon it, from ꝑ beginning of the yeere, euen vnto the end of ꝑ yeere.

13 If ye shall hearken therefore vnto my commandements, which I command you this day, that ye loue the Lord your God and serue him with all your heart, and with all your soule, 14 I also will giue raine vnto your land in due time, the first raine & the latter, ꝑ thou mayest gather in thy wheate, and thy Wine, and thine oyle.

e In the feede time, and toward harueste.

15 Also I will send grasse in thy fields for thy cattell, that thou mayst eate, and haue ynough.

16 [But] beware least your heart † deceiue you, and least ye turne aside, & serue other gods, and worship them,

† By deuising to your selues foolish deuotions according to your owne fantasies.

17 And [so] the anger of the Lord be kindled against you, and he shut vp the heauen, that there be no raine, and that your land yeelde not her fruite, and yee perish quickly from ꝑ good land, which the Lord giueth you.

18 Therefore shall ye lay vp these my wordes in your heart and in your soule, and * binde them for a signe vpon your hand, that they may be as a frontlet betwene your eyes,

* Chap.6.6,8,

19 And yee shall * teache them your children, speaking of them, when thou sittest in thine house, & when thou walkest by the waye, and when thou liest downe, and when thou risest vp.

* Chap.4.10. & 6.6,7.

20 And thou shalt write them vpon ꝑ posts of thine house, & vpō thy gates, 21 That your dayes may be multiplied, and the dayes of your children, in the lande which the Lorde sware vnto your fathers to giue them, as long as g the heauens are aboue the earth.

g As long as the heauens endure.

22 For if yee keepe diligently all these commandements, which I command you to doe: [that is,] to loue the Lorde your God, to walke in all his wayes, and to cleaue vnto him,

23 Then will ꝑ Lord cast out al these nations before you, and ye shall possesse great nations and mightier then you.

24 * All the places whereon the soles of h your feete shal treade, shalbe yours: your coast shalbe from the wildernes and from Lebanon, and from the Riuer, [euen] the riuer Perath, vnto the vttermost i Sea.

Iosh.1.3.

h This was accōplished in Dauids & Salomons time.

i Called the Mediterranean.

25 No man shall stande against you: [for] the Lorde your God shall cast the feare and dread of you vpon all the land that ye shal treade vpon, as he hath said vnto you.

26 Beholde, I set before you this day a blessing and a curse:

27 * The blessing, if ye obey the commandements of the Lorde your God which I command you this day:

* Chap.28.2 & 30.1.

28 And the * curse, if ye will not obey the commandements of the Lord your God, but turne out of the way, which I cōmande you this day, to go after other gods, which ye haue not k knowen.

* Chap.28.15.

k He repeateth the malice of men which leaue ꝑ which is certaine, to followe that which is vncertaine.

29 When the Lord thy God therefore hath brought thee into ꝑ land, whither thou goest to possesse it, then thou shalt put the * blessing vpon mount Gerizim, and the curse vpon mount Ebal.

* Chap.27.12, 13, Iosh.8.33.

30 Are they not beyond Iorden on ẏ
l Meaning in Samaria. part, l where the sunne goeth downe in the land of the Canaanites, which dwel in the plaine ouer against Gilgal, beside the ‖ groue of Moreh?

‖ Or, playne. 31 For ye shall passe ouer Iorden, to goe in to possesse the lande, which the Lord your God giueth you, and ye shal possesse it, and dwell therein.

Chap.5.32. 32 Take heede therefore that ye * do all the commandements and the lawes, which I set before you this day.

CHAP. XII.

2 To destroy the idolatrous places. 5, 8. To serue God where he commandeth, and as he commandeth, and not as men fantasie. 19 The Leuites must be nourished. 31 Idolaters burnt their children to their gods. 32 To adde nothing to Gods worde.

THese are the ordinances and the lawes, which ye shal obserue and doe in the lande (which the Lorde God a of thy fathers giueth thee to possesse it) as long as ye liue vpon the earth.

a Whereby they are admonished to seeke none other God.

2 * Ye shall vtterly destroy al the places wherein the nations which ye shall possesse, serued their gods vpon the hie mountaines and vpon the hilles, and vnder euery greene tree. Chap.7.5.

Iudg.2.2. 3 * Also ye shall ouerthrowe their altars, and breake downe their pillars, and burne their b groues with fire: and ye shall hew downe the grauen images of their gods, and abolish their names out of that place.

b Wherein they sacrificed to their idols, c Ye shall not serue the Lord with superstitions. 4 Ye shall c not so do vnto the Lorde your God,

1.King.8.29. 2.chro.6.5. and 7.12,16. 5 But ye shall seeke the place which the Lorde your God shall * chuse out of all your tribes, to put his Name there, [and] there to dwell, and thither thou shalt come,

6 And yee shall bring thither your burnt offrings, and your sacrifices, and your tithes, and the d offring of your handes, and your vowes, and your free offrings and the first borne of your kine and of your sheepe.

d Meaning the first fruites.

e Where his Arke shalbe. 7 And there ye shall eate e before the Lord your God, and ye shall reioyce in al that ye put your hand vnto, [both] ye, and your houlholdes, because the Lord thy God hath blessed thee.

8 Ye shall not do after al these things that we do here this day: f that is euery man whatsoeuer seemeth him good in his owne eyes.

f Not that they sacrificed after their fantasies, but that God would be serued more purely in the land of Canaan. 9 For ye are not yet come to rest, and to the inheritance which the Lorde thy God giueth thee.

10 But when ye go ouer Iorden, and dwell in the land, which the Lord your God hath giuen you to inherite, and [when] he hath giuen you g rest from all your enemies round about, and ye dwel in safetie, g It had not bin enough to conquer, except God had maintained them in rest vnder his protection.

11 when there shalbe a place which the Lord your God shall chuse, to cause his Name to dwell there, thither shall ye bring all that I command you: your burnt offrings, and your sacrifices, your tithes, and the offring of your handes, and all your ‖ speciall vowes which yee vowe vnto the Lord:

‖ For, that which ye chuse out for your vowes.

12 And ye shall reioyce before ẏ Lord your God, ye, and your sonnes and your daughters, and your seruãts, and your maydens, and the Leuite that is within your gates: * for he hath no part nor inheritance with you. Chap.10.9.

13 Take heede that thou offer not thy burnt offrings in euery place that ẏ seest:

14 But in the place which the Lorde shal h chuse in one of thy tribes, there ẏ shalt offer thy burnt offrings, and there thou shalt do all that I command thee.

h As was declared euer by the placing of the Arke, as in Shiloh 243. yeeres, so as some write more then 300 yeeres, and in other places til the Temple was buyld.

15 Notwithstanding thou mayest kil and eate flesh in all thy gates, whatsoeuer thine heart desireth, according to the blessing of the Lord thy God which he hath giuen thee: [both] the vncleane and the cleane may eate thereof, k as of the roe bucke, and of the hart.

i As God hath giuē thee power and ability.

k Euery one might eate at home after the beast appointed for sacrifice as the other.

16 Onely ye shall not eate the blood, [but] powre it vpon the earth as water.

l Meaning, whatsoeuer was offred to the Lord might not be eaten, but where he had appointed.

17 ¶ Thou mayest not eate within thy gates the l tithe of thy corne, nor of thy wyne, nor of thine oyle, nor the first borne of thy kine, nor of thy sheepe, neither any of thy vowes which thou vowest, nor thy free offrings, nor the offring of thine hands,

18 But thou shalt eate it before the Lorde thy God, in the place which the Lord thy God shal chuse, thou, and thy sonne, and thy daughter, and thy seruant, and thy mayde, and the Leuite that is within thy gates: and thou shalt reioyce before the Lorde thy God, in all that thou puttest thine hand to.

19 * Beware, ẏ thou forsake not ẏ Leuite, as long as thou liuest vpon ẏ earth. Ecclus.7.32.

20 ¶ When the Lorde thy God shall enlarge thy border, as * he hath promised thee, ẏ thou shalt saye, I will eate flesh, (because thine heart lōgeth to eate flesh) thou maiest eate flesh, whatsoeuer thine heart desireth. Gen.28.14. chap.19.8.

21 If ẏ place which ẏ Lord thy God hath hath chosen to put his Name there, bee farre from thee, then thou shalt kill of thy bullockes, and of thy sheepe which the Lorde hath giuen thee, as I haue commanded thee, and thou shalt eate in thy gates, whatsoeuer thyne heart desireth.

22 Euen as the roe bucke and the hart is eaten, so shalt thou eate them: [both] the vncleane and the cleane shall eate of them alike.

‡ Ebr. be ſtrõg or constant.
m Because the life of beasts is in their blood.

23 Onely be ‡ sure that thou eate not the blood: for the blood m is the life, and thou mayest not eat the life with the flesh.

24 [Therefore] thou shalt not eate it, [but] powre it vpon the earth as water.

25 Thou shalt not eate it, that it may go well with thee, and with thy childre after thee, when thou shalt do that which is right in the sight of the Lord.

n That which thou wilt offer in sacrifice,

26 But thine n holy thinges which thou hast, & thy vowes thou shalt take vp, and come vnto the place which the Lord shall chuse.

27 And thou shalt make thy burnt offrings of the flesh, and of the blood vpon the altar of the Lorde thy God, & the blood of thine offrings shalbe powred vpon the altar of the Lord thy God, and thou shalt eat the flesh.

5 But that prophet, or that dreamer of dreames, he shall d be slaine, because he hath spoken to turne you away from the Lord your God (which brought you out of the lande of Egypt, and deliuered you out of the house of bondage) to thrust thee out of the way, wherein the Lorde thy God commanded thee to walke: so shalt thou take the euill away forth of the middes of thee.

7 But these ye shal not eate, of them that chewe the cudde, and of them that deuide and cleaue the hoofe [onely:] the camell, nor the hare, nor ꝑ cony: for they chewe the cudde, but deuide not ꝑ hoofe: [therfore] they shalbe vncleane vnto you:

8 Also the swyne, because he deuideth the hoofe, and cheweth not the cud, shal be vncleane vnto you: ye shall not eate of their flesh, nor touch their dead carkeises.

e The tithes were ordeined for the maintenance of the Leuites, which had none inheritance.

23 And thou shalt eate before the Lorde thy God (in the place which hee shall chuse to cause his Name to dwell there) the tithe of thy corne, of thy wine, and of thyne oyle, and the first borne of thy kine and of thy sheepe, that thou mayest learne to feare the Lorde thy God alway.

AT the terme of seuen yeeres thou shalt make a freedome.

2 And this is the maner of the freedome: euery creditour a shall quite that lone of his hand which he hath lent to his neighbour: hee shal not axe it againe of his neighbour, nor of his brother: for [the yeere] of the Lords freedome is proclaimed.

a He shal only release his debtors, which are not able to pay for that yere.

3 Of a stranger thou mayest require it: but that which thou hast with thy brother, thine hand shall remit:

4 b Saue when there shalbe no poore with thee: for the Lord shall blesse thee in the land, which the Lord thy God giueth thee, for an inheritance to possesse it:

b For if thy debtor be rich, he may be constrained to pay.

5 So that thou hearken vnto the voice of the Lord thy God to obserue and do all these commandementes, which I command thee this day.

6 For the Lord thy God hath blessed thee, as he hath promised thee: * thou shalt lende vnto many nations, but thou thy selfe shalt not borow, and thou shalt reigne ouer many nations, and they shal not reigne ouer thee. Chap.28.12.

e In token that thou doest acknowledge the benefite which God hath giuē thee by his labours.

15 And remember that thou wast a seruant in the land of Egypt, and the Lord thy God deliuered thee: therefore I cōmand thee this thing to day.

16 And if he say vnto thee, I will not go away from thee, because hee loueth thee and thine house, [and] because he is well with thee, g For the hired seruant serued but three yeres, and he sixe.

19 ¶ * All the first borne males that come of thy cattell, and of thy sheepe, thou shalt sanctifie vnto the Lorde thy God, h Thou shalt doe no worke with thy first borne bullocke, nor sheare thy first borne sheepe. Exod.34.19.

16 According to all that thou deſiredſt of the Lorde thy God in Horeb, in the day of the aſſemblie, when thou ſaideſt, *Let mee heare the voyce of my Lorde God no more, nor ſee this great fire any more, that I dye not.

22 When a Prophet ſpeaketh in the Name of the Lord, if ꝑ thing k follow not nor come to paſſe, that is ꝑ thing which the Lord hath not ſpoken, [but] the prophet hath ſpoke it preſumptuouſly: thou ſhalt not [therefore] be afraide of him.

3 Thou ſhalt a prepare thee the way, and deuide the coaſts of the land, which the Lorde thy God giueth thee to inherit, into three partes, that euery b manſlayer may flee thither.

a Make an open and ready way.

b Which killeth againſt his will, & bare no hatred in his heart.

4 ¶ This alſo is the cauſe wherefore the manſlaier ſhall flee thither, and liue: Who ſo killeth his neighbour ignorantly, and hated him not in time paſſed:

5 As hee ꝑ goeth vnto the wood with his neighbour to hew wood, & his hand ſtriketh with ꝑ axe to cut downe ꝑ tree, if the head ſlip from the helue, & hit his neighbour that he dieth, the ſame c ſhall flee vnto one of the cities, and liue.

11 ¶ But if a man hate his neighbour, and lay waite for him, and rise agaynst him, and smite any man that he die, and flee vnto any of these cities,

CHAP. XX.

3 The exhortation of the Priest when the Israelites go to battell. 5 The exhortation of the officers shewing who should go to battell. 10 Peace must first be proclaimed. 19 The trees that beare fruit, must not be destroyed.

a Meaning, vpon iust occasion: for God permitteth not his people to fight when it seemeth good to them.

WHen a thou shalt go forth to warre against thine enemies and shalt see horses and chariots, [and] people mo then thou, bee not afrayde of them: for the Lorde thy God [is] with thee, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

2 And when ye are come neere vnto the battell, then ỹ Priest shall come forth to speake vnto the people,

3 And shall say vnto them, Heare, O Israel: ye are come this day vnto battel against your enemies: * let not your hearts faint, neither feare, nor be amased, nor adread of them.

Chap.28.7.

4 For the Lorde your God b goeth with you, to fight for you against your enemies, [and] to saue you.

b Is present to defend you w his grace and power.

5 ¶ And let the officers speake vnto the people, saying, What man [is there] that hath built a newe house, and hath not c dedicate it: let him go and returne to his house, lest he die in the battell, and an other man dedicate it.

c For when they entred first to dwel in an house, they gaue thanks to God, acknowledging that they had that benefite by his grace.

6 And what man [is there] that hath planted a vineyard, & hath d not eaten of the fruite: let him go and returne againe vnto his house, least he die in the battel, and another eate the fruite.

d The Ebrews word signifieth to make common or profane, Leuit. 19.25.

7 And what man [is there] that hath betrothed a wife, & hath not taken her: let him goe and returne againe vnto his house, least he die in battell, and an other man take her.

8 And let the officers speake further vnto the people, and say, * whosoeuer is afraide and faint hearted, let him goe and returne vnto his house lest his brethrens heart faint like his heart.

Iudg.7.3.

9 And after that the officers haue made an end of speaking vnto the people, they shall make captaines of the armie to gouerne the people.

10 ¶ When thou comest neere vnto a citie to fight against it, thou shalt offer it peace.

Nomb.21.22. chap.2,26.

11 And if it answere thee again peaceably, and open vnto thee, then let all the people that is founde therein, be tributaries vnto thee, and serue thee.

c It it accepte peace.

12 But if it will make no peace with thee, but make warre against thee, then thou shalt beseige it.

13 And the Lord thy God shal deliuer it into thine hāds, & thou shalt smite al ỹ males thereof with ỹ edge of the sword.

14 Only the women, and the children, * and the cattel, and all that is in the city, [euen] all the spoyle thereof shalt thou take vnto thy selfe, & shalt eate the spoile of thine enemies, which the Lorde thy God hath giuen thee.

Iosh.8,2.

15 Thus shalt thou do vnto all the cities, which are a great way of frō thee, f For God had appointed that ꝑ Canaanites should be destroied, & made the Israelites executers of his will, chap. 7.1.

which are not of the cities of these f nations here.

16 But of the cities of this people, which the Lord thy God shal giue thee to inherite, ꝑ shalt saue no person aliue,

17 But shalt vtterly destroy them: [to wit,] the Hittites, and the Amorites, the Canaanites, and the Perizzites, the Hiuites, and the Iebusites, as the Lorde thy God hath commanded thee, 18 That they teach you not to do after all their abominations, which they haue done vnto their gods, and [so] ye should sinne against the Lord your God.

19 ¶ When thou hast besieged a citie long time, and made warre against it to take it, destroy not the trees thereof, by smiting an axe into them: for thou maiest eate of them: therefore thou shalt not cut them downe to further thee in the siege (for the g tree of the field is mans [life])

g Some read, For man shall be in steade of the tree of the field, to come out in the siege against thee.

20 Onely those trees, which thou knowest are not for meate, those shalt thou destroy and cut downe, and make forts against the city that maketh warre with thee, vntill thou subdue it.

CHAP. XXI.

a Inquisition for murther, 11 Of the woman taken in warre. 15 The birthright cannot be changed for affection. 18 The disobedient child. 23 The bodie may not hang all night.

a This law declareth howe horrible a thing murther is, seeing that for one man a whole country shalbe punished except a remedie be found.

IF one be found a slaine in the land, which ꝑ Lorde thy God giueth thee to possesse it, lying in the fielde, [and] it is not knowen who hath slaine him,

2 Then thine Elders and thy Iudges shall come forth, and measure vnto the cities that are round about him that is slaine.

3 And let the Elders of that citie, which is next vnto the slaine man, take out of the droue an heyfer that hath not beene put to labour, nor hath drawen in the yoke.

4 And let the Elders of that citie bring the heifer vnto a ‖ stonie b valley, which is neither eared nor sowen, and strike off the heifers necke there in the valley.

‖ Or, rough.
b That ꝑ blood shed of the innocent beast in a solitarie place, might make them abhorre the fact.

5 Also the Priestes the sonnes of Leui (whom the Lorde thy God hath chosen to minister, and to blesse in the name of the Lorde) shall come forth, and by their worde shall all strife and plague be tryed.

6 And all the Elders of that citie that came neere to the slaine man, shall wash their hands ouer the heifer that is beheaded in the valley:

7 And shal testifie, and say, Our hands haue not shed this blood, neyther haue our eyes seene it.

8 c O Lorde, be mercifull vnto thy people Israel, whome thou hast redemed, and lay no innocent blood to the charge of thy people Israel, & the blood shall be forgiuen them.

c This was ꝑ prayer, which the Priestes made in the audience of the people.

9 So shalt thou take away [the cry] of innocent blood from thee, when thou shalt doe that which is right in the sight of the Lord.

10 ¶ When thou shalt goe to warre against thine enemies, & the Lorde thy God shall deliuer thē into thine handes, and thou shalt take them captiues,

11 And shalt see among the captiues a beautifull woman, and hast a desire vnto her, & wouldest take her to thy wife,

12 Then thou shalt bring her home to thine house, d and she shall shaue her head, and pare her nailes, d Signifying that her former life must be changed before they could be ioyned to the people of God.

13 And she shal put off the garment ꝑ she was taken in, and she shall remaine in thine house, e and bewaile her father & her mother a moneth long: and after that shalt thou goe in vnto her, and marie her, and she shalbe thy f wife.

e As hauing renounced parents prostrity.
f This onely was permitted in the warres; otherwise the Israelites could not marry strangers.

14 And if thou haue no fauour vnto her, then thou mayest let her goe whither she will, but thou shalt not sell her for money, nor make marchādise of her, because thou hast humbled her.

15 ¶ If a man haue two wiues, one loued and an other g hated, and they haue borne him children, both the loued and also the hated: if the first borne bee the sonne of the hated, g This declareth that the pluralitie of wiues came of a corrupt affection.

16 Then when the time commeth, that hee appointeth his sonnes to bee heires of that which he hath, hee may not make the sonne of the beloued first borne ‖ before the sonne of the hated, which is the first borne:

‖ Or, while the sonne of the hated liueth.

17 But he shal acknowledge ꝑ sonne of the hated for ꝑ first borne, & giue him h double portion of all that he hath: for he is the first of his strength, & ꝑ i him belongeth the right of the first borne.

h As much as to two of the others.
i Except he be vnworthy, as was Reuben Iaakobs sonne.

18 If any man haue a sonne that is stubburne & disobedient, which will not hearke vnto ꝑ voyce of his father, nor ꝑ voyce of his k mother, & they haue chastened him, and he would not obey thē, k For it is the mothers dutie also to instruct her children.

19 Then shall his father and his mother take him, and bring him out vnto ꝑ Elders of his citie, and vnto the gate of the place where he dwelleth,

20 And shal say vnto the Elders of his citie, This our sonne is stubburne & disobedient, [&] he will not obey our admonti-tion: he is a ryotour, and a drunkard.

21 Then all the men of his citie shall stone him wᵗ stones vnto death: so thou shalt take away euill from among you, that all Israel may heare it, and feare.

l Which death was also appointed for blasphemers & idolaters: so that to disobey the parents is most horrible.

22 ¶ If a man also haue committed a trespasse worthy of death, and is put to death, and thou hangest him on a tree, m For Gods lawe by his death is satisfied, & nature abhorreth cruelties. Galat.3.13.

23 His body shall not remayne ᵐ all night vpon the tree, but thou shalt bury him the same day: for the *curse of God [is] on him that is hanged. Defile not therefore thy lande which the Lord thy God giueth thee to inherite.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Hee commandeth to haue care of our neighbours goods. 5 The woman may not weare mans apparell, nor man the womans. 6 Of the damme and her yong birdes. 8 Why they should haue battelments. 9 Not to mixe diuers kindes together. 13 Of the wife not being found a virgine. 22 The punishment of aduulterie.

Exod.23.4.

THOU* shalt not see thy brothers oxe or his sheepe go astray, and ª withdrawe thy selfe from them, [but] shalt bring them againe vnto thy brother.

a As though thou sawest it not.

2 And if thy brother be not ᵇ neere vnto thee, or if thou knowe him not, then thou shalt bring it into thine house, and it shall remaine with thee, vntil thy brother seeke after it: then shalt thou deliuer it to him againe.

b Shewing, that brotherly affection must be shewed, not only to them that dwel nere vnto vs, but also to them which are farre off.

3 In like maner shalt thou doe with his ᶜ asse, and so shalt thou doe with his rayment, and shalt so doe with all lost thinges of thy brother, which hee hath lost: if thou hast founde them, thou shalt not withdrawe thy selfe [from them.]

c Much more are thou bound to doe for thy neighbours person.

4 ¶ Thou shalt not see thy brothers asse or his oxe fall downe by the way, & withdrawe thy selfe from them, [but] shalt lift them vp with him.

5 ¶ The ᵈ woman shall not weare that which perteyneth vnto the man, neither shall a man put on womans rayment: for all that do so, [are] abomination vnto the Lord thy God.

d For that were to alter the order of nature, and to despite God.

6 ¶ If thou finde a birdes nest in the way, in any tree, or on the ground, [whether they bee] yong or egges, and the damme sitting vpon the yong, or vpon the egges, ᵉ thou shalt not take ᵛ damme with the yong, e If God detest cruelitie done to litle birds, howe much more to man, made according to his image?

7 [But] shalt in any wise let ᵛ damme goe and take the yong to thee, that thou maiest prosper and prolong thy dayes.

8 ¶ When thou buildest a new house, thou shalt make a battlement on thy roofe, that thou lay not blood vpō thine house, if any man fall thence.

9 ¶ Thou shalt not ᶠ sowe thy vineyarde with diuers kindes of seedes, least thou defile the increase of the seed which thou hast sowen, and the fruite of the vineyarde.

f The tenor of this Law is, to walke in simplicitie, & not to be curious of new inuentions.

10 ¶ Thou shalt not plowe with an oxe and an asse together.

11 ¶ Thou shalt not weare [a garment] of diuers sorts, as of woollen and linen together.

12 ¶* Thou shalt make thee fringes vpon the foure quarters of thy vesture, wherewith thou couerest thy selfe. Nom.15.38.

13 ¶ If a man take a wife, and when he hath lyen with her, hate her,

14 And lay ᵍ slaunderous things vnto her charge, and bring vp an euill name vpon her, and say, I tooke this wife, and when I came to her, I found her not a mayde, g That is, he an occasion that she is slaundered.

15 Then shall the father of the mayd and her mother take & bring the signes of the maydes virginitie vnto the Elders of the citie to the gate.

16 And the maydes father shall saye vnto the Elders, I gaue my daughter vnto this man to wife, & he hateth her:

17 And loe, he layeth slaunderous things vnto her charge, saying, I found not thy daughter a mayde: loe, these [are] the tokens [of] my daughters virginitie: and they shall spread the ʰ vesture before the Elders of the citie.

h Meaning the sheete, wherein the signes of her virginitie were.

18 Then the Elders of the citie shall take that man and chastise him,

19 And shall condemne him in an hundreth [shekels] of siluer, & giue them vnto the father of the mayde, because he hath brought vp an euill name vpon a maid of Israel: and she shall be his wife, and he may not put her away all his life.

i For the fault of the child redoundeth to the shame of the parents: therefore he was recōpensed when the was faultles.

20 ¶ But if this thing be true, that the maide be not founde a virgine, 21 Then they shall bring foorth the maide to the doore of her fathers house, and the men of her citie shall stone her with stones to death: for shee hath wrought folly in Israel, by playing the whore in her fathers house: so thou shalt put euill away from among you.

22 ¶* If a man be found lying with a woman married to a man, then they shall dye euen both twaine: [to wit,] the man that lay with the wife, & the wife: so thou shalt put away euill frō Israel. Leuit.20.10.

23 ¶ If a mayde be betrothed vnto an husbande, and a man finde her in the towne and lye with her,

24 Then shall ye bring thē both out vnto the gates of the same citie, and shal stone thē with stones to death: ꝑ mayde because she cryed not, [being] in the citie, and the man, because he hath ‖ humbled his neighbours wife: so thou shalt put away euill from among you.

‖Or, defiled.

25 ¶ But if a man finde a betrothed maide in the fielde, and forze her, and lye with her, thē the man that lay with her, shall die alone:

26 And vnto the maide thou shalt do nothing, because there is in the mayde no ‖ cause of death: for as when a man riseth against his neighbour and woundeth him to death, so [a] is this matter.

‖Or, no sinne worthy death.

a Meaning, that the innocent can not be punished.

27 For hee founde her in the fieldes: the betrothed mayde cryed, and there was no man to succour her.

Exod.22.16.

28 ¶ * If a man finde a mayde that is not betrothed, and take her, and lye with her, and they be founde, 29 Then the man that lay with her, shall giue vnto the maydes father fifte [shekels] of siluer: & she shall be his wife, because he hath humbled her: he can not put her away all his life.

30 ¶ No man shall [a] take his fathers wife, nor shall vncouer his fathers skirt.

a He shall not lye with his stepmother: meaning hereby al other degrees forbidde, Leuit. 18.

1 What men might not bee admitted to office. 9 What they ought to auoyd when they go to warre. 15 Of the fugitiue seruant. 17 To flee all kinde of whoredome. 19 Of vsurie. 21 Of vowes. 24 Of the neighbours vine and corne.

NOne that is hurt by burstling, or that hath his priuie member cut off, [a] shall enter into the Congregation of the Lorde.

a Eyther to beare office, or to marrie a wife.

2 [b] A bastarde shall not enter into the Congregation of the Lorde: euen to his tenth generation shall hee not enter into the Congregation of the Lord.

b This was to cause them to liue chastely, ꝑ their posteritie might not be reiected. Nehe.13.1.

3 * The Ammonites and the Moabites shall not enter into the Congregation of the Lorde: euen to their tenth generation shall they not enter into the cōgregation of the Lord for euer,

4 Because they [c] met you not with bread and water in the way, when ye came out of Egypt, & * because they hired against thee Balaam the sonne of Beor, of Pethor in Aram-naharaim, to curse thee.

c Hereby he ebenmeth all, that further not the children of God in their vocation. Nom.22.5,6.

5 Neuertheleſſe, the Lorde thy God Would not hearken vnto Balaam, but the Lord thy God turned the curſſe to a bleſſing vnto thee, because the Lord thy God loued thee.

6 Thou [d] shalt not seeke their peace nor their prosperitie all thy dayes for euer.

d Thou shalt haue nothing to doe with them.

7 ¶ Thou shalt not abhorre an Edomite: for he is thy brother, neither shalt thou abhorre an Egyptiā, because thou wast a stranger in his land.

8 The children that are begotten [e] of them in their third generation, shall enter into the Congregation of the Lorde.

e If ꝑ fathers haue renounced their idolatrie, and receiued circumcision.

9 ¶ When thou goest out with the hoste against thine enemies, keepe thee then from all wickednes.

10 ¶ If there be among you any that is vncleane by that which commeth to him by night, he shal go out of the hoste, and shall not enter into the hoste, 11 But at euen he shal wash [himself] with water, & when the sunne is down, he shall enter into the hoste.

12 ¶ Thou shalt haue a place also without the hoste, whither thou shalt [f] resort, f For the necessitie of nature.

13 And thou shalt haue a paddle among thy weapons, and when thou wouldest sit downe without, thou shalt digge therewith, and returning thou shalt [g] couer thine excrements.

g Meaning hereby ꝑ his people should be pure both in soule and body.

14 For the Lorde thy God walketh in the middes of thy campe to deliuer thee, and to giue [thee] thine enemies before thee: therefore thine hoste shalbe holy, that he see no filthie thing in thee and turne away from thee.

15 ¶ Thou shalt not [h] deliuer the seruant vnto his master, which is escaped from his master vnto thee.

h This is meē of the heathen, who fled for their masters cruelties, and imbraced the true religion.

16 He shall dwell with thee, [euen] among you, in what place he shal choose, in one of thy [i] cities where it liketh him best: thou shalt not vexe him.

i Ebr. gates.

17 ¶ There shall be no whore of the daughters of Israel, neither shall there be a whore keeper of ꝑ sonnes of Israel.

18 Thou shalt neither bring the [i] hire of a whoore, nor the price of a dogge into the house of the Lorde thy God for any vowe: for euen both these [are] abomination vnto the Lord thy God.

i Forbidding hereby that any gaine gotte of euill things should be applied to the seruice of God, Mich.1.7. Exod.22.25. Leuit.25.36.

19 ¶ * Thou shalt not giue to vsury to thy brother: [as] vsury of money, vsury of meate, vsury of any thing that is put to vsury.

20 Unto a [k] stranger thou mayest lend vpon vsury, but thou shalt not lend vpon vsurie vnto thy brother, that the Lorde thy God may [l] blesse thee in all that thou settest thine hande to, in the lande whither thou goest to possesse it.

k This was permitted for a time for the hardnes of their heart.

l If thou shew thy charitie to thy brother, God will declare his loue toward thee.

21 ¶ When thou shalt vowe a vowe vnto the Lorde thy God, thou shalt not be slacke to pay it: for the Lorde thy God will surely require it of thee, and

[so]

[so] it should be sinne vnto thee.

22 But when thou abstainest from vowing, it shalbe no sinne vnto thee.

23 That which is gone out of thy lippes, thou shalt [m] keepe and performe, as thou hast vowed it willingly vnto the Lord thy God: [for] thou hast spoken it with thy mouth.

m If the vowe be lawfull and godly.

24 ¶ When thou commest vnto thy neighbours vineyard, then thou mayest eate grapes at thy pleasure, as much as thou wilt: but thou shalt put none in thy [o] vessell.

n Being hired for to labour.

o To bring home to thine house, Mat. 12.1.

25 When thou comest into thy neighbours corne * thou mayest plucke the eares with thine hande, but thou shalt not moue a sickle to thy neighbours corne.

CHAP. XXIIII.

1 Diuorcement is permitted. 5 He that is newly married is exempted from warre. 6 Of the pledge. 14 Wages must not be retained. 16 The good must not be punished for the bad. 17 The care of the stranger, fatherlesse and widowe.

When a man taketh a wife, and marryeth her, if so bee shee finde no fauour in his eyes, because hee hath espyed some filthinesse in her, [a] then let him write her a bill of diuorcement, and put it in her hande, and sende her out of his house.

a Hereby God approueth not that light diuorcement, but permitteth it to auoyde further inconuenience, Mat. 19.7.

2 And when she is departed out of his house, and gone her way, and marry with another man,

3 And if the latter husband hate her, and write her a letter of diuorcement, & put it in her hande, and sende her out of his house, or if the latter man die which tooke her to wife:

4 [Then] her first husbande, which sent her away, may not take her againe to be his wife, after that she is [b] defiled: for that [is] abomination in the sight of the Lorde, and thou shalt not cause the land to sinne, which the Lorde thy God doeth giue thee to inherite.

b Seeing that by dimitting her, he iudged her to be vncleane and defiled,

5 ¶ When a man taketh a newe wife, he shall not go a warfare, [c] neither shall be charged with any businesse, but shall be free at home one yeere, and reioyce with his wife which he hath taken.

When there shall be strife betweene men, and they shall come vnto iudgement, [a] and sentence shall be giuen vpon them, and the righteous shal be iustified, and the wicked condemned,

2 Then if so be the wicked be worthy to be beaten, the iudge shall cause him to lie downe, [b] and to be beaten before his face, according to his trespasse, vnto a certaine number.

6 And the first borne which she beareth, shall succeede in the name of his brother which is dead, that his name be not put out of Israel.

7 And if the man will not take his kinswoman, then let his kinswoman goe vp to the gate vnto the Elders, and say, My kinseman refuseth to raise vp vnto his brother a name in Israel: hee will not doe the office of a kinseman vnto me.

8 Then the Elders of his citie shall call him, and commune with him: if hee stande and say, I will not take her, 15 [But] thou shalt haue a right and iust weight: a perfite and a iust measure shalt thou haue, that thy dayes may be lengthened in the land, which the Lorde thy God giueth thee.

16 For all that do such things, [and] all that doe vnrighteously, [are] abomination vnto the Lorde thy God.

19 Therefore, when the Lorde thy God hath giuen thee rest from all thine enemies rounde about in the lande, which the Lorde thy God giueth thee for an inheritance to possesse it, [then] thou shalt put out the [f] remembrance of Amalek from vnder heauen: forget not.

55 For feare of giuing vnto any of them of the flesh of his children, whome he shal eate, because he hath nothing left him in that siege, and straitnes, wherewith thine enemie shall besiege thee in all thy cities.

56 The tender and deintie t woman among you, which neuer would venture to set the sole of her foote vpon the ground (for her softnes and tendernes) shalbe grieued at her husband, [that lyeth] in her bosome, and at her sonne, and at her daughter, t As came to passe in the dayes of Ioram, King of Israel, 2. king. 6. 29. and when the Romanes besieged Ierusalem.

57 And at her u afterbirth (that shall come out from betweene her feete) and at her children, which she shal beare: for when all things lacke, she shall eat them secretly, during the siege and straitnes, wherewith thine enemie shall besiege thee in thy cities.

u Hunger shall so bite her, that she shalbe ready to eate her childe before it be deliuered.

58 ¶ If thou wilt not keepe and doe x all the wordes of this Lawe (that are written in this booke) and feare this glorious and fearefull Name THE LORD THY GOD, x For he that offendeth in one, is guiltie of all, Iam. 2. 10.

59 Then the Lorde will make thy plagues wonderfull, and the plagues of thy seede, [euen] great plagues & of long continuance, & sore diseases, and of long durance.

60 Moreouer, he wil bring vpon thee all the diseases of Egypt, whereof thou wast afrayd, and they shall cleaue vnto thee.

61 And euery sickness, & euery plague, which is not y written in the booke of this Lawe, will the Lorde heape vpon thee, vntill thou be destroyed.

y Declaring that God hath infinite meanes to plague the wicked, besides them that are ordinarie or written. Chap. 10. 22.

62 And ye shalbe left fewe in nomber, where ye were as the z starres of heauen in multitude, because thou wouldest not obey the voyce of the Lord thy God.

63 And as ℘ Lord hath reioyced ouer you, to doe you good, & to multiplie you, so he will reioyce ouer you, to destroy you, and bring you to nought, & ye shall be rooted out of the land, whither thou goest goest to possesse it.

64 And the Lord shall y scatter thee among all people, from þ one end of the worlde vnto the other, and there thou shalt serue other gods, which thou hast not knowen nor thy fathers, [euē] wood and stone.

65 Also among these nations thou shalt finde no rest, neither shall the sole of thy foote haue rest: for the Lord shall giue thee there a trembling heart, and [looking to returne] till thine eyes fail out, and a sorowfull minde.

66 And thy life shal [hang before thee, and thou shalt feare both night and day, & shalt haue none assurance of thy life.

67 In the morning thou shalt say, Would God it were euening, and at euening thou shalt say, Would God it were morning, for the feare of thine heart, which thou shalt feare, and for the sight of thine eyes, which thou shalt see.

68 And the Lord shal bring thee into Egypt agam with z shippes by the way, whereof I sayd vnto thee, Thou shalt see it no more againe: and there ye shall sell your selues vnto your enemies for bondmen and bondwomen, and there [shalbe] no byer.

CHAP. XXIX.

2 The people are exhorted to obserue the commaundements. 10 The whole people from the hiest to the lowest are comprehended vnder Gods couenant. 19 The punishment of him that flattereth himselfe in his wickednes. 24 The cause of Gods wrath against his people.

a That is, the articles, or conditions.

THese are the a wordes of the couenant which the Lorde commanded Moses to make with the children of Israel in the land of Moab beside the couenant which he had made w̄ them in b Horeb.

b At the first giuing of the Lawe, which was fourtie yeeres before.

2 ¶ And Moses called all Israel, and sayde vnto them, Ye haue seene all that the Lorde did before your eyes in þ land of Egypt vnto Pharaoh and vnto al his seruants, and vnto all his land,

3 The c great tentations which thine eyes haue seene, those great miracles and wonders:

c The proofes of my power.

4 Yet the Lord hath not d giuen you an heart to perceiue, and eyes to see, and eares to heare, vnto this day.

d He sheweth that it is not in mans power to vnderstand the mysteries of God, if it be not giuen him from aboue.

5 And I haue led you fourtie yeere in the wildernesse: your clothes are not waxed old vpon you, neither is thy shoe waxed olde vpon thy foote.

6 Ye haue eaten no e bread, neither dronke wine, nor strong drinke, that ye might know how that I am the Lord your God.

e Made by mans arte, but manna, which is called the bread of Angels.

7 After, ye came vnto this place, and Sihon king of Heshbon, & Og king of Bashan came out against vs vnto battel, and we slewe them,

8 And tooke their land, and gaue it for an inheritance vnto the Reubenites, and to the Gadites, & to the halfe tribe of Manasseh.

9 *Keepe therefore the wordes of this couenant and do them, that ye may prosper in all that ye shall doe. * Chap.4.6. 1.king.2.3.

10 Ye stand this day euery one of you before the Lord your f God: your heads of your tribes, your Elders and your officers, [euen] all the men of Israel:

f Who knoweth your hearts, & therefore ye may not thinke to dissemble with him.

11 Your children, your wiues, and thy stranger that is in thy campe from the hewer of thy wood, vnto the drawer of thy water,

12 That thou shouldest g passe into the couenant of the Lord thy God, and into his othe which the Lorde thy God maketh with thee this day, g Alluding to them, that when they made a sure couenant, bounded a beast in twaine, and past betweene the parts deuided, Gen. 15.10.

13 For to establish thee this day a people vnto himselfe, & that he may be vnto thee a God, as he hath sayde vnto thee, and as he hath sworne vnto thy fathers, Abraham, Izhak, and Iaakob.

14 Neither make I this couenant, and this othe with you onely, 15 But [also with] him that standeth here with vs this day before the Lord our God, as with him h that is not here with vs this day.

h Meaning their posteritie.

16 For ye know, how we haue dwelt in the land of Egypt, & how we passed through the mids of the nations, which ye passed by.

17 And ye haue seene their abominations & their idoles (wood, and stone, siluer and gold) which were among them,

18 That there should not be among you man nor woman, nor familie, nor tribe, which should turne his heart away this day from the Lorde our God, to goe & serue the gods of these nations, [and] that there should not be among you [any] roote that bringeth forth gall and wormewood, 19 So that when he heareth þ wordes of this curse, he ‖ blesse himselfe in his heart, saying, I shall haue peace, although I walke according to the stubburnesse of mine owne heart, thus adding i drunkennes to thirst.

i Such sinne, as the bitter fruite thereof might choke & destroy you. Act.8.23.

‖Or, flatter.

20 The Lord will not be merciful vnto him, but then the wrath of the Lorde and his iealousie shall smoke against that man, and euery curse that is written in k For as he that is thirstie, desireth to drinke much, so he that followeth his appetites, feruently by all meanes, and yet can not be satisfied.

this booke, shall light vpon him, and the Lorde shall put out his name from vnder heauen, 21 And ỹ Lord shal separate him vnto euill out of all the tribes of Israel, accoꝛding vnto all the curses of the couenant, that is written in ỹ booke of this Lawe.

l Gods plagues vpon them that rebell against him, shalbe so strange, that all ages shalbe astonied.

22 So that the [l] generation to come, [euen] your children, that shall rise vp after you, and the stranger that shall come from a farre land, shall say, when they shal see the plagues of this land, and the diseases thereof, wherewith the Lorde shall smite it:

23 [For] all that lād [shal] burne with brimstone and salt: it shall not be sowen, noꝛ bring fooꝛth, noꝛ any grasse shall growe therein, like as in the ouerthrowing of *Sodom, and Gomoꝛah, Admah, and Zeboim, which the Lorde ouerthꝛewe in his wꝛath and in his anger)

Gen. 19. 24, 25.

1. King. 9. 8. iere. 22. 8.

24 Then shal al nations say, *wherefoꝛe hath the Lord done thus vnto this land: howe fierce is this great wꝛath?

25 And they shall answere, Because they haue foꝛsaken the couenant of the Lorde God of their fathers, which he had made with them, when he brought them out of the land of Egypt,

26 And went and serued other gods & woꝛshipped them: [euen] gods which they knewe not, and ‖ which had giuen them nothing,

‖ Or, which had not giuen them a land to possesse.

27 Therefoꝛe the wꝛath of the Lord ware hot against this land, to bring vpon it euery curse that is written in this booke.

m Moses hereby reproueth their curiositie, which seeke those things that are onely knowne to God: & their negligence that regard not ỹ, which God hath reuealed vnto them, as the Lawe, 28 And the Lord hath rooted them out of their land in anger, and in wꝛath, and in great indignation, and hath cast them into another land, as [appeareth] this day.

29 The [m] secret things [belong] to the Lord our God, but the things reuealed [belong] vnto vs, and to our children foꝛ euer, that we may doe all the woꝛdes of this Lawe.

CHAP. XXX.

1 Mercie shewed when they repent. 6 The Lorde doeth circumcise the heart. 11 All excuse of ignorance is taken away. 19 Life and death is set before them. 20 The Lord is their life which obey him.

a By calling to remembrance, both his mercies & his plagues,

NOwe when all these thinges shal come vpon thee, [either] the blessing oꝛ ỹ curse which I haue set before thee, & thou shalt [a] turne into thine heart, among all the nations whither ỹ Lorde thy God hath driuen thee,

2 And shalt returne vnto the Lorde thy God, and obey his voyce in all that I commaund thee this day: thou, and thy children with all thine [b] heart and with all thy soule, b In true repentance is none hypocrisie.

3 Then the Lord thy God will cause thy captiues to returne, and haue compassion vpon thee, and will returne, to gather thee out of all the people, where the Lord thy God hath scattered thee.

4 Though thou were̊t cast into the vtmost part of [c] heauen, from thence will the Lorde thy God gather thee, & from thence will he [d] take thee, c Euen to the worldes end.

d And bring thee into thy countrey.

5 And the Lorde thy God will bring thee into the land which thy fathers possessed, and thou shalt possesse it, and he will shewe thee fauour, and will multiplie thee aboue thy fathers.

6 And the Lorde thy God will [e] circumcise thine heart, and the heart of thy seede, that thou mayest loue the Lorde thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soule, that thou mayest liue.

e God will purge all thy wicked affections: which thing is not in thine owne power to doe.

7 And ỹ Lord thy God will lay al these curses vpon thine enemies, & on them, that hate thee, and that persecute thee.

8 [f] Returne thou therefoꝛe, and obey the voyce of the Lorde, and doe all his commandements, which I commaund thee this day.

f If we will haue God to worke in vs with his holy Spirit, we must turne again to him by repentance.

9 And the Lord thy God will make thee plenteous in euery woꝛke of thine hand, in the fruite of thy body, and in the fruite of thy cattel, and in the fruit of the land foꝛ thy wealth: foꝛ the Lorde will turne againe and [g] reioyce ouer thee to doe thee good, as he reioyced ouer thy fathers, g He meaneth not that God is subiect to these passions, to reioyce oꝛ to be sad: but he vseth this maner of speach to declare the loue that he beareth vnto vs.

10 Because thou shalt obey the voyce of the Lorde thy God, in keeping his commandements, and his ordinances, which are written in the booke of this Lawe, when thou shalt returne vnto the Lord thy God with all thine heart and with all thy soule.

11 ¶ Foꝛ this commandement which I commande thee this day, is [h] not hid from thee, neither is it farre off.

h The lawe is so euident that none can pretend ignorance. Rom. 10. 6.

12 It is not in heauen, that thou shouldest say, *who shall go vp foꝛ vs to heauen, and bring it vs, and cause vs to heare it, that we may doe it?

13 Neither is it beyonde the [i] sea, that thou shouldest say, Who shall goe ouer the sea foꝛ vs, and bring it vs, and cause vs to heare it, that we may doe it?

i By heauen & the sea he meaneth places most farre distant.

14 But the [k] woꝛde is very neere vnto thee: [euen] in thy mouth and in thine heart, foꝛ to [l] doe it.

k Euen the lawe and the Gospel.

l By faith in Christ.

15 Beholde

15 Beholde, I haue ſet before thee this day life and good, death and euill, 16 In that I command thee this day, [m] to loue the Lord thy God, to walke in his wayes, and to keepe his commandements, and his ordinances, & his lawes, that thou mayeſt [n] liue and be multiplied, and that the Lorde thy God may bleſſe thee in the lande, whither thou goeſt to poſſeſſe it.

17 But if thine heart turne away, ſo that thou wilt not obey, but chalt be ſeduced and worſhip other gods, and ſerue them,

18 I pronounce vnto you this day, that ye ſhall ſurely periſh, ye ſhall not prolong your dayes in the land, whither thou paſſeſt ouer Iorden to poſſeſſe it.

19 *I call heauen and earth to record this day againſt you, [that] I haue ſet before you life and death, bleſſing and curſing, therefore [o] chuſe life, that [both] thou and thy ſeede may liue, 20 By louing the Lorde thy God, by obeying his voyce, and by cleauing vnto him: for hee is thy life, and the length of thy dayes: that thou mayeſt dwell in the land which the Lord ſware vnto thy fathers, Abraham, Izhak and Iaakob, to giue them.

m So that to loue and obey God, is onely life and felicitie.

n He addeth theſe promiſes to ſignifie that it is for our profite that we loue him, and not for his.

Chap.4.26.

o That is, loue and obey God: which thing is not in mans power, but Gods Spirit onely worketh it in his elect.

CHAP. XXXI.

2,7 Moſes preparing himſelfe to die, appointeth Iohua to rule the people. 9 He giueth the Lawe to the Leuites, that they ſhoulde reade it to the people. 19 God giueth them a ſong as a witneſſe betweene him and them. 23 God confirmeth Iohua. 29 Moſes ſheweth them that they will rebell after his death.

AND when Moſes went and ſpake theſe wordes vnto all Iſrael,

2 And ſaide vnto them, I am an hundreth and twentie yere olde this day: I [a] can no more go out and in: alſo the Lord hath ſaid vnto me, *Thou ſhalt not go ouer this Iorden.

3 The Lord thy God he will go ouer before thee: he wil deſtroy theſe nations before thee, & thou ſhalt poſſeſſe them. *Iohua, he ſhall goe before thee, as the Lord hath ſaid.

4 And the Lord ſhall doe vnto them, as he did to *Sihon and to Og kings of the Amorites, & vnto their land whome he deſtroyed.

5 And the Lord ſhall giue them [b] before you that ye may do vnto them according vnto euery *cõmandement, which I haue commanded you.

6 Plucke ‖ vp your hearts therefore, and be ſtrong: dread not, nor be afraide of them: for the Lord thy God himſelfe doth go with thee: he will not faile thee, nor forſake thee.

7 And Moſes called Iohua, and ſaide vnto him in the ſight of all Iſrael, Be [c] of a good courage and ſtrong: for thou ſhalt goe with this people vnto the land which the Lord hath ſworne vnto their fathers, to giue them, & thou ſhalt giue it them to inherite.

8 And the Lord him ſelfe doeth [d] goe before thee: he will be with thee: he will not faile thee, neither forſake thee: feare not [therefore,] nor be diſcomforted.

9 And Moſes wrote this Lawe, and deliuered it vnto the Prieſtes the ſonnes of Leui (which bare the Arke of the couenant of the Lorde) and vnto all the Elders of Iſrael,

10 And Moſes commaunded them, ſaying, *Euery ſeuenth yere *when the yeere of freedome [ſhalbe] in the feaſt of the Tabernacles:

11 When all Iſrael ſhall come to appeare [e] before the Lorde thy God, in the place which hee ſhall chuſe, thou ſhalt reade this Lawe before all Iſrael that they may heare it.

12 Gather the people together: men, and women, and children, and thy ſtranger that is within thy gates, that they may heare, & that they may learne, and feare the Lorde your God, and keepe, and obſerue all the words of this Lawe,

13 And that their children [f] which haue not knowne it, may heare it, and learne to feare the Lorde your God, as long as ye liue in the lande, whither ye goe ouer Iorden to poſſeſſe it.

14 Then the Lord ſayd vnto Moſes, Beholde, thy dayes are come, that thou muſt die: Call Iohua, and ſtande ye in the Tabernacle of the Congregation that I may giue him a ‖charge. So Moſes and Iohua went, and ſtoode in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

15 And the Lord appeared in the Tabernacle, in the pillar of a [g] cloude: and the pillar of the cloude ſtoode ouer the dooze of the Tabernacle.

16 And the Lord ſaid vnto Moſes, Beholde, thou ſhalt ſleepe with thy fathers, and this people will riſe vp, and go a whoring after the gods of a ſtrange land (whither they goe [to dwell] therein) and will forſake me, & breake my couenant which I haue made with them.

from them: then they shalbe consumed, and many aduersities and tribulations shall come vpon them: so then they will say, Are not these troubles come vpon me, because God is not with me?

18 But I will surely hide my face in that day, because of all the euill, which they shall commit, in that they are turned vnto other gods.

i To preserue you and your children from idolatrie, by remembring Gods benefites, 19 Now therefore write ye this i song for you, and teache it the children of Israel: put it in their mouthes, that this song may be my witnes against the children of Israel.

20 For I will bring them into the land (which I ware vnto their fathers) that floweth with milke and honie, and they shall eate, and fill themselues, and ware fatte: k then shall they turne vnto other gods, and serue them, and contemne me, and breake my couenant.

k For this is the nature of flesh, no longer to obey God, then it is vnder the rod.

21 And then when many aduersities and tribulations shall come vpon them, this song shall l answere them to their face as a witnesse: for it shall not be forgotten out of the mouthes of their posteritie: for I knowe their imagination, which they goe about euen nowe, before I haue brought them into the lande which I ware.

l That these euils are come vpon them, because they forsooke me.

22 ¶ Moses therfore wrote this song the same day and taught it the children of Israel.

23 And [God] gaue Iosh ua the sonne of Nun a charge, and saide, *Be strong, and of a good courage: for thou shalt bring the children of Israel into the land, which I ware vnto them, and I will be with thee.

Iosh.1.6.

24 ¶ And when Moses had made an ende of writing the words of this Lawe in a booke vntill he had finished them,

25 Then Moses commanded the Leuites, which bare the Arke of the couenant of the Lord, saying, 26 Take the booke of this Law, and put ye it in the side of the Arke of the couenant of the Lorde your God, that it may be there for a m witnes against thee.

m Of thine infidelitie, when thou shalt turne away from the doctrine conteined therein.

27 For I knowe thy rebellion and thy stiffe necke: beholde, I being yet aliue with you this day, ye are rebellious against the Lord: how much more then after my death?

28 Gather vnto me all the Elders of your tribes, and your n officers, that I may speake these wordes in their audience, and call heauen and earth to record against them.

n As gouerners, iudges, and magistrates.

29 For I am sure that after my death ye will vtterly be corrupt and turne from the way, which I haue commaunded you: therefore euill will come vpon you at the length, because ye will commit euill in the sight of the Lorde, by prouoking him to anger through the o worke of your handes.

o By idolatrie, and worshipping Images, which are the worke of your handes.

30 Thus Moses spake in the audience of all the Congregation of Israel the wordes of this song, vntill hee had ended them.

CHAP. XXXII.

7 The song of Moses concerning Gods benefites towarde the people, 15 and their ingratitude toward him. 20 God menaceth them, 21 and speaketh of the vocation of the Gentiles. 46 Moses commaundeth to teache the Lawe to the children. 49 God forewarneth Moses of his death.

HEarken, ye a heauens, and I will speake: and let the earth heare p the words of my mouth.

a As witnesses of this peoples ingratitude.

2 My b doctrine shall drop as the raine, [and] my speache shall still as the dewe, as the showre vpon the herbes, and as the great raine vpon the grasse.

b Hee desireth that he may speake to Gods glorie, and that the people, as the greene grasse, may receiue the dewe of his doctrine.

3 For I will publish the Name of the Lord: giue ye glory vnto our God.

4 Perfect is the worke of the c mightie God: for all his wayes [are] iudgement. God is true, and without wickednes: iust, and righteous is he.

c The Hebrew word is rocker noting that God onely is mightie, faithfull, and constant in his promes.

5 They haue corrupted them selues towarde him by their vice, not being his children, [but] a frowarde and crooked generation.

6 Do ye so reward the Lord, O foolish people and vnwise? is not he thy father, that hath bought thee? hee hath d made thee, and proportioned thee.

d Not according to the common creation, but hee hath made thee a newe creature by his Spirit.

7 ¶ Remember the dayes of olde: consider the yeeres of so many generations: aske thy father, and he will shewe thee: thine Elders, and they will tell thee.

8 When the most hie [God] deuided to the nations their inheritance, when he separated the sonnes of Adam, he appointed the borders of the e people, according to the nomber of the children of Israel.

e When God by his prouidence deuided the world, he lent for a time that portion to the Canaanites, which should after be an inheritance for all his people Israel.

9 For the Lords portion [is] his people: Iaakob [is] the lot of his inheritance.

10 He found him in the land of the wildernes, in a waste, and roaring wildernes: hee led him about, hee taught him, [and] kept him as the apple of his eye.

11 As an eagle stereth vp her nest, f flocktereth ouer her birds, stretcheth out her wings, taketh them, [and] beareth them on her wings, f To teache them to flie.

12 [So] the Lorde alone led him and there was no ‖ strange god with him.

13 Hee caryed him vp to the hie places of the g earth, that hee might eate the fruites of the fieldes, and hee caused him to sucke h honie out of the stone, and oyle out of the hard rocke:

14 Butter of kine, and milke of sheepe with fat of the lambes, and rammes fed in Bashan, and goates, with the fatte of the graines of wheat, and the red ‡ licour of the grape hast thou dronke.

15 ¶ But [he that should haue bene] i vpright, when he waxed fatte, spurned with his heele: thou art fatte, thou art grosse, thou art laden with fatnes: therefore hee forsooke God [that] made him, and regarded not the strong God of his saluation.

16 They prouoked him with k strange [gods:] they prouoked him to anger with abominations.

17 They offered vnto deuils, not to God, [but] to gods whome they knewe not: l newe [gods] that came newly vp, whom their fathers feared not.

18 Thou hast forgotten the mightie God, [that] begate thee, and hast forgotten God that formed thee.

19 The Lorde then sawe it, and was angrie, for the prouocation of his m sonnes and of his daughters.

20 And he saide, I will hide my face from them: I will see what their ende shalbe: for they are a frowarde generation, children in whom is no faith.

21 They haue mooued me to ielousie with [that which is] not God: they haue prouoked me to anger with their vanities: * and I will moue them to ielousie with [those which are] no n people: I will prouoke them to anger with a foolish nation.

22 For fire is kindled in my wrath, and shal burne vnto the bottome of hell, and shall consume the earth with her increase, and set on fire the foundations of the mountaines.

23 I will spend plagues vpon them: I will bestow mine arrowes vpon them.

24 [They shalbe] burnt with hunger, and consumed with heate, and with bitter destruction: I will also sende the teeth of beastes vpon them, with the venime of serpents [creeping] in the dust.

25 The sword shall o kill them without, and in the chambers feare: both the yong man and the yong woman, the sucking with the man of gray heare.

26 I haue said, I would scatter them abroade: I would make their remembrance to cease from among men, 27 Saue that I feared the furie of the enemie, lest their aduersaries should p ware proude, [and] lest they should say, Our hie hande and not the Lorde hath done all this.

28 For they are a nation voyd of counsell, neither is there [any] vnderstanding in them.

29 Oh that they were wise, [then] they would vnderstād this: they would q consider their latter ende.

30 How should one chase a thousand, and two put ten thousande to flight, except their strong God had solde them, and the Lord had ‖ shut them vp?

31 For their god [is] not as our God, euen our enemies being iudges.

32 For their vine [is] of the vine of Sodom, and of the vines of Gomorah: their grapes [are] grapes of gall, their clusters [be] bitter.

33 Their r wine [is] the poyson of dragons, and the cruell gall of aspes.

34 Is not this layd in store with me, [and] sealed vp among my treasures?

35 * Vengeance and recompense are mine: their foote shall slide in due time: for s day of their destruction is at hande, and the things that shall come vpon them, make haste.

36 For the Lord shal iudge his people, and ‖ repent toward his seruants, when he seeth that their power is gone, ‡ none shut vp [in holde] nor left [abroade.]

37 When men shall say, where are their gods, their mightie God in whom they trusted, 38 Which did eate the fatte of their sacrifices, [and] did drinke the wine of their drinke offring: let them rise vp, and helpe you: let him be your refuge.

39 Beholde now, for I, I am he, and there is no gods with me: * I kill, ‡ giue life: I wound, and I make whole: * neither is there [any] that can deliuer out of mine hande.

40 For I t lift vp mine hande to heauen, and say, I liue for euer.

41 If I whet my glittering sword, and mine hand take hold on iudgement, I will execute vengeance on mine enemies, ‡ will reward them that hate me.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

1 Moses seeth all the lande of Canaan. 5 He dieth. 8 Israel weepeth. 9 Joshua succeedeth in Moses roume. 10 The prayse of Moses.

THen Moses went from the plaine of Moab vp into mount [a] Nebo vnto the top of Pisgah that is ouer against Iericho: and the Lord shewed him *all the land of Gilead, vnto Dan, a Which was a part of mount Abarim, Num. 27.12. Chap.3.27. 2.mac.2.4.

2 And all Naphtali and the lande of Ephraim and Manasseh, and all the land of Judah, vnto the vtmost [b] sea:

b Called, Mediterraneum.

3 And the South, and the plaine of the valley of Iericho, the citie of palme trees, vnto Zoar.

4 And the Lord said vnto him, *This is the lande which I sware vnto Abraham, to Izhak and to Iaakob, saying, I will giue it vnto thy seede: I haue caused thee to see it with thine eyes, but thou shalt not goe ouer thither.

Gen.12.7.& 13.15.

5 So Moses the seruant of the Lord dyed there in the land of Moab, according to the worde of the Lord.

6 And [c] hee buried him in a valley in the land of Moab ouer against Bethpeor, but no man knoweth of his sepulchre vnto [d] this day.

c To wit, the Angel of the Lord, Jude 9.

d That the Jewes might not haue occasion thereby to commit Idolatrie.

7 Moses was nowe an hundreth and twentie yeere olde when he died, his eye was not dimme, nor his naturall force abated.

8 And the children of Israel wept for Moses in the plaine of Moab thirtie daies: so the dayes of weeping and mourning for Moses were ended.

9 And [e] Joshua the sonne of Nun was full of the spirit of wisdome: for Moses had put his handes vpon him. And the children of Israel were obedient vnto him, and did as the Lorde had commanded Moses.

e Hereby appeareth the fauour of God that leaueth not his church destitute of a gouernour.

10 But there arose not a Prophet since in Israel like vnto Moses (whome the Lord knewe [f] face to face)

f Vnto whom the Lorde did reuecile him selfe so plainely, Exo.33.11.

11 In all the miracles and wonders which the Lorde sent him to doe in the land of Egypt before Pharaoh and before all his seruants, and before all his land, 12 And in all that mightie [g] hand and all the great feare, which Moses wrought in the sight of all Israel.

g Meaning, the power of God working by Moses in the wilderness.

The booke of Iosh.

The Argvment.

In this booke the holy Ghost setteth most liuely before our eyes the accomplishment of Gods promise, who as he promised by the mouth of Moses, that a Prophet should be raised vp vnto the people like vnto him, whom he willeth to obey, Deut. 18. 15: so he sheweth himselfe here true in his promise, as at all other times, and after the death of Moses his faithfull seruant, he raiseth vp Iosh ua to be ruler and gouernour ouer his people, that neither they should be discouraged for lacke of a captaine, nor haue occasion to distrust Gods promises hereafter. And because that Iosh ua might be confirmed in his vocation, and the people also might haue none occasion to grudge, as though he were not approued of God: he is adorned with most excellent gifts and graces of God, both to gouerne the people with counsell, and to defende them with strength, that he lacked nothing which either belonged to a valiant captaine or a faithfull minister. So hee ouercommeth all difficulties and bringeth them into the land of Canaan: the which according to Gods ordinance he deuideth among the people and appointeth their borders: he establisheth lawes and ordinances, and putteth them in remembrance of Gods manifolde benefites, assuring them of his grace and fauour, if they obey God, and contrariwise of his plagues and vengeance, if they disobey him. This historie doth represent Iesus Christ the true Iosh ua, who leadeth vs into eternall felicitie, which is signified vnto vs by this land of Canaan. From the beginning of the Genesis to the end of this booke are conteyned 2576. yeeres. For from Adam vnto the flood are 1656. from the flood vnto the departure of Abraham out of Caldea, 423. and from thence to the death of Ioseph 290. So that the Genesis conteineth 2369. Exodus 140. the other three bookes of Moses 40. Iosh ua 27. So the whole maketh 2576. yeeres.

CHAP. I.

a The Lorde incourageth Iosh ua to inuade the land. 4 The borders and limits of the land of the Israelites. 5 The Lord promiseth to assist Iosh ua, if he obey his worde. 11 Iosh ua commandeth the people to prepare themselues to passe ouer Iorden, 12 and exhorteth the Rubenites to execute their charge.

a The beginning of this booke dependeth on the last Chapter of Deut. which was written by Iosh ua as a preparation to his historie.

NOwe after the a death of Moses the seruaunt of the Lorde, the Lorde spake vnto Iosh ua the sonne of Nun, Moses minister, saying,

2 Moses my seruant is dead: nowe therefore arise, goe ouer this Iorden, thou, and all this people, vnto the lande which I giue them, [that is,] to the children of Israel.

3 *Euery place that the sole of your foote shall treade vpon, haue I giuen you, as I said vnto Moses.

Chap. 14. 9.

4 *From the b Wildernes and this Lebanon euen vnto the great Riuer, the Riuer ‖ Perath: all the land of the c Hittites, euen vnto the great d sea toward the going downe of the sunne, shalbe your coast.

Deut. 11. 24. b Of Zin, called Kadesh and Paran. ‖ Or, Euphrates. c Meaning the whole land of Canaan. d Called, Mediterraneum. Hebr. 13. 5.

5 There shall not a man be able to withstand thee all the dayes of thy life: as I was with Moses, [so] will I be with thee: *I will not leaue thee, nor forsake thee.

Deut. 31. 23.

6 *Be strong and of a good courage: for vnto this people shalt thou deuide the land for an inheritance, which I sware vnto their fathers to giue them.

7 Onely be thou strong, ‖ and of a most valiant courage, that thou maiest obserue and do according to all the Law which Moses my seruant hath commanded thee: *thou shalt not turne away from it to the right hand, nor to the left, that thou mayest c prosper whithersoeuer thou goest.

‖ Or, growe stronger and stronger. Deut. 5. 32. and 28. 14.

c He sheweth wherein consisteth true prosperitie, euento obey the worde of God.

8 Let not this booke of the Law depart out of thy mouth, but meditate therein day and f night, that thou maiest obserue and doe according to all that is written therein: for then shalt thou make thy way prosperous, and then shalt thou ‖ haue good successe.

f Meaning that it was not possible to gouerne well without continuall studie of Gods worde. ‖ Or, gouerne wisely.

9 Haue not I commanded thee, saying, Be strong & of a good courage, feare not nor be discouraged: for I the Lorde thy God [will be] with thee, whithersoeuer thou goest.

10 ¶ Then Iosh ua commanded the officers of the people, saying,

11 Passe through the hoste, & commaund the people, saying, Prepare you vitailes: for g after three dayes ye shall passe ouer this Iorden, to go in to possesse the land, which the Lord your God giueth you to possesse it.

g Meaning from the day that this was proclaimed, Chap. 3. 2.

12 ¶ And vnto the Reubenites, and to the Gadites, & to halfe the tribe of Manasseh spake Iosh ua, saying, 13 *Remember the word, which Moses the seruant of the Lord commanded you, saying, The Lorde your God hath giuen you rest, & hath giuen you this h land.

h Which belonged to Sihon the king of the Amorites, and Og king of Bashan.

14 ¶ Your wiues, your children, & your cattel shall remaine in the land which Moses gaue you on ‖ this side Iorden: but ye shall go ouer before your brethren armed, all the men of warre, & shal helpe them,

‖ Or, beyonde Iorden, from Iericho.

15 Until the Lorde haue giuen your brethren rest, as well as to you, and vntil they also shall possesse the lande, which the Lorde your God giueth them: then shall ye returne vnto the lande of your possession & shall possesse it, which [land] Moses the Lordes seruant i gaue you on this this side Iordẽ toward ꝑ sunne rising.

16 Then they answered Iosh̃ua, saying, All that thou hast commanded vs, we will doe, and whithersoeuer thou sendest vs, we will go.

17 As we obeyed Moses in all things, k so will we obey thee: onely ꝑ Lord thy God be w̃ thee, as he was with Moses.

18 Whosoeuer shall rebell against thy commandement, and will not obey thy wordes in all that thou commaundest him, let him be put to death: onely be strong and of good courage.

k They doe not onely promise to obey him so long as God is with him: but to helpe to punish all that rebell against him.

CHAP. II.

1 Iosh̃ua sendeth men to spie Iericho, whom Rahab hideth. 11 She confesseth the God of Israel. 12 She requireth a signe for her deliuerance. 21 The spies returne to Iosh̃ua with comfortable tidings.

THen Iosh̃ua ꝑ sonne of Nun sent out of a Shittim two men to spie secretly, saying, Goe, view ꝑ land, & [also] Iericho: and they went, & * came into an ‖ harlots house, named Rahab, and lodged there.

a Which place was in the plaine of Moab neere vnto Iordẽ. Hebr. 11.31. Iam. 2.25.

‖ Or, tauerners house, or hostes.

2 Then report was made to the king of Iericho, saying, Behold, there came men hither to night, of the children of Israel, to spie out the countrey.

3 And the king of Iericho sent vnto Rahab, saying, b Bring forth the men that are come to thee, [and] which are entred into thine house: for they be come to search out all the land.

b Though the wicked see the hand of God vpon them, yet they repẽt not, but seeke how they may by their power and policie resist his working.

4 (But the woman had taken the two men, and hidde them) Therefore said she thus, There came men vnto me, but I wist not whence they were.

5 And when they shut the gate in the darke, the men went out, whither the men went I wote not: followe ye after them quickly, for ye shal ouertake them.

6 (But she had brought them vp to the c roofe of the house, & hid them with the stalkes of flaxe, which she had spread abroade vpon the roofe)

c Meaning, vpon ꝑ house: for then their houses were flat aboue, so that they might do their businesse thereupon.

7 And certaine men pursued after thẽ, the way to Iordẽ, vnto the foords, and as soone as they which pursued after them, were gone out, they shut the gate.

8 ¶ And before they were a sleepe, she came vp vnto them vpon the roofe, 9 And said vnto ꝑ men, I know ꝑ the Lord hath giuẽ you ꝑ land, & that ꝑ d feare of you is fallen vpon vs, & that all ꝑ inhabitants of the lande faint because of you.

d For so God promised, deu. 28,7. chap. 5.1

10 For we haue heard, how ꝑ Lord * dryed vp ꝑ Water of the red Sea * before you, whẽ you came out of Egypt, & what you did vnto the two Kings of ꝑ Amorites, ꝑ Were on the other side Iordẽ, vnto * Sihon & to Og, whõ ye vtterly destroyed:

Exod. 14.21, 22. Chap. 4.23.

Nom. 21.24.

11 And when we heard it, our heartes ‖ did faint, and there remained no more ‖ courage in any because of you: for c the Lord your God, he is the God in heauen aboue, and in earth beneath.

‖ Or, melted.

‖ Or, spirit.

c Herein appeareth the great mercie of God, that in this common destruction he would haue a most miserable sinner to repent and confesse his Name.

12 Now therefore, I pray you, sweare vnto me by ꝑ Lord, ꝑ as I haue shewed you mercy, ye will also shew mercy vnto my fathers house, & giue me a true token.

13 And that ye will saue aliue my father and my mother, & my brethren, & my sisters, and all that they haue: and that ye will deliuer our ‖ soules from death.

‖ Or, liues.

14 And the men answered her, f Our life for you to dye, if ye vtter not this our businesse: & when the Lord hath giuen vs the land, we will deale mercifully and truely with thee.

f The warrãt you on paine of our liues.

15 Then she let them downe by a cord through ꝑ window: for her house [was] vpon the towne wall, and she dwelt vpon the wall.

16 And she said vnto them, Go you into the g mountaine, least the pursuers meete with you, & hide your selues there three dayes, vntill the pursuers be returned: then afterward may ye go your way.

g Which was neere vnto the citie.

17 And the men said vnto her, h We will be blameles of this thine othe, which thou hast made vs sweare.

h We shalbe vnpurged of our othe, if thou doest performe this condition that followeth: for so shalt thou and thine be deliuered.

18 Behold, when we come into ꝑ land, thou shalt binde this cord of redde threde in the window, whereby thou lettest vs downe, and thou shalt bring thy father and thy mother, and thy brethren, and all thy fathers household home to thee.

19 And whosoeuer then doeth go out at the doores of thine house into ꝑ streete, i his blood shalbe vpon his head, and we will be guiltesse: but whosoeuer shalbe with thee in the house, his blood shalbe on our head, if any hand touch him:

i Be shalbe guiltie of his owne death.

20 And if thou vtter this our k matter, we will be quit of thine othe, which thou hast made vs sweare.

k So that others should thinke to escape by the same meanes.

21 And she answered, According vnto your wordes so be it: then she sent them away, and they departed, and she bound ‖ red cord in the window.

‖ Or, scarlet coloured.

22 ¶ And they departed, & came into the mountaine, and there abode three dayes, vntill the pursuers were returned: & the pursuers sought thẽ throughout all the way, but found them not.

23 So the two men returned, and descended frõ the mountaine, & passed ouer, l and came to Iosh̃ua the sonne of Nun, & told him al things that came vnto them.

24 Also

24 Also they said vnto Iosh. Surely the Lorde hath deliuered vnto our handes all the land: for euen all the inhabitants of the countrey faint because of vs.

CHAP. III.

3 Iosh. commandeth them to depart when the Arke remoueth. 7 The Lord promiseth to exalt Iosh. before the people. 9 Iosh. his exhortation to the people. 16 The waters part asunder whiles the people passe.

THen Iosh. rose very early, and they remoued frō Shittim, and came to [a] Iorden, he, and all the children of Israel, and lodged there, before they went ouer.

a Which according to the Chetwes was in March, and about 40. daies after Moses death.

2 And after [b] three dayes the officers went throughout the hoste, b Which time was giuen for to prepare them vitailes. Chap. 1. 11.

3 And commanded the people, saying, When ye see the Arke of the couenant of the Lorde your God, and the Priestes of the Leuites bearing it, ye shall depart from your place, and go after it.

4 Yet there shalbe a space betweene you and it, about ‖ two thousand cubites by measure: ye shall not come neere vnto it, that ye may knowe the way, by the which ye shall go: for ye haue not gone this way in times past.

‖ Or, a myle.

5 (Nowe Iosh. had saide vnto the people, * Sanctifie your selues: for to morowe the Lorde will do wonders among you)

Leuit. 20. 7. nom. 11. 18. chap. 7. 13. 1. sam. 16. 5.

6 Also Iosh. spake vnto the Priestes, saying, Take vp the Arke of the Couenant, and goe ouer before the people: so they tooke vp the Arke of the Couenant, and went before the people.

7 ¶ Then the Lorde saide vnto Iosh. This day will I begin to magnifie thee in the sight of all Israel, which shal know, that * as I was with Moses, so will I be with thee.

Chap. 1. 5.

8 Thou shalt therefore command the Priestes that beare the Arke of the Couenant, saying, when ye are come to the brinke of the waters of Iorden, ye shall stand still [c] in Iorden.

c Euen in the chanell, where the streame had runne, as verse. 17.

9 ¶ Then Iosh. said vnto the children of Israel, Come hither, and heare the wordes of the Lord your God.

10 And Iosh. said, [d] Hereby ye shall knowe that the liuing God is among you, and that he will certenely cast out before you the Canaanites, the Hittites, and the Hiuites, and the Perizzites, and the Gergashites, and the Amorites, and the Iebusites.

d Wyth his miracle in deuiding water.

11 Beholde, the Arke of the Couenant of the Lord of all the worlde passeth before you into Iorden.

12 Nowe therefore take from among you [e] twelue men out of the tribes of Israel, out of euery tribe a man.

e Which shuld set vp twelue stones in remembrance of the benefite.

13 And as soone as the soles of the feete of the Priestes (that beare the Arke of the Lord God the Lord of all the world) shall stay in the waters of Iorden, the waters of Iorden shalbe cut off: for the waters that come from aboue, * shall stand still vpon an heape.

Psal. 114. 3.

14 ¶ Then when the people were departed from their tentes to goe ouer Iorden, the Priestes bearing the * Arke of the Couenant, [went] before the people.

Acts 7. 45.

15 And as they that bare the Arke came vnto Iorden, and the feete of the Priests that bare the Arke were dipped in the brinke of the water, (* for Iorden vseth to fill all his [f] bankes all the time of haruest)

Eccles. 24. 30. 1. chro. 12. 15.

f Because the riuer was accustomed at this time to be full, the miracle is so much the greater.

16 Then the waters that came downe from aboue, staied [and] rose vp on an heape and departed farre from the citie of Adam, that was beside Zaretan: but the [waters] that came downe toward the Sea of the wildernes, [euen] the salt Sea, failed, [and] were cut off: so the people went right ouer against Iericho.

17 But the Priests that bare the Arke of the couenant of the Lorde, stoode dry within Iorden [g] ready prepared, and all the Israelites went ouer dry, vntill all the people were gone cleane ouer through Iorden.

g Either tarying till the people were past, or, as some reade, sure, as though they had bene vpon the dry land.

CHAP. IIII.

2 God commanded Iosh. to set vp twelue stones in Iorden. 18 The waters returne to their olde course. 20 Other twelue stones are set vp in Gilgal. 21 This miracle must be declared to the posterite.

AND when al the people were wholly gone * ouer Iorden, (after the Lorde had spoken vnto Iosh. saying,

Deut. 27. 2.

2 Take you twelue men out of the people, out of euery tribe a man,

3 And command you them, saying, Take you hence out of the middes of Iorden, out of the place where the Priests stood in a [a] readines, twelue stones, which ye shall take away with you, and leaue them in the [b] lodging where you shall lodge this night) a As Chap. 3. 17.

b Meaning, the place where they should campe.

4 Then Iosh. called the twelue men, whom he had prepared of the children of Israel, out of euery tribe a man,

5 And Iosh. saide vnto them, Goe ouer before the Arke of the Lorde your God, euen through the middes of Iorden, and take vp euery man of you a stone vpon his shoulder according vnto the nomber nomber of the tribes of the children of Israel,

6 That this may be a signe among you, that when your [c] children shall aske their fathers in time to come, saying, What meane you by these stones?

7 Then ye may answere them, That the waters of Iorden were cut off before the Arke of [y] couenant of the Lord: [for] when it passed through Iorden, the waters of Iorden were cut off: therefore these stones are a memoriall vnto the children of Israel for euer.

8 Then the children of Israel did euen so, as Ioshua had commaunded, and tooke vp twelue stones out of the middes of Iorden, as the Lord had said vnto Ioshua, according to the nomber of the tribes of [y] children of Israel, and caried them away with them vnto the lodging, and layd them downe there.

9 And Ioshua set vp [d] twelue stones in the mids of Iorden, in [y] place where the feete of the Priests, which bare the Arke of the couenant, stoode, and there haue they continued vnto this day.

10 ¶ So the Priests, which bare the Arke, stoode in the middes of Iorden, vntill euery thing was finished that the Lord had commaunded Ioshua to say vnto the people, according to all that Moses charged Ioshua: then the people hasted and went ouer.

11 When all the people were cleane passed ouer, the Arke of the Lord went ouer also, and the Priests [e] before the people.

12 *And the sonnes of Reuben, and the sonnes of Gad, and halfe the tribe of Manasseh went ouer before the children of Israel armed, as Moses had charged them.

13 Euen fourtie thousande prepared for warre, went before the [f] Lorde vnto battel, into the plaine of Iericho.

14 That day the Lorde magnified Ioshua in the sight of all Israel, & they ‖feared him, as they feared Moses all dayes of his life.

15 And the Lord spake vnto Ioshua, saying,

16 Command the Priests that beare the [g] Arke of the Testimonie, to come vp out of Iorden.

17 Ioshua therefore commaunded the Priestes, saying, Come ye vp out of Iorden.

18 And when the Priestes that bare the Arke of the couenant of the Lorde were come vp out of the middes of Iorden, & assoone as the soles of the Priests feete were set on the drie land, the waters of Iordē returned vnto their place, and flowed ouer all the banks thereof, as they did before.

19 ¶ So the people came vp out of Iorden the tenth [day] of the [h] first moneth, and pitched in Gilgal, in the East side of Iericho.

20 Also the twelue stones, which they tooke out of Iorden, did Ioshua pitch in Gilgal.

21 And he spake vnto the children of Israel, saying, when your children shal aske their fathers in time to come, & say, What meane these stones?

22 Then ye shal shew your children, and say, Israel came ouer this Iorden on drie land:

23 For the Lorde your God dryed vp the waters of Iorden before you, vntill ye were gone ouer, as the Lorde your God did the red Sea, *which he dryed vp before vs, till we were gone ouer, 24 That all the people of the [i] world may know that the hand of the Lord is mightie, that ye might feare the Lorde your God continually.

CHAP. V.

1 The Canaanites are afraide of the Israelites. 2 Circumcision is commanded the second time. 10 The Passeouer is kept. 12 Manna ceaseth. 13 The Angel appeareth vnto Ioshua.

NOwe when all the kings of the [a] Amorites, which were beyond Iorden westward and all the kings of the Canaanites, which were by the sea, heard that the Lord had dryed vp the waters of Iorden before the children of Israel vntill they were gone ouer, their heart fainted: and there was no courage in them any more because of the children of Israel.

2 ¶ That same time the Lord said vnto Ioshua, *Make thee sharpe knives, [b] [and] returne, & circumcise the sonnes of Israel the second time.

3 Then Ioshua made him sharpe knives, and circumcised the sonnes of Israel in [c] the hill of the foreskinnes.

4 And this is the cause why Ioshua circumcised all the people, [euen] the males that came out of Egypt, because all the men of warre were dead in the wildernesse by the way after they came out of Egypt.

5 For all the people that came out were circumcised: but all the people that

6 For the children of Israel walked fourtie yeres in the wildernes, till all the people of ỹ men of warre that came out of Egypt were consumed, because they obeyed not the voyce of the Lord: vnto whome the Lord sware, that he would not shewe them the land, *which the Lorde had sworne vnto their fathers, that he would giue vs, euen a land that floweth with milke and honie.

7 So their sonnes whome he raised vp in their stead, Iosh. circumcised: for they were vncircumcised, because they circumcised them not by the way.

8 And when they had made an ende of circumcising all the people, they abode in the places in the campe till they [e] were whole.

9 After, the Lord sayd vnto Iosh. This day I haue take away the [f] shame of Egypt from you: wherefore he called the name of that place Gilgal, vnto this day.

10 ¶ So the children of Israel abode in Gilgal, and kept the feast of the Passeouer the fourteenth day of the moneth at euen in the plaine of Iericho.

11 And they did eate of the corne of the land, on the morow after the Passeouer, vnleauened bread, and parched corne in the same day.

12 And the MAN ceased on the morow after they had eaten of the corne of the land, neither had the children of Israel MAN any more, but did eate of the fruit of the land of Canaan that yeere.

13 ¶ And when Iosh. was by Iericho, he lift vp his eyes and looked: and behold, there stood a *man against him, hauing a sworde drawen in his hand: and Iosh. went vnto him, and sayde vnto him, Art thou on our side, or on our aduersaries?

14 And he sayd, Nay, but [as] a captaine of the hoste of the Lord am I now come: then Iosh. fell on his face to the earth, and [g] did worship, & said vnto him, What saith my Lord vnto his seruant?

15 And ỹ captaine of the Lords hoste sayd vnto Iosh. *Loose thy shoe off thy foote: for the place whereon thou standest, is holy: and Iosh. did so.

CHAP. VI.

3 The Lord instructeth Iosh. what he should doe as touching Iericho. 6 Iosh. commandeth the Priests & warriers what to doe. 20 The walles fal. 22 Rahab is saued. 24 All is burnt saue gold & metal. 26 The curse of him that buildeth ỹ citie.

NOw Iericho was [a] shut vp, and [b] closed, [c] because of the children of Israel: none might goe out nor enter in.

2 And the Lorde sayd vnto Iosh. Beholde, I haue giuen into thine hand Iericho and the king thereof, [and] the strong men of warre.

3 All ye therefore [that be] men of warre, shall compasse the citie, in going round about the citie [d] once: thus shall you doe sixe dayes:

4 And seuen Priests shal beare seuen trumpets of [e] rams hornes before the Arke: and the seuenth day ye shall compasse the citie seuen times, & the Priests shall blowe with the trumpets.

5 And when they make a long blast with the rams horne, and ye heare the sound of the trumpet, all the people shal shoute with a great shoute: then shall the wall of the citie fall downe flat, and the people shall ascende vp, euery man streight before him.

6 ¶ Then Iosh. the sonne of Nun called the Priests and sayde vnto them, Take vp the Arke of the couenant, & let seuen Priests beare seuen trumpets of rams hornes before the Arke of ỹ Lord.

7 But he sayd vnto the people, [f] Goe and compasse the citie: and let him that is armed, goe foorth before the Arke of the Lord.

8 ¶ And when Iosh. had spoken vnto ỹ people, the seuen Priests bare the seuen trumpets of rams hornes, & went foorth before the Arke of the Lord, and blewe with the trumpets, & the Arke of the couenant of ỹ Lord followed them.

9 ¶ And the men of armes went before the Priests, that blewe the trumpets: then the [g] gathering [hoste] came after the Arke, as they went and blewe the trumpets.

10 (Nowe Iosh. had commanded the people, saying, Ye shall not shoute, neither make any noyse vp your voyce, neither shal a word proceede out of your mouth, vntill the day that I say vnto you, Shout, then shall ye shout)

11 So the Arke of the Lord compassed the citie, & went about it [h] once: then they returned into the hoste, and lodged in the campe.

12 And Iosh. rose early in the morning, and the Priests bare the Arke of the Lord:

Arke of the Lord, and going blew with the trumpets: and the men of armes went before them, but the [i] gathering [hoste] came after the Arke of the Lord, as they went and blew the trumpets.

14 And the second day they compassed the citie once, and returned into the hoste: thus they did sixe dayes.

15 And when the seuenth day came, they rose early, euen with the dawning of the day, and compassed the citie after the same maner [k] seuen times: onely that day they compassed ỹ citie seuen times.

16 And when the Priests had blowen the trumpets the seuenth time, Ioshua sayd vnto the people, Shoute: for the Lord hath giuen you the citie.

17 And the citie shall be [l] an execrable thing, [both] it, and all that are therein, vnto the Lord: onely Rahab the harlot shall liue, she, and all that are with her in the house: for [*] she hid the messengers that we sent.

18 Notwithstanding, be ye ware of the execrable thing, least ye make your selues execrable, and in taking of the execrable thing, make also the hoste of Israel [*] execrable, and trouble it.

19 But all siluer, and golde, and vessels of brasse, & yron shall be [m] consecrate vnto the Lord, [and] shall come into the Lords treasurie.

20 So the people shouted, when they had blowen trumpets: for when the people had heard the sound of the trumpet, they shouted with a great shoute: and the [] wall fell down flat: so the people went vp into ỹ citie, euery man streight before him: [] and they tooke the citie.

21 And they vtterly destroyed all that was in the citie, both man and woman, yong, and olde, and oxe, and sheepe, and asse, with the edge of the sworde.

22 But Ioshua had sayde vnto the two men that had spyed out the countrey, Go into the harlots house, & bring out thence the woman, and all that she hath, [*] as ye sware to her.

23 So the yong men that were spies, went in, and brought out Rahab, & her father, and her mother, & her brethren, and all that she had: also they brought out all her familie, and put them [n] without the hoste of Israel.

24 After they burnt the citie with fire, and all that was therein: onely the siluer & the golde, and the vessels of brasse and yron, they put vnto the treasure of the [o] house of the Lord.

25 So Ioshua saued Rahab the harlot, and her fathers houshold, and all that she had, and she [p] dwelt in Israel euen vnto this day, because she had hid the messengers, which Ioshua sent to spie out Iericho.

26 ¶ And Ioshua sware at that time, saying, Cursed be the man before the Lord, that riseth vp, & buildeth this citie Iericho: [q] he shall lay the foundation thereof in his eldest sonne, & in his yongest sonne shall he set vp the gates of it.

27 So the Lord was with Ioshua, & he was famous through all the world.

CHAP. VII.

1 The Lorde is angrie with Achan. 4 They of Ai put the Israelites to flight. 6 Ioshua prayeth to the Lord. 16 Ioshua inquireth out him that sinned, and stoneth him and all his.

BVt ỹ children of Israel committed a trespasse in the [a] excommunicate thing: for [*] Achan the sonne of Carmi, the sonne of Zabdi, the sonne of Zerah of the tribe of Iudah tooke of the excommunicate thing: wherefore the wrath of the Lord was kindled against the children of Israel.

2 And Ioshua sent men from Iericho to [b] Ai, which is beside Bethauen, on the East side of Beth-el, and spake vnto them, saying, Go vp, and view the countrey. And the men went vp, & viewed Ai.

3 And returned to Ioshua, & said vnto him, Let not all ỹ people go vp, [but] let as it were two or three thousand men go vp, & smite Ai, and make not all the people to labour thither, for they are fewe.

4 So there went vp thither of the people about three thousand men, and they fled before the men of Ai.

5 And the [c] men of Ai smote of them vpon a thirtie and sixe men: for they chased them from before ỹ gate vnto Shebarim, and smote them in the going downe: wherefore the hearts of the people melted away like water.

6 ¶ Then Ioshua rent his clothes, and fell to the earth vpon his face before the Arke of the Lorde, vntill the euentide, he, and the Elders of Israel, and put dust vpon their heads.

7 And Ioshua sayd, Alas, O Lorde God, wherefore hast thou brought this people ouer Iorden, to deliuer vs into the hand of the Amorites, & to destroy vs: would God we had bene content to dwell on the [d] other side Iorden.

e When thine enemies shall blaspheme thee, and say, that thou wast not able to defend vs from them.

10 ¶ And the Lord sayde vnto Iosh ua, Get thee vp: wherefore liest thou thus vpon thy face?

11 Israel hath sinned, and they haue transgressed my couenant, which I commanded them: for they haue euen taken of the excommunicate thing, & haue also stollen, & dissembled also, and haue put it euen with their owne stuffe.

12 Therefore the children of Israel can not stand before their enemies, [but] haue turned their backes before their enemies, because they be execrable: neither wil I be with you any more, except ye [f] destroy the excommunicate from among you.

f Then to suffer wickednes vnpunished, is to refuse God willingly.

18 And he brought his houlhold, man by man, and Achan the sonne of Carmi, the sonne of Zabdi, the sonne of Zerah of the tribe of Iudah was taken.

k Such a rich garment, as the states of Babylon did weare.

22 ¶ Then Iosh ua sent messengers, which ran vnto the tent, and beholde, it was hid in his tent, & the siluer vnder it.

23 Therefore they tooke them out of the tent, & brought them vnto Iosh ua, and vnto all the children of Israel, and layd them before the Lord.

24 Then Iosh ua tooke Achan the ‖ sonne of Zerah, & the siluer, & the garment & the [l] wedge of gold & his [m] sonnes, and his daughters, and his oxen, & his asses, & his sheepe, and his tent, and all that he had: and all Israel with him brought them vnto the valley of Achor.

n He declareth that this is Gods iudgement, because he had offended, and caused others to be slaine.

b God would not destroy Ai by miracle, as Iericho, to the intent that other nations might feare the power and policie of his people.

4 And he commanded them, saying, Beholde, ye [b] shall lie in waite against the

5 And I and all the people that are with me, will approach vnto the citie: and when they ſhall come out againſt vs, as they did at the firſt time, then will we flee before them.

6 For they will come out after vs, till we haue brought them out of ꝑ citie: for they will ſay, They flee before vs as at the firſt time: ſo we will flee before them.

7 Then you ſhall riſe vp from lying in Waite and ‖ deſtroye the citie: for the Lord your God will deliuer it into your hande.

d That is, belued or muſtered them, and ſet them in aray.

11 Alſo all the men of warre that were with him went vp and drewe neere, and came againſt the citie, and pitched on the North ſide of Ai: and there was a valley betweene them and Ai.

12 And he tooke about fiue thouſand men, [e] & ſet them to lie in waite betweene Beth-el and Ai, on the weſtſide of ꝑ citie.

e He ſent theſe fewe, that the other which lay in ambuſh might not be diſcouered.

f To the intent that they in the citie might the better diſcouer his armie.

14 ¶ And when the king of Ai ſaw it, then the men of the citie haſted and roſe vp early, and went out againſt Iſrael to battell, he and all his people at the time appointed, before the plaine: for he knew not that [any] lay in waite againſt him on the backſide of the citie.

15 Then Ioſhua and all Iſrael [g] [as] beaten before them, fled by the way of the wildernes.

17 So that there was not a man left in Ai, nor in Beth-el, that went not out after Iſrael: and they left the citie open, and purſued after Iſrael.

18 Then the Lord ſaid vnto Ioſhua, [h] Stretch out the ſpeare that is in thine hand, toward Ai: for I will giue it into thine hande: and Ioſhua ſtretched out the ſpeare that hee had in his hande, toward the citie.

h Or, lift vp the banner, ſo ſignifie when they ſhall inuade the citie.

19 And they that lay in waite, aroſe quickly out of their place, and ranne as ſoone as he had ſtretched out his hand, and they entred into the citie, & tooke it, and haſted, and ſet the citie on fire.

20 And the men of Ai looked behinde them, and ſaw it: for lo, the ſmoke of the citie aſcended vp ‖ to heauen, & they had no ‖ power to flee this way or that way: for the people that fled to the wildernes, turned backe vpon the purſuers.

‖ Or, towarde the heauen. ‖ Or, place.

21 When Ioſhua and all Iſrael ſaw that they that lay in waite, had taken the citie, and that the ſmoke of the citie mounted vp, then they turned againe and ſlew the men of Ai.

22 Alſo the [i] other iſſued out of the citie againſt them: ſo were they in ꝑ mids of Iſrael, theſe [being] on the one ſide, and the reſt on the other ſide: and they ſlew them, ſo that they let none of them *remaine nor eſcape.

k For the fire, which they had before ſet in the citie, was not to conſume it, but to ſignifie vnto Ioſhua that they were entred.

25 And all that fell that day, both of men & women, were twelue thouſand, euen all the men of Ai.

30 ¶ Thē Iosh. built an altar vnto the Lord God of Israel, in mount Ebal, 31 As Moses the seruant of the Lord had commanded the children of Israel, Exod.20.25. deut.27.5. as it is written in the *booke of the Law of Moses, an altar of whole stone, ouer which no man had lift an yron: and they offred thereon burnt offrings vnto the Lorde, and sacrificed peace offrings.

32 Also he wrote there vpon ꝑ stones, n a rehearsal of ꝑ Lawe of Moses, which hee wrote in the presence of the children of Israel.

n Meaning the ten commandements, which are the summe of the whole Lawe.

33 And all Israel (and their Elders, and officers and their Iudges stoode on this side of the Arke, and on that side, before the Priestes of the Leuites, which bare the Arke of the couenant of the Lorde) as well the stranger, as hee that is borne in the countrey: halfe of them [were] ouer against mount Gerizim, and halfe of them ouer against mount Ebal, Deut.11.29. and 27.12,13. *as Moses the seruant of the Lord had commaunded before, that they should blesse the people of Israel.

34 Then afterwarde hee read all the Wordes of the Lawe, the blessings and curlings, according to all that is written in the booke of the Lawe.

Deut.31.12, ‡3. 35 There was not a word of all that Moses had commanded, which Iosh. o So neither yong nor olde, man nor woman were exempten from hearing the word of the Lord. read not before all the Congregation of Israel, *as well [before] o the women and the children, as the stranger that was conuersant among them.

CHAP. IX.

1 Diuers kings assemble themselues against Iosh. 3 The craft of ꝑ Gibeonites. 15 Iosh. maketh a league with them. 23 For their craft they are condemned to perpetual slauerie.

AND when all the kings that a were beyond Iordē, in the mountaines & in the valleis, and by all the coastes of the b great sea ouer against Lebanon ([as] the Hittites, and the Amorites, the Canaanites, the Perizzites, the Hiuites, and the Iebusites) heard thereof, a In respect of the plaine of Moab.

b The maigne sea called Mediterraneum.

2 They gathered them selues together, to fight against Iosh. and against Israel with one ‡ accord.

‡ Ebr. one mouth. 2.Sam.21.1.

3 ¶ *But the inhabitants of Gibeon heard what Iosh. had done vnto Iericho, and to Ai.

4 And therefore they wrought craftily: for they went, and fayned themselues embassadours, & tooke olde sackes vpon their asses, and olde bottels for wine, both rent and c bound vp,

c Because they were all woyne.

5 And olde shoes and clouted vpon their feete: also the rayment vpon them [was] olde, & all their prouision of bread was dryed, and mouled.

6 So they came vnto Iosh. vnto the hoste to Gilgal, and sayde vnto him, and vnto the men of Israel, We be come from a farre countrey: nowe therefore make a league with vs.

7 Then the men of Israel saide vnto the d Hiuites, It may be that thou dwellest among vs, how then can I make a league with thee?

d For the Gibeonites and the Diuites were all one people.

8 And they said vnto Iosh. We are thy seruants. Then Iosh. saide vnto them, who are ye? and whence come ye?

9 And they answered him, From a very far countrey thy seruants are come for e the Name of the Lord thy God: for We haue heard his fame and all that he hath done in Egypt, e Euen the idolaters for feare of death will pretend to honour the true God and receiue his religion.

10 And all that hee hath done to the two kings of the Amorites that were beyonde Iordē, to Sihon king of Heshbon, and to Og king of Bashan, which were at Ashtaroth.

11 Wherefore our elders, & all the inhabitants of our countrey spake to vs, saying, Take vitailes ‡ with you for the iourney, and goe to meete them, and say vnto them, We are your seruants: now therefore make ye a league with vs.

‡ Ebr. in your hand.

12 This our f bread We tooke it hote with vs for vitails out of our houses, the day We departed to come vnto you: but now behold, it is dried, and it is mouled.

f The wicked lacke no arte nor spare no lies to set forth their policie, when they will deceiue the seruants of God.

13 Also these bottels of wine which We filled, [were] newe, and loe, they be rent, and these our garmentes and our shoes are olde, by reason of the exceeding great iourney.

14 ¶ And the g men accepted [their tale] concerning their vitailes, and counseled not with the mouth of the Lord.

g Some think that the Israelites ate of their vitailes, and so made a league with them.

15 So Iosh. made peace w them, and made a league with them, that hee would suffer them to liue: also ꝑ Princes of the Congregation sware vnto them.

16 ¶ But at the end of three dayes, after they had made a league with them, they heard that they were their neighbours, & that they dwelt among them.

17 And the children of Israel tooke their h iourney, and came vnto their cities the third day, and their cities [were] Gibeon, and Chephirah, and Beeroth and Kiriath-iearim.

h From Gilgal.

18 And the children of Israel slewe them them not, because the Princes of the Cōgregation had sworne vnto them by the Lord God of Israel: wherefore all the Congregation i murmured against the Princes.

i Fearing lest for their fault the plague of God should haue light vpon them all.

19 Then all the Princes saide vnto all the Congregation, We haue sworne vnto them by the Lorde God of Israel: now therefore we may not touch them.

20 [But] this We will doe to them, and let them liue, least ẏ wrath be vpon vs because of the k othe which we sware vnto them.

k This doeth not establish rash othes, but sheweth Gods mercie toward his, which would not punish them for this fault.

21 And the Princes said vnto them againe, Let them liue, but they shall hewe wood, and drawe water vnto all the Congregation, as the Princes appoint them.

22 Iosh ua then called them, and talked with them, & said, Wherefore haue ye beguiled vs, saying, We are very farre from you, when ye dwell among vs?

23 Nowe therefore ye are cursed, and there shall none of you be freed frō being bondmen, & hewers of wood, and drawers of water for l the house of my God.

l For the vses of the Tabernacle, and of the temple when it shalbe built. Deut.7.1.

24 And they answered Iosh ua and said, Because it was tolde thy seruants, that the Lord thy God had * commaunded his seruant Moses to giue you all the lande, and to destroye all the inhabitants of the land out of your sight, therefore We were exceeding sore afraide of our liues at the ẏ presence of you, and haue done this thing:

25 And beholde now, We are in thine hande: doe as it seemeth good and right in thine eyes to do vnto vs.

26 Euen so did he vnto them, and deliuered them out of the m hand of the children of Israel, that they slew them not.

m Who were minded to put them to death for feare of Gods wrath.

27 And Iosh ua appointed them that same day [to be] hewers of wood, and drawers of water for the Congregation, and for the n altar of the Lorde vnto this day, in the place which he should chuse.

n That is, for the sacrifices of the temple, as verse 23.

CHAP. X.

1 Fiue kings make warre against Gibeon whome Iosh ua discomfiteth. 11 The Lord rained hailestones and slewe many. 12 The sunne standeth at Iosh uas prayer. 26 The fiue kings are hanged. 29 Many mo cities and kings are destroyed.

NOw When Adoni-zedek king of Ierusalē had heard howe Iosh ua had taken Ai & had destroyed it, (* [for] as he had done to Iericho and to the king thereof, so hee had done to * Ai and to the king thereof) and how the inhabitants of Gibeon had made peace with Israel, and were among them,

Chap.6.21.

Chap.8.3.28, 29.

2 Then they feared exceedingly: for Gibeon was a great citie, as one of the royall cities: for it was greater then Ai, and all the men thereof [were] mightie.

3 Wherefore a Adoni-zedek king of Ierusalem sent vnto Hoham king of Hebron, and vnto Piram king of Iarmuth, and vnto Iapia king of Lachith, and vnto Debir king of Eglon, saying, a That is, Lord of iustice: so tyrants take to themselues glorious names, when in deede they be very enemies against God and all iustice.

4 Come vp vnto me, & helpe me, that we may smite Gibeon: for they haue made peace with Iosh ua and with the children of Israel.

5 Therefore the fiue kings of the Amorites, the king of Ierusalem, the king of Hebrō, the king of Iarmuth, the king of Lachith, [and] the king of Eglon gathered themselues together, and went vp, they with all their hostes, and besieged Gibeon, & made b warre against it.

b So enuious the wicked are, when any depart from their band.

6 And the men of Gibeon sent vnto Iosh ua, [euē] to the hoste to Gilgal, saying, Withdraw not thine hand from thy seruāts: come vp to vs quickly, and saue vs, and helpe vs: for all the kings of the Amorites which dwel in ẏ mountaines, are gathered together against vs.

7 So Iosh ua ascended from Gilgal, hee, & all the people of warre with him, and all the men of might.

8 (And the Lord said vnto Iosh ua, c Feare them not: for I haue giuē them into thine hand: none of them shall stand against thee.

c Lest Iosh ua should haue thought that God had sent this great power against him for his vnlawfull league with the Gibeonites, ẏ Lorde here strengtheneth him.

9 Iosh ua therefore came vnto them sodenly: [for] hee went vp from Gilgal all the night.

10 And the Lorde discomfited them before Israel, & slew them with a great slaughter at Gibeon, and chased them along the way that goeth vp to Beth-horon, and smote them to Azekah and to Makkedah.

11 And as they fled from before Israel, [&] were in the going downe to Beth-horon, the Lord cast downe great stones from heauen vpon them, vntill Azekah, and they died: [they were] more ẏ died with ẏ d hailestones, then they whom the children of Israel slew with the sword.

d So we see that all things serue to execute Gods reuengeance against the wicked. Isa.28.21. eccles.46.4.5.

12 (Then spake Iosh ua to ẏ Lord, in the day when the Lorde gaue the Amorites before the children of Israel, and he saide in the sight of Israel, * Sunne, stay thou in Gibeon, and thou moone, in the valley of Aialon.

e Some read, in the booke of the righteous, meaning Moses, the Chalde text readeth in the booke of the Lawe: but it is like that it was a booke thus named which is now lost.

13 And the sunne abode, & the moone stoode still, vntill the people auenged themselues vpō their enemies: (Is not this written in the booke of e Iasher) so the sunne abode in the middes of the heauen, and hasted not to goe downe for a whole day.

14 And there was no day like that before it, nor after it, that the Lorde heard the voyce of a man: for the Lord † fought for Israel.

† By taking away the enemies hearts, and destroying them with haile stones.

15 ¶ After, Ioshua returned, & all Israel with him vnto the campe to Gilgal:

16 But the fiue Kings fled and were hid in a caue at Makkedah.

17 And it was tolde Ioshua, saying, The fiue Kings are founde hid in a caue at Makkedah.

18 Then Ioshua saide, Roule great stones vpon the mouth of the caue, and set men by it for to keepe them.

19 But stand ye not still: follow after your enemies, and ‡ smite all the hindmost, suffer them not to enter into their cities: for the Lord your God hath giuen them into your hand.

‡ Ebr. cut off all their traine, or taile.

20 And when Ioshua & the children of Israel had made an ende of slaying them with an exceeding great slaughter till they were consumed, and the rest that remained of them were entred into walled cities, 21 Then all the people returned to the campe, to Ioshua at Makkedah in § peace: no man mooued his tongue against the children of Israel.

§ Or, in safetie, so that none gaue them as much as an euill word.

22 After, Ioshua sayde, Open the mouth of the caue, and bring out these fiue Kings vnto me forth of the caue.

23 And they did so, and brought out those fiue Kings vnto him forth of the caue, [euen] the king of Ierusalem, the king of Hebron, the king of Iarmuth, the king of Lachish, [and] the king of Eglon.

24 And when they had brought out those kings vnto Ioshua, Ioshua called for all the men of Israel, and said vnto the chiefe of the men of warre, which went with him, Come nere, set your feet vpon the ‖ neckes of these kings: and they came neere and set their feete vpon their neckes.

‖ Signifying what should become of the rest of Gods enemies, seeing that kings them selues were not spared.

25 And Ioshua said vnto them, Feare not, nor be faint hearted, [but] be strong and of a good courage: for thus will the Lorde doe to all your enemies, against whom ye fight.

26 So then Ioshua smote them, and slew them, & hanged them on fiue trees, and they hanged still vpon the trees vntill the euening.

27 And at the going downe of the sunne, Ioshua gaue commaundement, that they shoulde take * them downe of the trees, and cast them into the caue (wherein they had bene hid) and they laide great stones vpon the caues mouth, [which remaine] vntill this day. * Deut. 21. 23. chap. 8. 29.

28 ¶ And † same day Ioshua tooke † Makkedah and smote it with the edge of the sword, & the king therof destroyed hee with them, and ‖ all the soules that were therein, he let none remaine: for he did to the king of Makkedah * as he had done vnto the king of Ierico. † Ioshua taketh Makkedah. ‖ Or, euery person. * Chap. 6. 21.

29 Then Ioshua went from Makkedah, & all Israel with him vnto Libnah, and fought against Libnah.

30 And the Lord gaue † it also and the king thereof into the hande of Israel: and he smote it with † edge of the sword, and all the ‖ soules that were therein: he let none remaine in it: for he did vnto the king thereof, as hee had done vnto the king of Ierico. † Libnah is taken. ‖ Or, persons.

31 ¶ And Ioshua departed from Libnah, and all Israel with him vnto Lachish, and besieged it, and assaulted it.

32 And the Lorde gaue † Lachish into the hand of Israel, which tooke it the second day, and smote it with the edge of the sworde, and all the soules that were therein, according to all as hee had done to Libnah. † Lachish is taken.

33 ¶ Then Horam king of † Gezer came vp to helpe Lachish: but Ioshua smote him and his people, vntill none of his remained. † The king of Gezer is slaine.

34 ¶ And from Lachish Ioshua departed vnto † Eglon, and all Israel with him, and they besieged it, & assaulted it, † Eglon is taken.

35 And they tooke it the same day, and smote it with the edge of the sworde, and all the soules that were therein he vtterly destroyed the same day, according to all that he had done to Lachish.

36 Then Ioshua went vp from Eglon, and all Israel with him vnto Hebron, and they fought against it.

37 And when they had taken † it, they smote it with the edge of the sword, and the king thereof, and all the cities thereof, and all the soules that were therein: hee left none remayning, according to all as he had done to Eglon: for hee destroyed it vtterly, and all the soules that were therein. † Hebron is taken.

38 ¶ So Ioshua returned, & all Israel with him to Debir, & fought against it.

39 And when hee had taken † it, and the king thereof, and all the cities thereof, they smote them with the edge of the sword, † Debir is taken.

swoꝛd, & vtterly destroyed all the soules that were therein, he let none remaine: as he did to Hebꝛon, so he did to Debir, and to the King thereof, as he had also done to Libnah, & to the King thereof.

40 ¶ So Ioshua smote all the hill countreys, and the South countreys, and the valleys, and the [i] hill sides, and al their Kings, and let none remaine, but vtterly destroyed euery soule, as þ Lord God of Israel had commanded.

41 And Ioshua smote them frō Kadesh-barnea euen vnto Azzah, & all the countrey of Goshen, euen vnto Gibeon.

42 And al these Kings, and their land did Ioshua take at [k] one time, because þ Lord God of Israel fought foꝛ Israel.

43 Afterward, Ioshua and all Israel with him returned vnto the campe in [l] Gilgal.

a Diuers Kings and Cities, and Countreis ouercome by Ioshua. 15 Ioshua did all that Moses had commanded him. 20 God hardeneth the enemies hearts that they might be destroyed.

AND whē Iabin King of Haꝛoꝛ had heard this, then hee [a] sent to Iobab King of Madon, & to the King of Shimron, and to the King of Achshaph, a The moꝛe that Gods power appeareth, the moꝛe the wicked rage against it.

2 And vnto the Kings that were by the Noꝛth in the mountaines, & plaines toward the Southside of [b] Cinneroth, and in the valleys, and in the boꝛders of Doꝛ Westward, b Which the Euangelistes call the lake of Gennezereth, oꝛ Tiberias,

3 [And] vnto the Canaanites, [both] by East, and by West, and vnto the Amorites, and Hittites, and Perizzites, and Iebusites in the mountaines, and vnto the Hiuites vnder [c] Hermon in the land of Mizpeh.

c Which was mount Sihon, as Deu. 4. 48.

4 And they came out & all their hostes with them, many people as þ sande that is on the sea shoꝛe foꝛ multitude, with hoꝛses and charets exceeding many.

5 So all these Kings met together, & came and pitched together at the waters of Merom, foꝛ to fight against Israel.

6 ¶ Then the Lord saide vnto Ioshua, Be not afraid foꝛ them: foꝛ to moꝛowe about this time will I deliuer them all slaine before Israel: thou shalt [d] hough their hoꝛses, and burne their charets with fire.

d That neither they should serue to the vse of warre, noꝛ the Israelites should put their trust in them.

7 Then came Ioshua and all the men of warre with him against them by the waters of Merom suddenly, and fell vpon them.

8 And the Lord gaue them into the hand of Israel: and they smote them, and chased them vnto great Zidon, and vnto [c] Misrephothmaim, & vnto þ valley of Mizpeh Eastwarde, and smote them vntill they had none remaining of them.

c Which signifieth, hot waters, oꝛ according to some, hyne pits.

9 And Ioshua did vnto them as the Lord bade him: he houghed their hoꝛses, and burnt their charets with fire.

10 ¶ At that time also Ioshua turned backe, and tooke Haꝛoꝛ, and smote the King thereof with the swoꝛd: foꝛ Haꝛoꝛ beforetime was the head of all those kingdomes.

11 Moꝛeouer, they smote all the [f] persons that were therein with þ edge of the swoꝛde, vtterly destroying [all,] leauing none aliue, and he burnt Haꝛoꝛ with fire.

f Both men, women and children.

12 So al the cities of those Kings, and all the Kings of them did Ioshua take, and smote them with the edge of the swoꝛd, [and] vtterly destroyed them, as Moses the seruant of the Lord had commanded. Nom. 33. 52. deut. 7. 2.

13 But Israel burnt none of the cities that stood stil in their [g] strength, saue Haꝛoꝛ only, that Ioshua burnt.

g Which were strong by situation and not hurt by warre.

14 And all the spoyle of these cities and the cattel the children of Israel tooke foꝛ their pꝛay, but they smote euery [h] man with þ edge of the swoꝛde vntill they had destroyed them, not leauing one aliue.

h Al mankind.

15 ¶ As the Lord had cōmanded Moses his seruant, so did Moses [*] command Ioshua, and so did Ioshua: he left nothing vndone of all that the Lord had commanded Moses. Exod. 34. 11. Deut. 7. 2.

16 So Ioshua tooke all this land of the mountaines, and all the South, and all the land of Goshen, and the low countrey, and the plaine, and the [i] mountaine of Israel, and the lowe countrey of the same, i That is, Samaria.

17 From the mount [k] Halak, that goeth vp to Seir, euen vnto ‖ Baal-gad in the valley of Lebanon, vnder mount Hermon: and all their kings he tooke, and smote them, and slew them.

k So called, because it was bare and without trees. ‖ Or, the valley of Gad.

18 Ioshua made warre long time with all those Kings.

19 Neither was there any citie that made peace with the children of Israel, [*] saue those Hiuites that inhabited Gibeon: all [other] they tooke by battell. Chap. 9. 3.

20 Foꝛ it came of the Lord, to [l] harden their hearts that they should come against Israel in battell to the intent that they should destroy them vtterly, [and] shew them no merey, but that they should bring them to nought: as þ Lord had commanded Moses.

l That is, to giue them ouer to themselues: and therefore they could not but rebell against God and seeke their owne destruction.

21 ¶ And

21 ¶ And that same season came Ioshua, and destroyed the Anakims out of the mountaines: [as] out of Hebron, out of Debir, out of Anab, and out of all the mountaines of Iudah, and out of all the mountaines of Israel: Ioshua destroyed them vtterly with their cities.

22 There was no Anakim left in the land of the children of Israel: onely in Azzah, [m] in Gath, and in Ashdod were they left.

m Out of the which came Goliath, 1. Sam. 17.4.

23 So Ioshua tooke the whole land, according to all that the Lorde had said vnto Moses: and Ioshua gaue it for an inheritance vnto Israel * according to their portions through their tribes: then the land was at rest without warre.

Deut.3.11. chap.12.4.

13 But the children of Israel dexpelled not the Geshurites nor ye Maachathites: but the Geshurites & the Maachathites dwell among the Israelites euen vnto this day.

15 ¶ Moses then gaue vnto the tribe of the children of Reuben [inheritance,] according to their families.

16 And their coast was from Aroer, that is on the brinke of the riuer Arnon, and from the citie that is in the middes of the riuer, and all the plaine which is by Medeba:

20 And Beth-peor, and * Ashdoth-pisgah, and Beth-ieshimoth:

21 And all the cities of the plaine: and all the kingdome of Sihon King of the Amorites, which reigned in Heshbon, whom Moses smote * with the Princes of Midian, Eui, and Rekem, and Zur, and Hur, and Reba, ye dukes of Sihon, dwelling in the countrey.

Nom.31.8.

22 And f Balaam the sonne of Beor the southsayer did the children of Israel slay with the sworde, among them that were slaine.

f So that both they which obeyed wicked counsell and the wicked counseller perished by the iust iudgement of God.

23 And the border of the children of Reuben was Iorden with the coastes. This was ye inheritance of the children of Reuben according to their families, with the cities and their villages.

24 ¶ Also Moses gaue [inheritance] vnto the tribe of Gad, [euen] vnto ye children of Gad according to their families.

25 And their coastes were Iazer, and all the cities of Gilead and halfe the land of the children of Ammon vnto Aroer, which is before Rabbah:

26 And from Heshbon vnto Ramoth, Mizpeh, and Betonim: and from Mahanaim vnto the borders of Debir:

28 This is the inheritance of the children of Gad, after their families, with the cities and their villages.

29 ¶ Also Moses gaue [inheritāce] vnto the halfe tribe of Manasseh: and it belonged to the halfe tribe of ye children of Manasseh according to their families.

30 And their border was from Mahanaim, [euen] all Bashan, [to wit,] all the kingdome of Og King of Bashan, and all the townes of Iair which are in Bashan, threescore cities,

3 For Moses had giuen inheritance vnto a two tribes and an halfe tribe, beyond Iorden: but vnto the Leuites hee gaue none inheritance among them.

a As Reuben and Gad and halfe the tribe of Manasseh, Nom.33.15.

4 For the children of Ioseph were b two tribes, Manasseh and Ephraim: therefore they gaue no part vnto ỹ Leuites in the lande, saue cities to dwell in, with the suburbes of the same for their beastes and their substance.

b So though Leui lacked, yet were there still twelue tribes by this meanes.

Nom.35.2. chap.21.2,3. 5 *As the Lorde had commanded Moses, so the children of Israel did when they deuided the land.

6 ¶ Then the children of Iudah came vnto Iosh ua in Gilgal: and Caleb the sonne of Iephunneh ỹ Kenezite said vnto him, Thou knowest what the Lorde said vnto Moses the man of God, concerning c me and thee in Kadesh-barnea.

c Which was, that they two onely should enter into the land, Nom. 14.24.

7 Fourtie yere old was I, when Moses the seruant of the Lord sent me from Kadesh-barnea to elyie the lande, and I brought him worde againe, as [I thought] in mine heart.

8 But my d brethren ỹ went vp with me, discouraged the heart of the people: yet I followed still the Lord my God.

d Which were the ten other spies.

9 Wherefore Moses ware the same day, saying, Certainely the land whereon thy feete haue troden, shalbe thine inheritance, and thy childrens for euer, because thou hast followed constantly the Lord my God.

10 Therefore beholde now, the Lorde hath kept me alme, as he promised: this is the fourtie and fifth yeere since ỹ Lord spake this thing vnto Moses, while the children of Israel wandred in the wildernesse: and nowe loe, I am this day fourescore and fiue yeere old:

1 The lot of the children of Iudah, and the names of the cities and villages of the same. 13 Calebs portion. 18 The request of Achsah.

THis then was the lot of the tribe of the children of Iudah by their families: [euen] *to the border of Edom and ꝑ Wildernes of *Zin, Southward on the Southcoast.

Nomb.34.3.

Nom.33.36.

2 And their Southborder was the salt Sea coast, from [a] the point that looketh Southward.

a The Ebrew worde signifieth tongue, whereby is ment either the arme of the Sea that commeth into the land, or a rocke or cape that goeth into the Sea.

3 And it went out on the South side toward Maaleth-akrabbim, and went along to Zin, and ascended vp on the Southside vnto Kadesh-barnea, and went along to Hezron, and went vp to Adar, and fet a compasse to Karkaa.

4 From thence went it along to Azmon, ⁊ reached vnto the riuer of Egypt, ⁊ the end of that coast was on the Westside: this shalbe your Southcoast.

5 Also the Eastborder shall be the salt Sea, vnto the [b] end of Iorden: and the border on the Northquarter from the point of the Sea, [and] from the ende of Iorden.

b Meaning, the mouth of the riuer where it runneth into the salt sea.

6 And this border goeth vp to Bethhogla, and goeth alog by the Northside of Beth-arabah: so the border from thence goeth vp to the [c] stone of Bohan the sonne of Reuben.

c Which was a marke to part their countreys.

7 Againe this border goeth vp to Debir from the valley of Achor, ⁊ Northward, turning toward Gilgal, that lieth before ꝑ going vp to Adummim, which is on the Southside of ꝑ riuer: also this border goeth vp to the waters of ‖ Enthemeth, and endeth at *En-rogel.

‖ Or, the fountaine of the sunne.

1.King.1.9.

8 Then this border goeth vp to the valley of the sonne of Hinnom, on the Southside of the Iebusites: the same is Ierusalem. also this border goeth vp to the top of the mountaine that lieth before the valley of Hinnom Westwarde, which is by the ende of the valley of the ‡ gyants Northward.

‡ Eb. Rephaim.

9 So this border compasseth from the top of the mountaine vnto the fountaine of the water of Nephtoah, and goeth out to the cities of mount Ephron: and this border draweth to Baalah, which is ‖ Kiriath iearim.

‖ Or, the citie of woods.

10 Then this border compasseth frō Baalah Westwarde vnto mount Seir, and goeth along vnto the side of mount Iearim, which is Chesalon on ꝑ North side: so it commeth downe to Beth-shemesh, and goeth to Timnah.

11 Also this border goeth out vnto the side of Ekron Northwarde: and this border draweth to Shicron, and goeth along to mount Baalah, and stretcheth vnto Iabneel: and the ends of this coast are to the [d] Sea.

d Meaning toward Syria.

12 And the Westborder [is] to the great Sea: so this border shalbe the boundes of the children of Iudah round about, according to their families.

13 ¶ And vnto Caleb the sonne of Iephunneh did Iosh ua giue a part amōg the children of Iudah, as the Lord commanded him, [euen] *Kiriath arba of the father of Anak, which is Hebron.

Chap.14.15.

14 And Caleb [e] droue thence three sonnes of Anak, Shechai, and Ahiman, and Talmai, the sonnes of Anak.

e This was done after the death of Iosh ua, Iudg. 1.10,20.

15 And he went vp thence to the inhabitants of Debir: and the name of Debir before time [was] Kiriath-sepher.

16 Then Caleb said, He that smiteth Kiriath-sepher, ⁊ taketh it, euen to him will I giue Achsah my daughter to wife.

17 And Othniel, the sonne of Kenaz, the ‖ brother of Caleb tooke it: ⁊ he gaue him Achsah his daughter to wife.

‖ Or, cousin.

18 And as shee went in [to him,] shee moued him to aske of her father a field: [f] and she lighted off her asse, and Caleb said vnto her, What wilt thou?

f Because her husband tarried too long.

19 Then shee answered, ‖ Giue mee a blessing: for thou hast giuen [g] mee the South countrey: giue me also springs of water. And hee gaue her the springs aboue and the springs beneath.

‖ Or, grant me this petition.

g Because her countrey was barren, she desired of her father a fielde that had springs, Iudg. 1.14,15.

20 This shalbe the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Iudah according to their families.

21 And the vtmost cities of the tribe of the children of Iudah, towarde ꝑ coasts of Edom Southward [were] Kabzeel, and Eder, and Iagur,

22 And Kinah, and Dimonah, and Adadah,

23 And Kedesh, ⁊ Hazor, ⁊ Ithnan,

24 Ziph, and Telem, and Bealoth,

25 And Hazor, Hadattah, ⁊ Kerioth, Hesron (which is Hazor)

26 Amam, and Shema, ⁊ Moladah,

27 And Hazar, Gaddah, ⁊ Heshmon, and Beth-palet,

28 And Hazar-shual, and Beersheba, and Bizjothiah,

29 Baalah, and Iim, and Azem,

30 And Eltolad, and Chesil, [h] and Hormah, h Which before was called Zephath, Iudg. 1.17.

31 And Ziklag, and Madmanna, and Sansannah,

U.i. 32 And

32 And Lebaoth, and Shilhim, and Ain, and Rimmon: all these cities are twentie and nine with their villages.

33 ¶ In the low countrey were Eshtaol, and Zoreah, and Ashnah,

34 And Zanoah, and En-gannim, Tappuah, and Enam,

35 Jarmuth, and Adullam, Socoh, and Azekah,

36 And Sharaim, and Adithaim, and Gederah, and Gederothaim: fourteene cities with their villages.

37 Zenam, and Hadashah, and Migdal-gad,

38 And Dilean, and Mizpeh, & Joktheel,

39 Lachish, and Bozkath, and Eglon,

40 And Cabbon, and Lahmam, and Kithlish,

41 And Gederoth, Beth-dagon, and Naamah, and Makkedah: sixteene cities with their villages.

42 Libna, and Ether, and Ashan,

43 And Iiphtah, & Ashnah, & Nezib,

44 And Keilah, and Achzib, and Mareshah: nine cities with their villages.

45 Ekron with her † townes and her villages,

50 And Anab, and Eshtemoh, & Anim,

51 And Goshen, and Holon, & Giloh: eleuen cities with their villages,

52 Arab, and Dumah, and Eshean,

53 And Janum, and Beth-tappuah, and Aphekah,

54 And Humtah, and * Kiriath-arba, (which is Hebron) and Zior: nine cities with their villages.

Chap. 14.15.

55 Maon, Carmel, & Ziph, & Juttah,

56 And Jezreel, and Jokdeam, and Zanoah,

57 Kain, Gibea, and Timnah: ten cities with their villages.

58 Halhul, Beth-zur, and Gedor,

59 And Maarah, and Beth-anoth, & Eltekon: six cities with their villages.

60 Kiriath-baal, which is Kiriath-iearim, and Rabbah: two cities with their villages.

61 ¶ In the wildernes were Beth-arabah, Middin, and Secacah, 62 And Nibshan, and the ‖ citie of Salt, & En-gedi: six cities with their villages.

‖ Of this citie the salt Sea hath his name.

63 Neuertheles, the Iebusites that were the inhabitants of Ierusalē, could not the children of Iudah cast [m] out, but the Iebusites dwell with the children of Iudah at Ierusalem vnto this day.

m That is, vtterly, though they slewe the most part, and burnt their citie, Iudg. 1.8

CHAP. XVI.

1 The lot of the part of Ephraim. 10 The Canaanite dwelleth among them.

AND the lot fell to the [a] children of Ioseph from Iorden by Iericho vnto the water of Iericho eastward, and to the wildernes that goeth vp from Iericho by the mount Beth-el:

a That is, to Ephraim and his children: for Manasseh's portion followeth.

2 And goeth out from Beth-el to * Luz, and runneth along vnto the borders of Archiataroth,

* Iudg. 1.26.

3 And goeth downe westward to the coast of Japhleti, vnto the coast of Beth-horon the nether, and to Gezer: and the endes [b] thereof are at the Sea.

b Of their inheritance.

4 So the children of Ioseph, Manasseh & Ephraim [c] tooke their inheritance.

c Generally, first Ephraim, and then Manasseh.

5 ¶ Also the borders of the children of Ephraim according to their families, euē the borders of their inheritance on the Eastside, were Atroth-addar, vnto Beth-horon the vpper.

6 And this border goeth out to the Sea vnto Michmethah on the Northside, & this border returneth Eastwarde vnto Taanath-shiloh, and passeth it on the Eastside vnto Janohah, 7 And goeth downe from Janohah to Ataroth, and Naarath, and commeth to Iericho, [d] and goeth out at Iorden.

d For to farre the coastes teach.

8 And this border goeth from Tappuah westward vnto the riuer Kanah, and the ends therof are at the Sea: this is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Ephraim by their families.

9 And the [e] separate cities for the children of Ephraim were among the inheritance of the children of Manasseh: all the cities with their villages.

e Because Ephraims tribe was farre greater then Manasseh, therefore hee had mo cities.

10 And they cast not out the Canaanite that dwelt in Gezer, but the Canaanite dwelt among the Ephraimites vnto this day, and serued vnder tribute.

CHAP. XVII.

1 The portion of the halfe tribe of Manasseh. 3 The daughters of Zelophehad. 13 The Canaanites are become tributaries. 14 Manasseh & Ephraim require a greater portis of heritage.

THis was also the lot of the tribe of Manasseh: for hee was the * first borne of Ioseph, [to wit,]

Gen. 41.51. and 46.20. and 50.23. Nom. 32.39

of Machir the first borne of Manasseh, [and] the father of Gilead: now because he was a man of warre, he had Gilead and Bashan.

Nom. 26.29. a For the other halfe tribe had their portion beyond Iorden.

2 And also *of the rest of the sonnes of Manasseh by their families, [euen] of the sonnes of Abiezer, and of the sonnes of Helek, and of the sonnes of Asriel, and of the sonnes of Sychem, and of the sonnes of Hepher, and of the sonnes of Shemida: these were the males of Manasseh, the sonne of Ioseph according to their families.

Nomb. 26.33. and 27.1. and 36.2,11.

3 ¶ But Zelophehad the sonne of Hepher, the sonne of Gilead, the sonne of Machir, the sonne of Manasseh, had no sonnes, but daughters: and these are the names of his daughters, Mahlah, and Noah, Hoglah, Milcah & Tirzah:

4 Which came before Eleazar the Priest, and before Ioshua the sonne of Nun, and before the princes, saying, The Lorde commanded Moses to giue vs an inheritance among our [b] brethren: therefore according to the commaundement of the Lorde he gaue them an inheritance among the brethren of their father.

b Among the of our tribe.

c In the lande of Canaan: fine to the males, & other fine to the daughters of Zelophehad.

5 And there fell ten portions to [c] Manasseh, beside [y] land of Gilead and Bashan, which is on the other side Iorden,

6 Because the daughters of Manasseh did inherite among his sonnes: and Manasseths other sonnes had the lande of Gilead.

7 ¶ So the borders of Manasseh were from Asher to Michmethah that lieth before Shechem, and this border goeth on the right hande, euen vnto the inhabitants of En-tappuah.

8 The land of Tappuah belonged to Manasseh, but [d] Tappuah beside [y] border of Manasseh [belongeth] to [y] sonnes of Ephraim.

d Meaning, the city it selfe.

9 Also this border goeth downe vnto ‖ the riuer Kanah Southward to the riuer: these cities of Ephraim are among the cities of Manasseh: and the border of Manasseh is on the Northside of the riuer, and the ends of it are at the [e] Sea,

‖ Or, the brook of reedes.

e That is, toward the maine sea.

10 The South pertaineth to Ephraim, and the North to Manasseh, and the Sea is his border: and they met together in [f] Asher Northward, and in Issachar Eastward.

f In the tribe of Asher, and tribe of Issachar.

11 And Manasseh had in Issachar and in Asher, Beth-shean, and her townes, and Ibleam, and her townes, and the inhabitants of Dor with the townes thereof, and the inhabitants of En-dor with the townes thereof, and the inhabitants of Thaanach with her townes, and the inhabitants of Megiddo with the townes of the same, [euen] three countreys.

12 Yet the children of Manasseh could not destroy those cities, but the Canaanites dwelled still in that land.

g For at the first they lacked courage, and after agreed with the on condition, contrarie to Gods commaundement, 13 Neuertheless, when the children of Israel were strong, they put the Canaanites vnder tribute, but cast them not out wholy.

14 Then the children of Ioseph spake vnto Ioshua, saying, why hast thou giuen mee but one lot, and one portion to inherite, seeing I am a great people, for as much as the Lorde hath [h] blessed me hitherto?

h According to my father Iaakobs prophesie Gen. 48.19.

15 Ioshua then answered them, If thou be much people, get thee vp to the Wood, & cut trees for thy selfe there in the land of the Perizzites, and of the giants, if mount Ephraim be to narow for thee.

i If this mosle be not large enough, why doest not thou get more by destroying Gods enemies, as hee hath commanded?

16 Then the children of Ioseph sayd, The mountaine will not be enough for vs: and all the Canaanites that dwel in the lolde countrey haue charets of yron, as well they in Beth-shean, and in the townes of the same, as they in the valley of Iezreel.

17 And Ioshua spake vnto the house of Ioseph, to Ephraim, & to Manasseh, saying, Thou art a great people, & hast great power, [& thou] shalt not haue one lot.

18 Therefore the mountaine shall bee thine: for it is a wood, and thou shalt cut it downe: and the ends of it shalbe thine, [k] and thou shalt cast out the Canaanites, though they haue yron charets, [and] though they be strong.

k So that thou shalt enlarge thy portion thereby.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 The Tabernacle set in Shiloh. 4 Certaine are sent to deuide the land to the other seuen tribes. 11 The lot of the children of Beniamin.

AND the whole Congregation of the children of Israel came together at Shiloh: for they set vp the [a] Tabernacle of the Congregation there, after the land was subiect vnto them.

a For they had now remoued it from Gilgal and set it vp in Shiloh.

2 Howbeit there remained among the children of Israel seuen tribes, to whom [b] they had not deuided their inheritance.

b As Eleazar, Ioshua & the heades of the tribes had done to Iudah, Ephraim and halfe of Manasseh.

3 Therefore Ioshua laide vnto the children of Israel, Howlong are ye so slacke to enter and possesse the lande which the Lorde God of your fathers hath giuen you?

4 Giue from among you for [euerie] tribe three men, that I may send them, and that they may rise, & walke through the land, and distribute it according to c That is, into seuē portions, to euery tribe one.

c their inheritance, and returne to me.

5 And that they may deuide it vnto them into seuen parts, (Iudah shall abide in his coast at the South, and the house of Ioseph shall d stande in their coasts at the North)

d For these had their inheritance alreadie appointed.

6 Ye shall describe the land therefore into seuen parts, and shal bring them hither to me, and I will cast lots for you here before the e Lord our God.

e Before the arke of the Lord.

7 But the Leuites shall haue no part among you: for the f Priesthoode of the Lord is their inheritance: also Gad and Reuben & halfe the tribe of Manasseh haue receiued their inheritance beyonde Iordan Eastwarde, which Moses the seruant of the Lord gaue them.

f That is, the sacrifices and offrings, chap. 13, 14.

8 ¶ Then the men arose, and went their way: and Ioshua charged them that went to describe the lande, saying, Depart, and go through the lande, and g By writing the names of euery countrey and citie.
g describe it, and returne to mee, that I may here cast lottes for you before the Lord in Shiloh.

9 So the men departed, and passed through the land, & described it by cities into seuen parts in a booke, & returned to Ioshua into the campe at Shiloh.

10 ¶ Then Ioshua h cast lots for thē in Shiloh before the Lord, & there Ioshua deuided the land vnto the children of Israel, according to their portions:
h That euery one should be content with Gods appointment.

11 ¶ And the lot of the tribe of the children of Beniamin came forth according to their families, and the coast of their i Their inheritance bordered vpon Iudah and Ioseph.
i lot lay betweene the children of Iudah, and the children of Ioseph.

12 And their coast on the Northside was from Iordan, and the border went vp to the side of Iericho on the Northpart, and went vp through the mountaines Westward, and the ends thereof are in the Wildernes of Beth-auen:

13 And this border goeth along from thence to Luz, [euen] to the Southside k Which was in the tribe of Ephraim: an other Beth-el was in ꝑ tribe of Beniamin.
of Luz (the same is k Beth-el) and this border descendeth to Atroth-addar, nere the mount, that lyeth on the Southside of Beth-horon the nether.

14 So the border turneth, and cōpasseth the corner of the Sea Southward, from the mount that lieth before Beth-horon Southward: and the ends thereof are at Kiriath-baal (which is Kiriath-iearim) a citie of the children of Iudah: this is the Westquarter.

15 And the Southquarter [is] frō the end of Kiriath-iearim, and this border goeth out ||Westwarde, and commeth to the fountaine of Waters of Nephtoah.
||Or, to the Sea,

16 And this border descendeth at the end of the mountaine, that lieth before the valley of Ben-hinnom, which is in the valley of the ||gyants Northwarde, & descendeth into the valley of Hinnom by the side of ||Iebusi Southwarde, and goeth downe to En-rogel.
||Or, Rephaim.
||Or, Ierusalem.

17 And compasseth from the North, and goeth forth to l En-shemesh, and l Which is in the tribe of Ephraim.
stretcheth to Geliloth, which is toward the going vp vnto Adummim, and goeth downe to the *stone of Bohan the sonne of Reuben.
Chap. 15. 6.

18 So it goeth along to the side ouer against the plaine Northward, and goeth downe into the plaine.

19 After, this border goeth along to the side of Beth-hoglah Northwarde: and the ends thereof, [that is,] of the border, reach to the point of the salt Sea North ward, [&] to the m end of Iordan South ward: this is the Southcoast.
m To the very straite, where the riuer runneth into the salt Sea.

20 Also Iordan is the border of it on the Eastside: this is the inheritance of the children of Beniamin by the coastes thereof round about according to their families.

21 Now the cities of the tribe of the children of Beniamin according to their families, are Iericho, & Beth-hoglah, and the valley of Keziz,

22 And Beth-arabah, and Zemaraim, and Beth-el,

23 And Auim, & Parah, and Ophrah,

24 And Chephar-Ammonai, & Ophni, and Gaba: twelue cities with their villages.

25 Gibeon, and Ramah, & Beeroth,

26 And Mizpeh, and Chephirah, and Mozah,

27 And Rekem, & Irpeel, & Taralah,

28 And Zela, Eleph, & Iebusi (which is n Ierusalem) Gibeath, [and] Kiriath: n Which was not wholy in the tribe of Beniamin, but part of it was also in the tribe of Iudah.

CHAP. XIX.

1 The portion of Simeon, 10 Of Zebulun, 17 Of Issachar, 24 Of Asher, 32 Of Naphtali, 40 Of Dan. 49 The possession of Ioshua.

AND the second lot came out to Simeon, euē [for] the tribe of the children of Simeon according to their families: and their inheritance was in the a midst of the inheritance of the children of Iudah.
a According to Iaakobs prophesie, that he should be scattered among ꝑ other tribes, Gen. 49. 7.

2 Now

2 Now they had in their inheritance, Beer-sheba, and Sheba, and Moladah, 3 And Hazar-shual, & Balah, & Azem,
4 And Eltolad, & Bethul, & Hormah,
5 And Ziklag, and Beth-marcaboth, and Hazar-susah,
6 And Beth-lebaoth, and Sharuhen: thirteene cities with their villages.
7 Ain, Remmon, & Ether, & Ashan: foure cities with their villages.
8 And all the villages that were rounde about these cities, vnto Baalathbeer, [& ‖ Ramath Southwarde: this is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Simeon according to their families.

‖ Or, Ramath-negeb.

9 Out of the portion of the children of Judah [came] the inheritance of ỹ children of Simeon: for the part of the children of Judah was too [b] much for them: therefore ỹ children of Simeon had their inheritance within their inheritance.

b But this large portion was given the by Gods prouidence to declare their increase in time to come.

10 ¶ Also the third lot arose for the children of Zebulun according to their families: and the coasts of their inheritance came to Sarid, 11 And their border goeth vp [c] Westward, euen to Maralah, and reacheth to Dabbasheth, and meeteth with the riuer that lieth before Jokneam, 12 And turneth fro Sarid Eastward toward the sunne rising vnto the border of Chisloth-tabor, and goeth out to Daberath, and ascendeth to Japhia, 13 And from thence goeth along Eastward toward the sunne rising to Gittah-hepher to Ittah-kazin, and goeth forth to Rimmon, and turneth to Neah.
14 And this border compasseth it on ỹ North side to Hannathon, and the endes thereof are in the valley of Jiphtah-el, 15 And Kattath, and Nahallal, and Shimron, and Idalah, and [d] Beth-lehem: twelue cities with their villages.

c Meaning, toward the great Sea.

d There was another Beth-lehem in the tribe of Judah.

16 This is the inheritance of the children of Zebulun according to their families: [that is,] these cities and their villages.
17 ¶ The fourth lot came out to Issachar, [euen] for the children of Issachar according to their families.
18 And their coast was Jezreelah, and Chesulloth, and Shunem, 19 And Hapharaim, and Shion, and Anaharath, 20 And Rabbith, & Kishion, & Abez, 21 And Remeth, and [e] En-gannim, and Enhaddah, and Beth-pazzez.

e There was another citie of this name in the tribe of Judah: for vnder diuers tribes certaine cities had all one name, and were distinct by the tribe onely.

22 And this coast reacheth to Tabor, and Shahazimath, and Beth-shemesh, and the ends of their coast reach to Jorden: sixtene cities with their villages.
23 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Issachar according to their families: [that is,] the cities, and their villages.
24 ¶ Also the fift lot came out for the tribe of the children of Asher according to their families.
25 And their coast was Helcath, and Hali, and Beten, and Achshaph, 26 And Alammelech, and Amad, & Misheal, & came to Carmel westward, and to Shihor Libnath, 27 And turneth toward the sunne rising to Beth-dagon, and commeth to [f] Zebulun, and to the valley of Jiphtah-el, toward the Northside of Beth-emek, and Neiel, and goeth out on the left side of Cabul, f Joyneth to ỹ tribe of Zebulun, which lay more Eastward.

28 And to Ebron, and Rehob, and Hammon, & Kanah, vnto great Zidon.
29 Then the coaste turneth to Ramah and to the strong citie of [g] Zor, and this border turneth to Hosah, and the endes thereof are at the Sea from Hebel to Achzib, g Which was Tyrus a strong citie in ỹ Sea.

30 Ummah also & Aphek, & Rehob: two & twentie cities with their villages.
31 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Asher according to their families: [that is,] these cities and their villages.
32 ¶ The sixte lot came out to ỹ children of Naphtali, [euen] to the children of Naphtali according to their families.
33 And their coast was from [h] Heleph, [and] from Allon in Zaanannim, and Adamineked, and Jabneel, euen to Lakum, & the endes thereof are at Jorden.

h These cities were in the countrey of Zaanannim.

34 So this coast turneth westward to Aznoth-tabor, and goeth out from thence to Hukkok, and reacheth to Zebulun on the Southside, and goeth to Asher on the westside, & to Judah ‖ by Jorden toward the sunne rising.

‖ Or, euen vnto Iorden.

35 And the strong cities [are] Ziddim, Zer, and Hammath, Rakkath, and Cinnereth, 36 And Adamah, & Ramah, & Hazor,
37 And Kedesh, & Edrei, & En-hazor,
38 And Iron, & Migdal-el, Horem, and Beth-anah, & Beth-shemesh: nineteene cities with their villages.
39 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Naphtali according to their families: [that is,] the cities & their villages.

i Of the which the lake of Gennezareth hath his name.

40 ¶ The seuenth lot came out for the tribe of the childrē of Dan according to their families.

41 And the coast of their inheritance was Zorah, & Eshtaol, & Ir-themesh, 42 And Shaalabbin, and Aialon, and Ithlah,

43 And Elon, and Themnathah, and Ekron,

44 And Eltekeh, and Gibbethon, and Baalah,

45 And Iehud, and Bene-berak, and Gath-rimmon,

46 And Me-iarkon, & Rakkon, with the border that lieth before [k] Iapho.

47 But the coastes of the children of Dan fel out [too little] for them: therfore the children of Dan went vp to [l] fight against Lethem, and tooke it, and smote it with the edge of the sword, & possessed it, and dwelt therein, & called Lesh em, *Dan, after ỹ name of Dan their father.

48 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Dan according to their families: [that is,] these cities and their villages.

49 ¶ When they had made an ende of deuiding the land by the coasts thereof, then the children of Israel gaue an inheritance vnto Iosh ua the sonne of Nun among them.

50 According to the word of the Lord they gaue him the citie which he asked, [euen] *Timnath-serah in mount Ephraim: & he built ỹ citie & dwelt therein.

51 *These are the heritages which Eleazar the Priest, and Iosh ua the sonne of Nun, & the chiefe fathers of the tribes of the childrē of Israel deuided by lot in Shiloh before the Lord at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation: so they made an end of deuiding ỹ coūtrey.

2 The Lord commandeth Iosh ua to appoint cities of refuge. 3 The vse thereof. 7 and their names.

THe Lorde also spake vnto Iosh ua, saying,

2 Speake to the children of Israel, and say, *Appoint you cities of refuge, whereof I spake vnto you by the hand of Moses,

3 That the slaier that killeth any person [a] by ignorance, [and] vnwittingly, may flee thither, and they shall bee your refuge from the auenger of blood.

4 And he that doeth flee vnto one of those cities, shall stand at the entring of the gate of the citie, and shall shewe his cause [‡] to the Elders of the citie: and they shal receiue him into the citie vnto them, and giue him a place, that he may dwell with them.

5 And if the [b] auenger of blood pursue after him, they shall not deliuer the slayer into his hande because hee smote his neighbour ignorantly, neither hated he him before time:

6 But he shall dwell in that citie vntill he stande before the Congregation in [c] iudgement, *[or] vntill the death of the hye Priest that shall bee in those dayes: then shall the slayer returne, and come vnto his owne citie, and vnto his owne house, [euen] vnto the citie from whence he fled.

7 ¶ Then they appointed Kedesh in [§] Galil in mount Naphtali, and Shechem in mount Ephraim, and Kiriath-arba, (which is Hebron) in the mountaine of Iudah.

8 And on the other side Iorden [toward Iericho Eastward, they appointed *Bezer in the wildernesse vpon the playne, out of the tribe of Reuben, and Ramoth in Gilead, out of the tribe of Gad, and Golan in Bashan, out of the [d] tribe of Manasseh.

9 These were the cities appointed for all the children of Israel, & for the stranger that sojourned among them, that whosoeuer killed any person ignorantly, might flee thither, and not dye by the hand of the auenger of blood, vntill hee stoode before the [e] Congregation.

3 The cities giuen to the Leuites, 41 in number: eight and fourtie. 44 The Lord according to his promise gaue the children of Israel rest.

THen came ỹ ‖ principal fathers of ỹ Leuites vnto Eleazar ỹ priest, & vnto Iosh ua ỹ sonne of Nun, & vnto the chiefe fathers of ỹ tribes of ỹ children of Israel,

2 And spake vnto them at Shiloh in the land of Canaan, saying, *The Lord commanded [a] by the hand of Moses, to giue vs cities to dwell in, with the suburbes thereof for our cattel.

3 So the children of Israel gaue vnto the Leuites, out of their inheritance at the commandemēt of the Lord these cities with their suburbes.

4 And ỹ lot came out for ỹ families of the [b] Kohathites: & the children of Aarō the Priest, [which were] of the Leuites, had by lot, out of ỹ tribe of Iudah, & out of the tribe of Simeon, & out of the tribe of Beniamin, thirteene cities.

5 And ỹ rest of the childrē of Kohath [had] by lot out of the families of ỹ tribe of Eof Ephraim, and out of the tribe of Dan, and out of the halfe tribe of Manasseh, tenne cities.

6 Also the children of Gershon [had] by lot out of the families of the tribe of Issachar, and out of the tribe of Asher, and out of the tribe of Naphtali, and out of the halfe tribe of Manasseh in Basan, thirteene cities.

7 The children of Merari according to their families [had] out of the tribe of Reuben, and out of the tribe of Gad, and out of ỹ tribe of Zebulun, twelue cities.

8 So the children of Israel gaue by lot vnto the Leuites these cities with their suburbes, as the Lorde had commanded by the hand of Moses.

9 ¶ And they gaue out of the tribe of the children of Iudah, & out of the tribe of the children of Simeon, these cities which are here named.

10 And they were the childrens of [d] Aaron [being] of ỹ families of the Kohathites, [and] of the sonnes of Leui, (for theirs was the first lot)

11 So they gaue them Kiriath-arba of the father of Anak (which is Hebron) in the mountaine of Iudah, with the suburbes of the same round about it.

12 (But the lande of the citie, and the villages thereof, gaue they to [e] Caleb the sonne of Iephunneh to be his possessiõ)

13 ¶ Thus they gaue to the [c] children of Aaron the Priest, a citie of refuge for the slaier, [euen] Hebron with her suburbes, and Libnah with her suburbes,

14 And Iattir with her suburbes, and Eshtemoa and her suburbes,

15 And Holon with her suburbes, and Debir with her suburbes, 16 And Ain with her suburbes, and Iuttah with her suburbes, Beth-shemesh with her suburbes: nine cities out of those two tribes.

17 And out of the tribe of Beniamin [they gaue] Gibeon with her [f] suburbes, Geba with her suburbes, 18 Anathoth with her suburbes, and Almon with her suburbes: foure cities.

19 All the cities of the children of Aaron Priests, [were] thirteene cities with their suburbes.

20 ¶ But to the families of the children of Kohath of the Leuites, [g] which were the rest of the children of Kohath (for the cities of their lot were out of the tribe of Ephraim)

21 They gaue them the citie of refuge for the slayer, [h] Shechem with her suburbes in mount Ephraim, and Gezer with her suburbes, 22 And Kibzaim with her suburbes, and Beth-horon with her suburbes: foure cities.

24 Aialon with her suburbes, Gath-rimmon with her suburbes: foure cities.

25 And out of the [i] halfe tribe of Manasseh, Tanach with her suburbes, and Gath-rimmon with her suburbes: two cities.

26 All the cities for the other families of the children of Kohath [were] tenne with their suburbes.

27 ¶ Also vnto the children of Gershon of ỹ families of the Leuites, [they gaue] out of the halfe tribe of Manasseh, the citie of refuge for the slayer, [k] Golan in Basban with her suburbes, & Beeshterah with her suburbes: two cities.

28 And out of the tribe of Issachar, Kishon with her suburbes, Dabereh with her suburbes, 29 Iarmuth with her suburbes, Engannim with her suburbes: foure cities.

30 And out of the tribe of Asher, Mishal with her suburbs, Abdon with her suburbes, 31 Helkah with her suburbs, and Rehob with her suburbes: foure cities.

32 And out of the tribe of Naphtali, the citie of refuge for the slayer, Kedesh in ‖ Galil with her suburbes, and Hammoth-dor with her suburbes, & Kartan with her suburbes: three cities.

33 All the cities of the Gershonites according to their families, [were] thirteene cities with their suburbes.

34 ¶ Also vnto the families of the children of Merari the [l] rest of the Leuites, [they gaue] out of the tribe of Zebulun, Iokneam with her suburbes, [and] Kartah with her suburbes, 35 Dimnah with her suburbes, Nahalal with her suburbes: foure cities.

36 And out of the tribe of Reuben, [m] Bezer with her suburbes, and Iahazah with her suburbes, 37 Kedemoth with her suburbes, & Mephaath with her suburbs: foure cities.

38 And out of the tribe of Gad [they gaue] for a citie of refuge for the slayer, Ramoth in Gilead with her suburbes, and Mahanaim with her suburbes, 39 Heshbon with her suburbes, [and] Iazer with her suburbes: foure cities in all.

[m] Bezer & Ramoth were the cities of refuge vnder the Merarites and beyond Iorden, Chap.20.8.

40 So all ỹ cities of the childrẽ of Merari according to their families (which were the rest of the families of the Leuites) were by their lot, twelue cities.

41 [And] all the cities of the Leuites n within the possession of the children of Israel, [were] eyght and fourtie with their suburbes.

42 These cities lay euery one [seuerally] with their suburbes round about them: so were all these cities.

43 ¶ So the Lord gaue vnto Israel al the land, which he had swoorne to giue vnto their fathers: and they possessed it, and dwelt therein.

44 Also the Lorde gaue them rest round about according to all that he had swoorne vnto their fathers: and there stoode not a man of all their enemies before them: [for] the Lorde deliuered all their enemies into their hande.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Reuben, Gad, and the halfe tribe of Manasseh are sent againe to their possessions. 10 They builde an altar for a memorial. 15 The Israelites reproue them. 21 Their answere for defence of the same.

a After that ỹ Israelites enioyed the land of Canaan.

THen a Iosh ua called ỹ Reubenites, & the Gadites, and the halfe tribe of Manasseh,

2 And said vnto them, Ye haue kept al that Moses the seruant of the Lorde b commanded you, and haue obeyed my voyce in all that I commanded you:

b Which was to go armed before their brethren. Nomb. 32. 29.

3 Ye haue not forsaken your brethren this long season vnto this day, but haue diligently kept the commandement of the Lord your God.

4 And now the Lord hath giuen rest vnto your brethrẽ as he promised them: therefore now returne ye and go to your tentes, to the lande of your possession, which Moses the seruant of the Lorde *hath giuen you beyonde Iozden.

Nomb. 32. 33. chap. 13. 8.

5 But take diligent heede, to doe the commandement and Law, which Moses the seruant of the Lord commanded you: [that is,] * that ye c loue the Lorde your God, and walke in all his wayes, and keepe his commandementes, and cleaue vnto him, and serue him with all your heart and with all your soule.

Deut. 10. 12. c He sheweth wherein consisteth the fulfilling of the Lawe.

6 So Iosh ua d blessed them and sent them away, and they went vnto their tentes.

d He commended thẽ to God and prayed for them.

7 ¶ Now vnto [one] halfe of the tribe of Manasseh Moses had giuen [a possession] in Basshan: and vnto the [other] halfe thereof gaue Iosh ua among their brethrẽ on this side Iozden westward: therefore when Iosh ua sent them away vnto their tentes, and blessed them, e Which remayned at home & went not to ỹ warre, Nom. 31. 27. 1. sam. 30. 24.

8 Thus he spake vnto them, saying, Returne with much riches vnto your tentes, and with a great multitude of cattell, with siluer and with golde, with brasse and with yron, and with great abundance of rayment: deuide the spoile of your enemies with your e brethren.

9 ¶ So the childrẽ of Reuben, and the childrẽ of Gad, and halfe the tribe of Manasseh returned, and departed from the childrẽ of Israel from Shiloh (which is in the lande of Canaan) to go vnto the countrey of Gilead to the land of their possession, which they had obteined, according to the worde of the Lorde by the hande of Moses.

10 ¶ And when they came vnto f the borders of Iozden (which are in ỹ lande of Canaan) then the childrẽ of Reuben, and the childrẽ of Gad, and the halfe tribe of Manasseh, built f there an altar by Iozden, a great altar to see to.

f Eb. Gelliloth, which countie also was called Canaan, because the Amorites dwelling there were called Canaanites.

f That is, beyond Iozden: for sometyme ỹ whole countrey on both sides of Iozd is meant by Canaan.

11 ¶ When the childrẽ of Israel heard say, Behold, the childrẽ of Reuben, and the childrẽ of Gad, and the halfe tribe of Manasseh haue built an altar in the forefront of the lande of Canaan vpon the borders of Iozden at the passage of the childrẽ of Israel:

12 When ỹ childrẽ of Israel heard it, then ỹ whole Congregation of the childrẽ of Israel gathered thẽ together at Shiloh to go vp g to warre against thẽ.

g Such now was their zeale, that they would rather lose their liues then suffer the true religion to be changed or corrupted.

13 Then the children of Israel sent vnto the childrẽ of Reuben, and to the childrẽ of Gad, and to the halfe tribe of Manasseh into the land of Gilead, Phinehas the sonne of Eleazar the Priest, 14 And with him ten princes, of euery chiefe house a prince, according to all the tribes of Israel: for euery one [was] chiefe of their fathers houshold among the ‖ thousandes of Israel.

‖ Or, multitude

15 ¶ So they went vnto the childrẽ of Reuben, and to the childrẽ of Gad, and to the halfe tribe of Manasseh, vnto the lande of Gilead, and spake with them, saying,

16 Thus saith h the whole Congregation of the Lord, What transgression is this that yee haue transgressed against the God of Israel, to turne away this day frõ the Lorde, in ỹ ye haue built you an an altar for to rebell this day against the Lord:

17 Haue we to little for the wickednesse * of Peor, whereof we are not [i] cleansed vnto this day, though a plague came vpon the Congregation of the Lord:

18 Ye also are turned away this day from the Lorde: and seeing ye rebell to day against the Lord, euen to morow he will be wroth with al the Congregation of Israel.

19 Notwithstanding if the lande of your possession be [k] vncleane, come yee ouer vnto the lande of the possession of the Lorde, wherein the Lordes Tabernacle dwelleth, and take possession among vs: but [l] rebell not against the Lorde, nor rebell not against vs in building you an altar, beside the altar of the Lord our God.

20 Did not Achan the sonne of Zerah trespasse grieuously in the execrable thing, and wrath fell on * all the Congregation of Israel: & this man alone [m] perished not in his wickednes.

21 ¶ Then the children of Reuben & the children of Gad, and halfe the tribe of Manasseh answered, and saide vnto the heads ouer the thousands of Israel, 22 The Lord God of gods, the Lord God of gods, he knoweth, and Israel him selfe shall knowe: if by rebellion, or by transgression against the Lord [wee haue done it,] saue thou vs not this day.

23 If we haue buylt vs an altar to returne away from the Lorde, either to offer thereon burnt offring, or meate offering, or to offer peace offrings theron, let the Lorde [n] him selfe require it:

24 And if we haue not [rather] done it for feare of [this] thing, saying, In time to come your children might say vnto our children, what haue ye to doe with the Lord God of Israel?

25 For the Lord hath made Jorden a border betweene vs and you, ye children of Reuben, and of Gad: therefore ye haue no part in the Lorde: so shall your children make our children [o] ceale from fearing the Lord.

26 Therefore we said, We will nowe goe about to make vs an altar, not for burnt offring, nor for sacrifice, 27 But it shalbe a [a] witnes betweene vs and you, and betweene our generations after vs, to execute the seruice of the Lord before him in our burnt offrings, and in our sacrifices, and in our peace offrings, and that your children should not say to our children in time to come, Yee haue no part in the Lord.

28 Therefore saide we, If so be that they should [so] say to vs or to our [p] generations in time to come, then will we answere, Beholde the fashion of the altar of the Lord, which our fathers made, not for burnt offring nor for sacrifice, but it is a witnes betweene vs and you.

29 God forbid, that we should rebell against the Lord, and turne this day away from the Lord to build an altar for burnt offring, [or] for meat offring, or for sacrifice, saue the altar of the Lorde our God, that is before his Tabernacle.

30 ¶ And when Phinehas the Priest, and the princes of the Congregation and heades ouer the thousandes of Israel which were with him, heard [q] wordes, that the children of Reuben, and children of Gad, and the children of Manasseh spake, [‡] they were well content.

31 And Phinehas the sonne of Eleazar the Priest saide vnto the children of Reuben and to the children of Gad, and to the children of Manasseh, This day we perceiue, that the Lorde is [r] among vs, because ye haue not done this trespasse against the Lorde: nowe ye [s] haue deliuered the children of Israel out of the hand of the Lord.

32 ¶ Then Phinehas the sonne of Eleazar the Priest with the princes returned from the children of Reuben, and from the children of Gad, out of the lande of Gilead, vnto the lande of Canaan, to the children of Israel, & brought them answere.

33 And the saying pleased the children of Israel: and the children of Israel ‖ blessed God, and [t] minded not to goe against them in battel, for to destroy the land, wherein the children of Reuben, and Gad dwelt.

34 Then the children of Reuben, & the children of Gad called [u] altar ‖ [Ed:] for it shal be a witnes betweene vs, that the Lord [is] God.

13 And I haue given you a lande, wherein yee did not labour, and cities which ye built not, and ye dwel in them, and eate of the vineyardes & olive trees, which ye planted not.

14 Now therefore [c] feare the Lord, & serue him in vprightnes and in trueth, & put away the gods, which your fathers serued beyonde the flood and in Egypt, and serue ye the Lorde.

d This is the true vse of Gods benefits to learne thereby to feare and serue him with an vpright conscience.

15 And *if it seeme euill vnto you to serue the Lorde, chuse you this daye whome ye will serue, whether the gods which your fathers serued (that were beyonde the flood) or the gods of the Amorites, in whose lande ye dwell: ‡ but I and mine house will serue the Lord.

‡Ebr. if it be euill in your sight.

e This teacheth vs that if all the world would go frō God, yet euery one of vs particularly is bound to cleaue vnto him.

16 Then the people answered and sayde, God forbid, that wee should forsake the Lorde, to serue other gods.

17 For the Lord our God, he brought vs and our fathers out of the lande of Egypt, from the house of bondage, and he did those great miracles in our sight, and preserued vs in all the way that we went, and among al the people through whome we came.

18 And the Lorde did cast out before vs all the people, euen the Amorites which dwelt in the lande: [therefore] Will we also serue the Lorde, [h] for hee is our God.

h How much more are we bound to serue God in Christ, by whom we haue receiued the redemptiō of our soules?

19 And Joshua said vnto the people, Ye can not serue the Lorde: for he is an holy God: he is a ielous God: he will not pardon your iniquitie nor your sinnes.

20 If ye forsake the Lorde and serue strange gods, *then he will returne and bring euill vpon you, and consume you, after that he hath done you good.

Chap.23.15.

21 And the people said vnto Joshua, Nay, but We will serue the Lord.

22 And Joshua said vnto the people, Ye are witnesses [i] against your selues, that yee haue chosen you the Lorde, to serue him: and they sayd, [We are] witnesses.

i If you do the contrary, your owne mouthes shal condemne you.

23 Then put away nowe, [sayd he,] the strange [k] gods which are among you, & bowe your hearts vnto the Lord God of Israel.

k Out of your hearts and otherwise.

24 And the people said vnto Joshua, The Lord our God will we serue, and his voyce will we obey.

25 So Joshua [l] made a couenant with the people the same day, and gaue them an ordinance and lawe in Shechem.

l By ioyning God and the people together also he repeated the promises & threatnings out of the lawe.

26 And Joshua wrote these wordes in the booke of the Lawe of God, and tooke a great stone, and pitched it there vnder an ‖ oke that was in the Sanctuarie of the Lord.

m Rather then means diminution should not be punished, ᵖ summe creatures shall erie for vengeance.

28 Then Joshua let the people depart, euery man vnto his inheritance.

29 And after these thinges Joshua the sonne of Nun, the seruant of the Lorde dyed, being an hundreth and ten yeeres olde.

The

The booke of Iudges.

The Argvment.

Albeit there is nothing that more prouoketh Gods wrath, then mans ingratitude, yet is there nothing ſo diſpleaſant and heynous that can turne backe Gods loue from his Church. For nowe when the Iſraelites were entred into the land of Canaan, and ſawe the trueth of Gods promes performed, inſtead of acknowledging his great benefites and giuing thankes for the ſame, they fell to moſt horrible obliuion of Gods graces, contrarie to their ſolemne promes made vnto Ioſhua, and ſo prouoked his vengeance (as much as in them ſtood) to their vtter deſtruction. Whereof as they had moſt euident ſignes by the mutabilitie of their ſtate: (for he ſuffred them to be moſt cruelly vexed and tormented by tyrants: he pulled them from libertie, and caſt them into ſlauerie, to the intent they might feele their owne miſeries and ſo call vnto him and be deliuered) So to ſhewe that his mercies endure for euer, hee rayſed vp from time to time ſuch as ſhould deliuer them and aſſure them of his fauour and grace, if they would turne to him by true repentance. And theſe deliuerers the Scripture calleth Iudges, becauſe they were executers of Gods iudgements, not choſen of the people nor by ſucceſſion, but raiſed vp, as it ſeemed beſt to God, for the gouernance of his people. They were fourteene in nomber beſides Ioſhua, and gouerned from Ioſhua vnto Saul the firſt King of Iſrael. Ioſhua and theſe vnto the time of Saul ruled 377 yeeres. In this booke are many notable points declared, but two eſpecially: firſt, the battell that the Church of God hath for the maintenance of true religion againſt idolatrie and ſuperſtition: next, what great danger that cõmon welth is in, whẽ as God giueth not a magiſtrate to reteine his people in the purenes of religion & his true ſeruice.

CHAP. I.

1 After Ioſhua was dead, Iudah was conſtitute captaine. 6 Adoni-bezek is taken. 14 The requeſt of Achſah. 16 The children of Keni. 28 The Canaanites are made tributaries, but not deſtroyed.

AFter that Ioſhua was dead, the children of Iſrael [a] aſked the Lorde, ſaying, [b] who ſhall goe vp for vs againſt ỹ Canaanites, to fight firſt againſt them?

a By the iudgment of Urim: read, Exo. 28. 30. nom. 27. 21. 1. ſam. 28. 6.

b Who ſhalbe our Captaine?

2 And the Lorde ſayd, Iudah ſhall goe vp: beholde, I haue giuen the land into his hande.

3 And Iudah ſaid vnto Simeon his [c] brother, Come vp with me into my lot, that wee may fight againſt the Canaanites: and I likewiſe will goe with thee into thy lot: ſo Simeon went with him.

c For the tribe of Simeon had their inheritãce within ỹ tribe of Iudah, Ioſh. 19. 1.

4 Then Iudah went vp, and the Lorde deliuered the Canaanites and the Perizzites into their handes, and they ſlewe of them in Bezek ten thouſand men.

5 And they founde ‖ Adoni-bezek in Bezek: & they fought againſt him, and ſlew the Canaanites, & the Perizzites.

‖ Or, the lord of Bezek.

6 But Adoni-bezek fled, & they purſued after him, & caught him, & [d] cut off the thumbes of his hands & of his feete.

d This was gods iuſt iudgment, as the tyrant him ſelfe confeſſed, that as he had done, ſo did he receiue, Leuit. 24. 19, 20.

7 And Adoni-bezek ſaide, Seuentie Kings hauing the thũbes of their hãds & of their feete cut off, gathered [bread] vnder my table: as I haue done, ſo God hath rewarded me. So they brought him to Ieruſalem, and there he dyed.

8 (Nowe the children of Iudah had fought againſt Ieruſalem, and had taken it and ſmitten it with the edge of the ſworde, and had ſet the [e] citie on fire.)

e Which was afterwarde built againe, & poſſeſſed by the Iebuſites, 2. Sam. 5. 6.

9 Afterwarde alſo the children of Iudah went downe to fight againſt the Canaanites, that dwelt in the mountaine, and toward the South, and in the low countrey.

10 And Iudah went againſt the Canaanites, that dwelt in Hebron, which Hebron before time was called * Kiriath-arba: and they ſlew [f] Shechai, and Ahiman and Talmai.

Ioſh. 15. 14.

f Theſe three were gyants, & the children of Anak.

11 And from thence he went to the inhabitants of Debir, & the name of Debir in olde time [was] Kiriath-ſepher.

12 And Caleb ſaide, Hee that ſmiteth Kiriath-ſepher, and taketh it, euen to him will I giue Achſah my daughter to wife.

13 And Othniel the ſonne of Kenaz Calebs yõger brother tooke it, to whom he gaue Achſah his daughter to wife.

14 And when the came [to him,] ſhe moued him to aſke of her father a field, & ſhe lighted off her aſſe, and Caleb ſaid vnto her, what wilt thou?

g Read, Ioſh. 15. 18.

15 And ſhe anſwered him, Giue me a bleſſing: for thou haſt giuen me a South countrey, giue me alſo ſprings of water: and Caleb gaue her the ſprings aboue & the ſprings beneath.

16 And the children of [h] Keni Moſes father in law went vp out of the citie of the palme trees with the children of Iudah, into the Wildernes of Iudah, that lieth in the South of Arad, & went and dwelt among the people.

h This was one of ỹ names of Moſes father in lawe, read Numb. 10. 29.

17 But Iudah went with Simeon his his brother, & they slew the Canaanites that inhabited Zephath, and vtterly destroyed it, and called the name of the citie * Hormiah.

Nom.21.3.

18 Also Iudah tooke i Azzah with the coastes thereof, and Askelon with the coastes thereof, and Ekron with the coastes thereof.

i These cities & others were afterward possessed of the Philistims, 1. Sam.6,17.

19 And the Lord was with Iudah, & he possessed þ mountaines: for he could not driue out the inhabitants of the valleis, because they had charets of yron.

20 And they gaue Hebron vnto Caleb, as * Moses had sayde, and hee expelled thence the three sonnes of Anak.

Nomb.14.24. Iosh.14.13. & 15.14.

21 But the children of Beniamin did not cast out the Iebusites, that k inhabited Ierusalem: therefore the Iebusites dwell with the children of Beniamin in Ierusalem vnto this day.

k For after þ the tribe of Iudah had burnt it, they built it againe.

22 ¶ They also that were of the house of Ioseph, went vp to Beth-el, and the Lord [was] with them,

23 And the house of Ioseph caused to viewe Beth-el (and the name of the citie before time [was] * Luz)

Gene.28.19.

24 And the spies sawe a man come out of the citie, and they sayde vnto him, Shewe vs, We pray thee, the way into the citie, * and we will shew thee mercie.

Iosh.2,14.

25 And when he had shewed thē the way into the citie, they smote the citie with the edge of the sworde, but they let the man and all his houshold depart.

26 Then the man went into the land of the Hittites, and built a citie, and called the name thereof Luz, which is the name thereof vnto this day.

Iosh.17.11.

l Wherefore God permitted the Canaanites to dwel still in the land, read, Chap. 3.4. Iosh.16.10.

28 Neuertheless when Israel was strong, they put the Canaanites to tribute, and expelled them not wholly.

29 ¶ * Likewise Ephraim expelled not the Canaanites that dwelt in Gezer, but the Canaanites dwelt in Gezer among them.

30 ¶ Neither dyd m Zebulun expell the inhabitants of Kitron, nor the inhabitantes of Nahalol, but the Canaanites dwelt among them, and became tributaries.

m That is, the tribe of Zebulun, as is also to be vnderstād of the rest.

31 ¶ Neither did Asher cast out the inhabitantes of Accho, nor the inhabitantes of Zidon, nor of Ahlab, nor of Achzib, nor of Helbah, nor of Aphik, nor of Rehob, 32 But the Asherites dwelt among the Canaanites the inhabitantes of the land: for they did not driue them n out.

n But made them pay tribute as the others did.

33 ¶ Neither did Naphtali driue out the inhabitantes of Beth-shemesh, nor the inhabitāts of Beth anath, but dwelt among the Canaanites the inhabitants of the land: neuertheles the inhabitants of Beth-shemesh, and of Beth-anath became tributaries vnto them.

34 And the Amorites ‖ droue the children of Dan into the mountaine: so that they suffred them not to come downe to the valley.

‖ Or, afflicted them.

35 And the Amorites ‖ dwelt still in mount Heres in Aialon, and in Shaalbim, and when the o hand of Iosephs family preuailed, they became tributaries:

‖ Or, would dwell.

o Meaning, when he was stronger then they.

36 And the coast of the Amorites was from Maaleh-akrabbim, [euen] from p Selah and vpward.

p Which was a citie in Arabia, or, as some read, from the rocke.

CHAP. II.

1 The Angel rebuketh the people, because they had made peace with the Canaanites. 11 The Israelites fell to idolatrie after Ioshuas death. 14 They are deliuered into the enemies hands. 16 God deliuereth them by Iudges. 22 Why God suffered idolaters to remaine among them.

AND an a Angel of the Lorde came vp from Gilgal to Bochim, and sayde, I made you to goe vp out of Egypt, and haue brought you vnto the land which I had sworne vnto your fathers, and sayde, I will neuer breake my couenant with you.

a That is, messenger, or prophet, as some thinke, Phinehas.

2 * Yee also shall make no couenant with the inhabitants of this land, [* but] shall breake downe their altars: but yee haue not obeyed my voyce. Why haue ye done this?

Deut.7.2. Deut.12.3.

3 Wherefore, I sayde also, I will not cast them out before you, but they shalbe [* as thornes] vnto your sides, and their gods shalbe your ‖ destruction.

Iosh.23.13. ‖ Or, snare.

4 And when the Angel of the Lorde spake these wordes vnto all the children of Israel, the people lift vp their voyce, and wept.

5 Therefore they called the name of that place, ‖ Bochim, and offered sacrifices there vnto the Lord.

‖ Or, weeping,

6 ¶ Nowe when Ioshua had b sent the people away, the children of Israel went euery man into his inheritance to possesse the land.

b After that he had deuided to euery man his portion by lot, Iosh.24.28.

7 And the people had serued þ Lord all the dayes of Ioshua, & all the dayes of the Elders that outliued Ioshua, which had seene all the great c Woorkes of the LORD that he did for Israel.

8 But Ioshua the sonne of Nun the seruant of the LORD dyed, when he was an hundreth and tenne yeeres olde:

9 And they buried him in the coastes of his inheritance, in d Timnath-heres in mount Ephraim, on the Northside of mount Gaash.

10 And so all that generation was gathered vnto their fathers, and an other generation arose after them, which neyther knewe the LORD, nor yet the Woorkes, which he had done for Israel.

11 ¶ Then the children of Israel did Wickedly in the sight of the LORDE, and serued e Baalim, 12 And forsooke the LORDE God of their fathers, which brought them out of the land of Egypt, and followed other gods, [euen] the gods of the people that were round about them, and bowed vnto them, and prouoked the LORD to anger.

13 So they forsooke the LORDE, and serued * Baal, and f Ashtaroth.

14 And the Wrath of the LORDE was hote against Israel, & he deliuered them into the hands of spoylers, that spoyled them, and he * solde them into the hands of their enemies rounde about them, so that they coulde no longer stande before their enemies.

15 § Whithersoeuer they went out, the h hande of the LORDE was sore against them, as the LORD had saide, and as the LORD had sworne vnto them: so he punished them sore.

16 ¶ Notwithstanding, the LORD raised vp ‖ Iudges, which ‡ deliuered them out of the hands of their oppressours.

17 But yet they would not obey their Iudges: for they went a whoring after other gods, & Worshipped them, [and] turned quickly out of the i Way, wherein their fathers walked, obeying the commandements of the LORD: they did not so.

18 And when the LORD had raised them vp Iudges, the LORDE was With the Iudge, and deliuered them out of the hand of their enemies all the dayes of the Iudge (for the LORDE ‡ had compassion of their groanings, k because of them that oppressed them and tormented them)

19 But * When the Iudge was dead, they returned, and ‡ did Worse then their fathers, in following other gods to serue them and Worshippe them: they ceased not from their owne inuentions, nor from their rebellious Way.

20 Wherefore the Wrath of the LORD was kindled against Israel, and he said, Because this people hath transgressed my couenant, which I commaded their fathers, and hath not obeyed my voyce,

21 Therefore will I no more cast out before them any of the l nations, which Ioshua left When he dyed, 22 That through the I may m proue Israel, Whether they Will keepe the Way of the LORDE, to Walke therein, as their fathers kept it, or not.

23 So the LORD left those nations, and drawe them not out immediatly, neither deliuered the into the hand of Ioshua.

CHAP. III.

1 The Canaanites were left to trie Israel. 9 Othniel deliuereth Israel. 21 Ehud killeth King Eglon. 31 Shamgar killeth the Philistimes.

NOw these are the nations which the LORDE left, that he might proue Israel by the ([euen] as many [of Israel] as had not knowen all the a warres of Canaan.

3 Fiue princes of the Philistims, and all the Canaanites, and the Sidonians, and the Hiuites that dwelt in mount Lebanon, from mount Baal-hermon vntill one come to Hamath.

4 And these remained to proue Israel by them, to Wit, Whether they Woulde obey the commandements of the LORD, Which hee commanded their fathers by the hand of Moses.

5 And the children of Israel dwelt among the Canaanites, the Hittites, and the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Hiuites, and the Iebusites,

6 And they tooke c their daughters to be their Wiues, & gaue their daughters to their sonnes, and serued their gods.

7 ¶ So the children of Israel did Wickedly in the sight of the LORDE, and forgat the LORD their God, and serued Baalim, and d Asheroth.

8 Therefore the Wrath of the LORDE was kindled against Israel, and he sold them into the hande of Chushan rishathaim King of ‖ Aram-naharaim, and the children of Israel serued Chushan rishathaim eyght yeeres.

9 ¶ And When the children of Israel cryed vnto the LORDE, the LORDE stirred vp a sauiour to the children of Israel, and he

g So that the enemies of Gods people haue no power ouer them, but by Gods appoynement.

13 And he gathered vnto him the children of Ammon, and Amalek, and went and smote Israel, and they possessed the citie of Palme trees.

24 And when hee was gone out, his seruants came: Who seeing that ỹ doores of the parler were locked, they sayde, ‡ Surely hee doeth his easement in his sommer chamber.

‡ Ebr. he couereth his feete.

25 And they taried till they were ashamed: and seeing hee opened not the doores of the parler, they tooke the key, and opened them, and behold, their lord was fallen dead on the earth.

26 So Ehud escaped (while they taried) and was passed the quarris, and escaped vnto Seirath.

27 And when he came [home,] ‖ he blew a trumpet in mount Ephraim, and the childrē of Israel went downe with him from the mountaine, and hee went before them.

‖ Or, caused the trumpet to be blowne, Num. 10.2,3.

28 Then said he vnto them, Follow me: for the Lord hath deliuered your enemies, [euen] Moab vnto your hande. So they went downe after him, & tooke the passages of Iorden toward Moab, and suffred not a man to passe ouer.

29 And they slewe of the Moabites the same time about ten thousand men, all ‖ fed men, and all [were] warriours, and there escaped not a man.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Israel sinne and are giuen into the hands of Iabin. 4 Deborah iudgeth Israel & exhorteth Barak to deliuer the people. 15 Sisera fleeth. 17 and is killed by Iael.

AND the childrē of Israel ‡ began againe to do wickedly in the sight of the Lorde when Ehud was dead.

‡ Ebr. added, or continued to do euill.

2 And the Lord sold them into ỹ hand of a Iabin King of Canaan, that reigned in Hazor, whose chiefe captaine [was called] Sisera, which dwelt in b Harosheth of the Gentiles.

a There was an other Iabin, whom Iosh. killed and burnt his citie Hazor, Iosh. 11.13.

b That is, in a wood, or fen or bog place.

3 Then the childrē of Israel cried vnto the Lorde: (for he had nine hundreth charets of yron, & twentie yeres he had vexed the children of Israel verie sore)

4 ¶ And at that time Deborah a Prophetesse the wife of Lapidoth c iudged Israel.

c By the spirit of prophesie, resoluing of controuersies, and declaring the will of God.

5 And this Deborah dwelt vnder a Palme tree, betweene Ramah & Bethel in mount Ephraim, and the children of Israel came vp to her for iudgement.

6 Then shee sent and called Barak the sonne of Abinoam out of Kedesh of Naphtali, and saide vnto him, Hath not the Lorde God of Israel [d] commanded, [saying,] Go, and draw toward mount Tabor, & take with thee ten thousande men of the children of Naphtali and of the children of Zebulun:

d And reuealed vnto me by the spirit of prophesie.

7 And I will draw vnto thee to the * ‖ riuer Kishon Sisera, the captaine of Iabins armie with his charets, and his multitude, and will deliuer him into thine hande.

Psal.83.9,10. ‖Or, valley.

8 And Barak said vnto her, [e] If thou wilt goe with me, I will go: but if thou wilt not goe with me, I will not goe.

e Fearing his owne weakenes & his enemies power, he desireth the prophetesse to go with him to assure him of Gods will frō time to time.

9 Then she answered, I will surely go with thee, but this iourney that thou takest, shall not be for thine honour: for the Lord shal sel Sisera into ṕ hand of a woman. And Deborah arose and went with Barak to Kedesh.

10 ¶ And Barak called Zebulun and Naphtali to Kedesh, and ‖ hee went vp on his feete with ten thousand men, and Deborah went vp with him.

‖Or, he led after him. 10000 men.

11 (Nowe Heber the Kenite, which was of the ‖ children of * Hobab ṕ father in lawe of Moses, was departed frō the ‖ Kenites, & pitched his tent [f] vntill the plaine of Zaanaim, which is by Kedesh)

‖Or, posteritie. Nomb.10.29. †Ebr. frō Kain. f Meaning, that he possessed a great part of that countrey.

12 Then they shewed Sisera, that Barak the sonne of Abinoam was gone vp to mount Tabor.

13 And Sisera called for all his charetes, [euen] nine hundreth charets of yron, & al the people that were with him from Harosheth of the Gentiles, vnto the riuer Kishon.

14 Then Deborah said vnto Barak, [g] Vp: for this is the day that the Lorde hath deliuered Sisera into thine hande. Is not the Lorde gone out before thee? so Barak went down from mount Tabor, and ten thousand men after him.

g She still encourageth him to this enterprise by assuring him of Gods fauour and aide.

15 And the Lorde destroyed Sisera and al his charets, and al his hoste with the edge of the swoorde, before Barak, so that Sisera lighted down of his charet, and fled away on his feete.

16 But * Barak pursued after the charets, and after the host vnto Harosheth of the Gentiles: and all the host of Sisera fell vpon the edge of the swoord: there was not a man left.

Psalm.83.10.

17 Howbeit, Sisera fled away on his feete to the tent of Iael the wife of [h] Heber ṕ Kenite: (for peace [was] betweene Jabin the king of Hazor, and betweene the house of Heber the Kenite)

h Whose ancetors were strāgers, but worshipped ṕ true God, & therfore were ioyned with Israel.

18 And Iael went out to meete Sisera, & saide vnto him, Turne in, my lorde, turne in to me: feare not. And when he had turned in vnto her into her tent, she couered him with a ‖ mantell.

‖Or, blanket.

19 And he saide vnto her, Giue me, I pray thee, a little water to drinke: for I am thirsty. And she opened * a bottell of milke, & gaue him drinke: & couered him.

Chap.5.25.

20 Againe he said vnto her, Stand in the doore of the tent, and when any man doth come & enquire of thee, saying, Is [i] any man here? thou shalt say, Nay.

i To wit, Sisera.

21 Then Iael Hebers wife tooke a [k] nayle of the tent, and tooke an hammer in her hande, and went softly vnto him, and smote ṕ naile into his temples, and fastned it into ṕ ground, (for he was fast a sleepe, and weary) and [so] he dyed.

k That is, the pinne or stake, wherewith it was fastened to the ground.

22 And behold, as Barak pursued after Sisera, Iael came out to meete him, and said vnto him, Come, & I wil shewe thee the man, whom thou seekest: & whē he came into her [tent,] beholde, Sisera lay [l] dead, and the naile in his temples.

l So he saide that a woman had the honour, as Deborah prophesied.

23 So God brought downe Jabin the king of Canaan that day before the children of Israel.

24 And the hande of the children of Israel [m] prospered, and preuailed against Jabin the king of Canaan, vntill they had destroyed Jabin king of Canaan.

12 Up Deborah, vp, arise, [and] sing a song: arise Barak, and lead [h] thy captiuitie captiue, thou sonne of Abinoam.

25 He asked water, [and] shee gaue him milke: she brought forth [i] butter in a lordly dish.

i Some reade, thurned milke in a great cup.

26 She put her hand to the naile, and her right hand to the workemans hammer: with the hammer smote she Sisera: she smote off his head, after shee had wounded, and pearced his temples.

CHAP. VI.

1 Israel is oppressed out of the Midianites for their wickednes. 14 Gideon is sent to be their deliuerer. 37 He asked a signe.

AFterwarde the children of Israel committed wickednes in the sight of the Lord, and the Lord gaue them into the handes of Midian seuen yeeres.

2 And the hand of Midian preuailed against Israel, [a] and because of the Midianites the children of Israel made the [b] dennes in the mountaines, and caues, and strong holdes.

a For feare of the Midianites, they fled into the dennes of the mountaines.

3 When Israel had sowen, then came vp the Midianites, the Amalekites, and they of the [||] East, and came vpon them,

|| Or, of Kedem.

4 And camped by them, and destroyed the fruit of the earth, euen till thou come vnto [c] Azzah, and left no food for Israel, neither sheepe, nor ore, nor asse.

b Euen almost the whole countrey.

5 For they went vp, and their cattel, & came with their tentes as grashoppers in multitude: so that they and their camels were without number: and they came into the land to destroy it.

6 So was Israel exceedingly impouerished by the Midianites: therefore the c children of Israel cried vnto ꝑ Lord.

c This is the end of Gods punishments, to call his to repentance that they may seeke for helpe of him.

7 ¶ And when the children of Israel cried vnto the Lorde because of the Midianites,

8 The Lord sent vnto the children of Israel a Prophet, who said vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, I haue brought you ꝑ frō Egypt, & haue brought you out of the house of bondage,

9 And I haue deliuered you out of the hande of the Egyptians, and out of the hande of all that oppressed you, and haue cast them out before you, and giuen you their land.

10 And I saide vnto you, I am the Lord your God: * feare not the gods of the Amorites in whose land you dwell: but you haue not obeyed my voyce.

2. King. 17. 35, 38. ierc. 10. 2.

11 ¶ And the Angel of the Lord came, and sate vnder the oke which was in Ophrah, that pertened vnto Joash the father of the Ezrites, and his sonne Gideon threshed wheate by the winepresse, ‖to hide it from the Midianites.

‖ Or, to prepare his flight.

12 Then the Angel of the Lord appeared vnto him, and saide vnto him, The Lord d is ‖with thee, thou valiant man.

d This came not of distrust, but of weakenes of faith, which is in the most perfect: for no man in this life can haue a perfect faith: yet the children of God haue a true faith wherby they be iustified.

13 To whom Gideon answered, e Ah my Lord, if the Lorde be with vs, why then is all this come vpon vs? & Where bee all his miracles which our fathers tolde vs of, and said, Did not the Lorde bring vs out of Egypt? but now ꝑ Lord hath forsaken vs, and deliuered vs into the hand of the Midianites.

e That is, Christ appearing in visible forme.

14 And the c Lord looked vpon him, and said, Go in this thy ‖ might, and thou shalt saue Israel out of the hands of the Midianites: haue not I sent thee?

f Which I haue giuen thee.

15 And he answered him, Ah my Lord, wherewith shall I saue Israel? beholde, my ‖ father is poore in Manasseh, and I am the least in my fathers house.

‖ Or, familie.

16 Then the Lorde said vnto him, I will therefore be with thee, & thou shalt smite the Midianites, as one man.

17 And he answered him, I pray thee, if I haue founde fauour in thy sight, then shew me g a signe, that thou talkest with me.

g So that we see how the flesh is enemie vnto Gods vocation, which cannot be perswaded without signes.

18 Depart not hence, I pray thee, vntill I come vnto thee, and bring mine offring, and lay it before thee. And he said, I will tary vntill thou come againe.

19 ¶ Then Gideon went in, & made ready a kid, and vnleauened bread of an h Ephah of floure, and put the flesh in a basket, and put the broth in a pot, and brought it out vnto him vnder the oke, and presented it.

h Of Ephah, reade Exod. 16. 36.

20 And the Angel of God saide vnto him, Take the flesh and the vnleauened bread, and lay them vpon this stone, and powre out the broth: and he did so.

21 ¶ Then the Angel of the Lorde put forth the ende of the staffe that hee held in his hande, and touched the flesh and the vnleauened bread: and there arose vp fire i out of the stone, and consumed the flesh & the vnleauened bread: so the Angel of the Lorde departed out of his sight.

i By the power of God only, as in the sacrifice of Helias, 1. King. 18. 38.

22 And when Gideon perceiued that it was an Angel of the Lorde, Gideon then said, Alas, my Lord God: * for because I haue seene an Angel of ꝑ Lorde face to face, ‖ I shall die.

Exod. 33. 20. chap. 13. 22.

23 And ꝑ Lord said vnto him, Peace be vnto thee: feare not, ꝑ shalt not die.

24 Then Gideon made an altar there vnto the Lord, and called it, ‖ Jehouah shalom: vnto this day it is in Ophrah, of the father of the Ezrites.

‖ Or, the Lord of peace,

25 ¶ And the same night the Lorde said vnto him, Take thy fathers yong bullocke, and an other bullocke k of seuen yeeres olde, & destroy the altar of Baal that thy father hath, and cut downe the groue that is by it, k That is, as the Chalderee writeth, fro seuen yeeres.

26 And buyld an altar vnto the Lord thy God vpon the top of this rocke, in a plaine place: and take the second bullocke, and offer a burnt offring with the wood of ꝑ l groue, which thou shalt cut downe.

l Which groued about Baals altar.

27 Then Gideon tooke ten men of his seruants, and did as the Lorde bade him: but because hee feared to doe it by day for his fathers household and the men of the citie, he did it by night.

28 ¶ And when the men of the citie arose early in the morning, beholde, the altar of Baal was broke, and the groue cut downe that was by it, and the m second bullocke offred vpon the altar that was made.

m Meaning, the fatte bull, which was kept to be offred vnto Baal.

29 Therefore they sayde one to another, who hath done this thing? and when they inquired and asked, they sayde, Gideon the sonne of Joash hath done this thing.

30 Then ꝑ men of this citie said vnto Joash, Bring out thy sonne, ꝑ he may die:

die: for hee hath destroyed the altar of Baal, and hath also cut downe the groue that was by it.

31 And Joash said vnto all that stood by him, Will ye pleade Baals cause? or Will ye saue him? [n] he that will contende for him, let him die or the morning. If he be God, let him plead for himself against him that hath cast downe his altar.

32 And in that day was Gideon called Jerubbaal, that is, Let Baal pleade for himself because he hath broke downe his altar.

33 Then all the Midianites and the Amalekites and they of the East, were gathered together, and went [‡] pitched in the valley of Jzreel.

34 But the spirit of the Lorde [‡] came vpon Gideon, *and he blewe a trumpet, and [o] Abiezer was ioyned with him.

35 And hee sent messengers throughout all Manasseh, which also was ioyned with him, [‡] he sent messengers vnto Asher, and to Zebulun and to Naphtali, and they came vp to meete them.

36 Then Gideon said vnto God, [p] If thou wilt saue Jsrael by mine hande, as thou hast sayde, 37 Behold, I wil put a fleece of wool in the threshing place: if the dewe come on the fleece onely, and it be drie vpon all the earth, then shall I be sure, that thou wilt saue Jsrael by mine hande, as thou hast sayde.

38 And so it was: for he rose vp early on the morowe, and thrust the fleece together, and wringed the dewe out of the fleece, and filled a bowle of water.

39 Againe, Gideon sayde vnto God, Be not angrie with mee, that * I may speake once more: let mee proue once againe, I pray thee, with the fleece: let it nowe be drie onely vpon the fleece, and let dewe be vpon all the ground.

40 And God did so that same nyght: for it was [q] drie vpon the fleece only, and there was dewe on all the ground.

CHAP. VII.

1 The Lord commandeth Gideon to send away a great part of his companie. 22 The Midianites are discomfited by a wonderous sort. 25 Oreb and Zeeb are slaine.

Then *Jerubbaal (who is Gideon) rose vp early and all the people that were with him, and pitched beside ‡ the well of Harod, so that the host of the Midianites was on the Northside of them in the valley by the hill of ‡ Moreh.

2 And [þ] Lord said vnto Gideon, The people [þ] are with thee, are to many for me to giue [þ] Midianites into their hãds, least Jsrael make their [a] daunt against me, and say, Mine hand hath saued me.

3 Nowe therefore proclaime in the audience of the people, and say, *Who so is timerous or fearfull, let him returne, and depart earely from mount Gilead. And there returned of the people which were at mount Gilead, two and twenty thousande: so ten thousand remained.

4 And the Lorde said vnto Gideon, The people are yet too many: bring them downe vnto the water, and I wil [b] trie them for thee there: and of whom I say vnto thee, This man shall goe with thee, the same shall goe with thee: and of whomsoeuer I say vnto thee, This man shall not goe with thee, the same shall not goe.

5 So he brought downe the people vnto the water. And the Lord said vnto Gideon, As many as lap [þ] water with their tongues, as a dog lappeth, thē put by themselues, [‡] euery one [þ] shall bowe downe his knees to drinke, [put apart.]

6 And the nomber of them that lapped [by putting] their handes to their mouthes, [were] three hundreth men: but al the remnant of the people kneeled down vpon their knees to drink water.

7 ¶ Then the Lorde saide vnto Gideon, By these three hundreth men that lapped, will I saue you, and deliuer the Midianites into thine hand: and let all the [other] [d] people goe euery man vnto his place.

8 ¶ So the people tooke vitailes [‡] with them, and their trumpets: and he sent all the rest of Jsrael, euery man vnto his tent, ‖ and reteined the three hundreth men: and the hoste of Midian was beneath him in a valley.

9 ¶ And the same night the Lorde sayde vnto him, Arise, [e] get thee downe vnto the hoste: for I haue delinered it into thine hande.

10 But if thou feare to goe downe, [then] goe thou, and Phurah thy seruant downe to the hoste, 11 And thou shalt hearken what they say, and so shall thine handes be strong to go downe vnto the hoste. Then went he downe and Phurah his seruant vnto the outside of the souldiers that were in the hoste.

12 ¶ And the Midianites, [‡] the Amalekites and all * they of the East, lay in [þ] valley like grashoppers in multitude, [‡] their camels [were] without nomber, 14 And his fellowe answered, and sayd, This is nothing els saue the sword of Gideon the sonne of Joash a man of Israel: [for] into his hand hath God deliuered Midian and all the hoste.

15 ¶ When Gideon heard the dreame told, and the interpretation of the same, he [g] worshipped, and returned vnto the hoste of Israel, and sayde, Up: for the Lord hath deliuered into your hand the hoste of Midian.

16 And he deuided the three hundreth men into three bandes, and gaue euerie man a trumpet in his hande With emptie pitchers, and ‖ lampes [h] within the pitchers.

20 And the three companies blewe With trumpets and brake the pitchers, and held the lampes in their left hands, and the trumpets in their right handes to blow Withall: & they cryed, The [k] sword of the Lord and of Gideon.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Ephraim murmureth against Gideon, 2 Who appeaseth them. 4 He passeth the Jordan. 16 He reuengeth himselfe on them of Succoth and Penuel. 27 He maketh an Ephod which was the cause of idolatrie. 30 Of Gideons sonnes and of his death.

THen the men of Ephraim said vnto him, [a] why hast thou serued vs thus that thou calledst vs not, When thou wentest to fight With the Midianites? and they chode With him sharpely.

2 To Whome he sayde, what haue I nowe done in comparison of [b] you? is not the [c] gleaning of grapes of Ephraim better, then the vintage of Abiezer?

3 God hath deliuered into your hāds the princes of Midian, Oreb and Zeeb: and What was I able to doe in comparison of you? & When he had thus spokē, then their spirits abated toward him.

4 ¶ And Gideon came to Jordan to passe ouer, he, and the three hundreth men that were With him, Weary, yet pursuing [them.]

5 And he saide vnto the men of Succoth, Giue, I pray you, [d] morsels of bread vnto the people [*] that followe me, [for they be weary] for I may folow after Zebah, & Zalmunna kings of Midian.

6 And the princes of Succoth sayde, Are the hands of Zebah and Zalmunna nowe in thine hands, that We should giue bread vnto thine armie?

7 Gideon then saide, Therefore When the Lorde hath deliuered Zebah and Zalmunna into mine hād, I Will [‡] teare your flesh With thornes of the Wildernesse and With brers.

8 ¶ And he Went vp thence to Penuel, and spake vnto them likewise, and the men of Penuel answered him, as the men of Succoth answered.

9 And he said also vnto the men of Penuel, When I come againe [e] in peace, I Will breake dolwne this towre.

a They began to cauill, because he had the glorie of the victorie.

b Which had slaine two princes, Oreb and Zeeb.

10 ¶ Nowe

10 ¶ Nowe Zebah and Zalmunna [were] g in Karkor, and their hostes with them, about fifteene thousande, all that were left of all the hostes of the of the East: for there was slaine an hundreth and twentie thousande men, that drewe swordes.

g A citie Eastward beyond Jordē.

11 ¶ And Gideon went throughe them that dwelt in h Tabernacles on the Eastside of Nobah and Jogbehah, and smote the hoste: for the hoste was careleslie.

h He went by the wildernes where the Arabians dwelt in tents.

12 And when Zebah and Zalmunna fledde, he followed after them, and tooke the two Kinges of Midian, Zebah and Zalmunna, and discomfited all the hoste.

13 ¶ So Gideon the sonne of Joash returned from battell, i the sunne being [yet] hie, i Some read, before the sunne rose vp,

14 And tooke a seruant of the men of Succoth, and inquired of him: and he ‖ wrote to him the princes of Succoth and the Elders thereof, [euen] seuentie and seuen men.

‖ Or, described

15 And he came vnto the men of Succoth, and said, Behold Zebah and Zalmunna, by whome ye vpbrayded me, saying, Are the handes of Zebah and Zalmunna already in thine handes, that wee shoulde giue bread vnto thy wearie men?

16 Then he tooke the Elders of the citie, and thornes of the wildernesse and breers, and ‡ did teare the men of Succoth with them.

‡ Ebr. brake in pieces, as one thresheth corne. 2. King. 12.25.

17 Also hee brake downe the towre of * Penuel, and slewe the men of the citie.

18 ¶ Then saide he vnto Zebah and Zalmunna, What maner of men were they, whome ye slewe at Tabor? and they answered, ‖ As thou art, so were they: [euery] one was like the children of a king.

‖ Or, they were like vnto thee.

19 And he saide, They were my brethren, euen my k mothers children: as the Lorde liueth, if ye had saued their liues, I would not slay you.

k We came all out of one belly: therefore I will be reuenged.

20 Then he saide vnto Jether his first borne sonne, Vp, and slay them: but the boy drewe not his sworde: for he feared, because he was yet yong.

21 Then Zebah and Zalmunna sayde, Rise thou, and fall vpon vs: for as the man is, [so is] his strength. And Gideon arose and slewe Zebah and Zalmunna, and tooke away the ‖ ornaments, that were on their camels

22 ¶ Then the men of Israel sayde vnto Gideon, Reigne thou ouer vs, both thou, and thy sonne, ‡ thy m sonnes sonne: for thou hast deliuered vs out of the hand of Midian.

m That is, thy posteritie.

23 And Gideon sayde vnto them, I will not reigne ouer you, neither shall my child reigne ouer you, [but] the Lord shall reigne ouer you.

24 Againe Gideon saide vnto them, n I woulde desire a request of you, that you woulde giue me euery man the earings of his pray (for they had golden earings because they were Ismaelites) n His intent was to shewe himselfe thankful for this victorie by restoring of religion, which, because it was not according as God had commanded, turned to their destruction.

25 And they answered, We will gaue them. And they spred a garmēt, and did cast therein euery man the earings of his pray.

26 And the weight of the golden earings that he required, was a thousand and seuen hundreth [shekels] of golde, beside tollers, ‖ and iewels, and purple raiment that was on the Kings of Midian, and beside the cheines that were about their camels neckes.

‖ Or, sweete balles.

27 And Gideon made an ° Ephod thereof, and put it in Ophrah his citie: and all Israel went a whoring there after it, which was the destruction of Gideon and his house.

28 Thus was Midian brought low before the children of Israel, so that they lift vp their heades no more: and the countrey was in quietnes fourtie yeres in the dayes of Gideon.

29 Then Jerubbaal the sonne of Joash went, and dwelt in his owne house.

30 And Gideon had seuentie sonnes ‡ begotten of his body: for he had many wiues.

‡ Ebr. which came out of his thigh.

31 And his concubine that was in Shechem, bare him a sonne also, whose name he called Abimelech.

32 So Gideon the sonne of Joash died in a good age, and was buryed in the sepulchre of Joash his father in Ophrah, of the p father of the Ezrites.

p Which citie belonged to the familie of the Ezrites.

33 But when Gideon was dead, the children of Israel turned away ‡ went a whoring after Baalim, and made q Baal-berith their god.

q That is, Baal, to whome they had bound themselues by couenant.

34 And the children of Israel remembred not the Lorde their God, which had deliuered them out of the handes of all their enemies on euery side.

r They were vnmindfull of God, and vnkinde towarde him, by whome they had receiued so great a benefite.

35 Neither shewed they mercie on þ house of Jerubbaal, [or] Gideon, according ding to all the goodnesse which he had shewed vnto Israel.

CHAP. IX.

1 Abimelech vsurpeth the kingdome, and putteth his brethren to death. 7 Iotham propoſeth a parable. 23 Hatred betweene Abimelech and the Shechemites. 26 Gaal conſpireth againſt him, and is ouercome. 53 Abimelech is wounded to death by a woman.

1 THen Abimelech the ſonne of Ierubbaal went to Shechē vnto his [a] mothers brethren, & communed with them, and with all the familie, [and] house of his mothers father, ſaying, a To practiſe with his kinſfolkes for the atteining of the kingdome.

2 Say, I pray you, in the audience of all the men of Shechem, whether is better for you, that all the ſonnes of Ierubbaal, which are ſeuentie perſons, reigne ouer you, either that one reigne ouer you: Remember alſo, that I am your [b] bone, and your fleſh.

b Of your kindred by my mothers ſide.

3 Then his mothers brethren ſpake of him in the audience of all the men of Shechem, all theſe wordes: and their hearts were moued to followe Abimelech: for ſaid they, he is our brother.

4 And they gaue him ſeuentie pieces of ſiluer out of the houſe of Baal-berith, wherewith Abimelech hired ‖vaine and light fellowes which followed him.

‖Or, idle fellowes and vagabonds.

5 And he went vnto his fathers houſe at Ophrah, and [c] ſlewe his brethren, the ſonnes of Ierubbaal, [about] ſeuentie perſons vpon one ſtone: yet Iotham the yongeſt ſonne of Ierubbaal was left: for he hid him ſelfe.

c Thus tyrants, to eſtabliſh their vnſhrpen power, ſpare not the innocēt blood. 2. King. 10. 7. 2. Chron. 21. 4.

6 ¶ And all the men of Shechem gathered together with all the houſe of [d] Millo, and came and made Abimelech king in the plaine, where the ſtone was erected in Shechem.

d Which was as the towne houſe, or common hall, which he calleth the towne of Shechem, verſe 49.

7 And when they told it to Iotham, he went and ſtoode in the toppe of mount Gerizim, and lift vp his voice, and cried, and ſaide vnto them, Hearken vnto me, you men of Shechem, that God may hearken vnto you.

8 [e] The trees went forth to anoint a King ouer them, and ſaide vnto the oliue tree, Reigne thou ouer vs.

e By this parable he declareth that thoſe that are not ambitious, are moſt worthy of honour, and that the ambitious abuſe their honour both to their owne deſtruction and others.

9 But the oliue tree ſaide vnto them, Shoulde I leaue my fatneſſe, wherewith by me they honour God and man, and goe to aduance me aboue the trees?

10 Then the trees ſaid to the fig tree, Come thou, [and] be King ouer vs.

11 But the figge tree anſwered them, Shoulde I forſake my ſweetneſſe, and my good fruite, and goe to aduance me aboue the trees?

12 Then ſayde the trees vnto the Vine, Come thou, [and] be King ouer vs.

13 But the Vine ſaide vnto them, Shoulde I leaue my wine, whereby I cheare God and man, and go to aduance me aboue the trees?

14 Then ſaide all the trees vnto the ‖bramble, Come thou, [and] reigne ouer vs.

‖Or, thiſtle, or breere.

15 And the bramble ſayde vnto the trees, If ye wil in deede anoint me king ouer you, come, and put your truſt vnder my ſhadowe: and if not, the [f] fire ſhall come out of the bramble, and conſume the Cedars of Lebanon.

f Abimelech ſhall deſtroy the nobles of Shechem.

16 Now therefore, if ye do truely and vncorruptly to make Abimelech King, and if yee haue dealt well with Ierubbaal and with his houſe, and haue done vnto him according to the deſeruing of his handes, 17 (For my father fought for you, and [‡] aduentured his life, and deliuered you out of the hands of Midian.

‡Ebr. he caſt his life farre from him.

18 And ye are riſen vp againſt my fathers houſe this day, and haue ſlaine his children, [about] ſeuentie perſons vpon one ſtone, and haue made Abimelech the ſonne of his mayde ſeruaunt, King ouer the men of Shechem, becauſe he is your brother)

19 If ye then haue dealt truely and purely with Ierubbaal, and with his houſe this day, then [g] reioyce ye with Abimelech, and let him reioyce with you.

g That he is your King, and you his ſubiectes.

20 But if not, let a fire come out from Abimelech, and conſume the men of Shechem and the houſe of Millo: alſo let a fire come forth from the men of Shechem, and from the houſe of Millo, and conſume Abimelech.

21 And Iotham ran away, and fled, and went to Beer and dwelt there for feare of Abimelech his brother.

22 So Abimelech reigned three yere ouer Israel.

23 But God [h] ſent an euill ſpirit betwene Abimelech, and the men of Shechem: and the men of Shechem brake their promiſe to Abimelech, h Becauſe the people conſented with the King in ſhedding innocent blood: therefore God deſtroyeth both the one and the other.

24 That the crueltie toward the ſeuentie ſonnes of Ierubbaal and their blood might come and be laid vpon Abimelech their brother, which had ſlaine them, and vpon the men of Shechem, which had ayded him to kill his brethren.

25 So the men of Shechem ſet men in wait for him in the tops of the mountaines: who robbed all that paſſed that way by them: and it was told Abimelech.

26 Then

26 Then Gaal the sonne of Ebed came with his brethren, and they went to Shechem: and the men of Shechem put their confidence in him.

i Before they were afraid of Abimelechs power, and durst not go out of the citie.

27 Therefore they [i] went out into the fielde, and gathered in their grapes and troade them, and made mery, and went into the house of their gods, and did eate and drinke, & cursed Abimelech.

28 Then Gaal the sonne of Ebed said, Who is Abimelech? and who is Shechem, that we should serue him? Is he not the sonne of Jerubbaal? and Zebul is his officer? Serue rather the men of Hamor the father of Shechem: for why should we serue him?

29 Now would God this people were vnder mine hand: then would I put away Abimelech. And he said to [k] Abimelech, Increase thine army, & come out.

k Braggingly, as though he had bene present, or to his captaine Zebul.

30 ¶ And when Zebul the ruler of the citie heard the wordes of Gaal the sonne of Ebed, his wrath was kindled.

31 Therefore he sent messengers vnto Abimelech [‡] prively, saying, Beholde, Gaal the sonne of Ebed and his brethren be come to Shechem, and beholde, they fortifie the citie against thee.

‡ Ebr. craftily.

32 Now therefore arise by night, thou and the people that is with thee, and lie in waite in the fielde.

33 And rise earely in the morning, as soone as the sunne is vp, and assault the citie: and when he and the people that is with him, shall come out against thee, do to him [‡] what thou canst.

‡ Ebr. what thine hande can finde.

34 ¶ So Abimelech rose vp, and all ỳ people that were with him by night: and they lay in waite against Shechem in foure bandes.

35 Then Gaal the sonne of Ebed wēt out and stoode in the entring of the gate of the citie: and Abimelech rose vp, and the folke that were with him, from lying in wayte.

36 And when Gaal sawe the people, he said to Zebul, Beholde, there come people downe from the toppes of the mountaines: and Zebul sayde vnto him, The [l] shadowe of the mountaines seeme men vnto thee.

l Thou art afraid of a shadowe.

37 And Gaal spake againe, and said, See, there come folke downe [‡] by the middle of the lande, and another bande commeth by the way of the plaine of [‖] Meonenim.

‡ Ebr. by the nauill.

‖ Or, charmers.

38 Then sayde Zebul vnto him, where is nowe thy mouth, that sayde, who is Abimelech, that we should serue him? Is not this the people that thou hast despised? Go out now, I pray thee, and fight with them.

39 And Gaal [m] went out before the men of Shechem, and fought with Abimelech.

m As their captaine.

40 But Abimelech pursued him, and he fled before him, and many were ouerthrowen and wounded, euen vnto the entring of the gate.

41 And Abimelech dwelt at Arumah: and Zebul thrust out Gaal and his brethren that they should not dwell in Shechem.

42 ¶ And on the morowe, the people went out into the fielde: which was tolde Abimelech.

43 And he tooke the [n] people, and deuided them into three bandes, and layde waite in the fieldes, and looked, and beholde, the people were come out of the citie, and he rose vp against them, and smote them.

n Which were of his companie.

44 And Abimelech, and the bandes that were with him, rushed forwarde, and stoode in the entring of the gate of the citie: and the two other bandes ran vpon al the people that were in the field and slewe them.

45 And when Abimelech had fought against the city all that day, he tooke the citie, and slewe the people that was therein, and destroyed the citie and sowed [o] salt in it.

o That it should be vnfruitfull and neuer serue to any vse.

46 ¶ And when all the men of the towre of Shechem heard it, they entred into an hold of ỳ house of ỳ god [p] Berith.

p That is, of Baal-berith, as chap. 8. 33.

47 And it was told Abimelech, that all the men of the towre of Shechem were gathered together.

48 And Abimelech gate him vp to mount Zalmon, he and all the people that were with him: & Abimelech tooke axes with him and cut downe boughes of trees and tooke them, and bare them on his shoulder, and sayd vnto the folke that were with him, What yee haue seene me do, make haste, & doe like me.

49 Then al the people also cut down euery man his bough, and followed Abimelech, and put them to the hold, and set the holde on fire with them: so all the men of the towre of Shechem [q] dyed also, about a thousand men and women.

q Meaning, that all were destroyed, as wel they in the towne as the other.

50 ¶ Then went Abimelech to Thebez, and besieged Thebez, and tooke it.

51 But there was a strong towre within the citie, & thither fled al the men and women, and al the chiefe of the citie, and and shut it to them, and went vp to the toppe of the towre.

52 And Abimelech came vnto the towre & fought against it, & went harde vnto ỹ doore of the towre to set it on fire.

2.Sam.11.21. 53 But a certaine woman * cast a piece of a milstone vpon Abimelechs head, and brake his braine pan.

54 Then Abimelech called hastily his page that bare his harneis, and sayd vnto him, Drawe thy swoorde and slay me, ỹ men say not of me, A womã slewe him. And his page thrust him through, and he dyed.

r Thus God by such miserable death taketh vengeance on tyrants euen in this life.

55 And when the men of Israel sawe that Abimelech was dead, they departed euery man vnto his owne place.

56 Thus God rendred the wickednesse of Abimelech, which he did vnto his father, in slaying his seuẽtie brethrẽ.

57 Also all the wickednes of the men of Shechem did God bring vpon their 9 Moreouer, the children of Ammon went ouer Iozden to fight against Iudah, and against Beniamin, and against the house of Ephraim: so that Israel was sore tormented.

10 Then the children of Israel cryed vnto ỹ Lorde, saying, We haue sinned against thee, cuẽ because we haue forsaken our owne God, and haue serued Baalim.

15 And the children of Israel said vnto the Lorde, We haue sinned: doe thou vnto vs whatsoeuer please thee: onely we pray thee to deliuer vs e this day.

e That is, from this present danger.

5 And when the children of Ammon fought with Israel, d the Elders of Gilead went to fet Iphtah out of the land of Tob.

7 Iphtah then answered the Elders of Gilead, Did not ye hate me, and f expell me out of my fathers houle: howe then come you vnto me nowe in time of your tribulation?

8 Then the Elders of Gilead said vnto Iphtah, Therefore we turne againe to thee nowe, that thou mayest go with vs, and fight against the children of Ammon, and be our head ouer all the inhabitants of Gilead.

9 And Iphtah sayd vnto the Elders of Gilead, If ye bring me home againe to fight against the children of Ammon, if the Lord giue them before me, shall I be your head?

20 But Sihon g consented not to Israel, that he shoulde goe through his coast: but Sihon gathered all his people together, and pitched in Jahaz, and fought with Israel.

22 And they possessed *all ỹ coast of the Amorites, from Arnon vnto Jabbok, & from the wildernes euen vnto Jorden.

Deut.2.36.

23 Now therefore the Lord God of Israel hath cast out the Amorites before his people Israel, and shouldest thou possesse it?

24 Wouldest not thou possesse that which Chemosh thy god giueth thee to possesse? So whomsoeuer the h Lorde our God driueth out before vs, them will we possesse.

29 ¶ Then the l Spirit of the Lorde came vpon Iphtah, and he passed ouer to Gilead and to Manasseh, and came to Mizpeh in Gilead, and from Mizpeh in Gilead hee went vnto the children of Ammon.

30 And Iphtah m vowed a vowe vnto the Lord, & said, If thou shalt deliuer the children of Ammō into mine hands, 31 Then that thing that commeth out of the doores of mine house to meete me, when I come home in peace from the children of Ammon, shalbe the Lords, and I will offer it for a burnt offring.

32 And so Iphtah went vnto the children of Ammon to fight against them, and the Lorde deliuered them into his hands.

33 And he smote them from Aroer euen till thou come to Minnith, twentie cities, and so foorth to ‖ Abel of the vineyards, with an exceeding great slaughter. Thus the children of Ammon were humbled before the children of Israel.

34 ¶ Nowe when Iphtah came to Mizpeh vnto his house, beholde, his daughter came out to meete him with n timbrels and daunces, which was his onely childe: he had none other sonne, nor daughter.

35 And when he saw her, he o rent his clothes, & said, Alas my daughter, thou hast brought me lowe, and art of them that trouble me: for I haue opened my mouth vnto the Lord, & can not go back.

36 And she sayd vnto him, My father, if thou hast opened thy mouth vnto the Lorde, doe ẅ me as thou hast promised, seeing that the Lord hath auenged thee of thine enemies ꝑ children of Ammon.

37 Also she said vnto her father, Doe thus much for me: suffer me two moneths, that I may go to the mountaines, and ꝑ bewaile my virginitie, I and my fellowes.

38 And he sayd, Go: and he sent her away two moneths: so she went with her companions, and lamented her virginitie vpon the mountaines.

39 And after the end of two moneths, she turned againe vnto her father, who did ẅ her according to his vowe which he had vowed, and she had knowen no man. And it was a custome in Israel:

m As the Apostle commendeth Iphtah for his worthie enterprise in deliuering the people, Heb. 11 32 so by his rash vowe and wicked performance of the same, his victorie was defaced: and here we see that the sinnes of the godly doe not vtterly extinguish their fayth.

AND the men of Ephraim gathered themselues together, and went a Northward and said vnto Iphtah, wherefore wentest thou to fight against the children of Ammon, and diddest not call b vs to go with thee? we wil therefore burne thine house vpon thee with fire.

2 And Iphtah said vnto them, I and my people were at great strife with the children of Ammon, and when I called you, ye deliuered me not out of their hands.

3 So when I sawe that ye deliuered me not, c I put my life in mine hands, and went vpon the children of Ammon: so the Lorde deliuered them into mine hands. wherefore then are ye come vpon me nowe to fight against me?

4 Then Iphtah gathered all the men of Gilead, & fought with Ephraim: and the men of Gilead smote Ephraim, because they said, Ye Gileadites are runnagates of Ephraim d among ꝑ Ephraimites, [and] among the Manassites.

5 Also the Gileadites tooke the passages of Iorden before the Ephraimites, and when the Ephraimites that were escaped, sayde, Let me passe, then the men of Gilead sayd vnto him, Art thou an Ephraimite? If he sayd, Nay,

6 Then said they vnto him, Say nowe e Shibboleth: and he said, Sibboleth: for he could not so pronounce: then they tooke him, and slew him at the passages of Iorden: & there fel at that time of the Ephraimites two and fourtie thousand.

1 Israel for their wickednes is oppressed of the Philistims. 3 The Angel appeareth to Manoahs wife. 16 The Angel commandeth him to sacrifice vnto the Lord. 24 The birth of Samson.

BVt the children of Israel continued to commit wickednes in the sight of the Lorde, and the Lord deliuered them into the hands of [b] Philistims fourtie yeere.

Chap. 2.11. & 3.7. and 4.1. & 6.1. and 10.6.

2 ¶ Then there was a man in Zorah of the family of the Danites, named Manoah, whose wife was [a] baren, and bare not.

a Signifying that their deliuerance came onely of God & not by mans power.

3 And the Angel of the Lorde appeared vnto the woman, and said vnto her, Beholde nowe, thou art baren, and bearest not: but thou shalt conceiue, & beare a sonne.

4 And nowe therefore beware *that thou drinke no wine, nor strong drinke, neither eate any vncleane thing.

Nom. 6.2, 1.

5 For loe, thou shalt conceiue & beare a sonne, and no rasor shall *come on his head: for the childe shalbe a [b] Nazarite vnto God from his birth: and he shall begin to saue Israel out of the hands of the Philistims.

1. Sam. 1.11.

b Meaning, he should be separate from the world and dedicate to God.

6 ¶ Then the wife came, & tolde her husband, saying, A man of God came vnto me, and the facion of him was like the facion of the Angel of God exceeding [c] fearefull, but I asked him not whence he was, neither tolde he me his name,

7 But he said vnto me, Beholde, thou shalt conceiue, and beare a sonne, & now thou shalt drinke no wine, nor strong drinke, neither eate any vncleane thing: for the childe shall be a Nazarite to God from his birth to the day of his death.

c If flesh be not able to abide the sight of an Angel, howe much lesse the presence of God?

8 Then Manoah [d] prayed to the Lord and sayd, I pray thee, my Lorde, let the man of God, whome thou sentest, come againe now vnto vs, and teach vs what we shall doe vnto the childe when he is borne.

d He sheweth himselfe ready to obey Gods will, & therfore desireth to know farther.

9 And God heard the voyce of Manoah, and the Angel of God came again vnto the wife, as she sate in the fielde, but Manoah her husbande was not with her.

10 ¶ And the wife made haste and ran, and shewed her husband and sayd vnto him, Behold, the man hath appeared vnto me, that came vnto me [e] to day.

e It seemeth that the Angel appeared vnto her twise in one day.

11 And Manoah arose and went after his wife, and came to the [f] man, and said vnto him, Art thou the man that spakest vnto the woman? and he sayd, Yea.

f He calleth him man, because he so seemed, but he was Christ the eternal worde, which at his time appointed became man.

12 Then Manoah sayd, Now let thy saying come to passe: but ‖howe shall we order the childe, and doe vnto him?

13 And the Angel of the Lord said vnto Manoah, The woman must beware of all that I sayd vnto her.

14 She may eat of nothing that commeth of the vinetree: she shal not drinke wine nor strong drinke: nor eat any [g] vncleane thing: let her obserue all that I haue commanded her.

g Any thing forbidden by the Lawe.

15 Manoah then sayd vnto the Angel of the Lord, I pray thee, let vs reteine thee, vntill we haue made ready a kid for thee.

16 And the Angel of the Lord said vnto Manoah, Though thou make me abide, I will not eate of thy bread, and if thou wilt make a burnt offring, offer it vnto the [h] Lord: for Manoah knew not that it was an Angel of the Lord.

h Shewing that he sought not his owne honour, but Gods, wt ose messinger he was.

17 Againe Manoah sayde vnto the Angel of the Lorde, What is thy name, that when thy saying is come to passe, we may honour thee?

18 And the Angel of the Lorde sayde vnto him, Why askest thou thus after my name, which is ‖ secret?

‖Or, marueilous.

19 Then Manoah tooke a kid with a meate offring, and offred it vpon a stone vnto the Lord: & [the Angel] did [i] wonderously, whiles Manoah and his wife looked on.

i God sent fire from heauen to consume their sacrifice, to confirme their fayth in his promise.

20 For when the flame came vp towarde heauen from the altar, the Angel of the Lord ascended vp in the flame of the altar, and Manoah and his wife beheld it, and fell on their faces vnto the ground.

21 (So the Angel of the Lord did no more appeare vnto Manoah & his wife) Then Manoah knewe that it was an Angel of the Lord.

22 And Manoah sayd vnto his wife, *we shall surely dye, because we haue seene God.

Exod. 33.20. chap. 6.22.

23 But his wife said vnto him, If the Lord would kill vs, he would not haue receiued a [k] burnt offring, and a meat offring of our handes, neither would he haue shewed vs all these thinges, nor would nowe haue tolde vs any such.

k These graces that we haue receiued of God, and his accepting of our obedience, are sure tokens of his loue towarde vs, so that nothing can hurt vs.

24 ¶ And the Wife bare a sonne, and called his name Samson: and the childe

13 But if you can not declare it me, then shall ye giue me thirtie sheetes and answered him, Put forth thy riddle, that we may heare it.

14 And he said vnto them, Out of the eater came meate, and out of the strong came sweetenes: and they could not in three dayes expound the riddle.
15 And when the seuenth day was

16 And Samsons Wife wept before him, and sayde, Surely thou hatest me a riddle vnto the ʰ children of my people, h Vnto them which are of my nation. and hast not told it me. And he said vnto

2 And her father said, I thought that thou hadst hated her: therefore gaue I her to thy companiō. Is not her yonger sister fayrer then she? take her, I pray thee, in steade of the other.

3 Then Samson sayde vnto them, Nowe am I more [b] blameles then the Philistims: therefore will I doe them displeasure.

b For though his father in lawes occasiō, he was mooued againe to take vengeance of the Philistims.

4 ¶ And Samson went out, and tooke three hundreth foxes, & tooke firebrands, & turned them taile to taile, and put a firebrande in the middes betweene two tailes.

5 And when he had set the brands on fire, hee sent them out into the standing corne of the Philistims, & burnt vp both the [c] rickes and the standing corne with the vineyards [and] oliues.

c Or, that which was reaped and gathered.

6 Then [d] Philistims sayd, Who hath done this? And they answered, Samson the sonne in law of the [d] Timnite, because hee had taken his wife, and giuen her to his companion. Then the Philistims came vp and [e] burnt her and her father with fire.

d Or, the citizen of Timnath.

e So the wicked punish not vice for loue of iustice, but for feare of danger, which els might come to them.

7 And Samson sayde vnto them, Though ye haue done this, yet will I be auenged of you, and then I will cease.

8 So he smote them ‖ hippe and thigh with a mightie plague: then hee went and dwelt in the top of the rocke Etam.

9 ¶ Then the Philistims came vp, and pitched in Iudah, and ‖ were spred abroad in Lehi.

‖ Or, camped.

10 And the men of Iudah saide, Why are ye come vp vnto vs? And they answered, To [f] binde Samson are wee come vp, [and] to doe to him as hee hath done to vs.

f And so being our prisoner, to punish him,

11 Then three thousande men of Iudah went to the top of the rocke Etam, and said to Samson, Knowest thou not that the Philistims are rulers ouer vs? [g] wherefore thē hast thou done thus vnto vs? And he answered them, As they did vnto me, so haue I done vnto them.

g Such was their grosse ignorance, that they iudged Gods great benefite to be a plague vnto them.

12 Againe they said vnto him, We are come to binde thee, & to deliuer thee into the hande of the Philistims. And Samson saide vnto them, Sweare vnto me, that ye wil not fall vpon me your selues.

h Thus they had rather betray their brother, then vse the meanes that God had giuen for their deliuerance.

13 And they answered him, saying, No, but we will binde thee and [h] deliuer thee vnto their hand, but we wil not kill thee. And they bound him with two new cordes, and brought him from the rocke.

14 When he came to Lehi, the Philistims shouted against him, and the Spirite of the Lord came vpon him, and the cordes that were vpon his armes, became as flaxe that was burnt with fire: for the bandes loosed from his handes.

15 And he founde a [i] newe iawebone of an asse, and put foorth his hand, and caught it, and slewe a thousande men therewith.

i That is, of an asse lately slaine.

16 Then Samson said, With the iaw of an asse [are] heapes vpō heapes: With the iawe of an asse haue I slaine a thousand men.

17 And when he had left speaking, he cast away the iawbone out of his hand, and called that place, ‖ Ramath-Lehi.

18 And he was sore a thirst, and [k] called on the Lorde, and saide, Thou hast giuen this great deliuerance into the hande of thy seruant: and nowe shall I die for thirst, and fall into the handes of the vncircumcised?

k Whereby appeareth, that hee did these things in faith and so with a true zeale to glorifie God and deliuer his country.

19 Then God brake the cheeke tooth, that was in the iawe, and water came thereout: and when he had drunke, his spirite came againe, and hee was reuiued: wherefore the name thereof is called ‖ En-hakkore, which is in Lehi vnto this day.

b That is, he lodged with her.

2 And it was tolde to the Azzahites, Samson is come hither. And they went about, and layde waite for him all night in the gate of the citie, and were quiet all the night, saying, Abide ‖ till the morning early, and we shall kill him.

‖ Or, to the light of the morning.

3 And Samson slept till midnight, and arose at midnight, and tooke the doores of the gates of the citie, & the two postes and lift them away with the barres, and put them vpon his shoulders, and caried them vp to the top of the mountaine that is before Hebron.

4 ¶ And after this hee loued a woman by the ‖ riuer of Sorek, whose name was Delilah.

c Of the value of a shekel, reade Gen. 23. 15.

6 ¶ And Delilah saide to Samson, Tell me, I pray thee, wherein thy great strength [lyeth,] and wherewith thou mightest be bound, to do thee hurt.

7 Samson then answered vnto her, If they binde mee with seuen ‖ greene cordes that were neuer dryed, then shall I be weake, and be as an other man.

‖ Or, newe withs.

8 And the princes of the Philistims brought her seuẽ greene cords that were not dry, and she bound him therewith.

9 (And she had [d] men lying in waite with her in the chamber) Then she said vnto him, The Philistims [be] vpon thee, Samson. And he brake the cordes, as a threede of towe is broken, when [e] it feeleth fire: so his strength was not knowen.

d Certaine Philistims in a secret chamber.

e When fire commeth nere it,

10 ¶ After, Delilah saide vnto Samson, See, thou hast mocked me and tolde mee lyes. I pray thee nowe, [f] tell mee wherewith thou mightest be bound.

f Though her falshode tended to make him lose his life, yet his affection so blinded him, that he could not beware.

11 Then hee answered her, If they binde me with newe ropes that neuer were occupied, then shall I be weake, and be as an other man.

12 Delilah therefore tooke new ropes, and bound him therewith, and said vnto him, The Philistims [be] vpon thee, Samson: (and men lay in waite in the chamber) and hee brake them from his armes, as a threede.

13 ¶ Afterward Delilah said to Samson, Hitherto thou hast beguiled me, and tolde me lyes: tell me howe thou mightest be bound. [g] And he said vnto her, If thou plattedst seuen lockes of mine head with the threedes of the woufe.

g It is impossible, if we giue place to our wicked affections, but at length we shall be destroyed.

14 And she fastened it with a pinne, and said vnto him, The Philistims [be] vpon thee, Samson. And he awoke out of his sleepe, and went away with the ‖ pinne of the web and the woufe.

‖ Or, beame.

15 Againe she saide vnto him, Howe canst thou say, [h] I loue thee, when thine heart is not with me? [i] thou hast mocked me these three times, and hast not tolde me wherein thy great strength [lyeth.]

h For this Samson vsed to say, I loue thee.

i Thus his immoderate affections toward a wicked woman, caused him to lose Gods excellent gifts, & become slaue vnto them, whome hee should haue ruled.

16 And because she was importunate vpon him with her wordes continually, and vexed him, his soule was pained vnto the death.

17 Therefore hee tolde her all his [j] heart, and saide vnto her, There neuer came rasor vpon mine head: for I am a Nazarite vnto God from my mothers wombe: therefore if I be shauen, my strength will go from me, and I shall be weake, and be like all [other] men.

j Heart, that is, minde.

18 And whẽ Delilah saw that he had tolde her all his heart, she sent, and called for the princes of the Philistims, saying, Come vp once [againe:] for he hath shewed me all his heart. Then the princes of the Philistims came vp vnto her, and brought the money in their handes.

19 And she made him sleepe vpon her knees, and she called a man, and made him to shaue off the seuen lockes of his head, and she began to vexe him, and his strength was [k] gone from him.

20 Then she saide, The Philistims [be] vpon thee, Samson. And he awoke out of his sleepe, and thought, I will go out nowe as at other times, and shake my selfe, but he knew not that the Lord was departed from him.

k Not for the losse of his heare, but for the contempt of the ordinace of God, which was the cause that God departed from him.

21 Therefore the Philistims tooke him, and put out his eyes, and brought him downe to Azzah, and bounde him with fetters: and hee did grinde in the prison house.

22 And the heare of his head began to [l] growe againe after that it was shauen.

l Yet had he not his strẽgth again, till he had called vpon God, and reconciled himselfe.

23 Then the princes of the Philistims gathered them together for to offer a great sacrifice vnto Dagon their god, and to reioyce: for they saide, Our god hath deliuered Samson our enemie into our handes.

24 Also when the people sawe him, they praised their god: for they said, Our god hath deliuered into our handes our enemie and destroyer of our countrey, which hath slaine many of vs.

25 And whẽ their hearts were mery, they saide, Call Samson, that hee may make vs pastime. So they called Samson out of the prison house, and he [m] was a laughing stocke vnto them, and they set him betweene the pillars.

m Thus by Gods iust iudgements they are made slaues to mẽ which neglect their vocation in defending the faithfull.

26 Then Samson saide vnto the seruant that led him by the hande, Leade me, that I may touche the pillars that the house standeth vpon, & that I may leane to them.

27 (Nowe the house was full of men and women, and there [were] all the Princes of the Philistims: also vpon the roofe [were] about three thousand men and women that beheld while Samson ‖ played)

‖ Or, was mocked.

28 Then Samson called vnto the Lord,

Lord, and saide, O Lord God, I pray thee, thinke vpon me: O God, I beseech thee, strengthen me at this time onely, that I may be ‡at once n auenged of the Philistims for my two eyes.

29 And Samson layde holde on the two middle pillars whereupon ṕ house stoode, and on which it was borne vp: on the one with his right hand, and on the other with his left.

30 Then said Samson, o Let me lose my life with the Philistims: ŧ he bowed him with all his might, ŧ the house fell vpon the Princes, and vpon all the people that were therein. So ṕ dead which he slew at his death were moe then they which he had slaine in his life.

31 Then his brethrē and all the house of his father came downe ŧ tooke him, and brought him vp and buried him betweene Zorah and Eshtaol, in the sepulchre of Manoah his father: now he had iudged Israel twentie yeres.

3 And whē he had restored the eleuen hundreth [shekels] of siluer to his mother, his mother saide, I had dedicate the siluer to the Lorde of mine hande for my sonne, to make b a grauen and molten image. Nowe therefore I will giue it thee againe.

g For in those dayes the seruice of God was corrupt in all estates, and the Leuites were not looked vnto.

10 Then Michah sayde vnto him, Dwell with me, and be vnto me a father and a Priest, and I wil giue thee ten [shekels] of siluer by yere, and a sute of apparell, and thy meate and drinke. So the Leuite went in.

2 The children of Dan sende men to search the land. 11 Then come the fire hundreth and take the gods, and the Priest of Michah away. 27 They destroy Laish. 28 They builde it againe, 30 And set vp idolatrie.

a Meaning, no ordinarie Magistrate, to punish vice according to Gods word.

IN those dayes there was no a King in Israel, and at the same time the tribe of Dan sought them an inheritāce to dwell in: for vnto that time [all] their inheritance had not fallen vnto them among the tribes of Israel.

2 Therefore the children of Dan sent of their familie, fiue men out of their coastes, [euen] men expert in warre, out of Zorah and Eshtaol, to view the land and search it out, ŧ said vnto them, b Go, [and] searche out the lande. Then they came to mount Ephraim to the house of Michah and lodged there.

b For the portion which Iohua gaue them, was not sufficient for all their tribe.

3 When they were in the house of Michah, they knewe the c voyce of the yong mā the Leuite: and being turned in thither, they saide vnto him, who brought thee hither? or what makest thou in this place? and what hast thou to do here?

c They knewe him by his speach that he was a stranger there.

4 And he answered them, Thus and thus dealeth Michah with me, and hath hyred me, and I am his Priest.

5 Againe they saide vnto him, Aske counsel now of God, that we may know whether the way which we goe, shalbe prosperous.

6 And the Priest said vnto them, [d] Go in peace: for the Lord gudeth your way which ye go.

7 Then the fiue men departed and came to Laish, and sawe the people that were therein, which dwelt careles, after the maner of the Zidonians, quiet and sure, because no man [*] made any trouble in the land, or spurped any dominion: also they were farre from the Zidonians, and had no businesse with [other] men.

8 ¶ So they came againe vnto their brethren to Zorah & Eshtaol: and their brethren saide vnto them, what haue ye [done?]

9 And they answered, Arise, that we may goe vp against them: for we haue seene the land, and surely it is very good, and [e] do ye sit still? be not slouthfull to go and enter to possesse the land:

10 (If ye will go, ye shall come vnto a careles people, and the countrey [is] large) for God hath giuen it into your hande. [It is] a place which doth lacke nothing that is in the world.

11 ¶ Then there departed thence of the familie of the Danites, from Zorah and from Eshtaol, fiue hundreth men appointed with instruments of warre.

12 And they went vp, and pitched in Kiriath-iearim in Iudah: wherefore they called that place, ‖ Mahaneh-Dan vnto this day: and it is behinde Kiriath-iearim.

13 And they went thence vnto mount Ephraim, & came to the house of Michah.

14 Then answered the fiue men, that went to spie out the countrey of Laish, and saide vnto their brethren, [f] Knowe ye not, that there is in these houses an Ephod, and Teraphim, and a grauen and a molten image? Nowe therefore consider what ye haue to do.

15 And they turned thitherward and came to the house of the yong man the Leuite, [euen] vnto the house of Michah, and saluted him peaceably.

16 And the fiue hundreth men appointed with their weapons of warre, which were of the children of Dan, stood by the entring of the gate.

17 Then the fiue men that went to spye out the land, went in thither, [and] tooke the [g] grauen image and the Ephod, and the Teraphim, and the molten image: and the Priest stood in the entring of the gate with the fiue hundreth men, that were appointed with weapons of warre, 18 And the other went into Michahs house and fette the grauen image, the Ephod, and the Teraphim, and the molten image. Then saide the Priest vnto them, what do ye.

19 And they answered him, Holde thy peace: lay thine hande vpon thy mouth, and come with vs to be our father and Priest. whether is it better [h] thou shouldest be a Priest vnto the house of one man, or that thou shouldest be a Priest vnto a tribe and to a familie in Israel?

20 And the Priestes heart was glad, and hee tooke the Ephod and the Teraphim, and the grauen image, and went among the [h] people.

21 And they turned and departed, and put the children, and the cattell, and the substance [i] before them.

22 ¶ When they were farre off from the house of Michah, the men that were in the houses neere to Michahs house, gathered together, and pursued after the children of Dan, 23 And cried vnto the children of Dan: who turned their faces, and saide vnto Michah, what ayleth thee, that thou makest an outcrie?

24 And he said, Ye haue taken away my [k] gods, which I made, & the Priest, and go your wayes: and what haue I more? how then say ye vnto me, what ayleth thee?

25 And the children of Dan said vnto him, Let not thy voyce be heard among vs, lest [*] angry fellowes run vpon thee, and thou lose thy life with the liues of thine houshold.

26 So the children of Dan went their wayes: and when Michah sawe that they were to strong for him, hee turned, and went backe vnto his house.

27 And they tooke the [l] things which Michah had made, and the Priest which he had, & came vnto Laish, vnto a quiet people and without mistrust, and smote them with the edge of the sworde, and burnt the citie with fire:

28 And there was none to ‖ helpe, because [m] Laish was farre from Zidon, and they had no busines with [other] men: also it was in the valley that lyeth by Beth-rehob. After, they built the citie, and dwelt therein, 11 When they were neere to Jebus, the day ‖ was sore spent, and the seruant saide vnto his master, Come, I pray thee, and let vs turne into this citie of the Jebusites, and lodge all night there.

‖Or, went downe.

12 And his master answered him, [d] We will not turne into the citie of strangers that are not of the children of Israel, but we will go forth to Gibeah.

d Though in these dayes there were most horrible corruptions, yet very necessitie could not compell them to haue to do with the that professed not the true God.

13 And he said vnto his seruant, Come, and let vs draw neere to one of these places, that we may lodge in Gibeah or in Ramah.

14 So they went forward vpon their way, and the sunne went downe vpon them neere to Gibeah, which is in Benjamin.

k That is, to the Arke, which was in Shiloh: some thinke, in Mizpeh, as verse 1.

19 Then the children of Israel arose vp early and camped against Gibeah.

20 And the men of Israel went out to battell against Beniamin, and the men of Israel put them selues in aray to fight against them beside Gibeah.

21 And the children of Beniamin came out of Gibeah, and slewe downe to the ground of the Israelites that day l two and twentie thousand men.

38 Also the men of Israel had appointed a certaine time with ᵖ embushments, that they should make a great flame,

5 Then the children of Israel saide, who is he among all the tribes of Israel, that came not vp with the Congregation vnto the Lorde? for they had made a great othe concerning him that came not vp to the Lorde to Mizpeh, saying, Let him die the death.

6 And the children of Israel [c] were sorie for Beniamin their brother, & said, There is one tribe cut off from Israel this day.

8 Also they saide, Is there any of the tribes of Israel that [d] came not out to Mizpeh to the Lord? and behold, there came none of Jabesh Gilead vnto the hoste [and] to the Congregation.

9 For when the people were newed, beholde, none of the inhabitants of Jabesh Gilead were there.

10 Therefore the Congregation sent thither twelue thousand men of ỹ [†] most valiant, and commanded them, saying, Go, and smite the inhabitants of Jabesh Gilead with the edge of the sword, both women, and children.

11 *And this is it that ye shall do: ye shall vtterly destroy all the males and all the women that haue lien by men.

12 And they founde among the inhabitats of Jabesh Gilead foure hundreth maides, virgines that had knowne no man by lying with any male: and they brought them vnto the hoste to Shiloh, which is in the land of Canaan.

13 ¶ Then the whole Congregation [e] sent and spake with ỹ children of Beniamin that were in the rocke of Rimmon, and called ‖ peaceably vnto them:

14 And Beniamin came againe at that time, and they gaue them wiues which they had saued aliue of the women of Jabesh Gilead: but they had not [f] so enough for them.

CHAP. I.

1 Elimelech goeth with his wife and children into the land of Moab. 3 He and his sonnes die. 19 Naomi & Ruth come to Beth-lehem.

‡Ebr. iudged.

IN the time that the iudges ‡ ruled, there was a dearth in the a land, & a mã of Beth-lehem b Iudah went for to sojourne in the countrey of Moab, he, and his wife, and his two sonnes.

a In the land of Canaan.

2 And the name of the man [was] Elimelech, and the name of his wife, Naomi: and the names of his two sonnes, Mahlon, and Chilion, Ephrathites of of Beth-lehem Iudah: and when they came into the land of Moab, they continued there.

3 Then Elimelech the husbande of Naomi dyed, and she remained with her two sonnes.

4 Which tooke them wiues of the c Moabites: the ones name [was] Orpah, and the name of the other Ruth: and they dwelled there about ten yeres.

c By this wonderfull prouidence of God Ruth became one of Gods houshold, of whome Christ came.

5 And Mahlon and Chilion dyed also both twaine: so the woman was left [destitute] of her two sonnes, and of her husband.

6 Then she arose with her daughters in lawe, and returned from the countrey of Moab: for she had heard say in the countrey of Moab, that the Lord had d visited his people, and giuen them bread.

d By sending them plentie againe.

7 Wherefore she departed out of the place where she was, & her two daughters in lawe with her, and they went on their way to returne vnto the land of Iudah.

8 Then Naomi sayde vnto her two daughters in lawe, Goe, returne eche of you vnto her owne mothers house: the Lord shew fauour vnto you, as ye haue done with the dead, and with me.

9 The Lord grant you, that you may finde [c] rest, either of you in the house of her husbande. And when she kissed them, they lift vp their voyce and wept.

c Hereby it appeareth that Naomi by dwelling among idolaters was wanten colde in the true zeale of God, which rather hath respect to the ease of the body then to the comforts of the soule.

10 And they said vnto her, Surely we will returne with thee vnto thy people.

11 But Naomi said, Turne againe, my daughters: for what cause will you go with me? are there any moe sonnes in my wombe, that they may be your husbands?

12 Turne againe, my daughters: go your way: for I am to olde to haue an husband. If I should say, I haue hope, [and] if I had an husband this night: yea, if I had borne sonnes, 13 Would ye tarie for them, till they were of age? would ye be deferred for them from taking of husbands? nay my daughters: for it grieueth me ‖ much for your sakes that the hand of the Lord is gone out against me.

‖ Or, more then you.

14 Then they lift vp their voyce and wept againe, and Orpah [f] kissed her mother in lawe, but Ruth abode still with her.

f When she tooke leaue & departed,

15 And [Naomi] said, Beholde, thy sister in lawe is gone backe vnto her people and vnto her gods: [g] returne thou after thy sister in lawe.

g No persuasions can preuaile to turne them backe from God, whom he hath chosen to be his.

16 And Ruth answered, Intreate me not to leaue thee, nor to depart from thee: for whither thou goest, I will go: and where thou dwellest, I will dwell: thy people [shall be] my people, and thy God my God.

17 Where thou dyest, will I dye, and there will I be buried. the Lorde doe so to me and more also, if [ought] but death depart thee and me.

18 ¶ When she sawe that she was stedfastly minded to go with her, she left speaking vnto her.

19 So they went both vntill they came to Beth-lehem: and when they were come to Beth-lehem, it was [h] noysed of them through all the citie, and they said, Is not this Naomi?

h Whereby appeareth that she was of a great familie and of good reputation.

20 And she answered them, Call me not ‖ Naomi, [but] call me ‖ Mara: for [i] the Almightie hath giuen me much bitternes.

‖ Or, beautiful.
‖ Or, bitter.

21 I went out full, and the Lord hath caused me to returne emptie: why call ye me Naomi, seeing the Lord hath humbled me, & the Almightie hath brought me vnto aduersitie?

22 So Naomi returned & Ruth the Moabitesse her daughter in lawe with her, when she came out of the countrey of Moab: and they came to Beth-lehem in the beginning of [k] barly haruest.

i Which was in the moneth Nisan, that conteineth part of March and part of April.

CHAP. II.

1 Ruth gathereth eare in the fielde of Boaz. 8 The gentlenes of Boaz toward her.

THen Naomies husband had a kinsman, one of great [a] power of the familie of Elimelech, and his name [was] Boaz.

a Both for vertue, autoritie & riches.

2 And Ruth the Moabitesse sayde vnto Naomi, I pray thee, let me go to the fielde, and [b] gather eares of corne after him, in whose sight I finde fauour. And she said vnto her, Go my daughter.

b This her humilitie declareth her great affection toward her mother in law, forasmuch as she spareth no paineful diligence to get both their liuings.

3 ¶ And she went, and came and gleaned in the fielde after the reapers, and it came to passe, that she met with the portion of the fielde of Boaz, who was of the familie of Elimelech.

4 And beholde, Boaz came from Beth-lehem, and sayd vnto the reapers, The Lord [be] with you: and they answered him, The Lord blesse thee.

5 Then sayd Boaz vnto his seruant that was appointed ouer the reapers, whose maide is this?

6 And the seruant that was appointed ouer the reapers, answered, and sayd, It is the Moabitish maide, that came with Naomi out of the countrey of Moab:

7 And she sayd vnto vs, I pray you, let me gleane and gather after the reapers ‖ among the sheaues: so she came, and hath continued from that time in the morning vnto nowe, saue that she taried a litle in the house.

‖ Or, certaine handfuls.

8 ¶ Then sayde Boaz vnto Ruth, Hearest thou, my daughter? go to none other fielde to gather, neither go from hence: but abide here by my maidens.

9 [c] Let thine eyes be on the fielde that they doe reape, and goe thou after the [maidens.] Haue I not charged the seruants, that they touch thee not? Moreouer when thou art a thirst, go vnto the vessels, and drinke of that which the seruants haue drawen.

c That is, take heede in what fielde they doe reape.

10 Then she fell on her face, and bowed her selfe to the ground, and sayd vnto him, How haue I found fauour in thine eyes, that thou shouldest know me, seeing I am [d] a stranger?

d Euen of the Moabites, which are enemies to Gods people.

11 And Boaz answered, and said vnto her, All is told and shewed me that thou hast done vnto thy mother in lawe, since the death of thine husband, and howe thou thou haſt left thy father and thy mother, & the land where thou waſt borne, and art come vnto a people which thou knewest not in time paſt.

12 The Lord recompence thy worke and a full rewarde be giuen thee of the Lorde God of Iſrael, vnder whoſe [c] wings thou art come to truſt.

13 Then ſhe ſayd, Let me find fauour in thy ſight, my lorde: for thou haſt comforted me, and ſpoken comfortably vnto thy maide, though I be not like to one of thy maides.

14 And Boaz ſayd vnto her, At the meale time come thou hither, and eate of the bread, and dip thy morſel in the vineger. And ſhe ſate beſide the reapers, and he reached her parched corne: and ſhe did eate, and was ſufficed, and [f] left thereof.

15 ¶ And when ſhe arose to gleane, Boaz commanded his ſeruants, ſaying, Let her gather among the ſheaues, and doe not rebuke her.

16 Alſo let fall [ſome] of the ſheaues for her, and let it lie, that ſhe may gather it vp, and rebuke her not.

17 So ſhe gleaned in the fielde vntill euening, and ſhe threſhed that ſhe had gathered, and it was about an *Ephah of barly.

18 ¶ And ſhe tooke it vp, & went into the citie, and her mother in lawe ſawe what ſhe had gathered: Alſo ſhe [g] tooke foorth, and gaue to her that which ſhe had reſerued, when ſhe was ſufficed.

19 Then her mother in law ſaid vnto her, where haſt thou gleaned to day? and where wroughteſt thou? bleſſed be he, that knew thee. And ſhe ſhewed her mother in lawe, with whome ſhe had wrought, and ſayde, The mans name, with whom I wrought to day, is Boaz.

20 And Naomi ſaid vnto her daughter in lawe, Bleſſed be he of the Lorde: for he ceaſeth not to doe good to the liuing and to the [h] dead. Againe Naomi ſayd vnto her, The man is neere vnto vs, and of our affinitie.

21 And Ruth the Moabiteſſe ſaid, He ſaid alſo certainely vnto me, Thou ſhalt be with my ſeruants, vntill they haue ended all my haruеſt.

22 And Naomi anſwered vnto Ruth her daughter in lawe, It is beſt my daughter, that thou goe out with his maides, that they ‖ meete thee not in an other fielde.

23 Then ſhe kept her by the maides of Boaz, to gather vnto the end of barly haruеſt, and of wheat haruеſt, & ‖ dwelt with her mother in lawe.

‖ Or, returned to her mother in lawe.

CHAP. III.

1 Naomi giueth Ruth counſel. 8 She ſleepeth at Boaz feete. 12 He acknowledgeth himſelfe to be her kinſman.

AFterwarde Naomi her mother in lawe ſayde vnto her, My daughter, ſhall not I ſeeke [a] reſt for thee, that thou mayeſt proſper?

2 Nowe alſo is not Boaz our kinſman, with whoſe maides thou waſt: beholde, he winoweth barly to night in the ‖ flooze.

3 Waſh thy ſelfe therefore, and anoint thee, and put thy raiment vpon thee, and get thee downe to the flooze: let not the [b] man know of thee, vntill he haue left eating and drinking.

4 And when he ſhall ſleepe, marke the place where he layeth him downe, and go, and vncouer the place of his feet, and lay thee downe, and he ſhall tel thee what thou ſhalt doe.

5 And ſhe anſwered her, All that thou biddeſt me, I will doe.

6 ¶ So ſhe went downe vnto the flooze, and did according to all that her mother in lawe bade her.

7 And when Boaz had eaten, and dronken, and [c] chered his heart, he went to lie downe at the ende of the heape of corne, and ſhe came ſoftly, & vncouered the place of his feete, and lay downe.

8 And at midnight the man was afraide and ‖ caught holde: and lo, a woman lay at his feete.

9 Then he ſayd, Who art thou? And ſhe anſwered, I am Ruth thine handmaide: ſpread therefore the wing of thy garment ouer thine handmaid: for thou art the kinſman.

10 Then ſayd he, Bleſſed be thou of the Lorde, my daughter: thou haſt [d] ſhewed more goodneſſe in the latter end, then at the beginning, in as much as thou followedſt not yong men, were they poore or riche.

11 And now, my daughter, feare not: I will doe to thee all that thou requireſt: for all the citie of my people doeth know, that thou art a vertuous woman.

12 And nowe, it is true that I am thy kinſman, howbeit there is a kinſman neerer then I.

14 ¶ And ſhe lay at his feete vntill the morning: and ſhe aroſe before one could knowe another: for he ſayd, Let no man knowe, that a woman came into the floore.

‖ Or, mantel. 15 Alſo he ſaid, Bring the ‖ sheete that thou haſt vpon thee, and holde it. And when ſhe held it, he meaſured ſix [meaſures] of barly, and layed them on her, and ſhe went into the citie.

f Perceiuing by her coming home, that he had not taken her to his wife, ſhe was aſtonied. 16 And when ſhe came to her mother in lawe, ſhe ſayde, f who art thou, my daughter? And ſhe tolde her all that the man had done to her,

1 Boaz ſpeaketh to Ruths next kinſman couching her marryage. 7 The ancient cuſtome in Iſrael. 10 Boaz marrieth Ruth, of whome he begetteth Obed. 18 The generation of Pharez.

2 Then he tooke ten men of the Elders of the citie, and ſayd, Sit ye downe here. And they ſate downe.

3 And he ſayde vnto the kinſman, Naomi, that is come againe out of the countrey of Moab, will ſell a parcel of land, which was our brother Elimelechs.

‖ Or, inhabitants. 4 And I thought to aduertiſe thee, ſaying, Bye it before the ‖ aſſiſtants, and before the Elders of my people. If thou wilt redeeme it, redeeme it: but if thou wilt not redeeme it, tell me: for I know

c For thou art the next of the kinne. that there is none c beſides thee to redeeme it, and I am after thee. Then he anſwered, I will redeeme it.

5 Then ſayd Boaz, What day thou byeſt the field of the hand of Naomi, thou muſt alſo bye it of Ruth the Moabiteſſe the wife of the dead, to ſterre vp the name of the dead, vpon his d inheritance.

d That his inheritance might beare his name that is dead. 6 And the kinſman anſwered, I can not redeeme it, leſt I deſtroy mine owne inheritance: redeeme my right to thee, for I can not redeeme it.

7 Now this was the maner before time in Iſrael, concerning redeeming and changing, for to eſtabliſh all things: a man did plucke off his ſhooe, and gaue it his neighbour, and this was a ſure e Witnes in Iſrael.

e That he had reſigned his right. Deut. 25.9. 8 Therefore the kinſman ſayde to Boaz, Bye it for thee: and he dreWe off his ſhooe.

9 And Boaz ſayde vnto the Elders and vnto all the people, Ye are witneſſes this day, that I haue bought all that was Elimelechs, & all that was Chilions & Mahlons, of the hand of Naomi.

10 And moreouer, Ruth the Moabiteſſe the wife of Mahlon, haue I bought to be my wife, to ſterre vp the name of the dead vpon his inheritance, and that the name of the dead be not put out from among his brethren, and from the gate of his f place: ye are witneſſes this day.

f Or, of the citie where he remained.

11 And all the people that were in the gate, and the Elders ſayd, [We are] witneſſes: the Lorde make the wife that commeth into thine houſe, like Rahel and like Leah, which twaine did build the houſe of Iſrael: and that thou mayeſt doe worthily in g Ephratah, and be famous in Beth-lehem,

The first booke of Samuel.

The Argvment.

According as God had ordeined, Deut.17.14, that when the Israelites should be in the land of Canaan, hee would appoint them a King: so here in this first booke of Samuel is declared the state of this people vnder their first King Saul, who not content with that order, which God had for a time appointed for the gouernment of his Church, demanded a King, to the intent thy might be as other nations and in a greater assurance as they thought: not because they might the better thereby serue God, as being vnder the safegarde of him, which did represent Iesus Christ the true deliuerer: therefore hee gaue them a tyrant and an hypocrite to rule ouer them, that they might learne, that the person of a King is not sufficient to defend them, except God by his power preserue and keepe them. And therefore he punisheth the ingratitude of his people, and sendeth them continuall warres both at home and abroade. And because Saul, whome of nothing God had preferred to the honour of a King, did not acknowledge Gods mercie toward him, but rather disobeyed the word of God and was not zealous of his glorie, he was by the voyce of God put downe from his state, and Dauid the true figure of Messiah placed in his steade, whose patience, modestie, constancie, persecution by open enemies, fained friendes, and dissembling flatterers, are left to the Church and to euery member of the same, as a paterne and example to beholde their state and vocation.

1 The genealogie of Elkanah father of Samuel. 2 His two wiues. 5 Hannah was barren and prayed to the Lord. 15 Her answere to Eli. 20 Samuel is borne. 24 She voweth dedicate him to the Lord.

THere was a man of one of the two [a] Ramathaim Zophim, of mount Ephraim, whose name [was] Elkanah ỹ sonne of Jeroham, the sonne of Elihu, ỹ sonne of Tohu, the sonne of Zuph, an Ephrathite:
2 And he had two wiues: the name of one [was] Hannah, and the name of the other Peninnah: and Peninnah had children, but Hannah had no children.
3 *And this man went vp out of his citie euery yere, to worship and to sacrifice vnto the Lord of hostes in [b] Shiloh, where were ỹ two sonnes of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas Priestes of the Lord.
4 And on a day, when Elkanah sacrificed, he gaue to Peninnah his wife and to all her sonnes and daughters portions,
5 But vnto Hannah he gaue a worthie [c] portion: for he loued Hannah, and the Lord had made her baren.
6 ¶ And her aduersarie vexed her sore, forasmuch as she vpbraided her, because the Lord had made her baren.
7 (And so did he yere by yere) [and] as oft as she went vp to the house of the Lord, thus she vexed her, that she wept and did not eate.
8 Then said Elkanah her husband to her, Hannah, why weepest thou? and why eatest thou not? and why is thine heart troubled? am not I better to thee then ten [d] sonnes?
9 So Hannah rose vp after that they had eaten & dronke in Shiloh (and Eli the Priest sate vpon a stoole by one of the postes of the [e] Temple of the Lord)
10 And she was troubled in her minde, and prayed vnto the Lord, & wept sore:
11 Also she vowed a vow, and said, O Lord of hostes, if thou wilt looke on the trouble of thine handmaid, and remember me, and not forget thine handmaide, but giue vnto thine handmaide a manchilde, then I will giue him vnto the Lord all the dayes of his life, * and there shall no rasor come vpon his head.
12 And as she continued praying before the Lord, Eli marked her mouth.
13 For Hannah spake in her heart: her lippes did moue onely, but her voyce was not heard: therefore Eli thought she had bene dronken.
14 And Eli saide vnto her, How long wilt thou be dronken? Put away ‡ thy dronkennes from thee.
15 Then Hannah answered and said, Nay my lorde, [but] I am a woman ‡ troubled in spirit: I haue dronke neither wine nor strong drinke, but haue * powred out my soule before the Lord.

The first booke of Samuel.

The Argvment.

According as God had ordeined, Deut.17.14, that when the Israelites should be in the land of Canaan, hee would appoint them a King: so here in this first booke of Samuel is declared the state of this people vnder their first King Saul, who not content with that order, which God had for a time appointed for the gouernment of his Church, demanded a King, to the intent thy might be as other nations and in a greater assurance as they thought: not because they might the better thereby serue God, as being vnder the safegarde of him, which did represent Iesus Christ the true deliuerer: therefore hee gaue them a tyrant and an hypocrite to rule ouer them, that they might learne, that the person of a King is not sufficient to defend them, except God by his power preserue and keepe them. And therefore he punisheth the ingratitude of his people, and sendeth them continuall warres both at home and abroade. And because Saul, whome of nothing God had preferred to the honour of a King, did not acknowledge Gods mercie toward him, but rather disobeyed the word of God and was not zealous of his glorie, he was by the voyce of God put downe from his state, and Dauid the true figure of Messiah placed in his steade, whose patience, modestie, constancie, persecution by open enemies, fained friendes, and dissembling flatterers, are left to the Church and to euery member of the same, as a paterne and example to beholde their state and vocation.

19 ¶ Then they rose vp early, and worshipped before the LORD, and returned, and came to their house to Ramah. Now Elkanah knew Hannah his wife, and the LORD [g] remembred her.

20 For in processe of time Hannah conceiued, and bare a sonne, and she called his name Samuel, Because, [saide she] I haue asked him of the LORD.

21 ¶ So the man [h] Elkanah and all his house went vp to offer vnto the LORD the yerely sacrifice, and his vowe:

22 But Hannah went not vp: for she saide vnto her husbande, [I will tarie] vntill the childe be weined, then I will bring him that hee may appeare before the LORD, and there abide for euer.

CHAP. II.

1 The song of Hannah, 12 The sonnes of Eli, wicked. 13 The newe custome of the Priestes. 18 Samuel ministreth before the Lord. 20 Eli blesseth Elkanah and his wife. 23 Eli reproueth his sonnes. 27 God sendeth a Prophet to Eli. 31 Eli is menaced for not chastising his children.

AND Hannah [a] prayed, [c] saide, Mine heart reioyceth in the LORD, mine [b] horne is exalted in the LORD: my mouth is enlarged ouer mine enemies, because I reioyce in thy saluation.

2 There is none holy as the LORDE: yea, there is none besides thee, and there is no God like our God.

3 Speake no more [c] presumptuously: let not arrogancie come out of your mouth: for the LORDE [is] a God of knowledge, and by him enterprises are established.

4 The bowe [and] the mightie men are broken, and the weake haue girded themselues with strength.

5 They that were full, are hired for bread, and the hungrie are no more [hired,] so that the baren hath borne [seuen: and she that had many children, is feeble.

6 *The LORDE killeth and maketh aliue: bringeth downe to the graue and raiseth vp.

7 The LORDE maketh poore and maketh rich: bringeth low, and exalteth.

8 *Hee raiseth vp the poore out of the dust, & lifteth vp the begger frō the dounghill, to set [them] among [e] princes, and to make them inherit the seate of glorie: for the pillars of the earth are the [f] LORDS, and he hath set the world vpon them.

9 He will keepe the feet of his Saints, and the wicked shall keepe silēce in darknes: for in [his owne] might shall no man be strong.

10 The LORDS aduersaries shalbe destroyed, and out of heauen shal he thunder vpon them: the LORD shall iudge the endes of the world, and shall giue power vnto his [h] King, and exalt the horne of his Anointed.

11 And Elkanah went to Ramah to his house, and the childe did ministre vnto the LORD [i] before Eli the Priest.

12 ¶ Nowe the sonnes of Eli [were] wicked men [and] [k] knew not the LORD.

13 For the Priestes custome towarde the people [was this:] when any man offred sacrifice, the Priestes ‖ boy came, while the flesh was seething and a fleshhooke with three teeth in his hand,

14 And thrust it into the kettle, or into the caldron, or into the panne, or into the pot: [l] all that the flesh hooke brought vp, the Priest tooke for him selfe: thus they did vnto all the Israelites, that came thither to Shiloh.

15 Yea, before they burnt the [m] fat, the Priestes boy came and saide to the man that offred, Giue me flesh to roste for the Priest: for he will not haue sodden flesh of thee, but rawe.

16 And if any man said vnto him, Let them burne the fat according to the ‖ custome, then take as much as thine heart [n] desireth: then he would answere, No, but u Gods promises are only effectuall to such as he giueth constancie vnto, to feare and obey him.

CHAP. III.

1 There was no manifest vision in the time of Eli. 4 The Lorde calleth Samuel three times, 11 And sheweth what shall come vpon Eli and his house, 18 The same declareth Samuel to Eli.

NOwe the childe Samuel ministred vnto the Lorde a before Eli: and the word of the Lord was b precious in those dayes: for there was no manifest vision.

2 And at that time, as Eli lay in his c place, his eyes began to ware dimme that he could not see.

3 And yer the d light of God went out, Samuel slept in the temple of the Lord, where the Arke of God was.

d That is, the lampes which burnt in the night.

4 Then the Lorde e called Samuel: and he said, Here I am.

e Iosephus writeth that Samuel was twelue yere olde, when the Lord appeared to him.

5 And he ran vnto Eli, and said, Here am I, for thou calledst me. But he said, I called thee not: go againe [and] sleepe. And he went and slept.

6 And the Lorde called once againe, Samuel. And Samuel arose, & went to Eli, and said, I am here: for thou diddest call me. And he answered, I called thee not, my sonne: go againe [and] sleepe.

7 Thus [did] Samuel, before hee knew [f] the Lord, and before the word of the Lord was reuealed vnto him.

8 And the Lorde called Samuel againe the thirde time: and he arose, and went to Eli, ‡ said, I am here: for thou hast called me. Then Eli [g] perceiued that the Lord had called the childe.

9 Therefore Eli saide vnto Samuel, Go, ‡ sleepe: and if he call thee, then say, Speake Lord, for thy seruant heareth. So Samuel went, and slept in his place.

10 ¶ And the Lord came, and stoode, and called as at other times, Samuel, Samuel. Then Samuel answered, Speake, for thy seruant heareth.

11 ¶ Then the Lord said to Samuel, Beholde, I will doe a thing in Israel, whereof whosoeuer shal heare, his two [*] eares shall [h] tingle.

12 In that day I wil raise vp against Eli all things which I haue spoken concerning his house: when I begin, I wil also make an ende.

13 And I haue tolde him that I will iudge his house for euer, for the iniquitie which he knoweth, because his sonnes ran into a slaunder, ‡ he stayed them not.

14 Now therefore I haue sworne vnto the house of Eli, that the wickednesse of Elies house, shall not be purged with sacrifice nor offering [i] for euer.

15 Afterward Samuel slept vntil the morning, and opened the doores of the house of the Lord, and Samuel feared to shew Eli the vision.

16 ¶ Then Eli called Samuel, and said, Samuel my sonne. And he answered, here I am.

17 Then he said, what is it, that [‡] the Lord [said] vnto thee? I pray thee, hide it not from me. God [k] doe so to thee, and more also, if thou hide any thing from me, of all that he said vnto thee.

18 So Samuel tolde him euery whit, and hid nothing from him. Then hee saide, It is the Lord: let him doe what seemeth him good.

19 ¶ And Samuel grewe, and the Lord was with him, and let none of his wordes [l] fall to the ground.

3 So when the people were come into the campe, the Elders of Israel saide, [a] wherefore hath the Lorde smitten vs this day before [b] Philistims: let vs bring the Arke of the couenant of the Lorde out of Shiloh vnto vs, that whē it commeth among vs, it may saue vs out of the hand of our enemies.

4 Then the people sent to Shiloh, and brought from thence the Arke of the couenant of the Lorde of hostes, who [b] dwelleth betweene the Cherubims: and there [were] the two sonnes of Eli, Hophni, and Phinehas, with the Arke of the couenant of God.

5 And when the Arke of the couenant of the Lorde came into the hoste, all Israel shouted a mightie shout, so that the earth rang againe.

6 And when the Philistims heard the noyse of the shout, they saide, what meaneth the sound of this mightie shout in the hoste of the Ebrewes? and they vnderstoode, that the Arke of the Lorde was come into the hoste.

7 And the Philistims were afraide, and said, God is come into [b] hoste: therefore saide they, [c] woo vnto vs: for it hath not bene so heretofore.

When [m] the Philistims tooke the Arke of God and caried it from Eben-ezer vnto [a] Ashdod, m Which was one of the fiue principall cities of the Philistims.

2 Euen the Philistims tooke the Arke of God, and brought it into the house of [b] Dagon, and set it by Dagon.

b Which was their chiefe idole, and as some write, from the nauill downeward was like a fish, and vpward like a man.

3 And when they of Ashdod rose the next day in the morning, behold, Dagon was fallen vpon his face on the ground before the Arke of the Lorde, and they tooke vp Dagon, and set him in his place againe.

4 Also they rose vp earely in the morning the next day, and beholde, Dagon was fallen vpon his face on the ground before the Arke of the Lorde, and the head of Dagon and the two palmes of his hands [were] cut off vpon the threshold: onely the stumpe of Dagon was left to him.

5 Therefore the Priests of Dagon, and all that come into Dagons house [c] treade not on the threshold of Dagon in Ashdod, vnto this day.

c This is in steade of acknowledging the true God by this miracle, they fall to a farther superstition. Psal. 78. 66.

6 But the hand of the Lord was heauie vpon them of Ashdod, and destroyed them, and smote them with [d] emerods, [both] Ashdod, and the coastes thereof.

7 And when the men of Ashdod saw this, they saide, Let not the Arke of the God of Israel abide with vs: for his hand is sore vpon vs and vpon Dagon our god.

8 They sent therefore and gathered all the princes of the Philistims vnto them, and said, [e] What shall we do with the Arke of the God of Israel? And they answered, Let the Arke of the God of Israel be caried about vnto Gath: and they caried the Arke of the God of Israel about.

d Though they had seene Gods power and were afraid thereof, yet they would farther trie him, which thing God vttereth to their destruction and his glorie.

9 And when they had caried it about, the hand of the Lord was against the citie with a very great destruction, and he smote the men of the citie both small and great, and they had Emerods in their secret partes.

10 ¶ Therefore they sent the Arke of God to Ekron: and assone as the Arke of God came to Ekron, the Ekronites cried out, saying, They haue brought the Arke of the God of Israel to vs to slay vs and our people.

11 Therefore they sent, and gathered together all the princes of the Philistims and saide, Send [f] away the Arke of the God of Israel, and let it returne to his owne place, that it slay vs not and our our people: for there was a destruction [and] death throughout all ỹ citie, [and] the hand of God was very sore there.

12 And the men that dyed not, were smitten with the emerods: and the crie of the citie went vp to heauen.

CHAP. VI.

1 The time that the Arke was with the Philistims which they sent againe with a gift. 12 It commeth to Beth-shemesh. 17 The Philistims offer golden emerods. 19 The men of Beth-shemesh are striken for looking into the Arke.

SO the Arke of ỹ Lorde was in the countrey of the Philistims [a] seuen moneths.

a They thought by continuance of time the plague would haue ceased, & so would haue kept the Arke still.

2 And the Philistims called the Priestes & the southsayers, saying, What shall we do with the Arke of the Lorde? tell vs wherewith we shall send it home againe.

3 And they said, If you send away the Arke of the God of Israel, send it not away emptie, but giue vnto it [b] a sinne offring: then shall ye be healed, and it shall be knowen to you, why his hand departeth not from you.

b The idolaters confesse there is a true God, who punisheth sinne iustly.

4 Then saide they, What shalbe the sinne offring, which we shall giue vnto it? And they answered, Fiue golde emerods and fiue golden mice, according to the nomber of the princes of the Philistims: for one plague [was] on you all, and on your princes.

5 Wherefore ye shall make the similitudes of your emerods, and the similitudes of your mice that destroy ỹ lande: so ye shal giue glory vnto the God of Israel, that he may take his hand from you, and from your [c] gods, and from your land.

c This is Gods iudgement vpon the idolaters, that knowing the true God they worship him not aright. Exod. 12. 31.

6 Wherefore then shoulde ye harden your hearts, as ỹ Egyptians & Pharaoh hardened their hearts? Whē he wrought wonderfully among them, did they not let them go, and they departed?

7 Nowe therefore make a newe cart, and take two milche kine, on whō there hath come no yoke: and tye the kine to the cart, & bring the calues home from them.

8 Then take the Arke of the Lorde, and set it vpon the cart, and put the [d] iewels of gold which ye giue it for a sinne offring in a coffer by the side thereof, and send it away, that it may go.

d Meaning the golden emerods and the golden mice.

9 And take heede, if it go vp by the way of his owne coast to Beth-shemesh, it is [e] he that did vs this great euil: but if not, We shall know then, that it is not his hand that smote vs, [but] it was a [f] chance that happened vs.

e The God of Israel.

f The wicked attribute almost all things to fortune and chaūce, where as in deede there is nothing done without Gods prouidence and decree.

10 And the men did so: for they tooke two kine that gaue milke, and tied them to the cart, and shut the calues at home.

11 So they set the Arke of the Lorde vpon the cart, and the coffer with ỹ mice of gold, and with the similitudes of their emerods.

12 And the kine went ỹ streight way to Beth-shemesh, and keptone path and lowed as they went, and turned neither to the right hand nor to the left: also the princes of the Philistims went after them, vnto the borders of Beth-shemesh.

g For the triall of the matter.

13 Now they of Beth-shemesh were reaping their wheate harueste in the valley, and they lift vp their eies, and spied the Arke, & reioyced when they saw it.

14 ¶ And the cart came into the field of Joshua a Beth-shemite, and stoode still there. there was also a great stone, and [h] they claue the wood of the cart, and offered the kine for a burnt offring vnto the Lord.

h To wit, the men of Beth-shemesh, which were Israelites.

15 And the Leuites tooke downe the Arke of the Lord, and ỹ coffer that was with it, wherein the iewels of golde were, and put them on the great stone, and the men of Beth-shemesh offered burnt offering, and sacrificed sacrifices that same day vnto the Lord.

16 And when the fiue Princes of the Philistims had seene it, they returned to Ekron the same day.

17 ¶ So these are ỹ golden emerods, which the Philistims gaue for a sinne offring to the Lord: for [i] Ashdod one, for Gaza one, for Askelon one, for Gath one, [and] for Ekron one, i These were the fiue principall cities of the Philistims which were not all conquered vnto the time of Dauid.

18 And golden mice, according to the nomber of all ỹ cities of the Philistims, [belonging] to the fiue princes, both of walled townes, and of townes vnwalled, vnto ỹ great [stone] of [k] Abel, whereon they set the Arke of the Lord: [which stone remaineth] vnto this day in the fielde of Joshua the Beth-shemite.

k Or, the plaine, or lamentation.

19 And he smote of the men of Beth-shemesh, because they [l] had looked in the Arke of the Lord: he slew euen among the people fiftie thousand men and threescore and ten men. and the people lamented, because the Lord had slaine the people with so great a slaughter.

l For it was not lawfull to any either to touch or to see it, saue onely to Aaron and his sonnes, Num. 4. 15. and 20.

20 Wherefore the men of Beth-shemesh saide, Who is able to stand before this holy Lord God? and to whom shal he go from vs?

21 And they sent messengers to the inhabitants inhabitants of Kiriath-iearim, say in The Philistims haue brought againe the Arke of the Lorde: come ye downe [and] take it vp to you.

CHAP. VII.

1 The Arke is brought to Kiriath-iearim. 3 Samuel exhorteth the people to forsake their sinnes and turne to the Lord. 10 The Philistims fight against Israel and are ouercome. 16 Samuel iudgeth Israel.

a A citie in the tribe of Iudah, called also Kiriath-baal, Ioth. 15.60.

THen the men of a Kiriath-iearim came, and tooke vp the Arke of the Lord, & brought it into the house of Abinadab in the hill: & they sanctified Eleazar his sonne, to keepe ỹ Arke of the Lord.

2 For while the Arke abode in Kiriath-iearim, ỹ time was long, for it was twentie yeeres) and all the house of Israel lamented b after the Lord.

b Lamented for their sinnes and followed the Lord.

3 ¶ Then Samuel spake vnto all the house of Israel, saying, If ye be come againe vnto ỹ Lord with all your heart, *put away the strange gods frō among you, and * Ashtaroth, and direct your hearts vnto the Lorde, and serue him *onely, and hee shall deliuer you out of the hand of the Philistims.

Ioth. 24.15, 23. Iudg. 2.13.

*Deut. 6.4. mat. 4.10.

4 Then ỹ children of Israel did put away *Baalim and Ashtaroth, and serued the Lord only.

Iudg. 2.12, 13.

5 And Samuel saide, Gather all Israel to c Mizpeh, and I will pray for you vnto the Lord.

c For Shiloh was now desolate, because the Philistims had taken thence the Arke.

6 And they gathered together to Mizpeh, and d drew water and powred it out before ỹ Lorde, and fasted the same day, and saide there, We haue sinned against the Lord. And Samuel iudged the children of Israel in Mizpeh.

d The Chalde text hath, that they drew water out of their heart: that is, wept aboundantly for their sins.

7 When the Philistims heard that the children of Israel were gathered together to Mizpeh, ỹ princes of the Philistims went vp against Israel: and whē the children of Israel heard that, they were afraid of the Philistims.

8 And the children of Israel saide to Samuel, Ceale not to e crie vnto ỹ Lord our God for vs, that he may saue vs out of the hand of the Philistims.

e Signifying that in ỹ prayers of the godly there ought to be a vehement zeale.

9 Then Samuel tooke a sucking lambe, & offred it altogether for a burnt offring vnto the Lord, and Samuel cried vnto the Lord for Israel, and ỹ Lord heard him.

10 And as Samuel offered the burnt offring, the Philistims came to fight against Israel: but the Lorde f thundred with a great thunder that day vpon the Philistims, and scattered them: so they were slaine before Israel.

f According to the prophecie of Hannah Samuels mother, chap. 2.10.

11 And the men of Israel went from Mizpeh & pursued the Philistims, and smote them vntill [they came] vnder Beth-car.

12 Then Samuel tooke a stone and pitched it betweene Mizpeh & Shen, and called the name thereof, Eben-ezer, and he saide, Hitherto hath the Lorde holpen vs.

g Which was a great rocke ouer against Mizpeh.

13 ¶ So the Philistims were brought vnder, and they came no more againe into the coastes of Israel: and the hand of the Lord was against the Philistims al the dayes of Samuel.

14 Also ỹ cities which the Philistims had taken from Israel, were restored to Israel, from Ekron euen to Gath: and Israel deliuered the coastes of the same out of the hands of the Philistims: and there was peace betweene Israel and the h Amorites.

h Meaning the Philistims.

15 And Samuel iudged Israel all the dayes of his life,

16 And went about yeere by yeere to Beth-el, and Gilgal, and Mizpeh, and iudged Israel in all those places.

17 Afterward he returned to Ramah: for there was his house, and there hee iudged Israel: also hee built an i altar there vnto the Lord.

i Which was not contrary to the Lawe for as yet a certaine place was not appointed.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Samuel maketh his sonnes Iudges ouer Israel, who folow not his steppes. 5 The Israelites aske a King. 11 Samuel declareth in what state they should be vnder the King. 19 Notwithstanding they aske one still, and the Lorde willeth Samuel to grant vnto them.

WHen Samuel was now become old, he a made his sonnes iudges ouer Israel.

a Because he was not able to beare the charge.

2 (And the name of his eldest sonne was b Joel, and the name of the second Abiah) [euen] iudges in Beer-sheba.

b Who was also called Vashni, 1. chro. 6.28.

3 And his sonnes walked not in his wayes, but turned aside after lucre, and * tooke rewardes, and peruerted the iudgement.

Deut. 16.19.

4 Wherefore all the Elders of Israel gathered them together, and came to Samuel vnto c Ramah, c For there his house was, Chap. 7.17.

5 And said vnto him, Beholde, thou art old, and thy sonnes walke not in thy wayes: * make vs now a King to iudge vs like all nations.

Ose. 13.10. actes 13.21.

6 But the thing d displeased Samuel, whē they saide, Giue vs a King to iudge vs: and Samuel prayed vnto the Lord.

d Because they were not content with the order that God had appointed, but would be gouerned as were the Gentiles.

7 And the Lord saide vnto Samuel, Heare the voyce of the people in all that they shall say vnto thee: for they haue not not cast thee away, but they haue cast me away, that I should not reigne ouer them.

8 As they haue euer done since I brought them out of Egypt euen vnto this day, (e haue forsake me, and serued other Gods) euen so do they vnto thee.

9 Now therefore hearken vnto their voyce: howbeit yet e testifie vnto them, and shewe them the maner of the King that shall reigne ouer them.

e To proue if they will forsake their wicked purpose.

10 ¶ So Samuel told all þ words of the Lorde vnto the people that asked a King of him.

11 And he said, This shalbe the f maner of the King that shall reigne ouer you: he will take your sonnes, and appoint them to his charets, and to be his horsemen, and [some] shall runne before his charet.

f Not that kings haue this authoritie by their office, but that such as reigne in gods wrath should vsurpe this ouer their brethren contrary to the law, Deut. 17.20.

12 Also hee will make them his captaines ouer thousands, and captaines ouer fifties, and to eare his ground, and to reape his harueft, and to make instruments of warre, and the things that serue for his charets.

13 He will also take your daughters and make them apoticaries, and cookes and bakers.

14 And he will take your fieldes, and your vineyardes, and your best Oliue trees, and giue them to his seruants.

15 And he will take the tenth of your seede, and of your vineyardes, and giue it to his ‖Eunuches, and to his seruants.

‖Or, chiefe officers.

16 And he will take your men seruāts, and your maide seruants, and the chiefe of your yong men, and your asses, and put them to his worke.

17 He will take þ tenth of your sheepe, and ye shall be his seruants.

18 And ye shall crie out at that day, because of your King, whom ye haue chosen you, and the Lorde will not g heare you at that day.

g Because ye repent not for your sinnes, but because ye smart for your afflictions, wherein to pe call your selues willingly.

19 But the people would not heare the voyce of Samuel, but did say, Nay, but there shall be a King ouer vs.

20 And we also will be like all [other] nations, and our King shall iudge vs, and go out before vs, & fight our battels.

21 Therefore when Samuel heard all the wordes of the people, he rehearsed them in the eares of the Lord.

22 And the Lorde saide to Samuel, ‖Hearken vnto their voyce, and make them a King. And Samuel saide vnto the men of Israel, Go euery man vnto his citie.

‖Or, graunt their request.

CHAP. IX.

3 Saul seeing his fathers asses, by the counsell of his seruant goeth to Samuel. 9 The Prophets called Seers. 15 The Lord reuealeth to Samuel Sauls comming, commanding him to anoynt him King. 22 Samuel bringeth Saul to the feast.

THere was now a man of Beniamin, a mightie in power named Kish, the sonne of Abiel, the sonne of Zeror, þ sonne of Bechorath, the sonne of Aphiah, the sonne of a man of Jemini.

a That is, both valiant and riche. Chap. 14.51. 1.chron. 8.33.

2 And he had a sonne called Saul, a b goodly yong man and a faire: so that among the children of Israel there was none goodlier then he: from the shoulders vpwarde he was hier then any of the people.

b So that it might seeme that God approued their request in appointing out such a person.

3 And the asses of Kish Sauls father were lost: therefore Kish saide to Saul his sonne, Take nowe one of þ seruants with thee, and arise, go, and c seeke the asses.

c All these circumstances were meanes to serue vnto Gods prouidence, whereby Saul (though not approued of God) was made King.

4 So he passed through mount Ephraim, and went through the land of Shalishah, but they founde them not. Then they went through the land of Shalim, and [there they were] not: he went also through the land of Jemini, but they found them not.

5 When they came to the lande of d Zuph, Saul said vnto his seruant that was with him, Come & let vs returne, least my father leaue [the care] of asses, and take thought for vs.

d Where was Ramath-Zophim the citie of Samuel.

6 And he said vnto him, Behold now, in this citie is a man of God, and he is an honorable man: all that he saith commeth to passe: let vs nowe go thither, if so be that he can shew vs what way we may go.

7 Then said Saul to his seruant, Well then, let vs go: but what shall we bring vnto the man? For the ‖bread is spent in our bessels, & there is no present to bring to the man of God: what haue we?

‖Or, victailes.

8 And the seruant answered Saul againe, and said, Beholde, I haue found about me the fourth part of a e shekel of siluer: that wil I giue the man of God, to tell vs our way.

e Which is about fiue pence, read Gen. 23. 15.

9 (Beforetime in Israel when a man went to seeke an answere of God, thus he spake, Come, & let vs go to the f Seer: for [he that is called] nowe a Prophet, was in the olde time called a Seer)

f So called, because he foresaw things to come.

10 Then saide Saul to his seruant, Well saide, come, let vs go: so they went into the citie where þ man of God was.

11 ¶ And as they were going vp the hie hie way to the citie, they founde maides that came out to drawe water, and laide vnto them, Is there here a Seer?

12 And they answered them, & sayd, Yea: lo, [he is] before you: make haste now, for he came this day to the citie: for there is an s offring of the people this day in the hie place.

s That is, a feast after the offering, which should be kept in an hie place of the citie appointed for that vse.

13 When ye shall come into the citie, ye shall find him straight way yer he come vp to the hie place to eate: for the people will not eat vntil he come, because he wil h blesse the sacrifice: & then eat they that be bidden to the feast: now therefore go vp: for euen now shall ye find him.

h That is, giue thankes, & distribute the meate accoyding to their custome.

14 Then they went vp into the city, & when they were come into the midst of the citie, Samuel came out against thē, to go vp to the hie place.

15 ¶ But the Lorde had reuealed to Samuel + secretly (a day before Saul came) saying,

Chap.15.1. actes.13.21. +Eb.in his eare

16 To morow about this time, I will send thee a man out of the lande of Beniamin: him shalt thou anoint to be gouernour ouer my people Israel, that he may i saue my people out of the hands of the Philistims: for I haue looked vpon my people, & their crie is come vnto me.

i Notwithstanding their wickednesse, yet was God euer mindfull of his inheritance.

17 Whē Samuel therfore saw Saul, the Lord answered him, See, this is the man whom I spake to thee of, he shall rule my people.

18 Then went Saul to Samuel in the midst of the gate, & said, Tell me, I pray thee, where the Seers house is.

19 And Samuel answered Saul, and sayde, I am the Seer: go vp before mee vnto the hie place: for ye shall eate with me to day, and to morowe I will let thee go, and will tell thee all that is in thine k heart.

k Meaning, all that thou desirest to know.

20 And as for thine asses that were lost three dayes ago, care not for them: for they are found. and l on whom [is set] all the desire of Israel? is it not vpon thee and on all thy fathers house?

l Whom doeth Israel desire to be their king but thee?

21 ¶ But Saul answered, and sayde, Am not I the sonne of Iemini of the smallest tribe of Israel? and my familie [is] the least of al the families of the tribe of Beniamin. wherefore then speakest thou so to me?

22 And Samuel tooke Saul and his seruant, & brought them into the m chamber, and made them sitte in the chiefest place among them that were bidden: which were about thirtie persons.

m Where the feast was.

23 And Samuel saide vnto the cooke, Bring forth the portion which I gaue thee, [and] whereof I said vnto thee, Keepe it with thee.

24 And the cooke tooke vp the shoulder, and that which was n vpon it, and let it before Saul. And [Samuel] sayd, Behoolde, that which is left, set it before thee [and] eate: for hitherto hath it bene kept for thee, saying, Also I o haue called the people. So Saul did eate with Samuel that day.

n That is, the shoulder with the heast, which the priest had for his familie in all peace offrings, Leuit. 10.14.

o That both by the assembling of the people, & by the meat prepared for them, thou mightest vnderstand that I knewe of thy comming.

25 And when they were come downe frō the hie place into the citie, he communed with Saul vpō the top of the house.

26 And when they arose earely about the spring of the day, Samuel called Saul to the p top of the house, saying, Vp, that I may send thee away. And Saul arose, and they went out, both he, and Samuel.

p To speake with him secretly: for the houses were flat aboue.

27 And when they were come down to the ende of the citie, Samuel saide to Saul, Bid thy seruant go before vs, (& he went) but stand thou still now, that I may shew thee q the worde of God.

q Gods commandement as concerning thee

CHAP. X

1 Saul is anoynted King by Samuel. 9 God changeth Sauls heart and he prophecieth. 17 Samuel assembleth the people, and sheweth them their sinnes. 21 Saul is chosen King by lot. 25 Samuel writeth the Kings office.

THen Samuel tooke a viole a of oyle and powred it vpon his head, and kissed him, and said, Hath not the Lorde anointed thee to be gouernour ouer his inheritance?

a In the Law this anointing signified the gifts of the holy Ghost, which were necessarie for them that should rule.

2 When thou shalt depart from mee this day, thou shalt finde two men by *Rahels sepulchre in the border of Beniamin, euen at Zelzah, and they will say vnto thee, The b asses which thou wentest to seeke, are found: and lo, thy father hath left the care of the asses, and sorroweth for you, saying, What shall I do for my sonne?

Gen.35.20.

b Samuel confirmeth him by these signes & God hath appointed him king.

3 Then shalt thou goe forth from thence and shalt come to the ‖ plaine of Tabor, and there shall meete thee three men going vp to God to Beth-el: one carying three kiddes, and another carying three loaues of bread, and another carryed a bottle of wine:

‖ Or, oke.

4 And they will aske thee + if all bee well, and will giue thee the two loaues of [bread, which thou shalt receiue of their hands.

+Ebr. of peace.

5 After that shalt thou come to the c hil of God, where is the garisons of the Philistims: and whē thou art come thither to the citie, thou shalt meete a com-panie of Prophets comming downe from the hie place with a viole, and a tymbrel, and a pipe, and an harpe before them, and they shall prophesie.

6 Then the Spirit of the Lorde will come vpon thee, and thou shalt prophesie with them, and shalt be turned into another man.

7 Therefore when these signes shall come vnto thee, do as occasiō shal serue: for God [is] with thee.

8 And thou shalt go downe before me to Gilgal: and I also will come downe vnto thee to offer burnt offrings, and to sacrifice sacrifices of peace. *Tarie for me seuen dayes, til I come to thee and shew thee what thou shalt do. Chap. 13. 8.

‡ Heb. shoulder.

9 And when he had turned his ‡backe to go from Samuel, God gaue him another [d] heart: and all those tokens came to passe that same day.

d He gaue him such vertues as were meete for a King.

10 ¶ And when they came thither to the hill, beholde, the companie of Prophets met him, and the Spirite of God came vpon him, and he ‖ prophesied among them.

‖ Or, sang praises.

11 Therefore all the people that knewe him before, when they sawe that he prophesied among the Prophetes, sayde eche to other, What is come vnto the sonne of Kish? *is Saul also among the Prophets? Chap. 19. 24.

12 And one of the same place answered, and said, But who is their [e] father? Therefore it was a prouerbe, Is Saul also among the [f] Prophets?

e Meaning, by prophesie commeth not by succession, but is giuen to whom it pleaseth God.

f Noting thereby him that from low degree commeth lodenly to honour.

13 And when he had made an ende of prophesying, he came to the hie place.

14 And Sauls vncle sayde vnto him, and to his seruant, whither went yee? And he said, to seeke the asses: And whē we sawe that they were no where, wee came to Samuel.

15 And Sauls vncle said, Tell me, I pray thee, What Samuel said vnto you.

16 Then Saul saide to his vncle, He told vs plainly that the asses were found: but concerning the kingdome whereof Samuel spake, told he him not.

17 ¶ And Samuel [g] assembled the people vnto the Lord in Mizpeh, g Both to declare vnto thē their fault in asking a king, & also to shewe Gods sentence therein.

18 And he said vnto the children of Israel, Thus saith ỳ Lord God of Israel, I haue brought Israel out of Egypt, and deliuered you out of the hand of the Egyptians, and out of the handes of all kingdomes that troubled you.

19 But yee haue this day cast away your God, who onely deliuereth you out of all your aduersities and tribulations: and ye said vnto him, [No] but appoint a king ouer vs. Now therefore stand ye before ỳ Lorde according to your tribes, and according to your thousands.

20 And when Samuel had gathered together al the tribes of Israel, the tribe of Beniamin was [h] taken.

h That is, by casting of lot.

21 Afterward he assembled the tribe of Beniamin according to their families, and the family of Matri was taken. So Saul the sonne of Kish was taken, and when they sought him, he could not be found.

22 Therefore they asked the Lord againe, if that man should yet come thither, And the Lord answered, Behold, he [i] hath hid himselfe among the stuffe.

i As though he were vnwoorthy and vnwilling.

23 And they ran, ‡ & brought him thence: and when he stoode among the people, he was hier then any of the people from the shoulders vpward.

24 And Samuel said to al the people, See ye not him, whom the Lorde hath chosen, that there is none like him amōg all the people? And al the people shouted and said, [k] God saue the King.

‡ Ebr. Let the King liue.

k As it is written in Deu. chap. 17. 15.

25 Then Samuel told the people [k] the dutie of the kingdome, and wrote it in a booke, and laid it vp before the Lorde, and Samuel sent all the people away euery man to his house.

26 Saul also went home to Gibeah, and there followed him a bande of men, whose heart God had touched.

27 But the wicked men sayd, Howe shall he saue vs? So they despised him, and brought him no presents: but hee [l] held his tongue.

l Both to auoid sedition, and also to winne them by patience.

CHAP. XI.

1 Nahash the Ammonite warreth against Jabesh Gilead, who alketh helpe of the Israelites. 6 Saul promiseth helpe. 11 The Ammonites are slaine. 14 The kingdome is renued.

THen Nahash the Ammonite [a] came vp, and besieged Jabesh Gilead: and all the men of Jabesh saide vnto Nahash, Make a couenant with vs, and we will be thy seruants.

a After that Saul was chosen king: for feare of whom they asked a king, as Chap. 12. 12.

2 And Nahash the Ammonite answered them, On this cōdition will I make a couenant with you, that I may thrust out all your [b] right eyes, and bring that shame vpon all Israel.

b This declareth, that the more here that tyrants are to their destruction, the more cruel they are.

3 To whome the Elders of Jabesh said, Giue vs seuen daies respet, that we may send messengers vnto all the coasts of Israel: and then if no man deliuer vs, we will come out to thee.

4 ¶ Then came ỳ messengers to Gibeah beah of Saul, and tolde these tidings in the eares of the people: and all the people lift vp their voices and wept.

5 And beholde, Saul came following the cattell out of the field, and Saul said, what ayleth this people, ỹ they weepe? And they tolde him the tidings of the men of Jabesh.

c God gaue him the spirite of strength and courage to go against this tyrant,

6 Then the Spirit of God c came vpon Saul, when he heard those tidings, and he was exceeding angrie,

7 And tooke a yoke of oxen, & hewed them in pieces, & sent them throughout all the coasts of Israel by the handes of messengers, saying, Whosoeuer commeth not forth after Saul, & after d Samuel, so shall his oxen be serued. And the feare of the Lord fell on the people, and they came out ‡ with one consent.

d He adveth Samuel, because Saul was not yet approued of al. ‡ Ebr. as one man.

8 And when he nombred them in Bezek, the children of Israel were three hundreth thousand men: and the men of Judah thirtie thousand.

9 Then e they saide vnto the messengers that came, So say vnto the men of Jabesh Gilead, To morowe by then the sunne be hote, ye shall haue helpe. And the messengers came and shewed it to the men of Jabesh, which were glad.

e Meaning, Saul and Samuel.

10 Therefore the men of Jabesh said, To morowe wee will come out vnto f you, and yee shall doe with vs all that pleaseth you.

f That is, to the Ammonites, dissembling that they had hope of ayde.

11 And whē the morow was come, Saul put the people in three bands, and they came in vpon the hoste in the morning watch, and slewe the Ammonites vntill the heate of the day: and they that remained, were scattered, so that two of them were not left together.

12 Then the people sayde vnto Samuel, g who is he that sayd, Shal Saul reigne ouer vs? bring those men that we may slay them.

g By this victorie the Lorde wonne the hearts of the people to Saul.

13 But Saul said, There shal no man h die this day: for to day the Lorde hath saued Israel.

h By shewing mercie he thought to ouercome their malice.

14 Then said Samuel vnto the people, Come, that wee may go to Gilgal, and renue the kingdome there.

15 So all the people went to Gilgal, and made Saul king there before the Lorde in Gilgal: and there they offred i peace offrings before the Lorde: and there Saul and al the men of Israel reioyced exceedingly.

i In signe of thankesgiuing for the victorie.

CHAP. XII.

1 Samuel declaring to the people his integritie, reproueth their ingratitude. 19 God by miracle causeth the people to confesse their sinne. 20 Samuel exhorteth ỹ people to folow the Lord.

SAmuel then said vnto all Israel, Beholde, I haue a hearkened vnto your voyce in all that ye sayd vnto me, & haue appointed a King ouer you.

a I haue granted your petition.

2 Now therefore behold, your king walketh b before you, and I am old and gray headed, & beholde, my sonnes [are] with you: & I haue walked before you from my childhoode vnto this day.

b to gouerne you in peace and warre.

3 Behold, here I am: c beare record of me before the Lorde and before his Anoynted, whose oxe haue I taken? or whose asse haue I taken? or whome haue I done wrong to? or whom haue I hurt? or of whose hand haue I receiued any bribe, to blind mine eyes therewith, and I will restore it you?

Ecclus. 46. 19.

c God wil vse that this confession should be a patterne for al them that haue any charge or office.

4 Then they said, Thou hast done vs no wrong, nor hast hurt vs, neither hast thou taken ought of any mans hand.

5 And he said vnto them, The Lorde is witnes against you, and his d Anoynted is witnes this day, that ye haue found nought in mine hands. And they answered, He is witnes.

d Your King, who is anointed by the commandement of the Lord.

6 Then Samuel said vnto the people, It is the Lorde that ‖ made Moses and Aaron, and that brought your fathers out of the land of Egypt.

‖ Or, exalted.

7 Nowe therefore stand still, that I may reason with you before the Lorde according to all the ‖ righteousnes of the Lorde, which hee shewed to you and to your fathers.

‖ Or, benefites.

8 *After that Jaakob was come in to Egypt, and your fathers cryed vnto the Lorde, then the Lorde *sent Moses and Aaron which brought your fathers out of Egypt, and made them dwell in this place.

Gen. 46. 5, 6.
Exod. 4. 16.

9 *And when they forgate the Lord their God, he sold them into the hand of Sisera c captaine of the hoste of Hazor, and into the hand of the Philistims, and into the hande of the king of Moab, and they fought against them.

Iudg. 4. 2.
c Captaine of Jabins hoste king of Hazor.

10 And they cried vnto the Lord, and saide, We haue sinned, because we haue forsaken the Lorde, & haue serued Baalim and Ashtaroth. Nowe therefore deliuer vs out of the hands of our enemies, and we will serue thee.

11 Therefore the Lorde sent Jerubbaal and Bedan & *Jphtah, and *Samuel, and deliuered you out of the hãds of your enemies on euerie side, and yee dwelled safe.

f That is, Samson. Iudg. 13. 25.

Chap. 4. 1.

12 Notwithstanding when you saw, that Nahash the King of the children of Ammon came against you, ye sayde vnto me, Nay, but a King shall reigne ouer vs: When yet the Lorde your God was your King.

g Leaning god to seeke helpe of man, cha. 8.

13 Nowe therefore beholde the king whome ye haue chosen, and whome ye haue desired: lo therfore, the Lord hath set a King ouer you.

14 If ye wil feare the Lord and serue him, and heare his voyce, and not disobey the worde of the Lord, both ye, and the King that reigneth ouer you, shall h followe the Lord your God.

h Ye shall be preserued as they that follow the Lords will.

15 But if ye will not obey the voyce of the Lord, but disobey the Lords mouth, then shall the hand of the Lord be vpon you, and on your i fathers.

i Meaning, the gouernors.

16 Now also stande and see this great thing which the Lorde will doe before your eyes.

17 Is it not now wheate harueste? I will call vnto the Lord, and he shal send thunder and raine, that ye may perceiue and see, howe that your wickednesse is k great, which ye haue done in the sight of the Lord in asking you a King.

k In that ye haue forsaken him, who hath all power in his hand, for a mortall man.

18 Then Samuel called vnto the Lord, and the Lord sent thunder and raine the same day: and all the people feared the Lord and Samuel exceedingly.

19 And all the people sayd vnto Samuel, Pray for thy seruants vnto the Lord thy God, that we die not: for wee haue sinned in asking vs a King, beside l all our [other] sinnes.

l Not onely at other times, but nowe chiefly.

20 ¶ And Samuel said vnto the people, Feare not, (ye haue in deede done all this wickednesse, m yet depart not from following the Lord, but serue the Lord with all your heart, m He shewed, that there is no sinne so great, but it shall be forgiuen, if the sinner turne againe to God.

21 Neither turne ye backe: for [that should be] after vaine things which can not profite you, nor deliuer you, for they are but vanitie)

22 For the Lord will not forsake his people for his great names sake: because it hath pleased the Lorde to make you n his people.

n Of his free mercy, & not of your merites, & therfore he will not forsake you.

23 Moreouer God forbid, that I should sinne against the Lord, and cease praying for you, but I wil shew you the good and right way.

24 Therfore feare you the Lord, and serue him in the trueth with all your o hearts, and consider how great things he hath done for you.

o Vnfeynedly, and without hypocrisie.

25 But if ye do wickedly, ye shall perish, both ye, and your King.

CHAP. XIII.

3 The Philistims are smitten of Saul & Jonathan. 13 Saul being disobedient to Gods commandement is shewed of Samuel that he shall not reigne. 19 The great slaueric, where in the Philistims kept the Israelites.

SAul nowe had beene King a one yeere, and hee reigned b two yeeres ouer Israel.

a Whiles these things were done.

b Before he tooke vpon him the state of a king.

2 Then Saul chose him three thousad of Israel: and two thousad were with Saul in Michmash, and in mount Beth-el, & a thousand were with Jonathan in Gibeah of Beniamin: and the rest of the people he sent euery one to his tent.

3 And Jonathan smote the garison of the Philistims, that was in the c hill: and it came to the Philistims eares: and Saul blewe the d trumpet through out all the lande, saying, Heare, O yee Ebrewes.

c Of Kiriath-iearim, where the Arke was, Chap. 10. 5.

d That euery one should prepare themselues to warre.

4 And all Israel heard saye, Saul hath destroyed a garison of the Philistims: wherefore Israel was had in abomination with the Philistims: and the people gathered together after Saul to Gilgal.

5 ¶ The Philistims also gathered themselues together to fight with Israel, thirtie thousand charets, and sixe thousand horsemen: for the people [was] like the sand which is by the sea side in multitude, and came vp, & pitched in Michmash Eastward from e Beth-auen.

e Which was also called Beth-el, in the tribe of Beniamin.

6 And when the men of Israel sawe that they were in a straite ([for] the people were in distresse]) the people hid themselues in caues, and in holdes, & in rocks, and in towers, and in pittes.

7 And [some] of the Ebrews went ouer Jorden vnto the lande of f Gad and Gilead: and Saul was yet in Gilgal, & all the people for feare followed him.

f Where the two tribes and the halfe remayned.

8 And he taryed seuen dayes, according vnto the time that Samuel had appointed: but Samuel came not to Gilgal, therefore the people were g scattered from him.

g Thinking the absence of the Prophet was a signe, that they should lose the victory.

9 And Saul saide, Bring a burnt offring to me and peace offrings: and hee offred a burnt offring.

10 And assoone as he had made an end of offring the burnt offring, behold, Samuel came: & Saul went forth to meete him, to h salute him.

h Eb. blesse him

11 And Samuel said, What hast thou done? then Saul saide, Because I sawe that the people was h scattered from mee, and that thou camest not within the dayes appointed, and that the Philistims

h Though these causes seeme sufficient in mās iudgement: yet because they had not the worde of God, they turned to his destruction.

listims gathered themselues together to Michmash,

12 Therefore said I, The Philistims will come downe nowe vpon me to Gilgal, and I haue not made supplication vnto the Lord. I was bold therfore and offred a burnt offring.

13 And Samuel sayd to Saul, Thou hast done foolishly: thou hast not kept the commandement of the Lorde thy [i] God, which he commanded thee: for the Lorde had nowe stablished thy kingdome vpon Israel for euer.

i Who willed thee to obey him, & rest vpō the words spoken by his Prophet.

14 But nowe thy kingdome shall not continue: the Lorde hath sought him a [k] man after his owne heart, and the Lorde hath commanded him to be gouernour ouer his people, because thou hast not kept that which the Lorde had commanded thee.

k That is, David.

15 ¶ And Samuel arose, and gat him vp from Gilgal in [l] Gibeah of Beniamin: and Saul nombred the people that were founde with him, about sixe hundreth men.

l And went to his cite Ramah.

16 And Saul & Ionathan his sonne, and the people that were founde with them, had their abyding in Gibeah of Beniamin: but the Philistims pitched in Michmash.

17 And there came out of the host of the Philistims ‖ three bandes to destroy, one bande turned vnto the way of Ophrah vnto the land of Shual,

‖ Or, the destroier: to wit, the captaine came out with three bands.

18 And another band turned toward the way to Beth-horon, and the [m] thirde bande turned towarde the way of the coast that looketh toward the valley of Zeboim, toward the wildernes.

m So that to mās iudgemēt these three armies woulde haue ouerrun the whole countrey.

19 Then there was no smith founde throughout al the land of Israel: for the Philistims said, Least þ Ebrewes make them swords or speares.

20 Wherefore all the Israelites went down to the Philistims, to sharpen euerie man his share, his mattocke, and his axe, and his weeding hooke.

21 Yet they had a file for the shares, and for the mattocks, and for the pickforkes, and for the axes, and for to sharpen the goades.

22 So when the day of battell was come, there was neither [n] sworde nor speare found in the handes of any of the people that were with Saul and with Ionathan: but [onely] with Saul and Ionathan his sonne was there found.

n To declare that the victorie onely came of God & not by their force.

23 And the garison of the Philistims came out to the passage of Michmash.

CHAP. XIIII.

14 Ionathan and his armour bearer put the Philistims to flight. 24 Saul bindeth the people by an othe, not to eate till euening. 32 The people eate with the blood. 38 Saul would put Ionathan to death. 45 The people deliuer him.

THen on a day Ionathan the sonne of Saul saide vnto the yong man that bare his armour, [a] Come and let vs goe ouer toward þ Philistims garison, that is yonder on the other side, but he tolde not his father.

a By this example God would declare to Israel, that the victorie did not consist in multitude or armour, but onely came of his grace.

2 And Saul taried in the border of Gibeah vnder a pomegranate tree, which was in Migron, and the people that were with him, [were] about sixe hundreth men.

3 And Ahiah the sonne of Ahitub, *Ichabods brother, the sonne of Phinehas, the sonne of Eli, [was] þ Lordes Priest in Shiloh, and ware an Ephod: and the people knewe not that Ionathan was gone.

* Chap. 4. 21.

4 ¶ Now in the way whereby Ionathan sought to goe ouer to the Philistims garison, there was a ‖ sharpe rocke on the one side, & a sharp rock on þ other side: the name of þ one [was] called Bozez, and the name of the other Seneh.

‖ Or, like a tooth.

5 The one rocke stretched from the North toward Michmash, & the other [was] from the South toward Gibeah.

6 And Ionathan said to the yong mā that bare his armour, Come, and let vs go ouer vnto the garison of these [b] vncircumcised: it may be that the Lorde will worke with vs: for it is ‖ not hard to the Lord to saue with many, or with fewe.

b To wit, the Philistims.

‖ Or, none can let the Lord. 2. Chro. 14. 11.

7 And he that bare his armour, said vnto him, Doe all that is in thine heart: goe where it pleaseth thee: beholde, [c] I am with thee as thine heart desireth.

c I will folow thee whithersoeuer thou goest.

8 Then said Ionathan, Behold, we go ouer vnto those men, and will shewe our selues vnto them.

9 [d] If they say on this wise to vs, Tary vntil we come to you, thē we will stād still in our place, and not go vp to them.

d This he spake by the Spirit of prophecie, foralmuch as hereby God gaue him assurance of the victorie. 1. Mac. 4. 30.

10 But if they say, Come vp vnto vs, then we will go vp: for * the Lorde hath deliuered them into our hand: and this shalbe a signe vnto vs.

11 So they both shewed themselues vnto the garison of the Philistims: and the Philistims saide, See, the Ebrewes come out of the [e] holes wherin they had hid themselues.

e Thus they spake cōtemptuously and by derision.

12 And the men of þ garison answered Ionathan, and his armour bearer, and sayde, Come vp to vs: for we will shew you a thing. Then Ionathan saide vnto his armour bearer, Come vp after me: for the Lorde hath deliuered them into the hand of Israel.

f That is, he crept vp, or went vp with all haste.

13 So Ionathan went vp vpon f his handes and vpon his feete, and his armour bearer after him: and [some] fell before Ionathan, and his armour bearer slew [others] after him.

g The second was whē they slewe one another, and the third when the Israelites chased them.

14 So the g first slaughter which Ionathan and his armour bearer made, was about twentie men, as it were within halfe an acre of lande which two [oxen plowe.]

15 And there was a feare in the hoste, [and] in the field, and among all the people: the garison also, and they that went out to spoyle, were afrayd themselues: and the earth h trembled: for it was [stricken] with feare by God.

h In that the insensible creatures tremble for feare of Gods iudgement, it declareth how terrible his vengeance shall be against his enemies.

16 ¶ Then the watchmen of Saul in Gibeah of Beniamin saw: and behold, the multitude was discomfited, & smitten as they went.

17 Therefore said Saul vnto the people that were with him, Search nowe and see, who is gone from vs. And when they had nombred, beholde, Ionathan and his armour bearer were not there.

18 And Saul sayd vnto Ahiah, Bring hither the Arke of God (for the Arke of God was at that time with the children of Israel)

19 ¶ And while Saul talked vnto the Priest, the noyse, that was in the hoste of the Philistims, spread farther abroad, & encreased: therefore Saul said vnto the Priest, i withdraw thine hand.

i Let the Ephod alone: for I haue no leisure nowe to aske counsell of God. Nom. 27.21. Iud. 7.21,22. 2.chro.20.23.

20 And Saul was assembled with all the people that were with him, and they came to the battell: and beholde, *euerie mans swoorde was agaynst his fellowe, [and] there was a verie great discomfiture.

21 Moreouer, the Ebrewes that were with the Philistimes before time, and were come with them into all partes of the hoste, euen they also turned to bee k with the Israelites that were with Saul and Ionathan.

k Though before for feare of the Philistims they declared themselues as enemies to their brethren.

22 Also all the men of Israel which had hid themselues in mount Ephraim, when they heard that the Philistims were fled, they followed after them in the battell.

23 And so the Lorde saued Israel that day: and the battell continued vnto Beth-auen.

24 ¶ And at that time the men of Israel were prested [with hunger:] for Saul charged the people with an othe, saying, Cursed be the man that eateth ‡foode till night, that I may be auēged of mine enemies: so none of the people tasted [any] sustenance.

l Such was his hypocrisie & arrogancie, that he thoght to attribute to his policy that which God had giuen by the hand of Ionathan.

‡ Ebr. bread.

25 And all they of the land came to a wood, where hony lay vpō the ground.

26 And the people came into þ wood, and beholde, the hony dropped, and no man moued his hand to his mouth: for the people feared the m othe.

m That is, the punishment, if they brake their othe.

27 But Ionathan heard not when his father charged the people with the othe: wherefore he put forth the end of þ rod that was in his hand, and dipt it in an home combe, and put his hand to his mouth, and his n eyes receiued sight.

n Which were dimme before for wearinesse and hunger.

28 Then answered one of the people, and said, Thy father made the people to sweare, saying, Cursed be the man that eateth sustenance this day: and the people were ‖ faint.

‖ Or, wearie.

29 Then said Ionathan, My father hath o troubled the land: see now howe mine eyes are made cleare, because I haue tasted a litle of this hony.

o By making this cruel law.

30 How much more, if the people had eaten to day of the spoyle of their enemies which they founde? for had there not bene nowe a greater slaughter among the Philistims?

31 ¶ And they smote the Philistims that day, from Michmash to Aialon: & the people were exceeding faint.

32 So the people turned to þ spoyle, & tooke sheepe, and oxen, and calues, and slewe them on the ground, and the people did eate them * with the blood.

Leuit. 7.26. & 19.26. deut. 12.16.

33 Then men told Saul, saying, Behold, the people sinne against the Lord, in that they eate with the blood. And he said, Ye haue trespassed: p roule a great stone vnto me this day.

p That þ blood of the beastes that shall be slayne, may be prested out vpon it.

34 Againe Saul said, Go abroade among the people, and bid them bring me euery man his ore, and euery man his sheepe, and slay them here, and eate and sinne not against þ Lord in eating with the blood. And þ people brought euery man his ore in his hand that night, and slew them there.

35 Then Saul made an altar vnto the Lord, [and] that ‖ was the first altar that he made vnto the Lord.

‖ Or, of that stone began he to buylde an altar.

36 ¶ And Saul said, Let vs go down after þ Philistims by night, & spoile thē vntill the morning shine, and let vs not leaue a man of them. And they sayde, Doe

Doe what so euer thou thinkest best.
q To aske counsell of him. Then sayde the Priest, Let vs q drawe neere hither vnto God.

37 So Saul asked of God, [saying,] Shall I goe downe after the Philistims? Wilt thou deliuer them into the hands of Israel? But he answered him not at that time.

Iudg.20.2. 38 And Saul said, *All ye chiefe of the people, come ye hither, & knowe, and see by whom this sinne is done this day.

39 For as the Lorde liueth, which saueth Israel, though it be [done] by Ionathan my sonne, he shall dye the death. But none of all the people answered him.

40 Then he sayde vnto all Israel, Bee yee on one side, and I and Ionathan my sonne will bee on the other side. And the people sayde vnto Saul, Doe what thou thinkest best.

r Cause the lot to fal on him that hath broke the oth: but he doth not consider his presumption in commanding the same othe. 41 Then Saul sayde vnto the Lord God of Israel, Giue r a perfect [lot.] And Ionathan and Saul were taken, but the people escaped.

42 And Saul sayde, Cast [lot] betweene mee and Ionathan my sonne. And Ionathan was taken.

43 Then Saul said to Ionathā, Tell me what thou hast done. And Ionathā told him, and sayde, I tasted a little hony with the ende of the rod, that was in mine hand, and lo, I must dye.

44 Againe Saul answered, God doe so and more also, vnlesse thou dye the death, Ionathan.

f The people thought it their duetie to rescue him, who of ignorance had but broken a rash law, & by whō they had receiued so great a benefite. 45 And the people sayde vnto Saul, f Shal Ionathā die, who hath so mightily deliuered Israel? God forbid. As the Lorde liueth, there shall not one heare of his head fall to the grounde: for hee hath wrought with God this day. So the people deliuered Ionathā that he dyed not.

46 Then Saul came vp frō the Philistims: and the Philistims went to their owne place.

47 ¶ So Saul held the kingdome ouer Israel, and fought against all his enemies on euery side, agaynst Moab, and against the children of Ammon, and against Edom, and against the Kings of Zobah, and against the Philistims: and t As the Lorde had cōmanded, Deut.25.17. 48 He gathered also an hoste & smote t Amalek, & deliuered Israel out of the hands of them that spoyled them.

‖Or, ouercame them. whithersoeuer hee went, hee ‖handled them as wicked men.

u Called also Abinadab, Chap.31.2. 49 Nowe the sonnes of Saul were Ionathan, u and Ishui, & Malchishua: and ỹ names of his two daughters, the elder was called Merab, & the younger was named x Michal.

x Which was the wife of Dauid, Chap. 18.27. 50 And the name of Sauls wife was Ahinoam the daughter of Ahimaaz: & the name of his chiefe captaine was y Abner the sonne of Ner, Sauls vncle.

y Whom Ioab the captaine of Dauid slewe, 2.Sam.3.27. 51 And Kish [was] Sauls father: & Ner the father of Abner [was] the sonne of Abiel.

52 And there was sore warre against the Philistims all the dayes of Saul: & whomesoeuer Saul saw to be a strong man, and meete for the warre, he tooke him vnto him.

z As Samuel had foretolde, chap.8.11.

CHAP. XV.

3 Saul is commanded to slay Amalek. 9 He spareth Agag & the best things. 19 Samuel reproueth him. 28 Saul is reiected of the Lorde, and his kingdome giuen to another. 33 Samuel heweth Agag in pieces.

AFterwarde Samuel sayde vnto Saul, *The Lord sent me to anoint thee king ouer his people ouer Israel: now therefore a obey the voyce of the wordes of the Lorde. Chap.9.16.

a Because he hath preferred thee to this honour, thou art bounde to obey him. Exod.17.14. nom.24.20. 2 Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, I remember what Amalek did to Israel, *howe they laid [wayte] for them in the way, as they came vp from Egypt.

3 Nowe [therefore] goe, and smite Amalek, and destroy ye al that pertaineth vnto them, and haue no compassion on them, but b slay both man and woman, both infant and suckling, both oxe, and sheepe, both camell, and asse.

b That this might be an exāple of gods vengeance against them that deale cruelly with his people. 4 ¶ And Saul assembled the people, and ‖ nombred them in Telaim, two hundreth thoulande footemen, and ten thoulande men of Iudah.

‖Or, knewe their nomber by the lambes, which they brought. 5 And Saul came to a citie of Amalek, ‖ and set watch at the riuer.

‖Or, fought in the valley. 6 And Saul sayd vnto the c Kenites, Goe, depart, [and] get you downe from among the Amalekites, least I destroy you with them: for ye shewed d mercy to all the children of Israel, when they came vp from Egypt: & the Kenites departed from among the Amalekites.

c Which were the posteritie of Iethro Moses father in lawe.

d For Iethro came to visite them & gaue them good counsell, Exod. 18.19. 7 So Saul smote the Amalekites from Hauilah as thou comest to Shur, that is before Egypt,

8 And tooke Agag the King of the Amalekites aliue, and destroyed all the people with the edge of the sworde.

9 But Saul and the people spared Agag, and the better sheepe, and the oxen, and the fatte beastes, and the lambes, and al that was good, and they would not destroy thē: but euery thing ỹ was vyle and nought worth, that they destroyed.

10 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord vnto Samuel, saying,

11 It e repenteth me that I haue made Saul King: for he is turned from mee, and hath not performed my commandementes. And Samuel was moued, & cryed vnto the Lord all night.

12 And when Samuel arose early to meete Saul in the morning, one tolde Samuel, saying, Saul is gone to Carmel: & behold, he hath made him there a place, from whence he returned, and departed, and is gone downe to Gilgal.

13 ¶ Then Samuel came to Saul, and Saul sayde vnto him, Blessed bee thou of the Lord, I haue fulfilled the f commandement of the Lorde.

14 But Samuel sayde, what meaneth then the bleating of the sheepe in mine eares, and the lowing of the oxen which I heare?

15 And Saul answered, They haue brought them from the Amalekites: for the people spared the best of the sheepe, and of the oxen to sacrifice them vnto the Lorde thy God, and the remnant haue we destroyed.

16 Againe Samuel sayde to Saul, Let mee tell thee what the Lorde hath sayde to me this night. And he sayde vnto him, Say on.

17 Then Samuel sayde, When thou wast g little in thine owne sight, wast thou not made the head of the tribes of Israel? for the Lorde anoynted thee King ouer Israel.

18 And the Lorde sent thee on a iourney, and said, Goe, and destroy those sinners the Amalekites, and fight against them, vntill thou destroy them.

19 Now wherefore hast thou not obeyed the voyce of the Lorde, but hast turned to the pray, and hast done wickedly in the sight of the Lord?

20 And Saul sayde vnto Samuel, Yea, I h haue obeyed the voyce of the Lorde, and haue gone the way which the Lorde sent me, and haue brought Agag the King of Amalek, and haue destroyed the Amalekites.

21 But the people tooke of the spoyle, sheepe & oxen, & the chiefest of the things which should haue byn destroyed, to offer vnto the Lord thy God in Gilgal.

22 And Samuel said, Hath the Lord as great pleasure in burnt offrings and sacrifices, as whē the voyce of the Lord is obeyed? behold, * to obey is better then sacrifice, and to hearken [is better] then the fatte of rammes.

23 For i rebellion [is as] the sinne of witchcraft, and transgression is wickednesse & idolatrie. Because thou hast cast away the worde of the Lord, therefore he hath cast away thee frō being King.

24 Then Saul sayd vnto Samuel, I haue sinned: for I haue transgressed the commaundement of the Lorde, and thy words, because I feared the people, and obeyed their voyce.

25 Now therefore, I pray thee, take away my k sinne, and turne againe with me, that I may worshippe the Lorde.

26 But Samuel sayd vnto Saul, I will not returne with thee: for thou hast cast away the worde of the Lorde, and the Lord hath cast away thee, that thou shalt not be King ouer Israel.

27 And as Samuel turned him selfe to goe away, he caught the lappe of his coate, and it rent.

28 Then Samuel sayde vnto him, The Lorde hath rent the kingdome of Israel from thee this day, and hath giuen it to thy l neighbour, that is better then thou.

29 For in deede the m strēgth of Israel will not lie nor repent: for he is not a man that he should repent.

30 Then he said, I haue sinned: but honour me, I pray thee, before the Elders of my people, and before Israel, and turne againe with me, that I may worshippe the Lorde thy God.

31 ¶ So Samuel turned againe, and followed Saul: and Saul worshipped the Lorde.

32 Then said Samuel, Bring ye hither to me Agag the King of the Amalekites: and Agag came vnto him ‖ pleasantly. And Agag sayde, Truely the n bitternesse of death is passed.

33 And Samuel sayd, * As thy sword hath made women childlesse, so shall thy mother be childlesse among other women. And Samuel hewed Agag in pieces before the Lorde in Gilgal.

34 ¶ So Samuel departed to o Ramah, and Saul went vp to his house to Gibeah of Saul.

35 And Samuel came no more to see Saul vntill the day of his death: but Samuel mourned for Saul, and the Lorde q repented that he made Saul King ouer Israel.

e God in his eternal counsel neuer chāgeth nor repenteth, as vers. 29. though he seemeth to vs to repent, whē any thing goeth cōtrary to his temporal election.

f This is the nature of hypocrites to be impudent against þ truth, to condemne others, & iustifie themselues.

h He standeth most impudently in his owne defence both against God & his owne conscience.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Samuel is reproued of God, and is sent to anoynt Dauid. 7 God regardeth the heart. 13 The Spirit of the Lorde commeth vpon Dauid. 14 The wicked spirit is sent vpon Saul. 19 Saul sendeth for Dauid.

THe Lord then said vnto Samuel, Howe long wilt thou mourne for Saul, a seeing I haue cast him away frō reigning ouer Israel? fill thine horne with oyle and come, I will sende thee to Iishai the Bethlehemite: for I haue prouided mee a King among his sonnes.

a Signifying that we ought not to shew our selues ouer pitifull the God, nor to lament them whome he casteth out.

2 And Samuel said, Howe can I go? for if Saul shall heare it, he will kill me. Thē the Lord answered, Take an heifer with thee, and say, I am come b to doe sacrifice to the Lord.

‡ Ebr. in thine hand.

b That is, to make a peace offring, which might be done though ỹ Arke was not there.

3 And call Iishai to the sacrifice, and I will shewe thee what thou shalt doe, & thou shalt anoint vnto me him whom I name vnto thee.

4 So Samuel did that the Lorde bade him, and came to Beth-lehem, and the Elders of the towne were c astonied at his cōming, and said, Commest thou peaceably?

c Fearing, lest some grieuous crime had bene committed, because the Prophet was not wont to come thither.

5 And he answered, Yea: I am come to doe sacrifice vnto the Lord: sanctifie your selues, and come with me to the sacrifice. And he sanctified Iishai and his sonnes, and called them to the sacrifice.

6 And when they were come, he looked on Eliab, & said, Surely the Lordes d Anointed is before him.

d Thinking, ỹ Eliab had bene appointed of God to bee made King.

7 But the Lord said vnto Samuel, Looke not on his countenance, nor on the height of his stature, because I haue refused him: for [God seeth] not as man seeth: for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord beholdeth the * heart.

1. Chro. 28.9. Iere. 11.20. & 17.10. & 20. 12. psal. 7.10.

8 Then Iishai called Abinadab, and made him come before Samuel. And he said, Neither hath ỹ Lord chosen this.

9 Then Iishai made Shammah come. And he said, Neither yet hath the Lord chosen him.

10 Againe Iishai made his seuen sonnes to come before Samuel: & Samuel said vnto Iishai, The Lorde hath chosen none of these.

11 Finally, Samuel said vnto Iishai, ‡ Are there no more children [but these?] And he said, there remaineth yet a little one behinde, that keepeth the sheepe. Thē Samuel saide vnto Iishai, * Send and fet him: for we will not sit downe, til he be come hither.

‡ Ebr. are the children ended?

2. Sam. 7.8. psal. 78.71. & 89.21.

12 And he sent, & brought him in: and he was ruddie, & of a good countenance, and comely visage. And the Lord saide, Arise, [and] anoint him: for this is he.

13 Then Samuel tooke the horne of oyle, and anointed him in the middes of his brethren. And the * Spirit of the Lord [came vpon Dauid, from that day forwarde: then Samuel rose vp, & went to Ramah.

Act. 7.46. and 13.22.] Or, prospered

14 ¶ But the Spirit of the Lord departed from Saul, and an e euill spirite [sent] of the Lord vexed him.

e The wicked spirits are at Gods commandement to execute his will against the wicked.

15 And Sauls seruants saide vnto him, Behold now, the euill spirit of God vexeth thee.

16 Let our Lord therefore command thy seruants, [that are] before thee, to seeke a mā, that is a cunning player vpō the harpe: that when the euill spirit of God cōmeth vpō thee, he may play with his hande, and thou mayest be eased.

17 Saul then said vnto his seruants, Prouide me a man, I pray you, that can play well, and bring him to me.

18 Thē answered one of his seruāts, and said, Behold, I haue seene a f sonne of Iishai, a Bethlehemite, that can play and is strong, baliant & a man of warre and wise in matters, and a comely person, and the Lord is with him.

f Though Dauid was nowe anointed king by ỹ Prophet, yet god would exercise him in sundry sortes before he had the vse of his kingdome.

19 ¶ Wherefore Saul sent messengers vnto Iishai, & said, Send mee Dauid thy sonne, which is with the sheepe.

20 And Iishai tooke an asse [laden] with bread and a flagon of wine and a kid, and sent them by the hand of Dauid his sonne vnto Saul.

21 And Dauid came to Saul, & [stood] before him: and he loued him very well, and he was his armour bearer.

] Or, serued him.

22 And Saul sent to Iishai, saying, Let Dauid now remaine with me: for he hath found fauour in my sight.

23 And so when ỹ [euill] spirit of God came vpon Saul, Dauid tooke an harp and played with his hande, and Saul was g refreshed, and was eased: for the euill spirit departed from him.

g God would ỹ Saul should receiue this benefit as at Dauids hand, that his condemnation might be the more euident, for his cruell hate toward him.

CHAP. XVII.

1 The Philistims make warre against Israel. 10 Goliath defieth Israel. 17 Dauid is sent to his brethē. 34 The strength and boldnes of Dauid. 47 The Lorde saueth not by swoyne nor speare. 50 Dauid killeth Goliath, & the Philistims flee.

NOw the Philistims gathered their armies to battell, and came together to Shochoh, which is in Iudah, & pitched betweene Shochoh and Azekah, [in the coast of Dammim.

] Or, in Ephesdammim.

2 And Saul, and the men of Israel assembled, and pitched in the valley ‖ of Elah, and put them selues in battel aray to meete the Philistims.

‖Or, of the oke.

3 And ỹ Philistims stoode on a mountaine on the one side, and Israel stoode on a mountaine on the other side: so a valley [was] betweene them.

4 ¶ Then came a man betweene thē a both out of the tētes of the Philistims, named Goliath of Gath: his height [was] sixe cubites and an hand breadth, a Between the two campes.

5 And had an helmet of brasse vpon his head, and a ‖ brigandine vpon him: and the weight of his brigandine [was] fiue thousand b shekels of brasse.

‖Or, coate of plate.

b That is, 156 lib. 4. ounces, after halfe an ounce the shekel: & 600. shekels weight amounteth to 18. lib. 3. quarters.

6 And he had ‖ bootes of brasse vpon his legges, and a shield of brasse vpon his shoulders.

‖Or, greaues.

7 And the shaft of his speare [was] like a weauers beame: and his speare head [weyed] sixe hundreth shekels of yrō: & one bearing a shield went before him.

8 And he stoode, & cryed against the hoste of Israel, and said vnto thē, why are ye come to set your battell in aray? am not I a Philistim, and you seruants to Saul? chuse you a man for you, and let him come downe to me.

9 If he be able to fight with mee, and ‡kill me, then will we be your seruants: but if I ouercome him, & kill him, then shall ye be our seruants, and serue vs.

‡Ebr. smite me

10 Also the Philistim said, I defie the hoste of Israel this day: giue me a man, that we may fight ‖ together.

‖Or, hand to hand.

11 When Saul and all Israel heard those words of the Philistim, they were discouraged, and greatly afrayed.

12 ¶ Nowe this Dauid [was] the *sonne of an Ephratite of Beth-lehem Judah, named Iishai, which had eight sonnes: and ‖ this man was taken for an old man in the dayes of Saul.

Chap. 16. 1.

‖Or, he was counted amōg them that bare office.

13 And the three eldest sonnes of Iishai wēt and followed Saul to the battell: and the names of his three sonnes that went to battel, [were] Eliab the eldest, and the next Abinadab, & the third Shammah.

14 So Dauid was the least: and the three eldest went after Saul.

15 Dauid also went, but he returned from Saul to feede his fathers sheepe in Beth-lehem.

c To serue Saul, as chap. 16. vers. 19.

16 And the Philistim drewe neere in the morning, and euening, and cōtinued fourtie dayes.

17 And Iishai saide vnto Dauid his sonne, d Take nowe for thy brethren an Ephah of this parched corne, and these tenne cakes, and run to the hoste to thy brethren.

d Though Iishai ment one thing, yet gods prouidence directed Dauid to another end.

18 Also carie these ten freshe cheeses vnto the captaine, and looke howe thy brethren fare, and receiue their e pledge.

e If they haue layd any thing to gage for their necessitie, redeeme it out.

19 (Then Saul and they, and all the men of Israel [were] in the valley of Elah, fighting with the Philistims)

20 ¶ So Dauid rose vp early in the morning, and left the sheepe with a keeper, and tooke and went as Iishai had commanded him, and came within the compasse of the hoste: and the hoste wēt out in array, and shouted in the battel.

21 For Israel & the Philistims had put theselues in array, arnie against arnie.

22 And Dauid left the things, which he bare, vnder the handes of the keeper of the ‡ cariage, and ran into the hoste, and came, and asked his brethren ‡ how they did.

‡Eb. vessels.

‡Ebr. of peace.

23 And as he talked with them, beholde, the man [that was] betweene the two [armies,] came vp, (whose name [was] Goliath the Philistim of Gath) out of ỹ ‖ army of the Philistims, & spake f such wordes, and Dauid heard them.

‖Or, valleis.

f As are aboue rehearsed, vers. 8 and 9.

24 And all the men of Israel, when they saw the man, ran away from him, and were sore afrayed.

25 For euery man of Israel saide, Saw ye not this mā that commeth vp? euen to reuile Israel is he come vp: and to him that killeth him, will the King giue great riches, and will giue him his *daughter, yea, and make his fathers houle g free in Israel.

Iosh. 15. 16.

g From cares, & payments.

26 ¶ Then Dauid spake to the men that stoode with him, & said, What shall be done to the mā that killeth this Philistim, and taketh away the h shame frō Israel? for who is this vncircumcised Philistim, that he should reuile the hoste of the liuing God?

h This dishonour that he doth to Israel.

27 And the people answered him after this maner, saying, Thus shall it be done to the man that killeth him.

28 And Eliab his eldest brother heard when he spake vnto the men, and Eliab was very angry with Dauid, and saide, Why camest thou downe hither? & with whome hast thou left those fewe sheepe in the wildernesse? I know thy pryde & the malice of thine heart, that thou art come downe to see the battell.

i For his fathers sending was a iust occasion, & also he felt himselfe inwardly moued by Gods Spirit.

29 Then Dauid sayd, What haue I nowe done? Is there not a i cause?

30 And

30 And hee departed from him into the presence of another, and spake of the same maner, and the people answered him according to the former wordes.

31 ¶ And they ỹ heard ỹ words which Dauid spake, rehearsed them before Saul, which caused him to be brought.

32 So Dauid saide to Saul, Let no mās heart faile him, because of him: thy seruant wil go, & fight wt this Philistim.

33 And Saul said to Dauid, Thou art not k able to go against this Philistim to fight with him: for thou art a boy, and he is a man of warre from his youth.

k Here Satan proueth Dauids faith, by the infidelitie of Saul.

34 And Dauid answered vnto Saul, Thy seruant kept his fathers sheepe, & there came a l lyon, and like wise a beare, and tooke a sheepe out of the flocke, l Dauid by the experience that he hath had in time past of Gods helpe, nothing doubteth to ouercome this danger, seeing he was zealous for Gods honour.

35 And I went out after him and smote him, & tooke it out of his mouth: and when he arose against me, I caught him by the beard, and smote him, and slew him.

36 So thy seruant slue both the lyon, and the beare: therefore this vncircumcised Philistim shall be as one of them, seeing he hath rayled on the hoste of the liuing God.

37 ¶ Moreouer Dauid saide, The Lord that deliuered me out of the pawe of the lyon, and out of the pawe of the beare, he will deliuer me out of the hand of this Philistim. Then Saul sayde vnto Dauid, m Goe, and the Lord be with thee.

m For by these exāples he saw that the power of God was with him.

38 And Saul put his raiment vpon Dauid, and put an helmet of brasse vpon his head, and put a brigandine vpon him.

39 Then girded Dauid his sworde vpon his raiment, and ‖ began to goe: for he neuer proued it: and Dauid said vnto Saul, I can not goe with these: for I am not accustomed. wherefore Dauid put them off him.

‖ Or, assayed.

40 Then tooke he his n staffe in his hande, & chose him fiue smooth stones out of a brooke, and put them in his shepheards bag or skrippe, and his sling was in his hande, and he drewe neere to the Philistim.

n To the intent that by these weake means, God might onely be knowen to be the autour of this victorie.

41 ¶ And the Philistim came & drew neere vnto Dauid, and the mā that bare the shield went before him.

42 Nowe when the Philistim looked about and sawe Dauid, hee disdeyned him: for he was but yong, ruddie, & of a comely face.

43 And ỹ Philistim said vnto Dauid, Am I a dog, that thou comnest to me with staues? And the Philistim o cursed Dauid by his gods.

o He sware by his gods, that he would destroy him.

44 And the Philistim said to Dauid, Come to mee, and I will giue thy flesh vnto the foules of the heauen, and to the beastes of the field.

45 ¶ Then saide Dauid to the Philistim, Thou cōmest to me wt a sworde, & with a speare, and with a shield, but I come to thee in the Name of the Lorde of hostes, the God of the host of Israel, whom thou hast rayled vpon.

46 This p day shall the Lorde close thee in mine hande, and I shall smite thee, and take thine head from thee, and I will giue the carkeises of the hoste of the Philistims this day vnto the foules of the heauen, and to the beastes of the earth, that al the world may know that Israel hath a God, p Dauid being assured both of his cause and of his calling, prophecieth of the destruction of the Philistims, 47 And that all this assembly may knowe, that the Lorde saueth not with sword nor with speare (for the battell is the Lordes) and hee will giue you into our handes.

48 And when the Philistim arose to come and drawe neere vnto Dauid, Dauid q hasted and ran to fight against the Philistim.

q Being inured with a feruent zeale to be reuenged vpon this blasphemer of Gods Name.

49 And Dauid put his hand in his bag, and tooke out a stone, and slang it, and smote the Philistim in his forehead, that the stone sticked in his forehead, & he fell groueling to the earth.

50 So Dauid * ouercame the Philistim with a sling & with a stone, & smote the Philistim, and slew him, when Dauid had no sworde in his hand.

* Ecclus.47.4. 1.mac.4.30.

51 Then Dauid ran, and stoode vpon the Philistim, and tooke his sworde and drew it out of his sheath, and slew him, and cut off his head therewith. So whē the Philistims sawe, that their champion was dead, they fled.

52 And the men of Israel and Iudah arose, and shouted, and followed after the Philistims, vntill they came to the ‖ valley, & vnto the gates of Ekron: and the Philistims fel downe wounded by the way of Shaaraim, euen to Gath and to Ekron.

‖ Or, Gai the citie.

53 And the children of Israel returned from pursuing the Philistims, and spoyled their tents.

54 And Dauid tooke the head of the Philistim, and brought it to Ierusalem, and put his armour in his ‖ tent.

‖ Or, house at Beth-lehem.

55 ¶ Whē Saul sawe Dauid go forth against against the Philistim, he sayde vnto Abner the captaine of his hoste, Abner, r whose sonne is this yong man? and Abner answered, As thy soule liueth, O King, I can not tell.

56 Thē the King said, Enquire thou whose sonne the yong man is.

57 And when Dauid was returned from the slaughter of the Philistim, thē Abner tooke him, and brought him before Saul with the head of the Philistim in his hand.

58 And Saul said to him, whose sonne art thou, thou yong man? And Dauid answered, I am the sonne of thy seruāt Jshai the Bethlehemite.

r That is, of what familie & tribe is he? or els he had forgotten Dauid, albeit he had receiued so great a benefite by him.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 The amitie of Jonathan and Dauid. 8 Saul enuieth Dauid for the prayse that the women gaue him. 11 Saul would haue slayne Dauid. 17 He promiseth him Merab to wife, but giueth him Michal. 27 Dauid deliuereth to Saul two hundreth foreskins of the Philistims. 29 Saul feareth Dauid, seeing that the Lord is with him.

1 AND when hee had made an end of speaking vnto Saul, the a soule of Jonathā was knit wt the soule of Dauid, & Jonathan loued him, as his own soule.

a His affection was fully bent toward him.

2 And Saul tooke him that day, and would not let him returne to his fathers house.

3 Then Jonathan and Dauid made a couenant: for he loued him as his own soule.

4 And Jonathan put off the robe that was vpon him, and gaue it Dauid, and his garments, euen to his sword, and to his bowe, and to his girdle.

5 And Dauid went out whithersoeuer Saul sent him, and behaued himselfe b wisely: so that Saul set him ouer the men of warre, and he was accepted in the sight of all the people, and also in the sight of Sauls seruants.

b That is, he prospered in al his doings.

6 ¶ And when they came againe, & Dauid returned from the slaughter of the c Philistim, the women came out of all cities of Jsrael, singing and daunsing to meete King Saul, with timbrels, with [instruments of] ioy, and with rebecks.

c To wit, Goliath.

7 And the women ‡ sang by course in their play, and said, *Saul hath slaine his thousand, & Dauid his ten thousand.

‡ Eb. answered, playing. Chap. 21. 11. and 29. 5. ecclus. 47. 6, 7.

8 Therefore Saul was exceeding wroth, and the saying displeased him, & he said, They haue ascribed vnto Dauid ten thousand, and to me they haue ascribed but a thousand, and [what can hee haue] more saue the kingdome?

9 Whereforе Saul d had an eye on Dauid from that day forward.

d Because he bare him enuy and hatred.

10 ¶ And on the morowe, the euill spirite of God came vpon Saul, and hee e prophecied in the middes of the house: and Dauid played with his hande like as at other times, & there [was] a speare in Sauls hand.

e That is, spake as a man beside himselfe: for to the people abused this woyde, when they could not vnderstand.

11 And Saul tooke the speare, and said, I will smite Dauid [through] to the wall. But Dauid auoyded twise out of his presence.

12 And Saul was afrayed of Dauid, because the Lord was with him, & was departed from Saul.

13 Therefore Saul put him frō him, and made him a captaine ouer a thousand, & he went f out & in before the people.

f Meaning, he was captaine ouer the people.

14 And Dauid behaued himselfe wisely in all his waies: for the Lord was wt him.

15 Wherfore when Saul sawe that he was very wise, he was afrayed of him.

16 For all Jsrael & Judah loued Dauid, because he went out & in before thē.

17 ¶ Then Saul said to Dauid, Behold mine eldest daughter Merab, her I will giue thee to wife: onely be a valiant sonne vnto me, & g fight the Lords battels: for Saul thought, Mine hande shall not be vpon him, but the hande of the Philistims shalbe vpon him.

g Fight against the that warre against Gods people.

18 And Dauid answered Saul, What am I? and what is my life, [or] the famille of my father in Jsrael, that I should be sonne in lawe to the King?

19 Howbeit when Merab Sauls daughter should haue bene giuē to Dauid, h she was giuē vnto Adriel a Meholathite to wife.

h By whom he had fiue sonnes which Dauid put to death at the request of the Gibeonites, 2. Sam. 21, 8.

20 ¶ Then Michal Sauls daughter loued Dauid: and they shewed Saul, & the thing pleased him.

21 Therefore Saul said, I will giue him her, that she may be a i snare to him, and that the hād of the Philistims may be against him. Wherefore Saul said to Dauid, Thou shalt this day be my sonne in law in the [one] of the twaine.

i So his hypocrisie appeareth: for vnder pretence of fauor he sought his destruction.

22 And Saul cōmanded his seruāts, Speake with Dauid secretly, and saye, Behold, the king hath a fauour to thee, and all his seruants loue thee: be nowe therefore the Kings sonne in lawe.

23 And Sauls seruants spake these wordes in the eares of Dauid. And Dauid sayde, k Seemeth it to you a light thing to be a kings sonne in lawe, seeing that I am a poore man and of small reputation?

k Meaning, that he was not able to endowe his wife with riches.

24 And thē Sauls seruants brought him woorde agayne, saying, Such wordes wordes spake Dauid.

25 And Saul sayde, This wife shall ye say to Dauid, The king desireth no dowrie, but an hundreth foreskinnes of the Philistims, to bee auenged of the Kings enemies: for Saul thought to make Dauid fall into the handes of the Philistims.

26 And when his seruants tolde Dauid these wordes, it pleased Dauid well, to be the [l] Kings sonne in lawe: and the dayes were not expired.

27 Afterward Dauid arose with his men, and went and slewe of the Philistims two hundreth men: and Dauid brought their foreskinnes, and [m] they gaue them wholy to the King that hee might be the Kings sonne in law: therefore Saul gaue him Michal his daughter to wife.

28 Then Saul saw, and vnderstood that the Lorde [was] with Dauid, and that Michal the daughter of Saul loued him.

29 Then Saul was more and more [n] afraide of Dauid, and Saul became alway Dauids enemie.

30 And when the Princes of the Philistims went forth, at their going forth [o] Dauid behaued him selfe more wisely then all the seruants of Saul, so that his name was much set by.

CHAP. XIX.

2 Jonathan declareth to Dauid the wicked purpose of Saul. 11 Michal his wife saueth him. 18 Dauid commeth to Samuel. 23 The spirit of prophecie commeth on Saul.

THen Saul spake to Jonathan his sonne, and to all his seruants, that they shoulde [a] kill Dauid: but Jonathan Sauls sonne had a great fauour to Dauid.

2 And Jonathan told Dauid, saying, Saul my father goeth about to slaye thee: nowe therefore, I pray thee, take heede vnto thy selfe vnto the morning, and abide in a secret [place,] and hide thy selfe.

3 And I will goe out, and stande by my father in the fielde where thou [b] art, and will commune with my father of thee, and I will see what [he saith,] and will tell thee.

4 ¶ And Jonathan spake good of Dauid vnto Saul his father, and sayde vnto him, Let not the king sinne against his seruant, against Dauid: for hee hath not sinned against thee, but his workes haue bene to thee very good.

5 For he [‡] did [*] put his life in daunger, and slewe the Philistim, and the Lorde wrought a great saluation for all Israel: thou sawest it, & thou reioycedst: wherefore thē wilt thou sinne against innocent blood, and slay Dauid without a cause?

6 Then Saul hearkened vnto the voyce of Jonathan, and Saul [c] sware, As the Lord liueth, he shall not dye.

7 So Jonathan called Dauid, & Jonathan shewed him all those wordes, and Jonathan brought Dauid to Saul, and he was in his presence as in times past.

8 ¶ Againe the warre began, & Dauid went out and fought with the Philistims, & slew them with a great slaughter, and they fled from him.

9 ¶ And the euill spirit of the Lorde was vpon Saul, as hee sate in his house hauing his speare in his hande, and Dauid [d] played with his hand.

10 And Saul intended to smite Dauid to the wall with the speare: but he turned aside out of Sauls presence, and he smote the speare against the wall: but Dauid fled, and escaped the same night.

11 Saul also sent messengers vnto Dauids house, to watche him, & to slay him in the morning: and Michal Dauids wife tolde it him, saying, If thou saue not thy selfe this night, to morowe thou shalt be slaine.

12 So Michal [e] let Dauid downe through a windowe: and he went, and fled, and escaped.

13 Then Michal tooke an image, and layed it in the bed, and put a pillowe of [f] fethers vnder the head of it, and couered it with a cloth.

14 And when Saul sent messengers to take Dauid, she said, He is sicke.

15 And Saul sent the messengers againe to see Dauid, saying, Bring him to me in the [g] bed, that I may slay him.

16 And when the messengers were come in, beholde, an image [was] in the bed, with a pillowe of goats [heare] vnder the head of it.

17 And Saul said vnto Michal, Why hast thou mocked mee so, and sent away mine enemie, that hee is escaped? And Michal answered Saul, He saide vnto me, Let me go, or elle I will kill thee.

18 ¶ So Dauid fled, and escaped, and came to Samuel to Ramah, and tolde him all that Saul had done to him: & he and Samuel went & dwelt in [g] Naioth.

19 But one tolde Saul, saying, Behold, Dauid [is] at Naioth in Ramah.

21 And when it was tolde Saul, hee sent other messengers, and they prophecied likewise: againe Saul sent the third messengers, and they prophecied also.

22 Then went he himself to Ramah, and came to a great well that is in Sechu, and he asked, and sayde, where are Samuel and Dauid? and one saide, Behold, [they be] at Naioth in Ramah.

23 And he [k] went thither, [euen] to Naioth in Ramah, & the Spirit of God came vpon him also, & he went prophecying vntil he came to Naioth in Ramah.

24 And he [l] stript off his clothes, and he prophecied also before Samuel, and fell [m] downe naked all that day and all that night: therefore they say, *Is Saul also among the Prophets?

CHAP. XX.

2 Jonathan comforteth Dauid, 3 They renue their league, 33 Saul would haue killed Jonathan. 38 Jonathan aduertiseth Dauid by three arrowes, of his fathers furie.

AND Dauid [a] fled from Naioth in Ramah, & came and said before Jonathan, what haue I done? what [is] mine iniquitie? & what sinne haue I committed before thy father, that he seeketh my life?

2 And he saide vnto him, God forbid, thou shalt not dye: beholde, my father will doe nothing great nor small, but he will [‡] shewe it me: and why should he my father hide this thing from me? he will not doe it.

3 And Dauid sware againe and said, Thy father knoweth that I haue found grace in thine eyes: therefore he thinketh, Jonathan shall not know it, lest he be sorie: but in deede, as the Lord liueth, and as thy soule liueth, there is but a [b] steppe betweene me and death.

4 Then saide Jonathan vnto Dauid, whatsoeuer thy soule [‡] requireth, that I will doe vnto thee.

5 And Dauid sayde vnto Jonathan, Behold, to morowe is the [c] first day of the moneth, and I should sit with the King at meate: but let me goe, that I may hide my selfe in the fieldes vnto the thirde [day] at euen.

6 If thy father make mention of me, then say, Dauid asked leaue of me, that he might go to Beth-lehem to his owne citie: for there is a [d] yeerely sacrifice for all that familie.

7 And if he say thus, It is well, thy seruant shall haue peace: but if he be angrie, be sure that wickednesse is concluded of him.

8 So shalt thou shewe mercie vnto thy seruant: * for thou hast ioyned thy seruant into a couenãt of the Lord with thee, and if there bee in me iniquitie, slay thou mee: for why shouldest thou bring me to thy father?

9 And Jonathan answered, God keepe that from thee: for if I knewe that wickednesse were [e] concluded of my father to come vpon thee, would not I tell it thee?

10 Then sayde Dauid to Jonathan, who [f] shall tell me? how [shall I know], if thy father answere thee cruelly?

11 And Jonathan sayde to Dauid, Come and let vs goe out into the fielde: and they twaine went out into the field.

12 Then Jonathan sayde to Dauid, O Lord God of Israel, when I haue groped my fathers minde to morowe at this time, [or] within this three dayes, and if it be well with Dauid, and I then sende not vnto thee, and shewe it thee, 13 The Lord [g] do so and much more vnto Jonathan: but if my father haue minde to do thee euill, I will shew thee also, & sende thee away, that thou mayest goe in peace: and the Lord bee with thee as he hath bene with my father.

14 Likewise [I require] not whiles I liue: [for I dout not] but thou wilt shewe me the mercy of the Lord, [h] that I dye not.

15 But [I require] that thou cut not off thy mercie from mine house for euer: no, not when the Lord hath destroyed the enemies of Dauid, euery one from the earth.

16 So Jonathan made a bond with the house of Dauid, [saying,] Let the Lord requite it at the hands of Dauids enemies.

17 And againe Jonathan sware vnto Dauid, because hee loued him (for hee loued him as his owne soule)

18 Then saide Jonathan to him, To morowe is the first day of the moneth: and thou shalt be ‖ looked for, for thy place shall be emptie.

19 Therefore thou shalt hide thy selfe three dayes, [then] thou shalt go downe quickly & come to the place where thou diddest hide thy selfe, when this matter was in hande, and shalt remayne by the stone [‡] Ezel.

23 As touching the thing which thou and I haue spoken of, behold, the Lord [be] betweene thee and me for euer.

24 ¶ So Dauid hid him selfe in the fielde: and when the first day of the moneth came, the King sate to eate meate.

25 And ỹ king sate, as at other times vpon his seate, euen vpon his seate by the wall: and Ionathan arose, and Abner sate by Sauls side, but Dauids place was emptie.

26 And Saul saide nothing that day: for he thought, Some thing hath befallen him, though he were [k] cleane, [or els] because he was not purified.

k Yet he might haue some businesse to let him.

27 But on the morowe which was the seconde day of the moneth, Dauids place was emptie againe: and Saul laid vnto Ionathan his sonne, Wherefore commeth not ỹ sonne of [l] Iesai to meat, neither yesterday nor to day?

l Thus he speaketh contemptuously of Dauid.

28 And Ionathan answered vnto Saul, Dauid required of mee, [that hee might go] to Beth-lehem.

29 For he saide, Let mee goe, I pray thee: for our familie [offreth] [m] a sacrifice in the citie, and my brother hath sent for me: therefore now if I haue found fauour in thine eyes, let me go, I pray thee, and see my [n] brethren: this is the cause that he commeth not vnto the Kings table.

m That is, a peace offring.

n Meaning, al his kinsefolke.

30 Then was Saul angry with Ionathan, and said vnto him, Thou [o] sonne of the wicked rebellious woman, do not I know, that thou hast chosen ỹ sonne of Iesai to thy confusion and to the confusion [and] shame of thy mother?

o Thou art euer contrarie vnto me as thy mother is.

31 For as long as the sonne of Iesai liueth vpon the earth, thou shalt not bee stablished, nor thy kingdome: wherefore nowe sende and fet him vnto me, for he ‡shall surely dye.

‡Ebr. sonne of death.

32 And Ionathan answered vnto Saul his father, ‡ and said vnto him, Wherefore shall he [p] die? what hath he done?

p For it were to great tyrannie to put one to death & not to shewe the cause why.

33 And Saul cast a speare at him to hit him, whereby Ionathan knewe, that it was determined of his father to slay Dauid.

34 ¶ So Ionathan arose from the table in a great anger, and dyd eate no meate the second day of the moneth: for he was sory for Dauid, [and] because his father had reuiled him.

35 On the next morning therefore Ionathan went out into the fielde, [q] at the time appoynted with Dauid, and a litle boy with him.

q For this was the third day, as it was agreed vpon, verl. 5.

36 And he saide vnto his boy, Runne nowe, seeke ỹ arrowes which I shoote, and as the boy ranne, he shot an arrowe beyond him.

37 And when the boy was come to the place where the arrowe was that Ionathan had shot, Ionathan cryed after the boy, and sayde, Is not the arrowe beyond thee?

38 And Ionathan cryed after ỹ boy, [r] Make speede, haste [and] stand not stil: and Ionathans boy gathered vp the arrowes, and came to his master.

r By these wordes he admonished Dauid what he ought to do.

39 But the boy knewe nothing: onely Ionathan ‡ Dauid knew the matter.

40 Then Ionathan gaue his [s] bowe and arrowes vnto ỹ boy that was with him, and sayd vnto him, Goe, cary them into the citie.

‡Ebr. instruments.

41 ¶ Assone as ỹ boy was gone, Dauid arose out of a place ỹ was towarde the [t] South, and fell on his face to the ground, and bowed himself three times: and they kissed one another, and wept both twaine, till Dauid exceeded.

t It seemeth ỹ he had shot on the North side of the stone, lest the boy should haue espied Dauid.

42 Therefore Ionathan said to Dauid, Goe in peace: that which wee haue [u] sworne both of vs in the Name of the Lord, saying, The Lord be betweene me and thee, and betweene my seede and betweene thy seede, [let it stand] for euer.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Dauid fleeth to Nob to Ahimelech the Priest, 6 He getteth of him the shewe bread to satisfie his hunger. 7 Doeg Sauls seruāt was present. 10 Dauid fleeth to King Achish, 13 And there faineth himselfe madde.

THen came Dauid to [a] Nob, to Ahimelech the Priest, and Ahimelech was astonied at the meeting of Dauid, and sayde vnto him, Why art thou alone, and no man with thee?

a Where the Arke thē was, to aske counsel of the Lord.

2 And Dauid saide to Ahimelech the Priest, The [b] king hath commanded me a certaine thing, and hath said vnto me, Let no man know whereabout I send thee, and what I haue cōmanded thee:

b These infirmities that we see in the saints of God, teach vs that none hath his iustice in himselfe, but receiueth it of gods mercy.

and I haue appointed my seruantes to such [and] such places.

3 Nowe therefore if thou hast ought vnder thine hande, giue me fiue [takes of] bread, or what commeth to hand.

4 And the Priest answered Dauid, and saide, There is no common bread vnder mine hand, but here is *halowed bread, if the yong men haue kept themselues, at least from [c] women.

Exod. 25.30. leuit. 24.5. matt. 12.3,4.

c If they haue not companied with their wiues.

5 Dauid then answered the Priest, and sayde vnto him, Certainely women haue bene separate from vs these two or three dayes since I came out: & the [d] vessels of the yong men were holy, though the way were prophane, and how much more then shal [euery one] [e] be sanctified this day in the vessell?

d That is, their bodies.

e Salbe more careful to keep his vessell holy, when he shall haue eaten of this holy foode?

6 So the Priest gaue him halowed [bread:] for there was no bread there, saue the shew bread that was taken from before the Lord, to put hote bread there the day that it was taken away.

f Tarying to worship before the Arke. ‖ Or, master of them that kept Sauls cattell.

8 And Dauid saide vnto Ahimelech, Is there not here vnder thine hande a speare or a sworde? for I haue neyther brought my sworde nor mine harneste with me, because the kings busines required haste.

9 And the Priest said, The sworde of Goliath [g] Philistim, whome thou slewest in the *valley of Elah, beholde, it is wrapt in a cloth behinde the [s] Ephod: if thou wilt take [g] to thee, take it: for there is none other saue that here: and Dauid said, There is none to that, giue it me.

Chap. 17.2. g Behinde that place, where the hie Priests garment lay.

10 And Dauid arose & fled the same day from the [h] presence of Saul, & went to Achish the king of Gath.

h That is, out of Sauls dominion.

11 And the seruantes of Achish sayde vnto him, Is not this Dauid the *king of the land? did they not sing vnto him in daunces, saying, *Saul hath slaine his thousand, and Dauid his ten thousandes?

k Is he meete to be in a kings house?

CHAP. XXII.

1 Dauid hideth himselfe in a caue. 2 Many that were in trouble came vnto him. 9 Doeg accuseth Ahimelech. 18 Saul causeth the Priests to be slaine. 20 Abiathar escapeth.

DAuid therfore departed thence, and saued him selfe in [g] caue [a] of Adullam: & when his brethren & all his fathers house heard it, they went down thither to him.

a Which was in the tribe of Iudah and neere to Bethlehem.

2 And there gathered vnto him all men that were in trouble and all men that were in det, and all those [g] were vexed in minde, and hee was their ‖ prince, and there were with him about foure hundreth men.

‖ Or, captaine.

3 (And Dauid went thence to Mizpeh in [b] Moab, and said vnto the king of Moab, I pray thee, let my father & my mother come [and abide] with you, till I know we what God will doe for me.

b For there was another so called, in Iudah.

4 And he [c] brought them before the king of Moab, and they dwelt with him all the while that Dauid was in [d] the hold.

c For he feared the rage of Saul against his house.

d That is, in Mizpeh, which was a strong holde.

5 And the Prophet Gad sayde vnto Dauid, Abide not in the holde, [but] depart and goe into the lande of Iudah. Then Dauid departed and came into the forest of Hareth.

6 (And Saul hearde that Dauid was [e] discouered, and the men that were with him, and Saul remained in Gibeah vnder a tree in Ramah, hauing his speare in his hande, and all his seruants stoode about him.

c That a great hurte went on him.

7 And Saul said vnto his seruants [g] stood about him, Heare nowe, ye sonnes [f] of Jemini, Will [g] sonne of Jshai giue euery one of you fieldes & vineyardes: will hee make you all captaines ouer thousands, and captaines ouer hundreths:

f Ye that are of my tribe and linage.

8 That all ye haue conspired against me, & there is none that telleth mee that my sonne hath made a couenant with the sonne of Jshai: and there is none of you that is sory for me, or sheweth mee, that my [g] sonne hath stirred vp my seruant to lie in waite against mee, as [appeareth] this day.

g Hereby he woulde perswade them that this conspiracie was most horrible, where the sonne conspired against the father, and the seruant against his master.

9 (Then answered Doeg the Edomite (Who was appointed ouer the seruantes of Saul) and sayde, I sawe the sonne of Jshai when he came to Nob, to Ahimelech the sonne of Ahitub.

10 Who asked counsell of the Lord for him & gaue him vitailes, & he gaue him also the sword of Goliath the Philistim.

11 Then the King ſent to call Ahimelech the Prieſt the ſonne of Ahitub, and all his fathers houſe, [to wit,] [h] the Prieſts that were in Nob: and they came all to the King.

12 And Saul ſaide, Heare nowe thou ſonne of Ahitub. And he anſwered, Here I am, my lord.

13 Then Saul ſayde vnto him, Why haue ye conſpired againſt me, thou and the ſonne of Iſhai, in that thou haſt geuen him bitaile, and a ſword, and haſt aſked counſel of God for him, that he ſhould riſe againſt me, and lie in wayte as appeareth this day?

14 ¶ And Ahimelech anſwered the King, and ſayde, Who is ſo faithfull among al thy ſeruants as Dauid, [being] alſo the Kings ſonne in lawe, and goeth at thy commaundement, and is honourable in thine houſe?

15 [i] Haue I this day firſt begun to aſke counſell of God for him? be it farre from me, let not the King impute any thing vnto his ſeruant, nor to all the houſe of my father: for thy ſeruãt knew nothing of all this, leſſe nor more.

16 Then the King ſaide, Thou ſhalt ſurely die, Ahimelech, thou, and all thy fathers houſe.

17 And the King ſayde vnto the ‖ ſergeants that ſtoode about him, Turne, and ſlay the Prieſts of the Lord, becauſe their hande alſo is with Dauid, and becauſe they knew when he fled, & ſhewed it not to me. But [y] ſeruants of the King [k] would not moue their hands to fall vpon the Prieſts of the Lord.

18 Then the King ſayde to Doeg, Turne thou and fall vpon the Prieſts. And Doeg the Edomite turned, and ran vpon the Prieſts, and ſlewe that ſame day foureſcore and fiue perſons that did weare a linen Ephod.

19 Alſo Nob the citie of the Prieſtes ſmote he with the edge of [y] ſword, both man and woman, both child & ſuckling, both oxe and aſſe, and ſheepe with the edge of the ſworde.

20 But one of [y] ſonnes of Ahimelech the ſonne of Ahitub (whoſe name [was] Abiathar) eſcaped and fled after Dauid.

21 And Abiathar ſhewed Dauid, that Saul had ſlaine the Lords Prieſts.

22 And Dauid ſaid vnto Abiathar, I knewe it the ſame day, when Doeg the Edomite [was] there, that he would tell Saul. I am the cauſe [of the death] of al the perſons of thy fathers houſe.

23 Abide thou with mee, [and] feare not: for ‖ hee that ſeeketh my life, ſhall ſeeke thy life alſo: for with me thou ſhalt be in ſafegarde.

CHAP. XXIII.

5 Dauid ſaueth the Philiſtims from Keilah. 13 Dauid departeth from Keilah, & remaineth in the wilderneſs of Ziph. 16 Jonathan cõforteth Dauid. 28 Sauls enterpriſe is broken in purſuing Dauid.

THen they told Dauid, ſaying, Behold, the Philiſtims fight [a] againſt Keilah, and ſpoyle the barnes.

2 Therefore Dauid aſked counſell of the Lord, ſaying, Shall I go and ſmite theſe Philiſtims? And [y] Lord anſwered Dauid, Goe and ſmite the Philiſtims, & ſaue Keilah.

3 And Dauids men ſaide vnto him, See, we be afrayd here in [b] Judah, how much more if wee come to Keilah againſt the hoſte of the Philiſtims?

4 Then Dauid aſked counſell of the Lord againe. And the Lorde anſwered him, and ſaid, Ariſe, goe downe to Keilah: for I will deliuer the Philiſtims into thine hand.

5 ¶ So Dauid and his men went to Keilah, & fought with the Philiſtims, & brought away their cattell, and ſmote them with a great ſlaughter: thus Dauid ſaued the inhabitants of Keilah.

6 (And when Abiathar the ſonne of Ahimelech * fled to Dauid to Keilah, he brought an [c] Ephod [with him])

7 ¶ And it was told Saul that Dauid was come to Keilah, and Saul ſaid, God hath deliuered him into mine hãd: for he is ſhut in, ſeeing hee is come into a citie that hath gates and barres.

8 Then Saul called al the people together to warre, for to go downe to Keilah, and to beſiege Dauid and his men.

9 ¶ And Dauid hauing knowledge that Saul imagined miſchiefe againſt him, ſaid to Abiathar the Prieſt, [d] Bring the Ephod.

10 Then ſaid Dauid, O Lorde God of Iſrael, thy ſeruant hath heard, that Saul is about to come to Keilah to deſtroy the citie for my ſake.

11 Will the lordes of Keilah deliuer me vp into his hande? and will Saul come downe, as thy ſeruant hath heard? O Lord God of Iſrael, I beſeech thee, tell thy ſeruant. And the Lorde ſaid, He will come downe.

27 But there came a ᵏ messenger to Saul, saying, Haste thee, and come: for the Philistims haue inuaded the land.

ᵇ A citie of Iudah, Iosh. 15. 62.

3 Then Saul tooke three thousande chosen men out of all Israel, and went to seeke Dauid and his men vpon the rockes [among] the wilde goates.

4 And he came to the sheepecoates by the way where there was a caue, ? Saul went in † to doe his easement: and Dauid and his men sate in the ‡ inward partes of the caue.

† Ebr. to couer his feete.

‡ Ebr. in the sides.

5 And the men of Dauid saide vnto him, See, the day is ᶜ come, whereof the Lorde saide vnto thee, Behold, I will deliuer thine enemie into thine hande, and thou shalt doe to him as it shall seeme good to thee. Then Dauid arose and cut off the lap of Sauls garment priuily.

ᶜ Here we see how ready we are to hasten gods promes, if the occasion serue neuer so little.

6 And afterward Dauid ᵈ was touched in his heart, because he had cut off the lappe which was on Sauls [garment.

ᵈ For seeing it was his own priuate cause, he repented ᵗʰ he had touched his enemie.

7 And he saide vnto his men, The Lorde keepe me from doing that thing vnto my master the Lords Anointed, to lay mine hand vpon him: for he is the Anointed of the Lord.

8 So Dauid ouercame his seruants with these wordes, and suffred them not to arise against Saul: so Saul rose vp out of the caue and went away.

9 ¶ Dauid also arose afterwarde, and went out of the caue, and cried after Saul, saying, O my lord the King. And when Saul looked behinde him, Dauid inclined his face to the earth, and bowed him selfe.

c Contrary to the false report of them that sayde, Dauid was Sauls enemie, he proueth him selfe to be his friend.

10 And Dauid said to Saul, c Wherefore giuest thou an eare to mens wordes, that say, Beholde, Dauid seeketh euill against thee?

11 Beholde, this day thine eyes haue seene, that the Lord had deliuered thee this day into mine hand in the caue, and some bade mee kill thee, but I had compassion on thee, and sayde, I will not lay mine hande on my master: for he is the Lords anointed.

12 Moreouer my father, beholde: behold, I say, the lappe of thy garment in mine hand: for when I cut off the lappe of thy garment, I killed thee not. Understande and see, that there is neither euill nor wickednesse in me, neither haue I sinned against thee, yet thou huntest after my soule to take it.

13 The Lord be iudge betweene thee and mee, & the Lord auenge me of thee, and let not mine hand be vpon thee.

‖Or, the prouerbe of an ancient man.

14. According as ‖old prouerbe saith, wickednesse proceedeth frō the wicked, but mine hand be not vpon thee.

15 After whom is the King of Israel come out? after whome doest thou pursue? after a dead dog, [and] after a flea?

16 The Lord therefore be iudge, and iudge betwene thee and me, and see, and pleade my cause, and ‡deliuer me out of thine hand.

‡Ebr. iudge.

17 When Dauid had made an ende of speaking these wordes to Saul, Saul sayde, f Is this thy voyce, my sonne, Dauid? and Saul lift vp his voyce, and wept, f Though he was a most cruel enemie to Dauid, yet by his great gentleness his conscience compelled him to pelde.

18 And said to Dauid, Thou art more righteous then I: for thou hast rendred me good, and I haue rendred thee euill.

19 And thou hast shewed this day, that thou hast dealt well with me: forasmuch as when the Lorde had closed me in thine hands, thou killedst me not.

20 For who shal find his enemie, and let him depart ‡ free? Wherefore ✠ Lord render thee good for that thou hast done vnto me this day.

‡Ebr. a good way.

g Though this tyrane saw and confessed the fauour of God toward Dauid, yet he ceaseth not to persecute him against his owne conscience.

21 For nowe behold, I ‖know that thou shalt bee King, and that the kingdome of Israel shall bee stablished in thine hande.

22 Sweare now therefore vnto me by the Lord, that thou wilt not destroy my seede after me, & that thou wilt not abolish my name out of my fathers house.

23 So Dauid sware vnto Saul, and Saul went home: but Dauid & his men went vp vnto the holde.

CHAP. XXV.

1 Samuel dyeth. 3 Nabal and Abigail. 38 The Lorde killeth Nabal. 43 Abigail and Ahinoam Dauids wiues. 44 Michal is giuen to Phalti.

THen * Samuel dyed, and all Israel assembled, & mourned for him, and buryed him in his a owne house at Ramah. And Dauid arose and went downe to ✠ wildernesse of Paran.

Chap.28.3. ecclus.46. 13, 20.

a That is, among his own kinred.

2 Now in b Maon [was] a man, who had his possession in Carmel, & the man was exceeding mighty & had three thousand sheepe, and a thousand goates: and he was shearing his sheepe in Carmel.

b Maon and Carmel were cities in the tribe of Iudah, Carmel the mountaine was in Galile.

3 The name also of the man [was] Nabal, and the name of his wife Abigail, and she was a woman of singular wisedome, and beautiful, but the man [was] churlish, and euill conditioned, and was of the familie of Caleb.

4 And Dauid heard in the wildernesse, that Nabal did shere his sheepe.

5 Therefore Dauid sent ten yong mē, and Dauid said vnto the yong men, Goe vp to Carmel, & goe to Nabal, and aske him in my name ‡ howe he doeth.

‡Ebr. of peace.

6 And thus shal ye say c for salutatiō, Both thou, & thine house, and all ✠ thou hast, be in peace, wealth and prosperitie.

c Some reade, so maiest thou liue in prosperitie the next yeere, both thou, &c.

7 Beholde, I haue heard, that thou hast sherers: now thy shepheards were with vs, and we did them no hurt, neyther did they misse any thing all the while they were in Carmel.

‡Ebr. for life.

8 Aske thy seruants and they will shewe thee. Wherefore let these yong men finde fauour in thine eyes: (for we come in a good season) giue, I pray thee, whatsoeuer d commeth to thine hande vnto thy seruants, & to thy sonne Dauid.

d Whatsoeuer thou hast ready for vs.

9 ¶ And when Dauids yong men came, they told Nabal al those words in the name of Dauid, & beide their peace.

10 Then Nabal answered Dauids seruants, and said, Who is Dauid? and who is the e sonne of Isai? there bee manie seruants nowe a dayes, that breake away euery man frō his master.

e Thus the couetous wretches, in stead of relieuing ✠ necessitie of Gods children, vse to reuile their persons and condemne their cause.

11 Shall I then take my bread, and my water, and my flesh that I haue killed for my sherers, and giue it vnto men, whome I knowe not whence they be?

12 ¶ So Dauids seruants turned their way, and went againe, and came, and told him all those things.

13 And Dauid said vnto his mē, Gird euery man his sword [about him.] And they girded euery mā his sword: Dauid also girded his sworde. And about foure hundreth mẽ went vp after Dauid, and two hundreth abode by the ‡ cariage.

14 Nowe one of the seruantes tolde Abigail Nabals wife, saying, Beholde, Dauid sent messengers out of the wildernes to salute our master, and he ‡ railed on them.

15 Notwithstãding the men were very good vnto vs, and we had no displeasure, neyther missed wee any thing as long as we were conuersant with them, when we were in the fieldes.

16 They were as a wall vnto vs both by nyght & by day, al the while we were with them keeping sheepe.

17 Now therefore take heede, and see what thou shalt do: for euill will surely come vpon our master, and vpon all his familie: for hee is so wicked that a man can not speake to him.

18 ¶ Then Abigail made haste, and tooke two hundreth ‡ cakes, and two bottels of wine, and fiue sheepe readie dressed, and fiue measures of parched corne, & an hundreth ‖ frailes of rasins, and two hundreth of figges, and laded them on asses.

19 Then she saide vnto her seruants, Goe ye before me: beholde, I will come after you: yet she told g not her husband Nabal.

20 And as shee rode on her asse, shee came down by a secret place of the mountayne, and beholde, Dauid and his men came downe against her, and shee met them.

21 And Dauid said, In deede I haue kept all in vaine that this fellowe had in the wildernes, so that nothing was missed of all that perteined vnto him: for he hath requited me euill for good.

22 So and more also doe God vnto the enemies of Dauid: for surely I will not leaue of al that he hath, by the dawning of the day, [any] that h pisseth against the wall.

23 And when Abigail sawe Dauid, she hasted and lighted off her asse, and fell before Dauid on her face, and bowed her selfe to the ground, 24 And fell at his feete, and said, Oh, my lord, I [haue committed] the iniquitie, and I pray thee, let thine handmaid speake ‡ to thee, & heare thou the wordes of thine handmaide.

25 Let not my lorde, I pray thee, regard this wicked man Nabal: for as his name is, so is he: ‖ Nabal [is] his name, and folie [is] with him: but I thine handmayde sawe not the yong men of my lorde whome thou sentest.

26 Nowe therefore my lorde, as the Lord liueth, and as thy soule liueth (the Lorde, [I say,] that hath withholden thee from comming to [shed] blood, and that i thine hãd [should not] saue thee) so nowe thine enemies shall be as Nabal, and they that intend to do my lorde euil.

27 And nowe, this ‖ blessing which thine hand maid hath brought vnto my lorde, let it be giuen vnto the yong men, that ‡ followe my lorde.

28 I pray thee, forgiue the trespas of thine handmaid: for the Lord wil make my lorde a k sure house, because my lorde fighteth the battels of the Lord, & none euil hath bene found in thee ‖ in al thy life.

29 Yet l a man hath risen vp to persecute thee, and to seeke thy soule, but the soule of my lord shalbe bound in the m budel of life with the Lorde thy God: and the soule of thine enemies shall [God] cast out, as out of the middle of a sling.

30 And when the Lorde shall haue done to my lorde all the good that hee hath promised thee, and shal haue made thee ruler ouer Israel, 31 Then shall it be no griefe vnto thee, nor offence of minde vnto my lord, that he hath not shed blood causeles, nor that my lorde hath n [not] preserued him selfe: and when the Lorde shall haue dealt well with my lorde, remember thine handmayde.

32 Then Dauid said to Abigail, Blessed be the Lorde God of Israel, which sent thee this day to meete me.

33 And blessed be thy counsell, and blessed be thou, which hast kept me this day from comming to [shedde] blood, o and that mine hand hath [not] saued me.

34 For in deede, as the Lord God of Israel liueth, p who hath kept me backe from hurting thee, except thou haddest hasted and met me, surely there had not bene left vnto Nabal by the dawning of the day, [any that pisseth against ꝑ wal.

35 Then Dauid receiued of her hand that which she had brought him, & saide to her, Go vp in peace to thine house: behold, I haue heard thy voyce, and haue ‡ granted thy petition.

36 ¶ So Abigail came to Nabal, and behold, he made a feast in his house, like the feast of a king, & Nabals heart was merie within him, for he was very drunke: wherfore she told him q nothing, neither lesse nor more, vntil the morning arose.

1 Dauid was discouered vnto Saul by the Ziphims. 12 Dauid taketh away Sauls speare, & a pot of water that stoode at his head. 21 Saul confesseth his sinne.

a That is, of the most skilfull and valiant souldiers.

3 And Saul pitched in the hill of Hachilah, which is before Jeshimon by the way side. Now Dauid abode in the wildernes, and he sawe that Saul came after him into the wildernesse.

4 (For Dauid had sent out spyes, and vnderstoode, that Saul was come ‖ in very deede)

‖ Or, to a certaine place.

5 Then Dauid arose, and came to the place where Saul had pitched, and [when] Dauid beheld the place where Saul lay, and *Abner the sonne of Ner which was his chiefe captaine, (for Saul lay in the forte, and the people pitched round about him)

Chap. 14.50. and 17.55.

6 Then spake Dauid, and saide to Ahimeleth the [b] Hittite, and to Abishai the sonne of Zeruiah, brother to [c] Joab, saying, Who will goe downe with mee to Saul to the hoste? Then Abishai sayd, I will goe downe with thee.

b Who was a stranger and not an Israelite.

c Who afterwarde was Dauids chiefe captaine.

7 So Dauid & Abishai came downe to the people by night: & beholde, Saul lay sleeping within the forte, and his speare did sticke in the grounde at his ‖ head: and Abner and the people laye rounde about him.

‖ Or, bolster.

8 ¶ Then said Abishai to Dauid, God hath closed thine enemie into thine hãde this day: now therefore, I pray thee, let me smite him once with a speare to the earth, & I will not smite him [d] againe.

d Meaning, he would make him sure at one stroke.

9 And Dauid said to Abishai, Destroy him not: for who can lay his hande [e] on the Lords anoynted, and be guiltlesse?

e To wit, in his owne priuate cause: for Iehu slewe two kings at Gods appointment. 1.King. 9.24.

10 Moreouer Dauid said, As [f] the Lorde liueth, either the Lorde shall smite him, or his day shall come to dye, or he shall descende into battell, and perish.

f The Lorde keepe me from laying mine hande vpon the Lordes anoynted: but, I pray thee, take nowe the speare that is at his head, and [g] the potte of water, and let vs go hence.

11 The Lorde keepe me from laying mine hande vpon the Lordes anoynted: but, I pray thee, take nowe the speare that is at his head, and ŷ potte of water, and let vs go hence.

12 So Dauid tooke the speare & the pot of water from Sauls head, & they gate them away, and no man sawe it, nor marked it, neither did any awake, but they were all a sleepe: for [h] the Lorde had sent a dead sleepe vpon them.

h Ebr. the heauie sleepe of the Lorde was fallen vpon them.

13 Then Dauid went into the other side, & stoode on the top of an hil a farre off, a great space being betweene them.

14 And Dauid cryed to the people, and to Abner the sonne of Ner, saying, [i] Hearest thou not Abner? Then Abner answered, and saide, Who art thou that cryest to the King?

i Ebr. answerest.

15 ¶ And Dauid said to Abner, Art not thou a [k] man? and who is like thee in Israel? wherefore then hast thou not kept thy lorde the King? for there came one of the folke in to destroye the King thy lorde?

k Esteemed most valiant, and meete to saue the King?

16 This is not well done of thee: as the Lorde liueth, ye are [l] worthy to die, because yee haue not kept your master the Lordes Anointed: and nowe see where the Kings speare is, and the pot of water that was at his head.

l Ebr. sonnes of death.

17 And Saul knewe Dauids voyce, and sayde, Is this thy voyce, my sonne Dauid? And Dauid said, It is my voice, my lord, O King.

g Hereby it appeareth, that the hypocrite persecuted Dauid against his owne conscience, and contrarie to his vowes.

18 And

18 And hee sayde, Wherefore doeth my lorde thus persecute his seruant? for what haue I done? or what euill is in mine hand?

19 Nowe therefore, I beseeth thee, let my lord the King heare the words of his seruant. If the Lorde haue stirred thee vp against me, [h] let him smell the sauour of a sacrifice: but if the children of men haue done it, cursed be they before the Lord: for they haue cast me out this day from abiding in the inheritance of the Lorde, saying, Goe, serue other [i] gods.

20 Nowe therefore let not my blood fal to the earth before the face of the Lord: for the King of Israel is come out to seeke a flea, as one would hunt a partrich in the mountaines.

21 Then sayd Saul, I haue sinned: come again, my sonne Dauid: for I will doe thee no more harme, because my soule was [k] precious in thine eyes this day: beholde, I haue done foolishly, and haue erred exceedingly.

22 Then Dauid answered, and said, Beholde the Kings speare, let one of the yong men come ouer and fet it.

23 And let the Lorde reward euery man according to his [l] righteousnes and faithfulnesse: for the Lorde had deliuered thee into [mine] handes this day, but I would not lay mine hande vpon the Lordes anoynted.

24 And beholde, like as thy life was much set by this day in mine eyes: so let my life be set by in the eies of the Lord, that he may deliuer me out of all tribulation.

25 Then Saul sayde to Dauid, Blessed art thou, my sonne Dauid: for thou shalt do great things, and also preuaile. So Dauid went his way, and Saul returned to his [m] place.

h Let his anger toward vs be pacified by a sacrifice.

i As much as lay in them, they compelled him to idolatrie, because they forced him to flee to the idolaters.

CHAP. XXVII.

2 Dauid fleeth to Achish King of Gath, who giueth him Ziklag. 8 Dauid destroyeth certaine of the Philistims. 10 Achish is deceiued by Dauid.

AND Dauid sayde in his heart, I shall nowe [a] perish one day by the hand of Saul: is it not better for me that I flee my selfe in the lande of the Philistims, and that Saul may haue no hope of mee to seeke mee any more in all the coastes of Israel, and [so] escape out of his hande?

2 Dauid therefore arose, and he, and the fiue hundreth men that were with him, went vnto Achish the sonne of Maoch King of Gath.

3 And Dauid [b] dwelt with Achish at Gath, he, and his men, euery man with his household, Dauid with his two wiues, Ahinoam the Iezreelite, and Abigail Nabals wife the Carmelite.

4 And it was told Saul that Dauid was fled to Gath: so he sought no more for him.

5 And Dauid sayde vnto Achish, If I haue now founde grace in thine eyes, [c] let them giue me a place in some [other] citie of the countrey, that I may dwell there: for why shoulde thy seruaunt dwell in the [head] citie of the kingdome with thee?

6 Then Achish gaue him Ziklag [d] the same day: therefore Ziklag pertaineth vnto the kings of Iudah vnto this day.

7 And [e] the time that Dauid dwelt in the countrey of the Philistims, was foure moneths and certaine dayes.

8 Then Dauid and his men went by, and inuaded the [d] Geshurites, and the Girzites and the Amalekites: for they inhabited the lande from the beginning, [from the way, as thou goest to Shur, euen vnto the lande of Egypt.

9 And Dauid smote the land, and left neither man nor woman aliue, and tooke sheep, and oxen, and asses, and camels, and apparel, and returned and came to Achish.

10 And Achish sayde, [Where haue ye bene a rouing this day? And Dauid answered, Against the South of Iudah, and against the South of the [e] Ierahmeelites, and against the South of the Kenites.

11 And Dauid saued neither man nor woman aliue, to bring them to Gath, saying, Least they should tell on vs, and say, So did Dauid, and so [will be] his maner all the while that he dwelleth in the countrey of the Philistims.

12 And Achish beleeued Dauid, saying, [He hath made his people of Israel vtterly to abhorre him: therefore he shall be my seruant for euer.

NOwe at that time the Philistims assembled their bands and armie to fight with Israel: therefore Achish sayde to Dauid, [a] Bee sure, thou shalt go out with me to the battel, thou, and thy men.

2 And Dauid saide to Achish, Surely thou shalt know what thy seruaut can doe. And Achish sayd to Dauid, Surely

3 (*Samuel was then dead, and all Israel had lamented him, and buryed him in Ramah his owne citie: & Saul had [b] put away the sorcerers, and the soothsayers out of the land)

b According to the commandement of God, Exod. 22,18, and deu. 18.10, 11.

4 Then the Philistims assembled them selues, and came, and pitched in Shunem: and Saul assembled all Israel, and they pitched in Gilboa.

5 And when Saul saw the hoste of the Philistims, he was afraide, & his heart was sore astonied.

6 Therefore Saul asked counsell of the Lorde and the Lord answered him not, neither by dreames, nor by [c] Urim, nor yet by Prophets.

c Meaning, the hie Preest, Exod. 28.30.

7 ¶ Then said Saul vnto his seruāts, Seeke me a woman that hath a familiar spirit, that I may go to her, and aske of her. And his seruants sayde to him, Beholde, there is a woman at En-dor that hath a familiar spirit.

8 Then Saul [d] changed him selfe, and put on other rayment, and hee went, and two men with him, and they came to the woman by night: and hee sayde, I pray thee, coniecture vnto mee by the familiar spirite, and bring me him vp whome I shall name vnto thee.

d He seeketh not to God in his miserie, but is led by Satan to vnlawfull meanes, which in his conscience he condemneth.

9 And the woman sayde vnto him, Beholde, thou knowest what Saul hath done, howe hee hath destroyed the sorcerers, and the soothsayers out of the land: wherefore then seekest thou to take mee in a snare to cause me to die?

10 And Saul sware to her by the Lorde, saying, As the Lorde liueth, no ‖harme shal come to thee for this thing.

11 Then sayde the woman, Whome shall I bring vp vnto thee? And he answered, Bring me vp [e] Samuel.

12 And when the woman sawe Samuel, shee cryed with a loude voyce, and the woman spake to Saul, saying, why hast thou deceiued me? for thou art Saul.

13 And the King sayde vnto her, Be not afraide: for what sawest thou? And the woman sayde vnto Saul, I sawe ‖gods ascending vp out of the earth.

f To his imagination, albeit it was Satan, who to blinde his eyes tooke vpon him the forme of Samuel, as he can do of an Angel of light.

15 ¶ And Samuel sayde to Saul, why hast thou disquieted me, to bring mee vp? Then Saul answered, I am in great distresse: for the Philistims make warre against mee, and God is departed from me, and answereth me no more, neither [*] by Prophets neyther by dreames: therefore I haue called thee, that thou mayest tell mee, what I shall doe.

*Ebr. by the hand of Prophets.

16 Then sayde Samuel, wherefore then doest thou aske of me, seeing the Lord is gone frō thee, & is thine enemie?

17 Euen the Lorde hath done to him, as he spake [*] by mine ‖hande: for the Lorde will rent the kingdome out of thine hande, and giue it thy neighbour Dauid.

18 Because thou obeyedst not the voyce of the Lorde, nor executedst his fierce wrath vpon the Amalekites, therfore hath the Lorde done this vnto thee this day.

20 Then Saul fell streight way all along on the earth, and was sore [i] afraid because of the wordes of Samuel, so that there was no strength in him: for hee had eaten no bread all the day nor all the night.

i The wicked, when they feare Gods iudgements, tremble and despaire, but can not seeke for mercy by repentance.

21 Then the woman came vnto Saul, and sawe that he was sore troubled, and sayde vnto him, See, thine handmayde hath obeyed thy voyce, and I [k] haue put my soule in mine hande, and haue obeyed thy wordes which thou saydest vnto me.

k I haue ventured my life.

22 Now therfore, I pray thee, hearken thou also vnto the voyce of thine handmaide, and let me set a morsell of bread before thee, that thou mayest eate & get thee strength, and goe on thy iourney.

23 But he refused, and sayde, I will not eate: but his seruants and the woman together compelled him, and he obeyed their voyce: so he arose from the earth, and sate on the bed.

24 Now the woman had a fat calfe in the house, and she hasted, and killed it, and tooke floure and kneaded it, and baked of it [l] vnleauened bread.

l Because it required haste.

25 Then shee brought them before Saul, & before his seruants: and when they had eaten, they stood vp, and went away the same night.

CHAP. XXIX.

4 The princes of the Philiſtims cauſe Dauid to be ſent backe from the battell againſt Iſrael, becauſe they diſtruſted him.

SO the Philiſtims were gathered together with all their armies in Aphek: and the Iſraelites pitched ‖ by the fountaine, which is in Iezreel.

‖ Or, in Ain.

2 And the ‖ princes of the Philiſtims went forth by [a] hundreths and thouſands, but Dauid and his men came behinde with Achiſh.

‖ Or, captaines.

a According to their bands or enſignes.

3 Then ſayde the princes of the Philiſtims, what [doe] theſe Ebrewes [here?] And Achiſh ſayde vnto the princes of the Philiſtims, Is not this Dauid the ſeruant of Saul the King of Iſrael, who hath beene with me theſe dayes, [b] or theſe yeeres, and I haue founde nothing in him, ſince he ‡ dwelt with me vnto this day?

b Meaning, a long time, that is, foure moneths and certaine dayes, Chap. 27. 7. ‡ Ebr. fell, as Gen. 25. 18. 1. Chro. 12. 19

4 But the princes of the Philiſtims were wroth with him, and the princes of the Philiſtims ſayd vnto him, *Send this fellowe backe, that he may goe againe to his place which thou haſt appointed him, and let him not goe downe with vs to battell, leſt that in the battell he be an aduerſarie to vs: for wherewith ſhoulde he obtaine the fauour of his maſter? ſhoulde it not be with the [c] heades of theſe men?

c Would not Saul receiue him to fauour, if he ſhould betray vs? Chap. 18. 7. and 21. 11.

5 Is not this Dauid, of whome they ſang in daunces, ſaying, *Saul ſlewe his thouſande, and Dauid his tenne thouſande?

6 ¶ Then Achiſh called Dauid, and ſayde vnto him, As the Lorde liueth, thou haſt bene vpright and good in my ſight, when thou [d] wenteſt out and in with me in the hoſte, neither haue I founde euill with thee, ſince thou cameſt to me vnto this day, but ‡ the princes do not fauour thee.

d That is, was conuerſant with me.

‡ Ebr. thou art not good in the eyes of the princes.

7 Wherefore nowe returne, and goe in peace, that thou diſpleaſe not the princes of the Philiſtims.

8 ¶ And Dauid ſayde vnto Achiſh, But what haue I done? and what haſt thou founde in thy ſeruant as long as I haue bene with thee vnto this day, that I may [e] not goe and fight againſt the enemies of my lorde the King?

e This diſſimulation can not be excuſed: for it grieued him to goe againſt the people of God.

9 Achiſh then anſwered, and ſayde to Dauid, I know thou pleaſeſt me, as an Angell of God: but the princes of the Philiſtims haue ſayde, Let him not goe vp with vs to battell.

10 Wherefore nowe riſe vp earely in the morning with thy [f] maſters ſeruaunts that are come with thee: and when ye bee vp earely, as ſoone as yee haue light, depart.

f With them that ſled vnto thee from Saul.

11 So Dauid and his men roſe vp earely to depart in the morning, and to returne into the land of the Philiſtims: and the Philiſtims went vp to Iezreel.

CHAP. XXX.

1 The Amalekites burne Ziklag. 5 Dauids two wiues are taken priſoners. 6 The people wouldе ſtone him. 8 He aſketh counſell of the Lorde, and purſuing his enemies recouereth the pray. 24 He deuideth it equally. 26 And ſendeth part to his friendes.

BUt when Dauid and his men were come to Ziklag [a] the thirde day, the Amalekites had inuaded vpon the South, euen vnto Ziklag, and had [b] ſmitten Ziklag, and burnt it with fire, a After that he departed from Achiſh.

b That is, deſtroyed the citie.

2 And had taken the women that were therein, priſoners, both ſmall and great, [and] ſlewe not a man, but carried them away, and went their wayes.

3 ¶ So Dauid and his men came to the citie, and beholde, it was burnt with fire, and their [c] wiues, and their ſonnes, and their daughters were taken priſoners.

c For theſe onely remained in the citie, when the men were gone to warre.

4 Then Dauid and the people that was with him, lift vp their voyces and wept, vntill they could weepe no more.

5 Dauids two wiues were taken priſoners alſo, Ahinoam the Iezreelite, and Abigail the wife of Nabal the Carmelite.

6 And Dauid was in great ſorowe: for the people [d] entended to ſtone him, becauſe the hearts of all the people were vexed euery man for his ſonnes and for his daughters: but Dauid comforted him ſelfe in the Lorde his God.

d Thus we ſee, that in troubles and aduerſitie we doe not conſider Gods prouidence, but like raging beaſtes forget both our owne duetie and contemne Gods appointment ouer vs.

7 ¶ And Dauid ſaid to Abiathar the Prieſt Ahimelechs ſonne, I pray thee, bring me the Ephod. And Abiathar brought the Ephod to Dauid.

8 Then Dauid aſked counſell at the Lorde, ſaying, Shall I followe after this companie? ſhall I ouertake them? And hee anſwered him, Followe: for thou ſhalt ſurely ouertake them, and [e] recouer all.

e Though God ſeeme to leaue vs for a time, yet if we truſt in him, we ſhalbe ſure to finde comfort.

9 ¶ So Dauid and the fiue hundreth men that were with him, went, and came to the riuer Beſor, where a part of them abode:

10 But Dauid and foure hundreth men followed (for two hundreth abode behinde, being too wearie to goe ouer the riuer Beſor)

11 And

11 And they found an Egyptian in the fielde, and brought him to Dauid, and gaue him [f] bread & he did eate, and they gaue him water to drinke.

12 Also they gaue him a fewe figs, and two clusters of raisins: and when he had eaten, his spirit came againe to him: for he had eaten no bread, nor drunke any water in three dayes, and three nightes.

13 ¶ And Dauid sayd vnto him, To whom belongest thou? and whence art thou? And he sayd, I am a yong man of Egypt, a seruant to an Amalekite: and my master left me three dayes ago, because I fell sicke.

14 We roued vpon the South of Chereth, and vpon the [coast] belonging to Judah, and vpon the South of Caleb, and we burnt Ziklag with fire.

15 And Dauid sayd vnto him, Canst thou bring me to this companie? And he sayd, [g] Sweare vnto me by God, that thou wilt neither kill me, nor deliuer me into the hands of my master, and I will bring thee to this companie.

16 ¶ And when he had brought him thither, beholde, they lay scattered abroad vpon all the earth, [h] eating and drinking, and daunsing, because of all the great praye that they had taken out of the land of the Philistims, and out of the land of Judah.

17 And Dauid smote them from the twilight, euen vnto the euening [i] of the nexte morowe, so that there escaped not a man of them, saue foure hundreth yong men, which rode vpon camels, and fled.

18 And Dauid recouered all that the Amalekites had taken: also Dauid rescued his two wiues.

19 And they lacked nothing, small or great, sonne or daughter, or of the spoyle of all that they had taken away: Dauid recouered them all.

20 Dauid also tooke all the sheepe, and the oxen, [and] they drawe them before his cattell, and sayd, This is Dauids [k] praye.

21 ¶ And Dauid came to the two hundreth men that were so wearie for to follow Dauid: whom they had made also to abide at the riuer Besor: and they came to meete Dauid, and to meete the people that were with him: so when Dauid came neere to the people, he saluted them.

22 Then answered all the euill and wicked of the men that went with Dauid, and sayd, Because they went not with vs, therefore will we giue them none of the pray, that we haue recouered, saue to euery man his [l] wife and his children: therefore let them carie them away and depart.

23 Then said Dauid, Ye shal not doe so, my brethren, with that which the Lord hath giuen vs, who hath preserued vs, and deliuered the compame that came against vs, into our hands.

24 For who will obey you in this matter? but as his part [is] that goeth downe to the battell, so [shall] his part [be,] that taryeth by the stuffe: they shall part alike.

25 [m] So from that day forwarde he made it a statute and a lawe in Israel, vntill this day.

26 ¶ When Dauid therefore came to Ziklag, he sent of the praye vnto the Elders of Judah and to his friends, saying, See [there is] a blessing for you of the spoyle of the enemies of the Lord.

27 He sent to them of Beth-el, and to them of South Ramoth, and to them of Jattir, 28 And to them of Aroer, & to them of Siphmoth, and to them of Eshtemoa, 29 And to them of Rachal, & to them of the cities of the Jerahmeelites, and to them of the cities of the Kenites,

30 And to them of Hormah, & to them of Chor-ashan, and to them of Athach, 31 And to them of Hebron, and [n] to all the places where Dauid and his men had hanted.

f God by his prouidence both prouided for the necessity of this poore stranger, and made him a guide to Dauid to accomplish his enterprise.

g For, othes were in all ages had in most reuerence euen among the heathen.

h The wicked in their pompe and pleasures confider not the iudgement of God, which is then at hand to smite them.

i Some read, and vnto the morowe of the two euenings: that is, three dayes.

k Which the Amalekites had taken of others, & Dauid from them bestoes the goods of Ziklag.

l Under these are comprehended the cattel & goods, which appertained to euery man.

m Some referre these wordes to Dauid, that he alledged an olde custome and lawe, as if it were written, It is both now and hath bene euer.

n Shewing him selfe mindfull of their benefites towards him.

CHAP. XXXI.

4 Saul killeth himselfe. 6 His children are slaine in the battel. 12 The men of Jabesh tooke downe his body, which was hanged on the wall.

NOw * the Philistims fought against Israel, and the men of Israel fledde away from the Philistims, and they fell downe ‖ wounded in mount Gilboa.

* 1.Chro.10.1.

‖ Or, slaine.

2 And the Philistims preassed sore vpon Saul and his sonnes, and slewe Jonathan, and Abinadab, and Malchi-shua Sauls sonnes.

3 And when the battell went sore against Saul, the archers and bowmen † hit him, and he was sore ‖ wounded of the archers.

† Ebr. found him.

‖ Or, afraid.

4 Then sayd Saul vnto his armour bearer, [a] Draw out thy sword, and thrust me through therewith, lest þ vncircumcised come and thrust me through and mock me: but his armour bearer would not, for he was sore afraide. Therefore Saul tooke a sword and fell vpon it.

a So we see that his cruel life hath a desperate ende, as is commonly seene in them, that persecute the children of God.

5 And when his armour bearer sawe that Saul was dead, he fell likewise vpon his sword, and dyed with him.

6 So Saul dyed, & his three sonnes, and his armour bearer, and all his men that same day together.

THis booke and the former beare the title of Samuel, because they conteine the conception, natiuitie and the whole course of his life, and also the liues and actes of two Kings, to wit, of Saul and Dauid, whom he anointed and consecrated Kings by the ordinance of God. And as the first booke conteineth those things, which God brought to passe among this people vnder the gouernment of Samuel and Saul: so this second booke declareth the noble actes of Dauid, after the death of Saul, when he began to reigne, vnto the ende of his kingdome: and howe the same by him was wonderfully augmented: also his great troubles and dangers, which he susteined both within his house and without: what horrible and dangerous insurrections, vprores, and treasons were wrought against him, partly by false counsellers, fained friends and flatterers, and partly by some of his owne children and people: and howe by Gods assistance he ouercame all difficulties, and enioyed his kingdome in rest and peace. In the person of Dauid the Scripture setteth foorth Christ Iesus the chiefe King, who came of Dauid according to the flesh, and was persecuted on euery side with outward and inward enemies, as well in his owne person, as in his members, but at length he ouercommeth all his enemies, and giueth his Church victorie against all power both spirituall and temporall: and so reigneth with them, King for euermore.

‖ Or, the fielde of strong men.

17 And the battel was exceeding sore that same day: for Abner and the men of Israel [k] fell before the seruants of Dauid.

k After that these foure and twentie were slaine.

18 And there were three sonnes of Zeruiah there, Ioab, and Abishai, and Asahel. And Asahel was as light on foote as a wilde roe.

19 And Asahel followed after Abner, and in going he turned neither to the right hand nor to the left from Abner.

20 Then Abner looked behinde him, and sayd, Art thou Asahel? And he answered, Yea.

21 Then Abner sayd, Turne thee either to the right hand, or to the left, and take one of the yong men, and take thee his ‖ weapons: but Asahel would not depart from him.

‖ Or, spoyle.

22 And Abner sayd to Asahel, Depart from me: [l] wherefore should I smite thee to the grounde? howe then should I be able to holde vp my face to Ioab thy brother?

l Why doest thou prouoke me to kil thee?

23 And when he would not depart, Abner with the hinder end of the speare smote him vnder the [m] fift [rib,] that the speare came out behinde him: and he fell downe there, and dyed in his place. And as many as came to the place where Asahel fell downe and dyed, stoode still.

m Some read, in those parts, whereas the liuely partes lye: as the heart, the lungs, the liuer, the mile, and the gall.

24 Ioab also and Abishai pursued after Abner: and the sunne went downe, when they were come to the hil Ammah, that lieth before Giah, by the way of the wildernes of Gibeon.

25 And the children of Beniamin gathered them selues together after Abner, and were on an heape and stoode on the top of an hill.

26 Then Abner called to Ioab, and said, Shal the [n] sword deuoure for euer? knowest thou not, that it will be bitternes in the latter ende? howe long then shall it be, or thou bid the people returne from following their brethren?

n Shall we not make an end of murthering?

27 And Ioab sayde, As God liueth, if thou haddest not [o] spoken, surely euen in the morning the people had departed euery one backe from his brother.

o If thou hadst not prouoked them to battel, as verse. 14.

28 ¶ So Ioab blewe a trumpet, and all the people stoode still, and pursued after Israel no more, neither fought they any more.

29 And Abner and his men walked all that night through the ‖ plaine, and went ouer Iorden, and past through all Bithron till they came ‖ to Mahanaim.

‖ Or, wildernes.

‖ Or, to the tents.

30 Ioab also returned backe from Abner: and when he had gathered all the people together, there lacked of Dauids seruants nineteene men and Asahel.

31 But the seruants of Dauid had smitten of Beniamin, & of Abners men, [so that] three [p] hundreth and three score men dyed.

p Thus God would confirme Dauid in his kingdome by the destruction of his aduersaries.

32 And they tooke vp Asahel, and buried him in the sepulchre of his father, which was in Beth-lehem: and Ioab and his men went all night, and [when] they came to Hebron, the day arose.

CHAP. III.

1 Long warre betweene the houses of Saul & Dauid. 2 The children of Dauid in Hebron. 12 Abner turneth to Dauid. 27 Ioab killeth him.

Here was then [a] long warre betweene the house of Saul and the house of Dauid: but Dauid waxed stronger, & the house of Saul waxed weaker.

a That is, without intermission induring two yeres, which was the whole reigne of Ish-bosheth.

2 ¶ And vnto Dauid were children borne in Hebron: and his eldest sonne was Amnon of Ahinoam the Iezreelite.

3 And his second [was] [b] Chileab of Abigail the wife of Nabal the Carmelite: and the third, Absalom the sonne of Maacah the daughter of Talmai the King of Gesshur.

5 And the sixt, Ithream by Eglah Dauids wife: these were borne to Dauid in [c] Hebron.

c Within seuen yeres and sixe moneths.

6 ¶ Now while there was warre betweene the house of Saul & the house of Dauid, Dauid, Abner made all his power for the house of Saul.

7 And Saul had a concubine named Rizpah, *daughter of Aiah. And [Ish-bosheth] said to Abner, wherefore hast thou gone in to my fathers concubine?

8 Then was Abner very wroth for the words of Ish-bosheth, and said, Am I a[d] dogs head, which against Iudah do shewe mercy this day vnto the house of Saul thy father, to his brethren, and to his neighbours, and haue not deliuered thee into the hande of Dauid, that thou chargest me this day with a faute concerning this woman?

9 [e]So do God to Abner, and more also, except, as the Lorde hath sworne to Dauid, euen so I do to him,

10 To remoue the kingdom from the house of Saul, that the throne of Dauid may be stablished ouer Israel, and ouer Iudah, euen from Dan to Beer-sheba.

11 And hee durst no more answere to Abner: for he feared him.

12 ¶ Then Abner sent messengers to Dauid ‖ on his behalfe, saying, Whose is the land? who should [also] say, Make couenant with me, and beholde, mine hand [shalbe] with thee, to bring all Israel vnto thee.

13 Who laide, Well, I will make a couenant with thee: but one thing I require of thee, that is, that thou see not my face except thou bring Michal Sauls daughter when thou comest to see me.

14 ¶ Then Dauid sent messengers to Ish-bosheth Sauls sonne, saying, Deliuer me my wife Michal, which I married for *an hundreth foreskinnes of the Philistims.

15 And Ish-bosheth sent, and tooke her from her husbande *Phaltiel the sonne of Laish.

16 And her husband went with her, and came weeping behind her, vnto Bahurim: then said Abner vnto him, Go, [and] returne. So he returned.

17 ¶ And Abner had [f] communication with the Elders of Israel, saying, Ye sought for Dauid in times past, that hee might be your king.

18 Now then do it: for the Lord hath spoken of Dauid, saying, By the hand of my seruant Dauid I will saue my people Israel out of the handes of the Philistims, and out of the handes of all their enemies.

19 Also Abner spake [‡] to Beniamin, and afterwarde Abner went to speake with Dauid in Hebron, [concerning] all that Israel was content with, and the whole [g] house of Beniamin.

20 So Abner came to Dauid to Hebron, hauing twentie men with him, and Dauid made a feast vnto Abner, and to the men that were with him.

21 Then Abner saide vnto Dauid, I will rise vp, and go gather all Israel vnto my lord the king, that they may make a couenant with thee, [and] that thou mayest reigne ouer all that thine heart desireth. Then Dauid let Abner depart, who went ‖ in peace.

22 ¶ And beholde, the seruants of Dauid & Ioab came [h] from the campe, and brought a great pray with them (but Abner was not with Dauid in Hebron: for he had sent him away, and he departed in peace)

23 When Ioab, and all the hoste that was with him were come, men tolde Ioab, saying, Abner the sonne of Ner came to the king, and he hath sent him away, and he is gone in peace.

24 Then Ioab came to the king, and said, [i] What hast thou done? beholde, Abner came vnto thee, why hast thou sent him away, and he is departed?

25 Thou knowest Abner the sonne of Ner: for he came to deceiue thee, and to know thy outgoing and ingoing, and to know all that thou doest.

26 ¶ And when Ioab was gone out frō Dauid, he sent messengers after Abner, which brought him againe from the well of Sirah vnknowing to Dauid.

27 And whē Abner was come againe to Hebron, *Ioab tooke him aside in the gate to speake with him ‖ peaceably, and smote him vnder [p] fift [rib], that he died, for the blood of *Asahel his brother.

28 ¶ And when afterwarde it came to Dauids eare, he said, I and my kingdome are [k] guiltlesse before the Lorde for euer, concerning the blood of Abner the sonne of Ner.

29 Let the blood fall on [p] head of Ioab, and on all his fathers house, that the house of Ioab be neuer without some that haue running issues, or leper, or that leaneth on a staffe, or that doeth fall on the sword, or that lacketh bread.

30 (So Ioab and [l] Abishai his brother slewe Abner, because he had slaine their brother Asahel at Gibeon in battel)

31 And Dauid said to Ioab, and to all the people that were with him, Rent your clothes, and put on sackecloth, and 5 Baanah and Rechab slay Ish-bosheth the sonne of Saul. 12 Dauid commaunded them to be slaine.

AND when Sauls [a] sone heard that Abner was dead in Hebrõ, then his hands were [b] feeble, & all Israel was afrayde.

2 And Sauls sonne had two men that were captaines of bandes: the one called Baanah, and the other called Rechab, the sonnes of Rimmon a Beerothite of the children of Beniamin. (for [c] Beeroth was reckened to Beniamin,

5 And the sonnes of Rimmon the Beerothite, Rechab and Baanah went and came in the heate of the day to the house of Jsh-bosheth (who slept on a bed at noone)

6 And beholde, Rechab and Baanah his brother came into the middes of the house, [as] they [e] would haue wheate, and they [f] smote him vnder the fift [rib,] and fled.

7 For when they came into the house, hee slept on his bed in his bedchamber, and they smote him, and slew him, and beheaded him, and tooke his head, and gate them away through the ‖ plaine all the night.

8 And they brought the head of Jsh-bosheth vnto Dauid to Hebron, and said to the king, Beholde the head of Jsh-bosheth Sauls sonne thine enemie, who sought after thy life: and the Lord hath auenged my lorde the king this day of Saul and of his seede.

9 Then Dauid answered Rechab and Baanah his brother, the sonnes of Rimmon the Beerothite, and said vnto them, As the Lord liueth, who hath deliuered my soule out of all aduersitie, c The children of God called idoles blinde and lame guides: therefore the Iebusites ment, that they should proue that their gods were neither blinde nor lame.

8 And Dauid was displeased, because the Lord had [*] smitten Vzzah: and hee called the name of the place ‖ Perez Vzzah vntill this day.

9 Therefore Dauid that day feared the Lord, and said, How shall the Arke of the Lord come to me?

10 So Dauid would not bring the Arke of the Lord vnto him into the citie of Dauid, but Dauid caried it into the house of Obed-edom [e] a Gittite.

11 And the Arke of the Lord [f] continued in the house of Obed-edom the Gittite, three moneths, and the Lord blessed Obed-edom, and all his household.

12 ¶ And one tolde king Dauid, saying, [*] The Lord hath blessed the house of Obed-edom, and all that he hath, because of the Arke of God: therefore Dauid went and [f] brought the Arke of God from the house of Obed-edom, into the citie of Dauid with gladnesse.

14 And Dauid danced before þ Lord with all his might, and was girded with a linen [g] Ephod.

15 So Dauid and all the house of Israel, brought the Arke of the Lord with shouting, and sound of trumpet.

16 And as the Arke of the Lord came into the citie of Dauid, Michal Sauls daughter looked through a window, and sawe king Dauid leape, and dance before the Lord, and she [h] despised him in her heart.

17 And when they had brought in the Arke of the Lord, they set it in his place, in the middes of the tabernacle that Dauid had pitched for it: then Dauid offred burnt offrings, and peace offrings before the Lord.

21 For thy words sake, & according to thine owne heart hast thou done all these great things, to make them knowen vnto thy seruant.

22 Wherefore thou art great, O Lord God: for there is none like thee, neither is there any God besides thee, according to all [i] we haue heard with our eares.

23 *And what one people in the earth is like thy people, like Israel? whose God went & redeemed them to himselfe, that they might be his people, and that he might make him a name, and doe for [i] you great things, and terrible for thy [k] land, O Lorde, [euen] for thy people, whom thou redeemedst to thee out of Egypt, [frō] the [l] nations, & their gods?

24 For thou hast [m] ordeined to thy selfe thy people Israel to be thy people for euer: & thou Lorde art become their God.

25 Now therefore, O Lord God, confirme for euer the worde that thou hast spoken concerning thy seruant and his house, and do as thou hast said.

26 And let thy Name be magnified for euer by them [n] shall say, The Lorde of hostes [is] the God ouer Israel: and let the [o] house of thy seruant Dauid be stablished before thee.

27 For thou, O Lord of hosts, God of Israel, hast reuealed vnto thy seruant, saying, I will build thee an house: therefore hath thy seruant [p] ben bolde to pray this prayer vnto thee.

28 Therefore nowe, O Lorde God, ([for] thou art God, and thy wordes be true, and thou hast tolde this goodnes vnto thy seruant)

29 Therefore now let it please thee to blesse the house of thy seruant, that it may continue for euer before thee: for thou, O Lord God, hast [q] spoken it: and let the house of thy seruant be blessed for euer, with thy blessing.

Dauid restoreth all the lands of Saul to Mephibosheth the sonne of Ionathan. 10 He appointeth Ziba to see to the vse of his lands.

AND Dauid said, Is there yet any man left of the house of Saul, that I may shew him mercie for [a] Ionathans sake?

2 And there was of the household of Saul a seruant whose name was Ziba, and when they had called him vnto Dauid, the king saide vnto him, Art thou Ziba? And he said, I thy seruant [am he.]

3 Then the king saide, Remaineth there yet none of the house of Saul, on whom I may shew the [b] mercy of God? Ziba then answered the king, Ionathan hath yet a sonne [*] lame of his feete.

4 Then [p] king said vnto him, Where is he? And Ziba saide vnto [p] king, Behold, he is in the house of Machir the sonne of Ammiel of Lo-debar.

5 ¶ Then king Dauid sent, [e] tooke him out of [p] house of Machir the sonne of Ammiel of Lo-debar.

6 Now when Mephibosheth [p] sonne of Ionathan, the sonne of Saul was come vnto Dauid, he fell on his face, and did reuerence. And Dauid saide, Mephibosheth: And he answered, Behold thy seruant.

7 Then Dauid said vnto him, Feare not: for I will surely shewe thee kindnes for Ionathan thy fathers sake, and will restore thee all the ‖ fieldes of Saul thy father, and thou shalt eate bread at my table continually.

8 And he bowed himselfe, and saide, what is thy seruant, [p] thou shouldest looke vpon such [d] a dead dog as I am?

4 The messengers of Dauid are vilelnously entreated of the king of Ammon. 7 Joab is sent against the Ammonites.

1.Chro.19.2.

AFter this, the *King of the children of Ammon died, and Hanun his sonne reigned in his stead.

2 Then saide Dauid, I will shewe kindnes vnto Hanun the sonne of Nahash, as his father shewed kindnes vnto me. And Dauid sent his seruants to comfort him for his father. So Dauids seruants came into the lande of the children of Ammon.

a The children of God are not vnmindfull of a benefite receiued.

3 And the princes of the children of Ammon saide vnto Hanun their lorde, ‡Thinkest thou that Dauid doth honour thy father, þ he hath sent cõforters to thee: hath not Dauid [rather] sent his seruants vnto thee, b to search the citie, and to spie it out, and to ouerthrow it?

‡Ebr. in thine eyes doth Dauid.

b Their arrogant malice would not suffer them to see the simplicitie of Dauids heart: therefore their counsell turned to the destruction of their countrey.

4 Wherefore Hanun tooke Dauids seruants, & shaued off the half of their beard, and cut off their garments in the middle, euen to their buttockes, and sent them away.

5 ¶ When it was tolde vnto Dauid, he sent to meete them (for the men were exceedingly ashamed) and þ King saide, Tary at Jericho, vntill your beards be growen, then returne.

6 ¶ And when the children of Ammon sawe that they c stanke in the sight of Dauid, the children of Ammon sent and hired the ‖ Aramites of the house of Rehob, and þ Aramites of Zoba, twentie thousand footemen, & of King Maacah a thousande men, and of Jsh-tob twelue thousand men.

c That they had deserued Dauids displeasure, for the iniurie done to his ambassadoures.

‖Or, Syrians.

7 And whē Dauid heard of it, he sent Joab, & all the hoste of the strong men.

8 And the children of Ammon came out, and put their armie in aray at the entring in of the gate: and the Aramites of d Zoba, and of Rehob, and of Jsh-tob, and of Maacah [were] by themselues in the field.

d These were diuers parts of the countrey of Syria, whereby appeareth that the Syrians serued where they might haue entertainement, as now þ Sweitzers do.

9 When Joab sawe that the front of the battell was against him before and behinde, he chose of al þ choise of Jsrael, & put them in aray against þ Aramites.

10 And the rest of the people he deliuered into the hand of Abishai his brother, that he might put them in aray against the children of Ammon.

11 And he saide, If the Aramites be stronger then J, thou shalt helpe me, and if þ children of Ammon be to strong for thee, J will come and succour thee.

12 Be strong and let vs be valiant for c our people, & for the cities of our God, and let the Lorde do that which is good in his eyes.

c Here is declared where for warre ought to be vndertaken: for the defence of true religion and Gods people.

13 Then Joab, and the people that was with him, ioyned in battel with the Aramites, who fled before him.

14 And when the children of Ammon sawe that the Aramites fled, they fled also before Abishai, and entred into the citie. So Joab returned from the children of Ammon, and came to Jerusalem.

15 ¶ And when the Aramites sawe that they were smitten before Jsrael, they gathered them together.

16 And ‖ Hadarezer sent, and brought out the Aramites that were beyond the ‖ Riuer: and they came to Helam, and Shobach the captaine of þ hoste of Hadarezer [went] before them.

‖Or, Euphrates.

17 When it was shewed Dauid, then he gathered e all Jsrael together, and passed ouer Jorden & came to Helam: and the Aramites set themselues in aray against Dauid, & fought with him.

e Meaning, the greatest part.

18 And the Aramites fled before Jsrael: and Dauid destroyed f seuen hundreth charets of the Aramites, & fourtie thousand horsemen, & smote Shobach the captaine of his hoste, who dyed there.

f Which were the chiefest and most principall: for in all he destroyed 7000. as 1.Chro.19. 18 or, the souldiers which were in 700. charets.

19 And when all the Kings, [that were] seruants to Hadarezer, sawe that they fell before Jsrael, they made peace with Jsrael, and serued them. And the Aramites feared to helpe the children of Ammon any more.

CHAP. XI.

1 The citie Rabbah is besieged. 4 Dauid committeth adulterie. 17 Vriah is slaine. 27 Dauid marrieth Bath-sheba.

AND when the yeere was a expired in the time whē Kings go forth [to battell,] Dauid sent *Joab, and his seruants with him, and al Jsrael, who destroyed the children of Ammon, and besieged Rabbah: but Dauid remained in Jerusalem.

a The yeere following about þ spring time. 1.Chro.20.1.

2 ¶ And when it was euening tide, Dauid arose out of his b bed, and walked vpon the roofe of the Kings palace: and from þ roofe he saw a woman washing her selfe: and þ woman was very beautifull to looke vpon.

b Whereupon he vsed to rest at after noone, as was read of Jsh-bosheth, Chap. 4.7.

3 And Dauid sent and inquired what woman it was: and [one] sayd, Js not this Bath-sheba þ daughter of Eliam, wife to Vriah the c Hittite?

c Who was not an Jsraelite borne, but conuerted to the true religion.

4 Then Dauid sent messengers, and tooke her away: and she came vnto him and Leuit. 15. 19. and 18. 19.

and he lay with her: (now she was * purified from her vncleannes) and she returned vnto her house.

5 And the woman conceiued: therefore she sent and d told Dauid, and saide, I am with childe.

d Fearing least she should be stoned according to the Lawe.

6 ¶ Then Dauid sent to Ioab, [saying,] Send me Vriah the Hittite. And Ioab sent Vriah to Dauid.

7 And when Vriah came vnto him, Dauid demanded him howe Ioab did, and how the people fared, and how the warre prospered.

8 Afterward Dauid saide to Vriah, e God downe to thine house, and wash thy feete. So Vriah departed out of the Kinges palace, and the King sent a present after him.

e Dauid thought that if Vriah laye with his wife, his faut might be cloked.

9 But Vriah slept at the doore of the Kings palace with all ṗ seruants of his lord, and went not downe to his house.

10 Then they told Dauid, saying, Vriah went not downe to his house: and Dauid said vnto Vriah, Commest thou not from thy iourney? why didst thou not go downe to thine house?

11 Then Vriah answered Dauid, f The Arke and Israel, and Iudah dwell in tentes: and my lorde Ioab and the seruants of my lord abide in the open fieldes: shall I then go into mine house to eate and drinke, and lie with my wife? [by] thy life, and ṗ [the] life of thy soule, I will not do this thing.

f Hereby God would touche Dauids conscience, that seeing the felicitie and religion of his seruant, bee would declare himselfe to forgetfull of God and iniurious to his seruant.

12 Then Dauid said vnto Vriah, Tarry yet this day, ‡ to morowe I wil send thee away. So Vriah abode in Ierusalem that day, and the morow.

13 Then Dauid called him, and he did eate and drinke before him, and hee made him g drunke: and at euen he went out to lie on his couch with the seruants of his lorde, but went not downe to his house.

g He made him drinke more liberally then he was wont to doe, thinking hereby he would haue lien by his wife.

14 And on the morow Dauid wrote a letter to Ioab, and sent it by the hand of Vriah.

15 And he wrote ‡ thus in the letter, h Put ye Vriah in ṗ forefrõt of ṗ strength of the battell, and recule ye backe from him, that he may be smitten, and die.

‡ Ebr. saying.

h Except God continually vpholde vs with his mightie spirit, the most perfect fall headlong into all vice & abominations.

16 ¶ So when Ioab besieged the citie, hee assigned Vriah vnto a place, where he knewe that strong men were.

17 And the men of the citie came out, and fought with Ioab: and there fell of the people of the seruants of Dauid, and Vriah the Hittite also died.

18 Then Ioab sent and tolde Dauid all the things concerning the warre,

19 ¶ And he charged the messenger, saying, when thou hast made an ende of telling all the matters of the warre vnto the King, 20 ‖ And if the Kings anger arise, so that he say vnto thee, wherefore approched ye vnto the citie to fight? knewe ye not that they would hurle from ṗ wall?

‖ Or, thou shalt do this, if.

21 Who smote Abimeleth sonne of i Ierubebeth? did not a woman cast a piece of a milstone vpon him from the wall, and he died in Thebez? why went you nie the wall? Then say thou, Thy seruant Vriah the Hittite is also dead.

i Meaning, Gideon, Iudg. 9. 52, 53.

22 So the messenger went, and came and shewed Dauid all that Ioab had sent him for.

23 And the messenger said vnto Dauid, Certainely the men preuailed against vs, and came out vnto vs into the field, but we ‡ pursued them vnto the entring of the gate.

‡ Ebr. were against them.

24 But the shooters shot from the wall against thy seruants, and [some] of the Kings seruants be dead: and thy seruant Vriah the Hittite is also dead.

25 Then Dauid said vnto the messenger, k Thus shalt thou say vnto Ioab, Let not this thing trouble thee: for the ſwo‡d deuoureth ‡ one aswell as another: make thy battell more strong against the citie, and destroy it, and encourage thou him.

k He dissembleth with the messenger, to the intent that neither his cruell commandement, nor Ioabs wicked obedience might be espied.

‡ Ebr. so and so.

26 ¶ And when the wife of Vriah heard that her husbande Vriah was dead, she mourned for her husband.

27 So when the mourning was past, Dauid sent and tooke her into his house, and she became his wife, and bare him a sonne: but ṗ thing that Dauid had done, ‡ displeased the Lord.

‡ Ebr. was euill in the eyes of the Lord.

CHAP. XII.

1 Dauid reproued by Nathan confesseth his sinne. 18 The childe conceiued in aduulterie, dyeth. 24 Salomon is borne. 26 Rabbah is taken. 31 The citizens are grieuously punished.

THen the Lord a sent Nathan vnto Dauid, who came to him, and saide vnto him, There were two men in one citie, the one riche, ‡ the other poore.

a Because Dauid laye now drowned in sinne, the louing mercie of God, which suffereth not his to perish, waketh his conscience by this similitude and bringeth him to repentance.

2 The rich man had exceeding many cheepe and oxen:

3 But the poore had none at all, saue one litle cheepe which hee had bought, and nourished vp: and it grewe vp with him, and with his children also, and did eate of his owne morsels, and dranke of his owne cuppe, and slept in his bosome, and

and was vnto him as his daughter.

4 Nowe there came a ‖ stranger vnto the rich man, who ‖ refused to take of his owne sheepe, and of his owne oxen to dresse for the stranger that was come vnto him, but tooke the poore mans sheepe, and dressed it for the man that was come to him.

5 Then ‡ Dauid was exceeding wroth with the man, and sayd to Nathan, As the Lord liueth, the man that hath done this thing, ‡ shall surely dye,

6 And he shal restore the lambe * foure folde, because he did this thing, and had no pitie thereof.

7 Then Nathan sayde to Dauid, Thou art the man. Thus saieth the Lord God of Israel, * I anointed thee King ouer Israel, and deliuered thee out of the hand of Saul,

8 And gaue thee thy lordes [b] house, and thy lordes [c] wiues into thy bosome, and gaue thee the house of Israel, and of Iudah, and would moreouer (if [that had bene to litle) haue giuen thee [d] such and such things.

9 Wherefore hast thou despised the commandement of the Lord, to doe euil in his sight? thou hast killed Uriah the Hittite with the sworde, and hast taken his wife [to be] thy wife, and hast slaine him with the sworde of the [e] children of Ammon.

10 Now therefore the sword shall neuer depart from thine house, because thou hast despised me, and taken the wife of Uriah the Hittite to be thy wife.

11 Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil raise vp euil against thee out of thine owne house, and will * take thy wiues before thine eyes, and giue them vnto thy neighbour, and he shall lie with thy wiues in the sight of this [f] sunne.

12 For thou diddest it secretly: but I will doe this thing before all Israel, and before the sunne.

13 Then Dauid sayd vnto Nathan, * I haue sinned against the Lorde. And Nathan said vnto Dauid, The Lord also hath [g] put away thy sinne, thou shalt not dye.

14 Howbeit because by this deede thou hast caused [h] enemies of the Lorde to [i] blaspheme, the childe that is borne vnto thee shall surely dye.

15 ¶ So Nathan departed vnto his house: and the Lorde stroke the childe that Uriahs wife bare vnto Dauid, and it was sicke.

16 Dauid therefore besought God for the childe, and fasted and [k] went in, and lay all night vpon the earth.

17 Then the Elders of his house arose [to come] vnto him, and to cause him to rise from [l] ground: but he would not, neither did he eate [m] meate with them.

18 So on the seuenth day the childe dyed: and the seruants of Dauid feared to tell him that the childe was dead: for they sayd, Behold, while the childe was aliue, we spake vnto him, and he would not hearken vnto our voyce: howe then shall we say vnto him, The childe is dead, [n] to vexe [him] more?

19 But when Dauid sawe that his seruants whispered, Dauid perceiued that the childe was dead: therefore Dauid said vnto his seruants, Is the childe dead? And they sayd, He is dead.

20 Then Dauid [o] arose from [p] earth, and washed and anointed himselfe, and changed his apparel, and came into the house of the Lord, and worshipped, and afterward came to his owne house, and bade that they should set bread before him, and he did eate.

21 Then said [q] his seruants vnto him, What thing is this, that thou hast done? thou diddest fast and weepe for the child, while it was aliue, but when the childe was dead, thou diddest rise vp, and eate meate.

22 And he sayd, While the childe was yet aliue, I fasted, and wept: for I said, Who can tell [whether] God will haue mercie on me, that the childe may liue?

23 But nowe being dead, wherefore should I nowe fast? [r] Can I bring him againe any more? I shall go to him, but he shall not returne to me.

24 ¶ And Dauid comforted Bathsheba his wife, and went in vnto her, and lay with her, * and she bare a sonne, and [s] he called his name Salomon: also the Lord loued him.

25 For [the Lorde] had sent * by Nathan the [t] Prophet: therefore [u] he called his name Jedidiah, because [x] Lorde [loued him.]

26 ¶ Then Joab fought against Rabbah of the children of Ammon, and tooke the ‖ citie of the kingdome.

27 Therefore Joab sent messengers to Dauid, saying, I haue fought against Rabbah, and haue taken the citie of [y] waters.

28 Now therefore gather the rest of the people together, and besiege the citie, that

CHAP. XIII.

34 Amnon Dauids sonne defileth his sister Tamar. 19 Tamar is comforted by her brother Absalom. 29 Absalom therefore killeth Amnon.

NOwe after this so it was, that Absalom the sonne of Dauid hauing a faire sister, whose name [was] ‖ Tamar, Amnon the sonne of Dauid loued her.

‖ Tamar was Absaloms sister, both by father and mother, and Amnons onely by father.

2 And Amnon was so vexed, that he fell sicke for his sister Tamar: for she was a ‖ virgin, & it seemed hard to Amnon to doe any thing to her.

‖ And therefore kept in her fathers house, as virgins were accustomed.

3 But Amnon had a friend called Jonadab, the sonne of Shimeah Dauids brother: and Jonadab was a very subtile man.

4 Who said vnto him, Why [art] thou the kings sonne so leane from day to day? Wilt thou not tell me? Then Amnon answered him, I loue Tamar my brother Absaloms sister.

5 And Jonadab sayd vnto him, ‖ Lie downe on thy bed, & make thy selfe sicke: and when thy father shall come to see thee, say vnto him, I pray thee, let my sister Tamar come, and giue me meate, and let her dresse meate in my sight, that I may see it, and eate it of her hand.

‖ Here we see that there is no enterprise so wicked, that can lacke counsell to further it.

6 ¶ So Amnon lay downe, & made himselfe sicke: and when the king came to see him, Amnon sayde vnto the king, I pray thee, let Tamar my sister come, and make me a couple of ‖ cakes in my sight, that I may receiue meate at her hand.

‖ Meaning, some delicate and deintie meate.

7 Then Dauid sent home to Tamar, saying, Go now to thy brother Amnons house, and dresse him meate.

8 ¶ So Tamar went to her brother Amnons house, & he lay downe: and she tooke ‖ flowre, and kneaded it, and made cakes in his sight, & did bake the cakes.

‖ Or, paste.

9 And she tooke a pan, and ‖ powred them out before him, but he would not eate. Then Amnon sayd, Cause ye euery man to go out from ‖ me: so euery man went out from him.

‖ That is, she serued them on a dish.

‖ For the wicked are ashamed to do that before men, which they are not afraide to commit in the sight of God.

10 Then Amnon sayd vnto Tamar, Bring the meate into the chamber, that I may eate of thine hand. And Tamar tooke the cakes which she had made, and brought them into the chamber to Amnon her brother.

11 And when she had set them before him to eate, he tooke her, and sayd vnto her, Come lye with me, my sister.

12 But she answered him, Nay, my brother, doe not force me: for no such thing * ought to be done in Israel: commit not this folly.

* Leuit. 18.9.

13 And I, ‖ whither shall I cause my shame to goe? & thou shalt be as one ‖ of the fooles in Israel: now therefore, I pray thee, speake to the king, for he will not denie me vnto thee.

‖ Or, how shall I put away my shame?

‖ As a lewde and wicked person.

14 Howbeit he would not hearken vnto her voyce, but being stronger then she, forced her, and lay with her.

15 Then Amnon hated her exceedingly, so that the hatred wherewith he hated her, was greater then ‖ the loue, wherewith he had loued her: and Amnon said vnto her, Vp, get thee hence.

‖ Or, for this cause.

16 And she answered him, ‖ There [is] no cause: this euill (to put me away) is greater then the other that thou didst vnto me: but he would not heare her,

‖ Or, boye.

17 But called his ‖ seruant that serued him, and said, Put this woman now out from me, and locke the doore after her.

18 (And the had a garment of ‖ diuers coulers vpon her: for with such garments were the kings daughters that were virgins, apparelled) Then his seruant brought her out, and locked the doore after her.

‖ For that which was of diuers coulers or pieces, in those dayes was had in greatest estimation, Gen. 37.3. iudg. 5.30.

19 And Tamar put ashes on her head and rent the garment of diuers coulers which was on her, and layd her hand on her head, and went her way crying.

20 And Absalom her brother said vnto her, Hath Amnon thy brother bene with thee? Now yet be ‖ still, my sister: he is thy brother: let not this thing grieue thine heart. So Tamar remained desolate in her brother Absaloms house.

‖ For though he conceiued sudden vengeance in his heart, yet he dissembled it till occasion serued, & comforted his sister.

21 ¶ But when king Dauid heard all these things, he was very wroth.

22 And Absalom sayd vnto his brother ther Amnon neither good nor bad: for Abſalom hated Amnon, becauſe he had forced his ſiſter Tamar.

23 ¶ And after the time of two yeres, Abſalom had ſheepeſhearers in ‖ Baal-hazor, which is beſide Ephraim, [k] Abſalom called all the kings ſonnes.

24 And Abſalom came to the King and ſayde, Beholde nowe, thy ſeruant hath ſheepeſhearers: I pray thee, that the King with his ſeruants would go with thy ſeruant.

25 But the King anſwered Abſalom, Nay my ſonne, I pray thee, let vs not goe all, leſt we be chargeable vnto thee. Yet Abſalom lay ſore vpon him: howbeit he would not go, but ‡ thanked him.

26 Then ſayd Abſalom, But, I pray thee, ſhall not my brother [l] Amnon goe with vs? And the King anſwered him, Why ſhould he go with thee?

27 But Abſalom was inſtant vpon him, and he ſent Amnon with him, and all the kings children.

28 ¶ Now had Abſalom commaunded his ſeruants, ſaying, Marke nowe when Ammons heart is merry with wine, and when I ſay vnto you Smite Amnon, kill him, feare not, for haue not [m] I commanded you? be bolde therefore, and play the men.

29 And the ſeruants of Abſalom did vnto Amnon, as Abſalom had commaunded: and all the kings ſonnes aroſe, and euery one gate him vp vpon his mule, and fled.

30 ¶ And while they were in the way, tydings came to Dauid, ſaying, Abſalom hath ſlaine all the kings ſonnes, and there is not one of them left.

31 Then the King aroſe, and tare his garments, and lay on the [n] ground, and all his ſeruants ſtoode by with their clothes rent.

32 And Jonadab the ſonne of Shimeah Dauids brother anſwered & ſaid, Let not my lord ſuppoſe that they haue ſlaine all the yong men ϸ kings ſonnes: for Amnon onely is dead, ‡ becauſe Abſalom had repoꝛted [ſo,] ſince he forced his ſiſter Tamar.

33 Now therefore let not my lord the King ‖ take the thing ſo grieuously, to thinke that all the kings ſonnes are dead: ‖ for Amnon onely is dead.

34 ¶ Then Abſalom fledde: and the yong man that kept the watch, lift vp his eyes, and looked, and beholde, there came much people by the way of the hill ſide ‖ behinde him.

35 And Jonadab ſayd vnto the king, Beholde, the kings ſonnes come: as thy ſeruant ſayd, ° ſo it is.

36 And aſſoone as he had left ſpeaking, beholde, the kings ſonnes came, and lift vp their voyces, and wept: and the King alſo and all his ſeruants wept exceedingly ſore.

9 Then the woman of Tekoah ſaid vnto the king, My lord, O king, this [e] treſpaſſe [be] on me, & on my fathers houſe, and the king and his throne [be] ‖ guiltie.

10 And the king ſayde, Bring him to me that ſpeaketh againſt thee, and hee ſhall touch thee no more.

11 Then ſayd ſhe, I pray thee, let the king [f] remember the Lorde thy God, that thou wouldeſt not ſuffer many reuengers of blood to deſtroy, leſt they ſlay my ſonne. And he anſwered, As the Lord liueth, there ſhall not one heare of thy ſonne fall to the earth.

12 Then the woman ſaid, I pray thee, let thine handmaide ſpeake a worde to my lord the king. And he ſayd, Say on.

13 Then the woman ſaid, Wherefore then haſt thou [g] thought ſuch a thing againſt the people of God? for [why] doeth the king, as one which is fautie, ſpeake this thing, that he will not bring againe his baniſhed?

14 For we muſt needes die, and [we are] as water ſpilt on the ground, which can not be gathered vp againe: neither doeth God ‖ ſpare any perſon, yet doeth he appoint [h] meanes, not to caſt out from him, him that is expelled.

15 Now therefore that I am come to ſpeake of this thing vnto my lorde the king, [the cauſe is] that the people [i] haue made me afraide: therefore thine handmaide ſayd, Nowe will I ſpeake vnto the king: it may be that the king will performe the requeſt of his handmaide.

16 For the king will heare, to deliuer his handmaide out of the hand of the man that would deſtroy me, & alſo my ſonne from the inheritance of God.

17 Therefore thine handmayd ſayd, The worde of my lorde the king ſhall nowe be [‡] comfortable: for my lorde the king is euen as an [k] Angel of God in hearing of good & bad: therefore the Lorde thy God be with thee.

18 Then the king anſwered, and ſayd vnto the woman, Hide not from me, I pray thee, the thing that I ſhall aſke thee. And the woman ſaid, Let my lord the king nowe ſpeake.

19 And the king ſaid: Is not [l] the hand of Ioab with thee in all this? Then the woman anſwered, & ſayd, As thy ſoule liueth, my lorde the king, I will not turne to the right hand nor to the left, from ought that my lorde the king hath ſpoken: for euen thy ſeruant Ioab bade me, and he put all theſe words in the mouth of thine handmaide.

20 For to the intent that I ſhould [m] change the forme of ſpeach, thy ſeruant Ioab hath done this thing: but my lord is wiſe according to the wiſedome of an Angel of God to vnderſtand all things that are in the earth.

21 ¶ And the king ſayd vnto Ioab, Beholde nowe, I haue [n] done this thing: go then, and bring the yong man Abſalom againe.

22 And Ioab fell to the ground on his face, and bowed himſelfe, and [‡] thanked the king. Then Ioab ſayde, This day thy ſeruant knoweth, that I haue founde grace in thy ſight, my lorde the king, in that the king hath fulfilled the requeſt of his ſeruant.

23 ¶ And Ioab aroſe, & went to Geſhur, & brought Abſalom to Ieruſalem.

24 And the king ſaid, Let him [o] turne to his owne houſe, & not ſee my face. So Abſalom turned to his owne houſe, and ſawe not the kings face.

25 Now in all Iſrael there was none to be ſo much prayſed for beautie as Abſalom: from the ſole of his foote euen to the toppe of his head there was no blemiſh in him.

26 And when he polled his head, (for at euery yeres end he polled it: becauſe it was to heauie for him, therefore he polled it) he weighed the heare of his head at two hundreth [p] ſhekels by the kings weight.

27 And Abſalom had three ſonnes, & one daughter named Tamar, which was a fayre woman to looke vpon.

28 ¶ So Abſalom dwelt the ſpace of two yeeres in Ieruſalem, and ſawe not the kings face.

29 Therefore Abſalom ſent for Ioab to ſende him to the king, but he would not come to him: and when he ſent againe, he would not come.

30 Therefore he ſayde vnto his ſeruants, Beholde, Ioab hath a ‖ fielde by my place, and hath barly therein: goe, and ſet it [q] on fire: and Abſaloms ſeruants ſet the fielde on fire.

31 Then Ioab aroſe, and came to Abſalom vnto his houſe, & ſayde vnto him, Wherefore haue thy ſeruants burnt my fielde with fire?

2 The practises of Absalom to aspire to the kingdome. 14 Dauid and his flee. 31 Dauids prayer. 34 Hushai is sent to Absalom to discouer his counsell.

1 AFter this, Absalom [t] prepared him charets and horses, and fiftie men to [a] run before him.

2 And Absalom rose vp earely, and stoode hard by the entring in of the gate: and euery man that had any ‖ matter, and came to the king for iudgement, him did Absalom call vnto him, and said, Of what citie art thou? And he answered, Thy seruant [is] of one of the [b] tribes of Israel.

3 Then Absalom said vnto him, See, thy matters are good and righteous, but there is no man [deputed] of the king to heare thee.

4 Absalom said moreouer, [c] Oh that I were made iudge in the land, that euery man which hath any matter or controuersie, might come to mee, that I might do him iustice.

5 And when any man came neere to him, and did him obeisance, he put forth his hand, and tooke him, and kissed him.

6 And on this maner did Absalom to all Israel, that came to the king for iudgement: so Absalom [d] stale the hearts of the men of Israel.

7 ¶ And after [e] fourtie yeres, Absalom saide vnto the king, I pray thee, let me goe to Hebron, and render my vowe which I haue vowed vnto the Lord.

8 For thy seruāt vowed a vow when I remained at Gesh̄ur in Aram, saying, If the Lord shal bring me againe in deede to Jerusalem, I will [f] serue the Lord.

9 And the king saide vnto him, Go in peace. So he arose, and went to Hebron.

10 ¶ The Absalom sent spies throughout all the tribes of Israel, saying, When ye heare the sounde of the trumpet, ye shall say, Absalom reigneth in Hebron.

11 ¶ And with Absalom went two hundreth men out of Jerusalem, that were [g] called: and they went in their simplicitie, knowing nothing.

12 Also Absalō sent for Ahithophel the Gilonite Dauids counseller, from his citie Giloh, while he offred sacrifices: and the treason was great: for the people [h] encreased still with Absalom.

13 Then came a messenger to Dauid, saying, The hearts of the men of Israel are turned after Absalom.

14 Then Dauid saide vnto all his seruants that were with him at Jerusalem, Vp, and let vs flee: for we shall not escape from [h] Absalom: make speede to depart, least hee come sodenly and take vs, and bring euil vpon vs, and smite the citie with the edge of the sword.

15 And the kings seruants saide vnto him, Behold, thy seruants [are ready to do according to all that my lord the king shall [i] appoint.

16 So the king departed and all his houshold [i] after him, and the king left ten concubines to keepe the house.

17 And the king went forth and all the people after him, and taryed in a ‖ place [i] farre off.

18 And all his seruants went about him, and all the [k] Cherethites and all the Pelethites and all the Gittites, [euen] fiue hundreth men which were come after him from Gath, went before the king.

19 Then saide the king to [l] Ittai the Gittite, wherefore commest thou also with vs? Returne and abide with the king, for thou art a stranger: depart thou therefore to thy place.

20 Thou camest yester day, & should I cause thee to wander to day? go with vs? I will go whither I can: therefore returne thou, and cary againe thy [m] brethren: mercy and [n] trueth [be] with thee.

21 And Ittai answered the king, and said, As the Lord liueth, and as my lord the king liueth, in what place my lord the king shall be, whether in death or life, euen there surely wil thy seruant be.

22 Then Dauid said to Ittai, Come, and go forward. And Ittai the Gittite went, and all his men, and all the children that were with him.

23 And all the countrey wept with a loude voyce, and [o] all the people went forwarde, but the king passed ouer the brooke Kidron: and all the people went ouer toward the way of the wildernes.

29 Zadok therefore and Abiathar caried the Arke of God againe to Jerusalem, and they tayed there.

34 But if thou returne to the citie, and say vnto Absalom, I will be thy [u] seruant, O king, (as I haue bene in time past thy fathers seruant, so will I nowe be thy seruant) then thou maist bring me the counsell of Ahithophel to nought.

u Though Hushai dissembled here at the kings request, yet may we not vse this example to excuse our dissimulation.

35 And hast thou not there with thee Zadok & Abiathar the Priestes? therefore whatsoeuer thou shalt heare out of the kings house, thou shalt shew to Zadok and Abiathar the Priestes.

36 Behold, there are with them their two sonnes: Ahimaaz Zadoks [sonne,] and Jonathan Abiathars [sonne:] by them also shall ye sende me euery thing that ye can heare.

CHAP. XVII.

7 Ahithophels counsell is ouerthrowen by Hushai. 14 The Lord hasteneth. 19 The Priestes sonnes are hid in the well. 22 Dauid goeth ouer Iordan. 23 Ahithophel hangeth himselfe. 27 They bring victuals to Dauid.

MOreouer Ahithophel saide to Absalom, ᵃ Let me chuse out nowe twelue thousand men, and I will vp and follow after Dauid this night, a The wicked are so greedie to execute their malice, that they leaue none occasion, that may further the same.

2 And I will come vpon him: for he is wearie, and weake handed: so I will feare him, and all the people that are with him, shall flee, and I will smite the king onely,

3 And I will bring againe all the people vnto thee, [ᵉ] when all shall returne, (ᵇ the man whome thou seekest [being slaine]) all the people shall be in peace.

b Meaning, Dauid.

4 And the saying ‡ pleased Absalom well, and all the Elders of Israel.

‡ Ebr. was right in the eyes of Absalom.

5 Then said Absalom, Call now Hushai the Archite also, and let vs heare like wise ‡ what he saith.

‡ Ebr. what is in his mouth.

6 So whē Hushai came to Absalom, Absalom spake vnto him, saying, Ahithophel hath ‖ spoken thus: shall we do after his saying, or no? tell thou.

‖ Or, giuen such counsell.

7 Hushai then answered vnto Absalom, The counsel that Ahithophel hath giuen, is not ᶜ good at this time.

c Hushai sheweth himselfe faithfull to Dauid, in that he reprooueth this wicked counsell and purpose.

8 For, said Hushai, thou knowest thy father, and his men, that they be strong men, and are chafed in minde as a beare robbed of her whelpes in the fielde: also thy father is a valiant warrier, and will not ‖ lodge with the people.

‖ Or, tary all night.

9 Behold, he is hid now in some caue, or in some place: ‡ though some of them be ouerthrowen at the first, yet the [people] shal heare, and say, The people that follow Absalom, ‡ be ouerthrowen.

‡ Ebr. haue a breach, or ruine.

10 Then he also that is valiant whose heart is as ᵖ heart of a lion, shall ‡ thinke and faint: for all Israel knoweth that thy father is valiant, and they which be with him, stout men.

‡ Ebr. melt.

11 Therefore my counsell is, that all Israel be gathered vnto thee, from Dan euen to Beer-sheba as the sand of the sea in nomber, and that thou go to battell in thine owne person.

12 So shall we come vpō him in some place, where we shall finde him, and ‖ we will vpon him as the dewe falleth on the ground: and of all the men that are with him, we will not leaue him one.

‖ Or, we will campe against him.

13 Moreouer if hee be gotten into a citie, then shall all the men of Israel bring ropes to that citie, and we will drawe it into the riuer, vntill there be not one small stone found there.

14 ¶ Then Absalom and all the men of Israel saide, The counsell of Hushai the Archite is better, then the counsell of Ahithophel: for the Lord had ‖ determined to destroy the ᵈ good counsell of Ahithophel, that the Lorde might ᵉ bring euill vpon Absalom.

‖ Or, commanded.

d That counsell which seemed good at the first to Absalom, verse. 4.

e For by the counsel of Hushai he went to the battell where he was destroyed.

15 Then said Hushai vnto Zadok and to Abiathar the Priestes, Of this and that maner did Ahithophel and the Elders of Israel counsell Absalom: and thus and thus haue I counseled.

16 Now therefore send quickely, and shewe Dauid saying, Tarie not this night in the fieldes of the Wildernes, but rather get thee [f] ouer, lest the king be deuoured & all the people þ are with him.

17 ¶ Now Ionathan and Ahimaaz abode by ‖ En-rogel: (for they might not be seene to come into the citie) & a maide went, and tolde [g] them, and they went and shewed king Dauid.

18 Neuertheless a young man sawe them, and tolde it to Absalom. therefore they both departed quickely, and came to a mans house in Bahurim, who had a well in his court, into the which they went downe.

19 And [h] the wife tooke and spred a couering ouer the welles mouth, and spred grounde corne thereon, that the thing should not be knowen.

20 And when Absaloms seruãts came to the wife into þ house, they said, where is Ahimaaz and Ionathan? And the woman answered them, They be gone ouer the [i] brooke of water. And when they had sought them, and coulde not finde them, they returned to Ierusalem.

21 And assoone as they were departed, the other came out of the well, and went and tolde king Dauid, and said vnto him, Vp, and get you quickly ouer the water: for [k] such counsell hath Ahithophel giuen against you.

22 Then Dauid arose, & all the people that were with him, and they went ouer Iorden [l] vntill the dawning of the day, so that there lacked not one of them, that was not come ouer Iorden.

23 ¶ Now when Ahithophel sawe that his counsell was not followed, he sadled his asse, and arose, and hee went home vnto his citie, & put his houshold in order, and [m] hanged himselfe, and died, and was buried in his fathers graue.

24 ¶ Then Dauid came to Mahanaim. And Absalom passed ouer Iorden, he, and all the men of Israel with him.

25 And Absalom made Amasa captaine of the hoste in the steade of Ioab: which Amasa was a mans sõne named Ithra an Israelite, that went into Abigal the daughter of [n] Nahath, sister to Zeruiah Ioabs mother.

26 So Israel and Absalom pitched in the land of Gilead.

27 ¶ And when Dauid was come to Mahanaim, Shobi the sonne of Nahash out of Rabbah of the children of Ammon, and Machir the sonne of Ammiel out of Lo-debar, and Barzelai the Gileadite out of Rogel

28 [o] [Brought] beds, and balens, and earthen vessels, and wheat, and barly, and floure, and parched corne, & beanes, and lentiles, and parched corne.

29 And they brought honie, and butter, and sheepe, & cheese of kine for Dauid and for the people that were with him, to eate: for they said, The people is hungrie, and wearie, and thirstie in the wildernes.

CHAP. XVIII.

2 Dauid deuideth his armie into three partes. 9 Absalom is hanged, slaine, and cast in a pit. 33 Dauid lamenteth the death of Absalom.

THen Dauid [a] nombred þ people that were with him, & set ouer them captaines of thousands and captaines of hundreths.

2 And Dauid sent foorth the thirde part of the people vnder the hand of Ioab, and the thirde part vnder the hande of Abishai Ioabs brother the sonne of Zeruiah: and the [other] third part vnder the hand of Ittai the Gittite. and the king said vnto the people, I will goe with you my selfe also.

3 But the people answered, Thou shalt not goe foorth: for if we flee away, they will not regard vs, neither will they passe for vs, though halfe of vs were slaine: but thou [b] art nowe worth ten thousande of vs: therefore now it is better that thou succour vs out of the citie.

4 Then þ king said vnto them, What seemeth you best, that I will do. So the king stoode by the gate side, and all the people came out by hundreths and by thousands.

5 And the king commaunded Ioab and Abishai, & Ittai, saying, [Entreat] the young man Absalom gently for my sake. and all the people heard when the king gaue all the captaines charge concerning Absalom.

6 So the people went out into the field to meete Israel, and the battel was in the [c] wood of Ephraim:

7 where the people of Israel were slaine before the seruants of Dauid: so there was a great slaughter that day, [euen] of twentie thousand.

8 ¶ For the battel was scattered ouer all the countrey: and the wood deuoured much more people that day, then did the sworde.

9 ¶ Now

f That is, ouer Iorden.

‖ Or, the well of Rogel.

g Meaning, the message from their fathers.

h Thus God feudeth & succoureth his in their greatest dangers.

i The Chalde text readeth, now they haue passed the Iorden.

k To wit, to pursue thee with all haste.

l They trauelled all night, and by morning had all their companie passed ouer.

m Gods iust vengeance euen in this life is powred on them which are enemies, traitours, or persecuters of his Church.

n Who was also called Ithai Dauids father.

o God sheweth himselfe most liberall to his, when they seeme to be vtterly destitute.

a For certaine of the Reubenites, Gadites and of the halfe tribe, could not beare the insolencie of the sonne against the father, and therefore ioyned with Dauid.

b Signifying, that a good gouernour ought to be so deare vnto his people, that they will rather lose their liues, then that ought should come vnto him.

c So called, because the Ephraimites (as some say) fed their cattell beyond Iorden in this wood.

9 ¶ Now Abſalom met the ſeruants of Dauid, and Abſalom rode vpon a mule, and the mule came vnder a great thicke oke: and his head caught hold of the oke, and hee was taken vp † betweene the heauen and the earth: and the mule that was vnder him went away.

† This is a terrible example of Gods vengeance, againſt them that are rebels or diſobedient to their parents.

10 And one that ſawe it, tolde Joab, ſaying, Beholde, I ſawe Abſalom hanged in an oke.

11 Then Joab ſaid vnto the man that tolde him, And haſt thou in deede ſeene: why then dideſt not thou there ſmite him to the ground, and I would haue giuen thee ten *[ſhekels] of ſiluer, and a girdle:

Gene. 23. 15.

12 Then the man ſaide vnto Joab, Though I ſhould ‡ receiue a thouſand [ſhekels] of ſiluer in mine hand, yet would I not lay mine hand vpon the kings ſonne: for in our hearing the king charged thee, and Abiſhai, and Ittai, ſaying, Beware, leſt any [touch] the yong man Abſalom.

‡ Ebr. weigh vpon mine hand.

13 If I had done it, [it had bene] ‡ the danger of my life: for nothing can be hid from the king: yea, thou thy ſelfe wouldeſt haue bene againſt me.

‡ Ebr. a lye againſt my ſoule.

14 Then ſaide Joab, I will not thus tary with thee. And he tooke three darts in his hand, and thruſt them ‡ through Abſalom, while he was yet aliue in the middes of the oke.

‡ Ebr. in the heart of Abſalom.

15 And ten ſeruants that bare Joabs armour, compaſſed about & ſmote Abſalom, and ſlew him.

16 Then Joab d blewe the trumpet, and the people returned frō purſuing after Iſrael: for Joab held backe þ people.

d For he had pitie of the people, which was ſeduced by Abſaloms flatterie.

17 And they tooke Abſalom, and caſt him into a great e pit in the wood, and layed a mightie great heape of ſtones vpon him: and all Iſrael fled euery one to his tent.

e Thus God turned his vaine glory to ſhame.

18 Now Abſalom in his life time had taken & reared him vp a pillar, which is in the *kings dale: for he ſaid, I haue no ſonne to keepe my name in remēbrance. and hee called the pillar after his owne name, and it is called vnto this day, Abſaloms place.

Gen. 14. 17.

f It ſeemeth that God had punished him, in taking away his children, Chap. 14. 27.

19 ¶ Then ſaide Ahimaaz the ſonne of Zadok, I pray thee, let me run, and beare the king tidings that the Lorde hath ‡ deliuered him out of the hand of his enemies.

‡ Ebr. iudged.

20 And Joab ſaide vnto him, Thou g ſhalt not be the meſſenger to day, but thou ſhalt beare tidings another time, but to day thou ſhalt beare none: for the kings ſonne is dead.

g For Joab bare a good affection to Ahimaaz, and doubted howe Dauid would take Abſaloms death.

21 Then ſaid Joab to Cuſhi, Go, tell the king, what thou haſt ſeene. And Cuſhi bowed himſelfe vnto Joab, & ranne.

22 Then ſaide Ahimaaz the ſonne of Zadok againe to Joab, What, I pray thee, if I alſo runne after Cuſhi: And Joab ſaide, wherefore nowe wilt thou runne, my ſonne, ſeeing that thou haſt no tidings to bring:

23 Yet what if I runne: Then he ſaid vnto him, Runne. So Ahimaaz ran by the way of þ plaine, & ouerwent Cuſhi.

24 Now Dauid ſate betweene þ two h gates. And the watchman went to the top of the gate vpon the wall, and lift vp his eyes, and ſawe, and beholde, a man came running alone.

h He ſate in the gate of the citie of Mahanaim.

25 And the watchman cryed, and told the king. And þ king ſaide, if he be alone, ‡ he bringeth tidings. And hee came apace, and drew neere.

‡ Ebr. tidings are in his mouth.

26 And the watchman ſawe another man running, and the watchman called vnto the porter, and ſaid, Beholde, [another] man runneth alone. And the king ſaid, He alſo bringeth tidings.

27 And the watchman ſaid, ‡ Me thinketh the running of the formoſt [is] like the running of Ahimaaz the ſonne of Zadok. Then the king ſaide, hee is a i good man, and commeth with good tidings.

‡ Ebr. I ſee the running.

i He had hav experience of his fidelitie, Chap. 17. 21.

28 And Ahimaaz called, and ſaid vnto the king, Peace [be with thee:] and he fell downe to the earth vpon his face before the king, and ſaide, Bleſſed be the Lord thy God, who hath ‖ ſhut vp the men that lift vp their hands againſt my lord the king.

‖ Or, deliuered vp.

29 And þ king ſaide, Is the yong man Abſalom ſafe: And Ahimaaz anſwered, when Joab ſent þ kings k ſeruant, and [me] thy ſeruant, I ſawe a great tumult, but I knew not what.

k To wit, Cuſhi, who was an Ethiopian.

30 And the king ſaid vnto him, Turne aſide, [and] ſtand here. So he turned aſide and ſtood ſtill.

31 And beholde, Cuſhi came, and Cuſhi ſaid, ‡ Tidings, my lord the king: for the Lorde hath deliuered thee this day out of the hand of all that roſe againſt thee.

‡ Ebr. tidings is brought.

32 Then the king ſaid vnto Cuſhi, Is the yong man Abſalom ſafe: And Cuſhi anſwered, The enemies of my lorde the king, and all that riſe againſt thee to do thee hurt, be as that yong man is.

33 And

[1] Becauſe he conſidered both the iudgement of God againſt his ſinne, & could not otherwiſe hide his fatherly affection toward his ſõne.

33 And the King was [1] moued, and went vp to the chamber ouer the gate, and wept: and as he went, thus he ſaid, O my ſonne Abſalom, my ſonne, my ſonne Abſalom: would God I had dyed for thee, O Abſalom, my ſonne, my ſõne.

CHAP. XIX.

7 Ioab encourageth the King. 8 Dauid is reſtored. 23 Shimei is pardoned. 24 Mephibosheth meeteth the King. 39 Barzillai departeth. 41 Iſrael ſtriueth with Iudah.

AND it was tolde Ioab, Behold, the King weepeth and mourneth for Abſalom.

2 Therefore the ‡victorie of that day was turned into mourning to all the people: for the people heard ſay that day, The King ſoroweth for his ſonne.

‡Ebr. ſaluation, or deliuerance.

3 And the people went that day into the citie ‖ ſecretly, as people confounded hide themſelues whē they flee in battell.

‖Or, by ſtealth.

a As they do that mourne.

4 So the King [a] hid his face, and the King cried with a loud voice, O my ſonne Abſalom, Abſalom my ſonne, my ſonne.

b At Mahanaim.

5 Then Ioab came into [b] the houſe to the King and ſaide, Thou haſt ſhamed this day the faces of all thy ſeruãts, which this day haue ſaued thy life, and the liues of thy ſonnes & of thy daughters, and the liues of thy wiues, and the liues of thy concubines,

6 In that thou loueſt thine enemies, and hateſt thy friends: for thou haſt declared this day, that thou regardeſt neither thy ‖ princes nor ſeruants: therefore this day I perceiue, that if Abſalom had liued, and we all had died this day, that then it would haue ‡ pleaſed thee well.

‖Or, captaines.

‡Ebr. bene right in thine eyes.

7 Now therefore vp, come out, and ſpeake ‡ comfortably vnto thy ſeruants: for I ſweare by the Lord, except thou come out, there will not tarie one man with thee this night: and that will be worſe vnto thee, then all the euil that fell on thee from thy youth hitherto.

‡Ebr. to the heart of thy ſeruants.

8 Then the King aroſe, and ſate in the [c] gate: and they tolde vnto all the people, ſaying, Behold, the King doth ſit in the gate: and all the people came before the King: for Iſrael had fled euery man to his tent.

c Where the moſt reſort of the people hanted.

9 Then all the people were at [d] ſtrife throughout all the tribes of Iſrael, ſaying, The King ſaued vs out of the hand of our enemies, and he deliuered vs out of the hand of the Philiſtims, and nowe he is fled out of the land for Abſalom.

d Euery one blamed an other and ſtroue who ſhould firſt bring him home.

10 And Abſalom, whom We anointed ouer vs, is dead in battell: therefore why are ye ſo ſlowe to bring the king againe?

11 But King Dauid ſent to Zadok and to Abiathar the [e] Prieſts, ſaying, Speake vnto the Elders of Iudah, and ſay, Why are ye behinde to bring the King againe to his houſe, (for [f] ſaying of all Iſrael is come vnto the King, [euen] to his houſe)

e That they ſhould repoune the negligence of the Elders, ſeeing the people were ſo forward.

12 Ye are my brethren: my bones and my fleſh are ye: wherefore then are ye the laſt that bring the King againe?

13 Alſo ſay ye to Amaſa, Art thou not my bone and my fleſh? God do ſo to me and more alſo, if thou be not captaine of the hoſte to me for euer in the [f] rowme of Ioab.

f By this policie Dauid thought that by winning of the captaine, he ſhould haue the hearts of all the people.

14 So he bowed the hearts of all the men of Iudah, as of one man: therefore they ſent to the King, ſaying, Returne thou with all thy ſeruants.

15 So the King returned, and came to Iordẽ. And Iudah came to Gilgal, for to go to meete the King, [and] to conduct him ouer Iordẽ.

16 And [g] Shimei the ſonne of Gera, the ſonne of Iemini, which was of Bahurim, haſted and came downe with the men of Iudah to meete King Dauid, g Who had before reuiled him, Chap. 16,13.

17 And a thouſand men of Beniamin with him, and * Ziba the ſeruant of the houſe of Saul, and his fifteene ſonnes and twentie ſeruants with him: & they went ouer Iordẽ before the King.

* Chap. 16.2.

18 And there went ouer a boat to carie ouer the Kings houſholde, and to do him pleaſure. Then Shimei the ſonne of Gera fell before the King, when he was come ouer Iordẽ, 19 And ſaid vnto [h] King, Let not my lord impute * wickednes vnto me, nor remember the thing that thy ſeruant did [h] wickedly when my lorde the King departed out of Ieruſalem, that the King ſhould take it to his heart.

* Chap. 16.15.

h For in his aduerſitie he was his moſt cruell enemie, and now in his proſperitie ſeeketh by flatterie to creepe into fauour.

20 For thy ſeruant doeth knowe, that I haue done amiſſe: therefore beholde, I am the firſt this day of all the houſe of Ioſeph, that am come to go downe to meete my lord the King.

; By Ioſeph he meaneth Ephraim, Manaſſeh, and Beniamin (whereof he was) becauſe theſe three were vnder one ſtandard, Numb. 2, 18.

21 But Abiſhai the ſonne of Zeruiah anſwered, and ſaide, Shall not Shimei die for this, becauſe he curſed the Lords anointed?

22 And Dauid ſaide, what haue I to do with you, ye ſonnes of Zeruiah, that this day ye ſhould be aduerſaries vnto me? ſhall there any man die this day in Iſrael? for do not I knowe, that I am this day King ouer Iſrael?

23 Therefore

23 Therefore ꝑ King said vnto Shimei, Thou shalt not [k] die, and the King sware vnto him.

k By my hands, or during my life, as reade, 1. King. 2, 8, 9.

24 ¶ And Mephibosheth the sonne of Saul came downe to meete the king, and had neither washed his feete, nor dressed his beard, nor washed his clothes from the time the King departed, vntill he returned in peace.

25 And when [l] he was come to Ierusalem, and met the King, the King said vnto him, Wherefore wentest not thou with me, Mephibosheth?

l When Mephibosheth being at Ierusalem had met the King.

26 And he answered, My lorde the King, my seruant deceiued me: for thy seruant saide, I woulde haue mine asse sadled to ride thereon for to go with the King, because thy seruant [is] lame.

Chap. 16, 3.

27 And he hath * accused thy seruant vnto my lord the King: but my lord the King [is] as an [m] Angel of God: do therefore thy pleasure.

m Able for his wisdome to iudge in all matters.

28 For al my fathers house were [n] but dead men before my lord the King, yet didst thou set thy seruant among them that did eate at thine owne table: what right therefore haue I yet to crie any more vnto the King?

n Worthy to die for Sauls cruelties toward thee.

29 And the king saide vnto him, Why speakest thou any more of thy matters? I haue sayde, Thou, and Ziba deuide the [o] landes.

o Dauid did euill in taking his lands from him before he knew ꝑ cause, but much worse, that knowing the trueth, he did not restore them.

30 And Mephibosheth said vnto the king, Yea, let him take al, seeing my lord the king is come home in peace.

31 ¶ Then Barzillai ꝑ Gileadite came downe from Rogelim, and went ouer Iorden with the king, to conduct him ouer Iorden.

32 Now Barzillai was a very aged man, [euen] fourescore yeere olde, and he had prouided ꝑ king of sustenance, while he lay at Maha-naim: for he was a man of very great substance.

33 And the king saide vnto Barzillai, Come ouer with me, and I will feede thee with me in Ierusalem.

34 And Barzillai said vnto the king, ‡ Holde long haue I to liue, ꝑ I shoulde go vp with the king to Ierusalem?

‡ Ebr. how many dayes are the yeeres of my life.

35 I am this day fourescore yere old: and can I discerne betweene good and euill? hath thy seruant any taste in ꝑ I eate or in that I drinke? Can I heare any more the voyce of singing men & women? wherefore then should thy seruant be any more a [p] burthen vnto my lorde the king?

p He thought it not meete to receiue benefites of him to whom he was not able to do seruice againe.

36 Thy seruāt wil go a litle way ouer Iorden with the king, and why will the king recompence it me with such a reward?

37 I pray thee, let thy seruant turne backe againe, that I may die in mine owne citie, & [be buried] in the graue of my father and of my mother: but behold thy seruant [q] Chimham, let him go with my lorde the king, and do to him what shall please thee.

q My sonne.

38 And the king answered, Chimham shall go with me, and I will do to him that thou shalt be content with: and whatsoeuer thou shalt ‖ require of me, that will I do for thee.

‖ Or, chuse.

39 So all the people went ouer Iorden: and the king passed ouer: and the king kissed Barzillai, and ‖ blessed him, and he returned vnto his owne place.

‖ Or, bade him fare well.

40 ¶ Then the king went to [r] Gilgal, and Chimham went with him, and all the people of Iudah conducted the king, and also halfe the people of [s] Israel.

r Where the tribe of Iudah tarried to receiue him.

s Which had taken part with the king.

41 And beholde, all the men of Israel came to the king, and said vnto the king, why haue our brethren the men of Iudah stollē ther away, and haue brought the king and his household, and all Dauids men with him ouer [t] Iorden?

t Toward Ierusalem.

42 And all the men of Iudah answered the men of Israel, Because the king is neere of kinne to vs: and wherefore now be ye angry for this matter? haue we eaten of the kings [cost,] or haue we taken any bribes?

43 And the men of Israel answered the men of Iudah, & saide, We haue ten partes in the king, and haue also more [right] to Dauid then ye, why then did ye despise vs, ‖ that our aduise should not be first had in restoring our king? And the wordes of the men of Iudah were fiercer then the wordes of the men of Israel.

‖ Or, haue not we first spoken to bring home the King? verse 11.

CHAP. XX.

1 Sheba rayseth Israel against Dauid. 10 Ioab killeth Amasa traiterously. 22 The head of Sheba is deliuered to Ioab. 23 Dauids chiefe officers.

THen there was come [a] thither a wicked man (named Sheba the sonne of Bichri, a man of Iemini) and he blew the trumpet, and said, We haue no part in [b] Dauid, neither haue we inheritance in the sonne of Ishai: euery man to his tents, O Israel.

a Where the ten tribes conuened against Iudah.

b As they of Iudah say.

2 So euery man of Israel went from Dauid and followed Sheba the sonne of Bichri: but the men of Iudah claue fast

c He thought by speaking contemptuously of the King, to stirre the people rather to seditiō, or els by causing Israel to depart, thought ꝑ they of Iudah wold haue lesse esteemed him.

fast vnto their King, from [d] Iorden euen to Ierusalem.

3 When Dauid then came to his house to Ierusalem, the King tooke the tenne women [his] *concubines, that hee had left behinde him to keepe the house, and put them in warde, & fed them, but laye no more with them: but they were inclosed vnto the day of their death, liuing in widowhode.

4 ¶ Then said the King to [e] Amasa, Assemble me the men of Iudah within three dayes, and be thou here prelent.

5 So Amasa went to assemble Iudah, but hee taried longer then the time which he had appointed him.

6 Then Dauid said to Abishai, Now shall Sheba the sonne of Bichri do vs more harme then [did] Absalom: take thou [therefore] thy [f] lords seruants and follow after him, lest he get him walled cities, and escape vs.

7 And there went out after him Ioabs men, and the *Cherethites and the Pelethites, and all the mightie men: and they departed out of Ierusalem, to follow after Sheba the sonne of Bichri.

8 When they were at the great stone, which is in Gibeon, Amasa went before them, and Ioabs [g] garment, that he had put on, was girded vnto him, and vpon it was a sword girded, which hanged on his loynes in [h] sheath, and as hee went, it vsed to fall out.

9 And Ioab said to Amasa, Art thou in [i] health, my brother? and Ioab tooke Amasa by the the beard with the right hand to kisse him.

10 But Amasa tooke no heede to the sworde that was in Ioabs hand: for therewith he smote him in the fift [rib,] and shed out his bowels to the ground, and [k] smote him not the second time: so he died. then Ioab & Abishai his brother followed after Sheba [l] sonne of Bichri.

11 And one of Ioabs men [h] stoode by him, and said, He that fauoureth Ioab, and he that is of Dauids part, [let him go] after Ioab.

12 And Amasa wallowed in blood in the middes of the way: and when the man saw that all the people stood stil, he remooued Amasa out of the way into the fielde, and cast a cloth vpon him, because he sawe that euery one that came by him, stood still.

13 ¶ When he was remoued out of the way, euery man went after Ioab, to follow after Sheba the sonne of Bichri.

14 And he went through all [l] tribes of Israel vnto Abel, & [m] Bethmaachah and all [places of] Berim: and they gathered together, and went also after him.

15 So they came, and besieged him in Abel, [neere to] Bethmaachah: & they cast vp a mount against the citie, and the people thereof stood on the ramper, and all the people that was with Ioab, [k] destroyed and cast downe the wall.

16 Then cried a wise woman out of the citie, Heare, heare, I pray you, say vnto Ioab, Come thou hither, that I may speake with thee.

17 And when he came neere vnto her, the woman saide, Art thou Ioab? And he answered, Yea. And she said to him, Heare the wordes of thine handmaide. And he answered, I do heare.

18 Then she spake thus, [l] They spake in the olde time, saying, They shoulde aske of Abel. and so haue they continued.

19 I am [m] one of them, that are peaceable [and] faithfull in Israel: and thou goest about to destroy a citie, and a mother in Israel: why wilt thou deuoure the inheritance of the Lord?

20 And Ioab answered, & saide, God forbid, God forbid it me, that I shoulde deuoure, or destroy it.

21 The [n] matter is not so, but a man of mount Ephraim (Sheba the sonne of Bichri by name) hath lift vp his hand against the king, [euen] against Dauid: deliuer vs him onely, and I will depart from the citie. And the woman said vnto Ioab, Behold, his head shalbe throwne to thee ouer the wall.

22 Then the woman went vnto all the people with her wisdome, & they cut off the head of Sheba the sonne of Bichri, and cast it to Ioab: then he blewe the trumpet, and [t] they retired from the citie, euery man to his tent: and Ioab returned to Ierusalem vnto the King.

23 ¶ *Then Ioab [was] ouer all the hoste of Israel, and Benaiah the sonne of Iehoiada ouer the Cherethites and ouer the Pelethites,

1 Three deare yeeres. 9 The vengeance of the sinnes of Saul lighteth on his seuen sonnes, which are hanged. 15 Foure great battels, which Dauid had against the Philistims.

Then

WHen there was a famine in the dayes of Dauid, three yeeres ‡ together: and Dauid ‡ asked counsell of the Lorde, and ℣ Lord answered, [It is] for Saul, and for [his] bloodie house, because he slewe the [a] Gibeonites.

a Thinking to gratifie ℣ people, because these were not of the seede of Abraham. Ioh. 9. 3, 16, 17.

2 Then the king called the Gibeonites, and said vnto them (Now the Gibeonites were not of the children of Israel, but *a remnant of the Amorites, vnto whom the children of Israel had sworne: but Saul sought to slay them for his zeale towarde the children of Israel and Iudah)

3 And Dauid sayde vnto the Gibeonites, [b] what shall I doe for you, and wherewith shall I make the atonement, that ye may blesse the inheritance of the Lord?

b Wherewith may your wrath be appeased, that you may pray to God to remoue this plague from his people?

4 The Gibeonites then answered him, We will haue no siluer nor golde of Saul nor of his house, neither for vs shalt thou kill [c] any man in Israel. And he sayd, what ye shall say, that will I doe for you.

c Saue only of Sauls flocke.

5 Then they answered the king, The man that consumed vs and that imagined euill against vs, [so that] we are destroyed from remaining in any coast of Israel,

6 Let seuen men of his [d] sonnes be deliuered vnto vs, and we will hang them vp [e] vnto the Lorde in Gibeah of Saul, the Lordes chosen. And the king said, I will giue them.

d Of Sauls kinsmen.
e To pacifie the Lord.

7 But the king had compassion on Mephibosheth the sonne of Ionathan the sonne of Saul, because of the [*] Lords othe, that was betweene them, [euen] betweene Dauid and Ionathan the sonne of Saul.

1. Sam. 18. 3. & 20. 8, 42.

8 But the king tooke the two sonnes of Rizpah the daughter of Aiah, whom she bare vnto Saul, [euen] Armoni and Mephibosheth, and the fiue sonnes of [f] Michal, the daughter of Saul, whom she bare to Adriel the sonne of Barzillai the Meholathite.

f Here Michal is named for Merab Adriels wife as appeareth, 1. Sam. 18. 19. for Michal was the wife of Paltiel, 1. Sam. 25. 44. and neuer had childe, 2. Sam. 6. 23.

9 And he deliuered them vnto the hands of the Gibeonites, which hanged them in the mountaine before the Lord: so they ‡ dyed [all] seuen together, and they were slaine in the time of harueste: in the [g] first dayes, [and] in the beginning of barly haruest.

‡Ebr. fell.
g Which was in the moneth Abib or Nisan, which conteineth part of March and part of Aprill.

10 Then Rizpah the daughter of Aiah tooke [h] sackecloth and hanged it vp for her vpon the rocke, from the beginning of haruest, vntill [i] water dropped vpon them from the heauen, and suffred neither the birdes of the ayre to ‖light on them by day, nor beastes of the fielde by night.

h To make her a tent, wherein she prayed to God to turne away his wrath.
i Because by ought was the cause of this famine, God by sending of raine shewed that he was pacified.
‖Or, rest.

11 And it was tolde Dauid, what Rizpah the daughter of Aiah the concubine of Saul had done.

12 And Dauid went and tooke the bones of Saul and the bones of Ionathan his sonne from the citizens of Iabesh Gilead, which had stollen them from the street of Beth-shan, where the Philistims had [*] hanged them, when the Philistims had slaine Saul in Gilboa.

* 1. Sam. 31. 10.

13 So he brought thence the bones of Saul and the bones of Ionathan his sonne, and they gathered the bones of them that were hanged.

14 And the bones of Saul and of Ionathan his sonne buried they in ℣ countrey of Beniamin in Zelah, in the graue of Kish his father: and when they had performed all that the king had commanded, God was then [k] appeased with the land.

k For where the magistrate suffereth sautes vnpunished, there ℣ plague of God lyeth vpon the land.

15 Againe ℣ Philistims had warre with Israel: and Dauid went downe, and his seruants with him, and they fought against the Philistims, and Dauid fainted.

16 Then Ishi-benob which was of the sonnes of [l] Haraphah ([the head] of whose speare wayed three hundreth [m] shekels of brasse) euen he being girded with a newe [sworde,] thought to haue slaine Dauid.

l That is, of the race of gyants.
m Which amount to nine pound three quarters.

17 But Abishai the sonne of Zeruiah succoured him, and smote the Philistim, and killed him. Then Dauids men sware vnto him, saying, Thou shalt goe no more out with vs to battel, least thou quench the [n] light of Israel.

n For the glorie and welth of the countrey standeth in the preseruation of the godly magistrate.

18 And after this also there was a battell with the Philistims at [o] Gob, then Sibbechai the Hushathite slewe Saph, which was one of the sonnes of Haraphah.

o Called Gezer, and Saph is called Sippai, 1. Chro. 20. 4.

19 And there was yet [another] battel in Gob with the Philistims, where Elhanah the sonne of Iaare-oregim, a Bethlehemite slewe [p] Goliath the Gittite: the staffe of whose speare [was] like a weauers beame.

p That is, Lahmi the brother of Goliath, whome Dauid slewe, 1. Chro. 20. 5.

20 Afterward there was also a battel in Gath, where was a man of [a great] stature, and had on euery hand sixe fingers, and on euery foote sixe toes, foure and twentie in nomber: who was also the sonne of Haraphah.

21 And when he reuiled Israel, Jonathan the sonne of *Shima the brother of Dauid slewe him.

1.Sam.16.9.

22 These foure were borne to Haraphah in Gath, and dyed by the hand of Dauid & by the hands of his seruants.

CHAP. XXII.

2 Dauid after his victories prayseth God. 8 The anger of God toward the wicked. 44 He prophesieth of the reiection of the Iewes, and vocation of the Gentiles.

AND Dauid spake the wordes of this [a] song vnto the LORD, what time the LORD had deliuered him out of the hands of all his enemies, and out of the hand of Saul.

a In token of the wonderfull benefites, that he receiued of God.

2 And he sayde, *The LORDE is my [b] rocke and my fortresse, and he that deliuereth me.

Psal.18.2.

b By the diuersity of these comfortable names, he sheweth how his faith was strengthened in all tentations.

3 God [is] my ‖ strength, in him will I trust: my shield, and the horne of my saluation, my hie tower [and] my refuge: my Sauiour, thou hast saued me from violence.

‖ Or, rocke.

4 I will call on the LORD, who is worthie to be prayed: so shal I be safe from mine enemies.

c As Dauid (who was the figure of Christ) was by Gods power deliuered from all dangers: so Christ and his Church shal ouercome most grieuous dangers, tyrannie, and death.

5 For the [c] pangs of death haue compassed me: the floods of vngodlinesse haue made me afrayde.

6 The sorowes of the graue compassed me about: the snares of death ouertooke me.

7 [But] in my tribulation did I call vpon the LORD, and crie to my God, and he did heare my voyce out of his temple, and my crie [did enter] into his eares.

8 Then the earth trembled and quaked: the foundations of the heauens moued, and shooke, because he was angrie.

d That is, cloudes, and vapors.

e Lightning & thundring.

f So it seemeth when the aye is darke.

g To flie in a moment throwe the world.

9 [d] Smoke went out at his nostrels, and consuming [e] fire out of his mouth: coles were kindled thereat.

10 He [f] bowed the heauens allo, and came downe, and darkenes [was] vnder his feete.

11 And he rode vpon [g] Cherub and did flie, and he was seene vpon the wings of the winde.

12 And he made darknes a Tabernacle round about him, [euen] the gatherings of waters, [and] the cloudes of the aire.

13 At the brightnesse of his presence [h] the coles of fire were kindled.

h By this description of a tempest he declareth the power of God against his enemies.

14 The LORD thundred from heauen, and the most hie gaue his voyce.

15 He shot arrowes allo, and scattered them: [to wit,] lightning, and destroyed them.

16 The [i] chanels also of the sea appeared, [euen] the foundations of the world were discouered by the rebuking of the LORD, [and] at the blast of the breath of his nostrels.

i He alludeth to the miracle of the red sea.

17 He sent from aboue, [and] tooke me: he drew me out of many waters.

18 He deliuered me from my strong enemie, [and] from them that hated me: for they were too strong for me.

19 They [k] preuented me in the day of my calamitie, but ℣ LORD was my stay.

k I was so beset, that all meanes seemed to faile.

20 And brought me forth into a large place: he deliuered me, because he fauoured me.

21 The LORD rewarded me according to my [l] righteousnes: according to ℣ pureines of mine hands he recompensed me.

l Towarde Saul & mine enemies.

22 For I kept the wayes of the LORD, and did not [m] wickedly against my God.

m I attempted nothing without his commandement.

23 For all his lawes [were] before me, and his statutes: I did not depart therefrom.

24 I was vpright also toward him, and haue kept me from my wickednes.

25 Therefore the LORDE did reward me according to my righteousnes, according to my pureines before his eyes.

26 With the godly thou wilt shew thy selfe godly: with the vpright man thou wilt shewe thy selfe vpright.

27 With the pure thou wilt shew thy selfe pure, and with the [n] froward thou wilt shewe thy selfe froward.

n Their wickednesse is cause, that thou seemest to forget thy wonted mercy.

28 Thus thou wilt saue the poore people: but thine eyes [are] vpon the hautie to humble [them.]

29 Surely thou art my light, O LORD: and the LORD will lighten my darkenes.

30 For by thee haue I broken through an hoste, and by my God haue I leaped ouer a wall.

31 The way of God is [o] vncorrupt: the worde of the LORDE is tried [in the fire:] he is a shield to all that trust in him.

o The maner that God vseth to succour his, neuer faileth.

32 For Who is God besides the LORD? and who is mightie, saue our God?

33 God is my strength in battel, and maketh my way vpright.

34 He maketh my feete like [p] hindes [feete,] and hath set me vpon mine hie places.

p He vseth extraordinarie meanes to make me win most strong holdes.

35 He teacheth mine hands to fight, so that a bow of ‖ braslle is broken with mine armes.

‖ Or, steele.

36 Thou hast also giuen me the shield of thy saluation, and thy louing kindnes hath hath caused me to increase.

37 Thou hast inlarged my steps vnder me, and mine heeles haue not slid.

38 I haue pursued mine enemies and destroyed them, and haue not turned againe vntill I had consumed them.

39 Yea, I haue consumed them and thrust them through, and they shall not arise, but shall fall vnder my feete.

q He acknowledgeth that God was the author of his victories, who gaue him strength.

40 For thou hast [q] girded me with power to battell, [and] them that arose against me, hast thou subdued vnder mee.

41 And thou hast giuen me the necks of mine enemies, that I might destroy them that hate me.

r The wicked in their necessitie are compelled to flee to God, but it is to late.

42 They looked about, but there was none to saue [them, euē] vnto the Lord, but he answered them not.

43 Then did I beate them as small as the dust of the earth: I did tread them flat as the clay of the streete, [and] did spread them abroad.

f Speaking, of the Iewes, who conspired against me.

44 Thou hast also deliuered me from the contentions of my [f] people: thou hast preserued me to be the head ouer nations: the people which I knewe not, doe serue me.

t Not willingly obeying me, but dissemblingly.

45 Strangers [t] shall be in subiection to me: assoone as they heare, they shall obey me.

46 Strangers shall shrinke away, and feare in their priuie chambers.

u Let him shew his power, that he is y gouernour of all the world.

47 Let the Lord liue, [u] and blessed [be] my strength: and God, [euen] the force of my saluation be exalted.

48 [It is] God that giueth me [power] to reuenge me, and subdue the people vnder me, 49 And reskueth me from mine enemies: (thou also hast lift me vp from them that rose against me, thou hast deliuered me from the cruell man.

Rom.15.9. 50 Therefore I will prayse thee, O Lord, among the *nations, and will sing vnto thy Name) 51 [He is] the tower of saluation for his King, and sheweth mercie to his Anointed, [euen] to Dauid, & to his seede *for euer.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 The last wordes of Dauid. 6 The wicked shalbe plucked vp as thornes. 8 The names and facts of his mightie men. 15 He desired water and would not drinke it.

a Which he spake after that he had made the Psalmes.

THese also be the [a] last wordes of Dauid, Dauid the sonne of Ishai saith, euen the man who was set vp on hie, the Anointed of the God of Iaakob, and the sweete singer of Israel sayth,

2 The Spirit of the Lord spake by me, and his word [was] in my [b] tongue.

b Meaning, he spake nothing but by the motion of Gods Spirit.

3 The God of Israel spake to me, the strength of Israel sayde, [Thou shalt] beare rule ouer men, being iust, [and] ruling in the feare of God.

4 Euen as the morning light when the sunne riseth, the morning, I say, without cloudes, [so shal mine house be, and not] as the [c] grasse of the earth [is] by the bright raine.

c Which groweth quickly and fadeth soone.

5 For so shall not mine house [be] with God: for he hath made with me an euerlasting couenant, perfite in all poyntes, and sure: therefore all mine health and whole desire [is,] that he will not make it [d] growe [so.]

d But that my kingdome may continue for euer according to his promes.

6 But the wicked [shalbe] euery one as thornes thrust away, because they can not be taken with hands.

7 But the man that shal touch them, must be defended with yron, or with the shaft of a speare: and they shall be burnt with fire in the same place.

8 ¶ These [be] the names of the mightie men whom Dauid had. He that sate in the seate of [e] wisedome, being chiefe of the princes, was Adino of Ezni, he slew eight hundreth at one time.

e As one of the kings counsell.

9 And after him [was] *Eleazar the sonne of Dodo, the sonne of Ahohi, one of y three worthies with Dauid, when they ‖ defied the Philistims gathered there to battel, when the men of Israel were [f] gone vp.

1.Chro.11.12.

‖ Or, assailed with danger of their liues.

f Meaning, fled from the battel.

10 He arose and smote the Philistims vntill his hand was wearie, & his hand [g] claue vnto the sworde: and the Lord gaue great victorie the same day, and the people returned after him onely to spoyle.

g By a cramp which came of wearines and straining.

11 After him [was] *Shammah the sonne of Age the Hararite: for the Philistims assembled at a towne, where was a piece of a fielde full of lentils, and the people fled from the Philistims.

1.Chro.11.27

12 But he stoode in the middes of the fielde, and defended it, and slewe the Philistims: so the Lord gaue [h] great victorie.

h Who hath neither respect to many nor fewe, when he will shew his power.

13 ¶ Afterwarde three of the thirtie captaines went downe, and came to Dauid in the haruest time vnto the caue of Adullam, & the hoste of the Philistims pitched in the valley of ‖ Rephaim.

‖ Or, Giants.

14 And Dauid [was] then in an holde, and the garison of the Philistims [was] then in Beth-lehem.

i Being sure to come with victories and ryall.

15 And Dauid [i] longed, and sayd, Oh, that one would giue me to drinke of the water of the well of Beth-lehem, which is by the gate.

16 Then the three mightie brake into the hoste of the Philistims, and drewe water out of the well of Beth-lehem that was by the gate, and tooke and brought it to Dauid, who would not drinke thereof, but [k] powred it [for an offring] vnto the Lord,

17 And said, O Lord, be it farre from me, that I should doe this. [Is] not this the blood of the men that went in ieopardie of their liues? therefore he would not drinke it. These things did these three mightie men.

18 ¶ *And Abishai the brother of Ioab, the sonne of Zeruiah, was chiefe among the three, & he lifted vp his speare against three hundreth, ‡ and slew them, and he had the name among the three.

19 For he was most excellent of the three, and was their captaine, but he attained not vnto [the first] three.

20 And Benaiah the sonne of Iehoiada the sonne of ‖ a valiant man, which had done many acts, [and was] of Kabzeel, slewe two strong men of Moab: he went downe also, and slewe a lion in the middes of a pit in the time of snow.

21 And he slewe an Egyptian a ‖ man of great stature, and the Egyptian [had] a [l] speare in his hand: but he went down to him with a staffe, & plucked the speare out of the Egyptians hand, and slewe him with his owne speare.

22 These things did Benaiah the sonne of Iehoiada, and had the name among the three worthies.

23 He was honorable among [m] thirtie, but he attained not to the [first] three: and Dauid made him of his counsell.

24 ¶ *Asahel the brother of Ioab [was] one of the thirtie: Elhanan the sonne of Dodo of Beth-lehem:

CHAP. XXIIII.

1 Dauid causeth the people to be nombred. 10 He repenteth, and chuseth to fall into Gods hands. 15 Seuentie thousand perish with the pestilence.

AND the wrath of the Lorde was [a] againe kindled against Israel, and [b] he moued Dauid against them, in that he sayd, Go, nomber Israel and Iudah.

2 For the king sayd to Ioab the captaine of the hoste, which was with him, Go speedily now the through all the tribes of Israel, from Dan euen to Beer-sheba, and nomber ye the people, that I may know the [c] nomber of the people.

3 And Ioab sayd vnto the king, The Lorde thy God increase the people an hundreth folde moe then they be, and that the eyes of my lorde the king may see it: but why doeth my lorde the king desire this thing?

4 Notwithstanding the kings worde preuailed against Ioab and against the captaines of the hoste: therefore Ioab and the captaines of the hoste went out from the presence of the king, to nomber the people of Israel.

5 ¶ And they passed ouer Iorden, and pitched in Aroer at the right side of the citie that is in the middes of the ‖ valley of Gad and toward Iazer.

6 Then they came to Gilead, and to ‖ Tahtim-hodshi, so they came to Dan Iaan, and so about to Zidon, at the ende of nine monethes and twentie dayes.

9 ¶ And Joab deliuered the nomber [and] summe of the people vnto the king: and there were in Israel [d] eight hundreth thousand strong men that drew swordes, and the men of Judah were [e] fiue hundreth thousand men.

10 Then Dauids heart smote him, after that he had nombred the people: and Dauid saide vnto the Lord, I haue sinned exceedingly in that I haue done: therefore nowe, Lorde, I beseech thee, take away the trespasse of thy seruant: for I haue done very foolishly.

11 ¶ And when Dauid was vp in the morning, the word of the Lorde came vnto the Prophet Gad Dauids [f] Seer, saying,

12 Goe, and say vnto Dauid, Thus saith the Lord, I offer thee three things, chuse thee which of them I shall do vnto thee.

13 So Gad came to Dauid, & shewed him, and saide vnto him, Wilt thou that [g] seuen yeres famine come vpon thee in thy land, or wilt thou flee three moneths before thine enemies, they following thee, or that there be three dayes pestilence in thy lande: nowe aduise thee, and see, what answere I shall giue to him that sent me.

14 ¶ And Dauid saide vnto Gad, I am in a wonderful strait: let vs fall nowe into the hand of the Lorde, (for his mercies [are] great) and let me not fall into the hand of man.

15 So the Lord sent a pestilence in Israel, from the morning euen to the time appointed: and there died of the people from [h] Dan euen to Beer-sheba seuentie thousand men.

16 And when the Angel stretched out his hand vpon Jerusalem to destroy it, the Lord *repented of the euill, and said to the Angel that destroyed the people, It is sufficient, [i] holde nowe thine hande. And the Angel of the Lorde was by the threshing place of Araunah the Jebusite.

17 And Dauid spake vnto the Lorde (when he saw the Angel that smote the people) and said, Behold, I haue sinned, yea, I haue done wickedly: but these sheepe, what haue they [k] done? let thine hand, I pray thee, be against me and against my fathers house.

18 ¶ So Gad came the same day to Dauid, and saide vnto him, Go vp, reare an altar vnto the Lorde in the threshing floore of Araunah the Jebusite.

19 And Dauid (according to the saying of Gad) went vp, as the Lorde had commaunded.

20 And Araunah looked, and sawe the king and his seruants comming toward him, and Araunah went out, and bowed him selfe before the king on his face to the ground,

21 And [l] Araunah said, Wherefore is my lord the king come to his seruant? Then Dauid answered, To bye the threshing floore of thee, for to builde an altar vnto the Lorde, that the plague may cease from the people.

22 Then Araunah said vnto Dauid, Let my lorde the king take and offer what seemeth him good in his eyes: beholde the oxen for the burnt offring, and charets, and the instruments of the oxen for wood.

23 (All these things did Araunah [m] as a king giue vnto the king: and Araunah saide vnto the king, The Lorde thy God be fauourable vnto thee.)

24 Then the king saide vnto Araunah, Not so, but I will bye it of thee at a price, and will not offer burnt offring vnto the Lord my God of that which doth cost me nothing. So Dauid bought the threshing floore, and the oxen for [n] fiftie shekels of siluer.

The first booke of the Kings.

The Argument.

Because the children of God should looke for no continuall rest & quietnes in this world, the holy Ghost setteth before our eyes in this booke the varietie and change of things, which came to the people of Israel from the death of Dauid, Salomon and the rest of the Kings, vnto the death of Ahab, declaring how that florishing kingdomes, except they be preserued by Gods protection, (who then fauoureth them when his worde is truely set foorth, vertue esteemed, vice punished and concorde mainteyned) fall to decay and come to nought: as appeareth by the deuiding of the kingdome vnder Roboam, and Ieroboam, which before were but all one people, and now by the iust punishment of God were made two, whereof Iudah and Beniamin at the ende of nine monethes and twentie dayes.

9 ¶ And Joab deliuered the nomber [and] summe of the people vnto the king: and there were in Israel [d] eight hundreth thousand strong men that drew swordes, and the men of Judah were [e] fiue hundreth thousand men.

10 Then Dauids heart smote him, after that he had nombred the people: and Dauid saide vnto the Lord, I haue sinned exceedingly in that I haue done: therefore nowe, Lorde, I beseech thee, take away the trespasse of thy seruant: for I haue done very foolishly.

11 ¶ And when Dauid was vp in the morning, the word of the Lorde came vnto the Prophet Gad Dauids [f] Seer, saying,

12 Goe, and say vnto Dauid, Thus saith the Lord, I offer thee three things, chuse thee which of them I shall do vnto thee.

13 So Gad came to Dauid, & shewed him, and saide vnto him, Wilt thou that [g] seuen yeres famine come vpon thee in thy land, or wilt thou flee three moneths before thine enemies, they following thee, or that there be three dayes pestilence in thy lande: nowe aduise thee, and see, what answere I shall giue to him that sent me.

14 ¶ And Dauid saide vnto Gad, I am in a wonderful strait: let vs fall nowe into the hand of the Lorde, (for his mercies [are] great) and let me not fall into the hand of man.

15 So the Lord sent a pestilence in Israel, from the morning euen to the time appointed: and there died of the people from [h] Dan euen to Beer-sheba seuentie thousand men.

16 And when the Angel stretched out his hand vpon Jerusalem to destroy it, the Lord *repented of the euill, and said to the Angel that destroyed the people, It is sufficient, [i] holde nowe thine hande. And the Angel of the Lorde was by the threshing place of Araunah the Jebusite.

17 And Dauid spake vnto the Lorde (when he saw the Angel that smote the people) and said, Behold, I haue sinned, yea, I haue done wickedly: but these sheepe, what haue they [k] done? let thine hand, I pray thee, be against me and against my fathers house.

18 ¶ So Gad came the same day to Dauid, and saide vnto him, Go vp, reare an altar vnto the Lorde in the threshing floore of Araunah the Jebusite.

19 And Dauid (according to the saying of Gad) went vp, as the Lorde had commaunded.

20 And Araunah looked, and sawe the king and his seruants comming toward him, and Araunah went out, and bowed him selfe before the king on his face to the ground,

21 And [l] Araunah said, Wherefore is my lord the king come to his seruant? Then Dauid answered, To bye the threshing floore of thee, for to builde an altar vnto the Lorde, that the plague may cease from the people.

22 Then Araunah said vnto Dauid, Let my lorde the king take and offer what seemeth him good in his eyes: beholde the oxen for the burnt offring, and charets, and the instruments of the oxen for wood.

23 (All these things did Araunah [m] as a king giue vnto the king: and Araunah saide vnto the king, The Lorde thy God be fauourable vnto thee.)

24 Then the king saide vnto Araunah, Not so, but I will bye it of thee at a price, and will not offer burnt offring vnto the Lord my God of that which doth cost me nothing. So Dauid bought the threshing floore, and the oxen for [n] fiftie shekels of siluer.

Beniamin claue to Roboam: and this was called the kingdome of Iudah, and the other ten tribes helde with Ieroboam, and this was called the kingdome of Iſrael. The King of Iudah had his throne in Ieruſalem, and the King of Iſrael in Samaria, after it was built by Amri Ahabs father. And becauſe our Sauiour Chriſt according to the fleſh ſhoulde come of the ſtocke of Dauid, the genealogie of the Kings of Iudah is here deſcribed, from Salomon to Ioram the ſonne of Ioſaphat, who reigned ouer Iudah in Ieruſalem, as Ahab did ouer Iſrael in Samaria.

CHAP. I.

3 Abiſhag keepeth Dauid in his extreeme age. 5 Adoniiah vſurpeth the kingdome. 30 Salomon is anointed king. 50 Adoniiah fleeth to the altar.

a He was about 70. yere olde. 2. Sam. 5.4.

b For his naturall heate was woone away with trauels.

‖ Or, ſerue him.

NOw When king Dauid was [a] olde, and ſtriken in yeeres, they couered him with clothes, but no [b] heate came vnto him.

2 Wherefore his ſeruants ſaid vnto him, Let there be ſought for my lorde the king a yong virgin, and let her ‖ ſtand before the king, and cherish him: and let her lie in thy boſome, that my lord the king may get heate.

3 So they ſought for a faire yong maide throughout all the coaſtes of Iſrael, and founde one Abiſhag [c] a Shunammite, and brought her to the king.

c Which citie was in the tribe of Iſſachar, as Ioſh. 19, 18.

4 And the maid was exceeding faire, and cherished the king, and miniſtred to him, but the king knewe her not.

5 ¶ Then Adoniiah [ſ] ſonne of Haggith exalted him ſelfe, ſaying, I will be king. And hee gate him charets [‡] horſemen, and [d] fiftie men to run before him.

d Reade 2. Sam. 15, 1.

6 And his father would not diſpleaſe him from his [‡] childhoode, to ſay, Why haſt thou done ſo? And hee was a very goodly man, and [his mother] bare him next after Abſalom.

‡ Ebr. dayes.

7 And [‡] hee tooke counſell of Ioab the ſonne of Zeruiah, and of Abiathar the Prieſt: and they [e] helped forwarde Adoniiah.

‡ Ebr. his wordes were with Ioab.

e They tooke his part and followed him.

8 But Zadok the Prieſt, and Benaiah the ſonne of Iehoiada, and Nathan the Prophet, and Shimei, and Rei, and the men of might, which were with Dauid, were not with Adoniiah.

9 Then Adoniiah ſacrificed ſheepe and oxen, and fat cattell by the ſtone of Zoheleth, which is by ‖ En-rogel, and called all his brethren the kings ſonnes, and all the men of Iudah the kings ſeruants,

‖ Or, the fountaine.

10 But Nathan the Prophet, and Benaiah, and the [f] mightie men, and Salomon his brother he called not.

f As the Cherethites and Pelethites.

11 Wherefore Nathan ſpake vnto Bath-ſheba the mother of Salomon, ſaying, Haſt thou not heard, that Adoniiah the ſonne *of Haggith doeth reigne, and Dauid our Lord knoweth it not?

2. Sam. 3. 4.

12 Now therefore come, [and] I will nowe giue thee counſell, howe to ſaue thine owne [g] life, and the life of thy ſonne Salomon.

g For Adoniiah will deſtroy thee and thy ſonne, if he reigne.

13 Go, and get thee in vnto king Dauid, and ſay vnto him, Diddeſt not thou, my lorde, O king, ſweare vnto thine handmayde, ſaying, Aſſuredly Salomon thy ſonne ſhall reigne after me, and he ſhall ſit vpon my throne: Why is then Adoniiah king?

14 Beholde, While thou yet talkeſt there with the king, I alſo will come in after thee, and [h] confirme thy wordes.

h By declaring ſuch things, as may further the ſame.

15 ¶ So Bath-ſheba went in vnto the king into the chamber, and the king was very olde, and Abiſhag the Shunammite miniſtred vnto the king.

16 And Bath-sheba bowed and made obeiſance vnto the king. And the king ſaid, What is thy matter?

17 And ſhe anſwered him, My lorde, thou ſwareſt by the Lord thy God vnto thine handmaide, [ſaying,] Aſſuredly Salomon thy ſonne ſhall reigne after me, and he ſhall ſit vpon my throne.

18 And beholde, nowe [is] Adoniiah king, and now, my lorde, O king, thou knoweſt [i] it not.

i The king being yonge wieth age, couldne not attende to the affaires of the realme, and alſo Adoniiah had many flatterers which kept it from the king.

19 And he hath offred many oxen, and fat cattell, and ſheepe, and hath called all the ſonnes of the king, and Abiathar the Prieſt, and Ioab the captaine of the hoſte: but Salomon thy ſeruant hath he not bidden.

20 And thou, my lord, O king, [knoweſt] that the eyes of all Iſrael [are] on thee, that thou ſhouldeſt tell them, who ſhould ſit on the throne of my lorde the king after him.

21 For elſe when my lord the king ſhall ſleepe with his fathers, I and my ſonne Salomon ſhalbe [k] reputed [‡] vile.

k And ſo put to death as wicked trenſgreſſers.

‡ Ebr. ſinners.

22 And lo, While ſhe yet talked with the King, Nathan alſo the Prophet came in.

23 And they tolde [ſ] king, ſaying, Beholde, Nathan the Prophet. And when hee was come in to the king, hee made obeiſance before the king vpon his face [l] to the ground.

l Acknowleging him to be the true and worthie king appointed of God as the figure of his Chriſt.

24 And Nathan ſaide, My lord, O King, haſt thou ſaide, Adoniiah ſhall reigne after me, and he ſhall ſit vpon my throne?

25 For hee is gone downe this day, and hath slaine many oxen, and fat cattell, and sheepe, and hath called all the kings sonnes, and the captaines of the hoste, and Abiathar the Priest: and beholde, they eate and drinke before him, and say, ‡ God saue king Adonijah.

‡ Ebr. let the king Adonijah liue.

26 But me thy seruant, and Zadok the Priest and Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada, and thy seruant Salomon hath he not called.

27 Is this thing done by my lord the king, ‡ thou hast not shewed it vnto thy [m] seruant, who should sit on the throne of my lord the king after him?

m Meaning, that he ought in such affaires enterpryse nothing except he had consulted with the Lord.

28 ¶ Then king Dauid answered, and saide, Call me Bath-sheba. And she came into the kings presence, and stoode before the king.

29 And the king sware, saying, As the Lorde liueth, who hath redeemed my soule out of all aduersitie, 30 That as I [n] sware vnto thee by the Lord God of Israel, saying, Assuredly Salomon thy sonne shall reigne after me, and hee shall sit vpon my throne in my place, so will I certainly do this day.

n Moued by the Spirit of God so to do, because he foresawe that Salomon should be the figure of Christ.

31 Then Bath-sheba bowed her face to the earth, and did reuerence vnto the king, and saide, God saue my lord king Dauid for euer.

32 ¶ And king Dauid saide, Call me Zadok the Priest, and Nathan the Prophet, and Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada. And they came before the king.

33 Then the king saide vnto them, Take with you the [o] seruants of your lord, ‡ cause Salomon my sonne to ride vpon mine owne mule, and carie him downe to Gihon.

o Meaning, the kings seruants and such as were of his garde.

34 And let Zadok the Priest and Nathan the Prophet anoint him there king ouer Israel, and blowe ye the trumpet, and say, God saue king Salomon.

35 Then come vp after him, that he may come and sit vpon my throne: and he shall be king in my steade: for I haue ‡ appointed him to be prince ouer Israel and ouer Judah.

‡ Ebr. commanded.

36 Then Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada answered the king, and said, So be it, [and] the Lorde God of my lord the king ‡ ratifie it.

‡ Ebr. say so.

37 As the Lorde hath bene with my lord the king, so be hee with Salomon, and exalt his throne aboue the throne of my lord king Dauid.

38 So Zadok the Priest, ‡ Nathan the Prophet, and Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada, and the Cherethites and the Pelethites went downe, and caused Salomon to ride vpon king Dauids mule, and brought him to Gihon.

39 And Zadok the Priest tooke an home of [p] oyle out of the Tabernacle, and anointed Salomon: and they blew the trumpet, and all the people said, God saue king Salomon.

p Wherewith they accustomed to anoint the Priestes and the holy instruments, Exod. 30. 23.

40 And all the people came vp after him, and the people piped with pipes, and reioyced with great ioy, so that the earth ‡ rang with the sound of them.

‡ Ebr. brake.

41 ¶ And Adoniah ‡ & all the ghestes that were with him, heard it: (and they had made an ende of eating) and when Joab heard the sound of the trumpet, he saide, what meaneth this noise and byroze in the citie?

42 And as he yet spake, beholde, Jonathan the sonne of Abiathar the Priest came: and Adoniah saide, Come in: for thou art ‡ a worthie man, and bringest [q] good tidings.

‡ Ebr. a man of power.

q He praised Jonathan thinking to haue heard comfortable newes, but God wrought things contrarie to his expectation, and so did beare downe his pride.

43 And Jonathan answered, ‡ & saide to Adoniah, Verely our lord king Dauid hath made Salomon king.

44 And the king hath sent with him Zadok the Priest, and Nathan the Prophet, and Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada, and the Cherethites, and the Pelethites, and they haue caused him to ride vpon the kings mule.

45 And Zadok the Priest, and Nathan the Prophet haue anointed him king in Gihon: and they are gone vp frō thence with ioy, and the citie is moued: this is the noise that ye haue heard.

46 And Salomon also sitteth on the throne of the kingdome.

47 And moreouer the kings seruants came [r] to blesse our lord king Dauid, saying, God make the name of Salomon more famous then thy name, and exalt his throne aboue thy throne: therefore the king worshipped vpon the [s] bed.

r To salute him and to pray and praise God for him.

s Hee gaue God thankes for the good successe.

48 And thus said the king also, Blessed be [t] the Lorde God of Israel, who hath made one to sit on my throne this day, euen in my sight.

49 Then all the ghestes that were with Adoniah, were afraide, and rose vp, and went euery man his way.

50 ¶ And Adoniah fearing the presence of Salomon, arose and went, and tooke holde on the hornes of the [u] altar.

t Which Dauid his father had built in the flooze of Araunah, as 2. Sa. 24. 25.

51 And one tolde Salomon, saying, Beholde, Adoniah doth feare king Salomon: for lo, hee hath caught holde on the hornes of the altar, saying, Let king Salomō sweare vnto me this day, that he wil not slay his seruant with the sworde.

52 Then Salomon saide, If he will shew him selfe a worthy man, there shal not an heare of him fall to the earth, but if wickednes be found in him, he shal die.

53 Then king Salomon sent, & they brought him from the altar, and he came and did obeisance vnto king Salomon. And Salomon saide vnto him, Goe to thine house.

CHAP. II.

1 Dauid exhorteth Salomon, and giueth charge as concerning Ioab, Barzillai, and Shimei. 10 The death of Dauid. 17 Adonijah asketh Abishag to wife. 25 Hee is slaine. 35 Zadok was placed in Abiathars roume.

WHen the dayes of Dauid drew neere that hee should die, & he charged Salomon his sonne, saying,

2 I go the [a] way of all the earth: be strong therefore, & shew thy selfe a man,

3 And take heede to the [b] charge of the Lord thy God, to walke in his wayes, and keepe his statutes, & his commandements, and his iudgements, and his testimonies, as it is written in the Lawe of Moses, that thou mayest* ‖ prosper in all that thou doest, and in euery thing whereunto thou turnest thee,

4 That the Lord may confirme his word which hee spake vnto me, saying, If thy sonnes take heede to their way, that they walke before mee in [c] trueth, with all their heartes, and with all their soules, *‡ thou shalt not (saide he) want one of thy [posteritie] vpon the throne of Israel.

5 Thou knowest also what Ioab the sonne of Zeruiah did to me, and what he did to the two captaines of the hostes of Israel, vnto *Abner [d] sonne of Ner, and vnto *Amasa the sonne of Iether: whome hee slewe, and [d] shed blood of battell in peace, and [e] put the blood of warre vpon his girdle that was about his loynes, and in his shooes that were on his feete.

6 Do therefore according to thy wisdome, and let thou not his hoare head go downe to the graue in peace.

7 But shew kindnes vnto the sonnes of *Barzillai the Gileadite, and let them be among them that eate at thy table: [f] for so they came to me whē I fled from Absalom thy brother.

8 ¶ And beholde, with thee *[is] Shimei the sonne of Gera, the sonne of Iemini, of Bahurim, which cursed me with an horrible curse in the day when I went to Mahanaim: but hee came downe to meete me at Iorden, and I sware to him by the Lorde, saying, *I will not slay thee with the sword.

9 But thou shalt not count him innocent: for thou art a wise man, & knowest what thou oughtest to doe vnto him: therefore thou shalt cause his hoare head to go downe to the graue with [g] blood.

10 So *Dauid slept with his fathers, and was buried in the citie of Dauid.

11 And the dayes which Dauid * reigned vpon Israel, [were] fourtie yeres: seuen yeres reigned hee in Hebron, and thirtie and three yeres reigned he in Ierusalem.

12 ¶ * Then sate Salomon vpon the throne of Dauid his father, & his kingdome was stablished mightily.

13 And Adonijah the sonne of Haggith came to Bath-sheba the mother of Salomon: and she said, [h] Commest thou peaceably? And he said, Yea.

14 Hee saide moreouer, I haue a suite vnto thee. And she said, Say on.

15 Then he said, Thou knowest that the kingdome was mine, and that all Israel set [i] their faces on mee, that I should reigne: howbeit the kingdome is turned away, and is my brothers: for it came to him by the Lord.

16 Now therefore I aske thee one request, ‡ refuse me not. And she said vnto him, Say on.

17 And he said, Speake, I pray thee, vnto Salomon the king, (for he will not say thee nay) that hee giue me Abishag the Shunammite to wife.

18 And Bath-sheba said, Well, I will speake for thee vnto the king.

19 ¶ Bath-sheba therefore went vnto king Salomon, to speake vnto him for Adonijah: and the king rose to meete her, and [k] bowed himselfe vnto her, and sate downe on his throne: and he caused a seate to be set for the kings mother, and she sate at his right hand.

20 Then she said, I desire a small request of thee, say mee not nay. Then the king said vnto her, Aske on, my mother: for I will not say thee nay.

21 She saide then, Let Abishag the Shunammite be giuen to Adonijah thy brother to wife.

22 But king Salomon answered and saide vnto his mother, And why doest thou aske Abishag the Shunammite for

1.Sam.2.31, 35.

28 ¶ Then tidings came to Joab: (for Joab had [n] turned after Adonijah, but he turned not after Absalom) and Joab fled vnto ꝑ Tabernacle of ꝑ Lord, and caught hold on ꝑ hornes of ꝑ altar.

[n] He tooke Adonijahs part when he would haue vsurped the kingdome, Chap.1.7.

29 And it was tolde king Salomon, that Joab was fled vnto ꝑ Tabernacle of ꝑ Lord, & behold, [he is] by the [o] altar. Then Salomon sent Benaiah ꝑ sonne of Jehoiada, saying, Go, fall vpon him.

[o] Thinking to be saued by the holines of the place.

30 And Benaiah came to the Tabernacle of the Lorde, and saide vnto him, Thus saith the king, Come out. And he said, Nay, but I will die here. Then Benaiah brought the king worde againe, saying, Thus saide Joab, and thus hee answered me.

31 And the king said vnto him, Do as he hath said, and [p] smite him, and bury him, that thou maist take away ꝑ blood, which Joab shed causeles, from me and from the house of my father.

[p] For it was lawfull to take the wilfull murtherer frō the altar, Exo. 21.14.

32 And ꝑ Lord shal bring his blood vpon his owne head: for he smote two men more righteous and better then he, and slew them with the sword, & my father Dauid knew not: [to wit,] * Abner the sonne of Ner, captaine of ꝑ hoste of Israel, and * Amasa the sonne of Jether captaine of the hoste of Judah.

2.Sam.3.27.

2.Sam.20.10.

33 Their blood shall therefore returne vpon the [q] head of Joab, & on the head of his seede for euer: but vpon Dauid and vpon his seede, and vpon his house, and vpon his throne shall there be peace for euer from the Lord.

[q] Ioab shalbe iustly punished for the blood that he hath cruelly shed.

34 So Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada went vp, and smote him, and slewe him, and hee was buried in his owne house in the wildernes.

35 And the king put Benaiah ꝑ sonne of Jehoiada in his roume ouer ꝑ hoste: and the king set Zadok the [r] Priest in the roume of Abiathar.

[r] And so tooke the office of the hie Priest from the house of Eli, and restored it to the house of Phinehas.

36 ¶ Afterward ꝑ king sent, and called Shimei, and said vnto him, Builde thee an house in Jerusalem, and dwel there, and depart not thence any whither.

37 For that day that thou goest out, & passest ouer the riuer of Kidron, knowe assuredly, that thou shalt die the death: thy blood shalbe vpon thine owne head.

38 And Shimei said vnto ꝑ king, The thing is good: as my lorde the king hath said, so will thy seruant do. So Shimei dwelt in Jerusalem many dayes.

39 And after three yeeres, two of the [s] seruants of Shimei fled away vnto Achish sonne of Maachah king of Gath: and they told Shimei, saying, Beholde, thy seruants [be] in Gath.

[s] Thus God appointeth the wayes and meanes to bring his iust iudgements vpon the wicked.

40 And Shimei arose, and sadled his asse, and went to Gath to Achish, to seeke his seruants: and [t] Shimei went, and brought his seruants from Gath.

[t] His couetous minde moued him rather to venture his life, then to lose his worke by ꝑ ꝑste, which he had by his seruants.

41 And it was tolde Salomon, that Shimei had gone from Jerusalem to Gath, and was come againe.

42 And the king sent and called Shimei, and said vnto him, Did I not make thee to sweare by the Lorde, and protested vnto thee, saying, That day ꝑ thou goest out, & walkest any whither, knowe assuredly that thou shalt die the death: And thou saidest vnto me, The thing is good, [that] I haue heard.

43 Why then hast thou not kept ꝑ oth of the Lorde, and the commandement wherewith I charged thee?

44 The king saide also to Shimei, [u] Thou knowest all ꝑ wickednes whereunto thine heart is priuie, that thou didest to Dauid my father: the Lord therefore shall bring thy wickednes vpon thine owne head.

[u] For though thou wouldest denie, yet thine owne conscience would accuse thee, for reuiling and doing wrong to my father, 2.Sam.16.5.

45 And let king Salomon be blessed, and the throne of Dauid stablished before the Lord for euer.

46 So the king cōmanded Benaiah the the sonne of Jehoiada: who went out and smote him that hee dyed. And the *kingdome was [x] stablished in the hand of Salomon.

2.Chro.1.1. x Because all his enemies were destroyed.

CHAP. III.

1 Salomon taketh Pharaohs daughter to wife. 5 The Lord appeareth to him, and giueth him wisdome. 17 The pleading of the two harlots, and Salomons sentence therein.

Chap.7.8.

SAlomon *then made affinitie with Pharaoh king of Egypt, and tooke Pharaohs daughter, and brought her into the [a] citie of Dauid, vntill he had made an ende of building his owne house, and the house of the Lorde, and [b] the wall of Jerusalem round about.

a Which was Beth-lehem.

b Where altars were appointed before the temple was built to offer vnto the Lord.

2 Onely the people sacrificed in [b] the hie places, because there was no house built vnto the Name of the Lord, vntill those dayes.

3 And Salomon loued [b] the Lorde, walking in the ordinances of Dauid his [c] father: onely he sacrificed & offred incense in the hie places.

c For his father had commanded him to obey the Lord and walke in his wayes, Chap.2.3.

4 And the king went to [d] Gibeon to sacrifice there, for that was the chiefe hie place: a thousande burnt offrings did Salomon offer vpon that altar.

d For there the Tabernacle was, 2. Chro.1.3.

5 In Gibeon the Lorde appeared to Salomon in a dreame by night: & God said, Aske what I shall giue thee.

6 And Salomon saide, Thou hast shewed vnto thy seruant Dauid my father great mercie, ‖ when he walked before thee in trueth, & in righteousnes, & in vprightnes of heart with thee: & thou hast [e] kept for him this great mercie, and hast giuen him a sonne, to sit on his throne, as [appeareth] this day.

‖ Or, as he walked.

e Thou hast performed thy promes.

7 And nowe, O Lord my God, thou hast made thy seruant king in stead of Dauid my father: and I am but a yong childe, and know not howe to [f] go out and in.

f That is, to behaue my selfe in executing this charge of ruling.

8 And thy seruant [is] in the midst of thy people, which thou hast chosen, euen a great people which cannot be told nor nombred for multitude.

9 *Giue therefore vnto thy seruant an ‖ vnderstanding heart, to iudge thy people, that I may discerne betweene good and bad: for who is able to iudge this thy [g] mightie people?

2.Chro.1.10.

‖ Or, obedient.

g Which are so many in number.

10 And this pleased the Lorde well, that Salomon had desired this thing.

11 And God saide vnto him, Because thou hast asked this thing, and hast not asked for thy selfe long life, neither hast asked riches for thy selfe, nor hast asked the life of thine [h] enemies, but hast asked for thy selfe vnderstanding to heare iudgement, h That is, that thine enemies should die.

12 Beholde, I haue done according to thy wordes: lo, I haue giuen thee a wise & an vnderstanding heart, so that there hath beene none like thee before thee, neither after thee shal arise the like vnto thee.

13 And I haue also *giuen thee that, which thou hast not asked, both riches and honour, so [i] among the kings there ‖ shalbe none like vnto thee al thy dayes.

Mar.6.33. wisd.7.11.

‖ Or, hath been none.

14 And if thou wilt walke in my wayes, to keepe mine ordinances & my commandements, [k] as thy father Dauid did walke, I will prolong thy dayes.

Chap.15.5.

15 And when Salomon awoke, beholde, it was [l] a dreame, and he came to Jerusalem, and stood before the Arke of the couenant of the Lorde, and offred burnt offrings & made peace offrings, and made a feast to all his seruants.

i He knewe that God had appeared vnto him in a dreame.

16 ¶ Then came two ‖ harlots vnto the king, and [k] stood before him.

‖ Or, vitailers.

k By this example it appeareth that God kept promes with Salomon in granting him wisdome.

17 And the one woman saide, Oh my lorde, I and this woman dwell in one house, and I was deliuered of a childe with her in the house.

18 And the third day after that I was deliuered, this woman was deliuered also: and we were in the house together: no stranger [was] with vs in the house, saue we twaine.

19 And this womans sonne died in the night: for she ouerlay him.

20 And she rose at midnight, & [l] tooke my sonne from my side, while thine handmaid slept, and laid him in her bosome, and layd her dead sonne in my bosome.

l She stale the quicke childe away, because shee might both auoide the shame and punishment.

21 And when I rose in the morning to giue my sonne sucke, beholde, hee was dead: and when I had well considered him in the morning, beholde, it was not my sonne, whom I had borne.

22 Then the other woman said, Nay, but my sonne liueth, & thy sonne is dead. Againe the saide, No, but thy sonne is dead, and mine aliue: thus they spake before the king.

23 Then said [m] the king, She saith, This that liueth is my sonne, and the dead is thy sonne: and the other saith, Nay, but the dead is thy sonne, and the liuing is my sonne.

m Except God giue iudges vnderstanding, the impudencie of the trespasser shall outerthrowe the iust cause of the innocent.

24 Then the king said, ‖ Bring me a sword: and they brought out a sword before the king.

‖ Or, fetch.

25 And the king said, Deuide ye the liuing childe in twaine, and giue the one halfe halfe to the one, and the other halfe to the other.

26 Then spake the woman, whose the liuing childe was, vnto the king, for her compassion was kindled towarde her sonne, and she said, Oh my lord, giue her the liuing childe, and slay him not: but the other said, Let it be neither mine nor thine, but deuide it.

n Her mother-ly affection herein appeareth, that she had rather in-iure þ rigour of the lawe, then see her childe cruelly slaine.

27 Then the king answered, & saide, Giue her the liuing childe, and slay him not: this is his mother.

28 And al Israel heard þ iudgement, which the king had iudged, and they feared the king: for they sawe that the wisdome of God was in him to do iustice.

16 Baanah the sonne of Hushai in Asher and in Aloth:

29 ¶ And God gaue Salomon wisdome & vnderstanding exceeding much, and k a large heart, euen as the sand that is on the sea shore.

k Meaning, great vnderstanding and able to comprehend al things.

30 And Salomons wisdome excelled the wisdome of all the children of þ l East and all the wisdome of Egypt.

l To wit, the philosophers and astronomers, which were iudged most wise.

31 For hee was wiser then any man: [yea,] then were Ethan the Ezrahite, then Heman, then Chalcol, then Darda the sonnes of Mahol: & he was famous throughout all nations round about.

32 And Salomon spake three thousand m prouerbes: and his songs were a thousand and fiue.

n From the hiest to the lowest.

34 And there came of all people to heare the wisdome of Salomon, from all kings of the earth, which had heard of his wisdome.

1 Hiram sendeth to Salomon, and Salomon to him, purposing to build the house of God. 6 He prepareth stuffe for the building. 13 The nomber of the workemen.

AND Hiram king of ‖ Tyrus sent his seruants vnto Salomon, (for he had heard, that they had anointed him king in the roume of his father) because Hiram had euer loued Dauid.

‖ Or, Tyr.

2 Also Salomō sent to Hiram, saying,

2.Chro.2.3.

3 Thou knowest that Dauid my father could not builde an house vnto the Name of þ Lord his God, for þ warres which were about him on euery side, vntill the Lord had put ‖ them vnder the soles of his feete.

‖ Or, his enemies.

4 But now þ Lord my God hath giuen me a rest on euery side, [so that] there is neither aduersarie, nor euill to resist.

a He declareth that he was bound to set forth Gods glory, for as much as the Lord had sent him rest and peace. 2.Sam.7.13. 1.chro.22.10.

5 And beholde, I purpose to build an house vnto the Name of the Lord my God, * as the Lord spake vnto Dauid my father, saying, Thy sonne, whom I will set vpon thy throne for thee, he shall build an house vnto my Name.

b This was his equitie, that he would not receiue a benefite without some recompence.

6 Now therefore cōmand, that they hewe me cedar trees out of Lebanon, and my seruants shalbe with thy seruants, and vnto thee will I giue þ b hire for thy seruants, according to all that thou shalt appoint: for thou knowest that there are none among vs, that can hewe timber like vnto the Sidonians.

c In Hiram is prefigurate the vocation of the Gentile, who shoulde helpe to build the spirituall temple.

7 ¶ And when c Hiram heard the words of Salomō, he reioyced greatly, and said, Blessed be the Lord this day, which hath giuen vnto Dauid a wise sonne ouer this mightie people.

8 And Hiram sent to Salomon, saying, I haue considered þ things, for the which thou sentest vnto me, and will accomplish all thy desire, concerning the cedar trees and firre trees.

9 My seruants shall bring thē downe from Lebanon to þ sea: & I will conney them by sea ‖ in rafters vnto þ place that thou shalt shew me, & will cause them to be discharged there, & thou shalt receiue them: nowe thou shalt do me a pleasure to minister foode for d my familie.

‖ Or, flotes.

d While my seruants are occupied about thy businesses.

10 So Hiram gaue Salomon cedar trees & firre trees, [euen] his full desire.

11 And Salomon gaue Hiram twentie thousand † measures of wheate for foode to his household, and twentie measures of ‖ beaten oyle. Thus much gaue Salomon to Hiram yeere by yeere.

† Ebr. Corim.

‖ Or, pure.

12 ¶ And þ Lord gaue Salomon wisdome as he * promised him. And there was peace betweene Hiram and Salomon, and they e two made a couenant.

Chap.3.12.

e As touching the furniture of wood and vitailes.

13 ¶ And king Salomon raised a summe out of all Israel, and the summe was thirtie thousand men:

14 Whō he sent to Lebanon, ten thousand a moneth by course: they were a moneth in Lebanon, and two moneths at home. And * Adoniram [was] ouer the summe.

Chap.4.6.

15 And Salomon had seuentie thousand that bare burdens, and fourescore thousand malons in the mountaine, 16 Besides the ‖ princes, whom Salomon appointed ouer þ worke, [euen] three thousand & three hundreth, which ruled the people that wrought in the worke.

‖ Or, masters of the worke.

17 And the king commanded them, and they brought great stones and costly stones to make the foundation of the house, [euen] hewed stones.

18 And Salomons workemen, and the workemen of Hiram, and the f masons hewed and prepared timber and stones for the building of the house.

f The Ebrew word is Gibbelim, which some say, were excellent masons.

CHAP. VI.

1 The building of the Temple and the forme thereof. 12 The promes of the Lord to Salomon.

AND * in the foure hundreth and fourescore yere (after the children of Israel were come out of the land of Egypt) and in the fourth yeere of the reigne of Salomon ouer Israel, in the moneth a Zif, (which a Which moneth cōmeth part of April & part of May.

(which is the second moneth) he built the [b]house of the Lord.

2 And the house which king Salomon built for the Lord, was three score cubites long, and twentie broade, and thirtie cubites hie.

3 And the [c]porch before the Temple of the house [was] twentie cubites long according to the breadth of the house, and ten cubites broad before the house.

4 And in [ẏ] house he made windowes, ‖broad [without] and narrow [within.]

5 And by [ẏ] wall of the house he made ‖galleries rounde about, euen by the walles of the house rounde about the Temple & [ẏ] oracle, and made chambers round about.

6 The nethermost gallerie [was] fiue cubites broad, & the middlemost sixe cubites broad, and the third seuen cubites broad: for he made [e] restes round about without [ẏ] house, that [ẏ] beames [should] not be fastened in the wals of the house.

7 And when the house was built, it was built of stone perfite, [before] it was brought, so that there was neither hammer, nor axe, nor any toole of yron heard in the house, while it was in building.

‖Or, gallerie.

8 The doore of the middle ‖chamber was in the right side of the house, and men went vp with winding stayres into the middlemost, & out of the middlemost into the third.

d Where God spake betweene [ẏ] Cherubims, called also the most holy place.

e Which were certaine stones comming out of the wall, as stayes for the beames to rest vpon.

The Temple vncouered.

The cause why wee vncouered and set open the Temple, without setting forth the wall that is before it, is, that the order of those things that are within, might bee seene more lively.

A B. The length of the Temple of three score cubites.

A C. The breadth of twentie cubites within, and not measuring the thicknes of the walles. This also was the length of the porch without the Temple.

C D. The height of thirtie cubites.

E F. The chambers of the Priests, which especially about the Temple on three sides, South, West, and North, and were of three heights.

G H. The breadth of the porche, 20. cubites.

L. The windowes of the Temple.

K. The first chamber was fiue cubites broad.

L. The second sixe.

M. The third seuen.

N O P. The restes or stayes of the wall, which bare vp the postes that did separate chamber from chamber. Q. The holy place. R. The holiest of all, where the Arke of the couenant was. S. The gate to enter into the most holie place. T. The fiue Candlesticks on euerie side of the Temple. V The ten tables on both sides for the shewbread. X. The incensie altar.

f In Exodus it is called the Tabernacle: & the Temple is there called the Sanctuarie, & the Oracle the most holy place.

9 So he built the [f] house and finished it, & sieled the house being bawted with sieling of cedar trees.

10 And he built the galleries vpon all the [wall] of the house of fiue cubites height, & they were ioyned to the house with beames of cedar.

11 And the word of the Lord came to Salomon, saying,

12 Concerning this house which thou buyldest, if thou wilt walke in mine ordinances, and execute my iudgements, and keepe all my commandements, to walke in them, then will I performe mine promise vnto thee my promes, * which I promised to Dauid thy father.

* 2. Sam. 7. 13.

13 And I will [g] dwell among the children of Israel, and will not forsake my people Israel.

14 So Salomon built the house and finished it,

15 And built the walles of the house within, with boards of cedar tree from the pauement of the house vnto [h] [ẏ] wals of the sieling, & within he couered them with wood and couered the floore of the house with plankes of firre.

16 And he built twentie cubites in the sides of the house with boards of cedar, from the floore to the walles, and he prepared [a place] within it for the oracle, [euen] the most holy place.

17 But the [i] house, that is, the temple before it was fourtie cubites [long.]

18 And the cedar of the house within was carued with ‖knops, and grauen with flowers: all [was] cedar, [so that] no stone was seene.

19 ¶ Also he prepared the place of the oracle in the mids of the [k] house within, to set the Arke of the couenant of the Lord there.

20 And the plate of the oracle within [was] twentie cubites long, and twentie cubites broade, and twentie cubites hie, and he couered it with pure gold, and couered the altar with cedar.

21 So Salomon couered the house within with pure gold: and he [‡] shut the place of the oracle with chaines of golde, and couered it with gold.

22 And he ouerlaid al the house with gold, vntill all the house was made perfite. also he couered the whole altar, that [l] was before the oracle with gold.

23 And within the oracle he made two Cherubims of [‖] oliue tree, ten cubites hie.

24 The wing also of the one Cherub [was] fiue cubites, and the wing of the other Cherub [was] fiue cubites: from the vttermost part of [one] of his wings vnto the vttermost part of the [other] of his wings [were] ten cubites.

25 Also the other Cherub was of ten cubites: both the Cherubims were of one measure and one fyle.

27 And he put the Cherubims with-in the inner house, * and the Cherubims stretched out their wings, so that the wing of the one touched the one wall, and the wing of the other Cherub touched the other wall: and their [other] wings touched one another in the mids of the house.

28 And he [m] ouerlaide the Cherubims with gold.

31 And in ꝑ entring of ꝑ oracle he made [two] doores of oliue tree: [&] the vpper post and side posts were fiue square.

32 The two doores also [were] of oliue tree, and he graued them with grauing of Cherubims and Palme trees, & grauen flowers, & couered them with gold, and layd [n] thin gold vpō the Cherubims and vpon the palme trees.

1 The building of the house of Salomon. 15 The excellent workmanship of Hiram in the pieces which he made for the Temple.

BUt Salomon was building his owne house * thirteene yeres, & [a] finished al his house.

2 He built also an house [b] called the forest of Lebanon, an hundreth cubits long, and fiftie cubites broad, and thirtie cubites hie, vpon foure rowes of cedar pillars, and cedar beames [were] layd vpon the pillars.

Chap. 9. 10.

a After he had built the Temple.

b For the beautie of the place & great abundance of cedar trees that were to the building thereof, it was compared to mount Lebanon in Syria: this house he vsed in sommer for pleasure & recreation.

3 And it was couered aboue with cedar vpon the beames, that lay on ꝑ fourtie and fiue pillars, fifteene in a row.

4 And the windowes [were] in three rowes, & window [was] [c] against window in three ranks.

c There were as many, and like proportion on the one side as on the other & at euery end euen three in a rowe one aboue another.

5 And al the doores, and the side posts [with] the windows were foure square, & window was ouer against window in three rankes.

6 And he made a porch of pillars fifty cubites long, and thirtie cubites broade, and the porch was before [d] them, [euen] before them were thirtie pillars.

d Before the pillars of the house.

7 ¶ Then he made a porch [e] for the throne, e For his house which was at Ierusalem.

throne, where he iudged, [euen] a porch of iudgement, and it was sieled with cedar from pauement to pauement.

8 And in his house, where he dwelt, [was] another hall more inwarde then the porch which was of the same worke. Also Salomon made an house for Pharaohs daughter (*whom he had taken to wife) like vnto this porch.

Chap.3.1.

9 All these were ‖ of costly stones, hewed by measure, [&] sawed with sawes within and without, from the foundatiõ vnto[f] the [stones] of an ‖hand breadth, & on the outside to the great court.

‖Or, precious.

f Which were reules & slapes for the beames to lie vpon.

10 And the foundation [was] of costly stones, [&] great stones, [euen] of stones of ten cubites, & stones of eight cubites.

‖Or, spanne.

11 [g] Aboue also [were] costly stones, squared by rule, and [boards] of cedar.

g From the foundation vpward.

12 ¶ And the great court round about [was] wt three rowes of hewed stones, and a row of cedar beames: [h] so [was it] to the inner court of the house of [p] Lord, and to the porch of the house.

h As [p] Lords house was built, so was this: onely the great court of Salomons house was vncouered.

13 ¶ Then King Salomon sent, and fet [one] Hiram out of ‖ Tyrus.

‖Or, Zor.

14 He was a widowes sonne of the tribe of Naphtali, his father being a mã of Tyrus, [and] wrought in brasse: [i] he was ful of wildome and vnderstanding, and knowledge to worke all maner of worke in brasse: Who came to King Salomon, and wrought all his worke.

i Thus when God will haue his glorie set forth, he raiseth vp men and giueth them excellent gifts for the accomplishment of the same, &c. 31.2.3.

15 ¶ For he cast two pillars of brasse: the height of a pillar was eighteene cubites, and a threede of twelue cubites did compasse [‡] either of the pillars.

‡Eb. the secõd.

16 And hee made two ‖ chapiters of molten brasse to set on the tops of the pillars: the height of one of the chapiters [was] fiue cubites, and the height of the other chapiter [was] fiue cubites.

‖Or, pummels.

D.E. The height of the chapiter or round bal vpõ the pillar of fiue cubites height.
F. In the mids were two rowes of pomegranates: the rest is the networke and floure delices, or roses.

17 He made grates like networke, and ‖wrethen worke like chaines for the chapiters that were on the top of the pillars, [euẽ] seuen for the one chapiter, and seuen for the other chapiter.

‖Or, coardes like chaines.

18 So hee made the pillars and two rowes of pomegranates round about in the one grate to couer the chapiters that were vpon the top. And thus did he for the other chapiter.

19 And the chapiters that were on the top of the pillars [were] after [k] lily worke in the porch, foure cubites.

k As was seene cõmonly wrought in costly porches.

20 And the chapiters vpon the two pillars [had] also aboue, ‖ ouer against the bellie ‖ within the networke [pomegranates:] for two hundreth pomegranates were in the [two] rankes about vpon[l] either of the chapiters.

‖Or, round about the mids.
‖Or, beyond.

21 And he set vp the pillars in [p] porch of the Temple. And when he had set vp the right pillar, he called the name thereof [m] Jachin: & when he had set vp the left pillar, he called the name thereof [n] Boaz.

25 It stoode on twelue bulles, three looking toward the North, & three towarde the West, and three towarde the South, and three toward the East: and the sea stoode aboue vpon them, and all their hinder parts were inward.

26 It was ‖ an hand breadth thicke, & the brim thereof was like the worke of the brim of a cup with flowers of lilies: it conteined two thousand [p] Baths.

27 ¶ And he made ten bases of brasse, one [q] [was] foure cubits long, & foure cubits broad, and three cubites hie.

28 ¶ And the worke of the bases was on this maner. They had borders, and the borders [were] betwene the ledges:

29 And on the borders that were betwene the ledges were lions, buls & Cherubims: and vpon the ledges there was a base aboue: and beneath the lions and

31 And q the mouth of it [was] within the chapiter and aboue [to measure] by the cubite: for the mouth thereof [was] round made like a base, & it was a cubite and halfe a cubit: and also vpon ṕ mouth therof were grauen works, whose borders [were] foure square, [& not round.

33 And the facion of the wheeles was like the facion of a charet wheele, their axeltrees, and their naues and their ‖felloes, and their spokes [were] all molten.

37 Thus made hee the ten bases, [They] had al one casting, one measure, [and] one fyse.

40 ¶ And Hiram made caldrons, and besomes and basens, and Hiram finished al the worke that he made to King Salomon for the house of the Lord:

41 To wit, two pillars and [two] bowles of ṕ chapiters that were on the top of the two pillars, and two grates to couer the two bowles of the chapiters which were vpon the top of the pillars, 42 And foure hundreth pomegranats for the two grates, euen two rowes of pomegranates for euery grate to couer the two bowles of the chapiters, that were vpon the pillars.

43 And the ten bases, & ten caldrons vpon the bases,

44 And the sea, and twelue buls vnder that sea,

47 And Salomon left [to weigh] all the vessels because of the exceeding abundance, neither coulde the weight of the brasse be counted.

48 So Salomon made al the vessels that perteined vnto ṕ house of the Lord, the x golden altar, and the golden table, whereon the shewbread was, x This was done accoyding to the fourme that the Lorde prescribed vnto Moses in Exodus.

49 And the candlestickes, fiue at the right side, and fiue at the left, before the oracle of pure gold, and the flowers, and the lampes, and the snuffers of gold,

4 The Arke is brought into the Temple. 10 A cloud filleth the Temple. 14 The King blesseth the people.

Then * King Salomon assembled the Elders of Israel, & euē all the heads of the tribes, the chiefe fathers of the children of Israel vnto ‡ him in Ierusalem, for to bring vp ṕ Arke of the couenāt of ṕ Lord frō the citie of Dauid,

2 And all the men of Israel assembled vnto King Salomon at the feast in the moneth of [b] Ethanim, which is the seuenth moneth.

b Conteyning part of September, and part of October, in ỹ which moneth they held three solemne feasts, Nom.29.1.

3 And all the Elders of Israel came and the Priests tooke the Arke.

4 They bare the Arke of the Lord, & they bare the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and all the holy vessels that were in the Tabernacle: those did the Priests and Leuites bring vp.

5 And King Salomon and all the Congregation of Israel, that were assembled vnto him, [were] with him before the Arke, offring sheepe & beeues, which could not be told, nor nombred for multitude.

c That is, the Kohathites, Nom.4.5.

6 So the [c] Priests brought the Arke of the couenant of the Lorde vnto his place, into the oracle of the house, into the most holy place, euen vnder ỹ wings of the Cherubims.

7 For the Cherubims stretched out their wings ouer the place of the Arke, and the Cherubims couered the Arke, and the barres thereof aboue.

d They drew them onely out so farre as they might be seene: for they might not pul them altogether out Exod.25.15.

8 And they [d] drew out the barres, that the endes of the barres might appeare out of the Sanctuarie before the oracle, but they were not seene without: & there they are vnto this day.

e For it is like that the enemies, when they had the Arke in their hands, tooke away the rod of Aaron and the pot with Man, Exod.40.34.

9 Nothing was in the Arke [e] saue the two tables of stone which Moses had put there at Horeb, where ỹ Lord made a couenant with the children of Israel, when he brought them out of the land of Egypt.

10 And when the Priests were come out of the Sanctuarie, the * cloude filled the house of the Lord, 11 So that the Priests could not stand to minister, because of the cloude: for the glorie of the Lord had filled the house of the Lord.

2.Chro.6.1.

12 Then spake Salomon, The Lord * sayd, that he would dwell in the darke cloude.

13 I haue built thee an house to dwell in, an habitation for thee to abide in for euer.

f He spake according to the tenor of Gods promes, which was conditionally, that they should serue him aright.

14 ¶ And the King turned his face, and blessed all the Congregation of Israel: for all the Congregation of Israel stoode [there.]

15 And he sayde, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, who spake with his mouth vnto Dauid my father, and hath with his hand fulfilled it, saying, 16 Since the daie that I brought my people Israel out of Egypt, I chose no citie of all the tribes of Israel, to build an house that my name might be there: but I haue chosen * Dauid to bee ouer my people Israel.

2.Sam.7.8.

17 And it was in the heart of Dauid my father to build an house to the Name of the Lord God of Israel.

18 And the Lord said vnto Dauid my father, where as it was in thine heart to build an house vnto my Name, thou diddest well, that thou wast so minded:

19 Neuertheles thou shalt not build the house, but thy sonne, that shall come out of thy loynes, he shall builde ỹ house vnto my Name.

20 And the Lorde hath made † good his worde that he spake: and I am risen vp in the roume of Dauid my father, & sit on the throne of Israel, as the Lorde promised, and haue built the house for the Name of the Lorde God of Israel.

22 ¶ Then Salomon stood before * the altar of the Lord in the sight of all the Congregation of Israel, & stretched out his handes toward heauen,

2.Chro.6.13.

23 And said, * O Lorde God of Israel, there is no God like thee in heauen aboue, or in the earth beneath, thou that keepest couenant and mercy with thy seruants that walke before thee with [h] all their heart,

2.Mac.2.8.

h Vnfainedly and without all hypocrisie.

24 Thou that hast kept with thy seruant Dauid my father, that thou hast promised him: for thou spakest with thy mouth and hast fulfilled it with thine hande, as appeareth this day.

25 Therefore nowe, Lorde God of Israel, keepe with thy seruant Dauid my father that thou hast promised him, saying, * Thou shalt not want a man in my sight to sit vpō the throne of Israel: so that thy children take heede to their way, that they walke before me, as thou hast walked in my sight.

Chap.2.4.

26 And nowe, O God of Israel, I praye thee, let thy worde bee verified, which thou spakest vnto thy seruant Dauid my father.

i He is rauished with the admiration of Gods mercies who being incomprehensible and Lord ouer all, will become familiar with men.

27 [i] Is it true in deede that God will dwell on the earth? behold, the heauens, and the heauens of heauēs are not able to containe thee: howe much more [vnable]

28 But haue thou respect vnto the prayer of thy seruant, and to his supplication, O Lorde, my God, to heare the crie & prayer which thy seruant prayeth before thee this day:

29 That thine eyes may be open toward this house, night and day, [euen] toward the place wherof thou hast said, Deut.12.11. *My Name shall bee there: that thou mayest hearken vnto the prayer which thy seruant prayeth in this place.

30 Heare thou therfore the supplicatiō of thy seruant, and of thy people Israel, ‖Or, from. which pray in this place, & heare thou ‖in the place of thine habitation, [euen] in heauē, & when thou hearest, haue mercy.

32 Then heare thou in heauen, and l do and iudge thy seruants, that thou cōdemne the wicked to bring his way vpō his head, & iustifie the righteous, to giue him according to his righteousnes.

l That is, make it knowen.

33 When thy people Israel shal be ouerthrowen before the enemie, because they haue sinned against thee, and turne againe to thee, and m confesse thy Name, and pray and make supplication vnto thee in this house, m Acknowledge thy iust iudgement, & praise thee.

34 Then heare thou in heauen, & be merciful vnto the sinne of thy people Israel, & bring them againe vnto the land, which thou gauest vnto their fathers.

35 When heauen shall be n shut vp, and there shall be no raine because they haue sinned against thee, and shall pray in this place, and confesse thy Name, & turne from their sinne, when thou doest afflict them,

36 Then heare thou in heauen, & pardon the sinne of thy seruants and of thy people Israel (when thou hast taught them the good way wherein they may walke) & giue raine vpon the lande that thou hast giuen to thy people to inherit.

37 When there shalbe famine in the land, when there shall be pestilence, whē there shalbe blasting mildewe, grashopper [or] caterpiller, when their enemie ‡Eb. in the lād of their gates. shall beliege them in the ‡ cities of their land, [or] any plague [or] any sickines,

39 Heare thou then in heauen, in thy dwelling place, and be mercifull, and do, and giue euery man according to all his wayes, as thou knowest his heart (for thou onely knowest the hearts of all the children of men)

40 That they may feare thee as lōg as they liue in the land, which thou gauest vnto our fathers.

41 Moreouer as touching the p stranger that is not of thy people Israel, who shal come out of a farre countrey for thy Names sake,

42 (when they shall heare of thy great Name, and of thy mightie hande, and of thy stretched out arme) and shall come and pray in this house,

43 Heare thou in heauen thy dwelling place, and doe according to all that the straunger calleth for vnto thee: that all the people of the earth may knowe thy Name, and feare thee, as doe thy people Israel: & that they may knowe, that thy q Name is called vpon in this house which I haue built.

q That this is the true religiō wherwith thou wilt be worshipped.

44 When thy people shall goe out to battell against their enemy by ꝑ way that thou shalt sende them, & shall pray vnto the Lord * [toward] ꝑ waye of the citie which thou hast chosen, & [toward] the house ꝑ I haue built for thy Name, Dan.6.10.

45 Heare thou then in heauen their prayer and their supplicatiō, and ‖iudge their cause. ‖Or, mainteine their right.

8 Euen this hie house shall be [to:] euery one that passeth by it, shall be astonied, and shall hisse, and they shall say, * Why hath the Lorde done thus vnto this land and to this house?

9 And they shall answere, Because they forsooke ỹ Lorde their God, which brought their fathers out of the lande of Egypt, and haue taken hold vpon other gods, and haue worshipped them, and serued them, therefore hath the Lorde brought vpon them all this euill.

2.Chro. 8.1.

10 * And at the ende of twentie yeres, when Salomon had buylded the two houses, the house of the Lorde, and the Kings palace,

‖Or, Zor.

11 ([For the which] Hiram the King of ‖ Tyrus had brought to Salomõ timber of cedar, and firre trees, and golde, and whatsoeuer hee desired) then King Salomon gaue to Hiram twentie cities in the land of ‖ Galil.

‖Or, Galile.

12 And Hiram came out from Tyrus to see the cities which Salomon had giuen him, and they pleased him not.

13 Therefore he said, What cities are these which thou hast giuen me, my brother? And hee called them the lande of ‖ Cabul vnto this day.

‖Or, dirrie, or, barren.

14 And Hiram had sent the King [d] fyue score talents of golde.

d For his tribute to warde the building.

15 ¶ And this is the cause of the tribute why king Salomon raised tribute, [to wit,] to build the house of the Lord, and his owne house, and [e] Millo, and the wall of Ierusalem, and Hazor, and Megiddo, and Gezer.

e The common talent was about three score pound weight.

16 Pharaoh king of Egypt had come vp, & taken Gezer, and burnt it with fire, and slewe the Canaamites, that dwelt in the citie, & gaue it for a present vnto his daughter Salomons wife.

f Millo was as the cowne house or place of assemblie which was open aboue.

17 (Therefore Salomon built Gezer and Beth-horon the nether, 18 And Baalath and Tamor in the wildernes of the land, g Cities for his munitions of warre.

19 And al the cities [g] of store, that Salomon had, euen cities for charets, and cities for horsemen, and [all] that Salomon desired and would builde in Ierusalem, & in Lebanon and in all the lande of his dominion)

h These were as bond men & payed what was required, either labour or money.

20 All the people that were [h] left of the Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites, Hiuites, and Iebusites, which were not of the children of Israel:

21 [To wit,] their children that were left after them in the lande, whome the children of Israel were not able to destroy, those did Salomon make tributaries vnto this day.

22 But of the children of Israel did Salomon * make no bondmen: but they were men of warre and his seruants, and his princes, and his captaines, and rulers of his charets and his horsemen.

Leuit. 25.39.

23 These were the princes of the officers, that were ouer Salomons worke: [euen] [i] fiue hundreth and fiftie, and they ruled ỹ people ỹ wrought in the worke.

i The ouerseers of Salomons workes were deuided into three parres: the first cõteined 3300, the seconde 300, & the third 250 which were Israelites: so here are cõteined the two last parts, which make 550, like vnto 2.Chron. 8.10.

24 ¶ And Pharaohs daughter came vp from the citie of Dauid vnto ỹ house which [Salomon] had built for her: then did he builde Millo.

25 And thrise a yeere did Salomon offer burnt offrings and peace offrings vpon the altar which he built vnto the Lorde: and he burnt incense vpon [the altar,] that was before the Lord, when he had finished the house.

26 ¶ Also King Salomon made a naule of shippes in Ezeon-geber, which is beside Eloth, and the brinke of the red Sea, in the lande of Edom.

27 And Hiram sent with the naule his seruants, that were mariners, and had knowledge of the sea, with the seruants of Salomon.

k In ỹ 2. chro. 8.18. is made mention of thirtie more, which seeme to haue bene employed for their charges.

28 And they came to Ophir and fette from thence [k] foure hundreth and twentie talents of golde, and brought it to King Salomon.

CHAP. X.

1 The Queene of Saba commeth to heare the wisedome of Salomon. 18 His royall throne. 23 His power and magnificence.

2. Chron. 9. 1. matth. 12. 42. luke 11. 31.

AND the * Queene of [a] Sheba hearing the fame of Salomon (concerning ỹ Name of the Lord) came to proue him with hard questions.

a Iosephus saith ỹ she was Queene of Ethiopia, & that Sheba was the name of the chiefe citie of Meroe, which is an Iland of Nilus.

2 And she came to Ierusalem with a very great traine, [and] camels that bare sweete odours, and gold exceeding much, and precious stones: and she came to Salomon, and communed with him of all that was in her heart.

3 And Salomon declared vnto her al her questions: nothing was hid frõ the King, which he expounded not vnto her.

4 Then the Queene of Sheba saw all Salomons wisedome, and the house that he had built, b That is the whole order, & trade of his house.

5 And

5 And the [b]meate of his table, and the sitting of his seruants, and the order of his ministers, and their apparel, and his drinking vessels, & his burnt offrings, that he offered in the house of the Lord, and [‡] she was greatly astonied.

‡Eb. there was no more spirit in her.

6 And she said vnto ỹ King, It was a true word that I heard in mine owne land of thy sayings, & of thy wisedome.

7 Howbeit I beleeued not this report, til I came, & had seene it with mine eies: but lo, the one halfe was not tolde mee: [for] thou hast more wisedome and prosperitie, then I haue heard by report.

8 Happie are thy mẽ, happie are these thy seruantes, which stande euer before thee, and heare thy [c] wisedome.

c But much more happie are they, which heare the wisedome of God reueiled in his worde.

9 Blessed be ỹ Lord thy God, which [d] loued thee, to set thee on the throne of Israel, because the Lord loued Israel for euer & made thee King, to do [e] equitie and righteousnes.

d It is a chiefe signe of Gods fauour, when godly and wise rulers sit in the throne of iustice.

e This is the cause, why kings are appointed.

10 And she gaue the King fiue score talentes of gold, and of sweet odours exceeding much, & precious stones. There came no more such abundance of sweet odours, as the Queene of Sheba gaue to King Salomon.

11 The naue also of Hiram (that caried gold from Ophir) brought like wise great plentie of *Almuggim trees from Ophir and precious stones.

*2.Chro.9.10.

12 And the King made of the Almuggim trees pillars for ỹ house of ỹ Lord, and for the kings palace, & made harpes and psalteries for singers. There came no more such Almuggim trees, nor were any more seene vnto this day.

13 And king Salomon gaue vnto the Queene of Sheba, whatsoeuer shee would aske, besides that, which Salomon gaue her [‡] of his kingly liberalitie: so she returned and went to her owne countrey, [both] she, and her seruants.

‡Ebr. by the hand of the King.

14 ¶ Also the weight of golde, that came to Salomon in one yeere, was fiue hundreth three score and six *talents of gold,
